Car-train collision kills two

BROOKPORT — (Staff) — A man and wife were instantly killed at approximately 8:45 p.m. Sunday evening when their car collided with a westbound CPR passenger train three miles east of Farnham.

Dead are Mr. and Mrs. Vital Veilleux, of Veterans Boulevard, Cowansville. Mr. Veilleux was 38 and his wife was 32.

The Veilleux car was dragged about 300 yards towards Farnham from the crossing. The car was completely demolished.

Apparently none of the train passengers were injured.

LBJ gets knocks at home, abroad

Balk at increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — The political turbulence two of his envoys are encountering on a Far Eastern trip points toward fresh difficulties between President Johnson and Congress over Vietnam.

Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor and Clark Clifford, representing the president in a search for larger troop commitments, already have encountered a couple of diplomatic rebuffs and possibly face more.

Congress almost is unanimous in the belief that U.S. allies should contribute many more men to the Vietnam war that Johnson says is aimed primarily at saving Asia from communism.

There is sharp, though usually sub-surface, criticism of the Philippines, Australia and New Zealand for not supplying more of the fighting manpower which Gen. William C. Westmoreland says is needed to retain the offensive. Westmoreland is U.S. commander in Vietnam.

PRAISE KOREA

South Korea draws praise among senators and House of Representatives members for its willingness to contribute fighting men even though there is general recognition the United States pays its costs.

If Taylor and Clifford are unable to interest other countries in providing more troops, this may mean a heavier dispatch of U.S. combat forces to Vietnam and give new ammunition to congressional critics of Johnson's war course.

Philippine President Ferdinand E. Marcos cancelled a scheduled conference with Taylor and Clifford, saying he had been to Vietnam recently and didn't need any American briefing.

Marcos is involved in a pending election, with increasing opposition to Philippine commitments in the war. When their plane was forced last week to land at Clark Air Force Base near Manila, the two envoys did not talk to any Philippine officials.

SEES NO NEED

After they had conferred in Bangkok with Thailand officials, Foreign Minister Thanat Khoman announced he saw no need for a summit conference Taylor and Clifford had hoped to arrange for this fall.

The U.S. pair talked with Australian officials today. Prime Minister Harold Holt has already made it clear he wants the question of force levels left until the possible autumn summit conference.

Some members of Congress are similar to that in Europe. State Secretary Dean Rusk and Defence Secretary Robert S. McNamara have said members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization are not meeting their defence commitments in Europe and still don't want any U.S. troops withdrawn.

Flame-ravaged carrier afire again

SUBIC BAY, Philippines (AP) — The flame-ravaged carrier Forrestal arrived at Subic Bay tonight and as she prepared to dock the cry of "fire! fire! fire!" rang out over her loud-speaker system.

Navy officials ashore said it apparently was a small flash fire, and this appeared evident when the 76,000-ton carrier docked with no flames visible.

In an ordeal of fire and exploding bombs, the Forrestal lost possibly 145 of her 4,300-man crew Saturday as she lay in the Gulf of Tonkin preparing to launch air strikes against North Vietnam.

The official toll was 76 dead, 69 missing and presumed dead and 64 injured.

day, Navy officials said one of the first jobs would be to lift the remaining planes off the crippled carrier. Their air crews probably will be taken off also.

A total of 57 of the carrier's 82 jet planes were destroyed or damaged. Seventy-six crew members died.

How long the Forrestal will remain at Subic Bay for emergency repairs was not immediately known.

Firebombs, gunshots and the national guard arrive

Race flareups shatter apparent calm

Firebombs, gunshots and the national guard came in turn to Milwaukee today, just as calm seemed to be settling over U.S. cities rent by racial disorder.

Five policemen were wounded before 1,000 national guardsmen were ordered into the centre of the disturbance — Milwaukee's predominantly Negro Inner Core section.

Firebombs burst on streets, sniper fire snapped from buildings and more than 25 persons, including some whites, were injured. Several of the policemen were in serious condition, Police Chief Harold Breier said.

In spite of President Johnson's call for a day of prayer for civil and racial peace, trouble also broke out in Portland, Ore., Riviera Beach, Fla., Wichita, Kan., and Cleveland, Ohio.

In Portland, 500 guardsmen stood by at an airbase on the city's outskirts after Negroes smashed dozens of store windows and threw rocks and bottles at police. Nineteen arrests were made.

In Cleveland, firemen dodged bottles and rocks as they put out firebomb blazes.

A sheriff's spokesman in the Florida city north of Palm Beach said about 400 Negroes stoned police and may have set a lumber yard fire.

Wichita's acting mayor, Negro Councilman A. Price Woodard, ordered an emergency curfew after crowds of Negro teenagers threw rocks at cars and firebombed two grocery stores. As these areas flared Sunday and today, federal paratroops withdrew from Detroit to bivouacs just outside the city. It was Detroit's quietest night since July 23 when the rioting that took 41 lives began. A contingent of 500 guardsmen started leaving Toledo, Ohio, a curfew and state of emergency were lifted in Phoenix, Ariz., where gunfire had cracked, and New York City Spanish Harlem and Brooklyn's Bedford - Stuyvesant sections were free of disturbances Sunday night.

Calm also returned to Elgin, Ill., where violence had broken out Saturday. There was a fire-bombing early Sunday in New Castle, Pa., but no other serious incidents. Racial peace was maintained in Poughkeepsie, N.Y., north of New York City, and a state of emergency there was lifted.

Stokely hears Castro war call

HAVANA (CP) — Latin-American revolutionaries assembled in Havana today to echo Fidel Castro's call for guerrilla warfare from Detroit to Cape Horn.

Stokely Carmichael, the U.S. Black Power advocate, is to be among the speakers at the nine-day meeting of the Organization of Latin American Solidarity.

Cuban President Osvaldo Dorticos is expected to deliver the keynote address at the opening session tonight, and Premier Castro is expected to wind up the meeting Aug. 8.

On a major issue on the meeting's agenda calls for "support of the Negro people of the United States in their struggle against racial discrimination."

Since arriving in Cuba last Tuesday, Carmichael has been calling for American Negroes to take up guerrilla-type operations. He has endorsed missing guerrilla leader Ernesto Che Guevara's call for creation of executive secretary, Juan Mari Bras, for the United Bras.

An estimated 125 of the expected 300 or so delegates had checked in early today.

Yugoslavia was excluded because it does not accept the Movement is represented by its executive secretary, Juan Mari Bras.

America has led to coolness with Moscow, which is trying to promote trade with several Latin American countries harassed or threatened with guerrilla tactics. But the Soviets, who have a heavy economic stake in Cuba, will be represented at the meeting.

Hard wrangling and possible compromises in the final conference resolutions were foreseen on imperialism and Russian relations with present Latin American governments.

Observers found it difficult to predict how much success the moderates would have in forcing compromises. The moderates themselves appeared confident they could shelve any violent trend.

But the radicals seemed equally confident that their guerrilla warfare line would win the day.

Rubble cleared away

300 feared dead in Caracas quake

CARACAS (AP) — The Caracas area death toll in Venezuela's earthquake may reach 300 when workers clear away the rubble of crumbled apartment houses.

Workers using cranes and bulldozers removed 50 bodies from the rubble Sunday. An official called the earthquake which devastated western Venezuela Saturday night the worst of the century.

The government said 1,522 were injured.

Authorities in Colombia said 10 persons were killed and 100 injured in two quakes which hit Colombia Saturday, striking hardest in Santander and Boyaca states near the Venezuelan border and about 220 miles northeast of Bogota.

"I saw that building flatten in say five seconds," said a resident of the Altamira section of Caracas, pointing to what had been a 10-storey apartment house—now a mound of crumbled concrete, twisted reinforcing bars and smashed furniture. Entire families were trapped inside.

"No one got out in time," the man said.

Four other Altamira apartment buildings, one 16 storeys high, also collapsed.

CRUMBLING IN THE NIGHT

After the largest jolt at 8:05 p.m., walls kept crumbling throughout Saturday night. Thousands of persons camped out away from tall buildings. Many drove to empty lots and slept in their cars.

Urgent appeals were broadcast for medical supplies, food and blood.

Caracas changed from a city of gay parties, celebrating the city's 400th birthday, to a chaotic picture of rubble, sweating rescue workers and sobbing relatives sitting on curbs across from fallen apartment houses.

Also hard hit was the seaside resort of Caraballeda, directly north of Caracas, where reports listed 18 killed. One apartment house collapsed.

Expo censorship, demonstration close ethnic week in bitterness

MONTREAL (CP) — Ambles about Expo censorship, and a demonstration at the Russian pavilion brought six days of Canadian - Ukrainian celebrations to a bitter close at the weekend.

"When we began to organize our entertainment, the furthest thing from our minds was that we would cause a political hassle," said Eugenia Zagurak, a member of the ethnic week committee.

"But we've had difficulties with Expo about every little thing we wanted to do."

Mrs. Zagurak said her committee had no part in the demonstration late Saturday during which about 75 persons shouted "shame" and "freedom for the Ukraine" in front of the big Soviet showplace.

FACE CHARGES

Fifteen of the demonstrators are to appear in court today on disturbing the peace charges.

An Expo spokesman said Sunday the fair's policy is that no group shall be allowed to use the exhibition as a platform for publicizing its own cause.

"The Canadian Ukrainians received just the same treatment as everybody else," she said.

But Terry Hukalo, a Montreal-born Ukrainian who spent the week helping the organizers, said pressure building up all week for a demonstration had been increased by "harassment" from Expo officials.

Expo had told him part of the sound track should be cut from a movie on Ukrainians in Canada, narrated by John Fisher, chairman of the centennial commission.

CUT INTRODUCTION

So Mr. Hukalo ran the film to audiences in Expo's hospitality pavilion, without the introduction by Mr. Fisher that included the remark that Ukrainians fought against Russian domination throughout their history.

Turkey shakes

ISTANBUL (Reuters) — Another earthquake shook western Turkey today.

No details were immediately available of the damage caused by the tremor—latest in a series to strike the country in the last 10 days.

About 200 persons were killed in the two biggest of the recent earthquakes—one in the mountains of eastern Turkey and the other in the area around the city of Adapazari, about 100 miles east of Istanbul.

Drug religion

WASHINGTON (AP) — "As a consequence," says Dr. Jenn Paul Smith, "the only common effect of the drug LSD is that the user feels 'he has found the answer to life's problems, or a chemically-centred religion or values that transcend his society and culture.'"

Still dry

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

A storm which originated in the Gulf of Alaska and which earlier moved across northern British Columbia, brought moisture to northern sections of Alberta and Saskatchewan Sunday, while the southern parts of the province which needed water most remained dry.

The weather office in Edmonton said the dry southern portions of Alberta received little or no rainfall while several isolated areas received scattered thundershowers.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

A LOT DEPENDS ON RIGHT FINESSE

Oswald: "If there were a heaven for bridge players, it would be a place where finesse always worked."

Jim: "What about defenders? Wouldn't they be unhappy?"

Oswald: "Maybe they should be imported from the other place to watch every contract made against them."

Jim: "In this mundane sphere it seems that finesse work about half the time. Therefore, when you have a choice between taking two different finesse, it is up to you for him to lose his three no-trump contract if he went after the heart suit. He started with a spade trick and had three top tricks in diamonds and two in clubs. That made a total of six, so three hearts would be enough for his contract. He entered dummy with the king of hearts and let it ride."

Oswald: "It doesn't really matter with today's hand but the nine was the right heart to lead the first time. This gave him a chance to play the five from his own hand and retain the maximum communication whether or not the finesse won."

Jim: "West took his king of hearts and laid down his ace of spades. He lost a trick by this play but he would have looked mighty silly if it turned out that South had bid his no-trump with the doubleton king - jack of spades."

East Angus couple feted by family to mark 40th wedding anniversary

EAST ANGUS — Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Rowland were at home to their relatives and friends on the afternoon and evening of July 16 on the occasion of their 40th wedding anniversary. The original plan was to hold the gathering on the lawn but since the weather refused to cooperate, it was held inside with more than 80 well wishes dropping in.

The dining room table was centered by an arrangement of ruby red roses and white baby's breathe, flanked by white candles in crystal holders. Mrs. A. Barrette, of Danville, and Mrs. Cecil McLellan, South Stukely, poured tea and coffee. Misses Debbie and Jane Rowland and Mrs. L. Barret assisted in serving.

Miss Judy Rowland was in charge of the guest book.

The anniversary cake was made and decorated by Miss Elizabeth McLellan, who decorated the wedding cake forty years ago. The base of the cake was encircled by white lace and ruby roses, and it was topped by a glass encrusted with 1927 - 1967 in red, and filed with red roses.

The couple received a money tree as well as silver, cut glass, numerous other gifts and many congratulatory cards and messages.

The bride's attendants of forty years, Mrs. W. Sherwood, Sarasota, Fla., Mrs. W. Cunningham, East Angus, her sister, Mrs. Clarence Clifford, in Mansonville.

Huntingville couple honored by family on 40th wedding anniversary

HUNTINGVILLE — In observance of the 40th anniversary of their marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Sutor were feted at an anniversary dinner arranged by members of their immediate family, which was held in the Huntingville Community Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Sutor, who were invited by a neighbor to go out for dinner, were taken a round-about way to the Hall, where to their complete surprise upwards of seventy relatives, close friends and neighbors were assembled.

Mrs. Russell Sutor, their daughter-in-law, pinned a corsage of red roses on Mrs. Sutor, and presented a white carnation boutonniere to Mr. Sutor.

The head table was centered by a beautifully decorated cake, made by a niece, Mrs. William Sutor and adorned by an arrangement of yellow and white chrysanthemums, a gift from the Milby Women's Institute, of which Mrs. Sutor is a past president and valued member.

The other tables were decorated with low crystal bowls of red roses. Baskets of flowers were arranged about the hall.

Rev. A. B. Lovelace, seated at the head table, asked the blessing. Later Mr. Lovelace congratulated the bride and groom of 40 years, expressing the high regard in which they and the members of their family were held in the church and in the community. Mr. Lovelace also called attention to the coincidence that Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hunting, who recently celebrated a 50th anniversary, were among the guests at the head table.

Mr. and Mrs. Sutor expressed appreciation and delight that so many were present.

Their four sons, three daughters-in-law and nine of their eleven grandchildren were present: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sutor, Murray, Warren and Dianne; Mr. and Mrs. Russell Sutor, Kevin, Kim and Christopher, Ottawa; Mr. and Mrs. Allan Sutor, Bruce, Jimmie and Nancy, and Mr. Leslie Sutor.

Among the out-of-town guests attending were Mrs. Catherine Tarte, Ottawa; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Young, Beebe; Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hopper, Waterville; Mrs. Chauncey Richardson, Bulwer, and Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Rothney, Sand Hill.

AUSTIN —

Mr. and Mrs. A. Penn and family, Pointe aux Trembles, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Ducharme and family, Granby, Mr. R. Compagnat and family, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Grayson Westover and family and Mrs. A. Westover.

Mrs. E. Bailey, Coaticook, spent a week with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bryant and family.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Ross and family, Sherbrooke, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Coates.

Bits and pieces

The town dump at Norton, Vt., is still the scene of nightly "feedings" by wild black bears in the vicinity, and it's become sort of a tourist attraction... some evenings, one or two bears appear, but as many as five have been seen at one time... the bears are now quite used to being peered at by crowds of curious, and don't even mind having their pictures taken... however, if there is any sudden or unusual activity, they scurry out of sight to return later on... Late Friday afternoon traffic was brought to a virtual standstill when two Sherbrooke fire-trucks came whizzing down King Street Hill around 4:30 p.m. ... pyromaniacs came running... What for? ... one fluorescent light that popped at the Singer Store on King Street near Wellington... Nocturnal book worms are reminded that the Sherbrooke Library, 275 Dufferin Street, is closed throughout the summer on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings... Three Maine teenagers arrived in Sherbrooke last Wednesday evening toting a surfboard on top of their car... although they were unable to find any foamy breakers to surf on around Sherbrooke, they were last seen ambulating toward the Moulin Rouge tavern in quest of another form of foam...

Sacair, located at the Sherbrooke airport, recently acquired a five-passenger Piper Artec aircraft... It is hoped that the company will begin a two-way schedule from Sherbrooke to Quebec, and Sherbrooke to Montreal... at present the company is waiting for authorization from the Federal Air Transport board... if the application is approved, Sherbrooke citizens will be able to fly from Sherbrooke to Quebec or Montreal in about 30 minutes... Members of the unofficial Wellington Street Girl Watchers' Society almost fell off their park benches with excitement Saturday when they read in Saturday's Record that there is actually an official International Girl Watchers' Society, members of which picked a lovely blonde as their Most Watchable Girl... the local group is now considering applying for affiliation with the international group... The centennial project of the Neweaston Valley Pastoral Charge of the United Church of Canada to paint the manse in Cookshire has been started, and the part facing the church has been completed... C of C to urge housing program for the city

The Sherbrooke Chamber of Commerce has announced that it will soon submit its brief on urban renewal and public housing to the city council.

The presentation of this brief was deferred originally so that the group could await the passing of the act on housing which has just been adopted by the Quebec legislature.

It is Bill 63 or the act of the Housing Corporation of the province.

The government approved the bill last Saturday.

Bill 63 offers the same privileges as the National Housing Act of 1954. The Chamber of Commerce here based the preparation of its brief on this national act, and the recommendations contained in it remain the same.

Accordingly the local Chamber will be able to present its brief to the city council within the next two weeks.

The brief underlines the fact that approximately 20 communities in this province have already benefited from the National Housing Act of 1954, in that they have been able to proceed to studies to determine their needs as regards public housing and the amelioration of certain areas of their jurisdiction.

Furthermore says the brief, these municipalities have already received subsidies from the federal government.

It points out that Sherbrooke has not taken the initiative to judge its advantages offered by the National Housing Act, though the needs of this city in relation to housing and needs of the poor are no less acute than those of the other municipalities.

The brief mentions that several sectors of Sherbrooke are in great need of renovation and attention from the city authorities.

The Quebec government act passed last week allows those municipalities who wish it to undertake extensive reconstruction projects and the construction of low cost housing for the poor of the area.

The Chamber brief stresses that the province of Ontario has greatly benefited from the Ontario Housing Corporation Act, which allows communities in that province the same benefits as the new Quebec Act will now offer.

The Sherbrooke Chamber says it deplors the lack of the city's concern in undertaking positive action in its jurisdiction that could lead to the correction of a very "deplorable condition".

The brief continues by stating that the Chamber "hopes that these measures will be undertaken immediately in view of the studies" that show the need for renovation in the shabby sectors of the city "and for the construction of public housing conforming to the needs of the population" in general.

It is hoped that the city authorities will be able to move as quickly as possible in relation to this proposals in accordance with the provisions of the Housing Corporation of Quebec, says the Chamber.

Eight hurt in accidents

Eight people were injured in separate accidents during the weekend in two ET areas.

Three accidents occurred in Sherbrooke over the weekend.

A man was injured Saturday evening when the car in which he was a passenger struck a traffic island on King Street West opposite Robidou Street. Chuck Maddiss, 438 Vimy St., Sherbrooke suffered lacerations to his forehead. He was taken to the Sherbrooke hospital where he was reported in satisfactory condition this morning.

The driver, Denis St Jean, 26, 150 Belvedere Street South was not injured.

In another Sherbrooke accident, two people were injured when their car collided with a horse trailer early Sunday morning on King Street West at the top of the hill near London Street.

The driver, Jacques Coriveau, 19, 3187 King Street West, received multiple lacerations and abdominal injuries. His passenger, Miss Solange Beaudet, 17, 68 Windsor Street, Lennoxville, received facial lacerations. They were both taken to St-Vincent de Paul hospital where they were reported in satisfactory condition this morning.

The driver of the truck, Lucien Normandin, 1102 St. Cesaire, was not injured. Mr. Normandin was on his way to the Sherbrooke race track when the accident occurred.

The Sherbrooke Police Department's internal organization is in a mess, the management consultants' report presented to city council last Wednesday makes clear.

And who is to blame?

Although Dufresne, McLagan, Daignault, firm researchers make it a point to be discreet and very rarely use names, they do have some hard criticisms of Police Chief Edouard Moreau.

The report accuses Chief Moreau of a "mediaval" attitude towards the Brotherhood which the reports says, had been frustrated time and time again in its attempts to come to terms with Moreau on questions of working conditions, discipline and grievances.

The chief had been "cold and aloof," says the report.

The policemen, led by their Brotherhood president Roland Pellerin, asked for the investigation which was subsequently ordered by City Hall.

To the question "was the Brotherhood justified in demanding an investigation into the Sherbrooke Police Department?" the researchers answer with a definite "yes."

Not only were there very real problems within the framework of employer - employee relationship, but disciplinary action was totally unjust, the report says.

"It is inconceivable" says the report, "in our day and age, that a sergeant is able to suspend or fire a policeman on his own authority; that a captain oblige a constable to accept disciplinary action without the constable knowing the reasons and gravity; and that the police chief ratify disciplinary action without advising council."

According to the city bylaws, points out the report, the chief can hire, suspend or fire a policeman without letting council know. "We consider this to be too great a power for the chief to have and strongly recommend that no policeman be suspended or fired without the authorization of council."

Nor are these the only reasons for the "deplorable and undermining atmosphere" says the report. "Without a doubt the new Quebec Act will now offer.

The Sherbrooke Chamber says it deplors the lack of the city's concern in undertaking positive action in its jurisdiction that could lead to the correction of a very "deplorable condition".

The brief continues by stating that the Chamber "hopes that these measures will be undertaken immediately in view of the studies" that show the need for renovation in the shabby sectors of the city "and for the construction of public housing conforming to the needs of the population" in general.

It is hoped that the city authorities will be able to move as quickly as possible in relation to this proposals in accordance with the provisions of the Housing Corporation of Quebec, says the Chamber.

tains could take over his job if he were to leave. We agree, but deplore the fact that the chief did not think it wise to choose and train someone who could act in his absence," says the report.

According to the researchers, the eleven sergeants interviewed gave a favourable impression except for one only who "did not seem emotionally able to perform the job". He is not named.

Whatever the problems of the Police Department in its internal structure and organization there has been a city council committee to deal with police department matters.

It was, until recently, under the chairmanship of Alderman Everett Nicol whose responsibility it was to try and be the effective link between council and the police department in matters of importance.

The report says that the Protection Committee hadn't met since November 23, 1962, and so in the light of its inoperativeness, recommends its abolition.

BRAKES FAIL

In a third local accident two men were slightly injured Saturday afternoon when their car was struck by another after its brakes failed. The accident took place at the site of the daily police car inspection on King Street West opposite the Le Baron motel.

Gerard Royer, of Montreal received injuries to both knees and left leg. Hector Lefebvre, of St-Rosaire, Ontario received injuries to his left leg. Both men, who were riding in the same car with their wives, were taken to the Hotel Dieu Hospital. They are in satisfactory condition.

The wives were uninjured.

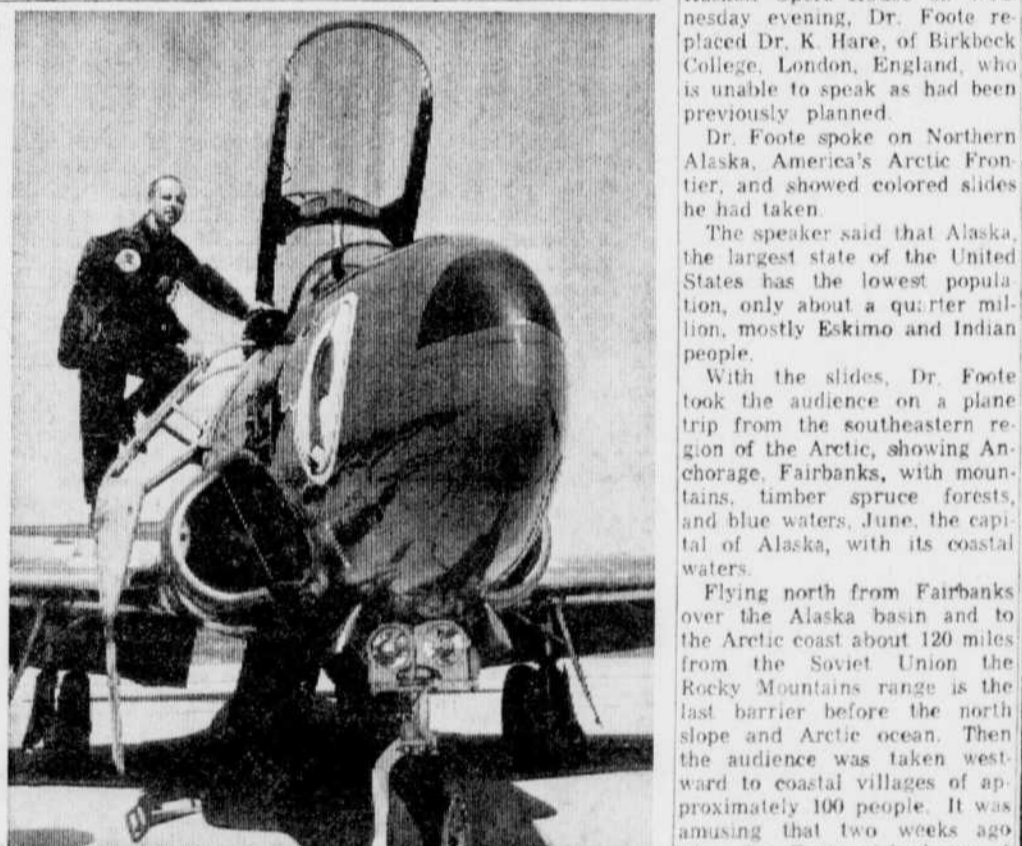

Three other cars were involved in the accident, but no one else was injured. The driver of the car whose brakes failed is Rosaire Labrecque, 320 P. E. Grenier, Quebec, police said.

Four teenagers were injured Sunday afternoon when their car missed a curve on the Milton Road near North Hatley and rolled over in a ditch.

Taken to Hotel Dieu hospital were: Michel Charest, 17, the driver, of 510 St. Michel Street, Sherbrooke, with lacer-

During his 15 minute air show the Red Knight demonstrates manoeuvres normally flown by all Canadian pilots in training.

So that spectators may easily see each manoeuvre or sequence, the Red Knight keeps his aircraft, a T-33, within a small area and at a lower altitude than normal. During most of his show he trails white smoke and ceremony.

City's meat sale bylaw is outdated

It is hard to believe that in 1967, a city the size of Sherbrooke does not have an up-to-date bylaw governing the sale of meat for human consumption within the municipal limits.

But such is the case.

What is even more incredible, however, is that council, having been informed of the situation by the provincial meat inspector for this area; having been given, in writing, no less than 16 suggested amendments to the present bylaw; and having been offered the complete cooperation of the provincial inspector, has apparently taken no action whatever.

Veterinarian Dr. Denis St. Jacques, who first brought the deplorable situation to council's attention in a letter dated May 30 of this year, has not even been given a hearing, although he offered in the letter to meet with the mayor to discuss the matter and to attend any council sessions dealing with the situation.

The matter is one that council can no longer ignore. In a nutshell, as Dr. St. Jacques said in his letter, "the present bylaw is outdated, and permits certain individuals to sell, in the city, meat unfit for human consumption; that is to say, horsemeat, and meat from diseased cows, or cows that have died from accident or sickness."

The Sherbrooke-Lennoxville branch of the Canadian Association of Consumers has spoken out publicly on two occasions, giving its fullest support to Dr. Jacques.

But, obviously, with the present bylaw, there is nothing Dr. Jacques or anyone else can do about the revolting state of affairs.

The responsibility is plainly city council's. It must act and act quickly to protect not only the public, but also those city butchers who voluntarily adhere to up-to-date standards.

The odd thing about happiness is that you can only receive it when you give it.

Where does Union Nationale stand?

The statement made by Quebec Premier Johnson Friday chastising Prime Minister Pearson for "forcing" de Gaulle to return home can only be viewed, charitably, in one light.

And that is that Mr. Johnson, like Charles de Gaulle himself, has misread the mood of the people. General de Gaulle committed an incredible series of diplomatic faux pas during his visit to Quebec; regardless of the sentiments de Gaulle expressed, no national leader could possibly ignore the discourtesies offered to both the country and the province by the general.

The fact that Mr. Johnson does not subscribe to this view can only lead one to conclude that in some manner, he and his government had something to do with the remarks and behaviour of the French leader.

If this is true, then there appears to be an important Quebec political issue emerging; one that Opposition Leader Lesage has already broached.

In his statement Friday on de Gaulle's visit, Mr. Lesage stated flatly and emphatically that his party is anti-separatist.

This solid declaration of principal cost him Francois Aquin, Liberal member for Dorion, who resigned, but there is nothing at this point to indicate that the rest of the provincial Liberal party does not support Mr. Lesage's position.

What is needed now is an equally unambiguous statement of policy on the separatist issue from Mr. Johnson.

So far, we have had only fence-straddling from the Union Nationale government.

In the wake of the de Gaulle debacle, this is no longer a tenable position, if indeed it ever was.

Many a gal who works hard to beautify her face will then uglify it by chewing gum.

Other papers say:

Government to act on Carter plan

(The Ottawa Journal)

When the voluminous Carter Report on Taxation was tabled in February the Government hastened to reassure the public that the recommendations would not be implemented quickly.

The reassurance was essential. Steps to revise the tax system, with such innovations as a tax on capital gains, required consideration in depth. Finance Minister Sharp himself took weeks to read and digest the report. His advisers have mulled it over for months.

Now, suddenly, the Carter Report is not a distant prospect, a theoretical proposal and time is running out for critics and friends.

The Government proposes to take action soon. There will be a white paper this fall giving the Government's proposals on tax reform, followed by a draft bill which will be the prelude to income tax reform legislation which is expected to be before Parliament next year.

Taxpayers are invited to have their comments on the report in writing in the Government's hands by the end of September or earlier.

The Government has not been unfair in the timing of its program. The report could not lie untouched for years after so many people had agreed that the tax structure had to be re-examined.

There is truth in Sharp's remark that "many of those who are displeased with the report have not read it." Those who have failed to read the report in six months are not taking it seriously and have no right to complain of haste.

Fortunately, enough organizations and individuals have spoken up to make it certain there will be vigorous submissions to Ottawa which will provide a liberal education on tax policies and their consequences.

There are critics who think the basic economic thinking of the report is wrong, that it will centralize more power in Ottawa and discourage investment. On the other side are admirers who think the report is a guide to tax reforms long overdue which has been prepared with such care that it would be a national disaster not to follow it exactly.

The outcome of parliamentary discussion is apt to be a revised taxation system brought up to date and designed to satisfy the national conscience in being equitable. After six months of study those who want to argue Carter Reports issues should be ready to state their case and let Parliament get on with decisions next year.

"SAY IT ISN'T SO..."

The readers say:

Canadians misunderstood de Gaulle

Sir, Prime Minister Pearson's comments (also called a rebuke by some) concerning words used by General de Gaulle since he arrived in Quebec, show once again that he (or his advisers) have very little insight into the de Gaulle personage and that he has failed miserably if he honestly tried to grasp the real substance of de Gaulle's words.

The high esteem I had for Pearson the diplomat has reached an all time low level and Mr. Diefenbaker has not indicated that he is better endowed when it comes to interpreting French and the true spirit of a difficult, but precise language.

It is most unfortunate, once again, that an ill-defined fear possesses and besets (a good example was the raving and lunatic verbosity of two Montreal English radio stations commentators, the other day) behind reason and logic, those who witness such goings on General de Gaulle's visit to Quebec City and to Montreal and the state visit he was to have made to Ottawa, as the head of a sovereign country, to meet the chief of the Government of Canada which still includes, amongst other provinces, Quebec, birthplace for centuries of human beings who had their counterparts in Ontario (Upper Canada) and in the Maritimes, and this, as early as the first part of the 17th century.

Those who are looking for sensationalism will find something to suit their motives or purpose even when the intention of de Gaulle who, when he came here as a long lost relative, used words and figures of speech which can only be misleading to people who know very little of de Gaulle's style as an orator and more important, as a respected author whose literary works have been translated into many languages.

What could have been simply a sentimental journey through the most densely populated area of Quebec — a region where 97 per cent of the population uses French even if not always in its best form, — has apparently become in the eyes of a lot of people, both French and English but not for the same reasons, a pseudo political issue or another "football" to be used by politicians, especially those at the federal level of our government, who should have their hands full with problems of state concerning our economy, welfare, employment and our nation's reputation throughout the world, instead of:

— starting a "he is ours, first, not yours" feud with the government of Quebec, when Ottawa could not hope to come away the winner, in Quebec City.

— insisting to have the "God Save the Queen" played in Quebec City, instead of a more neutral O Canada, especially when one recalls the distasteful incidents on the occasion of Queen Elizabeth's latest visit to City (some people seem to be unable to keep away from trouble and our too often overly paid civil servants in Ottawa should learn from their mistakes but will they ever?)

— letting a silly rift develop between the federal and provincial organs of information, to the polite amusement of a press contingent of unprejudiced importance at a time when the eyes of the world — the term is not too strong — are attentive to news items from Canada and Quebec, land of Expo 1967.

Whilst people will argue the true significance of General de Gaulle's utterances since he landed at l'Anse Aux Foulons, last Sunday, all but a few of our Quebecois, and I say this regardless of what language they use, will have missed the message. He delivered it amidst a climate which only Churchill perhaps, might have gone fresh from his wartime achievements, on a similar journey from Toronto to Ottawa.

De Gaulle has said to the inhabitants of Quebec: "You have commenced to achieve progress in the fields of research, education, development of your economy, and you will surprise everyone".

"France assures you of its support in the pursuit of common French endeavours".

"Tonight, here, and at every moment of this trip, I found an atmosphere which reminded me of the liberation. For those who did not bother to recall such details, de Gaulle and his military aides (and American troops) went through dozens of villages before entering Paris in 1944 and I am convinced that de Gaulle was only referring to the gaiety, enthusiasm, and emotion re-created last Monday but certainly not in the sense that anyone could look upon him as a liberator.

I, for one, cannot associate the above reference to the Liberation March with any separatism-oriented remark which too many people have chosen to discover in words which, to me, mean more "a Quebec, free from its fear of in posing itself by achievements which will enable the people of Quebec (all the people) to show what and how much guts and energy they have.

Furthermore, I do not hesitate to say that General de Gaulle had no idea that his "Vive le Quebec libre" exclaimed (some have termed this a statement) under great emotional strain, would be construed as anything but a "mot d'ordre" for Quebec to develop itself to the fullest, in circumstances which permit all hopes for the greatest achievements one could envision.

Finally, it should be said that General de Gaulle could not see the message on banners or signs carried by a few separatist militants and the more headlines we see in our English dailies, the more encouraged our few active separatists will be to demonstrate. I am sure you will agree that the few separatists who promote the constitutional independence of Quebec will have revived their fervor immensely upon witnessing the ill-oriented importance our English press has unwittingly given sentimental exclamations which only an educated French person could appreciate for its innocent oratory.

It should be pointed out to the "deeply concerned" and "unhappy" and "angered" that one should be very acutely cognizant of all aspects of a given situation and not be too quick to jump to conclusions which are not always based on proper assumptions especially when one does not possess the language concerned and the capacity to define what is emotion and what is or are pronouncements.

May I conclude that a unilingual Canadian, unable to read at least one or possibly two newspapers, in both French and English, not necessarily every day but when events such as the above visit are in preparation or are happening, should refrain from speaking up, adding fuel to an issue (between French and English) which will last as long as Canada headed by the majority (English) fails to emerge as a truly independent nation.

In the meantime how about telling the people of Quebec and of Canada that what de Gaulle has implied is: that we have only started our development and that all remains to be done and nobody should lose sight of the only real challenge, EXCELLENCE.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

Henry D. Parsons, North Hatley, was elected president of the 117th Eastern Townships Overseas Battalion Association at the annual reunion Saturday at the Chateau Frontenac Hotel. Ralph D. Farley, of Drummondville, was elected vice-president.

The reunion, in the form of a general meeting and a banquet was attended by 34 members of the battalion, veterans of the First World War.

Other officers are: Wray P. Adams, West Lebanon, New Hampshire; honorary first vice-president; Tom Coe, of Montreal, honorary second vice-president; O. S. Hamilton, Lennoxville, first vice-president; Leslie Shaw, Concord, New Hampshire; second vice-president; and Ed. Kingsland, secretary-treasurer.

Past president Fred West, of Drummondville, was the guest speaker at the banquet.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

An invitation from the St. Johns Chamber of Commerce to attend a horse show in St. Johns has been issued to members of the Sherbrooke Chamber, their wives and guests, it was learned from Guy Dufresne, secretary.

The horse show staged annually in St. Johns will take place on Saturday August 16, and all members of the local chamber are invited to attend this event.

An official delegation will represent the city of Sherbrooke in St. Johns on this occasion, Mr. Dufresne said. Highlights of the visit will be a sight-seeing tour of the guest city, an official reception by the mayor and aldermen will be tendered the visitors, and following the horse show, a dance will be held, sponsored by the St. Johns Chamber in honor of the visitors.

Members, as well as all those interested in taking part in the trip are asked to communicate with Guy Dufresne, Secretary of the Sherbrooke Chamber, as soon as possible.

Squalor in the ghettos

Washington is ripe for racial violence

By JOHN AITKEN

WASHINGTON — (TNS) — It is only a matter of time and temperature before Negro rioting spreads to Washington. There is every ingredient here that there is in Cincinnati, Buffalo, Montgomery, Tampa or Detroit. It is a simple trick of the imagination, as you wander through the endless, dingy squalor of the northeast Washington ghetto, to forget you're in the nation's capital and to wonder if you've somehow wound up in another country — a black country where white faces are seldom seen and much resented.

For Washington is a black city — the blackest, proportionately, in the United States. The Negro population here accounts for 60 per cent of the total, nearly half a million. In the schools of the District of Columbia the proportion of Negro pupils is close to 91 per cent.

In Buffalo, where rioting erupted last month, the Negro population comprises 13.8 per cent (according to the Negro Almanac, a one-volume encyclopedia published recently on the American Negro); in Cincinnati the figure is 21.8 per cent and in Montgomery, Ala., 35.3 per cent.

It is true that in Washington a buffer group of Negroes, employed mostly in government jobs, have achieved an affluence that makes them unlikely to riot, but it is equally true that the ghetto conditions are as bad as any ghetto in the U.S. Disease and death are common: Washington's infant mortality rate is the highest of the nation.

Washington has the second highest incidence of gonorrhoea. Washington has fifth highest incidence of syphilis. Washington has the sixth highest tuberculosis rate in the nation. (In one 35-block area, tests revealed one in four residents showed a positive tuberculosis reaction.)

The average income in Washington is $10,000 but 15 per cent of the citizens are trying to get by on less than $3,000. Joblessness — especially among teen-age Negro high school dropouts — is a pressing problem. Officials are trying to find 20,000 summer jobs for Negro youths (one in five is jobless).

Vernon Culppeper, inspector in charge of the Washington Police Department's community relations division, recently said: "I am pessimistic... I am concerned... I am worried about the possibility of violence this summer." Culppeper is especially worried by the presence of Black Power advocate Stokely Carmichael, who when he is in town lives in a posh Georgetown apartment. His announced intention is to whip up anti-draft, anti-Vietnam feeling among Negroes and push the 90-year-old home rule controversy.

The District of Columbia is a federal district governed by a committee of Congress. There is no mayor, and there are no city councillors to appeal to. In a city where municipal elections would result in a Negro dominated council this has been contentious since the district was devised. Lester McKinnie, chairman of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC) says: "There's definitely more tension here than last year..."

Police relations with Negroes have deteriorated and parish priests in the northeast section are unanimous in their fears of what a white-coat incident might trigger.

It has been the combination of heat wave and police actions — justified or not — which has produced the magor riots. Washington has had the coolest spring and early summer in many years, but August is approaching.

Whether there will be a full-scale riot this summer in Washington is difficult to predict, say city officials. But they are preparing for an uneasy, tense and violent summer.

TODAY IN HISTORY

An American doctor, sought for one of the most grisly murders in the history of London, England, was arrested at the pilot station at Father Point, near Rimouski, Que., 57 years ago today — in 1910. The arrest of Dr. Hawley Harvey Crippen and his paragon, Ethel Le Neve, who had crossed the Atlantic on the CPR liner Montrose, marked the first use of radio in tracking down a criminal. Crippen was hanged in Pentonville Prison, London, Nov. 23, 1910, for the murder and mutilation of his wife.

First World War Fifty years ago today—in 1917—British troops advancing on a 30-mile front took 10 towns near Ypres while the French forced the passage of the Yser canal; Germany announced Canadian war prisoners would be released when German veterans of early battles were liberated.

Second World War Twenty-five years ago today—in 1942—RAF and RCAF aircraft attacked Abeeville and St. Malo docks in occupied France; U.S. Navy intelligence estimated there were 10,000 Japanese in the western Aleutian islands; Russian troops fell back south and southeast of Bataisk.

'Poor old Uncle Charlie' just ran

Dear Sir: The public seems to be wondering why friend de Gaulle decided to hurry home instead of taking his planned trip to Ottawa. The things our Queen put up with! She even ran the risk of being harmed visiting the province. But poor old Uncle Charlie just couldn't take it. The sound of bombs in his ears and snipers lurking around was just too much for him. He ran for home. So Mr. Public, don't wonder any longer. Poor old Uncle Charlie ran out of courage after his infamous speech. G.S.

Let me hear what God the Lord will speak. (Psalms 85:8, RSV). PRAYER: Our Father, today many voices will be calling us in many directions. Teach us to listen to Thee so that no other voice will lead us, and grant us willingness to obey. In the spirit of Christ. Amen.

FLOGGING ABOLISHED

LONDON (AP)—Flogging has been abolished as punishment for junior ratings in the Royal Navy. Defence Minister Gerry Reynolds told Parliament "Caning has been accepted for many years as one form of discipline for juniors," he said. "The practice has been reviewed and it has been decided to bring the navy into line with the other two services."

Exploits clause

Family man finds way out

EDMONTON (CP)—The 25-year-old clerk, a father of four, owed money for a stove, a telephone bill, a doctor's bill and furniture. It added up to $2,186 split among 12 creditors.

Every month, he mails a $70 cheque to the provincial Debtors' Assistance Board, which distributes the money to his creditors. The monthly payments will continue until his debts are liquidated.

The clerk was the first family man in Canada to take advantage of a clause in the new federal Bankruptcy Act providing machinery for consolidation of debts. His consolidation order, under the Orderly Payment of Debts Provisions, went into effect in May.

Under the OPD plan, the board learned that the clerk's monthly take-home pay, including family allowances, was $404. It allowed him $334 for expenses, arriving at the $70 figure available for payments. The board consulted the man's creditors, who approved of the arrangement, and the payments began.

While creditors are not obliged to accept an OPD agreement, which frees the debtor from court action, it offers them assurance of monthly payments and a better chance to get back their money than they would have if they employed other means.

CREDITOR HAS CHOICE

If the debtor defaults on a payment, he is given 90 days to appear before the board and apply for an extension. If he fails to give valid reasons for his application, or if he defaults a second time, he loses his OPD protection and becomes subject to normal court action.

The only cost to the debtor is a $10 fee to apply for a consolidation order. Remainder of the board's expenses is borne by the Alberta government. Under the plan, a creditor has the initial option of agreeing to OPD terms or resorting to other collection methods. But he is not permitted to ask for OPD help later if his alternative efforts fail.

Alberta attempted to set up similar debt-collecting machinery in 1959, but its legislation was ruled invalid by the Supreme Court of Canada, which held that a provincial government was not empowered to act in the field.

Once the federal Bankruptcy Act cleared the way, OPD proved so popular in Edmonton that appointments for prospective applicants were booked two months in advance. Some 50 or 60 debtors, most of them owing about $5,000, have taken advantage of the plan.

Industrialist Krupp dies in W. Germany

ESSEN (AP)—Alfried Krupp, the Franco-Prussian war and von Bohlen and Halbach, owner of West Germany's vast Krupp concern, died Sunday night at the age of 59, a company spokesman announced today.

The cause of death was not immediately disclosed. Krupp had not been reported ill and the company spokesman said his death was "sudden and unexpected."

Krupp, one of the richest men in Europe, was a reserved and somewhat shy man. He lived a quiet life, avoiding publicity and limelight. He would have been 60 Aug. 13.

Twice married and twice divorced, Krupp is survived by a son, Arndt. But the father was the fifth and last hereditary ruler of the vast empire that made Germany's munitions for quis told Judge Guy Genest that Cournoyer had paid $1500 and the department were accepting payment at the rate of $25 per month.

Stefan Wrzeszcz, Granby, was found guilty of having assaulted his brother-in-law, in what Judge Genest said should have been a Superior or Juvenile Court case, relating to custody of Wrzeszcz's 12-year-old daughter, Christia.

Christia had been living with her Uncle, Joseph Matton following the death of her mother ten years ago. She had returned to live with her father, didn't like the atmosphere and called Mr. Matton to take her back.

Matton testified that he had gone to pick Christia up. They were returning home when Wrzeszcz forced him to the side of the road, got out of the car and came to his, then managed to land a couple of heavy blows that caused nose and mouth wounds.

Crown Prosecutor Claude Noisieux's request for a fine of $50 and costs was granted. Wrzeszcz was granted a week to pay the fine. Judge Genest recommended that the custody of Christia be settled by the appropriate court.

Bernard Champagne, Waterloo, pleaded guilty to taking a motor vehicle without the owner's permission. He was sentenced to a fine of $50 and costs, or 30 days in jail. Champagne was granted two weeks to pay.

Marcel Auger, Windsor Mills, pleaded not guilty to a charge of assault on the person of Mrs. Bertrand Dufort, Granby. His case will be heard August 11.

Romeo Blanchard, Granby, pleaded guilty to a charge of impaired driving. He was sentenced to a fine of $75 and costs, or 30 days in jail and was forbidden to drive in Canada for the next three months.

SSJB endorses Pony trip near goal

CHAMBLY, Que. (CP)—Tony and Jeff Whittemore, brothers from Needham, Mass., received a welcome from top Chamblay officials Sunday in this community 10 miles south of their goal—Expo 67.

People will tell us whether or not they want to separate from the rest of Canada. The Liberal leader contended that Mr. Johnson's Union Nationale party lacks both goals and policy, and fears to say whether it is separatist or anti-separatist.

Mr. Norman Campbell, Pin court, was a guest of his mother, Mrs. D. A. Campbell. Mr. Murdo MacLeod, Thurso, spent a few days at the Campbell home while visiting relatives and friends in town.

Despite the diplomatic incidents which it caused, the French president's visit will have the immediate advantage of bringing the Quebec problem to the attention of world public opinion and of breaking the cold reserve of English-Canadian public opinion, which prefers to ignore in systematic fashion the difficulties engendered by the co-existence of two distinct nations in Canada.

Mr. Lesage said, using a phrase which served as a Liberal slogan in past elections. "The Liberals will carry on their work of consolidating for Quebec the special status they began building between 1960 and 1966."

Mr. Andrew Patton, Huntingville, conducted the church service in St. Paul's Presbyterian Church on July 16 and sang the solo, Sweet Peace, accompanied by Mrs. Sheila Gilbert, who was organist for the day.

The federation said the controversy sparked by Gen. de Gaulle's visit, which ended July 26 after being shortened by the president, was fed by anti-Gaulist feelings in Canada and abroad.

Mr. Pearson was kissed before an applauding crowd of 2,000 on Parliament Hill Sunday following a ceremony welcoming vice-president Willy Spuehler of Switzerland to Canada.

Mr. Stanley Beerworth, Coaticook, who conducts the church services in St. Andrew's United Church, was accompanied on July 16 by his son Robert and Miss Linda Noftall, Montreal.

The visit would spark intelligent discussion of the constitutional and political problems faced by Canada and of the relations between the central government and Quebec.

Lesage critical

MONT LOUIS, Que. (CP)—Jean Lesage, leader of the Quebec Liberal party, Sunday challenged Premier Daniel Johnson to support or repudiate separatism and to call a provincial general election.

Mr. Johnson is a separatist, he should have the decency to say so as soon as possible and to declare an election," Mr. Lesage told a Liberal meeting in this Gaspé Peninsula community 260 miles northeast of Quebec City.

In Greece Children get new lease on life through efforts of American woman

ATHENS (Reuters)—An unusual American woman has opened her heart and bank account to give Greek children a new lease on life through open heart surgery.

The woman is Maira Ramsay, without whose efforts 56 Greek children might now be dead.

Mrs. Ramsay, born in Brooklyn in 1913 of Italian parents, married early and found herself divorced with five children when she was not much more than 20.

Her second husband, by whom she had a sixth child, was Metropolitan Opera bassist Nino Carbone. They rented a 10-room New York apartment and proceeded to live "a wonderful, mad life" with the children around them.

As the children grew up, they became accustomed to their mother bringing in stray people who stopped her in the streets and asked for handouts.

Canadian history comes to life in school

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP)—Centennial didn't seem to mean much to Frances Williams' Grade 5 class at Holy Family school.

She decided to try to make 100 years of Canadian history come to life by bringing in an expert every week to show and tell what it is all about. The children went on to keep centennial scrap-books and make tours of local institutions such as the newspaper.

The most glamorous visitor to the school was Chief Sa-Ka-Wa-La-Ra-Kwen-Nis of the Iroquois. Originally William Aren, he was made honorary chief 10 years ago because of his interest in Indian ways and history. He told the class the history of Canada's Indians and brought along a display of drums, magic objects, weapons and tools. Tales from Indian folklore brightened the hour-long visit.

Other visitors explained the history of the police force, the telephone system, medicine in Europe and Canada and the hydroelectric industry, illustrating their words with films and displays.

The school's other Grade 5 class and sometimes Grade 4 joined Mrs. Williams' pupils. "They couldn't wait for the day to come round each week," she says. "I've learned a terrific amount myself."

LETTERS FOLLOWED

When the McEwan case appeared in the Greek press, letters poured in from parents of Greek children suffering from congenital heart ailments.

Mrs. Ramsay founded the Mrs. Joseph Gales Ramsay III Foundation in 1962. So far, the foundation has taken 82 patients, mainly children, from 15 countries to the U.S. for complex open heart surgery. Of these, 61 came from Greece and the operations have saved 56 of them.

Mrs. Ramsay was awarded a decoration by King Constantine in 1965 for her work.

STARTED WITH APPEAL

Her career to save small children's lives began unexpectedly in 1962, when she and her husband stayed at a hotel in Rochester, Minn. Mrs. Ramsay read an appeal in a newspaper from a Scottish mother to save her 19-month-old daughter, suffering from advanced cancer of the eyes.

"I told my dear husband that if he let me help the child I would promise not to buy even a hairpin for myself for one whole year," Mrs. Ramsay recalled.

Her husband took her at her word and she telephoned Scotland.

"I have never got off that phone since," she said.

Little Margaret McEwan of Lanarkshire, Scotland, was taken to the United States too late for her sight to be saved, but surgeons were able to prevent the cancer from spreading. Now, seven-year-old Mar-

East-West opposition mini-skirts vs. Muscovites

MOSCOW (AP)—It's the greatest East-West confrontation since Glasboro: mini-skirts vs. Muscovites.

And the Russians are taking the hard line. One old woman in Gorky Park took a switch to an American girl and lashed the backs of her bare knees.

Around the Intourist hotels, the foreign currency shops and the International Film Festival, the most gaudily clad girls ever seen off the stage of the Bolshoi Ballet.

The're foreigners, mostly British, American, Scandinavian and German tourists.

All winter, Moscow heard rumors of just how mini the mini-skirt had become in the fabled, distant West. A few brave Russians raised hems a scandalous inch above the knee.

But by spring the average dress still amply covered the usually ample Russian knee-cap.

THE REAL THING

Now they're seeing the real thing—six to 10 inches above the knee—and the psychedelic colors seem as surprising as the brevity in the drab Moscow setting.

One girl at a film festival party wore a crocheted, see-through "dress" of bathing-suit proportions over a body-stock. Even the movie stars, not to mention people from the comparatively sophisticated Soviet cultural scene, were shocked.

Less sophisticated, less worldly Muscovites are not taking this invasion calmly.

The babushka—the word means grandmother but applies to any little old Russian woman—in Gorky Park was not alone.

An Australian girl and another babushka were seen in a tug-of-war all the way across a broad, busy street. The old woman was trying to pull the girl's hem down to her knees and the girl was frantically trying to escape.

SOME EXPERIMENT

Some of the younger tourists from such Communist countries as Poland and Czechoslovakia are wearing minis. Russian girls are envious and experimenting.

"Creeping Mini-ism" may take Moscow yet.

"I'll never shorten mine," declared one little old woman, sitting on a park bench in mid-calf-length black skirt. Her kerchief was firmly in place to show that she was a properly uniformed babushka.

"They're a disgrace, such women," said she. "So immodest."

"Know what I think? Spit on them."

"Pfu! Pfu!"

The new you and a relaxed summer

A few more tips on skin care to make a prettier you and your summer more relaxed and enjoyable.

Soak feet and elbows in a warm solution of salt and water to soften dry patches and then massage with good moisturizing cream. Take a little time to trim the old cuticle from around your toe nails and finish with a flick of pale nail polish. This will make your feet look much prettier and better cared for.

Many women use heavy make-up to hide permanent or even temporary facial blemishes. This is usually unattractive and in summer extremely uncomfortable. In humid weather the skin perspires profusely and this turns make-up into a soggy mask.

Much better instead to embark upon a skin care program to eliminate these blemishes and present a more youthful and less made-up appearance. Get off to a flying start by cutting down on rich, highly sweetened or spiced foods.

GREATLY

Styles in make-up have changed greatly of late and the new products with all their blushers and brushes are a far cry from dark lipstick and eyebrow pencil. They can be enormously flattering if used correctly, and if you find that the sheer quantity available defeats you, or if you have minor skin problems, a visit to a professional beautician would be an excellent investment. It will cost anywhere from $6 to $8 but he results will last a long time.

All salons have their own techniques and favorite line of cosmetics and their beauticians are trained in their particular use.

The whole procedure lasts about one hour and is marvelously relaxing. The neck and back are first massaged with rich cream until it is completely absorbed. Then the face is thoroughly cleansed, twice, a routine which should be followed at home every night.

DELICATE

To avoid stretching the skin use an upward motion, starting from the lips toward the temples. The forehead should be cleansed sideways to soften frown lines and the eyes done separately and very gently as the skin surrounding them is very delicate. Gently remove the cream with facial tissue and re-apply using circular motions. Remove with a towel soaked in cold water and pat dry. Unless you have an oily skin never use an astringent as it is very drying.

After this thorough cleansing, a face mask is applied. This stimulates the blood supply to the surface, tightens and firms the skin and reduces the size of the pores. One very good mask that can be made and applied at home is a mixture of oatmeal and milk—preferably buttermilk—made into a thick paste, and applied lavishly all over your face and neck, except for around your eyes. Lie down, put your feet up and pray that no one rings the doorbell.

After removing the mask a beautician will then give you a complete makeup and if all this doesn't make you feel like a brand new you, nothing will. (T.N.S.)

Baby Oil Softens Skin

Keeping lanned skin smooth and intact and eliminating that itchy feeling is as easy as adding baby oil to your bath water or rubbing down with baby oil before you shower. Baby oil applied to your legs before shaving will not only make the task easy but will soften the skin at the same time.

Down with Dandruff

If you're a summertime dandruff type, someone who is troubled by the pesky flakes of dandruff when drying sun and moist humidity get at hair and scalp, it's a good idea to use a special shampoo. There are a number of good shampoos that leave hair manageable and take care of dandruff at the same time. One is antibacterial and antifungal and is also good for tinted and dyed hair.

I walked alone in the old city

By ERIC ERICKSON

JERUSALEM — (TNS)—Although the Middle East War was fought behind a political cloak there are many Israelis who feel it was more of a religious war — and as history recalls — Israel doesn't lose Biblical battles.

When you talk to Israeli soldiers and civilians they speak reverently of a Supreme Being, or as the bolder ones say: "It was God's handiwork."

Others insist the crushing defeat of the Arabs is "the beginning of the Messianic Age."

From the Wailing Wall here to the Tel Aviv bistros, the people of Israel are in agreement that if God did not actually drive the tanks and fire the guns, he was the motivating force which gave the Jews air and ground superiority over their enemies.

And when the masses believe, the leaders don't attempt to discount their beliefs. This would be political suicide, particularly when dealing with people whose all-fundamental teaching borders on religion.

PROUD PEOPLE

The Jews have a long and proud heritage. And now, to the generation of Hebrews can trace the footsteps of their forefathers along the dusty footpaths leading to the Wailing Wall at Jerusalem.

This is perhaps the proudest possession claimed by the Israelis from the savage Mid-East War.

I stood and watched as hundreds of Jews made their way to the remaining fragment of the temple originally built almost 2,000 years ago by King Solomon. It has been almost destroyed twice. Today it is officially open.

As the groups make their way to the wall their faces and voices tell the story.

And you are reminded of the quotation spoken at Auschwitz, Dachau, Beisen and Treblinka: "If I forget thee, oh Jerusalem, let my right hand forget its cunning."

I climbed Mount Zion to the wall with the "chosen people."

Finally, I reached the wall. It was about 30 feet in height measuring about 120 feet in length. Below the ground level are 19 rows of stone which remain as vivid testimony of the time when Solomon's workmen laid the base.

As I touched the wall a white-haired woman released uncontrollable sobs as she pressed both hands and her forehead to the stone, now made warm by the sun's morning rays. I wondered at her thoughts.

A LONG WAIT

A hundred events are taking place, but I didn't know what they signified... a thousand emotions are being released

... 2,000 years is a long time.

And below, in the streets of the old city, a solemn reverence prevails.

But I thought aloud, "what about the feelings of the military and political leaders of Israel? How do they feel?"

Perhaps these men do not share the feelings of the common people. However, they are most certainly aware of the spiritual blanket of hope which has covered an entire nation.

It is with this thinking that I came to realize why the Israeli leaders won't allow territorial gains to be sacrificed.

This injection of religion into international politics is highly relevant to the Old City of Jerusalem. The Israelis will not make any concessions regarding the city. To bend would be political suicide. Indeed, it is likely the government of Israel would fall within hours.

What the country's politicians lost at the conference table would be fought for by men, women, and children, armed with rifles, meat cleavers and paving stones. Conversation would be replaced by violence.

According to Israeli sources in Jerusalem the people will only abide by their leader's decisions if they are acceptable to the masses. There is no middle road or compromise.

Generally, the people want Jerusalem, the west bank and the Sinai Desert as autonomous buffer zones, along with a more defensible Syrian frontier.

Suddenly, walking through the market place where Moses once stepped, I became frightened. I hurried to my hotel to sit quietly.

"Has God remembered his people?" I asked myself.

Falling to sleep I wondered — how violently will this nation of shopkeepers, farmers and taxi drivers shake the world if they remain convinced that this is what God has willed?

Women pioneer new welfare service

WINNIPEG (CP)—A group of workers. They operate out of a trailer.

He said an assessment should be able to determine the value of the program in six months.

The women are given a relatively free hand in handling their cases.

"The theory is that these indigenous people, operating under conditions of unusual and unorthodox freedom from bureaucratic procedure and the traditional welfare contamination, and from a base within the neighborhood served, may learn how to deliver a better and more constructive service than we have been able to muster in the past."

with experience instead of college degrees, six Winnipeg women have been employed by the Winnipeg welfare department to pioneer a new type of welfare service.

All had been on the city's welfare rolls until mid-April and were hand-picked for the pilot project of extending neighborhood aid to welfare recipients.

"Our senior staff has used a great deal of imagination in the recruiting and training of the women," says Welfare Director G. G. Myers.

The six are called family visitors and work under the direction of two professional social workers. They operate out of a trailer.

The twelve minute cigarette is here

No other Canadian cigarette quite measures up - in length, in taste, in satisfaction.

New Goldcrest cigarettes are a full 100 millimetres long.

Why do we call Goldcrest the "twelve minute cigarette"? Because minutes make more sense than millimetres when you're talking about smoking satisfaction.

Think about it. For a price you're used to paying, you're enjoying a more satisfying flavour than ever before... a more satisfying length than ever before. A full 100 millimetres.

The twelve minute cigarette is available now in packages of 20's and 25's.

Light one up and see how it suits you.

Alouettes drop two weekend tilts but rally Sunday night to clip Lachine

The Sherbrooke Alouettes went down 4-1 at the hands of the Quebec Indians yesterday afternoon in Quebec City but snapped back on home grounds last night to beat the Lachine Mets 6-4.

In Quebec the Alouettes held on to a 1-1 tie until the ninth inning when Gerry Marshall of the Indians hit a home run with two men on base.

Sherbrooke's pitcher George Birth allowed only six hits in the game, three of which went to Bill Cheslock.

Marcel Sanscraign tallied his third straight victory for the Indians allowing the AIs only three hits.

At the Park Avenue Stadium Guy St. Vincent's team rallied to knock in two runs in the sixth inning and two others in the seventh to beat Lachine 6-4.

Simon Perez, relieving Wilfredo Echavarría in the seventh, was the winning pitcher while Fitzpatrick pitched for the losers.

Matt Alston hit three singles for the Alouettes in last night's game but it was Guy St. Vincent who scored two runs to tie the score while Dan Berstien scored the winning run and Gerald Brooks ran in to put victory out of the Mets' grasp.

Chuck Foster hit a homer for the losers and Ronnie Dickson tallied a double and a single.

In other Provincial Baseball League action over the weekend the Granby Cardinals split two games with the Quebec Indians winning the first game 6-2 on Saturday and losing the second 9-5 last night.

John Elias allowed the Indians nine hits to win the first game while Quebec's two pitchers, Coss Corrigan, and LaBrosse allowed only six.

In the second game the Indians took their revenge, scoring five runs in the eighth inning and another for good measure in the ninth to defeat the Cardinals 9-5. Relief pitcher Corrigan, who replaced Crowder, tallied the victory. George Sackery replaced Enrique Chaviano in the seventh as pitcher for the losers.

The Plessisville Braves played three games over the weekend and won two. In their first they beat Coaticook 6-3 scoring a total of 14 hits against Sierra Edwards and Pujals.

Charles Middlebrooks limited his former team mates to six hits but allowed Tony Alessi one homer.

Yesterday afternoon, the Braves won a tight game against the Drummondville Royals 6-5 to the credit of relief pitcher Real Boissonneault.

In a second game against the Royals last night, Plessisville tallied its lone defeat of the weekend when the Royals snapped back to win an easy 8-1 victory.

On Saturday night action, George Shoemaker relieving Gervais in the seventh, pitched Theford Mines to 6-4 victory over Sherbrooke's Alouettes.

Simon Perez, who pitched the whole game for the AIs, allowed 10 hits. Sonny Pace, Charles Robinson and John McKee hit homers for Theford Mines.

On Sunday night Theford Mines, led by John McKee, scored another victory beating Coaticook 6-1. McKee hit a three run homer and two singles. On Sunday afternoon the Coaticook Canadians lost another game to Theford Mines 8-3.

In other Saturday game a homer by Andre Besette allowed the Lachine Mets to go ahead of the Drummondville Royals 6-4 and win the game.

Paul Pouliot leads trials for Quebec's Willingdon Cup team

MONTREAL (CP)—Selections for Quebec's Willingdon Cup team went down to the wire Sunday and at the end of the 54-hole trials Paul Pouliot of Royal Quebec was well in front with 214, followed by Bob McGrath of Montreal Beaconsfield with 222 and Dave Hardie of Montreal Summerlea with 223.

Automatically on the four-man team is Gordon LeRiche of Summerlea, winner of the Quebec amateur championship a week ago.

The first 18 holes of the final trials were played over the Mount Bruno course Saturday and the windup 36 over Pinegrove.

Pouliot had a 74 over Mount Bruno's par - 70 Saturday but came back with a rush Sunday over the par-72 Pinegrove layout with brilliant shb-par rounds of 69 and 71.

McGrath was the first day leader with 72 and almost put himself out of the picture with a 77 Sunday morning but rallied to finish with 73.

Hardie had a 77 for his start and another 77 Sunday morning, then fired a three-under-par 69 in the afternoon.

Over the 54 holes, Pouliot's 214 was even par and he was by far the most consistent. He was out in par 36 in the Sunday morning round and fired four birdies, missing par only once, coming home.

In the afternoon Pouliot was again out in 36, then birdied the long 13th coming back with pars at all the other holes.

Pouliot was on the Quebec team once before, in 1961. McGrath has never made it before and has never won any provincial titles. Hardie made the team last year and once previously. LeRiche was a team member twice before, once when he was only 16.

Reverse psychology pays off for Canada's silver medalist diver

WINNIPEG (CP)—Canadian diver Lesley Bush, 19-year-old Indiana University student and 1964 Olympic tower diving champion, led from the start and won the gold medal—the 15th U.S. gold out of 18 so far decided in the Games swimming and diving competitions.

"I was terrified on that last dive," she said after being presented with her medal. "My coach (Don Webb of Toronto) told me how close I was."

"That sort of scared me. I went up thinking about all the sort of things I could do to blow it. Most divers don't think that way but I'm sort of different, I guess."

The 16-year-old Pickering, Ont., high school student, who burst into prominence last summer when she won a silver medal in the British Empire Games at Kingston, Jamaica, in the three-metre springboard and followed with a bronze in the tower, added:

"After the prelims (two compulsory and two optional dives during the morning) I thought it was game over. I didn't think I had a chance to improve from third because one of the American girls would have to blow a dive and they just don't do that." But American Ann Peterson, a newcomer to the tower event and admittedly jittery during the afternoon session of the competition, did falter and Bevo overcame a 22.5-point deficit to take second place with scores of 86.40 and 102.70 in her last two dives. Lesley Bush, 19-year-old Indiana University student and 1964 Olympic tower diving champion, led from the start and won the gold medal—the 15th U.S. gold out of 18 so far decided in the Games swimming and diving competitions.

US wins pentathlon, Canada, second

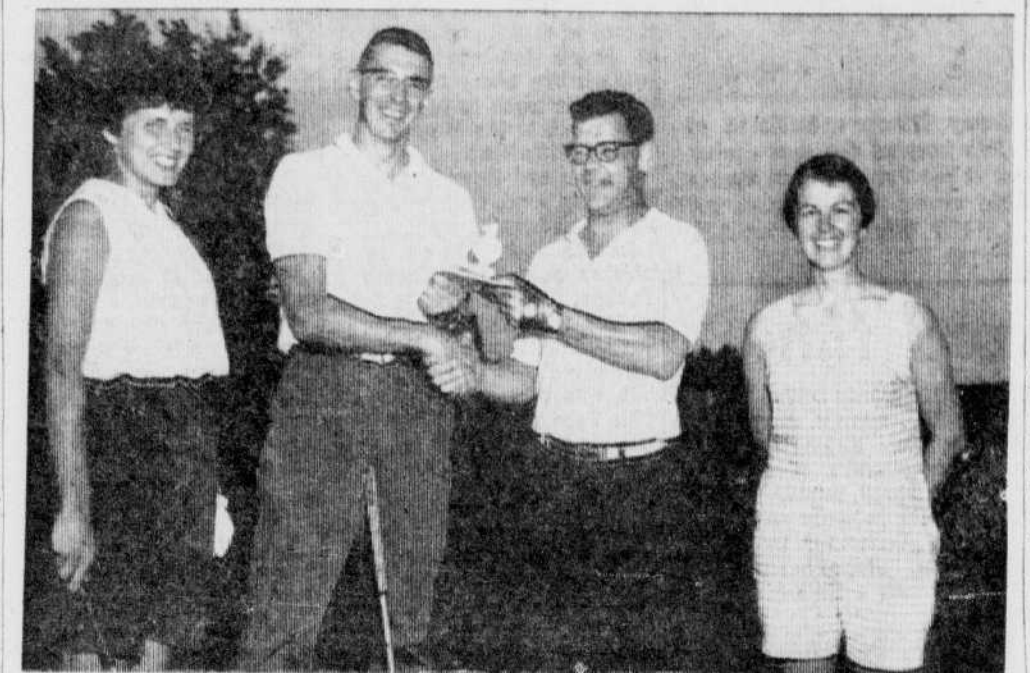

WINNIPEG (CP)—Pat Winslow, 23-year-old from San Mateo, Calif., won the women's pentathlon at the Pan-American Games Sunday with a point score of 4,860. Jenny Wingerson Meldrum of Toronto was the second-place silver medalist with 4,724.

It was a new event in the Games and the Winnipeg score automatically became a record.

Aida Dos Santos of Brazil was third with 4,531 points. The second Canadian entrant, Leslie Shonk of Burlington, Ont., placed fifth in the field of eight with 4,129.

Mrs. Meldrum, who topped the field in the 80-metre hurdles which opened pentathlon competition Saturday, was disappointed with her time of 11.3 seconds, her slowest this year. She also felt she could have done better in Sunday's 200 metres, in which she recorded the third-best time of 24.8.

She made up for it with a five-foot two-inch effort in the high jump, the best of her career, and 19½ in the long jump, plus what she called an "average" effort of 42.2% in the shot put.

U.S. shooting team breaks all records as six marks bettered

WINNIPEG (CP)—The United States shooting team at the Pan-American Games was so powerful it could afford to lose 30 points in pistol malfunctions, enter a girl in the tough three-position rifle event, and still walk away with most of the glory. "You could say with some justification that this is the strongest team we've ever assembled for an international competition," said team manager Harry Reeves of Detroit.

In the six-event, week-long competition which ended Sunday, the Americans won 16 of the 36 medals—11 gold, three silver and two bronze. Canada was a distant second with one gold, four silver and one bronze, followed by Mexico with a silver and five bronze medals.

Six Pan-Am records were bettered. The U.S. broke the world record of 376 by three points in the team event of the English match competition. Both the U.S. and Canada, which won the team silver, shattered the Pan-Am mark of 2,349 established by a U.S. team in 1963.

Margaret Thompson, a 24-year-old army lieutenant from Topeka, Kan., easily won the three-position rifle event, posting a mark of 1,142—shooting 60 shots prone and 40 shots each kneeling and standing. She broke the Pan-Am record of 1,147 set in 1963 by team-mate

Gary Anderson, world champion in the event. Anderson, shooting with a bad head cold, came third with 1,139 while Gerry Ouellette of Windsor, Ont., won the silver for Canada with 1,145.

In the same event, the U.S. team compiled a team total of 4,529 to break the Pan-Am mark of 4,297 set in 1963 by a U.S. team.

In the free pistol, the U.S. team scored 2,171 points to break the Pan-Am record of 2,170 set in 1963.

The U.S. showed its power in the rapid-fire pistol event. Ed Teague of San Antonio was on his way to a gold medal when he missed a 10-point target. He finished third but another American, William McMillan, came through to win the gold with a 581.

Canada lost an excellent chance for a silver Saturday in the centre-fire pistol event. Dr. Jules Sobrian of Omameg, Ont. was alone in second place going into the second half of the shoot when Bill Blackenship of Columbus, Ga., overcame an eight-point deficit with a near-perfect 299 to tie the Canadian at 586.

Mario Andretti seeking relief from poor luck on St. Jovite circuit

The road to the top in any sport is rough and maintaining a position there is even tougher. In the case of Mario Andretti, 1967 is proving the point—in spades.

Not only is the pleasant little Italian-American confronted with stern opposition from his fellow Indianapolis drivers on the United States Auto Club's championship trail, he is also being dogged by bad luck.

Andretti is hoping he will be able to snap out of his difficulties when he appears at Le Circuit Mt. Tremblant/St. Jovite in the Labatt Indy on August 6, and most of all, keep his car in one piece.

Andretti has won the rich USAC championship trail the past two years and also started from the pole in the '66 and '67 Indy 500's. He got off to a fine start this year with a sports car triumph at Sebring a stock car victory at Daytona, and then things began to go sour.

He hit the wall at Atlanta, he lost a wheel at Indy and crashed, he wrecked twice in practice at Phoenix and once in a tuneup for Milwaukee. Switching to the 24-hour Le Mans classic, he was running well until his car went out of kilter and folded him into a three-car pileup.

At Mosport when USAC moved to the Canadian scene, he hit an oil slicked patch of track moving into the straight and lost chunks of his car on the railing guarding the turn. That one wasn't too bad and frantic, overnight work by his crew had the machine operational for the race which was then rained out. In the rerun two weeks later, his car broke a halfshaft, forcing him out.

In between, he drove steadily to gain a third at Langhorne and observers figure he drove "quietly" to prove he could keep a car healthy and regain some of his confidence.

The playoffs locally will get underway this Wednesday evening at the Parade Grounds as Cowansville Little League will meet the Sher-Lenn All-Stars. The game was slated for Cowansville but at the request of Yvan Monast President of the Cowansville Little League the venue was changed to Sherbrooke.

Halifax's Bill Shakespeare star of NS Junior Tennis Tournament

DARTMOUTH, N.S. (CP)—Bill Shakespeare of Halifax won two singles titles and a share of two doubles honors in the Nova Scotia junior tennis tournament which ended here Sunday.

He won the 18-years-and-under crown by defeating John Plovman of Halifax 6-3, 6-3, 6-3 and took the 16-and-under title with scores of 6-3 and 6-2 over John Power of Dartmouth.

Shakespeare also teamed with Plovman to defeat Carey Ryan of Halifax and Power 10-8, 6-2, 6-0 in the 18-and-under doubles. He then teamed with his sister Donna to defeat another brother-sister team, John and Janet Plovman, 4-6, 6-3, 6-2 in 18-and under mixed doubles. In the girls' section, Jody Myers of Halifax won the 18-and-under over Dorothy Cox of Sydney, 5-7, 6-3, 6-2 and the 16-and-under by topping June Saunders of St. John's, Nfld., 6-3, 6-0. She teamed with Donna Shakespeare to win the 18-and-under doubles by defeating Dorothy Cox and Heather Baker both of Halifax, 6-4, 6-3.

Other winners included: Boys' singles, 14-and-under—Ken Conway, St. John's, Nfld.; boys' singles, 12 and under—Bruce Thompson, Halifax, boys' doubles, 16-and-under—Jeff Dyer, St. John's, and G-reg Spicer, Berwick, N.S.

Sher-Lenn Little League All Stars prepare

Little League Baseball squads across Canada start the Regional Playoffs this week and all leagues participating will be hoping they are the ones who will become Canadian Champions and go on to Williamsport, Penn. to take part in the Little League World Series.

Windsor, Ontario, was the Canadian Champion last season beating out the Eastern Champion Sher-Lenn Little League of Sherbrooke. The Provincial championship games will be played at St. Laurent, and the All-Canadian Finals in which two teams from the East will meet two teams from the West will be played at Valleyfield.

The Sher-Lenn Little League All-Stars are ready to defend their title of Quebec Champions. The youngsters chosen this season have been practicing for the last two weeks and are ready to go, the pitching this season may not be up to the standard of the team that went all the way last year but the men chosen to do the hurling this year will be giving of their best.

The playoffs locally will get underway this Wednesday evening at the Parade Grounds as Cowansville Little League will meet the Sher-Lenn All-Stars. The game was slated for Cowansville but at the request of Yvan Monast President of the Cowansville Little League the venue was changed to Sherbrooke.

15 - EQUIPMENT

No matter how much a person is taught about golf, or practices and plays the game, he will never obtain a high level of success without the proper equipment.

I think the most important part of selecting proper equipment is obtaining the proper shaft. I once broke my favorite driver and was never able to have it duplicated. I always thought the reason for this was that the head looked different, but the actual reason was in the shaft. It had become tempered to my swing and was the key to all my driving success.

Generally, your club pro can help you make your shaft selection. A couple of tips: If your swing is long and smooth, you can probably use a stiffer shaft; if your swing is short and weak, a whippier or more limber shaft might be in order.

The next most important consideration is the weight of the club. I will always recommend a much lighter club than you might ever dream of using. The reason for this is simple—clubhead speed is all important in striking a golf ball and the lighter the club the faster you can swing it and still maintain control.

Be sure the club feels comfortable for you. Make sure it is light enough to work for you, not against you.

Quebec Civil to host the world's top tennis players in round robin

No tennis amateur likes to see stars such as Manuel Santana or Roy Emerson be eliminated in the first rounds of a tournament because they have had a "bad day" while their opponent had "a good one."

This is what often happens in usual tournaments where each round is "sudden death" and where there are no second chances.

This latter element is what makes the Dow Round Robin Tournament so popular. Another advantage is that this form of tournament eliminates first round badly assorted matches where the favorites must meet inferior players.

At the "Civil", from August 14 to 20, 2,500 persons will be able to see the very first evening and the very first match, two of the six best tennis men in the world, and this will continue each of the seven days of the competition.

Emerson, Santana, Krishnan, Belkin, Pilic, and a sixth player whose name will be known soon, will meet each other in view of winning the Dow trophy which is presently held by Santana.

It will be remembered that last year Santana lost none of his six matches, thus becoming the star of the week. Quebec had seldom seen a foreign player with such a variety of shots. But this year he should find a bit more difficult, because the Australian Champion Roy Emerson has found his best form again.

Aware of having somewhat disappointed his fans last year, Emerson who then had just lost his mother, is now fully recovered and intends to demonstrate to the local amateurs why he is, with the Spaniard Manuel Santana, the most sought-after player in the world.

The central ground of the "Civil" will be transformed into a real amphitheater for the event. Other stands will be added in order to accommodate more spectators and avoid refusing admittance as happened last year, for lack of accommodations.

Besides, the "Civil" will be converted into a huge television studio, as the French and English C.B.C. networks will film the matches in color.

Senators, Angels split as Boston Red Sox lose

Washington Senators overpowered California Angels 11-1 in the first game of an American League doubleheader Sunday with a couple of quick, artistic shots.

But when the Angels came back to take the second game 10-2, they showed little finesse.

California's nine-run seventh inning in the nightcap was an indication of what the Senators were up against as they saw a five-game win streak evaporate.

The first 10 Angels to bat in the inning reached base, but only five of them had hits and four of those were singles.

USED FOUR PITCHERS

Washington had to use four pitchers before they could register one out.

Elsewhere in the league Sunday, Chicago White Sox split with Detroit Tigers, winning 4-1 and losing 7-1. Cleveland Indians divided with Baltimore Orioles winning 8-3 and losing 4-2. New York Yankees swept a pair from Kansas City Athletics 7-2 and 5-2 and Minnesota Twins beat Boston Red Sox 7-5.

In Saturday's action, Washington edged California 3-2, Chicago took Detroit 4-3, Baltimore downed Cleveland 5-3, Kansas City won 6-2 over New York and Minnesota and Boston split a doubleheader, the Red Sox taking the first 6-3 before losing 10-3.

In Washington's opening game r.o.m.p., Paul Casanova cracked a grand-slam home run.

In the nightcap, it wasn't until Casey Cox took over the mound in the seventh that the Senators got away from the Angels' onslaught. Jim Fregosi's two-run triple was the only thing resembling a big hit in the winning.

GETS HOMER

Chicago rode Joe Horien's four-hit pitching in the opener and got a two-run double from Pete Ward and a two-run single from Walt Williams. Johnny Podres set the White Sox down on three hits in the second game, with Willie Horien hitting a three-run homer for Detroit.

Vern Fuller and Max Alvis each drove in two runs for the Indians in the opener with Sam McDowell limiting the Orioles to seven hits. Dave May's first major-league homer, a two-run shot, paved the way to Baltimore's triumph in the second game.

The Yankees got homers from Tom Tresh, Jake Gibbs and Horace Clarke in the opener with Al Downing stopping the Athletics on seven hits. Steve Barber hurled a three-hitter in the nightcap and Roy White and Bill Robinson each drove in a pair of runs.

Rod Carew got four hits, including a homer, and Harmon Killebrew got home run No. 32 for the Twins. The Red Sox scored four times in the ninth.

Canadian cage squad eliminated

WINNIPEG (CP) — The six teams reaching the final round-robin of the Pan-American Games men's basketball tournament were decided Sunday and Canada's winless squad wasn't among them.

Mexico, Cuba and Argentina qualified for pool B while the United States, Puerto Rico and Panama made it from pool A. Canada finished with a 0-4 record in pool B.

Cuba defeated Brazil 64-49 Sunday night to gain a berth in the final. The Cubans 2-2 record created a three-way stalemate for second place in pool B behind Mexico's perfect 4-0 performance. The tie was resolved by dividing points for into points against in games involving the three deadlocked clubs.

The U.S. muffled Puerto Rico 80-52 Sunday to polish off a perfect 4-0 effort in pool A. Peru dumped Colombia 82-48 in a meaningless match.

In the five-country double round-robin women's division, Brazil collected its fourth straight victory with a 61-46 verdict over Mexico, and the U.S. shaded Canada 59-46.

Elaine Tanner wins silver for record time

WINNIPEG (CP) — Elaine Tanner of Vancouver shared in another night of record-breaking at the Pan-American Games pool, lowering her own world mark for the women's 100-metre backstroke while swimming a leg of the 400-metre medley relay Sunday night.

But the U.S. snapped up four of five gold medals and bettered three world marks to bring the total swimming world records, smashed to 11.

Miss Tanner got her latest world mark in a losing cause as a member of the second-place team that gave Canada a silver medal in the women's 400-metre medley relay.

The U.S. relay team won the gold medal in world record time of four minutes, 30 seconds.

Miss Tanner, who finished fourth in the women's 100-metre freestyle, roared back in the medley relay.

Her time of 1:07.1 in the first backstroke leg of the medley cut two-tenths of a second from her world record, set in the 100 backstroke final.

HAS TWO GOLDS

Miss Tanner, 16, now has two gold and two silver in five races. She is scheduled to compete in a total of eight.

Claudia Kolb of Santa Calif., took the women's 200-metre individual medley; Gregory Charlton of Arcadia, Calif., won the gold in the men's 400-metre freestyle in which Ralph Hutton, Ocean Falls, B.C., was second and Erika Bricker, Visalia, Calif., snared the women's 100-metre freestyle gold.

Miss Kolb and Charlton erased world marks as Hutton set a Canadian native mark. Miss Kolb lowered her own world record of 2:27.8, winning the event in 2:26.1.

Charlton bettered the time of 4:11.1 set by Frank Wiegand of East Germany in 1966, but his 4:10.1 did not surpass the pending mark of 4:08.8 set by Mark Spitz of the U.S. July 9.

CHASED BY HUTTON

Hutton was only 3-10ths of a second behind him in 4:11.9. Ron Jacks of Vancouver finished seventh.

Miss Tanner admitted that she was mad about finishing fourth in the women's 100 freestyle "because they made me hold the starting bar instead of the side of the pool."

She knew what she was going after when she started in the medley relay.

"I wanted to make sure there would be no argument about my record," she said, obviously referring to the hassle that developed shortly after she won the 100 backstroke. Some officials disagreed on whether that was a world record, but she got credit for a world mark anyway.

U.S. advances in soccer

WINNIPEG (CP) — The U.S. beat Cuba 2-1 Sunday to close the preliminary round-robin competition in the Pan-American Games soccer tournament.

The victory boosted the Americans into third place in Group B and dropped Cuba into last place but both clubs failed to qualify for the semi-finals.

Canada, who finished on top of Group B with two victories and a tie, plays Mexico in one semi-final Tuesday. Bermuda faces Trinidad and Tobago, who finished on top of Group A, in the other semi-final bracket today.

most 11 seconds behind the winning U.S. quartet. Donna Ross of Montreal swam the second leg breaststroke. Marilyn Corson of Parry Sound, Ont., the third leg butterfly and Marion Lay of Vancouver the anchor freestyle. Uruguay earned the bronze with a time of 4:49.3.

Miss Tanner had been told by the referee after her first backstroke event — the 200-metre backstroke — that she must use the starting grip rather than the side of the pool. In the 200, she won the gold.

The Canadian girls relay team had a time of 4:40.9, all but one second behind the winning U.S. quartet. Donna Ross of Montreal swam the second leg breaststroke. Marilyn Corson of Parry Sound, Ont., the third leg butterfly and Marion Lay of Vancouver the anchor freestyle. Uruguay earned the bronze with a time of 4:49.3.

Jim Wynn boosts Astros over Mets in twin bill, Cardinals edge Braves

Jim Wynn and Houston are back in orbit. Wynn drove in six runs Sunday with two homers and a double as the Astros completed a doubleheader sweep by drubbing New York Mets 6-5 and 9-1, then complained of dizziness and was taken to hospital for the second time in two days.

The slugging centre fielder, who leads the National League with 27 home runs and tops the majors with 83 RBIs, was knocked unconscious in a freak collision at home plate in Saturday's victory over Pittsburgh Pirates. Wynn scored ahead of Rusty Staub on a sixth-inning single, but thought he'd missed the plate and was on his way back when he collided with Staub.

WIN SIXTH STRAIGHT

He was sent to a Houston hospital as a precautionary measure, but was back in the lineup Sunday as the Astros won the opener 6-5 and ran their winning string to six games by taking the nightcap. After his second homer, Wynn left in the seventh inning and returned to the hospital.

In other NL action, the first placed St. Louis Cardinals extended their winning streak to five games with a 7-5 victory over Atlanta Braves, Chicago Cubs split a twin bill with Cincinnati Reds, winning 8-4 before bowing 3-2; Pittsburgh edged San Francisco Giants 4-3 and Los Angeles Dodgers blanked Philadelphia Phillies 1-0.

The Cards blanked Atlanta 6-0 in one of five Saturday games. In the others, Cincinnati doubled the score on Chicago, 4-2. Houston edged Pittsburgh 6-5. San Francisco romped over Philadelphia 6-1 and Los Angeles defeated New York 2-1.

The Astros raked Jack Fisher for all their runs and 13 of 14 hits in the first four innings while rookie Don Wilson stopped the Mets on six hits.

An Astros spokesman said late Sunday that Wynn would be able to play tonight. His dizziness was caused by fatigue and the Saturday mishap.

Left fielder Ron Davis, whose two-run singled keyed a five-run first-inning burst in the opener, cut down the tying run in the ninth with a bullet throw to the plate after gloving Ron Swoboda's fly ball with none out and runners on first and third.

Roger Maris brought the Cardinals from behind with a two-run single in the seventh and delivered an insurance run with a sacrifice fly in the ninth before a crowd of 47,154—the biggest at Atlanta this season.

Vernon Law registered his first victory of the year after six setbacks as the Pirates built a 4-0 lead and then weathered a three-run Giant rally in the ninth. Roberto Clemente's two-run homer broke a scoreless tie in the sixth and Pittsburgh added the necessary insurance in the ninth on Maury Wills' lead-off homer and Donn Clendenon's RBI single.

Jim Hart's run-scoring double chased Law in the ninth and Bob Eicher laced a two-run single off Elroy Face before the Pirate reliever got the last out.

Lou Johnson's eighth-inning homer, only the fourth hit off Southpaw Chris Short, lifted the Dodgers past Philadelphia.

WINNIPEG (CP) — Harry Jerome of Vancouver, equalling the Pan-American Games record for the second time in the 100-metre run, Sunday broke through to prevent a clean sweep of track and field gold medals by the powerful U.S. team.

He rambled to a 10.2-second victory to give Canada its first gold medal in heavy weekend action.

Canada won five silvers and six third-place bronzes in swimming Saturday, then came back Sunday with Jerome's gold, three bronzes in track and a silver in 10-metre diving.

Swimming preliminaries Sunday were highlighted by the performance of Erika Bricker of Visalia, Calif., who won her heat in the 100-metre freestyle in 59.9, becoming the fourth girl in the world ever to break one minute.

The others are Dawn Fraser of Australia, who holds the world record at 58.9, and Sharon Stouder and Pokey Watson of the U.S., both of whom have done 59.9.

Records were set in all swimming preliminaries. the gold. Miss Boys snatched the silver medal right out of the hands of Ann Peterson of the U.S., who wound up with the bronze.

The first rhubarb of the games erupted Sunday when it took hours to decide the winner of the 20,000-metre walk.

After much deliberation, officials gave the gold medal to Tom Laird of the U.S., with Jose Pedraza Suniga of Mexico second and Felix Cappella of Midland, Ont., third. Yvon Groulx of Montreal was fifth.

Laird's time was given as one hour, 33 minutes, 5.2 seconds. Mixed directional signals at the gate to University Stadium sent Laird down a wrong path.

When the walker realized the error, he threw up his hands and began to trot away. Then he changed his mind, retraced his steps and crossed the finish line well ahead of Pedraza.

Don Domansky of Port Arthur, Ont., won a bronze medal Sunday in the men's 400-metre run, coming third despite a time that was little more than a second off the listed world record.

Elaine Tanner of Vancouver lost to Ellie Daniel
