Echo Inn, East Charleston, Vt., is now able to serve trout at chicken dinners and suppers, but it is necessary to order in advance by phone, as fish do not always bite. A motor ride through the Clyde River Valley to this famous inn is a delightful preparation for one of Mrs. Gallup's splendid dinners. 29w3

Services will be held at the Congregational Church on Sunday morning and evening. At 10.30 the pastor will speak on the subject "His Presence," and at 7.30 on "The Lust of Life." Sunday school at 11.45 a.m. Strangers are most cordially invited to worship with us.

Smoke coming from an oven in the G. & G. bakery Tuesday night was the cause of a fire alarm which brought half of the population out, but there was no fire. The steam gong at the Lay Whip factory is no longer available, and the alarm was first spread by ringing the Universalist church bell, then by the gong at the Butterfield works.

The W.C.T.U. will meet on Wednesday, July 2nd, at 2.30 p.m., in the vestry of the Universalist Church. Will all pastors please make the announcement on Sunday, June 23rd. On Sunday morning last at the Chapel of Our Lady of Mercy Miss De Vere delighted those present by her charming rendering of Luigi Luzzi's "Ave Maria" and an "O Salutaris" by Panofka. Miss De Vere has kindly consented to sing at the Beebe Town Hall, Friday evening next, on the occasion of the closing of the R.C. school. Those who have been privileged to hear Miss De Vere sing foresee a brilliant future for the young artist. She expects to make her debut in the Ancient Capital in September next.

Golden Rule Lodge No. 5, Masonic, attended service at the Methodist Church Sunday morning. Rev. J. I. Hughes was the preacher and "Buildings" was the subject. Referring to the present conflict between capital and labor the speaker said these were times when men were naturally inclined to do wrong. Labor was making impossible demands, but labor was not alone to blame. Examples of injustice were not lacking on the side of capital. The speaker cited a case where the manager of a large factory testifying before the Industrial Commission had stated that his company earned a dividend of less than 7 per cent in 1914 and a dividend of 78 per cent in the last year of the war. The witness also said his business was not being run for the glory of God, but for the benefit of the stockholders. He also said there must be something wrong with a man who did not make money during the war. The preacher wanted to know about the men who took their lives in their hands at $1.10 a day. Was there something wrong about them? The very backbone was missing from any business which was not being run for the glory of God, contended the preacher, who made an earnest appeal for co-operation.

At the annual meeting of the Orleans County Veterans' Association at Newport, "Flag Day," June 14th, the following were elected for 1919: President, Albert Webster, Barton; vice president, O. P. Dunham, Orleans; secretary-treasurer, E. G. Colliston, Barton.

With the war out of the way, it would seem best for a County like Orleans to show its enterprise by having a fair. Cut out the tinsel and sham and make it an educational fair and wholesome sports. Let the homes, farms, shops, schools, etc., make up the exhibit. Let Orleans set the pace in fairs, nor be afraid to cut out the midway and all tendency to it. A competitive fair in the high sense would be a great lifting force in the County, and the standard determined limits the benefit.

The 79th annual meeting of the association of Congregational Churches of Orleans County, recently held at North Craftsbury was one of the best for the Congregationalism in this section for a generation. About 100 delegates were present. The subjects discussed are an indication of the scope and progressive purpose of the gathering: The church as character-builder was the keynote. The alternate preacher for the next association meeting in 1920 is Rev. E. LeRoy Rice of this place.

Vermont is one of three states to adopt this plan of handling the health problems of the state; the other two are Ohio and Alabama, and the effectiveness of the change is to be proven.

ORLEANS COUNTY W.C.T.U.

Annual Convention at Brownington
June 17th and 18th

The 39th annual convention of the Orleans County Woman's Christian Temperance Union was held at the Congregational Church, Brownington, June 17th and 18th. Orleans County has eight local unions, namely: Barton, Orleans, Brownington, Irasburg, Coventry, Newport, Derby Line and North Troy. All were represented, with the exception of Irasburg.

The convention opened at 2 p.m. Tuesday with devotionals, Mrs. Pearson, State Pres., in the chair. Owing to the absence of the County Secretary, Mrs. Corlies, who was detained by illness, a secretary protem had to be appointed, Mrs. Gross of Orleans serving the first day, Mrs. Jenkins of that place the second day.

Brownington greetings from the Christian Endeavor were given by Mrs. Marrit Dutton, and from the Union by Mrs. Mabel Kelley. In response to these Mrs. N. B. Smith gave some well chosen remarks. Some reports of plans used for raising the Jubilee Fund were given.

The International Union I think being the first one, having completed its canvass. $72.96 were raised almost reaching its quota of $75. This amount would have been easily obtained, had it not been for the contribution from our union, for the support of the Beer and Wine campaign put on in Quebec province. As international, this union must work for the two flags.

Next was the Memorial hour service conducted by the president, each union represented being called upon to pay some fitting tribute to its departed sisters. Mrs. (Rev.) E. LeRoy Rice and Mrs. Leon Ticehurst are those from our union, to have left us.

The superintendent's reports and county pledges were encouraging. After the music the afternoon session was adjourned. Next in order was a basket picnic lunch served upon the church lawn, the weather being very warm and pleasant.

The evening session with an increase in numbers opened with song, Scripture reading and prayer by Mrs. Mabel Kelley instead of Mrs. Fisher, who was not present. The address by Mrs. A. L. Bailey of St. Johnsbury, who was also not present, was replaced by a paper given by Mrs. (Rev.) R. A. Hamilton upon Health and Morality. This was to have been an address by the pastor, but by reason of his absence his accomplished wife Mrs. Hamilton, was able to favor us with the reading which was intensely helpful and interesting.

Mrs. Susie Kelley of North Troy gave a recitation which was pleasing and dramatically rendered.

Wednesday morning, prior to the opening of the convention was the meeting of the executive board. Candidates for the Orleans County Superintendents were chosen, afterwards being elected. They are as follows: Evangelical and S. S., Mrs. B. E. Spaulding, Newport; L.T.L. and Medal Contest, Mrs. H. R. Center, Barton; S.T.L., Mrs. Ruth Washer; Flower Mission, Mrs. Grace Lawson, Newport; Press, Mrs. McCaffray, Newport; Legislative and Christian Citizenship, Mrs. W. W. Reiden, Barton; Medical Temperance and Anti-Narcotics, Mrs. Helen Fisher, Derby Line; Rescue Work, Mrs. H. B. Goss, Coventry; Mothers' Meetings and Purity, Mrs. Hamilton, Orleans; Franchise, Mrs. Munich Taplin, Orleans; Institute Work, Mrs. W. R. Shipper; Prison and Jail Work, Mrs. B. E. Spaulding, Newport; Literature, Mrs. E. W. Bowen, Barton.

The County officers, elected by ballot, are: President, Mrs. Pearson, Orleans; secretary, Mrs. Keeler, Coventry; treasurer, Miss Clara Dwinell.

Wednesday morning session opened with devotionals, Mrs. Barron offering prayer. After the various reports, roll call and election of officers, came a splendid paper upon "Child Welfare," by Mrs. McCaffray, after which came the noonday prayer by Mrs. H. B. Smith and adjournment for a bountiful dinner served by the ladies of the Christian Endeavor in pleasant rooms of what was once the famous academy of Northern Vermont.

On Wednesday afternoon came the symposium on Franchise, which embraced largely the subject of Child Welfare, by Mesdames Taplin, Keeler, Hamilton and Miss Eaton. Many thanks are due to Miss Inez Winslow's school, both teacher and pupils for the pleasant temperance exercises they gave us. Last but not least was the address given by (Rev.) W. W. Cook upon the "Call for World Prohibition." Owing to the excellency of the papers given the convention voted to have them published. There are 31 bone dry states in the Union.

The W.C.T.U. is 50 years old in 1920, and in that year Old John Barley Corn is dead, we want to sing a joyful song. The first movement and crusade was in 1873 in Ohio. Last year the first Jubilee celebration was held at Washington. Since the Federal statutes have adopted prohibition China and Scotland are in a fight for prohibition. The slogan:

CLOSING EXERCISES AT THE URSULINE CONVENT

The annual Commencement of the Ursuline Convent took place at 9.30 a.m. on Friday. Father Brouillet, chaplain of the Monastery, presided and was accompanied by Father Gervais of Kingscroft, Father Beaudry, pastor of the Parish of the Sacred Heart, Father Rhéaume, pastor at Our Lady of Mercy, and Father Lannoette, vicar at Rock Island. The doors of the cloister were opened to friends and benefactors of the institution, parents of the students, and to former pupils, several of whom joyfully profited of the opportunity to see once again the interior of the Alma Mater. A profusion of beautiful mountain laurels, brought by a friend from New Hampshire, added much to the decoration of the reception hall.

The following program was well rendered by the students. One of the most pleasing features of which was the drill, by the younger pupils, "Gold and Silver Jubilee," a repetition of one of the numbers on program at the reception given in honor of His Lordship Bishop LaRocque. It won the admiration of all present.

Address in French, Valedictory in English.

Reverend P. E. Brouillet, who has for nearly a year, as chaplain labored with great zeal and devotedness for the spiritual and temporal welfare of the Convent, addressed a few words of congratulation and encouragement to the students. With his usual rare tact and delicacy of thought he alluded to the devotedness of their Ursuline teachers, all the more admirable for being the more hidden.

Reverend H. Beaudry, in earnest terms, urged the pupils to put into practice the salutary counsels received from their chaplain and their Ursuline Mothers, not only during their holidays but throughout the course of their whole lives.

Reverend A. Gervais made a happy allusion to the hymn sung at Mass that morning in his encouraging words to the young audience. "The Smile of their Heavenly Mother," he assured them was a sign of her promise to all who appeal to her with confidence to protect them from the dangers of the world.

Chorus, "Sweet Visions of Childhood," Glover.

Duet, "In Festal Array," Engelman.

A few hours later nearly all the students had bid an affectionate "au revoir" to their Convent home, a great number having left by motor, the others by the 12.10 and 1 p.m. trains.

The Ursuline Sisters beg the generous donors, who contributed so effectively to encourage them and their students, to accept their sincere thanks. Generosity inspired by such noble sentiments will certainly receive its reward.

To encourage present students to follow in the steps of their predecessors, two zealous friends, Mrs. Devere a former pupil of the Ursulines of Quebec, and Miss Annie Gilmore, a graduate of the Convent here, have offered a prize of five dollars in gold to the one who will recruit the greater number of new students for next term.

CONVENTION NOTES

Twenty-fourth annual Woman's Christian Temperance Union convention for Stanstead County convened at Coaticook Tuesday and Wednesday of last week.

The welcome given delegates was a hearty one, including dinners and teas at the Methodist church, the meeting place. Four delegates were present from the International union, and other unions were as well represented.

All the music was good and the devotional services were inspiring. The president, Mrs. Oliver, and the honorary president, Mrs. Searles, were in their places and had the work well in hand.

Reports were encouraging, local unions are all in working trim and when one hears the president's report one understands one big source of inspiration.

Tuesday was a hot day but the routine work was accomplished nevertheless.

Short addresses were given Tuesday evening by Reverends Vaughan and Jones and by Dr. Shurtleff.

Mrs. T. J. Baldwin gave the polished address of welcome for Coaticook and Mrs. Gage of North Hatley responded for the visiting unions.

Judge Seth Leet gave a sensible, unbiased talk on woman's status under Quebec law and a summary of some advantages and, also, disadvantages, which will be added under complete suffrage. It was of great interest. The old board of county officers were re-elected except in three cases, where resignations had to be accepted.

A gift of a small purse was presented Mrs. Searles as a token of affection from her fellow white-ribboners.

Coaticook is a splendid convention town and her people are royal entertainers.

Our president, Mrs. Oliver, is in the work with her whole heart and we should give her our utmost in the way of support.

Those Dear Girls.

Many people have allowed their homes to run down in appearance and are still putting off repainting thinking that paint will come down in price.

Even if paints were cheaper six or eight months hence, which is unlikely, because the supply of raw material has fixed the price far ahead and because thousands of house owners are exactly in your condition—bound to paint soon, remember that it is better to paint than repair. THANKS FROM SOLDIERS

Col. B. B. Morrill Expresses Warm Appreciation of the Support of This Community.

Editor of the Stanstead Journal.

Kindly allow me space in your valuable paper to thank the people who so grandly received and generously entertained us, their representatives in the war. I am sure I echo the thought of every soldier of the Three Villages when I say that many times we have pictured in imagination our home-coming, but never did the picture equal the realization. Not only have you given us a right royal greeting, but you gave us your never-faltering support during the whole war, for which we have our greatest admiration and thanks. Your sympathy and your very generous support have been the sustaining power that has enabled us to endure the end. If we have not disappointed you, it is largely due to the fact that you did not disappoint us.

Again allow me to thank you in the name of every soldier helped, encouraged and cheered, for the many well filled boxes of food and comforts we have received from you. We thank you for so carrying on in our absence that we find a land we are proud to return to. Your medal will ever be a cherished reminder of a happy home-coming and whole-hearted welcome.

CAPT. W. B. HOLBROOK

Through shortage of help and a multiplicity of perplexities last week, the JOURNAL failed to mention the death of Capt. W. B. Holbrook, which occurred at his home in Derby, June 14th, after an illness of several months. For many years Capt. Holbrook operated a steamer on Lake Memphremagog, first the Alma, then the Yocco. He was the best known man on the lake and almost as much a part of Lake Park as the trees and islands there. He was the first to arrive in spring and the last to leave in fall, after the last tardy summer dweller had been brought up the lake. In the service he performed he had an interest deeper than the pay he received. He was a philosopher and a humorist. His friends were numbered by thousands; if he had an enemy we never heard of it. His final crossing of the bar has caused universal sorrow where he was so well known and highly esteemed.

STANSTEAD COLLEGE CLOSING

The report of the Principal given at the recital June 12th showed a total attendance of 353—101 in the Academic department, 152 in the Holmes Model School, 118 in the Eastern Townships College of Music, and 73 in the Bugbee Business College. Of boys there were 171, girls 182. Boarders numbered 164.

There are 19 on the teaching staff—6 men and 13 women. Last year the Rev. Perry S. Dobson was given leave of absence to join the military Y. M. C. A. This year that leave has become a permanent separation, as Mr. Dobson has accepted the position of Principal of the Alma College, St. Thomas, Ontario.

Mrs. Jean M. Holding, who came to the College eleven years ago, is leaving Stanstead to take up Y. M. C. A. work. She will be greatly missed, not only in the College, but in the Villages, where she has many warm friends. No successor has yet been found for Mrs. Holding. In fact none will be engaged until the staff committee is thoroughly convinced that there is no chance to induce Mrs. Holding to return.

Mr. Stanley McMullan came to the College two years ago, to conduct the work in science and mathematics. The return of Mr. Irvine from overseas made it possible for Mr. McMullan to withdraw from the school, and when he received an attractive offer from one of the new schools in Montreal, he accepted.

On different occasions the experiment has been tried of engaging a French speaking teacher to take charge of the teaching of French in the school. It has not always succeeded because of the difficulty of securing the right man for the position. The members of the staff committee believe that they have this time got the man they have been looking for.

The Rev. J. Henry DuBois from Neuchâtel, Switzerland, has been appointed to conduct this work. Mr. DuBois is a man about thirty-five years old, and a teacher of excellent training and successful experience.

Since November last the vocal work has been conducted by Miss Leila Bull of Lowell, Mass. Miss Helen M. Finch had charge of this work at the beginning of the year, but during the epidemic of Spanish influenza, she contracted pneumonia, and in spite of all that medical skill could do, she did not recover.

Of our students a large number had influenza, but of those ill at the college all recovered. The following deaths were mentioned in the report: Miss Bertha Holmes, at Derby Line; Miss Margaret Ives, at Rock Island; Miss Blanche Young, at Stanstead; Miss Margaret Jones, in Montreal; Miss Wilhelmina Noble, in Sherbrooke.

The Principal made the following reference to former students who have given their all in freedom's cause:

"While we have rejoiced to see so many of our boys back again in Canada, we cannot forget those who have fallen. Of Stanstead College students we already have the names of 27 who lost their lives in the war, directly or indirectly."

Stanley Aldrich, Philippe Bieler, Arthur Bishop, Albert D. Carter, Stanley Cooper, E. C. Dyer, Royce Dyer, Charles Flowerday, Robert Haselton, Milton Haselton, Melville C. Kearns, Forest Mitchell, Leslie Parker, Jerry Pettes, Percy Ross, Norman Planché, Arthur Roy, Theodore Smith, Wesley Dorman, Guy Montie, Sidney Ellis, Earl Ingalls, Wallace McCullough, Charles Mooney, Jack Harper, Carl Brown, Wayland McRitchie, C. H. Smith, Henry Lockhart.

"The trustees of the College are preparing to erect a memorial tablet to perpetuate their memory, and make known to successive generations of students the names of those from the old school who died for home and country."

"A tablet will also be erected containing the names of all Stanstead College students who were enlisted in the Canadian, British, or United States armies."

NEEDS OF THE FUTURE

Concerning the outlook Principal Trueman, in his report, says:

"If Stanstead College is to fill a growing place in the life of the country, men and women must come forward who are ready to aid her in every way. Schools of this kind never make money; they seldom pay their way. This year, notwithstanding our $150,000 endowment, we have not made both ends meet by several thousands. This means two things: that the rates must be increased, and that the friends of the college will have to give hard cash to pay old deficits and prevent new ones. It must not mean cheaper teachers, poorer equipment, and a lower class of school."

"The boys and girls now in our schools will soon be the voters, the workers, the home makers, the leaders of industry, the statesmen, and the professional men of Canada. The future of Canada depends largely on them, and no institution of civilized communities, not excepting the churches and the roads, should receive more thoughtful and progressive management, or more whole-hearted financial support."

THE QUEBEC ELECTION

In the voting on Monday the government of Sir Lomer Gouin was returned by a majority of 58. The new Legislature will be composed of 69 Liberals, 9 Conservatives and 2 Labor representatives. The Government lost three seats on the Island of Montreal. In Laval Joseph Renaud, Conservative, defeated Thibadeau Rinfret, K.C., Liberal, by a substantial majority. In Maisonneuve A. Laurendeau, Labor, defeated Ald. A. A. Desroches, Liberal, by over 1100 votes and J. N. Cabana Independent by about 2000, the latter losing his deposit. In Dorion Aurele Lacombe, Labor, was elected over David Giroux, Labor by 518, George Mayrand by 729 and L. C. de Courville by 122 votes, the latter losing his deposit. The general result was determined on nomination day when more than forty government supporters were elected by acclamation. The excitement did not reach Stanstead county, no opposition candidate being in sight at any time. In Shefford W. S. Bullock, Liberal, defeated L. J. Jodoin, Conservative by about 1,000 majority. In Missisquoi A. Sauret, Liberal, was elected over L. A. Berian and L. Gosselin, Independents, by a majority of 325. Other Townships constituencies went by acclamation.

MASONIC EXCURSION

The annual Masonic excursion, under the auspices of Golden Rule Lodge, took place Tuesday. Two special Pullman cars brought a large representation from the Anchor Club, Boston, and another special car brought the visiting brethren of Victoria Lodge, Montreal. The local lodge was well represented and the delightful day tempted others to join the party, so the confines of the "natural lodge room" had to be extended into the ante room to accommodate the more than three hundred craftsmen who witnessed the exemplification of the first degree by Victoria Lodge. The candidate was Mr. Claud P. Rider of Fitch Bay. The steamers Anthemis and Yioce, chartered for the trip, proved insufficient, and a number of automobiles were run through to the base of the mountain in Potton. Numbers beget enthusiasm and it was an enthusiastic and satisfied party which separated Tuesday evening after discussing plans for next year's excursion. The Anchor Club has intimated that it would be willing to undertake the degree work in 1920.

LAUNDRY MOVED WITH THEM

Washing Apparatus on Wheels a Comfort to the Doughboys at the Front in France.

A correspondent with the American army in France, while motoring near Verdun, met a sergeant who asked if he might ride with him to a pile of ruins that had once been a town. The chance meeting threw light on how a "doughboy" laundry operates. After the sergeant had entered the car he asked the occupants:

"You chaps ain't seen my laundry anywhere, have you?"

"Laundry? We didn't know there was a laundry in this part of France."

"Well, there is, and it belongs to us. At least it did yesterday. We've been transferred from the division to the corps. When I got back from headquarters the division had moved and the laundry was gone. I think they stole it. We used to be attached to a hospital; when they moved we hitched our laundry to a truck and went along."

"Your laundry is on wheels, then?"

"Yes sir. It needs wheels, the way this division is moving. Our laundry is a couple of big tanks on a wagon with a steam-heating apparatus. First we soak the duds in suds; then we steam them; next we bake them. In an hour everything is washed, rinsed and dried. When a bunch comes out of the trenches we give 'em new clothes and run the old ones through the washing machine; then we bake 'em and issue 'em out to the next gang, and keep things going. Fifteen hundred outfits a day—that's our average. Three weeks to launder the whole division."

As they neared the ruined village, he caught sight of the portable laundry, and with a "Thank you" he hurried off to take possession.—Youth's Companion.

TRUE TO TRADITIONS OF SEA

Bluejackets Would Accept No Reward for Their Part in Aiding Injured in Wreck.

Several Indianapolis men were passengers on the New York Central train wrecked near Batavia, N. Y. One of them, in describing the wreck, told the following story:

"When I got into some clothes and got out to see what the trouble was I was surprised to see dozens of sailors as busy as bees helping care for the wounded and making people as comfortable as possible. It developed that our train was carrying two day coaches filled with bluejackets, and a few seconds after the crash came they were out of the cars and making themselves generally useful."

"Some time later representatives of the railroad company came through the crowd settling with the passengers for slight damages. Some asked $50, others $100, and checks for the amount asked were forthcoming. One big man said that $100 would about square things with him, but added that the check should be made out to "those sailors out there." Accordingly the check was drawn in favor of the men who had been working like Trojans ever since the crash. But—

"The sailors refused to accept the money."

"The check was then turned over to the Red Cross to be used in naval relief work."

Uncle Sam Returns Glasses.
As several correspondents have already revealed by means of appreciative letters, the field glasses which the government was forced to "borrow" for the use of its sailors when it went into the war are beginning to come back to their original owners—and to come back almost infinitely increased in value by the marks of hard handling which most of them bear.

For thus these once prosaic utensils have been made into precious relics and souvenirs. Every mark and mar and stain on them is proof that they have helped to win the great victory, and to have one of these war-worn treasures is also evidence that its possessor made a willing sacrifice, small but real, when a need of his country was brought to his attention.—New York Times.

Feeding the Doughboys.

Food stores for the army on hand in the United States, its possessions, France, and in transit to France on Jan. 1, 1919, were valued at $800,000,000. At the time of the signing of the armistice approximately 10,000,000 pounds of food were being consumed by our troops in France each day, and there were on hand in France at that time 1,000,000,000 pounds of food in reserve. All this food has been transported on an average of 5,000 miles. It is estimated by the subsistence division that 8,000,000,000 meals were served to the army during the nineteen months of warfare with Germany.

Average Life Nearly Doubled.

From 1848 to 1930, 25,000,000 deaths from the plague or "black death," occurred, which was one-fourth of the entire population of the world at that time. In 1761, 50 per cent of the English nation died before reaching the age of 20 years.

The average length of life in the sixteenth century was only 21 years, while in this, the twentieth century, the average life is 45 years. In India, however, the average life today is only 24 years.

We are enabled to see what the science of medicine is accomplishing in our more civilized countries, where ignorance and superstition do not prevail to any very great extent.

RAISE CHICKENS BY USE OF HENS

At Hatching Time Fowls Should Be Confined in Slightly Darkened Nests.

KEEP YOUNG CHICKENS WARM

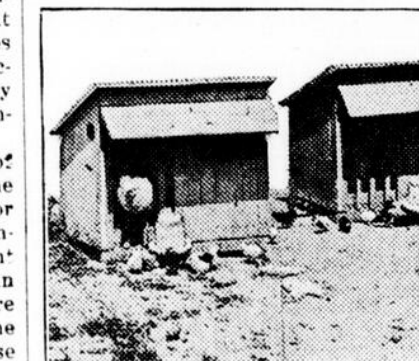

Use Insect Powder to Keep Away Vermin—Brood Coops Should Be Moved Weekly to Fresh Ground—Shade Is Essential.

Sitting hens should be confined to slightly darkened nests at hatching time and not disturbed unless they step on or pick their chickens when hatching, in which case the chickens should be removed as soon as dry, in a basket lined with flannel or some other warm material, and kept near a fire until all the eggs are hatched; or the eggs may be removed and placed under a quieter hen whose eggs are hatching at the same time.

An incubator may also be used to keep the earliest hatched chickens warm, in case they are removed from the nest. If the eggs hatch unevenly, those which are slow in hatching may be placed under other hens, as hens often get restless after a part of the chickens are out, allowing the remaining eggs to become cooled at the very time when steady heat is necessary. Remove the eggshells and any eggs which have not hatched as soon as the hatching is over. Hens should be fed as soon as possible after the eggs are hatched, as feeding tends to keep them quiet; otherwise many hens will leave the nest. In most cases it is best that the hen remain on the nest and brood the chickens for at least 20 hours after the hatching is over.

Use Insect Powder.

Powder the hen with a good insect powder before moving her and the chickens to the brood coop. The hen should be dusted every two weeks, or as often as necessary, until the chickens are weaned. If lice become thick on the chickens, or if they are troubled with "head lice," a very little grease, such as lard or vasoline, may be applied with the fingers on the head, neck, under the wings, and around the vent. Great care should be taken, however, not to get too much grease on the chickens, as it will stop their growth and in some cases may prove fatal.

Keep Brood Coop Clean.

The brood coop should be cleaned at least once a week and kept free from mites. If mites are found in the coop, it should be thoroughly cleaned and sprayed with kerosene oil or crude petroleum. From one to two inches of sand or dry dirt or a thin layer of straw or fine hay should be spread on the floor of the coop. Brood coops should be moved weekly to fresh ground, preferably where there is new grass. Shade is very essential in rearing chickens, especially during warm weather; therefore the coops should be placed in the shade whenever possible. A cornfield makes fine range for young chicks, as owing to cultivation of the ground they get many bugs and worms and have fresh soil to run on.

Brooding Is Difficult.

The proper brooding of chickens is one of the most difficult operations on many poultry farms, especially for the beginner. Many poultry keepers who are able to obtain good egg yields and good hatches make a failure of brooding chickens, either in raising only a small percentage of the chickens hatched or in failing to rear strong, vigorous birds which develop into good breeding stock. Brooding is still in the experimental stage, and no one system has given perfect satisfaction.

ADVANTAGES OF SHEEP FLOCK

Good Crop of Wool Is Insured for Market and Fertility of Soil Is Built Up.

The man who invests in a flock of sheep not only insures a good crop of wool for the market; he builds up the fertility of his soil, so that it will grow any kind of a crop he may like to sow.

BOY "DROPPED INTO MONEY"

New York Youngster Found Floors of Deserted House Fairly Strewn With Bank Notes.

A coal chute may be a prosaic substitute for Aladdin's lamp, but one found by a New York boy delivered the goods as satisfactorily as ever did the old oil burner of "Arabian Nights" fame, observes the Kansas City Star. Vincent Mastaglio had been dazzling his playmates with great rolls of $10 bank notes and pockets full of jewelry for several days when the police learned of his suddenly acquired riches and took him into juvenile court, where he told of discovering his treasure trove.

He was playing in a New York East side street the other day when he fell through a coal hole. There wasn't much in the cellar to excite his interest, so he tried the upper floors of the house, which he found to be deserted. There, he told the police, he found rooms with their floors strewn with money; $5 and $10 bills had been wadded and thrown in every corner, and jewelry littered the dressing tables.

Investigation by the police verified the boy's statement. They learned that the house had been occupied by Mrs. James Sandham, a recluse ninety years old, who had died a few days before. The boy was the first person to enter the house after the woman had been removed to a hospital, and the money, thought to be rents from her tenants, had lain where she had thrown it on the floor as she received it.

WHITE TRIBE IN CHINA HILLS

Are Said to Resemble Anglo-Saxons, and Are Noted for Their Fercocious Courage.

A tribe of white men whose chief characteristic is their ferocious courage, has been found in the western mountains of China by Dr. Joseph Beech, president of the West China Union university, at Changta. Doctor Beech, who recently arrived in this country to aid in the Methodist Episcopal centenary campaign for $85,000,000 for missionary work at home and abroad, tells also of another race of white men, who greatly resemble Bohemians, to be found in the great hills.

"There are 40 or 50 different tribes Doctor Beech said, 'all speaking different languages and all different in physical appearance in the mountains of west and southwest Szechuen. On our maps these tribes are called a part of China, but they are really independent, and have fought the Chinese from time immemorial."

"This tribe, resembling Anglo-Saxons, lives in the district of Sung Pan. It is described to me as consisting of large men whose bravery is considered a marvel by the Chinese. 'They never run away,' a Chinese friend told me. 'They love to fight.'"

Taking Out the Squirt.

Relief is in sight for the man who, hurrying through his breakfast to get downtown, has had to run for the car with one eye blinded by a generous stream of very acid juice which sprang out of his grape fruit as he applied an overabundance of pressure. Department of agriculture experts have taken out the squirt, and incidentally some of the other qualities of the grape fruit which prevented it from becoming as popular as it might otherwise have been. The new fruit has been produced by crossing the grape fruit with the tangerine orange and it is called the tangelo. It is described as being not nearly so sharp in taste as the grape fruit and as resembling a ripe orange. It requires no sugar and the pulp is so tender that it may be removed with a spoon without having previously cut the segments.

Recovered Pocket Piece.

An Odd Fellow's pocket piece, with an inscription showing that its owner had belonged to Keystone lodge, in Bethlehem, Pa., was picked up on a battlefield in France and eventually came into the possession of C. L. Fox of Houlton, Me. An article about the little aluminum disc was published in the Houlton Times and a copy was sent to the lodge in Pennsylvania. C. H. Fog of the Times, later received a letter from the secretary of Keystone lodge saying that the pocket piece belongs to Walter Schonenberger of Bethlehem, and that if Mr. Fox would send the disc to him he would see that Mr. Schonenberger got it after he returned from France.

To Reorganize Scarlet Riders.

Canada's scarlet riders, the Royal Northwest mounted police, who left the dominion to distinguish themselves further on the battle fields of France, are to be reorganized on a pre-war basis, according to an announcement by government officials. Squadrons of the famous riders who for years have patrolled the prairies, mountains, forests and arctic wastes of Canada, will be returned from overseas and permitted to rejoin their old force, which will be recruited to twelve hundred men.

Trade With South America.

South America looks to us for so many manufactured articles it once purchased abroad that in the last two years our trade with that continent has more than doubled. And we are returning the compliment by sending southward heavy orders for raw materials.

SWENSON TWINS.

The famous Swenson Twins, Ruby and Ruth, two of the shining lights in the great assemblage of young artists of Carolyn Reed's Juvenile Four, who appear on the fourth evening of the Community Chautauqua. The charming twins are presenting a series of pantomime dances, featuring Mother Goose characters, and they make Little Bo-Peep and Little Boy Blue step out of their pages and live before the audience. They also present a clever baseball skit which outshines "Casey at the Bat."
