Boost delay flayed

OTTAWA (CP) — Indefinite deferment of pay increases for 50,000 federal civil servants has increased government - employee demands for a greater bargaining voice.

Finance Minister Fleming's announcement Tuesday that the increases would be denied until the "present emergency" is over drew immediate protests from all civil servant groups and the 1,000,000-member Canadian Labor Congress.

The Ottawa local of the Civil Service Association issued a statement saying the government was using the issue for political ends.

C.L.C. President Claude Jodoin said the right of civil servants to engage in collective bargaining "should replace the clearly imperfect system of consultation which prevails now."

"The present system of arbitrary and unilateral decision-making by the government is not satisfactory and is not conducive to good employer-employee relations," he said.

The three main civil service groups—the Civil Service Federation of Canada, the Civil Service Association of Canada and the Professional Institute of the Public Service—protested jointly.

They issued a statement saying the denial of raises was "extremely unfair," since similar action was not taken in other sectors of the economy.

Dan Cross, president of the 10,500-member Canadian Postal Employees Association, said the decision "stinks."

He called on the government to "think again about this—and think fast."

Fred Whitworth, president of the White House Federation, said the groups were being penalized by the austerity program and said all groups would press to gain rights of negotiation and arbitration.

As the Civil Service Act stands now, the various associations are consulted on pay revision but must accept the government decision as final.

20,000 in OTTAWA

Of the 50,000 civil servants affected, about 20,000 are employed in Ottawa. They belong to clerical, administrative and semi-professional classes.

Professional classes got increases last fall in what the government said was setting out as a system of cyclical pay reviews that would cover the entire civil service staff of 150,000 every two years.

To this end the service was divided into five classes for pay revision purposes.

Mr. Fleming said the system still applies and its operation would have to be suspended only temporarily. He asked the employees to view the decision "understandingly."

Favors Puerto Rican vote on independence plan

WASHINGTON (CP - AP) — President Kennedy said today he agrees with the governor of Puerto Rico that Puerto Ricans should vote on the right of self-determination.

Kennedy's views were contained in a letter to the White House said Vice President Johnson will deliver to Governor Luis Munoz Marin.

Kennedy appointed Johnson to represent the United States on the celebration today of the 10th anniversary of the founding of Puerto Rico's present commonwealth form of government.

Munoz wrote the president March 10 that he believes the time has come for growth and improvement of the commonwealth system. He said he intends to ask the Puerto Rican legislature to enact a law that would submit to a vote of the people proposals "to perfect the commonwealth within its association with the United States."

Under commonwealth status, Puerto Rico is a self-governing territory permanently affiliated with the United States.

Two fined at Sudbury

Charges follow PM's meeting

SUDBURY, Ont. (CP)—Magistrate Anthony Falzetta fined two men Tuesday on charges arising from a disturbance in nearby Chelmsford during a visit June 2 to Nickel Belt riding by Prime Minister Diefenbaker in his federal election campaign.

Charges against seven other persons were dismissed, two were withdrawn by the Crown, one case was adjourned and two others were remanded until Aug. 21. The court sat from 10 a.m. until 11:30 p.m. and heard 140,000 words in evidence.

Michael Kuc of Sudbury was fined $50 for assaulting Progressive Conservative candidate Don Gillis during the melee, with an alternative of 30 days in jail. Gillis was pummeled and struck with placard sticks.

Clarence A. Swift of Sudbury was fined $25 on a charge of creating a disturbance outside the Chelmsford union hall, where the Conservative party rally was held.

PLEAD NOT GUILTY

Lawyer Elmer Sopha, Liberal member of the Ontario legislature for Sudbury, appeared for the defendants, all of whom pleaded not guilty. Crown Attorney A. G. Burbridge prosecuted.

Extremist freed

MADRID (Reuters) — Pierre Lagallarde, a French right-wing extremist, had "nothing to say to the press" when he arrived here Tuesday after nearly nine months of forced residence in the Canary Islands. Lagallarde and the five other "keep Algeria French" campaigners confined to the island of La Palma were set free by the Spanish government Monday.

hearing that the section of the Criminal Code under which the defendants were accused was never intended to apply to a political meeting. "It runs smack into the Bill of Rights, which gives freedom of assembly," he said.

Mr. Burbridge replied in reference to Swift's case that "if that is the way protests are to be made to any body of authority, we might as well abolish the vote."

Magistrate Falzetta dismissed charges of creating a disturbance against Andre Duguay of Larchwood, Joseph Mullaly of Dowling Township, Victor Burdette of Val Caron, John Levesque of Chelmsford and Sudbury residents William Braun, Joseph McIntagart and Harold Kostka.

The Crown withdrew similar charges against David Williams of Sudbury and Mrs. Peggy Bertrand of Chelmsford. Neil Groves of Sudbury and Stanley McLean of Chelmsford were remanded until Aug. 21 on charges

Mother of diplomat exile dies

LONDON (AP) — Lady Gwen. dolen Maclean, 82, mother of renegade British diplomat Donald Maclean, died today.

She suffered a stroke July 16 at her country home near Beaconsfield, in Buckinghamshire. Her son, now self-exiled in the Soviet Union, was notified by cable but told Western newspapers he had no plans to go to her.

Maclean and a fellow foreign office employee, Guy Burgess, defected to the Soviet Union in May, 1951. Last April, the British government issued warrants for their arrest on charges of violating the British Official Secrets Act if they ever return to this country.

Maclean, who has a wife and three children, and Burgess, a bachelor, both live now in Moscow.

Lady Maclean's late husband, Sir Donald Maclean, was leader of the Liberal party from 1919 to 1921. When he died in 1932, he was president of the board of education in Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald's cabinet.

Lady Maclean is survived by a daughter and two sons in addition to Donald. Another son, Ian, was killed with the RAF in 1943.

Lady Maclean and her exiled son wrote each other regularly, but they never met again after he left Britain. She said in 1956 she would like to visit him in Moscow but did not feel that her health would permit the journey.

Amend code

QUEBEC (CP)—An amendment to the Quebec highway code allowing motorists to pay traffic fines without going to court will go into effect Aug. 1, it was announced Tuesday.

However, the amendment only applies to first offenders who are residents of the province and have not been arrested, of creating a disturbance.

The power struggle between the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (I.M.S.W.) and the United Steelworkers for the right to represent more than 14,000 mine workers in the Sudbury district figured frequently in evidence.

Gillis, defeated in the June 18 general election by Liberal (Oscar J. Godin, was president until June 30 of Mine-Mill's Sudbury local and a leader of the campaign to switch affiliation to the Steelworkers union.

Bribery brings death sentence

LONDON (Reuters)—A former head of department in the Soviet finance ministry, K. D. Degtyarev, has been sentenced to be shot for taking bribes, the Soviet news agency Tass said today.

The death penalty was introduced last year in the Soviet Union for bribery, currency speculation or misappropriation of state property. A few days ago the Soviet Supreme Court sentenced four textile industry officials from Kirghizia to be shot under the new law.

Today's announcement said the Supreme Court of the Russian Federation established that Degtyarev, taking advantage of his official position, repeatedly extorted and took bribes from people who came to him with justifiable requests for various payments and compensation.

In passing the death sentence, the court took into account Degtyarev's responsible official position and "the great danger of the crime he had committed," Tass said.

Maclean and a fellow foreign office employee, Guy Burgess, defected to the Soviet Union in May, 1951. Last April, the British government issued warrants for their arrest on charges of violating the British Official Secrets Act if they ever return to this country.

Advice on Congo role requested

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — Acting Secretary-General U Thant has asked the UN advisory committee — of which Canada is a member—whether military force should be used as a last resort to end the secession of the Congo's Katanga province.

Committee members said Thant asked the 19-nation group during a private meeting Tuesday their opinion of a military operation if economic pressure cannot end President Moise Tschombe's defiance of the central Congo government.

Thant told a press conference in London July 7 that the United Nations was planning new action against mineral-rich Katanga. But he added: "It has never been my intention—and never will be my intention—to use any military initiative."

He noted that UN troops had authority to fight only in self-defence.

Katanga troops fought UN forces to a standstill last September. New fighting broke out in December and the UN won control of the centre of Elisabethville, Katanga's capital.

Since then the United Nations has tried to negotiate a settlement between Tschombe and Premier Cyrille Adoula of the central government. Negotiations were broken off in June, and Tschombe told a press conference Monday he no longer considers Adoula a "valid spokesman" for the central government.

Charge three in counterfeit case

MONTREAL (CP) — Guy Adam, 26, a printer, was charged Tuesday with circulating 17 counterfeit $20 bills and possessing an engraving plate that could have been used to make them.

He pleaded not guilty and preliminary hearing was set for July 31.

RCMP said they found the plate under a rug at Adam's home.

Maurice Dostigny, 35, was also charged with circulating 17 of the fake bills and Leon Cote, 35, and Yolande Crevier, 19, were charged with circulating one bill each and being in possession of 15 others.

Preliminary hearing was also set for July 31.

GENEVA (CP) — (Reuters) — U.S. State Secretary Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Gromyko appeared ready to return home within 48 hours after fruitless talks on Berlin and disarmament.

Rusk emerged from a third meeting with Soviet Foreign Minister Andre Gromyko Tuesday and an American spokesman said he had the impression both men "will be leaving Geneva in a day or two."

U.S. sources conceded there would be time for another meeting today but when Rusk was asked he would only say "wait and see."

The state secretary also attended Tuesday's resumed session of the 17-nation disarmament conference which produced only one concrete proposal—a call by India's V. K. Krishna Menon for a declaration against disseminating nuclear weapons or information.

Krishna Menon said "a simple but effective agreement" against the spread of nuclear weapons could be achieved immediately if the four nuclear powers—including France, which is boycotting the conference—declared unilaterally but simultaneously their decision not to disseminate nuclear weapons or information.

POSITION UNCHANGED

Rusk and Gromyko met for four hours Tuesday for talks mainly devoted to the Berlin issue but a highly-placed American source told reporters there was no change in the Soviet position.

Rusk emerged from the Soviet villa and said: "We talked about a considerable number of matters including Berlin. We touched on some of the disarmament questions raised at this morning's session."

At this point, Gromyko smilingly "including the question of a peace treaty. . . . Apart from this remark, Gromyko refused to discuss the substance of their exchanges."

Rusk, Gromyko and British Foreign Secretary Lord Home all agreed in addressing the disarmament conference Tuesday that it had not made progress on any matter of substance since it began here March 12.

HOPES FOR BREAK

Lord Home said later, however, that the West hopes to make another effort to break the stalemate on a nuclear test ban treaty with proposals based on the development of new scientific detection devices.

Speaking to reporters on his return to London, Home said the new devices still would leave the need for some international

A choice as to which course to take is currently being made in the labor controversy plaguing major airlines—a perfect example of the pangs of progress.

It has puzzled some observers why Labor Secretary Goldberg and his aides dropped practically all other duties and concentrated every day and many nights for weeks on the airline labor problem.

Saskatchewan physicians resuming normal practise

SASKATOON (CP)—Doctors' offices reopened throughout Saskatchewan today as the medical profession officially ended a boycott of the CCF government's medical care insurance plan—the first such government program in North America.

The Saskatchewan College of Physicians and Surgeons said most doctors who boycotted the prepaid medical insurance plan since it went into effect July 1 will be back at work by the end of the week.

Some have already reopened their offices. But for the sake of uniformity the college said it advised doctors to end their boycott today and begin charging for services.

During the three-week boycott of the plan about 200 doctors provided free emergency medical treatment at 41 of the province's 154 hospitals. Many of these doctors will take a few days rest before returning to normal practise.

Dr. Sam Landa, co-ordinator of the emergency service established by the college and the Canadian Medical Association, said about half the college's 625 private practitioners would be at work by Thursday. It was expected to take a week to 10 days to return services to normal.

Test shelter

WASHINGTON (AP) — One hundred U.S. Navy officers and men will go underground next Wednesday for a test of hot weather confinement in an atomic attack shelter. The shelter, a steel structure 25 feet wide and 48 feet long, is buried six feet underground at the National Naval Medical Centre in Bethesda, Md.

32 die in Romanian rail wreck

LONDON (Reuters)—The Romanian government today disclosed that 32 persons were killed and 54 injured when a passenger train crashed near Bucharest three days ago.

The Romanian news agency Agerpres quoted a transport ministry announcement which said the train was derailed Sunday as it took a curve at high speed while approaching the Bucharest marshalling yards.

"The accident was caused by the fact that the engine driver, Neulac N. Ion, exceeded the speed limit on a curve," the announcement said.

The train was travelling to the Communist capital from Faurei in Romanian Moldavia.

The amendments to the legislation will be adopted at a special session of the provincial legislature. No date has been set for the session.

British press campaign for vaccination

LONDON (AP)—Health Ministry officials said today a campaign to vaccinate every baby in Britain against smallpox will go on unchanged.

A doctor's claim that the vaccinations caused more deaths in this country than smallpox itself was dismissed as "a minority view in the medical profession."

Speaking at the annual conference of the British Medical Association Tuesday, Professor George Dick of Belfast University, a member of a committee that advises the health ministry, asserted that the government's aim of 100-per-cent vaccination would kill 20 babies a year.

He thought it probable that vaccination deaths were not recorded by doctors as such. Professor Dick is an expert on infectious diseases.

Asked if the health ministry was likely to consider a change of policy in the light of Professor Dick's remarks, a spokesman said:

"On the contrary, Professor Dick is expressing an opinion contrary to the guidance given to the ministry by leaders of the profession."

The spokesman reported that in 10 years 2,600 babies under 12 months old have been vaccinated against smallpox. Of these, 27 died of complications resulting from the vaccination.

"We have never denied there is a death risk. Facts prove it. But this is a balanced risk."

"Professor Dick's figure of 20 deaths a year is a hypothetical total which, we could not argue, might be accurate if the entire child population was vaccinated."

At present, about one out of four children are vaccinated.

Bible School at Mansonville will close with program Friday night

MANSONVILLE — The closing program of the Interdenominational Bible School will be held on Friday at 8 p.m. in the Intermediate School. It is hoped there will be a good attendance of parents and friends at the event, which will be titled Adventurama.

Total enrollment at the two weeks Bible School is 111, with an average attendance of about 100 at the sessions held daily in the Intermediate School.

Mrs. Robert Young is in charge of the pre-school group of 35 little children with Mrs. Olive Perkins taking the handicraft. The assistants are Mrs. Ross McNeil, Miss Linda Bedford and Miss Villa Woodard. There are 38 pupils in the primary section, with Mrs. Merton Bailey as teacher and Mrs. Viola Knowlton taking the crafts and assisted by Miss Greta McKelvey, Miss Faye Webb and Mrs. Paul Turcotte.

The junior group of 33 is taught by Mrs. Alton Aiken.

with Miss Gwen Johnson teaching the crafts. Miss Ruth Heath is assistant.

A new venture this year is the youth group with five pupils taught by Mrs. George Lavery, who also takes care of handicrafts.

The nursery is supervised by Mrs. Hazel Jones, Mrs. Clifton Jersey and Miss Sandra Jewett. The theme of the school this year is Adventuring with Christ. Mrs. Lavery directs singing and Mrs. Alton Aiken is at the piano. Devotions are taken each morning by George Lavery and Andrew Moffatt alternately. Miss Ruth Heath is treasurer and Mrs. Alton Aiken secretary.

Special mention should be made of the bus driver, Harold Clark, who picks up many of the children each morning and returns them to their home.

SQUEEZE PLAY MAKES SMALL SLAM

I happened to run into Waldemar von Zedtwitz right after I finished writing yesterday's article. When I told him about it he said, "Here's a hand I played yesterday and not 30 years ago."

"The opponents were vulnerable and we were not, so I decided to open with a weak four-heart bid. My partner should have given me leeway, but he didn't and I found myself in a slam."

"West opened the ace of spades and shifted to the deuce of diamonds. I knew that he wasn't the sort of player who would lead from a king at that point, so I went right up with dummy's ace of diamonds. I cashed six trump tricks and discarded all dummy's diamonds. West threw the eight and ten of diamonds, two spades and a club, while East let go the six and jack of diato the good club. Waldy threw dummy's last club and East had to discard a spade to hold the king of diamonds.

Now both dummy's spades were good, irrespective of the location of the queen.

Portland-Argyle traffic lights

City not allowed to use Bell poles

Sherbrooke city council Monday afternoon decided to send a letter to the Bell Telephone Company asking why the city has been refused permission to install traffic lights on the company poles at Portland Boulevard and Argyle Street.

Ald. Everett Nicol, protection committee chairman, told council he was refused permission by the Bell Telephone company which maintained that the city's electrical department superintendent, Gaston Masse, also recommended that the lights not be placed on the company's poles.

Is to seek vice-presidency of Quebec Jaycee Association

COWANSVILLE — (Staff) — Bernard Leveille, of Granby, officially presented his candidacy for the vice-presidency of the Provincial Junior Chamber of Commerce Association of Quebec at a Regional meeting of the Jaycee Convention Committee held at Cowansville Junior Chamber of Commerce headquarters Monday night.

Also presenting his candidacy was Raymond Harbec, of Farnham for the vice-presidency of the Regional Association.

Mr. Leveille's candidacy was backed up by Claude Bourque, of Sherbrooke; Pat Godreau, of Granby; Jacques Frenette, of Mariville; Mr. Racine, of Granby and Yvan Daniel, of Sherbrooke.

Elections for the provincial vice-presidency will be held at the Provincial Convention to be held at Rimouski September 7, 8 and 9.

Wives of members from Eastern Townships Junior of Chamber Clubs will wear a special outfit at the convention. Women will wear black skirts with green blouses to distinguish them from members' wives from other clubs, it was decided at the Monday night meeting here.

Fernand Giroux, regional president of the Convention Committee, also announced Monday night, that the Cowansville Junior of Chamber Club had won second prize at the National Jaycee convention held at Calgary recently for the Newspaper Committee.

SWEETSBURG — (Staff) — Fourteen Motor Vehicle Act offenders appeared before Judge Patrick Delaney here Tuesday to plead guilty to the offences against them.

Among the group was Luc Vaillancourt, of Montreal who was arrested at Granby Town.

He was fined $5 and court costs on each offence.

Six men appeared before the court to plead guilty to charges of speeding. Each of them was ordered to pay a $20 fine and court costs or spend eight days in jail.

These offenders were: Elie Guertin; Ronald Tobin; Gaetan Robert; Clayton Page, of Sweetsburg; Gilles Rioux and Rejean Amireault, of Adamsville.

Marcel Desnoyers was fined $10 and court costs for driving without a permit. Arnold Johnson was ordered to pay a similar fine for a similar offence.

Harold Farguey and Jean Luc Blais, were each ordered to pay a $5 fine and court costs after they pleaded guilty to charges of passing an automobile where there was a double white line.

Louise Belhumeur and Marcel Boivin, were each fined $5 and court costs for driving without permits.

Women injured in car accident

COWANSVILLE — (Staff) — A two-car collision about 11:15 a.m. Tuesday at the Oxford-Church Streets intersection resulted in the minor injury of a woman, police Chief Ernest Deschamps reported Tuesday.

According to Chief Deschamps, the accident occurred when an automobile driven by Durrell Clarence, 49, of Sweetsburg did not stop on Oxford Street at the Church Street corner and collided with an automobile driven by Andre Barselou, 25, of 125 Veterans Boulevard.

Mrs. Barselou, who was in her husband's automobile when the crash occurred was taken to the Medical Center on South Street where she was treated for injuries received to her right elbow.

Legion Day July 28 at N. Hatley

NORTH HATLEY — United Branch No. 242, Royal Canadian Legion, will hold its second annual Legion Day on July 28, in North Hatley.

The highlight of the day will be the presentation of colors to Ladies' Auxiliary 242 by the president of the Quebec Command, R.C.L., Lt. Col. J.H.L. St. Germain.

At 2 p.m. there will be a parade to the Cenotaph, for the presentation ceremony, the procession being led by the RCEME pipe band from Sherbrooke.

This will be followed by the March Past the salute being taken in front of the Earl Davis Store, by Col. St. Germain, Rene Letourneau, MP for Standee, Henri Latulippe, MP for Compton-Frontenac, H. Bureau, mayor of Waterville, and Charles Coleman, mayor of North Hatley.

The group will then parade to the ball park for a game between the two PeeWee League teams sponsored by the Legion.

Balance of the program comprises: 5:30 p.m. buffet supper. Town Hall; 7 p.m., Scottish dancing display by Verna McKenken in front of IGA store; 9 p.m., street dance.

Admission to the outdoor events will be possession of a tag to be sold by Legion members during the day.

Changes plea

SWEETSBURG — (Staff) — Alexis Piette, of Frelighsburg, whom last week had pleaded not guilty to a charge of discharging firearm with intent to main, changed his plea here before Judge Patrick Delaney to that of guilty and was fined $100 and court costs and ordered to spend two days in jail.

According to police who arrested Piette, the incident occurred Sunday, July 1 at Frelighsburg when Piette interrupted a baseball game there by threatening to shoot the catcher of the Frelighsburg team.

Piette actually fired a shot, but no one was injured. Piette admitted he was drunk at the time.

For youth work

Rotary sells maps of lake

Members of the youth committee of the Sherbrooke Rotary Club have just completed making a detailed chart of Lake Memphremagog and the immediate surrounding area.

The chart, prepared by A.R. Monty of Lennoxville, is ideal for anyone who has a cottage on this lake or for tourists who plan to spend a vacation in this well-known Eastern Township holiday location.

The chart is now on sale and all profits obtained from the sale of this chart are for the benefit of the youth and welfare service of the Rotary Club of Sherbrooke.

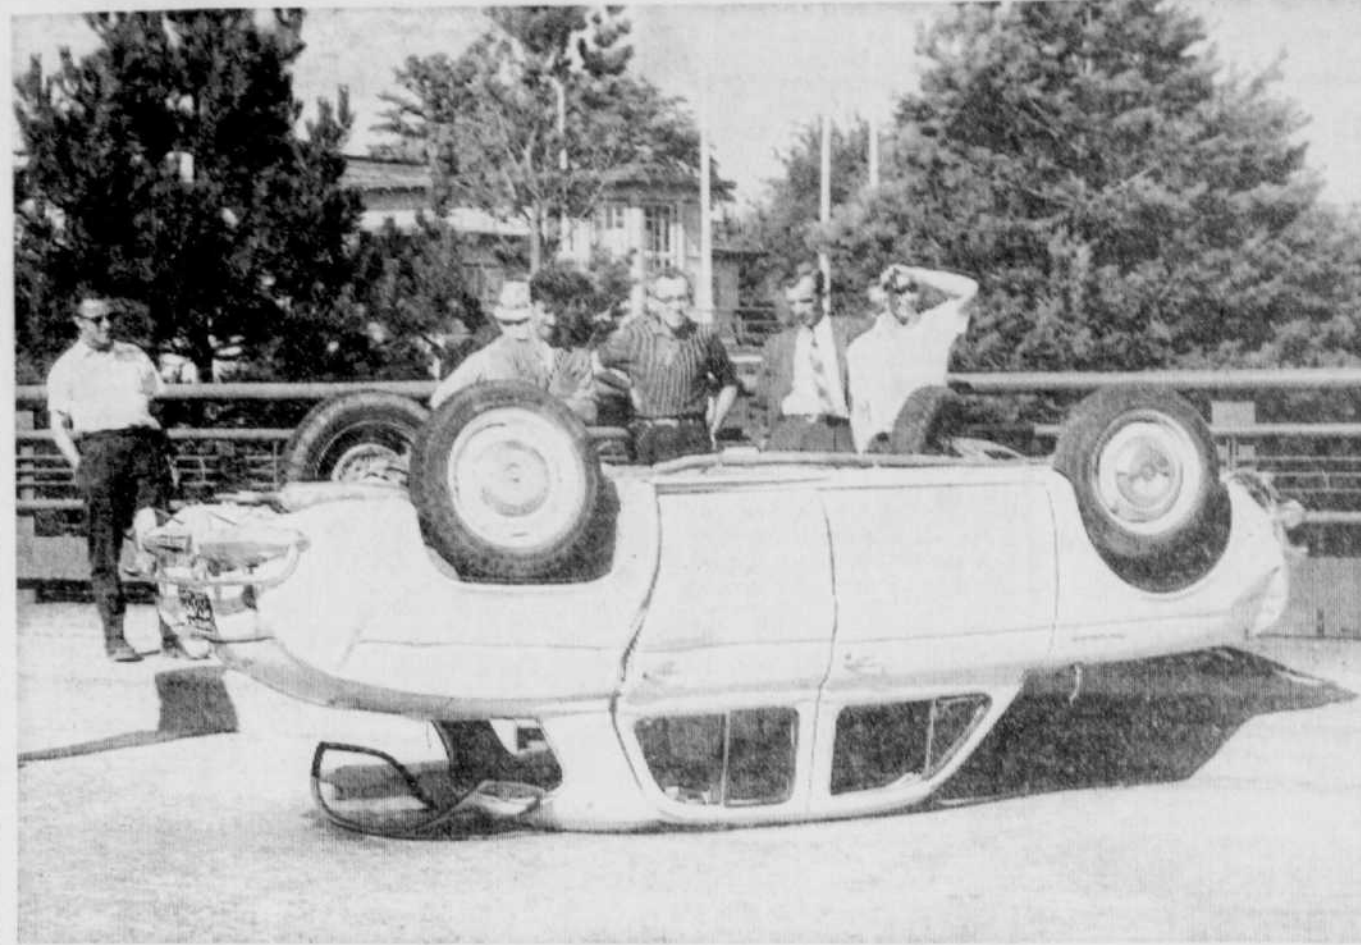

The 11 by 23 inch map indicates such points as the Customs at Vermont, Newport City, the names of mountains and their elevations, and the different bays, lakes and rivers in the area.

Besides showing the different railway lines and roadways, the chart also includes signs that indicate where there are lighted or flashing beacons, service stations for boats, launching grounds, overnight accommodations, meals, licensed bars, and sheltered moorings.

The chart also indicates points of interest such as the tower of the television tower on Mt. Orford.

It also has a complete list of familiar nautical terms and a chart showing the distances from one town to another.

These charts can be obtained from Rene Monty of Lennoxville for $1.00.

BOTTOMS - UP — The above pictured European car overturned Tuesday around 5 o'clock on the Jacques Cartier Bridge sending one person to hospital. Joseph Cote 70, father of the driver, Therese Cote, 34, was taken to St. Vincent de Paul hospital suffering from head wounds. Miss Cote and another passenger, Pierre Leblond, 15 escaped injury. The accident took place when Miss Cote drove her car towards the sidewalk to get out of the way of an oncoming car. Her car jumped the gutter and overturned.

Artificial respiration methods shown

One pair of hands and several breaths of air can save the life of a victim of near-drowning, members of the Sherbrooke Rotary Club learned Tuesday as they watched a Montreal doctor demonstrate two methods of applying artificial respiration.

Dr. A. W. McDonald, assistant director of the department of anesthesia at the Montreal Children's Hospital and the Reddy Memorial Hospital in Montreal demonstrated on a specially devised mannequin the mouth-to-mouth respiration or artificial ventilation method, and the more drastic measure, the emergency heart resuscitation.

"Past methods used for artificial respiration were effective only if they were expertly applied. They were difficult, and impossible to apply in the water," Dr. McDonald said.

"The mouth-to-mouth method can be applied easily with just the hands and mouth even in the water."

To apply past methods the victim had to be dragged out of the water before applying respiration. "These were minutes lost," said Dr. McDonald. "The point to stress is that one must start instituting respiration as soon as possible."

Mouth-to-mouth, he said could be carried out in the water.

He said 60 per cent victims who are applied with mouth-to-mouth respiration should become conscious within one or two minutes after treatment is started, and eight to nine per cent after five minutes. "Beyond 15 minutes the chance to revive the victim is remote," he said, "but it is best to keep up treatment for another hour or until expert help arrives."

He stressed again the point of starting the mouth-to-mouth respiration as soon as possible, right in the water and before the victim is taken to shore or into a boat.

To apply mouth to mouth respiration is simple, Dr. McDonald demonstrated. First turn the victim's head to side to clear mouth of water; force head back and pull jaw forward by putting thumb in victim's throat hold jaw back under jawbone, squeeze nostril so air won't escape through victim's nose; fit mouth over victim's mouth and exhale.

Police said the truck was owned by Sylvio Tremblay and driven by Noel Ducharme, of 1418, Victoria Street, Victoriaville.

A two-year-old Waterbury Conn. boy who was visiting his uncle's farm in Val Alain, near Plessisville, died yesterday when he was strangled by the door window of his mother's car.

The tot was identified by Provincial Police as Leo Perrault, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacques Perrault.

Seated at head table were Jean Pankert, Hubert Rogeau, new member; Clarence Blake, Dr. McDonald, Gene Gingras, president of the Rotary Club; Lorne Thompson, Dick Dickson, Roland Codere, new member and Johnny Thibert.

The annual barn dance sponsored by the Crippled Children's Committee of this club will be held for children at the Ayer's Cliff Crippled Children's Camp July 26.

Special reduced admission fee this evening at J.M.C. recital

MOUNT ORFORD — There will be a special admission price of only 50 cents for tonight's concert to be given at the J.M.C. Musical Camp here, it was announced Tuesday.

This reduced admission price is good for only tonight's performance.

Jean-Paul Jeannotte, tenor and five noted musicians will perform featuring arias and cantatas from Europe's classical period.

The five musicians are Greta Brou-Tinel, violinist, Edgar Davignon flutist, Guy Fallot, cellist, Kenneth Gilbert, harpsichordist and Jacques Simard, oboist.

They will play music by Purcell, airs from the opera Flavio Cunierto by D. Garielli, Ah sei troppo by D. Scarlatti, Susse Stille by G. F. Handel, Mariae Reinigung by G. P. H. Tellemann and Cantata No. 189 by Bach.

July 21, some 200 persons were turned away from the Jeunesses Musicales classical guitar duo by Alexandre Lagoya and Ida Presti. By popular demand, the duo will present a completely new program in a second recital to be given July 29.

The harpsichord recital by Kenneth Gilbert, originally scheduled for July 29 will be given August 12.

ANOTHER RECITAL SET — Some 200 persons were turned away from the Jeunesses Musicales Concert hall in Mount Orford Provincial Park July 21 as a capacity crowd attended a classical guitar duo by Alexandre Lagoya, above left, and Ida Presti, right. The duo will give a second recital July 29.

Award grants

OTTAWA (CP) — Grants totalling $10,000 have been made to three universities to assist research into mining methods and safety, the mines department announced Tuesday.

The grants are to McGill University, Queen's University and the University of Alberta.

Refugees leave

OTTAWA (CP) — The first of the 100 Chinese refugee families Canada has agreed to admit as immigrants from Hong Kong will arrive in Canada Tuesday, Aug. 7, the immigration department said Tuesday. Four families — a total of 15 persons — will leave the British colony on a Canadian Pacific Airline plane Aug. 7.

Three tots killed in accidents

Three young children died as a result of accidents in the Eastern Townships area Tuesday.

At St. Guillaume, near Drummondville Guy Doyon, two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Germain Doyon, who was about to celebrate his third birthday a month from today was killed when he was pinned by a hay fork in his father's barn.

The accident happened about 10:45 a.m. yesterday when the tot crossed under a load of hay about to be released from the fork, Provincial Police said.

Jean Marie Costant, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Onil Costant, was killed when he was struck by a truck on highway 34, near his St. Valere home.

Provincial Police said the tot was returning home from fishing when he let a car pass him on the highway then darted across the road not noticing a truck coming from the opposite direction.

Police said the truck was owned by Sylvio Tremblay and driven by Noel Ducharme, of 1418, Victoria Street, Victoriaville.

A two-year-old Waterbury Conn. boy who was visiting his uncle's farm in Val Alain, near Plessisville, died yesterday when he was strangled by the door window of his mother's car.

New head at RCMP

A change in command in the Sherbrooke detachment of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police has taken place.

Corporal Yvon Lapointe has taken over for Sergeant Paul Champagne who has joined the Provincial Police in Montreal.

Corporal Lapointe was born in Coaticook and is 42 years old. He has been with the RCMP for 22 years.

In his tour of duty with the RCMP, Corporal Lapointe has been stationed in Montreal, Amos, Val d'Or, Mont Louis, and Gaspe where he has filled various posts.

He was first officer in charge at Hemmingford. The post at Hemmingford was followed by similar ones at Drummondville, Riviere-du-Loup and finally here in Sherbrooke.

Forecast record

LONDON (Reuters) — A record Soviet grain harvest is shaping up this year despite difficulties with the weather, the Soviet news agency Tass reported Tuesday. The agency based its forecast on an assessment of the harvest so far gathered from more than 74,000,000 acres.

Social evening at West Brome aids cemetery

WEST BROME — A large number of interested folk met July 14, to support the effort to raise funds for the pioneer cemetery at Scotsmore.

During the social evening, David Aiken showed slides of the trip he had taken with his family through the western part of this continent, the interesting pictures showing much skill on the part of the photographer.

The door prizes were won by Mrs. Ruby Moore, of Cowansville, and Mrs. Haines, of Sweetsburg. The saucer prize went to Mrs. Mitchell, of Abbotsford, and the chair prize to S. Fuller, of West Brome.

The serving of refreshments brought to a close an evening, which had been successful both socially and financially. The cemetery association was most appreciative of response.

Easing Wellington street traffic

When undertaking their study of the proposal to establish truck unloading zones along Wellington street, the aldermen might well extend their investigation to the possibility of banning all but transient parking in the downtown business section.

Despite opposition which has been forthcoming to the plan from certain interests in the past, a detailed study probably would reveal that the vast majority of merchants would benefit more than they suffer by such a ban.

At present it is almost impossible for a prospective customer to disembark from a car along the narrow street and even taxi drivers delivering fares are compelled to let them out in the middle of the street. Any restrictions that would keep the curbs clear for such traffic would solve many of the difficulties of travelling the downtown areas.

In addition to facilitating the arrival and departure of shoppers and others having business on Wellington street, the restrictions would speed up traffic by averting many of the jams now occurring in this area.

The topography of the downtown shopping district makes the establishment of unloading zones essential. Built against a cliff, many of the business establishments have no rear entrances whatsoever and others only have narrow rights-of-way suitable for pedestrians. Lanes serving back entrances are almost unknown on the west side of Wellington street so deliveries and shipments of merchandise must be made from the front of the buildings.

With the entire length of the curbs being occupied by parked vehicles, deliverymen must resort to double-parking to complete their missions. This further complicates the traffic problem.

We'll bet right now you won't save a dime of the money you'll save by not using heating oil or gas this summer.

Charred reminders of carelessness

When the white drifts of winter engulf the forests across Canada this year, the charred skeletons of trees will stand as grim silhouettes, marking spots where human carelessness left its toll.

Officials estimate that 6,000 forest and bush fires will destroy valuable timber land this year. During the past 10 years, more than $57,000,000 have been lost in forest fires.

Unseasonably warm, dry weather and persons who disregard the elementary rules of handling fires in the woods contribute towards this loss. Here are precautions which should be taken while camping out or passing through the forest:

- Never throw cigarettes or matches from car windows — 15 per cent of forest fires are caused by careless smokers.

- Build campfires on rocks or bare earth. Be sure your fire is well away from dry timber.

- Drown campfires or smother them with earth before you leave the campsite.

- Break matches in half before discarding. This precaution insures that the flame is extinguished.

- When hiking, stamp cigarettes out on rocks or bare earth; if possible, douse them with water.

- If you live in the vicinity of a bush or forest, equip all chimneys on your home or cabin with spark screens.

- Broken bottles should be buried. The sun's rays when magnified by glass can start fires.

- If you spot a forest fire, however small, report it to police or forest officials immediately.

People would get further ahead if they didn't have so much patience with themselves.

Other papers say:

No wonder housewives become bored

Rescue, Inc., an organization which tries to keep suicides at a minimum, reports that more than 40 per cent of the people who kill themselves are bored married women. Next in line are retired men.

These findings merely add fuel to the belief that many married women should have more to do than merely looking after the home. If further fuel is needed, it is the already well-known fact that the majority of female alcoholics are bored married women.

Husbands should stay home for a couple of weeks. They will find that the noise of the dishwasher, the washing machine, the dryer, the TV set, the radio in the kitchen, the power-driven lawn mower, and the vacuum cleaner is deafening, that there will be very little work for him to do that a machine isn't already doing, and that time will therefore hang heavy on his hands. He may then understand why so many wives are driven to drink or worse.

There was a time when we felt sorry for the housewife and all the work she had to do. Nowadays, those housewives who no longer have children to care for have very little to do, not enough to prevent their being bored, anyway. There is a serious problem.

Medical care for animals is costly

In view of the medicare controversy in Saskatchewan and another in the United States it is interesting to look at the price of medicine and care for animals and birds. A druggist's magazine provides figures for the United States, and it may be taken for granted that our animal population is proportionate. The aggregate cost of medicines in the U.S. for animals of all kinds, including livestock, is $240,000,000 per annum, of which $40,000,000 is for animals that can be classed as pets.

Americans treat as members of their families some 25 million dogs, 22 million cats, 15 million birds, and uncounted other creatures ranging from mink to horses. Most people regard their pets so highly that expense of medical care is of secondary importance when the animal's health is at stake.

Farmers and ranchers pay $200 million a year to maintain the health of these animals but economy takes precedence over sentiment. If the cost of the cure exceeds the monetary value of the animal, the creature is usually destroyed.

Eventually some politician is certainly going to find that the public interest requires the government to move into this area with regulations, subsidies, and vast bureaus full of political appointees.

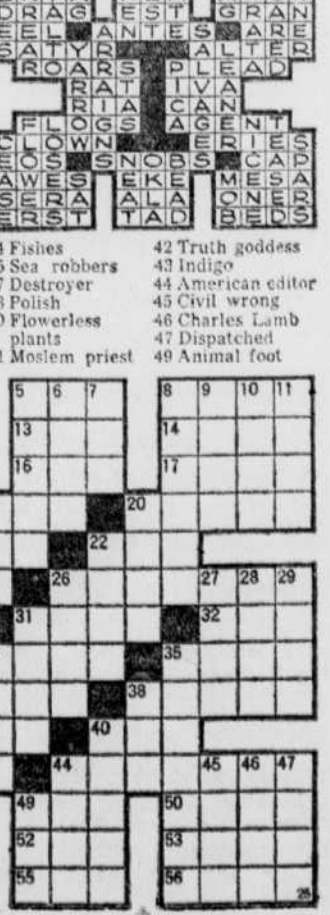

It is sincerely to be hoped, however, that the problems of human health will continue to get precedence, whatever the political appeal of buying votes by offering free care for pets.

First Asian as president

Rotary International head supports business aid plan

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON —(NEA)— Rotary International is establishing a Peace Corps of its own. The 57-year-old service organization is starting a new, international, small business clinics program for developing countries. It will be an adult educational aid program to help small merchants and manufacturers learn the ways of modern business in a free society.

THIS IS THE IDEA of Nitish C. Laharry of Calcutta, India, installed as president of Rotary International for 1962-63 at its recent Los Angeles convention. He is the first Asian to head Rotary, which now has 324,000 members in 11,279 service clubs of 128 countries.

In Washington for a courtesy call on President Kennedy and a speech to the Washington Rotary Club on its 50th anniversary Laharry in an interview outlined his plans for developing world service on a person-to-person basis.

The idea grew out of a volunteer service by 15 Oklahoma doctors who last year gave two months of their time traveling abroad at their own expense to demonstrate modern medical practices for native doctors in their own clinics.

THIS GENEROUS volunteer service was so successful that Laharry, who had been designated this year's Rotary president at its Tokyo convention last year, began plans to spread the club's World Community Service to a larger field.

Educated as an economist, political scientist and lawyer in India, Laharry had served 32 years as Southeast Asia distributor for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer and Columbia films. He had traveled in many lands. He knew that in the developing countries there were thousands of small merchants and small manufacturers making and selling one part for an assembled machine — bicycle chains, wheels and pedals, for example. There were also myriads of "cottage" industries, often family affairs with no real knowledge of accounting, merchandizing or modern business methods.

If he could get experts from the more developed countries to go into the new countries and hold business clinics for native businessmen, Laharry reasoned that he would be developing the stature and dignity of free men. This is one of Rotary's goals.

He thought it could be achieved best by person-to-person contacts and not through the regimented processes of some international government agency.

THERE ARE ROTARY CLUBS in practically every country not inside the iron curtain. There are nearly pared. They tell how local Rotary clubs can involve every member in world-wide business clinic service.

The new nation of Tanganyika has asked to have the first Rotary business clinic. William Kishbaugh of Hershey, Pa., has volunteered to conduct the clinic. He is a Rotarian who has devoted a great deal of time and money to the Rotary Foundation program of educating foreign students. Another volunteer is being sought to go with him.

Panama's Rotary has asked for business clinic service. Laharry wants to send two missions to India this year. A book of Rotary requests from the various countries is being compiled. It will be circulated to Rotary clubs in the more developed countries. The effort will then be made to match up the needs with volunteer service, club-to-club.

PRESIDENT LAHARRY feels that if a dozen clinics are conducted in his year in office, it will be a good start.

If that seems a modest beginning, he recalls that Rotary itself was founded in Chicago in 1905. Paul P. Harris, who felt that he was a lonely man, asked three associates to meet with him for "Service Above Self."

That is still a Rotary objective. But Laharry now lays stress on another goal. "The advancement of international understanding, good will and peace through a world fellowship of business and professional men united in the ideal of service."

Nitish C. Laharry

1,000 Rotary clubs in Asia, from Iran to Japan, with 37,000 members. There are 300 Rotary clubs in Laharry's India, with 11,000 members.

These clubs provide a natural bridge between the developed and developing countries.

With the help of Harvard University's school of business administration, two case study booklets were pre-

Boxes indicate output gains

By BRIAN CUMMINS
Toronto Telegram News Service

TORONTO — (TNS) — Paperboard, a key indicator of the economy, is telling the story of Canada's output gains.

The production of boxes foretells the future of the country's industrial growth. And the picture looks encouraging as the public, merchants and industries "box" themselves in with paperboard products of all kinds.

An order, say, for 70,000 cartons from a canning company means an increased production of cans! This in turn means a bigger output of products to go into the cans, and so on right along to the retail outlet.

GOOD BAROMETER

Says a paperboard industry spokesman: "Paperboard represents the end-use consumption of everything we eat, drink or wear. I can think of no better barometer."

"More products are being packaged in paperboard containers, from automobile replacement hoods to freezer chests weighing up to 800 pounds," he added.

"There is no limit to what can be packaged in paperboard products."

Paperboard production and domestic usage were both higher in May and the first five months of the year, according to the Canadian Pulp and Paper Association. Total May paperboard output was 101,781 tons, 17.8 per cent higher than a year ago. The total for the first months gained 11.6 per cent to 445,084 tons.

WORLD DEMAND UP

Not only is Canadian usage growing but also world demand. Requirements for paperboard in western Europe will continue to rise rapidly in the next few years, it is expected.

Western Europe's needs are expected to reach 23.5 million tons in 1965, according to a paperboard industry survey. Meanwhile Canadian exports during May jumped by 83.7 per cent to 12,214 tons and for the five months were 17.2 per cent higher at 46,820 tons.

The forms that the rough paperboard takes when it comes from the factories cover everything from computer cartons to breakfast cereals.

These firms ship their jars and cans to processing industries which in turn ship out their products in the cartons.

Other big consumers of the corrugated container board are light manufacturers of such goods as appliances.

Department stores are about evenly divided between their use of container board and bending box board. Bending board — so called because the user receives it flat and folds it into such shapes as suit boxes — is used mainly by cereal, soap and toiletries manufacturers.

USED BY BREWERS

Non-bending box board has as its major users the brewing companies. Says R. A. Meyers, Hinde & Dauch Ltd., boxboard division manager: "We are now operating at a much higher rate of production than last year and we have a backlog of about three weeks."

"But in paperboard production there is always a feast or famine," he adds.

Fact of the day

The word "abracadabra" was not a word invented just for children's books so that they could practice reading syllables. It is a word which was used as a magical formula by the Gnostics. They pronounced the word to invoke the aid of the beneficent spirits. It is found on Abraxas stones, which were worn as amulets.

British irked by SCM delay

BRUSSELS (Reuters) — British and Common Market ministers headed into more talks on Britain's membership application to join the six-nation trade alliance here today after making no progress Tuesday night.

The Six were meeting as a group in the morning, before being joined in the afternoon by their British colleagues to make another attempt to solve the thorny problem of finding alternative markets for exports of farm products from Canada, Australia and New Zealand.

British officials, disappointed at the lack of progress, accused the Six Tuesday night of not having properly prepared for the talks. The Six countered with charges the British were refusing to make any concessions.

Sources said the Six appeared content to shelve the three British farm problems — horticulture, pork and eggs — until a later session by which time they would have co-ordinated their views, the sources said.

The ministers agreed to refer the three matters to a committee which would report back later in the week.

Tuesday night's meeting opened what promised to be a marathon session lasting to the beginning of August. Many problems remain to be settled before Britain can join the European Economic Community, as the Common Market is formally called.

Meanwhile, Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak was expected today to submit a new plan for a European political union — that would include Britain — to his French opposite Maurice Couve de Murville.

The new plan being put forward by the Benelux countries — Belgium, Luxembourg and the Netherlands — may soon replace the French plan for an exclusive union founded by the Six, authoritative sources said Tuesday.

CNR station to be painted

SHERBROOKE — (Special) — CN's new look is coming to Sherbrooke! J. F. Roberts, of Montreal, manager of Canadian National Railways Champlain Area, announced today that Sherbrooke station will be painted in the company's new color scheme starting early in August. It is expected to be a two week job.

New Mansonville phone building open to public

MANSONVILLE — The new Bell Telephone building was opened to the public on Thursday evening July 19, when Open House was held.

Roger Legare welcomed the visitors, who were escorted through the building and several of the Bell experienced workers explained the mechanism of the new machinery and the installation of telephones. New styled telephones of the future were on exhibition and their use explained by one of the operators.

Outside were the new trucks and equipment to dig the holes and repair the wires without climbing the poles. The building, which was completed about the middle of June, when the dial system went into effect, is modern in design and the lavans have been added and are in excellent condition.

The guests were served coffee and cold drinks after their trip through the building.

GLEN MURRAY —

Mrs. Alice Muir, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Leith, Mr. Jack Leith and Mr. Alger Patterson, attended the funeral of Mr. John Leith in Sherbrooke on July 18.

Mr. Don Graham was in Montreal over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Campbell, who have been residing at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alger White since the fire, are planning to move back to their newly renovated apartment in Inverness. Mrs. Campbell spent a few days in Sherbrooke visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Porter and family, of Thetford Mines were recent visitors at the Alger White home.

Mr. Lyman White spent a day in Quebec City.

Word was received here July 20 of the death of Mr. Lysander Learmonth, of Somerville, Mass.

Mrs. Curt Bennett of Clapham, spent a few days with her sister, Mrs. C. Haskell.

A huge new barn has been erected and will soon be ready for the hay on the old Baril farm. It replaces the one destroyed by fire early in July. The present proprietor is Mr. Henri-Paul Poulin. While working at the barn a neighbor, Mr. Luc Mercier, was badly hurt when something fell, striking him on the neck and shoulders. Mr. Mercier was taken by ambulance to Ste. Sacrement Hospital in Quebec, where he is reported to have a broken shoulder.

Mr. John Smith, of Montreal, was home over the weekend.

Scout leader loses life in motor accident

RICHMOND — John Poirier of Valleyfield, formerly of Richmond, lost his life in a car accident in Mexico, on July 14.

The 21-year-old Scout leader was en route to Mexico City with a group of seven Canadian Boy Scouts and leaders from Valleyfield, when the station wagon in which they were travelling skidded on a curve and overturned. None of the others was seriously injured.

Mr. Poirier's body was flown to Dorval, then taken to Valleyfield, where the funeral was held Friday morning at 11 a.m.

Born in Richmond, Mr. Poirier was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Poirier, now of Valleyfield. His mother was the former Calista Janelle, of this place. Relatives residing here include Mr. and Mrs. Gerard Desmarais, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Campbell and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Poulin.

GENERAL NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. Don Rice have returned to Evansville, Indiana, after visiting the Misses Pepler, Carpenter Street.

Friends of Mr. C. W. Armstrong will be sorry to learn that he is a patient in the Montreal General Hospital. Mrs. Armstrong is remaining in the city with her daughter, Miss Helen Armstrong, to be near her husband.

The Misses Edith and Myrtle Pepler have returned from Montreal, where they visited friends.

Among those here for the funeral of Mr. William Lassonde were: Mr. and Mrs. John Lowell, of Waterbury, Vt.; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Rock, St. Albans, Vt.; Mr. and Mrs. A. Lassonde, Asbestos; Mr. and Mrs. J. Lassonde, Plessisville, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Plante, Val Alain.

Miss Vernie Kerr, of Montreal, is visiting her cousin, Miss Myrtle Dyson.

Mrs. Hazel Hardy is visiting relatives at Chester, Vt.

Mrs. H. Jacob and family, of Delsea, are visiting the former's father, Mr. Evan Crook.

Mrs. Howard Hills entertained the B.M. Club and the Bridge Club members, at her summer home, Richmond Lake. A pleasant afternoon was spent when bridge was played at several tables, after which refreshments were served.

The World of SPORTS

Early Wynn notches his 297th win Donovan wins his 13th for Tribe

If it had been anyone else, he might have smiled. But not Early Wynn.

The veteran Chicago White Sox right-hander had things going all his own way. He had a four-hit shutout and was just three outs away from his 297th major league victory.

But Wynn's scowl—as much a trademark as his smooth pitching motion—darkened his broad face as usual as he pitched to Bob Johnson, leading off the last of the ninth inning in Washington.

Johnson, who was only one when the 42-year-old Wynn broke into organized baseball, hit a single.

Wynn bore down. Harry Bright grounded into a double play. This wrapped up a 6-0 decision over the Senators for Early, the 49th shutout of his career and three victories shy of the 300 circle, which has been reached only 13 times.

THIRD STRAIGHT WIN

Wynn's shutout, the best pitching performance in the American League Tuesday night, was the third straight victory for the White Sox and pulled them into a tie for fifth with Baltimore Orioles, who split a doubleheader with Los Angeles Angels.

The Orioles won the first game 3-2 but the Angels recovered for an 8-5 decision in the nightcap. Left-hander Ted Bowsfield of Penitence, B.C., got credit for the Angels' triumph. The split cost the Angels half a game and left them three games behind the league-leading New York Yankees, who beat Boston Red Sox 5-3. Cleveland Indians edged Kansas City Athletics 5-4 and Detroit Tigers defeated Minnesota Twins 4-3.

Wynn struck out four men, walked only one and didn't allow more than one runner an inning in his effort against Washington. Joe Cunningham, Mike Herschberger and Al Smith hit home runs for Chicago.

The Yankees' Whitey Ford got credit for his 10th victory against five losses but needed help when Boston filled the bases in the ninth inning with one out. Bill Skowron drove in two runs with a double and a triple as the Yanks beat Boston for the seventh time in eight starts.

Steve Barber and Baltimore had a 3-1 lead going into the ninth inning of the opener at Los Angeles. The Angels put runners on second and third with one out and Hoyt Wilhelm had to come in to put out the fire. He allowed a run-scoring single to Steve Bilko, then struck out the next two batters.

SALVAGE SPLIT

The Angels salvaged a split by ripping into Chuck Estrada for five runs in the third inning of the second game. Albie Pearson drove in three runs and scored another for Los Angeles.

Bowsfield took over in the second inning and went seven frames, giving up five runs off nine hits. He ran his won-loss record to 6-4.

Rocky Colavito's run-scoring single in the ninth broke a 4-4 tie and gave Detroit its first victory over Minnesota in seven tries this season. Norm Cash's 27th homer tied it in the eighth inning. The Twins' Jim Kaat lost two teeth when hit in the mouth by a ground ball in the seventh frame.

Dick Donovan of the Indians won his 13th against four losses but had to have help when Kansas City pulled to within one run with a two-run rally in the ninth. Willie Kirkland's three-run homer in the first inning staked him to an early lead.

Truism reversed - Mets and buddies all in basement

The old farm system truism about "first in the majors, first in the minors" apparently is working in reverse for New York Mets and Washington Senators.

It took a good portion of the International League season to do it, but Syracuse Chiefs, with whom the Mets and Senators have a joint working agreement, have joined their major league brethren in last place.

Richmond Virginians, who had occupied the spot for a long stretch, shoved the Chiefs 2½ lengths into the basement Tuesday night by sweeping a doubleheader from Syracuse 3-2 and 5-1.

The Virginians won the opener in the seventh inning on an error, sacrifice, a long fly and a throwing error by Jackie Waters, then beat Carl Mathias in the second game with a nine-hit attack.

GAME RAINED OUT

The doubleheader formed half of a league program that also saw Toronto Maple Leafs capitalize on five errors for a 6-2 victory over league-leading Jacksonville Suns. Columbus Jets turned back Rochester Red Wings 8-6, snapping the Red Wings' five-game winning streak. The Buffalo-at-Atlanta game was rained out and was rescheduled as part of a doubleheader tonight.

Three unearned runs in the fourth and fifth innings got Toronto in control at Jacksonville as the second-place Leafs moved back to within 8½ games of first place. Carl Greene scattered 11 hits for his ninth victory in 11 decisions.

Buddy Pritchard drove in five runs, three on a first-inning homer, for Columbus at Rochester. Al Pehanick won over Art Quirk. Willy Stargill also homered for Columbus and Dan Kravitz had three hits, including a home run, for Rochester.

Mays hits 2 homers to beat Colts The Mets take 12 innings to lose

It took only one pitch for Robert G. Miller to prove he's a true New York Met.

Robert G. Miller is a left-handed pitcher. The Mets also have a Robert L. Miller, who is right-handed, and thereby lead the National League in Robert Millers.

Robert L's record is 0-7. Robert G. had never thrown a ball for the Mets before Tuesday night.

Then he threw one. Now he is 0-1.

Del Crandall hit the pitch for a home run in the bottom of the 12th inning to give Milwaukee Braves a 5-4 victory over the Mets.

The Mets picked up three runs in the first inning on a two-run homer by Felix Mantilla and a round-tripper by Frank Thomas. The Braves got two back in the same inning off starter Jay Hook, who then held Milwaukee in check until he left with a pulled side muscle in the sixth.

Jim Hickman made it 4-2 with a homer in the fourth inning. The Braves scored a run in the eighth and tied it in the ninth on Eddie Mathews' single after Lee Mays' double.

It stayed that way until the 12th when Miller came on to make his Met debut. The left-hander had worked 5 1/3 innings earlier in the year for Cincinnati Reds, compiling an earned run average of 23.40. After the pitch to Crandall it was 25.20.

Bob Shaw, who relieved Lew Burdette when he was lifted for a pinch hitter in the eighth inning, won.

At the other end of the league, Willie Mays continued his batting rampage with homers No. 30 and 31 to lead San Francisco Giants to a 3-1 victory over Houston Colts. The win moved the Giants to within a game of the league-leading Los Angeles Dodgers, edged 3-2 by St. Louis Cardinals.

Joey Jay got his 14th victory as Cincinnati Reds beat Pittsburgh Pirates 6-4 and Chicago Cubs defeated Philadelphia Phillies 5-3.

Houston righthander Dick Farrell, who admitted last Saturday that he occasionally mixed a wet pitch into his repertoire, couldn't find any way to stop Mays until it was too late. He served up solo homers to the majors' home run leader in the first and fourth innings.

In the sixth he hit Willie with a pitch. That didn't work, either, since Mays went on to score the Giants' final run on Orlando Cepeda's single and Felipe Alou's sacrifice fly.

WINS SEVEN STRAIGHT Jack Sanford got his 13th win—and seventh in a row—for the Giants with help from Don Larsen, who came on in the seventh inning after the Colts scored their only run.

The Dodgers, who meet the Giants in a three-game series in Los Angeles starting Friday, again received power hitting from Frank Howard but their vaunted baseline speed was missing.

The Cardinals twice threw out Ron Fairly at the plate as he tried to score from first on doubles by Howard. Fairly was first erased in the fourth inning with the Dodgers leading 2-1 and again in the ninth to end the game.

Stan Musial doubled home a run to tie the score in the fifth frame. It gave him 1,860 runs batted in to tie Mel Ott's National League record.

The Cards got the tie-breaker in the sixth when catcher John Roseboro made a two-base error on Ernie Broglio's bunt and Curt Flood doubled him home. Broglio held the Dodgers to four hits. The win gave the Cards a 6-5 edge on the Dodgers for the season. Stan Williams lost.

Musial also singled to boost his batting average to .351, tops in the league. Tommy Davis of the Dodgers slipped to .346.

SNAP LOSING STREAK The Cubs snapped their third seven-game losing streak of the season in beating the Phillies. Workhorse Art Mahaffey had a 3-1 lead for the Phils in the sixth inning when his right shoulder stiffened and he had to leave. The Cubs got three runs in the seventh inning off Billy Smith and Jack Baldschun, with Ron Santo's double tie blow.

Continue practice for the Can. Open

MONTREAL (CP)—The big-name, big-time pros take over today at the Canadian open golf championship for some practice with plenty of indications that they could rip par to shreds when the firing starts in earnest Thursday.

Par over the shaded Laval-sur-le-Lac course is 36-36-72, but its 6,555 yards are not rated as among the most difficult in Canada. On the basis of the performances turned in Tuesday by a flock of golf's lesser lights in a qualifying round, many observers were talking in terms of a final score of 16 under par to take the first-place $4,300 of the $30,000 prize money.

Although only six of the qualifiers broke par Tuesday, the observers were betting that the long-hitting pros who were eligible automatically on the basis of their previous performances would find the course to their liking.

A total of 99 players of Tuesday's field of 140 qualified to join the 57 automatically eligible for Thursday's starting field of 156. That field will be cut to the first 100 and ties Saturday and then to the first 60 and ties for Sunday's final round.

U.S. PROS LEAD Six U.S. pros led the qualifying "pack," three coming in with two-under-par 70s and three at one under par.

Chopping two strokes off the regulation total were Ed Rubis of Chicopee Falls, Mass., Jay Dolan of Worcester, Mass., and Larry Mancour of Berkeley, Calif. At 71 were Don Byrd of Lake Wawasee, Ind., Tommy Wulff of New Orleans and Jack Rule Jr., of Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Other scores included (x denotes amateur): Devin, Australia, 36-36-72; E. Boros, Old Westbury, N.Y., 36-36-72; Hildrop, Mount Hope, Ont., 38-35-73; Thomas, Durham, N.C., 38-35-73; Lopez, Marathon, Fla., 38-35-73; Glover, Florence, S.C., 34-39-73; Brownlee, Toronto, 38-35-73; Homenuik, Winnipeg, 38-35-73; Bigras, Fort Lewis, Wash., 36-37-73; Meyers, Daytona Beach, Fla., 37-36-73; Periard, Boucherville, Que., 37-36-73; xKindred, Peterborough, 36-38-74; Cazex, Levis, Que., 38-36-74; Arnold, Ste. Adele, 38-36-74.

Cards three aces golfing-not poker PITTSBURGH (AP)—John Quinlan, 15, who says he learned to play golf by reading books, wrote a record of his own at the Penhurst Golf Course recently—three holes in one on the same course on the same day, two of them on consecutive holes.

Here's how it went on the par-61 course, which has 11 par three holes: Quinlan knocked his No. 8 iron tee shot into the hole on the 129-yard 13th.

He scored a second ace on the 145-yard 14th, with a No. 6 iron. On his second round, he aces the 13th again.

The youngster had 68 and 63 for the two rounds. All the aces were witnessed by club employees and Quinlan's golfing partner.

San Antonio, Tex.—Santiago Gutierrez, 15, San Antonio, outpointed Marshall Wells, 152, Houston, 10.

SPLAAT! — In the din of the water polo game the noise of the ball hitting goalie Robert Antal's face was lost. However, Antal of Toronto Water Polo Club saved the close-in shot by New York Athletic Club's Jerry Gannon (4) who is all but submerged by Toronto player George Soos (left) as he helped deflect the drive. Toronto tied New York 4-4 and retained the North American outdoor championship for the fifth straight year. (CP Wirephoto)

Lew Hayman is smiling once again his Argonauts are pulling in fans

By JACK SULLIVAN
Canadian Press Sports Editor

Lew Hayman was relaxed, and jovial the other night. The Toronto Argonaut managing director had every reason to be in a talkative mood.

A mob of nearly 24,000 had turned out in 81-degree heat to watch an exhibition football game between Argonauts and Hamilton Tiger-Cats. It meant something like $60,000 in the till and, besides, Argonauts had beaten the Ticats 23-20.

Lew was happily watching the fans moving towards the exits. If his in-and-out Argos can get a crowd like that for a game that doesn't mean a thing except to give coaches a bit of a line on their winter shopping, just think of the prospects when the club gets down to the serious business of trying to win the Eastern Conference title.

"You know," Hayman said, "game officials have just as much responsibility as the players to provide entertainment for the fans. And you've got to admit that football is entertainment."

"We (meaning managing directors, general managers and so on of Canadian clubs) work hard to get the players who will get out on the field and give spectators their money's worth. The officials have got to do the same."

OFFICIALS' BONER The subject came up when a reporter mentioned that game officials had pulled a boner on a late-game play that had deprived Tiger-Cats of a touchdown that would have given them the contest. Even Hayman, who has coached and managed football teams for 30 or so years, didn't know what the call was about.

"You must remember one thing," he said. "The officials must act fast, whether they are right or wrong. They've got to make a snap judgment and that's that."

That's all very well. Hayman, and even Coach Jim Trimble and other Tiger-Cat officials, could afford to shrug this one off because the result didn't mean a thing. If it had happened in regular league play, the screaming would have been something fierce and, sooner or later, commissioner Sydney Halter of Winnipeg would have to step in.

Lew vividly remembers another day 25 years ago when an official made a couple of dubious calls in a Toronto Argonaut-Winnipeg Blue Bomber Grey Cup final. Hayman was coach of that Argos team and then, as now, Argos got the breaks and won by the narrowest of margins, 4-3.

FROZE ON CALL Eddie Grant of Winnipeg, a capable official, "froze" on a play in which Bill Stukus of Argonauts fumbled on the Toronto seven-yard line in the first quarter and four Blue Bombers were on top of it in seconds.

Grant was right on top of the play but confessed he didn't know whose ball it was. The senior official in that game—Hec Crighton of Toronto—ruled it Toronto's ball as they would have been hurt most by losing possession near their goal-line.

52 --- Topping

QUESTION — Why do I top the ball frequently? — Casey Vernon.

ANSWER — The usual cause of topping, one of the most prevalent errors in golf, is trying to scoop the ball, either consciously or unconsciously.

Sometimes impulse to scoop leads to a crouched position at address. This can cause the body to rise during the swing, pulling the club away from the ball. More often, the player leans his body to the right during the backswing to get under the ball. The resultant restriction of the swing can cause the clubhead to rise. If you select the proper club and let it do the work it was manufactured for, you can overcome topping—if trying to scoop the ball is the cause. Sometimes a player backs away from the ball by pulling the left foot out of position before hitting it. This also will cause topping. Too much weight on the heels or too far under the shaft, with toes is also a cause. Also check the shaft largely in the palm.

THE player leans his body to the right on the downswing.

YESTERDAY'S STARS
Hitting—Willie Mays, Giants, hit his 30th and 31st home runs and led San Francisco to a 3-1 victory over Houston; pulling the Giants within one game of the National League leading Los Angeles Dodgers.
Pitching—Early Wynn, White Sox, stopped Washington on five singles in Chicago's 6-0 victory. He 29th of his career and the 49th career shutout for the aging right-hander.

The Sherbrooke Alouettes capitalizing on homers and their opponent's errors chalked up their seventh win in eight starts against the Coaticook Canadians last night.

The game went until the 10th inning before the final outcome was known, with the Als being on the long end of a 5 to 4 count.

In other action around the league, the Granby Knights took 11 innings to dispose of the Acton Vale Beavers and hold on precariously to their place at the head of the league. The Drummondville Royals remained in second place by defeating the St. Johns Pirates 2 to 1.

At the Municipal Stadium a pitching duel between Andre Bessette for the Alouettes and the Canadians Bill Marston delighted and thrilled the crowd of slightly over 1,000.

In the visitors camp, short-stop Chuck Chevalier shone with two singles and participated in three double plays. Also starring for the Canadians were Bill Kunis and Bill Marston.

The star for the Alouettes was Frank Kurty. The second sacker had a single, a double, stole a base, drove in one run and crossed the plate for three more.

Claude St. Vincent continued along his homerun barrage by clouting another one last night. Normand Jacques also helped the victory cause along with an opportune single and a sacrifice fly.

Bessette pitched masterful ball for the first eight innings but weakened in the ninth when he gave up a two run producing homerun ball to Bill Kunis. He was replaced by Ernie Drolet who pitched hitless ball for the remainder of the game to chalk up the win.

A costly error by the Canadians' catcher, Santa Croce in the 7th inning was what actually cost the Coaticook contingent the game. A dropped foul ball allowed St. Vincent to remain at bat and St. Vincent reciprocated by clouting a two run homer to tie up the game.

Summary
Coaticook 020 000 002 0-4 9 G
Sherb. 100 000 111 1-5 8 R
Marston Mallette (10) and Santa Croce, Bessette, Drolet (9) and Poole.

The Granby Knights fought back from a 4-2 deficit to tie the game up in the 7th frame and go on to win it in the 11th. Denis Jacques was the stand-out for the Knights. He came on in relief of Cartwright in the second inning and whitewashed the Beavers for the rest of the game.

Jacques actually won his own game by hitting a run-producing double in the bottom of the 11th.

Henri Corbeil went all the way for the losers. The Drummondville Royals picked up two runs in the top of the first and that was all they needed to defeat St. Johns in a close game.

A single, a walk, and a crashing double combined to give the Royals their two runs.

Trousseau tea for bride-elect at Waterville

WATERVILLE — Mrs. H. Robinson was hostess at a trousseau tea, at her home on July 17, for her daughter, Miss Sheila Robinson, prior to her marriage to Mr. Bill Clarke, of Lennoxville, on July 21.

During the morning and afternoon, Mrs. Robinson, her daughter and Mrs. B. Gilson received the many friends who came to express their good wishes and view the wedding gifts and lovely trousseau.

Refreshments were served buffet style, from a table which was decorated with summer flowers.

SOUTH DURHAM —

Mr. Gordon Montgomery and son Billie, of Montreal, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edison Montgomery, who accompanied them home.

Mrs. Winston Duffy, Mrs. Calvin Gunter, Kevin and Cherry, and Miss Mary Moorhead, of Montreal, were recent guests of Mr. Duffy and Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Duffy and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Goupil, of Montreal, are spending their vacation with Mrs. Goupil's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Williamson.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley O'Brien and Miss Anne Savoie, accompanied by Mr. Henry McMannis, of Montreal, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Johnston. Mrs. Emma Dowd is a guest at the same home.

EAST ANGUIS —

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Damon were Mrs. C. Thomas, Mrs. K. Hill, and Mrs. P. Colby, Montreal. Mrs. H. Smith, Birchton, and Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Wheeler, Cookshire.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Parker and family, of Montreal, are guests of Mr. Parker's aunt, Miss Elizabeth McLellan.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Stickle are spending a holiday in the Maritime provinces.

Squadron Leader and Mrs. K. J. Thorneycroft and family, Penhold, Alta., are guests of Mrs. Thorneycroft's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Rowland.

Mrs. Thorneycroft and family will spend the summer here while S. L. Thorneycroft is on a course at Chatham, N.B. Other guests at the same home were Mrs. Iola Sherwood, Waban, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Cecil McLellan, South Stukely, Mr. and Mrs. William Rowland and family, Chateaugay, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Rowland and family, Lachine.

Keep provincial park ship-shape

Students spend holidays amid splendor of Mount Orford

High in the cool splendor of Mount Orford this summer are more than 200 students spending their vacations living in rustic surroundings and helping to keep the Mt. Orford Provincial Park in ship-shape.

The students ranging in age from 18 to 22 are members of forestry camps Numbers 33 and 34 and they are spending the months of July and August as employees of the Quebec department of lands and forests.

The day begins for the campers at 6:45 a.m. sharp with the piercing sounds of reveille.

The campers get up, wash, to 12:30, and a rest hour follows.

The campers go back to work from 1:30 to 4:30 and leave camp he must be back by midnight.

Jean-Marie Dumont, who is in charge of the lower camp says that in the beginning the work is not hard "as we realize that the campers are all college kids and as such are not in the finest of physical shape at this time of year." However, as the summer progresses, the work gets harder.

The campers work a 40

students applied.

The kitchen which is under the control of chef, Raymond Beaulieu, serves three large cafeteria-style meals a day. Each meal has two menus so that the campers can have their choice.

Typical of the meals is breakfast where juices of all sorts are available and toast and buns are served with the hot or cold cereal as well as eggs, milk and coffee.

job is to see that lights are out at curfew and that clean-up is properly done.

If it should rain, the campers have the day off from work, but they gather in the recreational hall for courses in water safety and general wood lore and theory.

The upper camp, camp 34,

working to improve the park

DANVILLE —

Mr. and Mrs. William Rothney and son, Lloyd, accompanied by Miss Francis Waterhouse of Melbourne, have returned from a visit to Blackie, Alta., where they visited Mrs. Rothney's sister and family. While in the West they also attended the Calgary Stampede.

Dust off that old preserving kettle and have a preserving spree

By LOUISE MOORE

When I get the time to take a holiday, you won't be able to see me for dust. But in the meantime I'll ask you to dust off that old preserving kettle and take time for a preserving spree, for fruits and berries are ripe for pickling.

Cherries, sweet or sour — what a luscious fruit to work into our menus and for preserving. Tart small cherries make delicious pies and roly-polies.

The delicate - flavoured sweeter variety are ideal for nibbling off the stems, for fresh fruit cups and salads, and those big black cherries are so good pitted and stuffed with cottage or other cream cheese and served in lettuce cups with whipped cream dressing.

Then when everyone has had his fill, a goodly supply should be shelved for winter use.

CHERRY JAM

(using sour cherries)
First prepare the fruit — about 2 quarts of ripe sour cherries will be needed to make the 4 cups called for in this recipe. Stem and pit the fruit. Chop fine or grind and measure 4 cups into a LARGE saucepan.

Then make the jam — Measure and set aside 4½ cups (2 pounds) sugar. Add 1 box (1¼ oz.) powdered fruit pectin to fruit in saucepan and mix well. Place over high heat and stir until mixture comes to a hard boil.

At once stir in sugar, bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly.

Remove from heat and skim off foam with metal spoon. Then stir and skim by turns for 5 minutes to cool slightly to prevent floating fruit.

Ladle quickly into glasses, cover with ¼ inch hot paraffin. Seal.

Note: For stronger cherry flavor add a few crushed cherry pit meats during cooking or add ¼ tsp. almond extract before ladling jam into glasses.

CHERRY PRESERVES

Stem and pit about 3 quarts ripe sour cherries or enough to make 6½ cups (firmly packed without crushing). Put into large saucepan and add 7 cups (3 lbs.) sugar. Place over high heat and bring to boil, stirring carefully.

Remove from heat. Let stand at room temperature 4 to 5 hours.

Then place fruit mixture over high heat, bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard for 2 minutes, stirring carefully. Remove from heat.

Mix 1 box (1¼ oz.) powdered fruit pectin and 1 cup water in small saucepan. Bring to boil and boil hard one minute stirring constantly.

Add to hot fruit and mix well. Skim off foam with metal spoon. Then stir and skim by turns for 8 to 10 minutes to cool slightly to prevent floating fruit.

Ladle quickly into glasses, cover at once with ¼ inch hot paraffin. If jars are used seal. Makes about 13 medium glasses preserves.

CHERRY RELISH

First stem and pit about 1½ quarts fully ripe sour cherries. Chop very fine or grind.

Add ¼ cup vinegar and 1 tsp. each cinnamon, cloves and allspice or any desired combination of spices. Stir to mix and measure 3 cups of this into a large saucepan.

Then make the relish — measure out 4 cups (1½ lbs.) sugar and set aside. Add 1 box powdered fruit pectin to fruit in saucepan and mix well.

Place over high heat and stir until mixture comes to a hard boil. At once stir in sugar. Bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 1 minute stirring constantly.

Remove from heat and skim off foam with metal spoon. Then stir and skim by turns for 5 minutes to cool slightly to prevent floating fruit.

Ladle quickly into glasses.

Today's recipe

POPPY SEED TWISTS

1 yeast cake, 1/2 cup lukewarm water, 2 tablespoons shortening, 2 tablespoons sugar, 2 teaspoons salt, 1/2 cup milk, scalded, 1 egg, 3-1/2 to 4 cups sifted all-purpose flour.

Soften yeast in lukewarm water. Add shortening, sugar and salt to scalded milk. Cool to lukewarm and add yeast and beaten egg. Stir in flour to make a soft dough. Turn out on floured board and knead until satiny and smooth (8 to 10 minutes). Place in greased bowl, cover and let rise until doubled in bulk. Punch down. Let rise again until doubled in bulk. Punch down and let stand 10 minutes. Roll dough out 1/4 inch thick and cut into strips 1/2" wide, and 6" long. Cross three strips in the middle and braid from center to each end. Press ends together and fold under. Brush tops with melted butter, then sprinkle with poppy seeds. Place on greased baking sheet, and let rise until doubled in bulk. Bake in hot oven (425°F) 12 to 15 minutes.

Cover at once with ¼ inch hot paraffin. Makes about 7 medium glasses of tasty relish. (TNS)

ASK THE DESIGNER

by gaile dugas

Dear Gaile: My husband and I are planning a trip to Italy, a two to six months' stay. We will probably go by boat. I have a beige silk and linen suit with which I wear brown shoes, brown dot silk blouse, beige handbag, brown hat. Is it suitable? What clothes shall I take? I am 63. I am 5 feet 3 inches tall, weigh 118 pounds. I have white hair and blue eyes. I wear pastel shades very well. Any help you can give me will be deeply appreciated. — Mrs. J. T.

Dear Mrs. J. T.: To begin with, your beige costume is excellent. The balance of your wardrobe has been planned for you by Stanley Herman, designer for Mr. Mort. He says: "Begin with two short chiffon evening gowns which you will need both on the boat and in Italy. Have one in pearly gray chiffon with an expertly cut bias skirt which is semifull."

"Have the other in black with a high neckline and illusion top. This one might be sleeveless. Have a silk coat in black to wear with both of these. Have a silk linen dress in turquoise with bell skirt to play up that lovely white hair. And one easy sheath in re-embroidered lace in one of the soft sea colors: turquoise of pale green or even royal blue."

"You also should have a silk linen for daytime in coral or turquoise. And a silk printed shift in colors shading from teal blue to green. By all means take a lightweight wool coat, a wool suit, some of those loopy, fuzzy mohair stoles in brilliant colors and some lightweight wool and double knit dresses."

"Have a printed woolen dress for daytime in a lovely Paisley print. And be sure to take a good sized leather handbag and several pairs of the new oval-toe shoes with laced heels. Tim cobbles-stones of Italy can rip apart high heeled shoes!"

Dear Gaile: I really need your help. The end of July we plan on visiting San Diego. The trip will be by train and we will return around the middle of August. Naturally, I'd like to take the right clothes but am not sure what to buy. We'll take a side trip to Catalina Island and will visit Las Vegas. There will also be a few parties. I will be 40 in August. I am 5 feet 4 inches, weight 122 pounds, have brown hair and green eyes. I am a size 10. Please suggest correct style of bathing suit. I'm long waisted. I read your column with a great deal of interest — Mrs. G.H.

Dear Mrs. G.H.: This is what Earl Luick, designer for Lee Claire, has to suggest:

"A California wardrobe for the San Diego area during midsummer must concentrate on clothing suitable for the heat of the day plus a lightweight wool coat and a dark silk coat for cool evenings. For actual travel, have a double knit dress in wool since it will retain its shape and look fresh. The wardrobe should include a dark linen or silk dress, simple in cut and design. A jacket dress in one of the miracle fabrics is essential."

"Take along a simple black cocktail dress and another cocktail dress in a soft, pretty print. You'll need a pair of walking pumps and black pumps in silk or linen."

To this, let me add: Take a swimsuit that has a low, bloused top. Since you say you are long waisted, this will solve the problem beautifully. Or, if you like, a modest two-piece swimsuit.

MISS DOROTHY ANN HODGE, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Hodge of Notre Dame de Grace, Montreal and MR. DAVID ALLAN OSBORN, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Osborn of Valois, whose engagement is announced. The marriage will take place on September 22, in Wesley United Church Montreal. (Photos by Van Dyck and Myer Studios)

Kidd, Saffin Nuptials

DANVILLE, Que. — The marriage of Carol Joyce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Saffin of Danville to Peter Lister Kidd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Kidd of Edinburgh, Scotland, took place on June 30, 1962, in Trinity United Church, Danville. Rev. T. Tyson, assisted by Rev. Wm. Long officiating at the double ring ceremony. Mrs. R. E. Young was the organist. Baskets of peonies and mock orange blossoms were used to decorate the church.

The bride who was given in marriage by her father, wore a short white silk organza gown, with a full skirt and bolero. Her shoulder length veil of tulle illusion was held in place by a crown of silk organza and drop pearls. Her jewelry was a single strand of pearls and earrings to match, a gift of the groom. She carried a prayer book covered with a bouquet of sweetheart rose buds and heather.

The Misses Ethel and Isabel Baker as bridesmaids wore short dresses of lilac and turquoise organza, with matching lace boleros and hats. They carried semi-cascade bouquets of white daisies.

Mr. Bryan Cochar of Montreal, acted as best man and the ushers were, Messrs. Russell and Francis Saffin.

Mrs. Saffin, mother of the bride wore a turquoise sheath gown of embroidered silk with white hat and accessories. She wore a gardenia corsage.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church hall, the bride's table being centred with the three-tier wedding cake, decorated with roses and white candles.

Later the couple left for a motor trip, the bride wearing for travelling a two-piece navy blue linen dress, with white accessories and a single red rose for her corsage. Out of town guests were

Pickle beets and relish

PICKLED BEETS
Wash small beets and boil in salted boiling water until just tender. Drain and slip off skins first plunging them into cold water. Pack beets whole if small or sliced if larger into sterilized jars.

Cover with following mixture which has been boiled 5 minutes. For a quart basket of beets, ¾ cup water, 1 cup granulated sugar, ½ tsp. salt, 2 tbsp. whole mixed pickling spice tied in small cheesecloth bag.

When this has been boiled 5 minutes pour over the beets in sterilized jars and seal tightly.

RHUBARB RELISH
Cut up enough tender rhubarb to make 2 quarts. Scald 1½ quarts peeled onions and then discard the water. Chop onions, put into kettle with 1 cup granulated sugar, 3 cups cider vinegar, 2 tsp. salt, 1 tsp. pepper, 1 tsp. cinnamon, ½ tsp. ground allspice and the same of cloves.

Bring to boil and simmer until mixture is thick, stirring frequently to prevent sticking to the pot.

Delicious with cold cuts. (TNS)

Denison's Mills W.I. conveners give reports

DENISON'S MILLS — The Women's Institute meeting was held at the home of Mrs. E. Carson on July 14, with eight members present.

The sunshine convener reported four baskets had been sent to shut-ins and a balance on hand of $1.73.

Mrs. M. Stalker thanked the members for sending her to Macdonald Convention and reported on the meeting, stating that some of this year's projects would be Pennies for Friendship, safety, the care of retarded children and Save the Children.

Five members are to attend the county meeting in Richmond and to take charge of the kitchen duties.

A gift was purchased for a member celebrating her golden wedding anniversary and another is to be bought for a new couple.

Mrs. John Andrews reported the window box prize list completed and judging will take place in August.

Mrs. M. Stalker distributed pamphlets on citizenship she had borrowed from the loan library.

Miss Grace Philbrick, home economics convener reported that nearly all quilt blocks had been received and the batting and lining is to be purchased.

Ideal place for swimming, camping

Motel gets name from nearby lake

A new motel has been opened near Waterloo, just in time to welcome, and accommodate, the hundreds of tourists that come to this area of the Eastern Townships every summer.

The Clearwater Motel, is situated conveniently two miles south of Waterloo on the Sherbrooke-Montreal highway. The approach to this motel is most accessible from Number One highway.

The proprietor of the Clearwater Motel L. A. Bonneau has appropriately named the hotel. It receives its name from the clear water that flows down from the surrounding hill streams into a very beautiful artificial lake.

The 350 by 400 foot lake is ideal for swimming. One end of the lake is shallow with a lovely sandy beach for children and the other has a diving raft for adults.

Mr. Bonneau has also seen to it that the 145 acres that surround his motel have been leveled so as to provide adequate and suitable grounds for camping. The camping grounds are located directly in back of the motel units.

The motel itself consists of six units just completed during the month of June.

Each unit is heated and includes a shower. Adding a bit of luxury, each unit contains wall-to-wall carpeting. Every one of the units is finished in knotty pine. The motel also boasts a 300 x 300 foot swimming pool.

The main office and residence of Mr. Bonneau is most attractive too. It has a cedar finish.

BULWER —

Mr. Irwin Macelravy is a patient in the Sherbrooke Hospital, where he expects to undergo surgery.

Mr. and Mrs. Garth McElrea, of Burlington, Ont., and Mr. and Mrs. Alton McElrea and children, of Coaticook, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon McElrea.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Parker visited Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Rogers at the Wales Home at Richmond.

Mrs. Maud Wheeler has returned home after spending several weeks in Randolph, Vt. She was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Coffin, of Randolph, who spent the weekend with her.
