Seized tainted meat to become feed, fertilizer

SHERBROOKE (RM) — Tons of tainted meat confiscated by authorities from a Magog packing plant last month is destined to become animal feed and fertilizer. The Record has learned.

The meat, totalling 128 tons, was shipped to a rendering company near Montreal Tuesday from a produce warehouse here.

where it had been stored by the provincial government since it was seized from Federal Packing Inc.'s Magog plant, about four weeks ago.

The seizures, a combined effort of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police and the Quebec Police Force, came as the Quebec Police Commission inquiry into organized crime began investigating the sale of tainted meat and horsemeat by Federal to food stores and in turn consumers.

The stock is only part of Federal's inventory which was confiscated. Meat seized in the Montreal area from Federal's plant there are currently in warehouses by the harbour, purportedly owned by the Federal Government.

The meat confiscated from Magog was stored exclusively at Thompson & Alix Limited, of Roy Street in Sherbrooke, under contract with the government.

Paul-Andre Blais, of Thompson & Alix, said the government had asked for use of the company's refrigerated storage areas to place the meat in temporarily, due to the large size of those areas.

Thompson & Alix, which only handles and supplies produce such as fruits and vegetables, has no connection whatsoever with Federal Packing, Mr. Blais stressed.

The meat was kept at Thompson & Alix, under government supervision, since it was first seized until last Tuesday, when trucks from Paul & Eddy Renderers carted all 128 tons stored to their plant and head office in St-Eustache, north of Montreal.

There the meat is to be "rendered," a process in which the meat is ground, evaporated, separated from any excess oil, and dry-ground. The procedure is done under supervision of the Federal government.

The final product may be used for feed to livestock or poultry, or as fertilizer.

SHIPPING OUT — Meat confiscated from Federal Packing about four weeks ago and stored under contract by the provincial government at a produce warehouse in Sherbrooke was shipped out for a renderer's plant near Montreal Tuesday. This photo was taken by the street where the loading of the meat could be viewed by anyone; provincial authorities refused to allow close-up shots of the operation to be made.

Cowansville jail escapees captured

LAC MEGANTIC (CP-RM) — Quebec Police yesterday recaptured two prisoners who escaped from the Cowansville penitentiary last week, in a cottage near here.

Benoit Roy, 25, and Dennis Pearson, 20, were also wanted in connection with the murder of Jean-Paul Tringle, 46, a Farnham taxi driver who was found murdered in Dunham last weekend, and two recent armed hold-ups.

The two are currently in Montreal for questioning by police.

The close-in on Roy and Pearson in Lac-Megantic began Tuesday, when a theft from the Motel Panorama in Lac Megantic the night before was discovered.

Further investigations led PPF officers to the cottage at Piopolis, near Lac Megantic, where they found the two escapees, together with a 17-year-old Montreal girl whose name is being withheld.

In the cottage, police found a loaded shotgun, a revolver and $350 in cash. Also found were a television and blankets stolen from the motel, as well as the taxi cab that belonged to Mr. Tringle.

Roy and Pearson, who escaped June 5 from Cowansville, gave themselves up without resistance.

Roy was serving four years for convictions on conspiracy and breaking and entering charges; and Pearson, three years and four months for a fraud conviction.

Quebec Police Force units in Lac-Megantic, St-Georges-de-Beauce, Quebec, Sherbrooke and Montreal all had a part in the apprehension.

2 injured in collision

SHERBROOKE (RM) — Two men were injured early this morning when the car they were driving in collided head-on with another on King West near London Street.

Jean-Yves Collin, 28, and Maurice Champagne, 25, both of Sherbrooke, were taken to Hotel-Dieu Hospital for treatment. They were later released.

The accident occurred at about 3:30 a.m.

The World in focus

U.S. gas tax killed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A proposed 23-cent increase in the federal tax on a gallon of gasoline, the most hotly contested part of the comprehensive energy tax and tariff bill, was killed by the House of Representatives on Wednesday night.

The vote was 209 to 187. The House cut 20 cents off the proposal. Later, the House finished off the proposal with the vote wiping out the remaining three cents.

The bill had been prepared for the House by its Democratic-dominated ways and means committee.

OPEC will raise prices

LIBREVILLE, Gabon (AP) — The Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC) says it intends to raise the prices of crude oils Oct. 1.

A communique issued Wednesday night at the end of a three-day OPEC ministerial meeting said the 13-country cartel would stand by its current price freeze scheduled to expire Sept. 30.

"However, in view of increasing inflation, the depreciation of the value of the U.S. dollar and the consequent erosion of the real value of the oil revenues of member countries, the conference decided to readjust crude oil prices as from Oct. 1, 1975," the communique said.

Algeria and Iraq had pressed for immediate price increases to compensate for inflation losses which they estimated at almost 40 per cent. Mohamed Yaganeh, the governor of Iran's Central Bank, told reporters the October increase should be around 35 per cent, but it was thought likely the cartel would agree on a lower increase to avoid further disruption to the economies of the less-affluent industrialized countries.

The conference also agreed to delay abandonment of the U.S. dollar as the basis for the computation of oil prices until the end of September.

Americans leave Laos

VIENTIANE (AP) — The United States presence in Laos shrank to 107 officials Wednesday and the Communist Pathet Lao mounted a campaign to root out Western influence in the country.

The U.S. embassy said more American officials were expected to leave on scheduled flights before the end of the day.

Officials said that after the U.S. Agency for International Development mission closes June 30 the embassy will probably be left with about 50 American staffers.

Meanwhile the Pathet Lao-dominated government ordered all gambling houses closed.

The Pathet Lao continued to hold without charge Rosemary Conway, 36, of Chicago and Las Vegas and a former teacher at the international school here. She has been held for eight days.

Gandhi convicted of political corruption

NEW DELHI (AP) — A judge convicted Prime Minister Indira Gandhi today of wrongfully using government officials in her last successful campaign for Parliament and barred her from public office for six years.

A spokesman for Mrs. Gandhi said, however, she will remain in office while appealing to the Supreme Court to set aside the conviction.

The judge stayed the sentence for 20 days so Mrs. Gandhi could appeal—a process that could take months. She is expected to ask the Supreme Court to continue the stay on the sentence until it decides on the appeal.

Mrs. Gandhi, 57, has headed the Indian government since January, 1966, and is the first Indian prime minister to be threatened with ouster by judicial process. Her two predecessors—her father, Jawaharlal Nehru, and Lal Bahadur Shastri—died in office.

Mrs. Gandhi was convicted by Judge Jag Mohanlal Sinha in Allahabad, her hometown in northern India which gave her a 183,000 to 71,000 victory in the 1971 election over Raj Narain, a Socialist.

Narain went to court with a number of charges. The trial was lengthy, with 60 witnesses for the prosecution and 37 for the defence.

Mrs. Gandhi took the stand for two days, the first prime minister since independence in 1947 to appear in court. She denied all the charges.

DEFEATS MOST CHARGES

Judge Sinha found Mrs. Gandhi not guilty of most of the charges, including that she exceeded the $4,500 limit on campaign expenditures, that she campaigned in air force aircraft, that her campaign symbol—a cow and a calf—was a veiled religious appeal to the Hindu majority, and that her supporters tried to bribe voters with free blankets and clothes.

But he found her guilty of the chief charge—that she used government officials in her campaign, including Yashpal Kapoor, a member of her secretariat in New Delhi when the campaign started.

Mrs. Gandhi is the daughter of the late Jawaharlal Nehru, one of the towering figures of Indian nationalism and the country's prime minister from independence in 1947 until 1964.

Her father's associates picked her to be prime minister after the death of Nehru's successor, L. B. Shastri, in 1966 because they thought they could control her. But in 1969 she split the party in a battle with its conservative leaders, vigorously pushed a program of socialist policies and in 1971 consolidated her power with a smashing victory.

Mrs. Gandhi's popularity reached its peak at the beginning of 1972 following India's decisive victory over Pakistan in the war that won independence for Bangladesh.

But since then the government has been buffeted by massive recurrent problems it has been unable to solve, including population increase, drought and food shortage, lagging industrial expansion, sectionalism and corruption.

Creditiste says opposition unity needed to down Liberals

SHERBROOKE, Que. (CP) — A Creditiste member of the Quebec national assembly said Wednesday that opposition forces would probably have to regroup around the separatist Parti Quebecois to defeat the Bourassa Liberal government.

However, Fabien Roy (Cred-Beauce-sud) told a news conference the PQ would have to modify their political attitude, especially regarding agriculture, to accommodate the aims of third-party groups.

Mr. Roy, one of two Creditistes in the national assembly, said opposition parties should not contest ridings where a PQ candidate stands a good chance. Likewise, the PQ should withdraw in districts where a third-party candidate offer a stronger challenge to the Liberals.

He said the PQ's separatist stand was not an obstacle to the unification of opposition forces because the party has agreed to hold a referendum on independence if they form the government.

The Creditiste member said a personal tour of the province revealed deep discontent with the Liberal government's inability to assure respect for its own legislation.

Mr. Roy's comments follow a recent call by Creditiste Leader Camil Samson, member for Rouyn-Noranda, for a unification of forces around the Ralliement Creditiste.

However, the two Creditistes, who sit side-by-side in the national assembly, are barely on speaking terms since Mr. Roy boycotted a leadership convention in May where Mr. Samson was elected party leader.

Prison hostage drama revealed

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C. (CP) — The men who worked to free 15 hostages held by three convicts at the British Columbia penitentiary are still wondering why the hostages turned on their knife-wielding captors.

One hostage, Mary Steinhauer, 32, was shot and killed in the barrage of eight bullets as a special tactical force of prison employees answered the sudden screams for help.

The hostages were being held in a tiny windowless vault near the offices where the three convicts had arranged for interviews at 8 a.m. Monday. That was when they seized the hostages.

Andrew Bruce, 26, a convicted killer originally from North Vancouver, B.C., suffered gunshot wounds and is in serious condition in a New Westminster hospital.

His cohorts, Claire Wilson, 25, originally from Campbell River, B.C., a drug addict convicted of attempted murder, and Dwight Douglas Lucas, 20, who axed a man to death in Manitoba, were taken to court Wednesday to face a joint charge of unlawfully possessing knives.

WILL ADD CHARGES

More serious charges were being prepared. Prosecutor Morley Kalnitsky said the Criminal Code of Canada has provisions under which murder charges could be laid.

Bryan Williams, a Vancouver lawyer who was one of the two principal intermediaries, said the final episode was unexpected.

"It just doesn't fit with the impressions we got from our visits on Tuesday," he said. "There are a lot of things that just don't add up."

He said the hostages were not desperate when he and another intermediary, Gary Bannerman, an open-line broadcaster with CKNW radio, saw them about three hours before the drama ended.

"Considering the circumstances, they were 15 relatively contented people," Mr. Williams said. "Sure they were uncomfortable and they wanted out, but they were not desperate; there was no fear of death on their faces."

The five intermediaries—Mr. Williams and law partner, Donald Sorochan, Vancouver Province reporter Jim Spears, Mr. Bannerman and Mordecai Briemberg, a writer with the Western Voice and former Simon Fraser University professor—have called for an independent inquiry of the incident.

Farm stabilization amendment under fire

OTTAWA (CP) — The cabinet can set production quotas for almost all agricultural commodities under a proposed Agriculture Stabilization Act amendment, opposition critics complained Wednesday in the Commons.

But Agriculture Minister Eugene Whelan said that is not the intent of the amendment. It would allow the agriculture stabilization board to take any steps deemed necessary by the cabinet "for the purpose of stabilizing the price of an agricultural commodity." Also, it would give the government "power to react quickly to unforeseen problems in this important sector."

Such emergency action would be taken only after consultation with producers and the cabinet would follow the recommendations of the agriculture stabilization board, Mr. Whelan said.

"I have no intention of becoming a dictator in Canadian agriculture because I know it wouldn't work."

Builders seek higher grants

OTTAWA (CP) - A national house builders' group is asking the federal government to increase grants substantially to the first buyers of new homes to encourage construction.

The Housing and Urban Development Association of Canada (HUDAC) also proposed in a letter to Finance Minister John Turner released Wednesday that the government broaden incentives for building new rental units.

The May 13 letter suggests that the five-per-cent federal sales tax on building materials be "rebated to the first purchaser of a new house in the form of an arbitrary grant."

The federal government already has introduced a $500 grant for first-time buyers of new homes which is effective for this year only.

The Ontario government also has brought in a $1,500 grant for first-time buyers of new and existing homes.

The letter, released by HUDAC president Berand Denault at an Ottawa Home Builders Association meeting, also urged the government to increase spending on the assisted home ownership (AHOP) and rental housing programs.

Urban Affairs Minister Barney Danson has indicated he is also pressing for such increases in the June 23 budget.

Mr. Turner has said housing will be a major item in the coming budget.

Mr. Danson said recently that funds for the AHOP program, which provides subsidies to moderate-income buyers of medium-priced housing, are almost used up.

And the government has received more rental housing proposals than it can finance under its program supplying low-interest loans to builders in exchange for rent controls over a period of years.

The association also suggested that the registered home ownership savings plan be changed to allow home buyers to use money saved as a down payment now with reductions for income tax purposes spaced over the next few years.

The savings plan now permits potential home buyers to save up to $1,000 a year with a lifetime maximum of $10,000. These savings could be used as income tax deductions.

The former builders group suggests that the government allow taxpayers to make down payments now with money already saved. This money would be deducted from income for tax purposes at the rate of $1,000 a year up to a maximum of $10,000.

The association also suggests the federal government provide rent subsidies for low-income people in conventional rental

New York

NEW YORK (AP) - The stock market managed a slight gain Wednesday on the strength of some early buying encouraged by signs of improving consumer demand.

Standard and Poor's 500-stock index showed a 1.11 rise at 90.55, and the NYSE's composite index of more than 1,500 common issues edged up .06 to 48.18.

NYSE volume dwindled to 18.23 million shares, down from 21.13 million Tuesday and the lightest total in more than two weeks.

Analysts said the market had begun to strengthen late Tuesday on the U.S. government's report that retail sales climbed 2.2 per cent in May as tax rebates were being distributed.

But the early upswing lost its force by mid-morning, with brokers noting some concern over the interest rate outlook.

Sweetsburg Court

SWEETSBURG WARD (JM) — Miss Christine Morin, of Brigham, was cited directly to the assizes by virtue of article 476 with the consent of all parties. Miss Morin is charged with criminal negligence causing the death of Jean Guy Lalonde, at Brigham, December 26, 1973.

Defence lawyer Pierre Bachand consented to have the transcription of the coroner's inquest, with the exception of Miss Morin's testimony, produced for purposes of the preliminary hearing.

Yves Diamond, Farnham, who earlier pleaded guilty to a charge of qualified robbery, was sentenced to three months imprisonment by Judge Gerard Normandin. Crown prosecutor Claude Noisieux produced a presentence report then told the bench the facts of the case would normally be subject to an in-camera hearing. He suggested a prison term at the discretion of the court as Diamond had a prior record on a count of theft.

Judge Normandin told the accused he was lucky he had not employed a weapon in the $11 robbery or he would have been sent to penitentiary. Diamond assaulted another homosexual and robbed him in Farnham during April 1975.

Judge Normandin found Denis L'Herauld, Drummondville, guilty of dangerous driving, reduced from criminal negligence in the operation of a motor vehicle. L'Herauld's fiancée died as the result of an accident near St. Joachim during the summer of 1973.

Crown prosecutor Noisieux suggested a heavy term of imprisonment. Claude Leveille, L'Herauld's lawyer said his client was gainfully employed and he had suffered a tremendous personal loss as a result of the accident. He suggested any prison time handed down be served on weekends.

Judge Normandin told the young man he would not lose his job and sentenced him to 20 days in jail, to be served on ten consecutive weekends from Saturday at 7 p.m. until Monday at 5 p.m. L'Herauld was then prohibited to drive a motor vehicle in Canada for two years. Judge Normandin recommended he be able to serve the time in the Drummondville Jail.

Terry Hadd, Waterloo, changed his option and pleaded guilty to two counts of breaking and entering dwellings in the Town of Brome Lake.

Crown attorney Noisieux told the court a co-accused, Garry Wood, had been sentenced to two months and said he could ask no less in the case of Hadd.

Hadd's defence lawyer Alain Brun argued Hadd had been dragged into the crime by Wood and another accomplice, he suggested he be given a suspended sentence as he had not entered the homes but had stayed at the automobile. He said Hadd netted $17 from the thefts.

Crown attorney Noisieux, in rebuttal, said Hadd's car had been used in one of the robberies and the stolen goods, which were recovered, were found at his residence.

Judge Normandin ordered Hadd detained until June 11 when he will render sentence.

A charge of simple assault against Leo Faucher of Cowansville was dismissed when his wife denied her husband had hit her. Judge Normandin said family fights should not be brought before a court of the sessions.

Paul Racz, Montreal, pleaded not guilty to counts of possession of a restricted firearm and assault causing bodily harm on the person of Stewart G. Katariski, in Noyan, May 24. He chose jury trial and the preliminary hearing was fixed to June 19 at 2 p.m.

Racz was allowed his freedom pending the hearing with the condition he does not communicate in any form with his victim who resides in Ville St. Laurent.

Richard Couture, Waterloo, was ordered held in preventative detention pending his trial at the upcoming term of the local assizes following a preliminary hearing on a charge of breaking and entering and theft at Central Taxi, Waterloo, June 2.

The crown produced two witnesses at the hearing. Mr. Noisieux then told Judge Normandin the accused had been sentenced to three months and placed on a one year parole following a conviction of a count of theft in Sweetsburg Court in February 1975.

"He was released May 2 and this crime occurred exactly one month later. I feel he will be a danger to the public if he is allowed his freedom."

Judge Normandin concurred with the crown. Couture was smiling as he was led off to cells.

Maurice Gaudreau, Winnipeg, changed his option and pleaded guilty to having defrauded Bienvenue Automobile, Bedford, of $1,512 on March 2, 1974.

Judge Normandin reserved sentence to June 11 at the request of the crown who told the court he wanted to determine if the accused was gainfully employed in Manitoba.

Gaudreau's lawyer Pierre Bachand told the court this was a first offence and suggested he be placed on probation. Gaudreau will remain in cells pending sentencing.

Michel Fleury, 23, Knowlton, was ordered held in preventative detention to June 11, pending a preliminary hearing on a count of breaking and entering.

Crown prosecutor Noisieux argued Fleury, alias Michel Bisson, would be a danger to the public.

Doris Valliere, Knowlton, and Jean Blanchette, Cowansville, pleaded guilty to a count of breaking and entering and theft of $245 at L'Auberge du Relais, Knowlton, during May 1975. Their lawyer Pierre Bachand suggested they be placed on probation as they had no prior records and the proceeds of the robbery had been returned to the rightful owner.

Judge Normandin determined they had no record. "I'll give you a chance. Your sentence is suspended for one year and you will be on probation for a similar period. To further remove temptation you must be in your residence by midnight."

They were then ordered to appear for Fleury-Bisson's preliminary hearing.

Armand Garneau, a former inmate at the Cowansville Institution, pleaded not guilty to a simple charge of possession of 1.5 grams of hashish. His trial was set to June 16. He is currently detained at the Archambault penitentiary.

Preliminary hearing in the case of Christopher Rodd was set to July 29. His lawyer Don Bissonnette maintained the act of indictment was not sufficiently specific to allow him to plead to a charge of breaking and entering a dwelling in West Bolton during the summer of 1974.

Mr. Noisieux told the court the accused had signed a declaration to the police and he couldn't remember the precise date of the burglary. Judge Normandin ruled the act was sufficient and demanded a plea. Rodd then pleaded not guilty and Mr. Bissonnette opted for jury trial.

Manson Thompson, Venise, pleaded guilty to having obtained fraudulent credit in the amount of $20 from Alexander Gold, in Venise, February 16. He was fined $15 and costs, in default three days, and was allowed 10 days to acquit the fine and costs.

ETRSB services reflected in budget

(Ed. Note: The following is an article prepared by the Eastern Townships Regional School Board for The Sherbrooke Record)

The program of development of the services which a school board intends to provide must be expressed in terms of an annual budget. Once it has been drawn up and approved the budget becomes an essential administrative guide. It provides a progressive follow-up for the carrying out of the programs and services to control the allotment of available funds.

The approval of the annual budget is the responsibility of the school commissioners who must receive final authorization from the Minister of Education. However, because the budget affects every department and individual within the school system, the drawing up of the budget must be a team effort coordinated by the boards' senior administrators. Budgetary control by service will thus be facilitated and made more efficient if the persons responsible within the services have participated in establishing the needs, in making up the budget estimates and in allotting funds in order to best meet the priorities established by the school boards.

The objective of the budget, as set out by the Department of Education, is:

(a) to provide for a coherent development of education throughout Quebec according to an equitable distribution of the financial responsibilities between the government of Quebec and the school municipalities;

(b) to promote a rational distribution of the financial resources among the principal academic services while leaving to the boards the planning of these services according to their own priorities.

To achieve these objectives the Department of Education has prepared and set up a financing system based on the normalizing of expenditures and revenues of the boards according to certain rules. The budget rules determine the level of expenditures admissible for grants. In the approval of budgets these rules are applied in order to determine the amounts of:

(a) authorized expenditures
 (b) budget balancing grants
 (c) supplementary school tax (inadmissible expenditures which are authorized but which are not admissible for grants and thus must be paid for by local taxpayers)

In the area under discussion there are three (3) Protestant School Boards which are:

LENNOXVILLE DISTRICT SCHOOL BOARD:

Responsible for taxation and elementary education in the counties of Sherbrooke - Stanstead-Compton.

THE ST. FRANCIS PROTESTANT SCHOOL BOARD:

Responsible for taxation and elementary education in the counties of Richmond - Drummondville - Arthabaska.

THE EASTERN TOWNSHIPS REGIONAL SCHOOL BOARD:

Responsible for secondary education in the areas covered by both the Lennoxville and St. Francis Boards but with no power of taxation.

Diagram 4.1.1 shows the Financing System of the Lennoxville and St. Francis School Boards. (the boards which form the Eastern Townships Regional School Board.)

Diagram 4.1.2 shows the Financing System of the Eastern Townships Regional School Board (E.T.R.S.B.)

The definitions of the terms in Diagram 4.1.1 are as follows:

NORMALIZED SCHOOL TAX
 For the school year 1974-75, the normalized rate is $1.25 per $100.00 of equalized property valuation for school board taxing purposes. This was explained in a previous article that appeared in the Sherbrooke Record on March 10, 1975. (The rate for 1975-76 will be $1.05 per $100.00).

OTHER GENERAL REVENUES
 Monies received from other areas such as educating pupils for other boards, cafeterias, etc.

STATUTORY GRANTS
 Administrative and pedagogical services. Textbooks, library, etc.

BUDGET - BALANCING GRANTS
 Grant paid by the Department of Education to a school board to make up the difference between the admissible portion of the expenditures on the one hand and revenues derived from normalized school taxes, statutory grants and other general revenues on the other hand.

SUPPLEMENTARY SCHOOL TAX
 A special tax which the School Board must levy in order to finance that portion of the authorized expenditures which is not admissible for grants. This tax covers inadmissible expenditures for the elementary and regional boards.

EXPENDITURES ADMISSIBLE FOR GRANTS
 Authorized expenditures which are in conformity with the annual budgetary rules and for which a school board may receive a budget balancing grant to the extent of the level determined by the application of the rules.

EXPENDITURES NOT ADMISSIBLE FOR GRANTS
 Authorized expenditures in excess of the level determined by the annual budgetary rules and for which a school board may not receive a budget balancing grant. These expenditures are covered by the supplementary school tax.

NORMALIZED LEVEL OF EXPENDITURES
 Level of expenditures set by budgetary rules.

The definition of the term in Diagram 4.1.2 not explained in Diagram 4.1.1 is:

REVENUE DERIVED FROM THE MEMBER SCHOOL BOARDS
 Sums paid by the elementary school boards to the regional school board to make up the difference between the authorized expenditures on the one hand and revenues derived from statutory grants and other general revenues on the other hand. These payments are known as apportionment charges.

As explained above, school boards derive a portion of their revenues from the proceeds of school taxes. Part of these school taxes are an additional assessment (supplementary taxes) made by school boards to cover what are generally called "inadmissible expenses". These so called "inadmissible expenses" are actually the amounts of money required by the school board for educational, student and transportation services, as well as administration, that are not covered by government grants.

Government grants are provided based on the province wide average requirements of school boards and therefore, it is almost inevitable that school boards incur expenses over and above the basic amounts provided by the Department of Education. These types of inadmissible expenditures must however be authorized by the Department of Education before a school board is allowed to make such expenditures and charge them through school taxes to the local property owners.

According to the Education Act all local school boards must tax the local property owners in their area the basic normalized tax rate. For example, the normalized tax rate for 1974-75 school year was established by the Department of Education at $1.25 per $100.00 of valuation. The difference between this rate of $1.25 and that showing on an individual's school property tax bill is the amount charged by the school board to cover the inadmissible expenses incurred by both the elementary and secondary (regional) school boards.

Border man enjoys Olympic windfall

BEEBE (RH) — Money may not buy happiness, but then again it may. Salvatore Galazzo, one of 10 men who won the million dollar Olympic lottery here last November, says he has been feeling "better than ever" since he hit the gold at the end of the rainbow.

Mr. Galazzo, who worked at Butterfield Division in Beebe, had only three years to go before his retirement when he won $100,000. "I quit my job in April," he said in an interview recently, "and I've been pursuing my hobby of fishing ever since. I bought myself two motors for my boat and a new truck. Some of the younger guys who won paid off the mortgages on their homes. Mine was paid off quite a while before I won. I had no debts to clear up either."

He said he was hounded by investment and real estate firms at first when the news of his winnings got out. "People kept trying to sell me land in Florida, but that's died down now. Most of the boys who won have been spending a good percentage of their money right here at the border. It's probably helped this community economically."

Mr. Galazzo said he might visit Florida this winter, but has no plans for any large expenditures.

"I'm just enjoying myself... that's all I want to do."

Road to be repaired

SHERBROOKE — Mount Pleasant St. here will be undergoing an overhaul this year, according to Guy Bureau, city councillor for the municipality's East Ward.

The cost of the project has been estimated at $250,000, and the work will be done to alleviate traffic circulation problems on that street.

The work is expected to start at the end of the summer.

THE ST. FRANCIS PROTESTANT SCHOOL BOARD KINDERGARTEN REGISTRATION
 St. Francis Elementary School
 Richmond, Que.
 The registration for kindergarten students at St. Francis Elementary School for the 75-76 school year will take place at the school on Monday, June 16 from 1:00 until 3:00 p.m. Students who have attained their 5th birthday on or before September 30, 1975 will be eligible. Parents are invited to bring their children and must also present a birth certificate.

IN FINE SPIRITS — Mrs. Mary Worster, formerly of Lennoxville and Sherbrooke and now at Youville Hospital, celebrated her 102nd birthday this week in her characteristic good-humor.

Celebrates 102 in fine spirits

SHERBROOKE (RM) — Mrs. Mary Worster, a patient at the Youville Hospital, had her 102nd birthday this week, but anyone meeting her would never believe her to be as alive at her age as she really is.

Indeed, the guests at her birthday party held Monday were startled when she quickly joined in the swing of things, chatting, singing, slicing the birthday cake, all in the feeling of warmth and good-humor that she has had throughout her long life.

She also welcomed gifts of flowers, birthday cards, friends and even reporters in want of an interview, all in

Herbicide spraying

The use of herbicides is deplorable in all but the most necessary cases in this day with knowledge available as to the harmful effects of such pollution on the health of people, animals, birds and plants.

The Stanstead County Women's Institute is to be commended for taking a strong stand against such use and for bringing before the public the issue of herbicides being sprayed along a railway line in the Eastern Townships.

The institute has petitioned Quebec Central Railway against the spraying of chemicals along railway tracks on the line running south from Sherbrooke to the US border. Purpose of the spraying is to control plant growth along the railway bed. The line goes through several towns, and residents whose homes border on the tracks have complained of the sprayings' ill effects.

A border town resident first brought her complaint of her health being affected by spraying to the Beebe Women's Institute which then carried the problem to the regional Stanstead County Women's Institute. Widespread support for opposition to the spraying has resulted.

A petition circulated by the Institute among residents in 11 of the towns which border the rail line from Sherbrooke to Rock Island was signed by 191 people. This has been forwarded to Quebec Central.

Other petitions have followed, one circulated at a local Women's Institute meeting, another circulated among professors at Bishop's University. Among the 20 professors signing were those from Science, Arts and Religion Faculties, showing the broad support given from all fields of study.

It cannot be disputed that herbicides are harmful to any life, be it human, animal, bird, fish or plant. To argue that effects in any case are small is simply avoiding the responsibility we all have in guarding the environment from harmful products, whether distributed in large or small quantity. Each small amount adds up to a cumulative effect which is harmful.

With the Eastern Townships relatively free of the pollution found in much of North America, citizens such as those who have signed the petition regarding the railway herbicide spraying are taking a positive stand in helping to guard our environment against pollution.

And at a time of high unemployment, the railway could take a more responsible role within the Townships community by hiring people to cut the brush, rather than spray it. More people would be employed, and the money spent in salaries by the railway to control growth would more likely be spent within the local area. At present chemicals used for the spraying are purchased from an Ontario firm.

Aims for more consumer protection

OTTAWA (CP) — Industry and government will be pressed to change several laws this year if the Consumer's Association of Canada keeps promises it made Tuesday to fight for its money's worth.

Representatives of the 100,000-member organization approved 15 resolutions urging changes they say would be able to protect consumers from high costs or bad health.

Despite internal problems with the 14,000-member Quebec wing, which threatened Monday to withdraw if conditions do not improve for French-speaking delegates by March 1, association president Jim O'Grady said he expected few problems.

The association voted to ask Health and Welfare Minister Marc Lalonde to change the Food and Drug Act to ban advertising directed at doctors and to require that drugs be labelled with generic names instead of brand names.

Dr. Murray Katz, a

Montreal physician who has supplied research material for the association, told delegates to the annual conference not to settle for controlled advertising.

"The drug industry would not suffer in any way if drugs were banned," he said. "Drug companies are not small groups of people begging for money to do research."

"They own spaghetti chains and cosmetic factories and their research expenditures are negligible."

SEEK SEAT BELT LAWS
Ron Cohen, chairman of the association's automobile committee, said the organization is pushing for mandatory seat belt regulations in every province. Nova Scotia has legislation yet to be proclaimed by the cabinet and Alberta, Ontario and the Northwest Territories are the next likely to implement such laws, he said.

Delegates said they will push the transport department to make mandatory the recall, at manufacturers' expense, of motor vehicles with safety-related defects.

Mr. Cohen said current laws require manufacturers to notify only original purchasers of the defective vehicle but there is no penalty if they do not recall them. The association called for legislation to ensure that the current owner is notified.

A health department spokesman told the conference that the government will study the effects of artificial food colorings, which conference delegates said may lead to cancer in adults and hyper-activity in children.

"These possibilities do exist but we are waiting for further studies to confirm it," he said.

Ontario delegate Betty Stewart sponsored a proposal to make it illegal for stores to sell merchandise not plainly marked with a price tag.

WANTS STORES STUDIED
The consumer affairs department was urged to study computerized supermarkets where merchandise is labelled with a code rather than a price tag. Shoppers' receipts contain the name of the product and its price but she said the system lends itself to profiteering.

The association urged that the consumer affairs department take over the food prices review board's job of monitoring food subsidies and that it recruit metric officers to set up regional campaigns on metric conversion.

The food industry will be asked to reduce the quantity of sugar used in processing foods and fruits.

"Canadians are the second largest sugar consumers in the world," delegates were told. "And half of Canadians are overweight at certain periods partly because of excessive sweets."

An agriculture department spokesman said regulations which remove all restrictions on sugar levels in fruit processing will be considered next week.

Parks Canada develops Yukon

OTTAWA — Outlining interim plans for Klauane National Park and the National Historic Parks and Sites in the Yukon, the Honorable Judd Buchanan, Minister of Indian and Northern Affairs, stressed that public participation will play a key role in developing master plans for the area parks.

"A master plan for the 8,500-square-mile Klauane National Park in the southwestern corner of the territory should be completed by 1977," he said.

"Full public participation in the development of this plan will begin early next year."

The Minister added that interim management guidelines for Klauane National Park have been prepared. "This will ensure an orderly development of plans for the park prior to the development of a master plan," said Mr. Buchanan. "At the same time it will provide for visitor use opportunities."

Klauane National Park
"Studies of resources, public access, interpretation, recreational potential and property management have progressed so that guidelines can be established," he said.

Klauane National Park, was set aside on February 22, 1972, to preserve the natural environment of the St. Elias Mountains and to provide for interpretive and outdoor recreational opportunities consistent with the National Parks Act.

The St. Elias Mountains are the highest in Canada, and the largest group of great peaks in North America. The snowfields comprise the largest non-polar glacier system in the world. The park provides one of the few remaining refuges in North America for Dall sheep, grizzly bear and mountain race of caribou. The presence of wildlife within this unique landscape provides a rare wilderness experience for the park visitor.

"However, with this spectacular terrain go unusual problems," said the Minister. "The inaccessibility of Klauane National Park demands unusual methods of public access, operations and management approaches."

The possibilities of public transit, including aircraft, buses and horses, as well as walking trails, is under study. Public transportation is seen as one of the keys to providing visitors an opportunity to view and enjoy the spectacular glaciers, mountains and valleys.

Identification of the principal access corridor should be made by fall. This will permit private enterprises to plan visitor facilities at locations outside the park near this corridor.

Beginning this summer, trail signs will be provided and interpretive nature hikes initiated to introduce visitors to the park. The future status of mining trails will also be assessed as part of the master plan. Some trails may be used as public transportation roads or form a portion of a hiking trail system.

The campground at Kathleen Lake, formerly operated by the territorial government, has provided the only contact with the park for the majority of visitors to date. Kathleen Lake will continue to play a key role as a major activity centre, with both camping and day use facilities. Plans are currently being developed for this activity centre, with commencement of construction slated for next year.

Preliminary work will begin this summer on a primitive campground at Mush Lake. Access will be by public transportation. This will provide an equal opportunity for all visitors, as well as controlling its use and ensuring the public safety. Provision will also be made to permit the use of power boats on Mush and Bates lakes.

Improvements are planned for the Dezadeash River road, to be available for public use in 1976. This will open up a further area of the park for day-hiking and scenic viewing.

One of the best known areas of Klauane National Park is the Slims River and the Kaskawulsh Glacier. The glacier is the closest one to the Alaska Highway - 16 miles away. Wilderness hiking and camping will be encouraged throughout this area. Access, at this time, will be by foot, with exhibits and conducted interpretive hikes. A spur road and parking lot are planned off the Alaska Highway.

"One of the most difficult tasks confronting Parks Canada is to provide an opportunity for the average park visitor to travel to the interior of the park," said Mr. Buchanan.

So far, there have been limited opportunities for park interpreters to contact the travelling public. A pilot project of nature hikes has been initiated, along with an interpretive exhibit on Sheep Mountain adjacent to the Alaska Highway. These hikes are proposed as a twice-monthly event throughout the summer.

Presentations on Klauane National Park have been made to communities and groups in the Yukon and a limited extension program has been conducted in regional schools, which will be a continuing program. Liaison will also continue with the Yukon territorial staff on public information and a Parks Canada information officer will be in the area this summer.

Further interpretive signs and exhibits will be erected along the Alaska and Haines highways outside the park. Information on Klauane National Park, the Chilkoot Trail, Dawson City and the Gold Rush Trail will be distributed from the territorial office at Haines Junction, as well as other suitable locations.

The administrative, interpretive and information centre for Klauane National Park, now located at the Experimental Farm near Haines Junction, will be moved to Haines Junction by 1977. The location is under review with the territorial government and local officials.

Record Yester Years 50 YEARS AGO TODAY

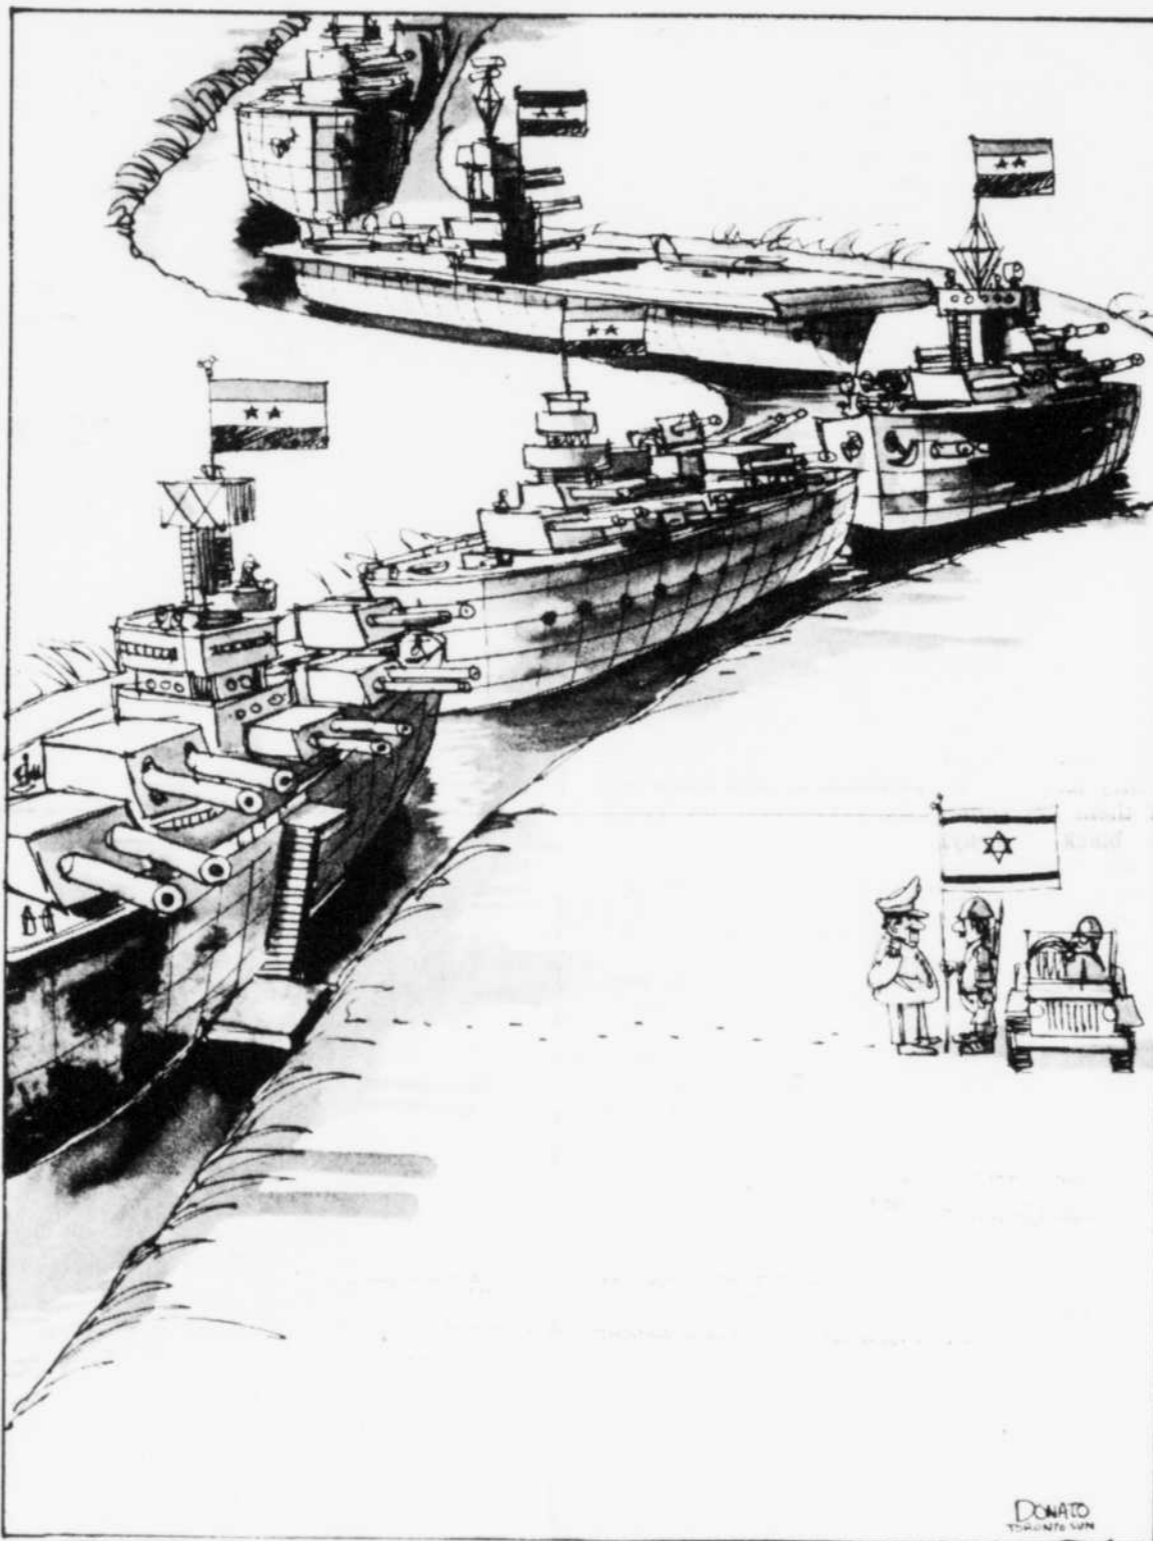

OTTAWA — "The United States has not responded as favorably as we might desire," said Hon. James A. Robb, acting Minister of Finance, when questioned in the House last night by Harry Leader, Progressive, Portage-la-Prairie, in regard to negotiations looking to closer trade relations between Canada and the country to the south. An item to provide for expenditures in the negotiation of treaties was under consideration in committee of supply when Mr. Leader put his question.

"To what extent have they responded?" pursued Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, Opposition Leader.

"To no appreciable degree," responded the Minister.

LAKE MEGANTIC — This district has had its share of varied weather as well as other districts, but the climax came on Wednesday night at about ten o'clock, when a regular mid-winter snow storm raged for half an hour, following a drop in temperature during the afternoon and early part of the evening.

On Wednesday and yesterday, the change in the atmosphere was so great that many residents used winter coats to advantage.

'THAT IS CORRECT...THE CANAL WAS OPEN THIS MORNING!'

More slogans USA

WASHINGTON — An American epic has been unfolding in our back offices. There is no other way to describe it. The story should lift the spirits of those who are depressed over the state of the nation.

It all began quite simply. We invited our readers, even as they were recoiling from the shocks of Watergate and Vietnam, to tell how they felt about America. We suggested that they reduce their sentiments to a slogan for the Bicentennial.

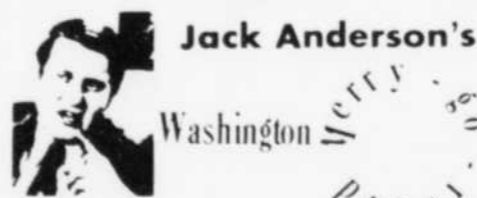

We have been absolutely overwhelmed with responses -- slogans, poems, songs, letters -- from more than 750,000 Americans. Children wrote to us by the tens of thousands -- children like Jane Barry of Medford, Mass., who wrote simply: "I am 8 years old, go to Tufts School and I am in the third grade. My slogan is, 'Beep Beep Make way for America!'"

Thousands of schools held contests and sent us the winning slogans. The fifth-grade winner in Springfield, Mass., for example, was Anna Martinez, who offered this: "America is a tune. It must be sung together."

Older Americans also responded en masse, like Mrs. Joseph A. Adamcik, a 64-year-old Baldwin, Calif., grandmother, who submitted this slogan: "America Today for the Best Tomorrows."

There were some sad letters. Helen Debnam, of Byron, Ill., told how her husband had died in Southeast Asia only a month before the truce. "I am left alone with three children to raise and with a debilitating disease," she wrote. "Still, I am proud to be part of a nation with 'A Heritage So Rich.'"

A few letters were bitter. A Vietnam veteran, who preferred not to be named, told how he had been crippled and blinded in one eye. "I'm not a poet, or a song writer. I'm not even a very good letter writer," he began. "What I am is disabled from the Vietnam war, the only war America has lost."

Jack Anderson's

"When I was sent to Vietnam, I felt proud that I could be one of the people to fight for my country. After I was wounded, I had a lot of time to sit and think about my life, and what I would do, or what I COULD do."

"For a long time I did what everyone else did. I blamed America, I cursed her, and I was bitter as hell. Then I got to thinking about all my buddies who gave more than a leg and the sight of an eye."

"The way I see it, with all that the American people have given, the sacrifices, the heartaches, the money, how could we give up on America now? Let's get together now that we're not at war. Let's 'Keep America First.'"

We have received mailbags full of letters like these, thoughtful letters like the one, too, that Fred Diebold of Linden, N.J., sent us. "With deep sincerity and gratitude," he wrote, "we salute our founding fathers for having had the guts to get involved."

If the slogans keep coming in, we'll soon pass the million mark. Most have been stirring slogans, like the one Mrs. A.B. Shearer of Fontana, Calif., submitted: "Trying Times are Times for Trying." Or as Robert Dielman of Brook, Ind., put it more colloquially: "America, we ain't perfect, but we ain't done."

Entries should be addressed to SLOGANS USA, Box 1976, Washington, D.C. 20013.

But there is more to the story, much more. Not only individuals but many organizations have volunteered to join in the search for a Bicentennial slogan. Philanthropist Edward J. Pizek was the first to contact us. The Copernicus Society, which he founded, has put up most of the operating expenses and is offering several cash prizes for the best slogans.

The first-place winner will get a 1976 Matador station wagon from American Motors to tour the country, free lodgings for his family for a month at any Holiday Inn and $5,000 from the Copernicus Society to spend on the trip.

Other prize money has been offered by Phillips Petroleum, Pepsico and Gemini Rising. The American Legion and National Jaycees have volunteered to help handle the huge volume of mail.

The American Song Festival will invite composers to set the winning slogans to music. The world-famous organization, Up With People, will sing the slogan music around the world.

The International Association of Fairs and Expositions will promote the slogan search at 2,800 fairs across America, and F.W. Woolworth will promote it through their 1,800 retail stores.

The Advertising Council will encourage radio-TV stations and newspapers to join in calling upon the public to speak up for America. Henry J. Kaufman and Associates has volunteered to handle the advertising campaign.

The American Freedom Train, with its precious load of priceless documents, has given space to the slogans. Major-league baseball, basketball, football and hockey have offered their support.

There isn't space to list all the participating organizations. Here are some of the most active: General Federation of Women's Clubs, National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, Urban League, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Boys Club of America, Johnny Horizon Program, American Airlines, Charles Benton's Films Inc. and Reader's Digest.

Women's Lib stirring film cauldron

By DICK KLEINER

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — More and more films are being started which feature women in the protagonist's role. More and more women are getting bigger and bigger jobs in Hollywood studios. More and more women are selling scripts for movies and TV shows.

The feminist movement is working — at least in Hollywood. And most of the new crop of Hollywood female workers give the credit to the Women's Lib movement, although most say they aren't Women's Libbers themselves. "I give all the credit to the Women's Lib movement," says Monique James, head of Universal's new talent program. "Oh absolutely it was the movement I'm not a joiner of movements but the movement brought it all to the consciousness of Hollywood and the producers."

"I don't think anything would have ever happened," says Tina Nides, Warner Bros. new story editor, "without the Women's Lib movement. Nothing ever happens in this country without a movement to draw attention to it. Nothing ever happens peacefully. It takes violence or something to get anything done."

"I think it all began," says successful writer Leigh Chapman, "when Women's Lib got so big they couldn't ignore it any more. Now Hollywood wants films dealing with liberated women."
Miss Chapman says she prefers writing about men but has just finished a script, "Sunreach," which is "a ladies' script." She says Hollywood is crying for scripts featuring ladies, so she wrote one.

She describes her previous films — items such as "Truck Turner" and "Dirty Mary, Crazy Larry" — as "macho" scripts. And she says that the fact that she is a woman (and, incidentally, a beautiful one) has never held her back in any way.

Actress Tina Louise, however, believes that women write better for women than men do. Although she says that times are better for women actors now than they have ever been she still believes it would be even better if there were more women writers around — and, of course, as far as I know there are no women directors at all.

But she is optimistic about her own career because she feels that now, at last, she can do something other than sexpot roles. In the new climate of Hollywood, they are letting women play stronger roles. She was, for example, a costar in "The Stepford Wives," a controversial women's film.

"I think," she says, "it made a very strong pro women statement. Really, it was a warning to women as to what might happen to them if they don't watch out. And yet some feminists completely misinterpreted it and feel it's anti-woman. It's not, at least I don't think it is."

There have been other recent pictures dealing primarily with women. And Universal's Monique James predicts many more. "Today," she says, "they are writing parts for women again. It used to be that most films were for women, in the days of Crawford, Loy, Harlow, Colbert. But then something happened and it all changed. I'm not sure what it was, perhaps the war, perhaps when they realized that many of the women stars of that era looked good but really couldn't act."

Today, she says, it is no longer beauty that counts. In fact, beauty can be a detriment to a girl's career. There are some good-looking girls around, we're not in business to make good pictures.

There's no doubt that the pendulum is swinging and that there are more and more scripts about women, about women who are larger than life. The problem is that there is no one to play them who means a lot at the box office. . . .

"Prejudice exists," says Miss Nides, "and some have been exhibited against me but not much. I believe my opinion is valued — if it weren't, I doubt that I would be in this position today."

"I don't think my career has been held back because I'm a girl," says Leigh Chapman. "I just can't believe those stories of women who claim their career has been held back by their sex. It just depends on the kind of thing you do — if you're a male writer and your credits consist of 40 Mary Tyler Moore scripts, they won't let you write a Kojak. With me, as a writer of male things, it's hard to get a chance to do something about women."

But I don't claim my sex is holding me back. As a matter of fact, I sold the first script I ever wrote — an episode of Burke's Law.

One thing all Hollywood's women are agreed on — things are changing for females here, both on and off the screen, and Hollywood will never be the same again.

There's no doubt that the pendulum is swinging and that there are more scripts about women . . . The problem is that there is no one to play them who means a lot at the box office . . .

Ladies Aid plan picnic

WINDSOR — Lower Windsor Ladies Aid met at the home of Mrs. Wm. Paterson on Wednesday afternoon, June 4, with fourteen members and five guests present. A new member, Mrs. James Farquhar, was welcomed into the group.

The meeting opened with the Lord's Prayer, followed by routine business. Correspondence included three thank-you notes for gifts received.

Plans were made to hold the annual picnic at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Farquhar on Sunday, June 29. The picnic lunch will be served at the noon hour as usual with sports, etc., during the afternoon.

Friends, far and near, are welcome to attend as usual. It is always a pleasure to have friends long gone come back for this event.

An amount of one hundred dollars was voted to the Windsor Cemetery Co. to help on the new fence that is to be erected along the main highway.

Tickets were given out to sell on a handmade quilt which will be drawn for at the picnic. Mrs. Irene Farquhar acted as auctioneer for articles brought in by Mrs. K. Lacroix and Mrs. C. McCourt. A drawing was held on three articles; an Esmond blanket, won by Archie Paterson; a hand crocheted table runner, made and donated by Kathleen Wheeler, won by Mrs. Bud Paterson; and a bathroom novelty, made and donated by Lucie Roy, won by Dora McCourt.

Mrs. Delbert Watson offered to have the September meeting at her home. There will not be any meetings during July and August.

At the close of the afternoon the hostess and her daughter, Shirley, served delicious refreshments.

Canadian Peep Show should be hit

TORONTO (CP) — When television viewers catch a new CBC series called Peep Show next fall, they will see the product of personal initiatives and enterprise rarely found in the nationally-owned network corporation.

They will see at least 11 half-hour dramas, most of them comedies, all written and directed by Canadians new to the field of television. "No two shows are alike," said executive producer George Bloomfield. "There may not even be any resemblance among them, but there is something poignant about the stories they tell."

"Most of them are comedies—some black comedy, some reviews, some slapstick—but there is one heavy drama, one drama-documentary, and the like." Peep Show is one of the results of the emphasis being given by CBC-TV to develop new acting, writing and directing talent under John Hirsch, head of the drama department. Last winter's shows on the Sunday night Performance series were a sampling of the new artistic freedom in the corporation.

RETURNING TO CBC Bloomfield was producer-director of the popular CBC series Festival in the late 1960s and, after working primarily in live theatre and films as a director, he has returned to the corporation to implement some of Hirsch's ideas.

They are to bring onto TV screens a lot of the talent that has been working in Canadian films and theatre without much chance to work in electronic entertainment. Hirsch also wants more TV drama to reflect Canadian interests and situations.

Bloomfield started almost a year ago by inviting stage and film directors across the country to work experimentally and learn television techniques in CBC studios here. From more than a score he has selected eight—and will choose three more—to direct half-hour shows specially written and tailored for the Peep Show series. Two, directed by Stephen Katz of Vancouver Playhouse and Paul Thompson of Theatre Passe Muraille, have been taped and the others will be shot during the summer and fall.

Working with Thompson, in particular, appears to have been a novel experience both for CBC executives and the corporation's technicians. For Thompson is a rebel in the theatre world, almost never working with a prepared script or much in the way of detailed plans.

Thompson improvises, and that isn't normally done at the CBC. He had an idea for a play about a young man caught in the fantasy world of television, in love with Mary Tyler Moore.

After two weeks of improvising, rehearsing and letting his imagination roam, Thompson put his seven actors before the cameras for two days and Bloomfield said the story jelled.

Mercier-Watson wed

A lovely spring wedding took place on Saturday, May 3, 1975, at 4 p.m. at St. Philippe's Church in Windsor, when Norma, daughter of Mrs. Delbert Watson and the late Mr. Watson, and Richard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elie Mercier, were united in marriage.

Father Dumont of Windsor officiated at the double ring ceremony, assisted by Rev. A. Cameron of Richmond.

A special passage taken from the Corinthians was chosen for the bride and groom, being read in French by the groom's sister, Johanne Mercier, and in English by the bride's brother-in-law, David Savage. Little Miss Parenteau sang at intervals during the wedding ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother Dale, wore a floor-length white gown with attached train, being trimmed with white lace flowers on the square yoke and stand-up collar, and featuring full sleeves from the elbow ending in points over the hands, also trimmed with lace flowers. She wore a large white picture hat trimmed with tiny pink rosebuds, and carried a bouquet of yellow roses and white carnations.

Little Tracy Watson, niece, and the bride's only attendant, wore a pink floor-length gown of polyester and carried a nosegay of tiny pink roses and white carnations. Mr. E. Mercier, father of the groom, acted as best man.

Mrs. Delbert Watson, mother of the bride, wore a floor-length gown of pale blue with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Mrs. Elie Mercier, the groom's mother, chose a floor-length gown of peach with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Cabane a T-Mile where a hot turkey supper was served to some one hundred and fifty guests.

The bride's table was decorated with two beautiful arrangements of pink, blue and white carnations in brass candelabra.

Later dancing was enjoyed throughout the evening by young and old, with music being provided by the Jacques Migneault Orchestra.

The happy couple left for a trip to Quebec, the Laurentians and other points of interest, the bride travelling in a light blue pant suit with a corsage of white carnations.

Out-of-town guests were from Level-sur-Quevillon, Sarfield, Ont., LaSalle, Sherbrooke, Richmond, and the local area.

Ann Landers Weepers aren't losers

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a 21-year-old male. My problem, Ann, is that when I get the least little bit upset I cry. It's very embarrassing because I've cried in front of people whose respect and esteem mean a lot to me. I've done this all my life and it's beginning to knock my ego to pieces.

I've never heard of a 21-year-old male who cried so much. Why am I so different? What can I do about it? — Ashamed of Myself

Dear Ann Landers: I wonder how many wives among your readers have my problem. I am accused by my husband of being frigid, cold and unresponsive. Why doesn't he take inventory and ask himself such questions as these: "When did I last shower, use a deodorant or brush my teeth? Am I sober? Does my breath reek of beer or booze?"

I'm basically an affectionate person. When we married, nearly 20 years ago, we were very much in love. Shortly after our honeymoon I became disenchanted. My husband's lack of personal hygiene was something I couldn't deal with. I hinted at first. Nothing changed. Then I came right out and told him. Still nothing changed.

This man is a college graduate. He holds an executive position with a well-known firm, is considered charming and intelligent — until he drinks too much, which is becoming more frequent. Our sex life is almost nil because of his lack of bodily cleanliness and excessive drinking.

Please print this letter, Ann. It's too late to help our marriage, but perhaps it will help someone else's. — Just Sad

Dear Sad: When people disregard personal hygiene to the point that they become offensive, it is often something beyond "carelessness." It's mental illness.

I've received similar letters from men who have the same complaints about their wives. I hope your letter will move those who need it to seek outside help.

U.C. Sunday School ends season

SUNDAY SCHOOL END — The Kindergarten youngsters here is scene of the joint outdoor Sunday School service.

DERBY LINE — Merrimack Girl Scout Camp on Sunday morning, June 1 was the scene of a delightful event to mark the closing of the United Church Sunday Schools of Rock Island's Stanstead South Church and Stanstead's Centenary Church.

There were no services in either of these churches that morning. The congregations gathered with the Sunday schools in the large open space that adjoins the Alfred Aldrich property.

Although the day was cloudy, it did not hinder the outdoor service planned. The songs of the birds mingled with the recorded hymn music, the singing, and the words of Rev. Mr. Stokes and teachers. After Rev. Mr. Stokes read the Lesson from Romans, the primary sang the chorus with the congregation.

The message given by Rev. Mr. Stokes was based on The Good News, "The Chance of a Lifetime," from the preaching of St. Paul, the Evangelist and his teachers. Mr. Stokes likened the Sunday school teachers to St. Paul and the opportunities offered the Christian family teachings through the Sunday Schools.

The kindergarten students sang "We've got joy - down in our hearts." During the service, Allan Nourse, superintendent, assisted by class teachers presented attendance awards to the following. Three year olds winners were awarded by Mrs. Melvin Dustin to Stephanie Currier, for three months; Rachel Gallant, for six months and Jodie Peck, for one year of perfect attendance. Jenny Neve, and Shawn Smith, each won an enrollment pin. Four year olds winners were awarded by teachers Sharon and Sherry Davis. Pins were presented by substitute teacher, Mrs. Dave Cuerrier to Matthew Burke, Matthew Jewett, Susan Rolleston and Wendie Weller. Each received a two year pin. Darlene Lussier and Chris Young received the enrollment pins.

Five year olds winners were awarded by teachers Mrs. Harvey Lothrop and Mrs. Arnold Nugent. Presentations were made by Mrs. Nugent to Tonya Neve, one year pin; Beatrice Chen, Lisa Clowery, Jeffrey Goodsell, two year pins; Lynnea Duncan, Tammy Ticehurst, Lysa Belknap, three year pins; Andrea Nugent, four year pin.

Grade one awards were presented by Mrs. Andrew Davis to Karen Stokes, third year; Vanessa Nugent, Sharon Rolleston and Brad Jenne, fourth year and to Bonnie Davis, fifth year.

Grade 2 girls, presented by Mrs. Arnold Thayer to Judi Rever, the enrollment pin; Peggy Alger, nine months; Cathy Dustin, fifth year and Linda Thayer, sixth year.

Grade 2 boys, teachers Ron Smith, Mrs. Wayne Smith and Mrs. A.J. Philip, presentations made by Mrs. Smith to Lee Hibbard and Stephen Reynolds, both four year awards.

Grade 3 (A) Teachers Karen Jenne and Mrs. Bruce Warner, presentations by Mrs. Warner to Melissa Warner, third year; Bruce Duncan, fifth year; Lisa Davis, sixth year and Sean Rolleston, seventh year.

Grade 3 (B) Teachers Brian Stuart, and Mrs. Ted Jewett, presentations by Mrs. Jewett to Melissa Jewett, Michele Stokes, Kal Weller, all fourth year; Nancy Ticehurst, sixth year and Mike Tilton, seventh year.

Grade 4, presented by teacher, Mrs. Terrence Walsh to David Warner, third year; Brett Nugent, fourth year; Darrin Peck, fifth year; Jerry Goodsell, sixth year and Heather Walsh, seventh year.

Grade 5 girls. Presentations by teachers Miss Dorothy Nourse and Miss Tammy Goodsell to Cindy Dustin, fifth year; Tammy Bishop, sixth year; Mary Curtis, and Shari Rolleston, seventh year; Claire Alger, nine months pin.

Grade 5 and 6 boys. Presented by Mrs. Mabel Wallace to Kim Bacheider, fifth year; Rance Peck, sixth and Todd Harding, eighth year.

Bridal Shower

LIBBYTOWN — On Saturday, June 7, the home of Mrs. Frank Smith was the scene of a very happy gathering when Mrs. Smith, assisted by her daughters, Mrs. Edgar Smith of Georgeville, Mrs. Jim Buelow of St. Hubert and her cousin, Mrs. Randolph Dustin of Cowansville, gave a miscellaneous shower for Miss Barbara Ann Burrows who, this month, will become the bride of Mr. Lloyd Smith of this place.

Upon Barbara's arrival, accompanied by her matron-of-honour, Mrs. Lasenba, and Mrs. Winslow of Birchton, she was presented with a corsage and greeted by approximately thirty of her "neighbors-to-be" and relatives of the groom.

When seated in the chair of honor which was gaily decorated with yellow streamers, she first listened to an amusing skit given by Mrs. Edgar Smith and Mrs. Buelow, the theme of which was a warning to all young women who are about to abandon the single status in International Women's Year.

Getting-acquainted games were played and then Mrs. Frank Smith, on behalf of all present and others unable to attend, presented the gifts which were not only numerous but attractive and useful. One of these was a large hamper filled with groceries, the compliments of J.B. Le Baron's store, Ayer's Cliff. Barbara was assisted in opening the gifts by Mrs. Weyland Pope, aunt of the groom.

The bride-to-be, wearing a gay hat made by Mrs. Bill Smith of Tomifobia from the bows and ribbons of the packages, graciously thanked everyone for the party gifts, skit and the opportunity of meeting so many friendly persons. She also extended a cordial invitation to each to join her in her new home for a "coffee break."

Delicious refreshments, including an attractive and tasty shower cake made and decorated by Mrs. Frank Smith, were served by the four hostesses.

Amid a shower of rain the guests departed, having first extended best wishes to Barbara Ann, our new neighbour-to-be.

E.T. Corroborree held at Iron Hill

By MRS. W. MASON

The Eastern Townships Corroborree was held at Fairmount Park in Iron Hill.

Fairmount Park is situated in the heart of the Shefford Mountains. There is a beautiful lake, playgrounds tenting and camping area and we of Iron Hill are proud and pleased that the Guides chose this spot for their Corroborree.

Corroborree is an Australian Aborigine word for Light Festival. The word Corroborree means to strengthen. And the aim was to strengthen and make friends with sister guides in the Eastern Townships area.

Miss Simone Bailey, Camp advisor for the Sherbrooke Division was the Guide in charge. Mrs. Norma McCord of Cowansville Deputy Area Commissioner and Mrs. Marilyn Page of Sherbrooke were on call as nurses in charge of Camp.

Mrs. Ken Herring associated with the Press of Lennoxville introduced me to all the Guides, many of whom I knew from being a Brownie Guide in the past.

Other Guides in charge were Mrs. Shirley Hall of Sherbrooke, Mrs. Brenda Stone and Miss June Chapman of Knowlton.

There were 326 Girl Guides from 21 companies in this area, St. Johns, Sherbrooke, Lennoxville, Bury, Waterville, North Hatley, Richmond, Danville, Asbestos, Brome, Cowansville, Knowlton, Stanstead, Rock Island, Beebe, Magog and Austin. Fifty-five leaders or Guides were in charge. There were 100 tents and four dining areas. Meals were made on Coleman stoves and some were cooked by charcoal grills. Tents were borrowed from Boy Scouts, Girl Guides and parents.

There were a few visitors of importance who visited remembered to thank Mr. Ken Miller for the delivery of milk to the camp.

Church service was held in the open called "Guides Own". Mrs. Edith Warner of Lennoxville, musical advisor for the Sherbrooke Division conducted the Service. Mr. Gordon Swift owner of Fairmount Park assisted the Guides with transporting wet tents to the road as the tents were again taken down in the downpour on Sunday at 4 p.m.

As I visited the first Knowlton company they were frying hot dogs and buns and they were enjoying their outing to the fullest. Miss June Chapman one of the leaders said, "I wasn't sure whether I liked Guiding but now I know I just love it - rain and all."

The girls seemed so cheerful and jolly and they all said that the food never tasted so good. Their spirits were high and I truly never visited a friendlier group.

There will be pictures and a few comments in a later issue so keep watching for them.

Legion Ladies Auxiliary

STANSTEAD — Tuesday evening, June 2, 30 members of Stanstead Frontier Auxiliary Branch, Royal Canadian Legion, met in the Legion Home beige room at 6:30 o'clock for a buffet supper of assorted casseroles, salads and desserts brought by members. Mrs. Alvina Dumas contributed to the dessert with delicious home made fudge.

Later the business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Doris Belanger. Routine reports were then heard and the roll call taken.

Final plans were made for catering for two wedding receptions in June. Several thank-you cards were read and one vocal thank-you given for remembrances.

Mrs. Hazel Westover reminded the members that this 1975 year is the 25th anniversary of the Auxiliary branch. Plans were discussed to celebrate this in the autumn with plans to be started this summer.

Mrs. Aileen Arbery, a member of the 25 years was wished a belated Happy Birthday which she observed on May 31.

Mrs. Belanger reminded

Three Villages

Adam in Derby Line. They were Mrs. Mattie Enright and Mr. Arthur Morris of Sherbrooke, who spent the weekend with Mrs. Adam, Mr. and Mrs. Alvah Hill and Heather of Magog; Mr. and Mrs. Burton Hill, Baldwin's Mills; Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Hill, Mrs. Mabel (Hill) Brown, Miss Alice Hill, all of Rock Island. Miss Heather Hill was observing her 12th birthday so the party took place at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Adam. A delicious buffet supper was served. The traditional birthday cake, a gift of Heather's mom was cut and served with all due ceremony. Heather was the recipient of cards and gifts for which she thanked everyone. The evening was spent socially.

Silver Beaver award

Mrs. Joseph Christino of Manchester, Conn., and formerly of Derby Line was recently awarded the Silver Beaver for 1975 by the Long Rivers Council, Boy Scouts of America. This is the highest honor Long River Council can bestow upon a volunteer for outstanding service to youth.

The awards were made to Mrs. Christino and others in banquet ceremonies held at the Aetna Life Assurance Co. in Hartford, Conn. Mrs. Christino, a specialist in training to serve the handicapped in Scouting, is a member of the National Training staff at Schiff Scout Reservation in New Jersey. She was also invited to be a member of the training staff at Philmont Scout Ranch in New Mexico but had to decline this offer.

She first became interested in Scouting through her son, Michael, now a lad of 14 years and already a Life Scout he will be an Eagle in October. She is a member of the Catholic Scouting Committee on Scouting and has served as a district communication chairman, assistant district commissioner on the Roundtable staff, a den leader coach, a member of the Pow-Wow staff and the district training committee.

Further, she was the 1973-74 sustaining membership enrollment chairman and yet finds time to spend with her husband and their young daughter, Cara. Also active in church work she is a member of St. James Church, Vice-president of PTA, a volunteer library aid, serves on the Church Ladies Guild, is the treasurer of the Italian-American Club Ladies Auxiliary, and is presently a volunteer teachers aide.

Mrs. Christino and her son in 1973 were on a travel tour to London, England where they visited Gulwell Park, the training center for Boy Scouts and Lord Baden Powell House where the history of the founding of Scouting is a feature. They also visited Hampton Court, where Lady Baden-Powell resides and many other points and places of interest.

This summer, she and her son plan to go to the Boy Scout World Jamboree at Lille Hammer, Norway, also visiting in Denmark and Sweden during their two weeks Friendship tour.

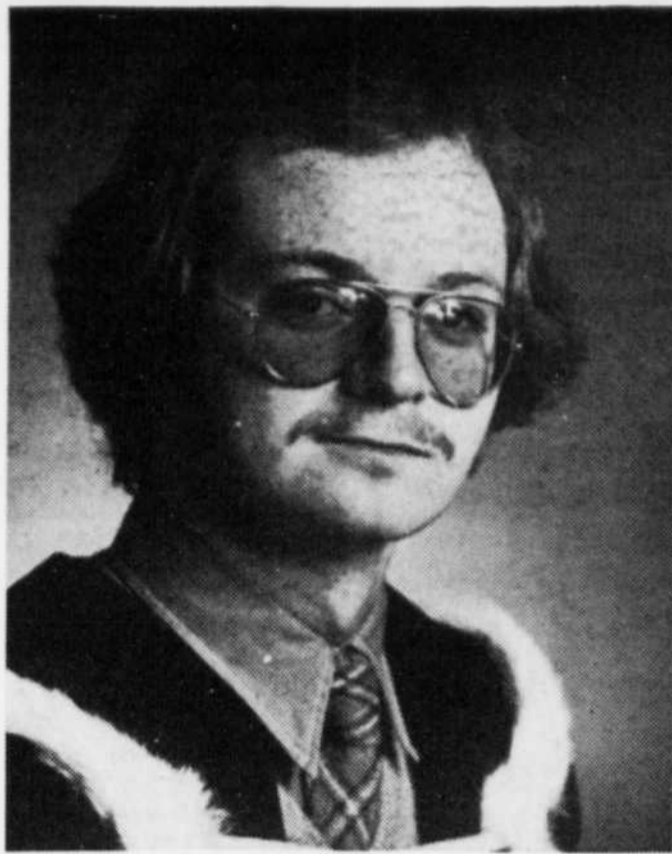

Mrs. Christino is the first woman in Long River Council and the only woman in the State of Connecticut to be honored with the Silver Beaver award.

She dedicates this great honor to the memory of her late father, Burton Jacobs, Sr., for she was one in a large family of children who were taught by their parents the fundamentals of life. The late Mr. Jacobs often told his children these words "Idle hands make an idle mind and an idle mind is the devil's workshop." These words Mrs. Christino never forgot and as she grew older they gave her more and more meaning.

Mrs. Christino was the former Joyce Jacobs, a daughter of Mrs. Josie Jacobs and the late Burton Jacobs, Sr. of Derby Line. She graduated from Derby Academy and took a course in Dental nursing, she practised and taught in Connecticut in which State she met and married Joseph Christino.

Her days are full and she feels much is due to the early teachings of her Mom and Dad.

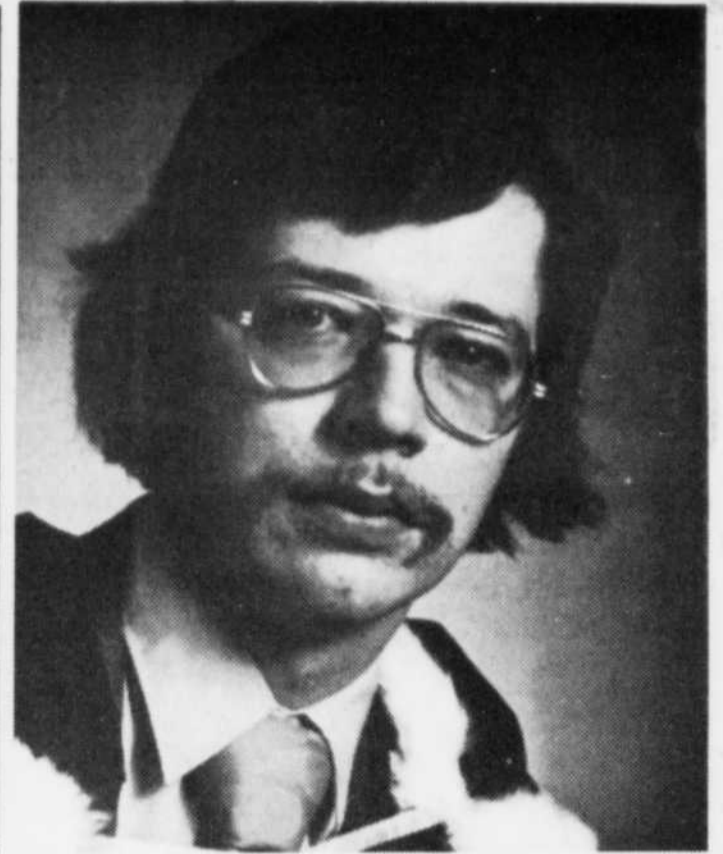

Graduates honored

Mr. D. Patrick Foley, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Foley of Danville, Quebec, was awarded an Honours Degree of Bachelor of Business Administration on Convocation Day, which took place on May 31st, 1975 at Bishop's University, Lennoxville, Que.

FRANCESCA DANCER, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Brian Dancer, Lennoxville, Que., recently received a B.A. with distinction from Mount Allison University.

Mr. Robert Collins, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Collins of Danville, Quebec, received his B.B.A. (Honours) at Convocation Day, May 31, 1975 at Bishop's University, Lennoxville, Que. Mr. Collins also received the Chartered Accountants Students' Society of Quebec Prize.

Ladies Aid — card party

HUNTINGVILLE — The Ladies' Aid held their May meeting in the Community Hall on the 20th with seven members and two visitors present. Mrs. Crosby and Mrs. Booth acted as hostesses. Mrs. Hunting was unable to be present, due to illness. The President, Mrs. Bradley, was in the chair. Mrs. Crosby read the 13th chapter of Corinthians.

The President welcomed the visitors to our meeting. The Secretary read the minutes of the previous meeting. Mrs. Sewell, before giving the Treasurer's report, moved a vote of thanks to Mrs. Bradley and Mrs. H. Aldrich for arranging our banquet. She said she had sent our usual $25.00 contribution to the Sherbrooke Hospital Campaign.

Mrs. Crosby read several thank-you notes. Mrs. Devany reported that flowers had been sent to Mrs. Lyonnais, who has been seriously ill. One get-well card and four sympathy cards had been sent out.

Two card parties had been held in the Hall, one on April 23rd and one on May 7.

Mrs. Sewell, Mrs. Devany and Mrs. H. Aldrich were appointed to attend a meeting of the RCHSS at the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital on the 21st. Mrs. Crosby volunteered to help Mrs. Aldrich in Mrs. Devany's place at the card party the following night.

Mrs. H. Aldrich read the suggested program for next season.

The June meeting was held on June 10 at Mrs. Devany's home.

It was decided to ask Mr. W. Aldrich to paint the porch, and do any other small repairs which were necessary.

After the Mizpah benediction, a card "give and take" game was played. Refreshments were then served by the hostesses.

At the card party held on May 21st, cards were played at eleven tables.

The ladies' high prize was won by Margaret Hover, 2nd by Ila Parker and low went to Jessie Nutbrown.

The Men's prizes went to the following: High, Lewis McHarg, 2nd, Aylmer Pickett and low, Darel Crawford.

The door prizes were won

WINDSOR

Mr. Raymond Wheeler and daughter, Mrs. Joyce Atkins of Montreal, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Wheeler.

Mrs. Gertrude Samson of Derby, Vt., has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Paterson and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Beauchamp, Arnprior, Ont., and Mrs. Lorena Watson have been visiting at the home of Mrs. Paul Proulx.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Watson and family of Lasalle, spent a few days with Mrs. D. Watson and family.

by Mrs. W. Sylvester, Mrs. G. Murray, Hazel Squire, Aytan Cromwell, Gladys Grant, and Hattie Harvey. Phyllis Hazard was the lucky winner of the box of groceries.

The Ladies' Aid wishes to thank all those who came to our parties.

Birthday Party

MANSONVILLE — Mrs. Penelope Johnson was pleasantly surprised on her birthday (May 26) when six of her grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren, along with Miss Janice Cote of Vale Perkins, arrived with a lovely birthday cake, ice cream and many wonderful gifts which included money. Mrs. Johnson was 89 years young on this date and after an enjoyable evening, the celebrators left for home, but not until they had wished Penelope many more happy years.

Colby-Bryant wed

MR. AND MRS. C. COLBY

The marriage of Diana Lynn, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John Adin Bryant, of Magog, to Mr. Charles William Colby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carrol Colby, of Montreal, took place recently in the St. Paul's United Church, Magog. The Reverend Doctor William Close officiating at the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. Stanley Cuthbert played the wedding music and Miss Sandra McLaughlin was soloist. Standards of iris and yellow gladioli were arranged on the altar. The pews were decorated with sprays of iris, lily of the valley, and baby's breath.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was in a full length gown of white silk georgette, having a chapel train. The bodice was of chantilly lace with tiny buttons at the back and bishop sleeves. Her full length veil of tulle illusion was held by a Juliet cap of chantilly lace. She carried a bouquet of cattleya orchids, lily of the valley and ivy.

Mrs. Timothy Bradley, as matron of honour for her twin sister, wore a full length gown of organdy, embellished with blue carnations over pale yellow taffeta, having a square neckline, bishop sleeves, and gathered at the waist with matching yellow taffeta tied at the back with a soft bow. She carried a bouquet of iris, blue and yellow carnations, lily of the valley and ivy, and wore matching flowers in her hair.

Mrs. Robert Colby, Mrs. Edward Colby, and Miss

Laurien Hawke, as attendants, were similarly gowned in dresses of organdy over pale blue taffeta. They carried bouquets resembling that of the matron of honour and wore matching flowers in their hair.

Mr. Robert Colby, brother of the groom, acted as best man. Mr. Edward Colby, brother of the groom, Mr. Timothy Bradley and Mr. Warrel Laing were ushers for Mr. Colby.

Mrs. Bryant, the bride's mother, wore a floral chiffon gown in muted shades of grey, yellow and white, and a cymbidium orchid corsage.

Mrs. Colby, mother of the groom, was gowned in white lace having a soft brown velvet bow at the waist, and wore a corsage of cymbidium orchids.

The reception was held at the Hermitage Club, later Mr. and Mrs. Colby left for Bermuda, the bride travelling in a red and beige printed shirtwaist dress with matching kerchief, wearing navy accessories and a corsage of red sweetheart roses.

Social & Personal

Mr. Arnold Brodeur of 943 Stanley St., who has been a patient in the University Medical Centre, Stoke Road for the past three weeks has now been transferred to the Sherbrooke Hospital where he will continue treatment. His room number is 208.

Roll call, "What I would like to do in my spare time."

The Secretary, Mrs. Reginald Thompson, read the minutes and thank-you notes from Mrs. Luvia Aulis and Ronald Chapman and children.

Treasurer, Mrs. Harry Rowland gave her report. All bills had been paid with a good sum on hand.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Goodwin visited the St. Paul's Home one evening and entertained the senior group which was greatly appreciated.

It was decided to give a member a donation instead of a shower.

Ten ditty bags were packed to be sent to Save the Children Fund.

The President welcomed three Scotstown ladies and asked them to join our branch as Scotstown branch has disbanded.

Convenors were reminded to send in their reports in June.

It was decided that we give a donation to the Student Loan Fund in loving memory of Mrs. George Parsons.

Our branch are to serve lunch at the Historical Society at Eaton Corner on June 21.

Shower was planned for one of our member's daughters.

A money tree was planned for a granddaughter of two of our members.

Health and Welfare convenors, Mrs. Lyla MacLeod and Mrs. Lindsay Groom, are to plan the lunch for the shower.

It was moved by Mrs. Milton Goodwin and seconded by Mrs. Sylvia Shadbolt that we send a donation to a resident of Scotstown, who, with two of his children, was badly burnt in a fire.

Mrs. Alice Coates, agriculture, read a paper on meat fit for only dogs and was sold to consumers.

Health and Welfare - Mrs. Leslie MacLeod, said she had called on Mrs. Rudd, and taken her fruit and juices and Mrs. Lindsay Groom read a paper on heart disease.

Education - Mrs. Willie MacLeod read a paper on "O Canada What do We Know of Thee." $10.00 was donated for public speaking and six dollars for Class pins for Pope Memorial School.

Mrs. Milton Goodwin was chosen to be the judge for public speaking from Canterbury W.I. Branch.

Mrs. Prentice Jacklin won the lucky draw for the month of June.

Lunch was served by the hostess.

Birthday Party

A Hollywood story: clerk-typist to star

By Dick Kleiner

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — A year ago, Julie Kavner was working as a clerk-typist in U.C.L.A.'s graduate department of architecture. Then she was cast as Brenda, the kid sister on CBS' Rhoda series, and her whole life changed.

It's another of those it-can-only-happen-in-Hollywood stories. In those 12 months, Julie Kavner was transformed from nothing to something, from clerk-typist to star.

"The year has really brought me two things," she says. "It made me in demand and it gave me a place at the beach."

In demand? Sure, she was asked to star in stock during her hiatus. She did a seven-week run at a theater near Chicago in "Three On a Honeymoon" without even having to audition.

And, because of her TV fame, she was a big drawing card.

The place at the beach, she says, had long been a dream — "a someday-maybe dream" — but it has come true. She rented a Malibu apartment and that's now her home.

"The difference," she says, "is that now, when I decorate, I can do certain things I didn't do before. I used to get posters and thumbtack them to the wall — but now I frame them. It's the same furniture — furnituremy folks had — but somehow it looks better now."

And that's after only one year. Wait 'til next year.

United Artists spent more than $200,000 on one splashy weekend to introduce the new Peter Sellers film, "Return of the Pink Panther." It was like the old Hollywood.

Sellers and producer-director Blake Edwards and many stars were there and so were plenty of press. They had the affair in the plush LaCosta resort in Carlsbad, Calif. near San Diego, and the mink of the weekend was very pink.

There was a screening of the

JULIE KAVNER Sudden stardom means a place at the beach film — a complete delight. Here's one film you can take the family to and know that everybody will enjoy it.

Edwards says there is talk of a "Pink Panther" series for TV but he thinks it would be almost impossible.

"When we work together," he says, "Peter and I have to allow three days for laughing. You can't do that on TV's schedule."

Sellers adds that he has to have time for improvisation and TV doesn't allow that time.

But there probably will be another Inspector Clouseau film. Edwards says there is already talk of it but it will depend mostly on how "Return of the Pink Panther" does at the box office.

"If there is a next one," he says, "I think we'll have Clouseau get mixed up with James Bond — and all sorts of gimmicks."

The film could easily have been tricked out with nudity and sex and violence but Edwards wisely resisted the temptation.

The earlier Pink Panthers had that, he says, "but this one didn't need it. I do films as they are called for and this one didn't call for sex."

Service of celebration held

HATLEY — Hatley United Church is 139 years old! But like a keen and sprightly old lady, she is still very much alive!

Evidence of this fact was the happy service of celebration held Sunday June 1, 1975. Because the United Church of Canada is commemorating 50 years of union this year, Hatley United invited North Hatley and Waterville United Churches and friends to join in the birthday celebration.

The order of service for the 11 o'clock worship was based on the theme, Past, Present, and Future. The Hatley Sunday School and Stewards conducted the Past section, the United Church Women, the Present, and the Elders led the Future. At intervals throughout the service, a youth choir of approximately 50 voices, sang, under the direction of Ken Gemmill, and added a lively joy and freshness to the worship.

Rev. Max Surjadinata called the congregation to worship. Steward Lester Drew welcomed the guests and explained the theme, its origin and function. Ben Cunningham, also a steward, introduced the Hymn of the Past, Faith of Our Fathers. Steward Douglas Stoddard composed and read the Prayer of the Past. The skit, Hatley United — 1925, was presented by several Sunday School students under the direction of teachers, Corienne Drew and Evelyn Miller. Their portrayal of the union meetings and the 35 cents oyster suppers brought back memories!

The service took a more modern turn when the United Church Women led in the new and lively hymn, Let a Shout of Celebration. The Litany for Now composed by the U.C.W. and led by Judy Drew, asked for God's blessings upon the members, officials, and projects of the local and national church. U.C.W. member, Elsie Drew, read suitable scripture selections.

The part of the service which required a forward future look commenced appropriately with the offeratory, which was taken by Stewards Graydon Drew, Keith Morese, Dale Miller and Archie Moulton. The offeratory prayer was given by Thelma Cote. Elder Howard Ayer turned thoughts to the future with a brief sermonette entitled Intimations of Hope for the Future. The hymn, Sons of God, was followed by a Prayer for the Future by Elder Dale Miller.

The congregation led by the UCW then moved to the church lawn where a flowering shrub was planted.

This ceremony, led by Rev. Surjadinata, involved U.C.W. president, Dorinne Morse, and members, Mildred Miller and Mamie McClary. The benediction was spoken by Rev. Surjadinata.

All present then enjoyed a pleasant social hour on the church lawn and a bountiful picnic lunch including birthday cake for the United Church of Canada. The congenial gathering under sunny skies seemed to exemplify the church motto, "That all may be one."

St. Andrew's marks centennial

By EILEEN M. ENNALS
SHERBROOKE — In Presbyterian congregations across Canada the major emphasis this year is on the centennial of that denomination. A unique feature of the Home Coming and Centennial Communion Service held in St. Andrew's Church, Sherbrooke, on June 1st, was that the pulpit was shared by a student and professor team — John Vaudry, student minister, and Rev. Dr. Donald N. MacMillan, Acting Principal of Presbyterian College, Montreal.

Entering the Sanctuary the worshippers were greeted by Mrs. M. Mayhew, Mrs. Isabell Moulton, J. Ross Beattie and Robert Brown. All communicants were presented with a souvenir communion token similar to those used a century ago as "a ticket of admission" to the Lord's Table. These bore the picture of St. Andrew's Church on one side and of the Burning Bush with the invitation "In Remembrance of Me," 1875-1975 on the reverse. They were designed and made by George Jobel who has frequently proven his great ability along such lines. Mr. Vaudry, in conducting the service, read from a memorial Bible which was formerly used in Kennebec Road Presbyterian Church, Beauce County, and had been presented to St. Andrew's when it was necessary to close the church some years ago.

Dr. MacMillan gave an inspiring address on "The Man In Whose Hand the Cup Was Found" and dispensed the elements during the munions vessels from Kennebec Road Church, old communion tokens used in Hampden and Inverness, Quebec, and a small communion set used for dispensing the elements in private homes.

An exhibit of family Bibles, Books of Praise, reference books, a Gaelic Testament, a Gaelic Psalm Book, all dating back to the 19th Century, together with a record book with the names of pupils in a Chinese Class serviettes, etc., and a framed postage stamp issued on May 30th, of this year, honoring Rev. Dr. John Cook, Moderator of the first General Assembly held in Montreal on June 1, 1875. Hand made posters of interest showed the location of Quebec Presbyterian churches no longer in existence, those which are still active, and those whose work is among the French.

On behalf of the Outreach For Christ Group, Mrs. Robert Brown presented a recent publication on the history of the Presbyterian Church, "Enduring Witness," by John Moir, to the Church School Library. This was received by J. Ross Beattie, Chairman of the Centennial Committee, who expressed thanks to the many folks who had made this celebration such a memorable and enriching experience.

The Church

observance of the Lord's Supper, in a most impressive manner.

In keeping with the form of worship used at the turn of the century the congregation sat to sing and stood to pray. The offering was received in boxes with long handles, made by Murray Macdonald. The choir, under the direction of Miss Thelma Crawford, sang the anthem, "Lift Up Your Heads," by Ashford.

Guests from North Bay, Ottawa, Aylmer East, Pointe Claire, Montreal, Drummondville, Richmond, Bulwer, Birchton, as well as Sherbrooke and Lennoxville signed the guest book.

Floziers in the sanctuary were given in cherished memory of departed ministers and members who worshipped and served in St. Andrew's in former years.

Following the Worship Service acquaintances were renewed at the Friendship Hour which followed. The Church Hall was artistically decorated by Miss Alene Morrison and Mrs. Wyatt Savage. The tables were covered with blue cloths and white candles, and centred with lovely flowers arrangements, the gift of Fred and Catherine Vaudry. Delicious refreshments were served by a committee under the leadership of Mrs. John Imrie, Mrs. E. M. Goodfellow and Mrs. R.H. Stevenson poured tea and coffee.

An historic display, backed by a poster depicting the Burning Bush, the work of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Millard, drew much interest. One table held the Memorial Bible and Com-

Summer event set by United Church

Fifty years of the United Church in Canada will be marked at a summer event during a three day weekend to be held at the University of Ottawa, August 15, 16, 17, 1975. United Church of Canada Women, Men and Youth are invited to share in this project of the Montreal-Ottawa Conference. The theme is "Dare to Share - your world, your country, yourself."

It is hoped that enough people will be interested in going from this part of the Eastern Townships to charter a bus. Those who would like to participate in the bus transportation, contact Mrs. Hannah Mallalieu, 562-9696 or 569-5929.

The theme speaker at the summer event will be Rev. Rob't G. Lindsey, Division of Missions in Canada of the United Church. Music will be under the direction of Ron and Chris Klusmeier or Mississauga, Ont., and Rev. Ronald Coughlan of Mansonville United Church will lead some of the Interest Groups.

Further plans for attending Summer Event '75 will be announced soon.

Celebrates

her stride. "I can't find enough words to say thank you," she said, in appreciation of the friends who made the birthday the big occasion it was.

Mrs. Worster, who only entered Youville a month before her 102nd birthday, is in fine health and remarkably has a very good memory.

She's always been active, her only daughter Mrs. Helena Lothrop points out, in summarizing her mother's life story.

LIFE STORY
Mrs. Worster was born June 9, 1873, in England, and immigrated to a new home in Adamsville, Quebec in 1912 with her husband and three sons, William, Bert and Harold. A daughter, Helena (now Mrs. Northrop), was born in Adamsville. Shortly after, the Worsters moved to Lennoxville.

Then came World War I. Mrs. Worster's husband enlisted in 1915, and the following year, was killed in action.

Undaunted, Mrs. Worster faced all odds — a minuscule pension, for one — and proceeded to raise her four children, working as a cook and housekeeper in local homes to help support the family.

As her children through the years moved away from home, Mrs. Worster stayed in Lennoxville until the late 1950s, when she moved in with one of her sons, Bert, on Argyle Street in Sherbrooke.

She kept her high spirits up over the years, and even during her eighties, with her eyesight weakening, she started a new hobby — painting. Her works, described by her daughter as quite good, are still at her son's home on Argyle St.

KEPT ACTIVE
Mrs. Worster also maintained a picture book, not only as a source to look back at her long life, but also to keep her mind continuing active.

Now at the Youville Hospital, she is visited regularly by her daughter

Helena, and son Bert, both of Sherbrooke; and son Harold who makes his home in Lennoxville. The fourth child, William died in 1936.

And what is the secret to Mrs. Worster's longevity? It could be something that runs in the family: she has a 90 year old brother living in England. Or it could be in the words a fellow Youville patient said to her at the birthday party: "We here want to thank you for your message — to live not just from the body, but also from the spirit."

BEAVERS SEEK FIVE SWEDISH PLAYERS
COACH GHISLAIN DELAGE and his staff have been hard at work despite the warm and rainy weather and it seems that their efforts have paid off in more ways than one.

FIRST THE BEAVERS, at the annual league draft, surprised all by naming five Swedish players, who are in their first year of junior hockey. Some of them played in Sherbrooke last winter with the Swedish Midgets.

COACH DELAGE certainly got the jump on the rest of the league and we hope everything will turn out fine. Three have been contacted and if the price is right it seems the parents have no objection of them coming to Canada and Sherbrooke.

COACH DELAGE stated his first objective is to procure players who will help his team no matter where they come from. He has already contacted scouts in Finland, Denmark and Switzerland to try and pick up some more.

DELAGE AND GUY ST. PIERRE, chief scout for the Beavers, have travelled many miles so far this summer through the Maritimes and even across the Border and next Monday at a press conference we will get a better idea how things turned out.

THE BEAVERS HAVE already lined up five exhibition games for the pre-season training against Quebec Remparts, Sorel and Hull. So it would seem while we are enjoying some of the sunny weather Ghislan and Guy have been doing their home-work very well. Keep up the good work and we sincerely hope you will reap plenty of benefits from your efforts.

GOLF WILL BE taking the headlines over the weekend with two important tournaments listed for Friday and Saturday.

AT LENNOXVILLE on the links of the Country Club the annual International Association of Persons in Employment Security will take place. We understand from Andre Vandal and Pierre Brousseau, co-chairmen, that a large field is expected to be on hand.

THE FIELD WILL get underway at 8:00 a.m., maybe a little earlier, if more golfers turn up. Mayor O'Bready and members of the City Council will receive at a cocktail. The meal is stated at 8:00. It looks like a big event and there should be plenty on hand.

AT THE SHERBROOKE Country Club Saturday the Paul Brouillard Open is on tap. This is a shot-gun affair commencing at 11:30. This has proven to be a very popular tournament and will no doubt draw some of the top club-swingers in the District.

IT IS A TWO BALL, best ball, no strokes, and the field will be divided into separate classes, other words the high handicap players will be competing in their own sections. It is divided into five classes, 0-5, 6-10, 11-15, 16-20, 21-25 and 26 up. It is a new format and should work out well for players of all handicaps.

CONGRATULATIONS ARE IN order to Normand Hebert who joined the select circle of golfers when he dropped his tee-shot at the 9th, par-3 140 yards. He used a No. 6 iron and was playing with Denis Allen, Adrian Leberge and J.C. Tremblay. Nice shooting Normand and keep swinging in the groove.

THE 6TH ANNUAL Butters Hospital Horse Show will take place this Saturday commencing at 10:00 a.m. Admission for the event is $1.00 for card and driver and fifty-cents for each passenger.

THE PROCEEDS FROM the show will go towards providing funds for entertainment for the patients. There will be 21 classes on the card, western, english and pony's seven in each class. This is a very worthy cause and deserves 100 per cent support from all.

THE OFFICIAL OPENING of Little League Baseball is on tap for Saturday. A giant parade will leave the Lennoxville Optimist Park at 1:00 for the Parade Grounds in Sherbrooke where the official ceremonies will take place.

IN CONTRAST TO the past the League is comprised of two divisions, Sher-Lenn and Sher-Fleurimont with five teams in each section. This is a very good move as it will permit more youngsters in playing ball, which is the main aim of Little League all over the world. So folks if you wish to spend an enjoyable afternoon drop down to the Parade Grounds and watch the youngsters in action. I am sure you will be surprised at the brand of ball you will see. Good luck to one and all.

Professional sport to come under Combines Investigation Act

OTTAWA (CP) — Proposals to regulate professional sports under federal combines law would not make the annual draft of young hockey players for professional leagues illegal, a corporate affairs department official said Tuesday.

A Commons finance committee Tuesday approved a bill to bring all services, including professional sports, under the authority of the Combines Investigation Act for the first time.

The proposed legislation would make it an offence for anyone who "conspires, agrees or arranges" to limit unreasonably a player's opportunity to enter a league or play for the team of his choice. Conviction for the offence would carry a fine set by court, five years' imprisonment, or both.

Originally, these sections were to apply to amateur sports as well, but the Commons committee agreed to an amendment that exempts amateurs from regulation.

Pele to earn millions from New York Cosmos

NEW YORK (AP) — Fame and fortune have failed to spoil Pele, the world's greatest soccer player.

"My talent is the gift of God—I am only what He made me," said the 34-year-old Brazilian after coming out of retirement to sign a three-year contract Tuesday with New York Cosmos of the North American Soccer League.

"Have you ever thought that at 34 you may be getting too old to play top flight soccer?" a reporter asked him at Tuesday's madcap news conference.

"If you take care of your body as I have," he replied, "it is possible to play until you are 45 or 50."

"The Cosmos can't be considered a world class team," someone else pointed out. "How do you think you can adjust to ordinary players?"

"On every team," Pele responded politely through an interpreter, "there are great players, good players and just players. I have seen the Cosmos. We have all classes of players."

"But you are the best player in the world," another insisted, "you have played all over the world, you have vast knowledge, how can a coach such as Gordon Bradley (the Cosmos' young coach) tell you what to do?"

"Bradley is an experienced coach," came the direct reply. "He knows what should be done from the sidelines. I know what to do on the field. We always will talk it over between ourselves."

HEADED FOR BOOM?

If Pele's reception to New York can be taken as a criterion, soccer may be headed for a boom in the United States where heretofore it has generated only mild interest.

More than 300 people jammed the 21 Club's Hunt Room for the formal contract signing and news conference ceremonies, creating a near riot, and scores lined the sidewalks of sophisticated 52nd Street to watch the South American ace arrive and leave.

Pele will start earning his salary—reported to be anywhere from $4.5 million to $7 million for three years—in an exhibition game Sunday against Dallas at Randall's Island here. CBS will televise it nationally, starting at 3:30 p.m. EDT.

Pele made an impressive showing when he appeared with his wife, Rosemarie. He was poised and articulate as he fielded a barrage of questions.

"Everybody has a mission, a goal," he said. "I always had a dream that some day the United States would know soccer as the rest of the world knows soccer."

Pele arrived later Tuesday at Veterans Stadium in a chauffeur-driven limousine with his wife to participate in ceremonies before the Cosmos played Philadelphia Atoms. He was greeted by scores of photographers and reporters dogging his every step. A crowd of 20,124 fans turned out—about 9,000 more than the average attendance at Philadelphia.

Sports Briefs

MAY MISS WIMBLEDON

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Australian John Newcombe may miss the Wimbledon championship later this month because of a knee injury he suffered in a World Team Tennis match over the weekend. His injury was diagnosed as a slight cartilage tear.

PADRES SWITCH

SAN DIEGO (AP) — San Diego Padres of baseball's National League announced Sunday that they have recalled outfielder Gene Locklear from Hawaii of the Pacific Coast League and sent third baseman Steve Hunt to the PCL team in his place.

PITCHES NO-HITTER

PAWTUCKET, R.I. (AP)

— Pawtucket left-hander Jim Burton threw the first no-hit, no-run game of the International League baseball season Sunday when he pitched the Red Sox to a 2-0 win over Tidewater Tides. Burton did not allow a walk and struck out 10 batters.

National League roundup

Giants swap Goodson to Braves

A few years ago, San Francisco Giants manager Charlie Fox boasted: "Every team in baseball wants our young players." Now it seems just about every team in baseball has them.

A couple of guys named Willie, namely Mays and McCovey, and Orlando Cepeda started the exodus from the city a number of seasons back. True, they were veterans whose years and salaries were catching up with them as far as the Giants' coffers were concerned.

But after that, the kids began escaping—under orders of the front office. Trades sent Bobby Bonds, Ken Henderson, Dave Kingman and Garry Maddox packing—and on Wednesday, Ed Goodson was packing, too, heading to Atlanta in a swap for Craig Robinson.

"I don't know what happened. It's weird. We're all gone," Goodson said. Well, not quite. A few of them are left. And on Wednesday, one of them kept the Giants within 4½ game of first-place Cincinnati in the National League West.

NEWCOMERS HELP
 Gary Thomasson's three-run homer in the fourth inning carried San Francisco to its fourth victory in five games, an 8-3 romp over Philadelphia Phillies Willie Montanez—who arrived from Philly when Maddox headed East—and Chris Speier added two runs batted in apiece. Greg Luzinski knocked in all three for the Phillies with a homer and a two-run single.

In the rest of the National League, Houston beat Pittsburgh 5-1, New York downed Los Angeles 2-1, Cincinnati defeated St. Louis 3-1 and San Diego downed Montreal Expos 3-1. The Chicago at Atlanta game was rained out.

Larry Dierker fired a six-hitter to tame Pittsburgh's hot bats and Enos Cabell tripled to highlight a decisive two-run second inning that gave the Astros their second consecutive victory after a nine-game tailspin.

Mike Marshall is no longer Los Angeles' ace in the hole. The Dodgers' top reliever, last year's Cy Young Award winner in the National League, put himself in a ninth-inning hole against the Mets when he walked Rusty Staub and wildpitched him to second.

METS CLOSE IN
 Then Mike Phillips took over. He dropped Marshall's record to 2-4 and raised his earned-run average to 3.56 with a ground single to right that scored Staub and put New York within half a game of first-place Pittsburgh in the East.

San Diego's Rich Folkers could thank Danny Frisella for his victory. Montreal's Dennis Blair could thank Chuck Taylor for his loss.

Blair walked the bases loaded in the sixth inning, then Taylor took over and gave up run-scoring fly balls by Mike Ivie and Tito Fuentes.

Folkers, meanwhile, was making his first start since 1973. And he stuck around until the ninth inning.

Then Frisella bailed him out of a jam, leaving the bases loaded with Expos.

Don Gullett chalked up his fourth consecutive victory and his eighth of the season—and he did it with both his arm and his bat.

He checked St. Louis on seven hits, losing a shutout on Ted Simmons' ninth-inning homer, and doubled to trigger the Reds' two-run third inning.

Olympic budget release delayed

MONTREAL (CP) — Publication of the over-all budget for the 1976 Olympic Games, scheduled for this week, has been postponed until after a July 5 meeting of the executive board of the organizing committee, a spokesman for the committee said Wednesday.

Revelation of figures, giving a breakdown of capital expenditures for construction of the Games' facilities and projected revenues, had been expected today. The figures were expected to show a deficit of almost $250 million on an estimated over-all outlay of $626.1 million.

Willie Horton sets off AL brawl

Frank Tanana used to worship Willie Horton from afar. Up close, he's not so crazy about him.

Tanana got a good look at his boyhood hero Wednesday night and didn't like what he saw—or heard.

The tempestuous Detroit Tiger outfielder, enraged by a close pitch from the California Angels' pitcher, roared out to the mound and triggered the wildest free-for-all of the 1975 baseball season.

By the time it was over, both teams stormed the field with their feet and fists flying. The untamed Horton did most of the damage, swinging at everyone and everything. A lot of feelings were hurt, along with a couple of egos.

The Angels went on to win the first game of the doubleheader 14-7. The second game was suspended because of the American League's 1 a.m. curfew law with Detroit winning 5-3 and will be completed tonight.

"The last thing you want to do is get Willie Horton mad," said Tanana, who said he was a Horton fan while growing up in Detroit.

BRUSHED HIM BACK
 The pitch that got the whole thing started was an inside delivery that brushed back the Tiger strongman in the fourth inning. Horton gave Tanana a menacing look, then pointed a finger at the young California pitcher and rushed to the mound.

Things were comparatively tame around the rest of the American League. New York Yankees beat Minnesota Twins 5-1; Kansas City Royals whipped Cleveland Indians 7-1; Oakland A's stopped Milwaukee Brewers 5-3; Baltimore Orioles trimmed Texas Rangers 9-8 in 10 innings and the Boston Red Sox turned back the Chicago White Sox 9-7 in 14 innings.

The donnybrook at Tiger Stadium delayed the first game for 20 minutes.
