Sixty-First Year

Make Resignation Stick — Lapalme

340,000 Eligible To Vote Today

MONTREAL — (CP) — Montrealers decide today whether Jean Drapeau, the incumbent, or Senator Sarto Fournier, the aspirant, will be their mayor for the next three years.

The 340,000 eligible voters also will pick 66 city councillors. The other 33 members of the 99-man council already have been named by designated groups such as labor organizations and businessmen's associations.

The factions behind the two mayoralty contenders either have their own candidates for each contested council seat, or have endorsed independents.

The clean-cut, two-way fight for the mayoralty has been complicated by Mayor Drapeau's announcement that he would not serve as mayor if his supporters did not form a majority in the council. The impasse which would result from his refusal to serve if elected without the council majority he seeks is not covered by Montreal's city charter.

CAMPAIGNS ON RECORD

Mr. Drapeau, 41, won over a field of eight other candidates in the 1954 elections with the support of the Civic Action League. In that election the CAL fought a reform campaign promising a "public morality cleanup."

This time Mr. Drapeau campaigned mainly on his record, asking a new mandate for his cleanup program. He claimed his administration did more for Montreal in its three-year term than was done in the previous 15 years.

Opponents of the mayor and his ally, chairman Pierre Desmarais of the city executive committee, united this year to form the Greater Montreal Rally, which threw its support behind Senator Fournier, 49, making his third bid to be mayor.

Senator Fournier has claimed the CAL's emphasis on morality was tinged with hypocrisy. He had alleged financial mismanagement and failure to complete a single major project despite an outlay of $500,000,000.

Senator Fournier and the rally represent a move favored by the provincial government for uniting the 35 municipalities of Greater Montreal under a metropolitan form of government. Mr. Drapeau calls the scheme premature.

The campaign had been fought vigorously with each side charging the other with links with the underworld, and with planning to stuff ballot boxes.

The campaign wound up Sunday with four speeches by Mr. Drapeau, in one of which he urged an early vote to prevent "telegraphing" or ballot box stuffing, and a meeting at which Senator Fournier produced a resolution allegedly adopted by the Labor Progressive (Communist) party backing the Civic Action League.

To head off trouble with election "goons" today, 1,712 regular and 566 special policemen were on duty. The special constables, many of them school teachers, were assigned two to a car among the 1,547 polling stations in Montreal's 11 electoral districts.

Murdochville Union Application

QUEBEC — Quebec's labor relations board will study this week an application by the United Steelworkers of America (CLC) for bargaining recognition in Gaspe Copper Mines at Murdochville, Que.

The steelworkers renewed a certification application after a court rejected a writ of prohibition taken by the company against the board in connection with it.

Dog Saves Cripple Asleep In Fire

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — A pet dog saved his semi-paralyzed master from a fire Sunday night. Dr. A. M. Cartier, 37, a retired physician, escaped injury. He said he dozed while watching television and was awakened when Johann, his doberman, pulled at his leg. The dog dragged Cartier off a burning couch and neighbors completed his rescue.

UN Backing Claimed For Both Syria, Turks

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP) — Backers of two rival plans to ease the Syrian-Turkish crisis both made private claims today of wide United Nations support. The general assembly resumes debate on the dispute this afternoon.

An Arab diplomat told a reporter a Syrian resolution to send an investigating committee to the Syrian-Turkish border might pass in the assembly, where it would need a two-thirds vote.

A western delegate said a seven-power resolution to have UN Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold try to settle the dispute probably would get the necessary two-thirds. Neither resolution had been submitted yet to the assembly, which is considering Syria's Oct. 16 complaint that Turkey had massed troops on her border for an attack. Turkey has denied any intention of attacking.

The Arab delegate said the Syrian proposal probably will be introduced today or Tuesday.

A Western diplomat said it was not yet certain when the rival resolution, to enlist Hammarskjold, would be put in. Canada, Denmark, Norway, Japan, Paraguay, Peru and Spain were prospective sponsors of the proposal. The Syrian resolution would set up a committee of perhaps five nations to investigate the situation on the Syrian - Turkish frontier and report back in two weeks.

The Western plan would have Hammarskjold confer with Syrian and Turkish delegates and if necessary go to Syria and Turkey.

Halifax Has Sub Scare

HALIFAX (CP) — Calm reigned again at this port Monday following a weekend "scare" that an unidentified submarine was lurking off the harbor entrance here.

The navy dispatched two ships to the scene after receiving the report Saturday afternoon. But the frigates, Fort Erie and Lauzon, found nothing and returned to port Sunday.

A commissioner, stationed at the navy's Shearwater air base, reported the sighting of what he thought was a sub. Naval officials concluded after the search that it could have been a small fishing boat silhouetted low in the water.

The navy referred to the search only as a "special mission." The navy last week called off an air search for unidentified subs along the Newfoundland coast, but some ships are still searching the area.

Inland Waterway Action Urged

SOREL, Que. — A move to get the federal government to eliminate a 12-mile Canadian bottleneck from the Montreal-New York barge canal was launched here Sunday at a public meeting.

The conference, attended by Canadian and United States supporters of the Richelieu - Lake Champlain-Hudson route, sought a "clear and concise" reappraisal of the costs and uses of the inland waterway.

Cow Has Rights

PARIS (AP) — The French Supreme Court has decided that a cow is within her rights to kick a veterinarian. The court turned down any damages to a veterinarian who suffered a fractured skull when the cow kicked him while he was trying to give her a shot.

Mandate In Midst Of Crisis

Menderes Wins Turkish Election

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP) — Adnan Menderes won a new four-year term as Turkey's prime minister today while this pro-Western country faced its gravest foreign crisis since the war.

Official returns from Sunday's parliamentary election gave Menderes' Democrat party 397 seats in the national assembly. The People's Republican party, led by former president Ismet Inonu, won 178 and the small Freedom and Nation parties four each.

Twenty-seven contests still are undecided. The government did not re-

Non-Confidence Vote In Liberal Leader At Stormy Meeting

By CUTHBERT JONES

A day of debate and wrangling which often reached near-riotous proportions at the Congress of the Young Liberal Federation of the Province of Quebec, held here Saturday, produced one definite result — a declaration by Provincial Opposition Leader Georges Emile Lapalme that he would resign as party leader two weeks from now.

While his announcement, made at a press conference, followed passage by the convention of a resolution amounting to a vote of non-confidence in his leadership, Mr. Lapalme made it definite that neither the resolution, approved by a 59-43 vote with one delegate abstaining, nor the state of his health had anything to do with his decision.

"My decision to abandon the Liberal party leadership was taken a long time ago," he said. "But I was asked to remain on several occasions and that is why I am still here."

While his resignation, offered to the Liberal Federation executive three times within the past 15 months, had been rejected, this time he will make it stick, he said.

He indicated that the resignation will be made officially on Nov. 9 when the Provincial Liberal Federation meets in Montreal.

He said that he will decide later whether to continue sitting in the 93-seat Legislative Assembly, where he represents Montreal-Outremont.

He did not appear in the Legislature during the past session and his work as Opposition leader was carried on by Rene Hamel, member for St. Maurice.

Passing The Buck

His detractors were "passing the buck," Mr. Lapalme declared, attempting to use him as a cover for their own failure to get out and work for the party.

"It is significant," he said, "that we did not see these trouble-makers in Vaudreuil-Soulanges, Megantic, Compton and Chateauguay."

"Instead of working themselves, some people have tried to 'pass the buck' to others. It's really a matter of knowing or not knowing how to accept defeat."

To a question as to whether he was surprised by the vote, Mr. Lapalme replied in the negative, declaring the whole scheme was rigged up a long time ago, but he failed to elaborate.

The Opposition leader then revealed that he had offered his resignation at least three times since the last provincial election.

He listed these occasions: A meeting of all Liberal party candidates and organizers on July 3, 1956, following the last provincial general elections when the party was badly defeated; Continued on Page 5

School Group Urges Tax

QUEBEC (CP) — The Association of Quebec Diocese Roman Catholic School Commissions recommended during the weekend the province - wide levying of a two per cent sales tax to finance establishment of regional high schools.

Such a tax currently is levied in metropolitan centres only.

The association's directors said at a meeting that such central high schools could not be established without a prior study of means of financing them. Extension of the sales tax was one.

They suggested that the diocesan school commissions study it during the coming month and make their views known to provincial education authorities.

Zhukov Speech May Be Clue To 'Firing'

By THOMAS P. WITNEY
Associated Press News Analyst

In Moscow today Western observers are rereading a speech made by Marshal Georgi K. Zhukov in Leningrad last July 15 — because they feel it gives clues to the reasons for his replacement as defence minister.

The day before the speech the Leningrad people had given the Soviet war hero a tremendous ovation — a fact of equal importance.

In his speech Zhukov emerged as a powerful political personality. He spoke out with great feeling against party leaders guilty of trying to prevent investigations into the crimes of the Stalin era. His remarks were pointed ostensibly at Georgi Malenkov, V. M. Molotov and Lazar Kaganovich, who a few weeks before had been fired from their high government and party posts.

But Zhukov's remarks could easily be extended to cover other Stalin associates who remained in the Kremlin — Nikita S. Khrushchev, Premier Bulganin and others.

Continued investigation Zhukov in essence was calling for continued investigation into abuses under the "personality cult" — under Stalin — and for punishment of those to blame.

It is known that Zhukov, ever since Stalin's death, has been one of the leaders in pressing for exposure of the crimes committed under Stalinism. He himself was a victim of Stalin's intrigues after the war when he was demoted, much as he has now again been demoted apparently because the party leadership feared his prestige and potential political power.

Demands for continued investigations into Stalinist's crimes threaten the position of Khrushchev and certain other present party leaders. These men don't want the investigations to touch on their own role in the Stalinist leadership.

Zhukov, who had no part in Stalin's purges, has no fear of them. Every time more exposes come out, his stature as a national hero is enhanced.

Stealing Food

VIENNA (Reuters) — The Hungarian government has ordered all workers in the food industry and state stores to be searched daily, the Hungarian evening newspaper Esti Hirlap reported in an issue reaching here today. The move follows "disappearance" of large quantities of foodstuffs.

Growing Feeling Zhukov Fired

MOSCOW — (AP) — The belief is growing among Westerners in Moscow that Marshal Georgi K. Zhukov's removal as defence minister means he has been downgraded and that Nikita Khrushchev is firmly in power.

Soviet officialdom still is veiled in silence. Nothing specific has been added to the nine-line announcement Saturday that Zhukov has been replaced by Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky.

Most Western diplomats in Moscow believe that regardless of whether Zhukov receives a new government post, Khrushchev's authority in the Kremlin is at least as strong as ever. They also believe in the country, no matter where Zhukov turns up next.

MUST BE THROUGH
One veteran Western diplomat said:

"The omission from the official announcement of any indication that the change was made to permit Zhukov's assignment to other duties — such as premier or deputy premier — could have only one possible effect on the Soviet public. They would read into the announcement that Zhukov is out."

"Certainly if the Communist high command planned to kick Zhukov upstairs into a new job there would have been some hint of it in the announcement if for no other reason than for some consumption."

Government and military newspapers — including the Communist party paper Pravda — told of Zhukov's removal on the last column of the last page Sunday.

They reported only briefly that he had returned from Tirana, Albania, where he had been an official visitor. No newspaper elaborated on the original announcement of his removal, and all omitted a Tass news agency dispatch saying Zhukov was met at the airport by high foreign ministry and defence officials.

The city's people show no sign of excitement. There were no more people than usual at sidewalk newspaper displays.

In the West a host of theories about Zhukov's fate kept even the best informed experts on Russia puzzled. Soviet censorship Continued on Page 5

Dead are Mrs. Ivan Obernick, 31, of Spanish, Ont. and two of her children, Debbie, 19 months, and Rocky, nine months, Bernard Harquail and J. Thompson, both of Campbellton, N. B., and Jack Richine of Gore Bay, Ont.

French Put Tax On All Imports

PARIS (AP) — The French government imposed a 20-per-cent tax on all imports Sunday, in effect completing devaluation of the franc begun last August. The value of the franc in international exchanges now will be 420 to a dollar.

Partial devaluation last Aug. 10 affected only about 60 per cent of imports, exempting raw materials and fuels essential to the economy.

True Music Lover

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A 20-year-old hi-fi record fan chased his mother out of their house Saturday, wounded a policeman in the arm, sniped at other officers and finally surrendered after police fired tear gas into the house. Police said the battle began when William J. Busch Jr., ran his mother from their home after blaming her for breaking one of his records.

Armand Albert's Haunted House Just Had Trouble With 'Gas Pains'

ST. HILAIRE, N.B. (CP) — Their "haunted" house was quiet and Armand Albert and his family slept easier Sunday night.

But they and the people of this northern New Brunswick village won't soon forget the excitement the "speaks" caused.

The hallow'en preview started at 1 a.m. Thursday while the Albert family were asleep. They were awakened by loud knockings in the walls of their two-storey house, built six years ago.

They said the thumps continued every 15 or 20 minutes all night. Finally Albert, his terrified wife and children and his father and mother got out to seek shelter elsewhere.

Assistant fire marshal Frederick Fournier of Edmundston was called down to look for the "ghosts."

"I bored two holes under a window in the wall the noises were coming from," he said. "I thought it might be gas."

Future Uncertain

Dief, Mac Agree On Program

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada has concurred in the Anglo-American "principle of interdependence."

Prime Minister Macmillan of Britain, ending a 22-hour visit to Ottawa Saturday night, told a press conference that Prime Minister Diefenbaker and his cabinet support strongly the program that he and President Eisenhower agreed to in Washington talks last week.

Mr. Diefenbaker, talking to reporters immediately after Mr. Macmillan's departure by air, suggested Canada needs a national training policy for scientists, engineers and technicians.

He said Canada could make a contribution of "first importance" in the field of peaceful uses of atomic energy.

"We've got to act together," he said. "We've fallen apart in the last few years."

"We've started along the path-way leading to the greatest possible production of things needed for our survival," he said. Russia could not have done anything better for the West than launch Continued on Page 5

Thursday night hundreds of people gathered on the lawn outside the house to see if the specks would return. None would go inside.

STARTED AGAIN
About 7 p.m. the thumping and pounding started again.

They called Mr. Fournier again Friday.

"This time I took off two boards on the bottom of the wall just above the foundation and a lot of gas came out. That stopped the noise. It's been quiet ever since."

Mr. Fournier said the gas apparently came from green hardwood shavings placed in the wall as insulation when the house was built. Chemical reaction produced gas.

"A little gas was getting out under a window," he said, "but the wall was so tight that most of it was held back. Then the pounding started."

How did he happen to find the trouble?

"Well," he said, "I just don't believe in ghosts."

Show Business

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—For years I have maintained a policy against interviewing child and animal actors. But I went and broke it for a second generation Ladd. No, I was never bitten by baby LeRoy or Rin Tin Tin. But I have been bitten by non-responsive sessions with various mop-pets, horses and dogs. Hence the policy.

 But the invitation to speak with David Ladd was persuasive. After all the boy was playing his father Alan's son in The Proud Rebel. And not just a walk-on, but a fat part as a deaf mute. And didn't the producer, Sam Goldwyn Jr., brag that the boy would be a star when the picture comes out? So we had our lunch. David had a chocolate malt and cheese-burger. I had the willies.
GET ON WITH IT
 "Let's get on with the interview," David suggested as he munched on the sandwich. "I want to see if you ask the same questions everyone else does?"
 "How did you get the role?"
 "Mr. Goldwyn sent for me. He saw me in The Big Land with my father and thought I could do this picture, I guess. I think he just wanted my dad to do the picture and he used me to help get him. So when dad signed, I went with the deal!"
 David further revealed that he is 10, attends military academy, makes 90s in his grades, is on the swimming team.
 "I go to college," he remarked.
 Huh?
 "Yeah, I went to UCLA to learn the sign language for this picture. Well, let's get on with the interview. Why don't you write down notes?"
 "I don't like to. How much do you get paid for this picture?"
 "Thirty-five cents a day. How much do you get paid?"
 "None of your business. I'm doing this interview."
 "Then get on with it. I want to go for a bike ride around the studio."
 "Do you like to see movies?"
 "Some of them. I like dad's movies. They're always good. He never makes any bad ones. Why haven't you asked the question everyone asks?"
 "Do you like being an actor?"
 "That's not the question. Yes, I like being an actor. But it's hard work."
 "It looks easy."
 "Yeah? It ain't as easy as being an interviewer. All you gotta do is ask questions."
 It turned out that the question he is always asked is: Do you have any girl friends. "One," he said, "but you're not going to find out her name."

"FEVER CHART" SHOWS BOMB SPEED-UP—The accelerating rate at which the three nations who possess nuclear bombs (the U.S., U.S.S.R. and Britain) are testing new ones is indicated in Newschart above. Since the first explosion in the Nevada desert in June, 1945, some 134 bombs have been set off. The number is probably larger, since actual total of Soviet explosions has not been published. Since the first thermonuclear, or hydrogen, explosions in 1952, 107 detonations—both A and H-bombs—have taken place. This year has seen 42 nuclear blasts, more than double the number in any other year since the beginning of the Atomic Age. The total for 1957 may be even greater, for Russia is expected to make more tests before the end of the year.

Did Sibelius Write Eighth Symphony?

HELSINKI (AP) — Did Jean Sibelius leave a major composition to be published posthumously?
 The question was raised when the great Finnish composer died Sept. 20 at age 92.
 He wrote all his seven known symphonies before 1930 and musicologists have speculated widely about what he may have produced in his last 30 years of life.
 Apparently the well had run dry or, more likely, his self-criticism vetoed what he did produce. There is evidence that he worked on an eighth symphony but found it wanting.

STARTED EIGHTH

The story is that some years ago he started an eighth and then threw the manuscript in the fireplace.
 The family explained a symbolism about the funeral. The coffin in the Helsinki cathedral was surrounded by seven large candles, representing seven symphonies—and no more.
 Nils Eric Fougstedt, one of Finland's best known musicians, who was intimately acquainted with Sibelius, said there is nothing left that has not been given to the world.

"No one expected anything more from him in his last years," he commented.
 While in his 80s, Sibelius reworked some of his lesser efforts. The last known is the Kompe Hierbei, Tod (come by, death) published in Germany and presented in Helsinki this year by Kom Borg, a leading lieder singer.

Fiery Scenes Mark Liberal Rally

By CUTHBERT JONES
Obviously chagrined by recent defeats in both the federal and provincial fields, delegates to the Congress of the Young Liberal Federation of Quebec held here Saturday, engaged in some decidedly virulent discussions over the past and present actions of the senior leaders of the party.

At a closed session Saturday morning, the discussions became so bitter and so extended that a scheduled forum at which three members of the Legislative Assembly were to discuss provincial affairs had to be cancelled because of lack of time.

The first session, billed as a general meeting, was due to adjourn at 11 a.m. to permit the panel debate, but it was not until after one o'clock that the proceedings were suspended. And then some of the resolutions had been postponed indefinitely.

Although the press was barred from the discussion, it was obvious that the question of the Provincial leadership was engaging the most bitter discussion and despite a lengthy address by Georges-Emile Lapalme, the Quebec leader, a motion of virtual censure was passed after he had left the hall. No one would say whether he left the hall of his own accord or whether he had been asked to leave the meeting.

The resolution, one of 12 adopted at the sometimes riotous session, did not mention Mr. Lapalme by name but read: "That the executive of the Liberal Federation call a Liberal provincial convention before the next provincial election to select a leader."

It was moved by Jacques Chasse, of Westmount, and seconded by Lucien Chamberland, of Montreal, with the approval of President John Pepper who earlier indicated that the question of ousting Mr. Lapalme was the chief subject before the congress.

Shortly before three o'clock, the luncheon scheduled for 12.30 got underway, with Mr. Lapalme—who meantime had announced his intention of resigning the leadership—being notably absent.

Epidemic Of Car Thefts At Week-End

For the first time in many weeks, Sherbrooke and district citizens have been able to pass a weekend free of any major accidents or fatalities.

However, police report a rash of minor burglaries and car thefts Saturday night involving the removal of three cars, including one unsuccessful attempt to steal a car; a theft of $20 from Lavallee restaurant on Dufferin st.; an attempted theft in Restaurant Bob on the corner of Marquette and St. Edward St., and a stolen bicycle.

Albert Defoye, 328 Marquette st., broke up a robbery attempt on the Restaurant Bob, belonging to Bob Zako, 333 Marquette, when he saw three hoodlums attempting to break in. They fled when Defoye raised the alarm.

The Restaurant Lavallee, at present closed for repairs, was broken into late Saturday night or early Sunday morning, say police, then thieves entered through a side door and rifled the till of $20.

Three cars were reported stolen last night.

Donat Gregoire, 1618 King w., reported his car stolen about 8:15 p.m.; it was recovered by 10:00 p.m.

Rene Bernier, 297 Frontenac st., reported a car stolen at about 6:00 p.m.; recovered about 8:20 p.m.

Emile Landreville, East Angus, reported his car stolen in Sherbrooke at about 6:30 p.m., recovered by 9:10 the same night.

None of the cars suffered any damages.

Bertrand Boucher, 324 Belvidere N., narrowly avoided a tragedy Saturday afternoon when the vehicle he was driving was barely scratched by a passenger CNR train, No. 16, at the Kruger Paper Co. crossing on the Brompontonville road. Police say that Boucher claimed to have applied his brakes, but the car slid to the edge of the crossing and the passing train removed his front bumper. Boucher was uninjured.

A fourth car theft was avoided Sunday when would-be thieves failed to start a car belonging to Mrs. Olivette Beaulieu, parked on Cathedral St., said police. A constable found the car some distance from where it was originally parked, in a position about 90 degrees to the curb.

Too Long In Power

Hon. Jean Lesage Analyzes Liberal Defeat

By CUTHBERT JONES
The claim that the Liberal Government had been too long in power at Ottawa and a belief in many quarters that it had become arrogant and lost touch with the people were largely responsible for the party's defeat in the last election, Hon. Jean Lesage, former Minister of Natural Resources, declared in his address before the closing dinner of the Congress of the Young Liberal Federation here Saturday night.

After stressing the importance of participation by youth in political affairs, Mr. Lesage asked two questions.

"Why did the voters want a change of government last summer?"

"How did the Liberal Government of 1957 differ from the Liberal Government of 1953 when one-half of the voters voted for Liberal candidates?"

Analyzing his own questions, the former minister continued: "I believe the most important single consideration in the minds of the voters was the fact that another four years had passed—the Liberal party had been in office for 22 years and that seemed too long a time even to a good many Liberals."

"The very foundation of Liberalism is a belief in self-government—in parliamentary government which is responsible to the elected representatives of the people."

Continuing, Mr. Lesage declared: "DESIRE ALTERNATIVE. I am told there were a good many Liberals who felt that unless there was a practical alternative to the Liberal party—an alternative political party that had some real chance of forming a Government—our Parliamentary system was in danger."

"There were other Liberals who felt it would be good for the Liberal party to be in opposition for a while, with leisure to re-shape its policies and its programs, without being distracted by the day-to-day responsibilities of office."

EMILIEN LAFRANCE IN ACTION

"And then there were a lot of other voters who may not have wanted particularly to put the Liberal party out of office, but who did think the huge majorities of 1949 and 1953 were not healthy and who believed that the Liberal Government would be a better Government—and a more Liberal Government—if there was a stronger opposition."

"We Liberals certainly have the chance to satisfy those voters by providing the stronger opposition."

"I think we ought to face the fact, too, that the continued charges of our political opponents that the Government was arrogant, that it had lost contact with the people and, above all, that we were contemptuous of Parliament, did make a considerable impression on many of the voters."

"I do not admit for a moment that these charges were really true."

"PROPAGANDA WEAK. What was true was that the Liberal Government believed too much in the maxim that 'actions speak louder than words,' and that we left the field of propaganda to the opposition."

Turning to the future, Mr. Lesage declared the three great problems that must be decided by the national convention at Ottawa in January were: The election of a national leader; Study of the party program, and, Study of the party organization.

In closing, he paid tribute to the work of former Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent, whom he described as one of the greatest men in the history of Canada.

Commerce Faculty Aid Hinted

Hopes of the University of Sherbrooke that a Faculty of Commerce building may be erected shortly on the University campus on the St. Catherine road were brightened yesterday by a statement from Premier Maurice Duplessis that he would do everything possible to assure the construction of the new building.

The Premier made his statement during an address at the inauguration of the Faculty of Science building, at which he was a guest speaker and it came in reply to a suggestion by Armand Crepeau, Dean of the Faculty of Science, that the Provincial Government might give consideration to assisting the erection of a Commerce building.

Mr. Duplessis was careful to make no definite commitments as to what his Government was prepared to do, merely stating that he was greatly impressed with the achievements of the recently founded university to date and that sympathetic consideration would be given to future requests.

The inauguration ceremonies were presided over by Most Rev. Georges Cabana, Archbishop of Sherbrooke and Chancellor of the University, who introduced His Excellency Giovanni Panico, papal legate to Canada, who dedicated the building.

QUEBEC PRAISED
In his address to the gathering which jammed the assembly room, Msgr. Panico praised the educational system of the Province of Quebec, especially its treatment of the educational rights of the minorities.

"Premiers of other Canadian provinces," he said, "might take an example from the book of your Quebec Premier."

The Roman Catholic church favored scientific developments when they were for the betterment of mankind and it was the duty of universities to carry out a program of developing this progress along proper lines.

After reviewing the development of education in Quebec at all levels, the Prime Minister declared that the advancement of scientific institutions was essential to the growth of the Province.

MORE ENGINEERS

"The development of our huge water power resources, our mining potential, our forests makes the training of more engineers—especially French-Canadian engineers—essential," Mr. Duplessis continued.

"When I say French-Canadian engineers, I do not mean we should discourage other races from entering the profession but I believe we should encourage our own family first."

He said the Government was going to extend its power to doing the educational system of the province, but there was a limit to its financial resources, and he urged financially-capable individuals and corporations to increase their contributions to higher education in the province.

Following the official inauguration, a tour of inspection of the new building was made and refreshments were served in the cafeteria.

Hungarians Mark Start Of Revolt

Hungarian refugees in the Eastern Townships yesterday celebrated the first anniversary of the Hungarian Revolt, which started October 23, 1956. Some 100 men, women and children gathered at St. Boniface Church on the outskirts of the city for Mass, lunch, speeches and movies which lasted until suppertime.

The anniversary was marked by warnings from some of the immigrants about imminent attacks being prepared by the Russians. The refugees urged that Canadians prepare themselves for the fight against Communism and against attack which, they believed, was being prepared for 1960.

Successful Closing For Rotary Fair

The three evening round of activities of the 26th annual Rotary Fair ended Saturday marking another successful presentation by the Sherbrooke Rotary Club.

Lyman Tomkins, general Fair chairman, said he was "very pleased with the results." Attendance Saturday evening was slightly below comparable gate figures for the previous year but he credited this drop to the effects of influenza in the district.

Ti-Blanc Richard and his group supplied the entertainment for a large crowd of youngsters at the Children's Matinee Saturday afternoon. Special door prizes were awarded to seven lucky children.

The special prize for a fur coat which was drawn at the closing was won by Mrs. Esther Robinson, 1003 McManamy St., while the drawing for $500 was won by Miss O. Symons, 289 Belvidere, North.

Highest money-getters, the Superfine and Bingo concessions, were well patronized by the crowd while the Double-Double, the Horse-Racing, the Fruit booth, the Darts and the many other games did fine business.

The Rotary Club will tender a banquet at the Sherbrooke Hotel Tuesday evening for those who helped at the Fair.

Winners of the final raffle in addition to Miss Symons are as follows:

Mrs. Louise Garand, 1000 Alexander Blvd.; Mrs. J. E. Brodeur, 840 Montcalm st.; Mrs. Jean Gauthier, 358 Sixth ave.; La Tribune; Mrs. Knutson, Waterville; Miss Alberta Bolduc, Cookshire; W. Cookshire Man Is Injured In Highway Crash

Adonia Roy, of Cookshire, is in the Hotel Dieu in Sherbrooke today after having suffered injuries in an accident on the Stornaway-St. Romain highway near Lambton yesterday morning as he was driving along a portion of the road under construction.

Little is known about the accident except that the car left the road and catapulted into a ravine. Mrs. Roy, who was with her husband, did not require hospitalization.

The accident was first discovered by Aurelien Boulanger of Lake Megantic. He stopped and rushed the victims to Dr. J. E. Chabot in Lambton, who in turn sent Mr. Roy to the Hotel Dieu.

Finding Of Coat Likely To Revive Hunt For Woman

ASBESTOS — A woman's coat, identified as that belonging to Mrs. Lorenzo Houle, who disappeared on Oct. 11, from her parents' home in Asbestos, has been discovered by a hunter, Gerard Cote, also of Asbestos. This is the first clue police have been able to turn up since the woman's disappearance.

The search had been called off a short time ago, but it is expected that this new discovery will cause its resumption.

Mrs. Houle, 38, and the mother of two children, was last seen about 9:45 p.m. on Oct. 11 as she left the house to go to a restaurant to get some cigarettes. She is of average proportions, 110 pounds, 5 feet 3 inches tall, blue eyes and fair hair.

At the time of her disappearance, she was wearing a yellow dress, a pink coat and brown shoes. The pink coat found by Mr. Cote was identified as being the same one she was wearing when last seen.

The search through the nearby woods is to be continued and if nothing turns up dragging operations will commence on the nearby river.

The People Know Better

The forces that would divide Canada are always ready to go to work. The work is, of course, futile. The vast majority of Canadians have no intention of becoming party to a chauvinism which marks those who support it as being a generation or more behind the times.

It is doubly despicable, therefore, when otherwise responsible politicians, who not only should, but do, know better, harp back to the old battle cries of the days of dark prejudice and ignorance when province could be set against province simply because the people did not know any better.

It is equally futile to attempt to prove that because only so many cabinet ministers or senators come from this group while so many more come from that group that the government is trying to divide the nation.

isters from Quebec (Messrs. Balcer Comtois and Hamilton) despite the fact that this province elected only eight Progressive Conservatives and two Independents who support the government out of 75 constituencies.

A Toronto MP of Irish extraction, who comes from the bilingual Ottawa Valley and represents a riding where there are large groups of a half-dozen racial origins, gave an effective answer to the chauvinists in the House of Commons the other day.

Then he added: "We were supported by every group, every race, every class of people in our country. . . We proved ourselves to be the national party, the party of all the people in this country."

No Nonsense!

Two farmers in the Boischatel district near Quebec, have blocked off a three-mile stretch of country road. This they have done by digging ten-foot trenches and piling the excavated rock and dirt, evidently to serve as fair warning.

Young couples, a neighbor has testified, have been using the road for parking and the two farmers may have acted, it is believed, because they felt the stretch a threat to morals.

Legal rights and public convenience apart, one cannot help feeling some admiration for men with convictions strong enough to cause them to add the digging of ten-foot trenches to their ordinary duties.

hole is a ten-foot hole. There are other farmers using the road, ordinarily, and some may feel a little differently. Besides, some of the spooning couples may simply have been hard put to it to find a place to do their courting.

The refrain heard over the air a few years ago comes back: "They didn't have no airplanes; They didn't have no stream-line trains But they had good old country lanes When Pa was courtin' Ma."

If the Boischatel example should become catching, which is not too likely, some of our country stretches would come to resemble bomb craters.

Legal Theft

Last spring Russia for all practical purposes repudiated the saving bonds held by its people under a virtually compulsory savings plan.

It was not the first such official larceny at a rate of 10 to 1, a brutal destruction of people's savings.

All these frauds are practiced, of course, in the name of the people. They are told that the move really is for their benefit.

Evidently the Soviet leaders felt it was high time some of this kindly beneficence was visited upon Russia's satellites. So, in East Germany, the citizens have been asked to exchange old marks for new. The sticker is that the authorities just won't take in some of the old marks, wiping out holdings to that extent.

The action struck a blow at people in West Germany, too, since many there held East German marks but were prevented by border guards from entering Soviet-controlled soil to make the exchange.

If there are more "legal" ways to steal, the Soviets will find them.

Press Comment

NO ROOSTERS TO GROW

(Windsor Star) It is strange to think that many modern farmers, just as city folk, need an alarm clock to get them up early of a morning. Time was when a rooster did the job.

Many Ontario farmers, even if they keep poultry, haven't a rooster about the place. They get their chicks ready-made from the hatchery, so a feathered sire is unnecessary on the farm.

Of all proud birds, the rooster was perhaps the most proud. And with reason. He might have a harem of 50 or more hens to command.

Usually he had no competition but if another rooster appeared on the scene a fierce fight was inevitable. No rooster worthy of his name would surrender his masculine privileges without a fight.

The rooster, however, was an early morning nuisance. His challenging crow, at the break of dawn, would wake up the household and also the other inhabitants of the barn.

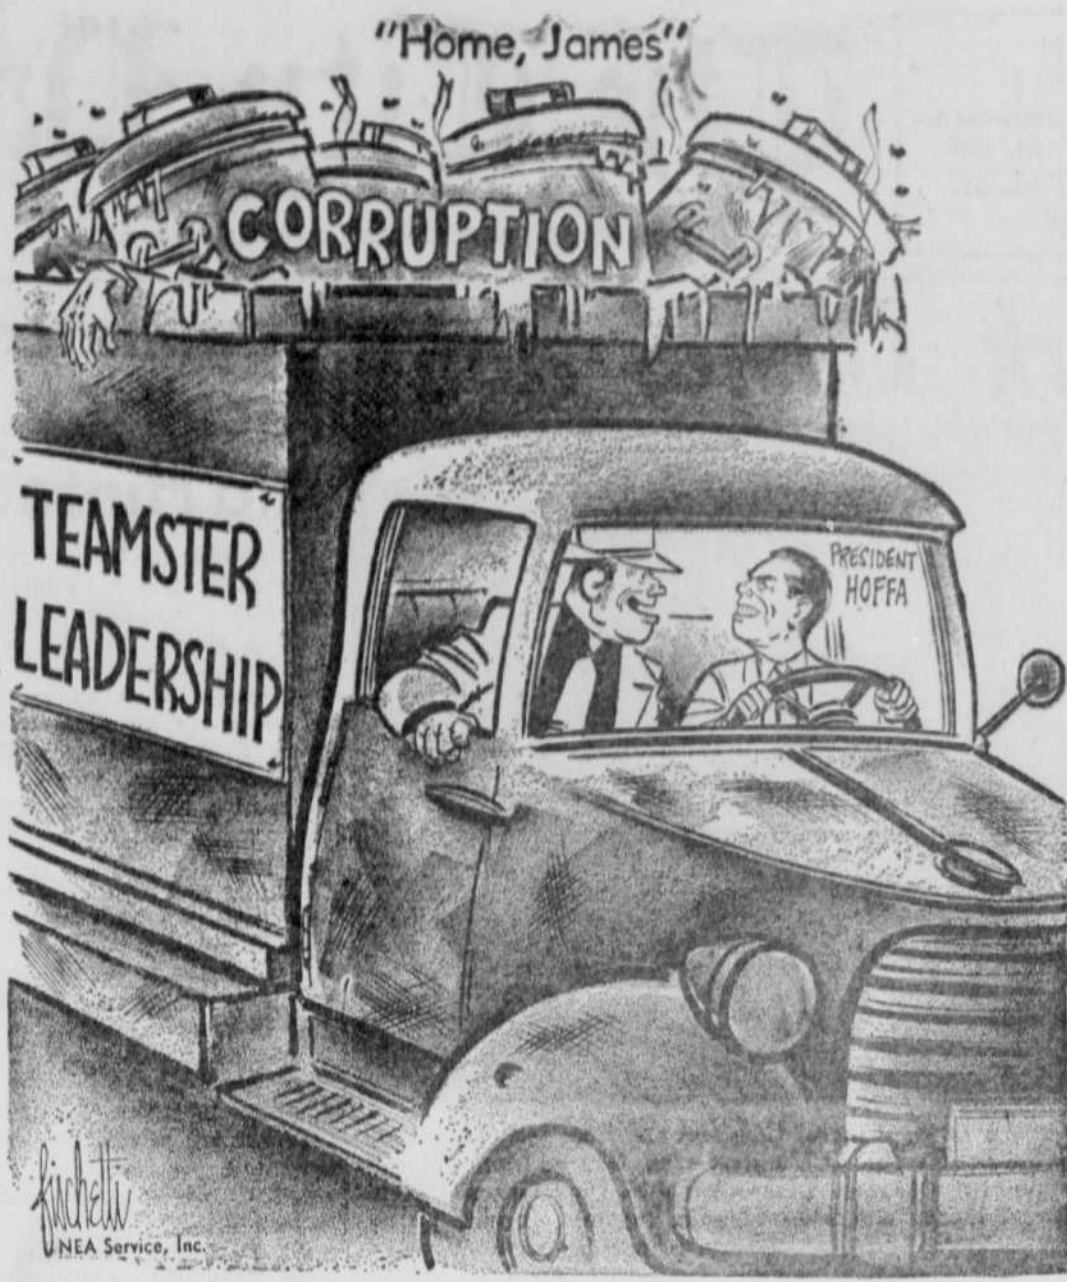

For the rooster it only meant he was alert and ready for another long and adventurous day.

Freedom Bridge Gone

Austro-Hungarian Border Closed

By RICHARD R. KASISCHKE VIENNA (AP) — Through the stinging winter cold of 1956, the first of 171,000 Hungarians fled Russian guns to become free people without a country.

On the night of Nov. 20 alone, some 5,000 waded through the icy canals and trudged through the fields and forests to enter Austria, turning their backs on their homeland.

That night in November was the high point in the exodus after the Red army moved in, Nov. 4, and crushed the revolution.

A rickety wooden bridge, spanning a muddy, tree-lined canal on the Austro-Hungarian border, became a symbol of the flight. Over this bridge came many of the men, women and children in pell-mell escape.

BORDER BRIDGE GONE Here, at the border village of Andau, western reporters called it the freedom bridge as they watched refugees take that last sad glance backward at Hungary.

Today, the bridge is gone, blown up by the Russians. The reconstructed Hungarian Communist army has minded the border paths, the woods and the fields.

Hapless Hungary is again sealed behind the Iron Curtain. Perhaps two or three Hungarians sneak out of Austria in a month, risking death.

Of the 171,370 Hungarians who fled to Austria after the revolt, some 23,000 remain in Austria, mostly in refugee camps and mostly hoping to get visas to the United States.

Nearly 150,000 have already been settled abroad.

Living is easier today than it was during the crush of the refugee load. In the Austrian village of Traiskirchen near the southern Vienna woods, only about 920 refugees are living in barracks where there were once several thousand.

END IN SIGHT August R. Lindt, United Nations high commissioner for refugees, said in New York this month that "a resolution of the whole Hungarian refugee problem is now almost in sight."

If this is achieved, it will mark the close of one of the most warm-hearted of world relief actions that had thousands of free world welfare workers mobilized, tens of thousands offering their blood and millions in gifts to aid the Hungarians.

But many of the Hungarians, though resettled, will be unhappy. The first blush of world sympathy is long since gone.

The United States, which has an overfulfilled quota now, still tops all other countries in taking in Hungarian refugees. Early this month there were 34,219 against second - place Canada's 24,323, England's 20,594, West Germany's 11,716 and Switzerland 10,358.

BRIDGE HAND IS FACE LIFTER

The poet might well have been a bridge player when he wrote, "Beneath the bludgeonings of chance my head is bloody but un-bowed."

Today's contract looks pretty hopeless. Nothing breaks and South has five apparent losers: two trumps, two diamonds and one heart. Nevertheless, South turned these bad breaks to good account and romped home with his contract.

West opened the king of hearts and continued the suit when South ducked. South won with the ace and played the ace and king of trumps. He had nothing better to do. He now saw a combination of cards that would allow him to make his contract and proceeded to play for it.

He took dummy's ace and king of clubs and ruffed a third club. The last heart was ruffed in dummy and a fourth club in his own hand.

A diamond lead to the ace put him in dummy again and he was able to ruff dummy's last club for his tenth trick.

If you wonder what happened to all his losing tricks he simply

BISHOP'S BULLETIN BOARD

A small dose of adrenalin was injected into the veins of the student body before last Thursday's meeting of the Students' Association.

The basis of the dispute was an apparent error in the recording of the minutes of the final Association meeting of last year. During the course of that meeting, SEC President, Tony Ketchum, defined the limits of access of the student body to the minutes of private Council meetings. He stated that any student was free to see the minutes, if he was looking for reference to a specific issue or by-law. However, the members of the Association are not free to browse through the minutes at random. Apparently, the minutes had interpreted this to read that students had no access to Council minutes, and this fanned the controversy.

The main resolution passed was one which aimed at providing a college education for every Canadian student who was able to meet the academic requirements of a university. This could become a reality, the delegates felt, if the Canadian government were to undertake an extensive program of national scholarships.

The administrative body of NFCUS was reorganized, and when sufficient funds become available to the body, a form of dual secretariat will be set up. There will be an executive secretary and an associate secretary, both bilingual, with one having English and the other French as his mother tongue.

The possibility of a NFCUS quarterly publication was also discussed, and a publishing company will be approached about the financing of such an undertaking.

Although several large universities are still outside NFCUS, both Tony and David felt that the federation is now a much stronger position than it has been for some time.

The Association heard Tony Ketchum's report on the NFCUS Conference, which he and NF CUS Chairman, David Bonny, attended in Quebec City. Marked by co-operation and understanding on the part of all the

Jobless Mill Workers Go To School

MILLTOWN, N. B. (CP)—About 25 men and women left jobless when the Milltown textiles plant closed here last August have enrolled in classes for instruction in commercial subjects to prepare themselves for other jobs.

Classes are sponsored by the provincial government vocational training department. Courses in bookkeeping, stenography and clerical work are offered.

A spokesman for the high school in nearby St. Stephen, which also relied economically on the mill, said about 15 other persons are attending day school for machine shop, motor mechanics, sheet metal and woodwork instruction.

Many of the more than 400 mill employees have left to find work in Central and Western Canada and the United States.

1254 BISHOP ST., MONTREAL, QUE.

the local chairman, who attended the national conference at the University of New Brunswick. WUS is one of Bishop's growing organizations, and it has been suggested by some that it be considered as a replacement for the Literary and Debating Society on the SEC.

Some of the things which Tony reported were: More than 700 Hungarians students were brought to Canadian campuses this year, supported by WUSC, a very successful summer seminar was held in Ghana, attended by some 30 Canadian students... Canada will be host to the 1958 International General Assembly of WUS.

CAMPUS KEYNOTES

The Campus has come under fire lately. The major problem has been that of financing the paper, which has shrunk to only four pages because of a dearth of revenue. Since circulation receipts are up, the fault lies in the lack of advertising.

In conjunction with the Expansion Fund program, which opens at the beginning of next month, a student committee has been formed to try and publicize the Fund within the university, and as far outside it as possible. Many students have no idea that the Fund is being conducted, what its aims are, and what its objective is.

SPORTS NOTES

Playing in the rain, and on a slippery field, Tony Vincent's soccer eleven trounced Bishop's College School 8-3. The BCS team, a fast but light aggregation, held the heavier Galters until well after half time, but then tired rapidly to come out on the short end of the count.

The proposed trip to CMR for the Conference Track and Field Meet was cancelled, the reason being a lack of training on the part of the athletes involved.

IN THE PUBLIC EYE

The first major dance of the year, the Freshman Formal, was held in the gym Saturday night, following the football game.

The first Skinner Debate is scheduled for early November. The topic is "Resolved that this House Deplores Modern Advertising."

The Skinner Debates are an annual competition between the Faculty of Divinity and the Faculty of Arts and Science, winners of the trophy last year. Speaking for Divinity, on the affirmative side of the question are John Rayner, Malcolm Hughes, and Bob Calderwood. Their opposition from Arts and Science is Gail Henning, Anne Massey, and Peter Blaikie.

For the first time, this Skinner debate will be held parliamentary style, giving the members of the House an opportunity to express their views on this highly controversial topic.

P. B.

The Moscow correspondent of Rome's pro-Communist Ipaese went further: "In evident controversy with Zhukov's position, there are reports of a reaffirmation among the direction elements of the government against any resurrection, in any form, of the 'cult of the personality.'" That is the name given Stalin's one-man rule.

It was considered likely both Italian correspondents had had some Kremlin coaching, and their dispatches were approved by the Soviet censor.

In Washington, officials were especially impressed by the fact that the marshal was removed while he was out of the country. This was interpreted as evidence he had been downgraded, possibly in a swift move to prevent him from using the military forces to save himself.

NON-CONFIDENCE

An August, 1956, meeting of the provincial Liberal party executive.

A June 1957, meeting of the Federation's political action committee at Lac Beauport near Quebec City.

INDECENT MANNER

Mr. Lapalme, who addressed the delegates before the vote was taken, had few comments to make on the atmosphere which prevailed, but he remarked bitterly that some of the delegates had acted in an "indecent manner."

This statement was borne out by remarks of certain delegates—even opponents of Mr. Lapalme—following the morning session which was closed to the press.

One delegate from the Abitibi district, obviously a supporter of Mr. Lapalme, made no secret of his own disgust with the morning proceedings, asserting: "They call themselves Young Liberals. They are a bunch of young idiots. The party executive will be stupid if they pay any attention to them."

And another from the lower St. Lawrence district avowed: "How do they expect to win elections acting like that. Why if my six-year-old son and friends raised a row like that I would give them a licking."

Some opponents of the Opposition leader went so far as to say that things had gone too far.

All agreed that at times the morning discussions had become disorderly, with more rational delegates being forced on at least three occasions to intervene to prevent fist fights between two particularly violent debaters—one of them a member of the Legislature—who seemed to draw the particular ire of the delegate.

Law Against Obscenity At Limit

MONTREAL (CP)—Provincial legislation has gone as far as its jurisdiction will permit in trying to check obscene publications, Transportation Minister Antoine Rivard said Saturday.

"If we went a step further," the provincial minister told the closing banquet of the French Language Weekly Newspapers Association, "we would come within the jurisdiction of the Criminal Code which punishes after an offence has been committed."

"It authorizes repressive measures which give publications a notoriety that often aggravates the evil," he said.

Mr. Rivard said "more stringent measures should be considered against publications whose main purpose is to 'arouse the morbid curiosity of the mass and activate its worst instincts.'"

He congratulated the French weekly press for its high standards and the vital role it has played in the dissemination of information.

Lucien Guertin of Shawinigan Falls was elected president of the association, succeeding Aime Gagne of Sherbrooke.

GROWING FEELING

prevented Moscow correspondents from sending some interpretations of the Zhukov removal.

Diplomats in London suggested that there soon might be more changes in the Kremlin. They said Khrushchev seemed to have tightened his hold by removing his strongest potential rival for power.

Moscow radio broadcast an editorial in Pravda, the Communist party newspaper, appealing for Soviet unity. A similar call went out just before and after the major Kremlin shakeup last summer.

Other Communist newspapers in West Europe took the line that Zhukov will receive another high post, but the Moscow correspondent of L'Humanite, organ of the French party, appeared to reject somewhat from that interpretation.

PREDICT CLIMB

The Italian Communist party newspaper, L'Unita, carried this headline over its story: "New high task for Marshall Zhukov?"

In a later edition L'Unita's Moscow correspondent swung around, writing that theories that Zhukov would be promoted "apparently must be completely discarded."

The dispatch added there was no real indication what would happen to the marshal.

The Moscow correspondent of Rome's pro-Communist Ipaese went further: "In evident controversy with Zhukov's position, there are reports of a reaffirmation among the direction elements of the government against any resurrection, in any form, of the 'cult of the personality.'" That is the name given Stalin's one-man rule.

No Limit To Imports Of Italian Wool

MONTREAL (CP)—Two Canadian textile industry executives said Friday night there is "no visible limit" to the extent Italian woollens can penetrate the Canadian market because of low production costs.

W. M. Berry and Francois E. Cleys of Montreal, who visited Italy recently, made the observation in a panel discussion at the annual meeting of the eastern division of the Textile Society of Canada.

The men, executives of the Canadian Woolen and Knit Goods Manufacturers' Association, said Italian shipments of woollen goods to Canada in the first six months of this year increased to 1,834,000 pounds from 1,720,000 in the 12 months of 1956.

G. C. Tattersfield of Lachute, Que., was elected president of the society, succeeding E. G. James of St. Hyacinthe, Que., named honorary president.

A. Lessard, Mrs. Maurice Brown.

FEDEALS UNDER FIRE

The afternoon was devoted to a "bull session" on federal affairs with four former federal cabinet ministers—Hon. George Marler, Hon. Hugues Lapointe, Hon. Jean Lesage and Hon. Lionel Chevrier—being subjected to a three-hour barrage of questioning on how the party lost the last election.

The ex-ministers offered their own explanations for the defeat—which summed up essentially were: The Liberal party had been in power too long; it had lost touch with the people and its propaganda campaign had been weak.

Federal-provincial relations were also debated at length, the argument generating more heat than light with collaborators—federal Liberals who supported the Union Nationale—receiving a particularly rough treatment.

RESOLUTIONS

Among the resolutions approved were:

That a provincial convention be called to prepare a party platform;

That a committee be named to study the Tremblay report and incorporate its desirable features in the party platform;

That legal emancipation be given married women;

That free education at every level, as far as financially possible, be provided;

That the public accounts committee of the Legislature be convened at the next session;

That politics be removed from university grants;

That the propaganda machine be improved.

Dr. Benoit Boulanger, of Quebec City, was named president to succeed John Pepper, of Montreal.

HUNGARIAN

Prior to the start of ceremonies a sculptured statue by Hungarian sculptor Paul Lans was presented to Rev. Father Antoine Samson by Philippe Beauchamp, director of the Canadian National Unity Association. The statue represents the liberation attempts of Hungary.

Where ten months ago on their arrival there were sad faces and tattered clothing, fear and anxiety, yesterday there appeared on the faces of these people a sense of security and happiness they no longer were afraid to express themselves.

The group was welcomed by Rev. Father Antoine Samson, spokesman for the Sherbrooke Hungarian Committee, who organized the gathering. Father Andrew, young Hungarian priest, then traced the revolution and asked that a minute's silence be observed for those who gave their lives in the revolt.

Several other Hungarians spoke, urging the refugees to think of the future and not the past; to work for Canada, where they were received with open arms.

It was voted to hire a woman to clean the church. Mrs. Lawrence Clapper and Mrs. Cyril Cargill will be in charge of the October coffee hour after the worship service.

The remainder of the evening was spent sewing on articles for the Public Health nurse, Mrs. Helen Batchelor, R.N.

Mrs. Marie Townsend of the Department of Health in Montpelier, Vt., is to be a guest at a future meeting and will give an interesting talk.

Hostesses for the November meeting will be Mrs. Frank Groat and Mrs. Lawrence Clapper, the place, and program will be announced later.

NEW YORK (CP)—The magazine Business Week says in its current issue that Quebec Cartier Mining Company, a subsidiary of U.S. Steel Corporation, has almost completed preliminary development of what may be "the biggest iron ore development in Canadian history."

The publication says the development in northern Quebec may amount to 700,000 tons of easily concentrated "specularite" ore.

Business Week adds that it expects an announcement on the development soon, perhaps early this winter.

The development, the magazine adds, it centred in the Mt. Reed and Mt. Wright areas of northern Quebec, about 150 miles south and southwest of Iron Ore Company of Canada's $272,000,000 venture, which started shipping ore to the United States in mid-1954.

Business Week says that in appearance, QCM's ore is brilliantly black. Called "specular hematite," or simply "specularite," it crushes easily on impact.

WEST KEITH — Mr. Gus Olson has returned home from Ontario where he has been employed fruit picking. Mr. and Mrs. Auty and Miss Janet Lasenba of Montreal were visiting Mrs. W. Judge at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Osborne Dougherty. Other visitors at the same home were Mr. and Mrs. Durwood Dougherty and son, Walter, of Brookbury. Miss Janet Lasenba of Montreal was a guest of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. George Lasenba. Mr. and Mrs. Dan Pehleman and children, Wayne and Marilyn, were weekend guests of Mr. Sternie Stronach in Sawyerville.

Canadian Farm Women Hold First National Convention

OTTAWA (CP) — A Canadian farm women's organization which sparked formation of an international country women's group holds its first national convention here next week.

The Federated Women's Institute of Canada expects more than 450 delegates from 10 provinces as it marks its 60th anniversary year during meetings which start today and conclude Thursday.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker is expected to be among officials greeting delegates at opening sessions tonight.

Women's institutes—called jubilee guilds in Newfoundland—had their beginning in 1897 at Stoney Creek, near Hamilton, Ont.

The organization outlined 60 years ago by a Hamilton woman, Mrs. Adelaide Hoodless, spread quickly across Canada, and was the "mother" of an international organization — the Associated Country Women of the World.

With Mrs. J. W. Adams of Ethelton, Sask., as FWIC president, more than 90,000 women now work for the WI motto For Home and Country.

CEYLON MEETING

This summer, about 50 Canadian WI members attended an ACWW meeting in Colombo, Ceylon. Reports of the meeting are to be heard at convention sessions.

Home improvement and community betterment is the convention theme. Discussion topics range from citizenship and conservation to modern fabrics and a fashion show of period costumes.

Hon. Lester B. Pearson, former external affairs minister and winner of the 1957 Nobel Peace Prize, is to speak at a banquet tonight.

Other conference speakers include State Secretary Ellen Fairclough, Justice Minister Fulton and Canadian author Will R. Bird of Halifax.

Thursday, Mrs. Adams receives a diamond encrusted jubilee pin. A jewelry firm's gift to the FWIC, the pin is to be passed on to succeeding federation presidents.

New officers are to be elected at Thursday's session when the resolutions committee also will make its report.

MAPLE COPE CHAPTER, I. O. D. E.

The monthly meeting of Maple Cope Chapter, I.O.D.E. was held in the Douglas Hall, Queen St. Lennoxville, on Monday evening, October 21, presided over by the regent, Miss E. F. Molony.

Mrs. George Doak, educational secretary, reported that I.O.D.E. readers' badges, presented annually by Mrs. A. R. Jewitt, had been won by Sandra Cleveland and Kenneth Rose. The books ordered for history prizes in the High School had not yet arrived but the winners' names had been announced at the commencement exercise. Mrs. Doak read a description of the valuable service rendered in the cause of anti-Communism by the news service under the title of "Canadian Scene" which the Order supports. The educational secretary proposed that the Marthe L. Stewart bursary, given to a local graduate of the High School entering Bishop's University, be this year awarded to Margaret Tourand.

The secretary of Services at Home and Abroad, Mrs. Darcy Bennett, had sent reading matter during the month, to the Queen Mary Veterans' Hospital in Montreal and to Canadian troops in Germany. Groceries were supplied to a needy family and a consignment of knitted articles valued at $13 forwarded to headquarters. Mrs. Bennett asked the members to knit sweaters for older children, 8 and 10 year-olds, as well as Korean socks which were badly needed.

Miss E. L. Stevens read a letter reporting on the Order's most recent activities in the field of Commonwealth Relations: a contribution of $3,500 towards the I.O.D.E. pediatric ward in the hospital at Indore, India. A student from the British West Indies is being brought to Canada for post-graduate studies, and arrangements will be made for the support of two medical students at the Ludhiana and Vellore hospitals in India.

Mrs. Austin Scott, entertainment convener, asked members and friends who wish to play in an I.O.D.E. Marathon to begin in the new year, to notify her of their intention. She also referred to the rummage sale to be held on Saturday, Oct. 26, in the Scott Hall and asked for helpers both for sorting in the morning, and selling in the afternoon. Members were requested to have rummage ready on Saturday morning and to notify Mrs. Scott who will be collecting.

Correspondence read by the secretary included a letter from Councillor Cecil Dougherty requesting support from the chapter for the town's fire prevention program. Mr. Dougherty mentioned that the town of Lennoxville received honorable mention for its low fire average in 1954 and 1955, and in 1956 had been ranked first in the province for towns of its size by the International Fire Prevention Association. The secretary was asked to acknowledge the letter and congratulate the town on its fine record, which is reflected in a reduced fire insurance rate in Lennoxville property.

The regent reported that

Fashion

Are the clothes you wear around the house as attractive as those you wear to the office? They should be. The people in your home life are important.

In getting clothes ready for fall and winter, don't forget hat veils. An old but effective trick is to cover a veil with waxed paper and press with an iron.

The combination of silk and nylon in a chiffon blouse is a happy one. For fall, it can be had as an overblouse with cowl neckline and drawstring waistline.

Lullaby For Flower Bulbs

No sooner does the first frost strike up the overture to autumn's dance of color than we are reminded that summer flower bulbs should be carefully tucked away indoors for the winter months ahead.

This is particularly true in the case of gladioli, tuberous begonia, caladium, dahlia and canna grown in areas where the winters are extremely cold.

As n just about every other job we have to do, system in digging, curing and storing bulbs saves us time, effort and dollars in the long run.

Begin your storage work by separating the different varieties of bulbs at the time of digging to avoid mixing colors, shapes and sizes at planting time. Print the names of colors on your tubers with an indelible pencil and remember to label all boxes and bags. An excellent moisture-storage medium is a transparent polyethylene bag which retains the required moisture and also permits easy checking on the state of the bulbs from month to month.

After unearthing and drying your gladioli corms, pull arveled bulbs loose from the new ones and store them in an open wire-bottom tray, a single-layer box, or lay them flat in bags.

Your tuberous begonia plants should be cured in a box of slightly moist soil until their leaves turn yellow. As soon as this change takes place, remove the soil and store the plants as they are in a container filled with vermiculite.

The tops of your caladium plants may be dried indoors. After cutting off the dead tops, store the tubers in bags of "cellophane" cellulose film. You will find that these bulbs fare best if kept at a storage temperature of 60 degrees.

Your dahlias should be dug just as soon as their leaves are blackened by the frost. Simply turn each clump upside down to dry in the sun before storing the bulbs in polyethylene bags or cartons filled with slightly damp sawdust or wood chips.

Canna bulbs should be allowed to dry well since they may rot if

Marriages

WILSON—BAKER

SUTTON. — The marriage of Miss Beverley Elva Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orton Baker, to Mr. Arnold Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Wilson took place recently in the Sutton Olivet Baptist Church, Rev. Gerald Hunt of L'Esglise Est Montreal, officiating. White mums arranged with autumn leaves adorned the church and Miss Joyce Hawley, cousin of the bride, played the wedding music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina length gown of white Chantilly lace and tulle over satin. Her shoulder length veil was held in place by a sequin trimmed head-dress and she carried a colonial bouquet of red roses and bouvardia.

Her attendants, Mrs. Malcolm Crittenden, as matron of honor for her sister, and Mrs. John Ward of Montreal, as bridesmaid, were in ballerina length dresses of chesepoun taffeta with white fur headdresses and carried matching fur muffs. Mrs. Crittenden being in Nile green and Mrs. Ward in blush rose.

Mr. Ronald Wilson acted as best man and the ushers were Mr. Malcolm Crittenden and Mr. Ernel Thompson.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Baker, chose a frock of dusty rose lace over taffeta with matching velour hat and a corsage of bronze mums.

Mrs. Wilson, mother of the groom, was in a blue flecked tweed dress with matching blue

Homemaking

Bringing out the best flavor in foods often is very simple. A processed cheese, for example, has the best flavor when it is served at room temperature.

Ever wonder why dieters often appear to be lettuce eaters? Lettuce although rich in vitamins A and C, is a low-calorie food. It contains 95 per cent water. In choosing lettuce, the greener it is, the richer is its vitamin content.

Beauty Tips

Young girls may overdo things when first discovering perfume. In a fragrance, as in dress and manners, teen-agers should enhance their youthful vivacity and charm with light floral bouquets. Leave richer, deeper fragrances for the more mature woman.

Selecting a face powder depends not only on skin color but whether the skin is dry or oily. A lightweight powder is best for a dry skin while oily skins require heavier powder.

Bridge Party Held By Junior C.W.L.

The card party held on Wednesday evening in St. Patrick's Church Hall by the junior subdivision of the Catholic Women's League, proved to be the usual successful and enjoyable annual event.

Members and their friends played at thirty tables in the hall, and eight additional tables were formed in homes.

The convener for cards was Mrs. Laurier St. Onge; the ticket convener, Mrs. Raymond Leblanc; and convener of refreshments, Mrs. Conrad Fortier.

The door prizes were won by Mrs. G. Pouliot, Mrs. H. Marianne, Mrs. C. Frank Simms and Mrs. G. Davis.

Winners of the drawings were, Mrs. Sylvester Parker and Mr. John Lary.

All the members assisted generally and in serving refreshments.

MANNERS MAKE FRIENDS

The host or hostess who doesn't turn off the TV set when unexpected callers drop in is saying as plainly as words, "We are more interested in the TV program than in anything you have to say."

Why not be gracious enough to turn off the set so quickly that your action says, "Now that we have something more interesting to do we can quit watching TV?"

Bewitching Hallowe'en Party Is Easy To Plan

The queen who will reign over grammar school parties this month is the Hallowe'en witch. Although she's no glamor girl, her popularity as a symbol for the exciting eve keeps her in demand with the young.

If a birthday is coming up or you yield to youthful excitement and agree to a party on Hallowe'en, let the old character join in the games instead of resting on her broomstick in the middle of the refreshment table. With a cardboard carton, simple materials and three or four ping-pong balls, you and the youngsters can rig up a witch game that's fun for several children of different ages to play.

TO MAKE the witch, take a rectangular carton and cover the top third with white shelf paper. Paint on a face or cut eyes, brows and nose from colored plastic tape and stick them on.

Draw an oval outline for the mouth, three inches by five inches. Cut it out, using a razor blade. Reinforce the edge of the mouth with colored plastic tape.

Use wild colors if you like, such as red for the eyes and green for the mouth.

Her stringy hair is construction paper cut in strips and taped around the top of the box. Striped wrapping paper around the lower two-thirds of the box creates a witch-like dress.

DRESSING the leading lady for a Hallowe'en party is fun for this youngster. Witch is target for a ball-throwing game.

piece of black paper and cut circle to make the hat brim. Cut about four inches around that out the inside, then slip brim over hat crown. Tie a ruffled black flameproof crepe paper cape around her shoulders with orange ribbon, decorated with orange ribbon pompons.

To play the game, each child in turn takes three ping-pong balls and tries to throw them into the witch's mouth. First one to score 20 wins. You can adjust the game for differing ages by letting little children stand closer to the witch and older ones farther back.

The refreshment table can be decorated with a paper cloth or runners of orange and black crepe paper, with bowls of popcorn and apples.

WHAT to serve is pretty simple at this age. Hamburgers and hot dogs, carrot and celery strips, milk or a fruit juice brew, and a simple dessert make a popular menu. Instead of ice cream, use orange or chocolate pudding which can be made in advance and served in custard cups. Decorate the tops with tinted whipped cream, candies and marshmallows to add a party flavor.

If you have any gift for storytelling, a Hallowe'en party is the time to put it to use. Ask the children's librarian to help select two or three Hallowe'en stories suitable for the ages of the guests. Then familiarize yourself with the plots.

Gather the youngsters into a circle and turn the lights down low to lend a mildly spooky atmosphere while you recount the tales.

THE CITY OF SHERBROOKE

Ti-Cats Put End To Als' Reign, Post 19-17 Win; Riders Wallop Argos

Now Assured Of At Least First Place Tie; Alouettes In Third; Kuntz Tallies Lone Toronto Touchdown

Montreal Alouettes have found out that some days you can't make a nickel.

They were spilled off their perch as Big Four football champions Saturday by Hamilton Tiger-Cats in a bruising battle and Sunday the 'Cats followed with a committee-room victory.

Tiger-Cats now are assured of at least a first-place tie in the race while Als can finish no better than second.

Tiger-Cats edged Alouettes 19-17 at Montreal and 24 hours later at Toronto the league executive tossed out a Montreal protest over an 18-15 Tiger-Cat victory the previous week. Neither decision was a bit startling.

ARGOS SUNK

Ottawa Rough Riders walloped the hapless Toronto Argonauts 25-7 at Ottawa Saturday before the season's smallest Big Four crowd—12,440. The victory gave Riders sole possession of second place, four points behind Hamilton and two up on Montreal with two games remaining in the 14-game schedule.

University of Western Ontario just about assured itself of at least a spot in the Senior Intercollegiate Football Union playoffs with a 34-20 victory over University of Toronto Blues. It was the fourth straight victory for the first-place Mustangs.

In the other college games, McGill University Redmen took their third victory in four starts with a 15-0 shutout over the winless Queen's University Golden Gaels, last year's Intercollegiate champions.

BREAK MONTREAL HEX

All the noise and excitement was scheduled for the Ticats-Als set-to and that's exactly what happened for the second straight week. The Als, Big Four champions since 1953, were hoping to stay in the running for their fifth straight title.

It was Hamilton's first victory in Montreal since 1953 and it was well deserved.

The teams matched two converted touchdowns and a field goal. The victory margin came on a single by Cam Fraser and a rouge when Hal Patterson pounced on a fumble in the Als end zone after he tackled Jerry McDougall at the goal line.

Eddie Macon's 55-yard pass-and-run touchdown and a 13-yard sprint by Gerry McDougall gave Ticats another touchdown, both converted by Steve Oneschuk who also contributed a field goal. Joel Wells, on a two-yard plunge, and Bill Bewley, on the receiving end of a short pass from Sam Etcheverry, counted Montreal's touchdowns, converted by Bewley who also kicked a second-quarter placement.

TIED AT HALF

The teams were deadlocked 10-10 at the halftime and, after the Als took a 17-10 lead midway in the third quarter, the Tiger-Cats went ahead to stay before the teams changed ends for the final 15 minutes.

Rough Riders jumped into a 7-0 first-quarter lead over Toronto on an 81-yard pass-and-run touchdown play by George Brancato, made it 15-7 at half-time and then won as they pleased. Bobby Judd scored two Ottawa touchdowns and Gary Schreider kicked three converts, a single on an attempted field goal and three more points on a third-quarter field goal.

Bobby Kuntz scored Toronto's only touchdown in the second quarter on a four-yard plunge. Vic Kristopaitis converted.

Big Four Playoff To Be Played On Wed., Nov. 13

TORONTO (CP)—The Big Four Football sudden-death semi-final game, Wednesday, Nov. 13 will be played at night if it is held in Hamilton or Ottawa and during the afternoon if it is in Montreal, it was announced Sunday.

Bob Moran, league president, said after a league executive meeting that the game will start at 8 p.m. AST if it is played in Hamilton or Ottawa. The game will be televised.

Promoter Taylor Gets Licence Back After Two Years

By WHITNEY MARTIN
NEW YORK (AP)—Herman Taylor ain't mad at nobody, as they say, despite being deprived of his livelihood for more than two years as a result of charges eventually proved false.

Taylor is a Philadelphia fight promoter. He's a medium-sized fellow looking younger than his 73 years, more than 60 of which were spent in the fight game.

On May 6, 1955, Harold Johnson, a light heavyweight, was fighting one Julio Mederos under Taylor's promotion.

In the second round Johnson folded like an Arab's tent and complained later that some unidentified individual had given him an unidentified orange and that the orange must have contained something besides juice.

Taylor was not involved in that incident, but it started an investigation of boxing in general. There were hearings and there were hearings.

LICENCE SUSPENDED

Taylor, whose licence had been suspended, was exonerated. That was two years ago and Taylor has been idle since.

"I had been in the game since I was 13 years old," he said. "I thought that maybe the time had come for me to step out, as my family urged."

But the lure was too strong, and recently Taylor applied for renewal of his licence. It was granted last Thursday and he came up here to sort of get acquainted with the boys again.

"The hearings cost me a lot of money," he says, without rancor. "My biggest single promotion from a financial standpoint was the Jersey Joe Walcott - Rocky Marciano fight in which Marciano won the title. That brought a $508,000 gate."

He's already making plans to carry on where he left off. He will start after the first of the year, he says.

Big Four Executive Rule 6-2 And Als' Protest Tossed Out As Expected; May Take Action Against Ralph Toohy

TORONTO (CP)—The Big Four Football executive Sunday rejected by a vote of 6 to 2 Montreal Alouettes' protest of their Oct. 19 game against Hamilton Tiger-Cats.

The game was won by Hamilton 18-15. Montreal protested after Ralph Toohy of the Tiger-Cats ran onto the field without a helmet in the final minute of play in an effort to stop half-back Art Powell of the Alouettes from catching a pass.

Montreal claimed it should have been awarded an automatic touchdown under the rule involving an "unauthorized person" going on the field.

Referee Harry Bowden's ruling on the play was that Hamilton had an extra man on the field and penalized them 10 yards from the point where Powell had been forced into touch.

Bob Moran of Toronto, league president, said in announcing the decision of the closed three-hour meeting that the protest had been disallowed "after due consideration of all factors concerned."

The two Montreal representatives were the only ones to vote against throwing out the protest.

Moran said that Judge A. G. Fraser of Ottawa, Big Four commissioner has been instructed to consider whether any action should be taken against Toohy. The commissioner has the power to impose a maximum fine of $200 against a player.

Major College Teams Had Their Troubles In Winning Saturday; Oklahoma Edges By Colorado 14-13

NEW YORK (CP)—The major teams such as Oklahoma, Iowa, Notre Dame, Michigan State and Army had to come from behind for victories Saturday in United States college football.

Top-ranked Oklahoma needed a last-quarter touchdown and convert before gaining its 45th consecutive victory with a 14-13 decision over Colorado.

Second-ranked Texas A and M had it relatively easy, running its winning streak to 16 with a 14-0 victory over Baylor, and Auburn, No. 5, scored as it pleased while thumping Houston 48-7. But the rest were Grade-A chills like the Oklahoma game.

Iowa, No. 3, struggled unbeaten with a 6-0 victory over winless Northwestern. And Notre Dame finally downed Pittsburgh 13-7, rolling from behind on a 74-yard

THE LIGHTS WENT OUT FAST—Peter Mueller is carried from the ring by his opponent, Hans Guenther Wohlers, and handlers after being knocked out in the first round in Hamburg. The quick finish might signify the end of the former German middleweight champion's career as a prize fighter.

Spinney Wins Canada's Richest Race; Find Is Third

TORONTO (CP)—Jockey Juan Sanchez and trainer Horatio Luro might consider Canada's richest horse race, the $60,000 Canadian championship, the easiest mark in the business. They have a knack of winning a bundle of money on it.

The pair combined Saturday to win the first-place purse of $42,900 with Spinney, a four-year-old California-bred gelding. By coincidence, Luro saddled Eugenia II and Sanchez rode him to victory in the 1956 running of the stakes.

Each time their mount has been a losing shot. On Saturday, with 15,564 persons in attendance, most of the wagering went on Find, a 1-to-2 favorite, and Spinney crossed up the experts by winning and paying $13.20, $11.10 and $4.50.

Find, a winner of more than $650,000 in his career—$250,000 of it so far this year—was a disappointing third over the mile-and-five-furlong distance.

The big surprise was the performance of four-year-old Grand Canyon, owned by Ken Kelman of Toronto, who came with a big rush to take the second-place $10,000 purse, one length behind Spinney and a nose in front of Find.

The track was slow after late-week rains and a dip in temperatures Friday and Saturday and the winning time of 2:46.1 was far off the track record for the distance.

Three of the top 10 in last week's Associated Press ranking poll didn't make it, although fourth-ranked and unbeaten Duke escaped with a 14-14 tie against 11th-ranked North Carolina state. But Mississippi was socked for its first defeat, 12-6 by Arkansas, and Louisiana State lost to Florida 22-14. Mississippi was No. 6, LSU No. 10.

Calgary Stampeders Finally Make Playoffs But Edmonton Takes All Credit; Stamps And Bombers Meet

Calgary Stampeders will be in the Western Interprovincial Football Union playoffs this year for the first time since 1952. But all the credit goes to Edmonton Eskimos.

When the third-place Stamps lost 32-14 to the tail-end Saskatchewan Roughriders at Regina Saturday, it brought the Calgary record of the last three weeks to five straight defeats in which they have been outscored nearly five to one.

Meanwhile, B. C. Lions had been closing the gap with only one loss in five starts. But Eskimos muffled the Lions' roar Saturday with a 29-0 whipping, and Lions were left a hopeless three points behind Calgary with just one game remaining.

Stampeders will meet Winnipeg Blue Bombers in the semi-finals Nov. 9 and 11. Eskimos have a bye into the best-of-three finals which start Nov. 16.

Three remaining games will have no effect on WIFU standings. Stampeders and Bombers clash at Winnipeg in tonight's only game and the schedule closes next Saturday with Edmonton at Regina and Winnipeg at Vancouver.

Edmonton vaulted into a 14-0 lead in the first quarter Saturday. One touchdown by Normie Kwong came after Lions lost on a third-down one-yard gamble from their own 37, and the second by Johnny Bright followed a fumble by Joe Yamauchi on the B. C. 11.

End Joe Mobra kicked two field goals, two singles and three converts, and in the final minute of play fullback Jim Shipka plunged five yards for a third Eski touchdown.

At Regina, fullback Bobby Marlow was juggling the ball occasionally because he had a cast on his broken hand. But he scored three touchdowns anyway, and ripped holes in the Calgary line consistently.

Halfback Sam Wesley scored the other Rider touchdown and guard Reg Whitehouse converted all four. A safety touch and two singles provided the other four Rider points.

Half Dick Washington and Ed Ernie Warlick scored Calgary's two touchdowns. Bud Korchak was good on one of his two convert attempts, and Ted Duncan booted a single.

San Francisco Edge Chicago Bears 21-17 While Baltimore And Detroit Lose; Browns Win Over Cardinals

NEW YORK (AP)—San Francisco, which does its winning in streaks, is at it early this year and, coupled with the flip-flop fortunes of its rivals, it might just be enough to give the '49ers their first National Football League division title.

Victory No. 4, since an opening game loss, was a comeback 21-17 cuffing of Chicago Bears Sunday that enabled San Francisco to open up a full-game Western Conference lead over Baltimore and Detroit.

The Colts and Lions, sharing the top spot with the '49ers at the start of play, co-operated nicely—Baltimore blowing a tidy lead for the second straight week to go down 24-21 to Green Bay and Detroit succumbing under a Los Angeles rout, 35-17.

Cleveland's revived Browns matched the Frisco story in Eastern competition, spilling Chicago Cardinals 17-7 and taking over sole possession of the lead as Washington bounced New York's defending champion Giants 31-14. Pittsburgh, pulling into a second-place tie with New York, blanked Philadelphia 6-0 in the last of Sunday's six-game program.

The second game will be in Edmonton Nov. 20. If a third game is necessary it will be in Edmonton Nov. 23.

Rangers Knock Canadiens From Unbeaten Perch; Hawks Blank Red Wings

Maurice Richard Tallies To Give Canadiens 4-3 Win Over Bruins In Hard-Hitting Tilt Saturday Night

MONTREAL—Maurice Richard's goal at 12:41 of the third period gave Montreal Canadiens a 4-3 win over Boston Bruins Saturday night and nullified a superb three-goal comeback by the hustling Bostonians.

The goal was number 501 in the National Hockey League career of the illustrious Rocket and also his eighth goal in seven games this season.

The loss was Boston's fourth straight—all on the road—after a four-game winning streak. Canadiens remained undefeated in seven games, with five wins and two ties, and improved their first-place margin to four points.

Canadiens ran up a 3-0 lead on first-period goals by Henri (Pocket) Richard and Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffron and another by Bert Olmstead early in the second period.

But the Bruins struck back viciously with goals by Vic Stasiuk, Larry Regan and Fleming Mackell before the second period ended.

The rugged game produced three minor casualties for a total of 17 stitches. Goalie Don Simmons and centre Bronco Horvath each had six stitches taken in cuts near the eye and Dickie Moore of Montreal had five taken in a cut on his lip.

The teams drew five penalties each, including a misconduct penalty to Jerry Toppazzini of Boston and a tripping penalty to goalie Jacques Plante of Montreal, who was making his first appearance this season following a sinus operation.

Quinella Pays $277.50 Saturday For Top Price; Wednesday's Races Are Cancelled, Next Card On Saturday

The doubles set the top payoff on the weekend racing cards presented by the Sherbrooke Racing Club. On Sunday afternoon the backers collected $228.00 for their choice while Saturday they picked up the sum of $111.70 for their investment. No races will be held Wednesday evening and the final two cards are slated for next Saturday and Sunday afternoons.

Poulin's Hideaway Hanover and Patry's Tea for Two formed the winning combination yesterday while Saturday it was Gravel's Peggy Grattan C, in the first, and Fluet's Patrick Merrywood. Patry's entry also paid the top figure for a win wager when $41.80 was shelled out when the aged mare came home ahead of the field.

The quinella Sunday afternoon paid $23.10, $18.50 and $17.20 while Saturday $277.50, $57.00 and $24.30 were collected. The big one was in the third race when Paquette's Mighty Elworthy and Barriar's Slow Poke formed the winning duo. On Saturday's card only two win bets failed to hit the four figures which made the payoff slightly higher than Sunday.

Dupont's Connelly B was tops for Saturday on a win bet when $39.90 was collected in the sixth race. He formed the $57.00 quinella with Hebert's Ella B. The second high went to another Herbert entry in the ninth, Shan-

Little Guys Are Beginning To Make Their Presence Felt; Henri And Lewicki Get Two; Glenn Hall Stars

The Little guys are throwing around the most weight today in the National Hockey League.

That isn't a suggestion that Chicago Black Hawks and New York Rangers physically are smaller than the other four clubs.

But for some years Hawks have been league doormats and as for New York — well, against Montreal Canadiens any team can be considered a little guy.

But now Hawks and Rangers are getting plenty of notice. Sunday night Chicago won its first game in 15 starts on Detroit ice, clipping Red Wings 3-0. New York ended Montreal's seven-game unbeaten string and jumped into second place behind Canadiens with a 4-1 victory.

Former Wing goalie Glenn Hall was outstanding in Chicago's first visit to Detroit this season. The 11,828 fans gave Hawks, what must have, seemed like a home ice reception, cheering them justly and jeering Detroit.

Ron Murphy opened scoring in the second period and the Nick Mickoski-Glen Skov—Bob Bailey line clicked for two third-period goals. Mickoski and Skov did the scoring with the others drawing assists.

Another former Wing star, Ted Lindsay, was not on for any of the goals. His three penalties included a 10-minute misconduct for arguing after drawing a minor for vigorously cross-checking former linemate Gordie Howe.

Hall stopped 28 shots and Terry Sawchuk, also outstanding, halted 29.

Camille Henri and Danny Lewicki each fired two goals for Rangers. Dickie Moore counted for Montreal.

Rangers' Lorne Worsley was spectacular in making 23 saves. Montreal's Jacques Plante stopped 25 shots.

England Wins Jumping Trophy At Harrisburg

HARRISBURG, Pa. (CP)—An English equestrian team won the international jumping competition trophy at the annual Pennsylvania National Horse Show Saturday night.

In second place was the United States. Mexico was third, Ireland fourth, Argentina fifth, Chile sixth and Canada seventh.

Milwaukee Fires Three Coaches

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Milwaukee Braves Saturday fired three of their four coaches.

Dismissed were Connie Ryan, Charlie Root and Johnny Riddle. Hired were Whitlow Wyatt, dropped recently as pitching coach of Philadelphia Phillies, and John Fitzpatrick, a coach with Hollywood in the Pacific Coast League last season.

Rookie Centre Frank Mahovich Tallies Two As Maple Leafs Blank Rangers 3-0 Before 12,789 Fans

TORONTO (CP)—Rookie centre Frank Mahovich scored two goals Saturday night as he led Toronto Maple Leafs to a 3-0 victory over New York Rangers before 12,789 National Hockey League fans.

It was Leafs' second victory in seven starts this season and both were shutouts. They blanked Boston Bruins 7-0 a week ago.

The game was sloppy in stages with the shooting of both clubs erratic on several occasions. The power plays of both teams were particularly inept. Leafs had a man advantage three times during the game and on two occasions failed to get a shot at the Ranger net. On the third they managed only one weak drive.

Rangers didn't get any scoring chances on three of the four times they had an extra man.

Besides Mahovich's pair of goals, right winger Tod Sloan scored late in the third period.

Mahovich gave Leafs a 1-0 lead with less than three minutes remaining in the first period and made it 2-0 midway through the third.

Sloan's goal was practically a gift. Leftwinger Sid Smith set up the play when he fired a low shot at Worsley, who sprawled to block the puck. Sloan picked up the rebound and lifted it over the fallen goaltender.

Worsley's play was sensational at times, particularly in the second period when he kicked out 18 shots. He made a total of 34 saves.

Ed Chadwick, Toronto goalkeeper, had some tough saves to make in recording his second shutout of the season. He kicked out 23 shots, nine in the last period.

Referee Red Storey called nine penalties. Leafs were given five minors and Rangers four.

Japan Wins Canada Cup Matches; Torakichi Nakamura Sets Hot Pace; US Finishes Nine-Strokes In Rear

TOKYO (CP)—A little 42-year-old Japanese golf instructor out-shot some of the greatest snott-makers in the game to win the International Golf Trophy Sunday.

Torakichi Nakamura had sensational rounds of 68-68-67-71 over the par-72 Kasumigasaki Country Club course of a 72-hole total of 274.

His closest opponents were seven strokes away.

Nakamura's fine display was backed up by steady play from teammate Koichi Ono to give Japan the Canada Cup team trophy in the 30-country competition. They had a nine-stroke margin over the runner-up United States team of Sam Sneed and Jimmy Demaret, with an aggregate of 557 to 566 for the Americans.

Canada's entry of Stan Leonard of Vancouver and Lachute, Que. and Toronto's Al Balding was sixth in the team standings with a total of 576. Leonard, who won the individual trophy when it was first put up for competition in 1953 in Quebec, was tied with Ono for fifth place in the individual scores, each with 283.

PREDICTS BIG THINGS
The man who runs the show today predicted the Canada Cup competition soon will become "the olympics of golf," the true test of international supremacy in the sport.

"Even the Russians will find it inexpedient to stay out—they'll have to come in," added Frank Pace Jr., former U.S. secretary of the army who is president of the International Golf Association.

The Japanese triumph touched off a golf boom on this little island. Today all Japan was talking of golf and their two heroes of the links.

Pace, who with the sponsoring newspaper, Yomiuri Shimbun, brought top pros of 30 nations across the world to compete against each other, said the day will come when the tournament will be supported by the golf associations of the various countries.

WILL CREATE GOODWILL
"It will be even greater than the Davis Cup in tennis because the players will assemble in one place to play," he added. "It's great for international goodwill."

The two-part tournament was the brainchild of the late John Jay Hopkins when he was board chairman of Canair Ltd., at Montreal.

Japan turned out a crowd of 14,000 on the final day to watch Nakamura and Ono clinch a victory after seizing the lead from the U.S. in the second round.

Sneed shot 281 which gave him a tie for second place with young Dave Thomas of Wales and Gary Player of South Africa. Then came Ono and Leonard with 283. Demaret and Australia's Bruce Crampton finished with 285, and former British Open champion Peter Thomson of Australia had a 287.

Following Japan and the United States in the Canada Cup were South Africa at 269; Australia 572; Wales 574, and Canada 576.

Sven Johansson To Return Home After Tryout

MONTREAL (CP)—Sven Johansson, centre with the Swedish team that won the world amateur hockey championship in Moscow last March, has decided to remain an amateur after a five-game trial in the Quebec Hockey League.

The disclosure was made here Saturday night by Lynn Patrick, Boston Bruins, parent club of the Aces.

Patrick said Johansson, 24, plans to return to his homeland.

HOCKEY'S BIG SEVEN

Montreal's Maurice (Rocket) Richard scored a goal and set up two others during the week-end to lead the NHL in just about every individual category except shutouts and penalties.

The Rocket's 16 points are two better than his brother Henri (Pocket Rocket) Richard's second-place record.

ONE OF THE PARTICIPATING AGENCIES...

THE YWCA

The YWCA, like the YMCA, is very much a part of community life. Young women enjoy recreational and training facilities that are important to local residents, and they are doubly important to the young girl who is away from home and working in the city. She finds companionship and organized social activities at the YWCA that are not available anywhere else.
