Fifty-First Year

World News In Brief

Ottawa, July 26.—(C.P.)—A marine court of inquiry has found that the sinking of the steamer Emperor in Lake Superior last June was caused through negligence due to fatigue on the part of First Mate James Morrey, one of 12 men who lost their lives when the vessel went down.

The report, released yesterday by Transport Minister Chevrier, said evidence disclosed that Morrey "did not keep proper watch" at his post on the bridge on the night of June 4 when the Emperor, loaded with iron ore and crew, was struck by a reef and sank. Twenty-one of her crew were saved through quick response to an SOS by the U.S. Coast Guard vessel Kimball.

New York, July 26.—(C.P.)—Sam Baron, Canadian director and vice-president of Textile Workers Union of America (C.I.O.) yesterday charged that the union was being obstructed by other C.I.O. unions in an organizational drive among textile workers in Canada.

Baron issued a statement at T.W.U.A. headquarters here, saying that C.I.O. organizations in Canada were supporting the rival A.F.L. Union, the United Textile Workers of America, in its attempt to balk the T.W.U.A. drive, "despite the fact that the T.W.U.A. has the full support of the Canadian Congress of Labor."

He said the United Textile Workers were "Communist-dominated," and the rebelling unions were placing political loyalty to Communist leadership above loyalty to the C.I.O.

The T.W.U.A. general executive council was "shocked at this action by C.I.O. affiliates in supporting unions dual to the C.I.O.," he asserted.

Washington, July 26.—(P)—The House of Representatives completed Congressional action yesterday on a measure to unfreeze more than $50,000,000 in wartime-seized Italian assets and to furnish Italy with 28 ships taken over early in the war.

The action sending the bill to the White House came on voice vote despite a protest from Representatives Robert Rich (Rep.-Pa.) that the move would leave the claims of American for war losses in Italy unprotected. A clause in the bill, however, sets apart $5,000,000 of the frozen funds for that purpose.

Travancore, India, July 26.—(Reuters)—Sir C. P. Ramaswami Aiyar, Premier of Travancore, was wounded in the face Friday by an assailant and was taken to hospital where his condition was said to be "improving."

The Premier was about to enter his automobile when a man among a throng of spectators drew a sword and attacked him. The man struck the Premier four times before escaping into the crowd.

Lake Success, July 26.—(P)—United States and Russian differences over interpretation of the United Nations charter threatened today to block effective Security Council action for peaceful settlement of the Balkan problem.

These differences confronted the U.N. with a major crisis over the charter, since neither the United States nor the Soviet Union would budge from their announced positions. The differences arose in debate over the situation on the border of Greece with Albania, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia.

At the core of the latest development is an American proposal that the Security Council set up an international commission to watch over the Balkans with the power to conciliate and investigate disputes.

The section of the U.N. Charter in dispute is chapter VI, which provides for peaceful settlement of disputes without using sanctions or military force against the countries involved.

Great Shrine Attraction To Thousands

Little St. Lawrence River Village Crowded as Forty Thousand Gather to Pay Honor to "La Bonne Sainte Anne."

Ste. Anne de Beaupre, Que., July 26.—(C.P.)—Thousands of pilgrims are crowding into this shrine town for traditional celebration today of the feast of "La Bonne Sainte Anne."

Some 40,000 Roman Catholics were expected by train, bus, car, buggy and bicycle—and a surprising number on foot—for the annual feast-day celebrations which climax devotional services to the Virgin Mary. The town's normal population is about 3,000.

Many dignitaries were coming from Quebec City, 23 miles up the St. Lawrence River, where other important religious rites—enthronement of Most Rev. Maurice Roy as Archbishop of the See of Quebec—were held Thursday.

Archbishop Roy was expected along with James Cardinal McGuigan, Archbishop of Toronto, who will celebrate pontifical High Mass and give the traditional blessing of the sick.

The sick and maimed come in large numbers to this shrine nestled in a pleasant meadow (Beau Pre) between the river and Laurentian chain. They seek intercession of Ste. Anne before God to perform a cure.

Evidence of belief that some cures have been wrought is seen in the thousands of articles, ranging from crutches and shabby walking sticks to smoked glasses.

Montreal Names New Police Chief

Montreal, July 26.—(P)—Inspector Albert Langlois, who joined the force 24 years ago as a constable, was recommended yesterday by the executive committee of the City Council to assume the position of director of the Montreal Police Department.

The committee's decision, tantamount to an official appointment, remains to be confirmed at next Tuesday's meeting of the city council. Langlois would succeed Fernand Dufresne, who retired as head of the force in January.

Acting Director Charles Barnes is to revert to his former rank of assistant director. Barnes was voted an annual salary of $10,000 for his work since taking over the director's duties at the time of Dufresne's resignation.

Inspector Thomas A. Leggett is to become assistant director in charge of traffic at a salary of $6,500.

Pacifique Plante will become assistant director in charge of the morality squad, the Recorder's Court and the section charged with issuing licences at a salary of $6,500.

Republican Forces Claim Successes on Three Wide- ly-Separated Fronts While Dutch Claim Capture of Wide Section of Northern Coast.

By STANLEY SWINTON
Batavia, Java, July 26.—(P)

The Dutch claimed the capture today of a large section of the north Java coast, but the Indonesian Republicans reported successes also on at least three widely scattered fronts and spoke of rebellion among some East Indians in the Netherlands army.

A Dutch spokesman said the north coastline between Batavia and Cheribon, 130 miles east, was all now in the hands of Netherlands forces. This reported mop-up resulted from an eastward drive from this Dutch colonial capital begun with the start of hostilities Sunday.

The conflict followed a breakdown in negotiations on how to carry out the Cheribon agreement of last March for a United States of Indonesia to become sovereign Jan. 1, 1949, as an equal partner with the Netherlands under the Dutch Crown.

The latest Indonesian successes were reported by the Republican army. This army's communiques, broadcast from the Republican capital of Jogjakarta, frequently are heard in Batavia. The army told of action in west, central and east Java.

(Harris Jackson of the Associated Press reported from Jogjakarta that the Indonesians estimated Dutch casualties to date at 9,000. He said Gen. Soedirman, Republican commander, gave this figure in a press conference today and said it came from Dutch informants loyal to the Republic.

(The latest Dutch casualty figures, issued in Batavia communique yesterday, listed 32 Netherlands soldiers killed, 41 wounded and seven missing—a total loss of 80. There was no definite indication of the period referred to.)

Railways Are Attacked On Freight Rate

Ottawa, July 26.—(P)—An attack on railway spending was in prospect today for Monday's session of the National Freight-rate inquiry.

In a joint submission, the provinces of Manitoba and Saskatchewan were expected to launch an assault on increased expenditures which the railways have cited as the basis of their application for freight-rate hikes.

Walter J. MacDonald, Winnipeg-based accountant retained by the sister provinces to open the attack before the Board of Transport Commissioners, Mr. MacDonald took the stand yesterday but had not begun his evidence when the hearing recessed for the week-end.

He was expected to hit particularly at the expenditures of the Canadian Pacific Railway, dealing with its depreciation allowances, charges for maintenance and other aspects of spending. Increases in this year's expenses over 1946 were expected to call for particular analysis.

Yesterday's session of the inquiry saw the windup of four days of testimony by Robert E. Moffat, Economic Advisor to the Canadian Government, who earlier had forecast the railways could obtain $60,000,000 in new revenue through additional freight rates without an increase in rates.

This amount compares with $87,000,000 which the carriers had estimated they would get in 1947 through a full year's operation of the 30-per-cent freight-rate increases for which they have applied.

Throughout daylong cross-examination by C.N.R. counsel Hugh O'Donnell, Mr. Moffat stuck to his contention that a near-record volume of 153,000,000 of freight would be available this year and that the lines would be able to handle it despite their claims of equipment shortages.

Board Named To Support Fish Prices

Depressed Price of Fish Causes Government to Take Advantage of Legislation Passed in Later Months of War.

Ottawa, July 26.—(P)—Establishment of the Fisheries Support Board authorized by Parliament at the last session of Parliament was announced yesterday by the Fisheries Department.

Stewart Bates, Deputy Minister of the Fisheries Department, will head the five-man board, with W. Stanley Lee, president of the Fisheries Council of Canada and associated with the fisheries firm of O'Leary and Lee, Halifax, will be its vice-chairman.

Other members of the board, which will have the duty of supporting prices obtained by Canadian fishermen, during the transition period from war to peace, are Col. J. W. Nicholls, of British Columbia Packers, Ltd., Vancouver; K. F. Harding of the Fishermen's Co-operative Association, Prince Rupert, B.C., and Louise Berube of the School of Fisheries, Ste. Anne de la Pocatiere, Que.

Minister Bates said the board will be set up, but actual authorization for the board was passed in the later months of the war in the form of the Fisheries Prices Support Act.

Trio Sentenced On War Graft Charge

Washington, July 26.—(P)—Andrew J. May, former chairman of the House of Representatives Military Committee, and the munitions-making Garsson brothers were sentenced to from eight months to two years in federal prison on war bribes charges yesterday despite fervent pleas that they never handled a dishonest dime.

The Garssons, Henry and Murray, were convicted of giving—May of receiving—$53,534.07 in bribes.

The money was received, the United States government charged, in return for pressure brought to bear by May on the United States War Department and other agencies to help the Garssons' wartime munitions combine.

As a Democratic Congressman from Kentucky for 16 years until his defeat last year, 72-year-old May was a power in Congress on all matters affecting the army.

He and the Garssons all protested that they didn't make "a single dime" out of their relationship.

The defendants' lawyers appealed immediately, and each of the three was let out on a $2,000 bond until the appeal is settled.

The maximum penalty could have been six years in jail plus a $30,000 fine.

In the pre-sentencing appeals for mercy, the lawyers said their clients are so hard up they are paying their expenses with borrowed money.

Denies Roosevelt Influence In Awarding Plane Contract

Washington, July 26.—(P)—Howard Hughes was reported today to have denied specifically to the United States Senate War Investigating Committee that Elliott Roosevelt had anything to do with government award of a $40,000,000 wartime plane contract to Hughes and Henry J. Kaiser.

A member of the committee told a reporter privately he was present when Hughes testified behind closed doors several weeks ago that the son of the late President contributed nothing toward obtaining the contract.

Senator Homer Ferguson (Rep.-Mich.) said a sub-committee he heads has been looking into reports that Elliott may have played a part in obtaining White House backing for the contract, described as having been stoutly opposed by the armed services.

Prospective Immigrants Flood Ontario Office

Hopeful immigrants are seen writing out application forms at Rainbow Corner, newly-established streamlined centre for Ontario's immigration activities in Great Britain. The Ontario Government hopes to fly some 7,000 selected immigrants under the scheme.

C.L.S.U. Leader Makes 2nd Blast Against Communists

Montreal, July 26.—(P)—Fiery J. A. (Pat) Sullivan today let go with another blast at what he called increasing communist infiltration into Labor Unions, charging in a statement that "there are very few trade unions in Canada who haven't in their ranks, if not active party members at least sympathizers and fellow travellers."

Repeating many of the charges he made last March when he resigned as head of the Canadian Seamen's Union, the 52-year-old Labor Leader who formed his own Canadian Lake Seamen's Union said that he had found out during his 11 years as a member of the Communist Party that "there is not a move made in this country prior to the statute brain trusts taking it up with their political bosses outside of the Dominion."

In the four-page, 2,000-word typewritten statement handed to reporters at a post-midnight press conference in a North-end Montreal apartment, the slight, grey-haired C.L.S.U. leader said he believed the disclosures would create "repercussions throughout Canada" and that it contained "more dynamite" than his first statement made in Ottawa last March.

Sullivan said in an introduction to the statement, that while it dealt mostly with the Canadian Seamen's Union, it "can be applied to a lot of other organizations throughout . . . Canada, the only difference being . . . in the case of the C.S.U., the entire leadership are members of the Labor Progressive Party—Communist Party—and as such, carry out the orders issued without any discussion or hesitation."

Going into a lengthy description of the inner workings of the Communist Party, Sullivan said: "Since the early 20's this Communist Party's aim has been to recruit members among the trade unions and the various mass and cultural organizations, with special emphasis being laid on the work to be done among the trade unions."

It is evident that the population . . . approved, despite the fight waged by the Federal organization against the Union Nationale, our firm and courteous attitude as far as the protection and preservation of our rights, prerogatives and liberties are concerned."

In the by-election, Mr. Rennie maintained the Government's unbeaten record in provincial by-elections by defeating Mrs. Mae O'Connor, Liberal, and thus thwarting the first attempt by a woman to enter the Quebec Legislative Assembly. The election was held following the death last December of Mrs. O'Connor's husband, Dennis J. O'Connor.

After noting that Huntington has always been a Liberal strong-hold, Mr. Duplessis reviewed the various Government victories since his party took over the reins of administration in 1944.

After saying that Government victories in various constituencies were a defeat for those wishing "centralization," the Premier said that "the people of Quebec had clearly indicated that as far as provincial rights are concerned, they are behind the present Government and not behind Liberal members of the Federal Parliament, whose attitude on this question of primordial importance is absolutely opposed to the best interests of the Province . . ."

The Province of Quebec does not ask for favors; she demands justice and we will always be happy to collaborate in the application of all just and constitutional measures just as we are more than ever determined to fight all encroachments and measures of ruinous centralization."

Compromise Reached In Air Dispute

Canadian and U.S. Companies Reach Agreement on Transportation of Immigrants to Ontario.

London, July 26.—(P)—Hon. Dana Porter, Ontario Minister of Planning and Development, said today new arrangements for flying Ontario-bound British immigrants have been worked out between Transocean Airways and Trans-Canada Air Lines under which T.C.A. would sponsor the scheme and the flights would terminate in Canada.

He said the new arrangements would comply with all air travel regulations. He had seen Reconstruction Minister Howe here this morning and had been assured no further difficulties were likely in that respect. The Reconstruction Minister has just arrived from Ottawa.

Yesterday a Civil Aviation Ministry spokesman said here that the Ministry felt the trans-Atlantic flights planned by the Ontario Government would tend "to become scheduled" and therefore would contravene the Civil Aviation Act. He denied, however, earlier reports that "a direct refusal" had been made to move the immigrants.

"As far as numbers and other details are concerned we are going ahead as originally planned," Porter said today. He added he did not have full details of the T.C.A. arrangement.

Originally it had been intended that Transocean would land the immigrants at Buffalo, N.Y., from where they would proceed to Ontario by bus.

Little Hope Of Salvaging Anglo-Russian Trade Pact

London, July 26.—(P)—The cabinet this week-end heard a report on Anglo-Russian trade negotiations which appear to have crashed more disastrously than did the aircraft bringing home the British delegation last night.

The plane, laden with delegates, overshot the runway at London airport injuring four, including Harold Wilson, secretary for Overseas Trade, who came home to tell the government why the trade agreement was not reached.

"Wide measures of agreement were reached on trade matters," said Wilson, who was hailed from the wrecked plane with bruised ribs. But we have not reached agreement on outstanding financial questions which the Soviet government have made additional to any comprehensive trade agreement."

As far as the trade agreement is concerned, the big obstacle arose over the price Russia demanded for wheat of which the Soviet is reported to have offered 500,000 bushels this year. It is still unknown what is sought but it is in excess of the Chicago price.

It is believed Russia would have accepted payment in manufactured goods but if Britain were unable to produce sufficient—and it is thought unlikely she could—she would have to pay in convertible sterling which would increase Britain's dollar drain.

The financial aspect of the talks dealt with Russia's insistence on the 1941 agreement by which the United Kingdom supplied Russia with goods worth $100,000. The understanding was that Russia would make a cash repayment with the balance repaid

Playwright Is Critical On Birthday

George Bernard Shaw to Observe Customary Routine on Occasion of 91st Birthday.

By RUSSELL LANDSTROM
London, July 26.—(P)—George Bernard Shaw, 91 today, dismissed the occasion with snorts of mock exasperation and the assertion that few others could have survived so much "happy birthday rubbish."

"Birthday celebrations are for those who think they can afford to waste time," the sage of Ayot St. Lawrence, drowsy Hertfordshire hamlet, told his listeners. "I've hardly recovered from the last birthday. It nearly killed me—and it would have killed most men."

"Whoever utters that word 'birthday,' in my presence shall be set down as a man to be avoided."

Since early yesterday the postman has been delivering a good deal of "happy birthday rubbish"—letters and telegrams from all over the world—to the spacious, comfortable, exceedingly homelike retreat of the playwright-philosopher.

Shaw said he would spend his birthday working as usual in his outdoor study, instead of gadding about the country and winding up in London, where he maintains an apartment. He went to London a year ago and still regrets it, he says.

To anyone but Shaw it might seem a dull day: "Up by 8:30 a.m. for breakfast, a quick digest of the news in his den not later than 10:30, a vegetarian lunch about 1 p.m., a nap during which nobody dares disturb him, and then an evening of walking, working and fellowship with old friends."

One of Shaw's dietary mainstays is a salad of chopped vegetables, which he says "keeps my head completely clear and prevents my thinking from becoming muddled—more people ought to try it."

His health on the whole is considered better than it was a year ago. Only his eyes give him any real trouble.

Intimates said it was unlikely Shaw would vary his routine today. He was expected to dine with Mr. and Mrs. S. Winter, writer and sculptor who have won his admiration, and, in their words, "He might even be persuaded to stay up later than midnight, the time he always insists upon going to bed."

Despite Shaw's birthday iconoclasm, he is obviously moved by the visit each year of a small girl, usually riding a pony, who bears greetings and good wishes from the village children. In these moments Shaw has been known to remark that the world is not entirely unregenerate.

At 91 Shaw perpetuates the myth of his dotage—"Leave me to die in peace," he declared recently—but the truth is he's polishing up a play, as yet untitled, for the famed Melburn Festival next year, and has ambitions to write further political, economic and sociological treatises.

Developing Of Suburban Land Planned

Insurance Companies Co-operating With Government in Plan for Providing Additional Building Space.

Ottawa, July 26.—(C)—A new impetus loomed in Canada's vital housing program today with disclosure that most of the Dominion's major insurance companies are interested and already taking action at some points to get in on a government-sponsored building land development program.

The new activity follows action at the recent session of Parliament where an amendment was made to the National Housing Act which seeks to ease the shortage of serviced lands—subdivided plots with sewerage, drainage, sidewalks and other essentials all ready for home-building.

Officials of Central Housing and Mortgage Corporation, the government's construction financing agency, said definite agreements have already been made for building areas on the outskirts of Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg, St. Boniface, Man., Burlington, Ont., and Mount Royal, Que. In addition, negotiations are underway for similar land development projects at Ottawa, London, Hamilton, Windsor, St. Thomas, Ont., and Vancouver.

In Toronto last night it was announced that plans for construction of 1,000 to 1,500 homes costing from $6,000 to $10,000 each in North York and East York townships are under consideration by three life insurance companies and the federal government agency. The houses would be built for sale rather than rental.

At Winnipeg officials of the London Life Insurance Company said it held an option on the Northwood Golf Club grounds in St. Boniface and that preliminary approval had been granted by Central Mortgage and Housing for its development under the land assembly scheme. However the St. Boniface project is still in the planning stage.

In Ottawa an insurance firm has taken an option on 58 acres of land in suburban Billings Bridge. A company official said the company planned to get Corporation approval to put in local improvements and sell the plots back to builders who would guarantee construction before the end of 1948. There is room enough for 232 housing units.

Under the plan the government co-operates with private firms to assemble and develop fringe-lands surrounding cities and towns; guarantees them a two per cent profit on costs of development and has the final say on both purchase of the land and its sale price to individuals or firms who want to build homes on it.

Government officials point out, planning bodies to be consulted and with other considerations, it probably will be next year before actual home construction will begin on the developed plots.

At the same time officials reported sharpened interest in the integrated housing plan because of another change in the National Housing Act providing larger initial loans, less down-payment and a longer period in which to pay off mortgages.

Under this plan, priorities are granted to contractors who will lay down the cost price of a house to the buyer before construction begins. Officials predict that a lot of the construction on the new developed lots will come under this provision.

Hollywood, July 26.—Hollywood is all mixed up this week. Maybe it's the July heat or an aftermath of those flying saucers or just plain mid-summer daffiness.

Marie Wilson, wearing practically nothing, was playing the role of a burlesque queen. That's not unusual for Marie, but she was throwing her curves and other things around on the hallowed stage of the Los Angeles Ebell Ladies' Club theater, the Carnegie Hall of the west.

A former mail-order package-wraper named Coleen Gray was playing love scenes with Tyrone Power.

Bill Bendix, from Brooklyn, was playing the role of an Armenian, William Saroyan, produced by an Irishman, Bill Cagney, and being photographed by a Chinese cameraman, James Wong Howe.

Francis X. Bushman, the Clark Gable of the silent screen, was writing his life story under the title, "Grandma's Pin-Up Boy."

And Barton MacLane's maid, after seeing "Dishonored Lady," came home and told Bart:

"You know—I just can't understand it. Hedy Lamarr and John Loder got along so beautifully in the picture."

CHANGE OF PACE
The Ebell Club ladies lifted their eyebrows when Producer Matty Kemp said he wanted to rent their theater and convert it into a burlesque house for a couple of days for the movie, "Linda, Be Good."

"A thousand dollars a day," said Matty.

"You won't mention the Ebell Club in the picture?" asked the ladies.

"Okay," said the ladies. So there was Marie, in long black silk stockings and black velvet strategic places, singing "My Man, Said I Mustn't" to the bald-headed row. Behind the bald-headed row, out of camera range, four Ebell club ladies sat watching the show.

"When they heard I was playing a burlesque queen the censors sent the studio a lot of letters about me. They wanted to be sure I didn't wear the kind of clothes I wear in 'The Blackouts,'" said Marie.

STARDOM FOR COLEEN
The former, package-wraper, Coleen Gray, is Tyrone Power's leading lady in his new movie, "Nightmare Alley." Darryl Zanuck predicts she'll be a star after the release of this and two other films, "Red River" and "Kiss of Death."

Coleen is a blue-eyed blonde who is intensely serious about the drama and who worships Ingrid Bergman. She's a Hutchinson, Minn., girl (real name Doris Jensen) who got the acting bug in college dramatics at the University of St. Paul, where she earned lunch money working as a waitress and wrapping packages in a mail-order house.

She was discovered by Talent Scout Ivan Kahn at a Los Angeles little theatre and given a contract. In August, 1945, she married a Hollywood film writer, Rodney Amateau. They have a year-old daughter.

Coleen isn't the typical Hollywood glamor doll—she dislikes night clubs, likes to visit art galleries, and takes her acting seriously.

Sons and daughters for the races was a big surprise to all the printers. James Trew seems to have developed into quite a family man, having no less than three daughters and Stephen. Better keep your eyes on these two fellows.

D. Cross would like it known that he lost two dollars on the "Egg Race" by betting on Grover Dustin winning by a nose.

The executive committee of the Printers' Association extend its appreciation to all the "Print" room over-seers for their contribution of ice cream, which was enjoyed by all; to Mr. Sewell for his contributions of dress and shirt lengths, on behalf of Dominion Textile Co., and to all others who assisted in making the picnic such a grand success.

New Service To Sherbrooke Citizens By Tourist Office

Hotel reservations for nearly all points of the North American continent as a service to Sherbrooke residents who wish to travel is the goal set by the Municipal Tourist Bureau, and its director, Lucien Robichaud. This new and highly commendable initiative was inaugurated last week by the Bureau.

Through this new service, the Bureau will endeavor to supply all who wish to take advantage of the service with hotel reservations in a great number of cities and towns as well as holiday resorts in both the United States and Canada.

Mr. Robichaud stated that he is in communication with several of the better-known hotels in metropolitan centres throughout the United States and has been successful in securing detailed information on hotel rates, available accommodations, size and type of rooms.

"Reservations should be filed with the Bureau, a week ahead of time," said Mr. Robichaud. "We will wire or write the particular hotel and make all arrangements. In return prospective visitors are expected to send the hotel a small deposit so that the rooms can be kept until the visitor's arrival."

Reservations for Florida resorts will also be made providing a six weeks notice is given the Bureau. As part of the service, the Bureau also supplies holidaymakers with introductory letters to the hotel.

"In two instances since we started this service," continued the Director, "we have been able to render American tourists assistance in securing accommodation in some other Canadian city."

Mr. Robichaud related that the tourists had appeared very pleased upon learning that this service

At The Sherbrooke Fair

The Appletons and their daring Apache dance will be featured attractions in the "Grandstand Follies" to be staged in front of the grandstand at the Sherbrooke Exhibition from August 23 to 29.

Cookshire Fair To Run 4 Days With Preview And Races, Sunday, Aug. 17

Cookshire, July 26.—Spurred on by a venturesome Board of Directors who have set their goal on a "Greater Compton County Fair" this year, determined to "do or die" after last year's disastrous wash-out due to continual rains, plans are now being developed to hold a four-day Cookshire Fair, opening on Sunday, August 17th, with a grand preview and a special harness race program.

Races will occupy a top spot at Cookshire Fair this year, with some of the best horses in the district participating in the three classes set for Sunday's special card, with $410 in purses. The midway, an all-new organization this year, is Daniel's Greater Shows, and will be up and operating early, and many exhibits will also be moving in on Sunday, Monday, August 18th, will see the opening of the big George Hamid stage show, featuring 10 all-star circus and vaudeville acts, hand music and special feature attractions.

Race fans will enjoy two other good days of racing on Tuesday and Wednesday, August 19th and 20th, when grandstand entertainment and the parades of horses and cattle will also be held. A total of $1,130 in purses is being paid out this year, doubling that of last year, and indicating the determination of the directors "to give the most of the best" in every department and feature of the exhibition.

At the Directors' meeting held in the Main Building at the Fair Grounds, President H. J. Wheeler and Secretary-Treasurer W. S. J. Hodgman outlined the many preparations and improvements already made and full discussion of the big 1947 Cookshire Fair in every phase and possibility occupied the attention of the Board.

Some $4,000 is being spent on various grounds and building improvements this summer, with the kitchen space of the dining-hall doubled in size, two additional sections added to the grandstand, new ladies rest rooms and the building moved to a new location, as well as other modern improvements that will make Cookshire Fairgrounds fully up-to-date and offering the best in accommodations to fairgoers. Not the least of the improvements is the laying of water-pipe, to furnish running water to the men's and ladies' wash rooms as well as to the horse barns. Plans are also under way to move the horse barns back several feet to give more space to the midway. The smart new covered stage for the grandstand show is a distinct credit to this Compton County Exhibition.

Space in the Main Hall is already being grabbed up and Secretary Hodgman states that reservations are almost all made to the limit of the building. Among those who have signified their intention of exhibiting are the Women's Institutes of Compton County, Les Cercles des Femmes of the same county, Hyndman Milk, R. Wallace and Sons of Canada Ltd., Cookshire Milling and Farm Supply Reg'd., Southern Canada Power Co. Ltd., Sherbrooke Daily Record.

Birchton Ladies' Aid will again have charge of the dining hall, serving noon and night meals during the fair. The St. John Ambulance Brigade will occupy a special first aid tent on the fair grounds.

Cookshire Branch of the Canadian Legion will turn out in full force at this year's Fair, having already entered a bid to operate a concession booth and cater to the grandstand patrons for refreshments. The Legion will also hold a tag day at the Fair on Tuesday, August 19, to raise funds for Legion work. A dance under Legion auspices is also being planned as an added Fair feature.

Many special attractions will be staged during the four days and three nights of the Cookshire Fair.

FORMER O.C. ATTENDING REUNION

LT.-COL. M. W. MCNULTY, E.D., first commanding officer of the Sherbrooke Fusilier Regiment is in Sherbrooke today to attend the second annual reunion of members of that unit. Col. McNulty took command of the regiment upon its mobilization in July, 1940, and remained in charge of the unit until he was invalided back to Canada in 1945.

Also here to attend the reunion are two other former C.O.'s of the regiment, Col. M. B. K. Gordon, D.S.O., E.D., of Ottawa, who succeeded Col. MacNulty and led the unit into the battle of Caen and through the Falaise gap, and Lt.-Col. S. V. Radley-Walters, D.S.O., M.C., who brought the regiment back to Sherbrooke in January, 1946. A fourth former commanding officer of the unit, Lt.-Col. P. T. Jenner, O.B.E., of Calgary, was unable to make the trip here for the event.

The two-day program begins this afternoon at 1:30 with registration at the William street Armory and will be climaxed by a buffet supper and dance at 7 o'clock this evening in the armory.

FORMER RESIDENT TO SING AT ST. ANDREW'S

Civic Luncheon To Welcome Governor General On Arrival

His Excellency Viscount Alexander of Tunis, Governor-General of Canada, and members of his party will be tendered an official luncheon by the City of Sherbrooke upon their arrival here on Tuesday, September 16th, for a two-day visit in the Eastern Townships.

Decision to welcome the Vice-Regal party in this manner was reached yesterday at a special meeting of the committee named recently to handle arrangements for the forthcoming visit of the Governor-General, his second to the Eastern Townships.

Many E.T. Veterans Settle Under Government Farm Plan

Since the establishment of the Veterans' Agricultural Board 190 ex-servicemen have been established on farms and 174 on small holdings. Daniel Pomerleau, regional supervisor for the Sherbrooke district, announced today. In a few cases the project had to be abandoned owing to personal reasons, such as death or uncontrollable causes.

It has also been established that the distinguished visitor and his entourage will be dinner guests of Senator C. B. Howard at "Howardene" on Tuesday evening after viewing points of interest in the city. The following day the party will visit Stanstead, Magog and Coaticook, and on Thursday morning will leave Sherbrooke on the return trip.

Various plans relative to the forthcoming event are being discussed by the reception committee and further decisions are expected to be announced in the near future.

The Federal government, under the Veterans Lands Act, has given veterans the opportunity of establishing themselves as farmers, small holders or commercial fishermen and is also ready to help veterans who are desirous of settling the colonization areas.

To aid re-establishment the Dominion Government is making available to these colonists, who have been accepted by the provincial government and are eligible under the Veterans Land Act, loans to a maximum of $2,230 for permanent improvements or repairs or even for buying furniture. These loans do not have to be repaid if the veteran conforms with the rules and regulations of the V.L.A.

Veterans desirous of obtaining a lot in a colony, or present settlers can obtain all information from their colonization missionary or from the regional office in Sherbrooke.

In an effort to establish young farmers and wood-workers who left their lands or the woods to serve in the armed forces during the recent conflict Dominion and provincial governments have introduced a number of land settlement schemes.

The Province of Quebec offers qualifying-veteran colonists the advantages of their own colonization scheme which compares favorably with any other that has been established to facilitate the establishment of these veterans on the land. Financial aid, which in some cases might amount to as much

PLEASANT READING

Sherbrooke district residents cannot help view with satisfaction the latest report of the Department of Labor which places the local area in the second lowest position for all Canada insofar as unemployment is concerned. According to the official figures there are only ten persons out of every thousand potential workers seeking employment at the present time, barely one-quarter of the national average, and about one-half the level of two months ago, when the figure of work seekers stood at eighteen per thousand.

These figures indicate that industries already established in Sherbrooke are offering stable employment to their workers, an important factor during the period when plants in many sections of the Dominion are still finding it difficult to attain full peacetime production.

Established industries alone do not account for the maintenance of employment levels. Without much fanfare or blowing of horns, new industries have been coming to Sherbrooke in substantial numbers during recent months, each of which added their particular quota to the demand for workers.

ETHIOPIA CARES FOR ITSELF

One of the first countries to feel the weight of Fascist aggression, Ethiopia has almost slipped the minds of most people in recent months. However, it has come back into the news during the past few days in a manner which reflects credit upon it, not only for its economic comeback but for its spirit of independence. Cabling the United Nations secretariat at Lake Success, N.Y., on behalf of Emperor Haile Selassie, Ato Akilou Abte Wold, Vice-Minister for Foreign Affairs, declines proffered aid for reconstruction because, he says, notwithstanding heavy war damage, Ethiopia has made sufficient progress to manage by herself, and she will stand aside in favor of some more needy nation. Maybe she will require aid at some future date, but not now.

Ethiopia was never a very prosperous country, largely because her people were primitive and adhered to ancient methods of farm production. Her 12,000,000 people grew things but did not manufacture. She had great natural resources and Mussolini conquered the country because he thought it would be a rich prize. But after he did so, he had the doubtful privilege of seeing Ethiopia the first country to be liberated, and the Emperor restored to his throne.

Since then, chiefly with the help of Great Britain and the United States, including private economic and industrial experts, Ethiopia has become more firmly established on her feet. She needs no help, and is probably the only Eastern Hemisphere country involved in the war that seeks none.

The Italians must envy their former victims of aggression.

REDEDICATION

For many years forming one of the greatest links of Empire through its sea and land transport services, the Canadian Pacific Railway and its associated steamships lines paid a heavy toll during the war years when fourteen of its vessels fell prey to enemy action. Included among its losses was the Empress of Britain, the flagship of the fleet. However, the management of the company has not forgotten its responsibility as evidenced by the remarks of the chairman, W. M. Neal, at a banquet honoring the resumption of trans-Atlantic liner services by the Empress of Canada.

He rededicated the company to the service of the Commonwealth, pledging it to link together the widely separated parts as it had done before the war. This will be no light task, but rather will require the unremitting efforts and resourcefulness of the mighty organization. The majority of its ships have to be replaced, a problem in itself in view of the acute lack of materials still facing world shipbuilders and the tremendous strain placed on their resources in an effort to partially renew the tonnage which went to the bottom.

Future traffic itself also involves considerable study. The advent of aviation as a competitor to the super-liners of former years tends to render obsolete these mighty craft.

Their place is to be taken by smaller, more compact vessels designed to make the trans-Atlantic run in six to seven days. These will be designed as pleasure ships for people with ample time to enjoy an ocean trip rather than as a means of speedy transportation for the man in a hurry.

But large or medium size, the record of the Canadian Pacific assures that they will be the ultimate in reliable and efficient service.

DEVELOPING COLONIAL FOOD RESOURCES

The decision of the British Government to press ahead with plans for developing the food production resources of the colonies in an effort to cut down the drain on United States dollar reserves to finance imports of basic commodities is a logical one. Faced with a still further contraction of already tightly-rationed food supplies available to its people, the Government is going over the Empire map more closely than ever before to determine the most efficient developments to increase not only food supplies, but fuel and clothing as well.

Already work has been started on an East African project to bring into peanut cultivation some 3,250,000 acres of unoccupied land. If this produces the estimated 600,000 tons of nuts a year, Britain's fat shortage will be eased materially, and the world food picture brightened.

Also in the African sphere, a mission of experts is studying the development of coal production in Nigeria, while still others have been sent halfway around the world to Borneo to go into the coal situation and also to examine plans for increased rice production.

In fields already explored, private companies are being given every encouragement to expand. This has led to the establishment of meat packing plants in East Africa, sugar refineries in the West Indies and home-processing plants in several other regions. Mining companies have been given concessions for prospecting and development in areas where government organizations cannot undertake the work directly.

The entire program should result in a two-fold benefit. It will mean added supplies of products sorely needed by Britain and will at the same time assist in the industrial advancement of some of the smaller units of the Empire to which little attention of this nature has been paid in the past.

Washington Column

BY PETER EDSON

FOUR UNCERTAINTIES AHEAD

President Truman's mid-year economic report is aimed more at American business and union labor leaders and the general public than it is at Congress. It points up four major uncertainties on the horizon:

1. The possibilities of crop failures and their effect on food prices.
2. The coal wage settlement and its possible effects on wage rates and industrial prices.
3. The upward trend of housing costs and the downward trend of construction.
4. The whole matter of foreign economic policy.

Senator Taft's Joint Congressional Committee on the Economic Report ignores completely the President's first message on the bill Employment Act, sent to the capitol last January. And in the committee's month of hearings on the economic situation, just concluded, not one witness was asked to comment on the Truman recommendations of six months ago.

Instead the witnesses were allowed to ramble at will all over the business peaks and valleys and they turned up unbelievably conflicting reports.

FACTS FROM THE WHITE HOUSE

The President's report on the other hand, is a completely factual appraisal of the present situation. It is a handy little argument-settler of 80 pages, half text, half tables.

For Congress, the new report points to short range recommendations made by the President last January, and what wasn't done about them.

1. Continue existing tax rates. (He won on that one, by two votes and five votes.)
2. Reduce the public debt as Treasury surpluses become available. (Congress tried to do this one by cutting the budget more than Truman liked.)
3. Continue rent control and pass a new housing program. (They're pretty well sabotaged that.)
4. Raise minimum wage rates. (Been pretty slow on that.)
5. Increase social security benefits. (Not a chance. Frozen.)

The first few paragraphs of the opening summary make out that everything is just dandy the way it is. Recession has failed to materialize. Sixty million employed. Record farm income. Labor peace. Whopping profits. Who could ask for anything more?

But then the report says you better look out. All this prosperity is being held up by temporary props. It says they better be fixed before they collapse to bring on the recession.

CROPS, WAGES, HOUSES, EXPORTS

It says the crop situation all depends on the weather, and it doesn't propose that help on that one be done about that. If it does turn out that crop is going to be short, it recommends that publicity campaigns be organized to educate consumers on reducing consumption and not hoarding. It does not propose reintroduction of rationing under OPA.

The 31-cent-an-hour wage increase given the miners and its possible effect on coal and steel prices are viewed with real alarm. This isn't exactly new. The industry sounded off on this a few days ago. Industry has in general replied by going ahead and raising prices.

The housing matter is likewise an old headache with the President. Again he says that building costs must come down and the volume of construction must be increased.

Guts of the foreign economic problem is said to be the $8 billion excess of U. S. exports over imports. The President does not anticipate that this high level of exports in the past six months will continue. But he puts his foot down against any idea of trying to bolster the American economy by subsidizing the dumping of American surpluses to keep up prices at home.

The report finds that increased exports have not cut in on American consumption, which is higher for everything than before the war. For example, the last fact in the report is that the consumption of eggs has gone up from 311 per person per year in 1939 to 378 in 1946. Those 67 extra eggs—at a nickel apiece—are symbolic.

RUSSIA DISPLAYS MILITARY MIGHT FOR CZECH PREMIER

God's Album

By REV. B. S. MURRAY, M.A.

In these delightful July days all roads lead home. People are wandering back to scenes once so dear to them. Tourism is big business. It seems as if all America is on wheels, too. When we reach that dearest spot in all the world, home, we delight to reminisce. And the old family album stands on guard, ever ready to prove our point. What memories that old book stirs! What laughter it causes! If you want to compare the style of the yesterday-years with those of today, open the album!

Religious styles, too, for I heard someone say the other day that as he viewed pictures of their church's anniversary he thought that their people regularly worshipped and conscientiously worked for Christ and His Cause, in the mood of "Looking into Jesus," (Heb. 12:2). Now... anywhere in this old album you have a glimpse into the past that holds the past close to us. In other words, an oasis in the March of Time.

HIS ALBUM

Now God has an album! It is His Word, the Bible. In this album we find many portraits of the saints. We see Abraham there in the man of faith and obedience; Joseph the man of pure heart and life; Moses the great leader of Israel, noted for his meekness; Job, the man of patience; Solomon, the king of wisdom, and many others who had outstanding characteristics, are pictured in this unique album.

Chiefest of all is Jesus, perfect Man and perfect God. Our Lord is fully pictured in the Holy Gospels. In Matthew we see Him as King of the Jews; in Mark as Servant; in Luke as Son of Man, and in John as Son of God—a perfect portrait of a Perfect Man, Christ Jesus the Lord.

THREE PICTURES

The Bible, however, depicts three extraordinary pictures of three different types of men. Let us consider these briefly. I expect you know the first type rather well... one who thinks chiefly of self. That word is written on his face while sin is branded on his brow. Men of this type argue that human nature cannot be changed and so go full speed ahead on the broad road that leadeth to destruction. But that is a famous falsehood: Human nature can be changed! The power of Christ can effect that. Yet despite this, they argue crookedly and defend their attitude so satisfactorily that they have no desire to begin anew. Of course they are as good as their neighbor in whose faults they specialize, without remembering that Christ is the only Copy worth imitating. We must model our lives after Him and Him alone.

This dear Album declares that we are to believe in the Lord Jesus Christ and we shall be saved. (Acts 16:31). That verse needs no official interpretation. Accept it for "by grace are ye saved through faith; and that not of yourselves; it is the gift of God; not of works, lest any man should boast." (Eph. 2:8, 9).

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By Wm. E. McKenney, America's Card Authority

COUNTING THE TRICKS ELIMINATES GUESSING

I just had a letter from Mrs. Madeline Anderson, whose bridge club in the Savoy Hotel in Seattle, Wash., is doing very well. She sent me a hand that was played by Eddie Burns, a former Minneapolis man who was famous back in the '30s as a member of the Four Deuces, a mid-west team that went to Europe to play against the Viennese and Hungarian teams.

In commenting on the hand, Mrs. Anderson said that the heart situation might have presented a guess to some players, but Mr. Burns simply counted the hand down and eliminated the guess.

The opponents cashed the first two diamond tricks, and West then switched to the queen of clubs. Dummy's king won this trick; declarer returned to his hand with a trump and ruffed his last diamond in dummy with the king of trumps.

Dummy's jack of spades picked up the rest of the outstanding trumps, the ace of clubs was cashed and a club ruffed in Burns' hand, East showing out.

Now Burns started to count. He knew that West had five clubs, and he must have had five Allow Christ entrance into your life, accept and obey Him and you will find happiness and that peace of mind which the world cannot give. So, with a fleeting glimpse of the self-righteous, sufficiently good enough "old" man born with a sinful nature and keeping it all his days (Rom. 3:23), we turn the page to the second picture, namely, that of one who calls himself a Christian but does nothing to prove that he is one. He accepts the contribution of the ages which he has inherited, refusing to add to the enrichment thereof and is thereby a parasite. He is, what I term, suffering from arrested development. He will not grow up; he prefers to remain a babe in Christ, for spiritual good. Of course, he specializes in childishness and accentuates envying and strife. To all progress he is opposed, even wishing to rattle off prayers without thinking of their content and responsibility he will not shoulder!

THE NEW MAN

Over the pages with the third picture I love to pause, as my mind goes back to that much loved and oft neglected third chapter of St. John which relates Jesus' interview with Nicodemus. I expect after that spiritual conversation Nicodemus had no further doubts. He had no alternative but surrender his life to Christ, thereby making real His Master's words. Only that and all of that! Those memorable words, "you must be born again," must have haunted him; he could not get them from his mind. Continually he heard the inner voice say: "You must know the Son of God." You must let spiritual incentive and desires overcome human and natural tendencies. God gave His Son to prove this truth in its solemn mystery to a world in order that men might live. It seems to me that the only way we can answer this question of the ages is by giving our lives to Christ and then we shall know that these things shall be.

Often I think back of that midnight interview and expect that Nicodemus must have been both shocked and mystified. And when the Master had prepared him, he offered as ever, Himself, forstalling the Cross and pointing the way of life through faith in Himself, the reconciling Victim. Ever since Nicodemus, "Ye must be born again," has seemed too drastic for many a man. Yet it is Jesus' way!

There are two ways to restore a cracked ball. You can solder it up and put hoops around it, but it will scream its protest each time you try to make it speak. The sensible way is to recast it and make it all new. Listen to the Word of God: "Therefore, if any man be in Christ he is a new creature; old things are passed away; behold all things are become new." (2 Cor. 5:17). Those men who are born of the Spirit, "born from above," have accordingly new views and sentiments; feelings and affections; joys and sorrows, principles and purposes, aims and aspirations, for they are fully yielded to God and

Wall Street Journal

A certain lazy individual in Holyoke, Massachusetts, was driven by hunger to seek a job. He wandered over to Worcester, where he found a group of men digging for the foundation of a new building.

"Can I work here?" he asked the foreman.

"Sure," was the reply. "Help yourself to a shovel."

At the close of the day's work one of the men said to the newcomer, "I don't seem to recognize you—where do you live?"

"I live in Holyoke," croaked the tired, entirely-spent gentleman.

"Very commendable, very commendable," replied the other.

"What do you mean?"

"Why you, a Holyoke man, coming over to help us," was the reply. "All of us are Worcester men giving a day's work free to help build the new Presbyterian church."

WELL REPRESENTED

Le Clairon, St. Hyacinthe

We have a great number of Canadians of French descent who are holding appointments of the first rank in the Federal service but it happens that, at this moment, by a combination of circumstances strange enough, that we have no deputy-minister of our race. This allows the opponents of the Liberal party and the seap artists of every kind to make a fuss and to cry about injustice. They do not miss any chance of doing this and have succeeded in enrolling in their choir of protesters some liberals who inconsiderately are working against their filled with the Holy Spirit. They have put off the old man and put on the new man in Christ Jesus. (Col. 3: 9, 10), as they strive continually to please God.

So I suggest that you make the third picture your very own. Now, translating its new spirit of humility, trust and obedience into the fabric of your daily living and then life shall be beautiful and useful, fruitful and happy, in all ways, always.

Across the centuries hear the Prince of Life challenge you to "present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God which is your reasonable service." (Rom. 12:1). Listen again: Wherefore be ye not unwise but understanding that the will of the Lord is... Be filled with the Spirit, (Eph. 5:17, 18). Walk in the Spirit and ye shall not fulfil the lust of the flesh, (Gal. 5:16).

YE MUST BE BORN AGAIN

In a word, Christ summons you to encounter Him. And it matters not what you call these close encounters the fact remains that we are so altered by meeting Him face to face that we are changed men. Read the Bible and you will find that Abram becomes Abraham; Jacob becomes Israel; Levi becomes Matthew; Simon becomes Peter; Saul becomes Paul. What a change from Peter the unsteady to Peter, the rock; from Saul the bigot to Paul the catholic Christian. What a change from Augustine the devout! Nor do I forget John Newton, John Bunyan, a Kempis and hundreds of others who in church and mission and street have been made over, new creatures in Christ Jesus. Somehow "down in the human heart, crushed by the tempter, feelings lie buried that grace can restore, touched by a loving heart, awakened by kindness, chords that were broken shall vibrate once more." This, those of us who work for Christ and His Cause, must daily accept as their marching orders.

Patiently, tenderly, Jesus calls to you and me to look into His face but we heed not His voice and refuse His gracious invitation. Sometime we shall mourn for the years that the locusts have eaten, the waste of these golden opportunities. Remember that Jesus Christ, God's only Son, Our Lord, is only waiting to assimilate you, to blend you, to receive you unto Himself. The more you can get out of yourself, the more you will be entering into Him; the surest method of going out of yourself is the love of the least of these His brethren. Give your heart to Him; you cannot really keep it from Him!

In Christ you have the solution for all the problems of our out-of-joint era. As you march along the Road of Life constantly repeat those challenging old yet ever new words: "Ye must be born anew!" they are recorded in God's Album!

Before these proceedings get completely out of hand, I conclude with a story about Samuel Hopkins Adams. POLITICAL WIT OF THE WEST

Regina Leader-Post

Commenting recently on arrangements for the Canada debate between Premier Douglas and Liberal Leader, Walter Tucker, the Leader-Post took occasion to point out that while such spectacles have an undoubted theatrical value, and while most certainly they place a premium on smart Alec tactics and political nimbleness of the crowd-pleasing variety, they are not usually remarkable for elevating the standards of public controversy.

This view remains unshaken by anything said at Canora. Indeed the following interchange tells its own story.

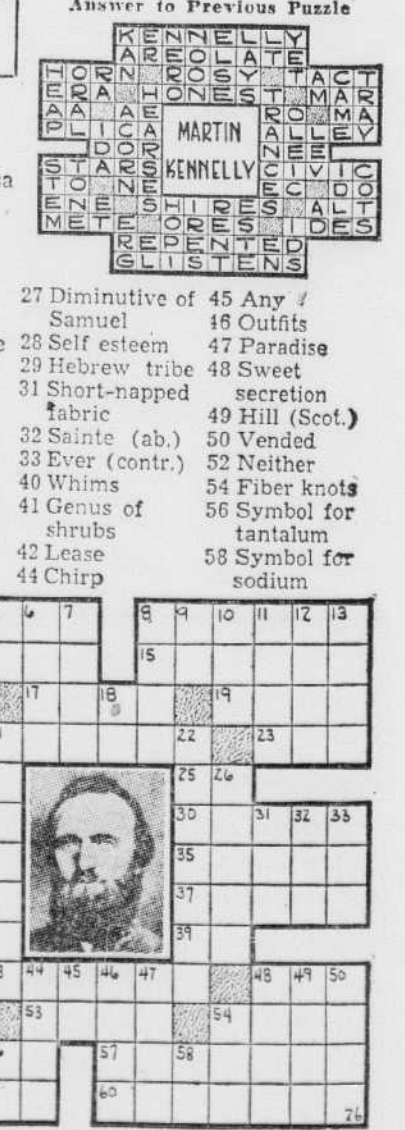

Mr. Tucker referred to mothers' allowances and said that the Liberals had introduced these when Premier Douglas was "just a little fellow." To which Mr. Douglas countered:

"... I am still a little fellow. Tucker is big enough to swallow me but if he did he would be the strangest man in the world because he would have more brains in his stomach than he has in his head."

Ousted Premier Of Cruiser Canteen Siam Faces Charge Benefits Charity

Rangoon, July 26.—(Reuters)—U Saw, former Premier of Burma, and other principal persons arrested in connection with the assassination of seven members of the Burmese Government last Saturday, will appear in court as soon as the charges against them have been drawn up, it was learned authoritatively here.

Police have evidence which they consider establishes that U Saw was "directly involved" in the killings, it was learned. They believe the killers were hired by the former Premier.

Two prominent members of U Saw's Myochit party were arrested yesterday at Tharawaddy, north of Rangoon.

One of those arrested earlier told investigators that Burmese soothsayers were consulted before the assassination and gave it their blessing, a high official source said.

Sullivan said that as a member of the Communist party in 1937, he had been asked to form a Marine Joint Council of all waterfront workers affiliated with the American Federation of Labor and the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada.

The Council had one object in mind: "That at any time the Communist Party decides that the time

Ottawa, July 26.—(C)—When H.M.C.S. Uganda goes out of commission next month, west coast charities and the Canadian Naval Service Benevolent Trust Fund will each benefit substantially from the distribution of the ship's fund, naval service headquarters announced last night.

Final distribution of the fund is to include a gift of $1,000 to the King George V Cancer Fund, another of $1,000 to the Queen Alexandra Soldiers' Children's Hospital, $1,000 to the Victoria Orphanage, $500 to the Victoria Boy Scout Association, $500 to the Salvation Army, and $500 to the Red Cross.

The remainder—about $1,000—will go to the Canadian Naval Service Benevolent Trust Fund.

The Uganda's operational duties will be taken over early in August by the Cruiser H.M.C.S. Ontario, which has just completed an extensive refit. Uganda will remain in Esquimaux as part of the navy's reserve fleet.

It is opportune that they are in a position to pull a general strike, the seamen and the joint council could be utilized to spearhead such a strike."

Referring to the seamen's strike last summer, Sullivan said that six weeks prior to the walkout directions and instructions were in the hands of every Communist leader in Canada "for them to stand by and have their apparatus ready to raise funds in the event that it was necessary to organize and work for a general strike."

In conclusion, he warned that if labor does not rid itself of the Communist influence which is engulfing it then labor "will find itself with labor laws which are not aimed at labor but which are aimed at the monstrosity which today is speaking in their name."

Histories of the shrine claim the first cure was performed upon one of the ten Breton sailors who, supposedly saved from the furies of a storm, built the first wooden chapel in 1658. The story says that Louis Guimont, although a cripple, brought three small stones for the church foundation and for his devotion was cured instantly.

The shrine has taken on tremendous proportions since its founding by the sailors. The chapel has become a massive stone basilica with accommodations for 7,000 persons, 2,000 seated.

It is estimated there have been about 19,000,000 visitors, about 75 per cent of them Roman Catholics.

Today's observances will be climaxed in the evening by solemn benediction and an outdoor candlelight procession up the side of the mountain past sculpted, life-sized Stations of the Cross.

Fantastic Sums Required For Chinese Rehabilitation

By

DeWitt Mackenzie,

AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

President Truman's new special envoy, Lt.-Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, has got into action on his old stamping grounds in China to carry out a fact-finding mission which is calculated to provide Washington with material for an overhauling of its policy of assistance for this important but war-battered member of the Big Five.

Without waiting to hear from the general we know that he is finding this vast nation in far worse condition politically, economically and militarily than he ever has seen it before. Untold millions of its half-billion people are hungry unto death. Inflation is fantastic and the economy of the country is wrecked. The nationalist Government at Nanking is trying to ride a whirlwind.

The civil war is producing widespread and bloody fighting. Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's fresh offensive to try to deliver a knock-out blow to the Red armies finds the Communists not only holding their own but on the initiative generally, with Manchuria and great reaches of Northern China largely in their hands. And Nanking says that the Chinese Reds are receiving aid from the Russians.

As one surveys this chaos, and the elements which are contributing to it, there would seem to be only one way out for Chiang Kai-Shek and his government, and it is this:

1—To fling enough military force against the Communist armies to cripple them and hold them down, and then

2—To do a thorough job of house-cleaning in the Nanking Government, and inaugurate sweeping reforms attractive enough to win back that portion of the Chinese population which has forsaken Nanking to chase Communist rain-bows.

Of these two essentials, the first obviously presents an obstacle which may be insurmountable. The financing of an all-out war by Chiang's armies against the Chinese Communists would run into countless billions of dollars, a sum which would stagger the imagination of the only nation in the world capable of producing it—the United States. Not only would there be the huge military expenditures, but meantime the economic machine of the country would have to be kept running full tilt.

Such an operation might easily last for years and the outcome would be problematical, for there are intangibles involved. The most important of these is whether Nanking has the right information in its hands that Moscow is backing the Chinese Reds. If Russia is giving such assistance, the situation looks grim indeed.

There is a school which holds that the Chinese Communists aren't the same brand as the Russians—that the Celestials are just discontented agrarians. As a matter of fact General Chou En-Lai, one of the top Chinese Communists, told me in 1943 at Chungking that there was no connection between Moscow and Chinese Communism. However, there are many observers who think otherwise, and they don't overlook the fact that the late Dr. Sun Yat-Sen, father of the Chinese Republic, called in several Russian Communists as advisers and that the formation of a Communist party resulted. It doesn't take much imagination to believe that Chinese Communism and Russian Communism aren't far apart.

In any event, Uncle Sam certainly will be faced with a momentous decision. If General Wedemeyer ultimately should report that the two conditions set forth above must be met if China is to be saved from Communism and put on her feet.

for us to bring to Cookshire," says Secretary Hodgman, "but we want to get the best there is and give folks something they'll long remember this year, and I think in this great Hamond show, Fun and Frolics of 147 Cookshire Fair will be presenting the greatest show in its history. It's big-time stuff, right from the biggest exhibitions, and is a complete two-hour revue in itself."

Plans are underway to have the Sherbrooke Riding and Driving Club present a Horse Show during the Fair, but final plans for this event are still not complete. Jumping, riding and driving classes will be staged as a part of the evening performance, if present plans are completed.

Cookshire Fair prize lists are out today and are being mailed to all prospective exhibitors throughout Compton County. The Fair starts on Sunday, August 17th with a big program of races, and continues afternoons and nights, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, August 18th, 19th and 20th.

Losing interest—losing friends—she never went out any more—always too tired. "Nerves," she thought—but it was her kidneys—the filters of her blood—that needed attention. Dodd's Kidney Pills contain essential oils and medicinal ingredients that act directly upon the kidneys—and help restore their normal action.

Strangers

Few Parents, Children Get To Understand Each Other

One of the most tragic things in the human relationship is that so few parents and children ever get acquainted with each other. Father and mother have been thrown in the most intimate contact with John and Mary ever since the hour of their birth, but to all intents and purposes they are as much strangers to each other as if they came from different parts of the world and spoke different languages.

Parents are forever complaining about the ingratitude of their children. They tell how they nursed them when they were helpless little babes, how they worked and sacrificed to give their youngsters advantages that they never had, how they looked forward to the companionship that they would have when their sons and daughters grew up. And instead of reaping this rich reward, their children show them no affection, never want to stay at home, and are more intimate with the neighbors across the street than they are with their own fathers and mothers.

There isn't a day that I don't get scores of letters from bewildered teen-age girls and boys asking for advice and telling the secrets of their hearts. Invariably they wind up by saying: "Oh, how I wish I had a mother or father with whom I could talk things over. But I haven't. I never could make mom and dad understand."

PARENTS' VANITY

So John gets into scrapes, which his father could have saved him from if only they had been on speaking terms. And Mamie ruins her life by eloping with a boy who is just as unfitted for marriage as she is, because she couldn't go with her perplexities to a woman with whom she is so slightly acquainted as she is with her mother.

The pitiful thing about this barrier between parents and children that keeps them from getting to know each other and having the companionship that they crave is caused by fathers' and mothers' vanity. They are so anxious for the admiration of their children that they pose as oracles who know it all and never make a mistake and as little tin gods who must be kowtowed to, without questioning whether they are right or wrong. Naturally, poor little teen-age Johnny and Mamie feel that they never can be intimate with these august beings and able to discuss small problems with them.

An elderly man once said to me that one of the regrets of his life was that he had never gotten acquainted with his father, who was an exceptionally intelligent and brilliant man. "I am sure," said my friend, "my father and I would have enjoyed each other very much, but I always stood in such awe of him that I never had a free conversation with him."

Thousands of other men and women have the same experience and go through life wishing that they had really known their parents well enough to have been chummy with them and have talked over their problems on a common, human platform. It would save many a heartache and many a tragedy, for practically every father's and mother's greatest desire is to help their children make successes of their lives. To this end they work, strive and sacrifice and so often it is love's labor lost, for they are so little acquainted with their boys and girls that they do not know their needs and so are powerless to help them.

The moral of all of which is that if we want to be friends with our children we have to put up with them in their cradles.

The Record will be pleased to receive any letters to this Dorothy Dix column. These will be forwarded to Miss Dix who will answer them as quickly as possible.

WATERVILLE

As the guest of honor arrived the "Wedding March" was played by Miss Gladys Swanson, who also accompanied Mrs. Royce Gale in the solo, "I Love You Truly." On behalf of the Ladies' Aid Society of the United Church, Mrs. Gale presented Miss Beckett with a beautiful crystal cream and sugar set with tray. PRIZE RAINCOAT

New York, July 26.—The sporty raincoat abode of unglamorous yellow cotton duck-cloth won a prize for home-sewer Lucina Calenda, 23-year-old New Yorker.

What taught the judges' fancy in local preliminaries of the national sewing contest was the small expenditure of money and large amount of good styling that went into this unlined swaggar. The coat cost $10 to make, won Lucina a $75 cash prize.

Is it water-proofed? It will be when the young prize-winner dunks it in an emulsion of wax and aluminum salts, inexpensively packaged for home use. Diluted in warm water, this makes a water-proofing bath that gives a renewable finish to a coat that will keep its owner dry.

BRIDE-TO-BE GIVEN SHOWER AT SUTTON

Sutton July 26.—Miss Hazel Bates and Miss May Hextall were joint hostesses at a miscellaneous shower held at the home of the former in compliment to Miss Evelyn Jordan, of Bulwer, prior to her marriage.

The guest of honor was greatly surprised to find a large number of friends gathered to extend their good wishes. She was escorted to the living room to the strains of the "Bridal Chorus" and seated in a special chair prettily decorated in pink and white, which was placed beside a gift-laden table, over which was suspended a watering can covered with the same colors, and sending down many tiny crepe paper streamers in a veritable shower.

After unwrapping her gifts Miss Jordan charmingly thanked those present with a few sincere and well-chosen words.

Mrs. H. L. Hastings and Mrs. C. W. Henry, aunts of the bride-to-be, presided at a beautifully appointed tea-table, which was covered with a lace cloth and centered by a pink and white bride's cake. Tall white tapers in silver holders and baskets of cut flowers completed the decorative scheme.

The hostesses were assisted in serving by Miss Beth Hastings and Miss Betty Henry, of Cowansville, and Miss Jean Rough, of Toronto, Ont.

Among those present from out of town were Mrs. T. Jordan, of Montreal; Mrs. F. Allen, of Waterlooville; Mrs. Howard Hastings, Mrs. Bruce Miner, Mrs. C. W. Henry and Miss Betty Henry, of Cowansville; Mrs. H. L. Hastings, of Knowlton; Mrs. Henry Hoyt, of Alva; Miss Jean Rough, of Toronto, Ont.; Mrs. V. L. Hastings, of Bromley; Mrs. Harley Lahue, of Abercorn; and Mrs. L. Jordan, Mrs. George Robinson, Mrs. Arthur Derrick, and Mrs. Howard Bower, of West Sutton.

MODERN MARRIAGE

THE PROFESSOR EXPLAINS WOMEN

Dr. Paul Popenoe
"Why, no," said the professor. "I don't consider that women are hard to understand."

"Get in on this, fellows," shouted the third barber, who was trimming the professor's beard. "The professor is going to explain women. It's the chance of a lifetime!"

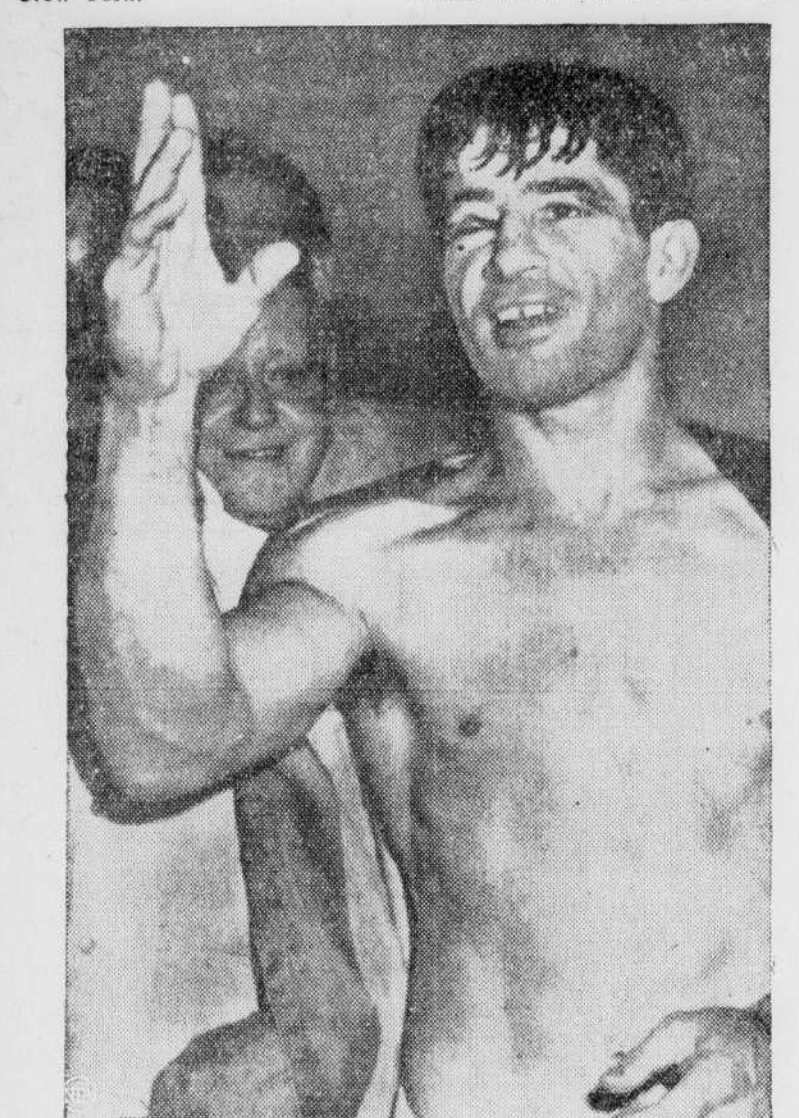

The head barber paused in the act of lathering a face and the proprietor of the second chair, temporarily idle, looked up from his study of the day's racing forms.

"It's perfectly simple," the professor insisted. "Femaleness is merely protracted childhood. In other words a woman is, in a sense, merely a man who hasn't grown up."

"Consider the facts yourselves. In a score of

Graziano Makes Joke Of Boxing Commission For Revoking License

New York, July 26. — As a knocked out challenger, Rocky Graziano was just another fighter whose license was revoked by the New York Boxing Commission. All Chairman Eddie Egan did in giving Graziano the boot was send the only big match of the year to Chicago, drive a lot of money out of New York, including a sizable sum in taxes. But as middleweight champion and the man who came back, Graziano makes a laugh out of the New York board. Championed by the National Boxing Association, he is more than welcome in every other state. Egan could save a further bad situation by licensing Graziano in New York.

The commissioner admits the district attorney's office has nothing on Graziano. Yet he permitted a publicity-seeking assistant district attorney to put a lot of words in the dead end kid's mouth. And then set him down in New York for failure to report a bribe for a fight that never came off. Anybody with an ounce of boxing knowledge knows that Graziano being offered $100,000 for throwing a fight to the run-of-mine Reuben Shank is a joke, which is precisely what Rocky said he thought it was. New York licenses for 1948 are to be issued in October. Egan would be wise to give Graziano one as a matter of course. Graziano won't fight again before then, and fighters being what they are, the 20th Century Sporting Club and New York boxing are badly in need of his services. The 20th Century Sporting Club also needs a new matchmaker. Mike Jacobs' organization could

"SPORT SHOTS and POT SHOTS"

BY
LEN. O'DONNELL

Well folks, here I am back at the desk once again after enjoying two weeks rest. I sure did roll away fast but I enjoyed every minute of it, and I am all set for the heavy schedule ahead of me, so folks, from now on you will be hearing from me every week.

The local baseball situation seems to have undergone quite a few changes during the past two weeks and at the present time the $51 question on the fans mind is "What seems to be wrong with our baseball club?" When I left for my holidays Jack Phillips had been named as manager of the club, but now the soft spoken Missourian, who hails from the home town of the famous St. Louis Cardinals, has vanished from the dugout. Presumably he is taking over the coaching duties the fans that attended the games at the local park very seldom saw any of our twirlers going the full nine innings. In his short term of office he had the pitching staff doing a very good job at throwing the ball, and they topped the league-leading Braves of St. Johns in three straight games, something that had not been accomplished to date, and had the club playing heads-up ball, which they are capable of doing with a GOOD MAN at the helm. But now is the big question, "WHY WAS PHILIPS LET GO?" Well, folks here is your answer.

There is always two sides to every story and after poking around I believe I have both sides. Guillet and Dube, co-owners of the club, claim that they were forced to let Jack Phillips go for the better of the team, as he could not get along with the players so they figured they would sell him to Drummondville. But they forgot one thing. In this kind of ball there is no such thing as forcing a man to go elsewhere if he does not want to, and besides he had a contract as manager which made him a free agent when the contract ceased to exist. Phillips' story did not coincide with this. He claims that he ordered the team to report at the field for a certain hour and a few players failed to show up at the given time, so he took them aside and told them what was what, the players turned around and told Guillet that they were going to quit the team if Phillips remained as manager, so the co-owners decided to get rid of Phillips. "I wonder what would have happened to these players if they had been playing on Ivan Dure's hockey squad last season?" I am sure that they would have been told off in a nice manner, and it might have cost them a little penny or so besides. To make a success of any sport you must have one guiding head and the owners must back this team 100%. Too many cooks spoil the broth. The fans are the people that pay the freight and they should have the inside facts about the case and so Maurice if you want the backing, let them know what is going on, come out with the facts. Why beat around the bush. The fans know that you are trying to get them a winning team and they appreciate it, but appoint a man that knows the game and that can handle these Mac Sanders, the local cinder track speedster, is at present confined in the Sherbrooke Hospital after having undergone a successful operation for acute appendicitis. He expects to leave the hospital tomorrow. This is a tough break Mac at this present time for you but I am sure that all the local sporting fans wish you a speedy recovery and hope that it will not be long before you are out heaving it around the track once again.

This year's winners in the city tennis tournament is a repetition of last year's title holders. Dr. Johnny Hibbard and his running mate, Roger Roy, copped the doubles crown and Hec Prefontaine pushed aside young Gaston Blais to remain the singles champ of the city. Nice going, boys, keep it up.

The old inter-club tennis matches of pre-war days are being revived today when the racquet wielders on North Hatley will be hosts to the Mt. Pleasant club. The team from the lake town will be represented by Hugh MacLennan, ex-member of the Orford University tennis club and author of the widely acclaimed best seller, "Two Solitudes," as well as Jim Barclay, Page Dame and John Bassett, Jr. The team from over on the hill will be chosen from Hec Prefontaine, Gaston Blais, Dr. Johnny Hibbard and Andre Panneton or Majella Charest for the singles with Dr. Johnny Hibbard and Roger Roy as number one team in the doubles with Hec Prefontaine and Ivan Boisvert the other team. Four singles' matches will be played this afternoon with two doubles tomorrow afternoon.

THREE PLACES OCCUPIED ON TENNIS TEAM

Montreal, July 26. — Two veterans who, in the normal course of events, would be nearing the end of the line in competitive tennis, and a slim young French-speaking Canadian with one year's cup play experience were named yesterday to three of the four positions on Canada's Davis Cup team. They were Gordie MacNeil and Edgar J. Lanthier, one of Montreal's best doubles combinations for several years, and left-handed Henri Rochon, another Montrealer who played singles for Canada in the Dominion's 5-0 loss to Mexico last year.

Joining them today after a five-set trial match in Vancouver will be either Brendan Macken, husky, tow-haired Montrealer ranked No. 1 in Canada, of tall Don McDiarmid, smooth-playing Ottawa stylist. Macken and McDiarmid were members of the 1946 team. Announcement of the team shake-up was made here and in Vancouver where all five players have been competing in the Canadian championships. It followed elimination of them all in singles and doubles play.

Doreen Dredge Sets Record In High Jump In Dominion Championship Meet

Clarke Stadium, Edmonton, July 26. — A light-footed Gazette from a Saskatchewan farm—red-headed Doreen Dredge of Kelvington—led a band of junior athletes who dominated the Dominion Track and Field championships at Clarke Stadium today.

Miss Dredge, who celebrated her 16th birthday Wednesday and was competing with track shoes for the first time, leaped to a Canadian record for the junior women's running high jump, going cleanly over the bar at five feet, 1 1/2 inches. The previous record was five feet, 1 1/4 inches.

In the junior men's running high jump, Billy Kennedy of Winnipeg, Ont., covered 43 feet, 10 1/2 inches, and tied the record in the junior "B" men's 120-yard

BELT CANNOT BE PRESENTED IN N.Y. STATE

New York, July 26. —(P)—The New York State Athletic Commission today refused permission for the presentation of the Ring Magazine middleweight championship belt to Rocky Graziano in the ring at next Wednesday's Tami Mauriello-Gus Lesnevich fight.

Chairman Eddie Egan said it was a commission rule that no belt whose license has been revoked could appear in a New York ring.

Graziano, whose New York license was revoked last February for failure to report two alleged $100,000 bribe offers, won general recognition as middleweight champion when he stopped Tony Zale in the sixth round at Chicago July 16.

TOP HORSES TO COMPETE FOR RACE CLASSIC

Chicago, July 26. —(P)—Eight top three-year-olds shoot for $72,500 in the $94,800 Arlington Classic tomorrow, with the prospect that the long-striding Fervent, owned by Warren Wright's Calumet Farm, will go to the post odds-on favorite.

Fervent will carry the hopes of the Midwest in the inter-sectional affair which has drawn three Eastern stars and four from California. King's Ranch sensational filly, But Why Not, and William Helli's Cosmic Bomb and Miss Kimo, represent the East. From the Pacific Coast have come On Trust, the entry of the W-L Ranch; Mrs. Rea Warner's Stepfather; and Captain Flag; and the filly Homet Square one of three members of her sex to compete in the 1 1/4-mile classic.

Fervent has scored three sparkling victories at Arlington Park. His chief contention may come from But Why Not, which twice finished second to Phalanx, leading Eastern three-year-old. Earlier But Why Not won the Pimlico Oaks and Acorn Stakes at Belmont Park and last Monday defeated older mares and fillies in the Arlington Matron handicap. On Trust which finished fourth in the Kentucky Derby and second in the Preakness, also figures among the challengers along with Cosmic Bomb.

Two New Pitchers To Arrive For This Evening's Fixture At Stadium

The Acton Vale baseball club slugged out a 9-5 verdict over the local club last night at Victoria Park Stadium.

The visitors poked out a total of nineteen hits off the offerings of Lefty Letteri and Lefty O'Rourke, who replaced Letteri in the seventh inning, but only crossed the plate nine times leaving eleven men stranded on the base lines.

Lefty McInnis, who went the route for the visiting nine, allowed only six hits for five runs. Sherbrooke left five players high and dry.

Both clubs started off with a run in the first. In the second the visitors got one more with two in the third. Sherbrooke picked up two tallies in the second and then were held off the score sheet until the sixth when they managed to get two runs on three hits to put them out in front 5-4.

Acton Vale Scores 4 Runs
In the seventh Coach Williams' boys picked up a free ticket with two consecutive singles off of Letteri, who then gave way to O'Rourke, but before the side was retired they had registered four runs and fattened their averages with five hits, including a double.

low hurdles won by Kimball Kimbark of North Toronto in 14.6 seconds. In the second-last event of the afternoon, long legged Gord Haight of Hamilton glided to a Canadian record in the junior "A" men's 880 yard run, his time one minute, 58.6 seconds or 1/10th of a second better than the previous Dominion Junior time for the half-mile. Miss Dredge also won the junior women's running broad jump with a leap of 15 feet, 5 1/2 inches, edging out Phyllis Cooper of Winnipeg who was second and Jacqueline Antrim of Mannville, Alta., third.

Kimball, the outstanding junior or from the North Toronto Track Club, also was a double winner. Only 16, he won the senior men's 120-yard high hurdles in 17 seconds, well off the Dominion record.

Sylvia Fedoruk of Saskatoon was a winner of two events in the Senior Women's division, taking the javelin throw with a toss of 103 feet, 1/2 inches and the Softball throw with a pitch of 186 feet, 4 1/2 inches.

Dave Black of Toronto took the junior "B" men's eight-pound shot put with a heave of 53 feet.
