Dupuis acquitted after three long years

RUDI DUTSCHKE: STUDENT LEADER — The chief ideologist and moving spirit of West Germany's Socialistic Students Association, or SDS, is 28-year-old Rudi Dutschke, who was shot and critically wounded last Thursday in West Berlin. At left he addressed leftist followers before a street demonstration, and at right he gives the signal for demonstrators to advance during a Vietnam rally in West Berlin recently. Doctors report that Dutschke is making satisfactory progress. (AP Wirephoto via cable from Berlin)

MONTREAL (CP) — Sessions Judge Marc-Andre Blain yesterday acquitted former federal cabinet minister Yvon Dupuis of a charge of influence peddling, first brought against him in March, 1965.

In a 40-page judgment Judge Blain acquitted Mr. Dupuis of the influence-peddling charge and also two related charges of conspiracy.

It was the second trial for the former minister without portfolio in Prime Minister Pearson's cabinet.

In April, 1966, he was convicted and fined $5,000 on a charge of accepting $10,000 in return for using his influence in support of a group seeking a race-track franchise in his riding of St. Jean-Iberville-Napierville.

That trial was held in Sherbrooke, Que., 80 miles east of Montreal.

Last November, the Quebec Court of Appeals upheld an appeal against the conviction by Mr. Dupuis. It ordered a new trial on the grounds that the Crown, in professing to test the credibility of Mr. Dupuis, brought to "the attention of the jury various matters that had no direct relation to his guilt, but might be expected to arouse prejudice against him in the mind of one or more of the jurors."

On Feb. 5, Mr. Justice William Mitchell of court of Queen's Bench granted a request by Mr. Dupuis's lawyer for the second trial to be held in Montreal rather than Sherbrooke on the grounds that the amount of publicity accorded the first trial had made it virtually impossible to select a jury that was completely unfamiliar with the case.

In fact, a brief hearing in which documents were filed in Sessions Court, was held before a judge alone.

Sessions Judge Marc-Andre Blain was appointed to conduct the trial, a study of the entire proof presented at the first trial and of documents prepared for the Quebec Court of Appeal.

Crown prosecutor Claude Guerin placed before Judge Blain 6,700 pages of testimony in 33 volumes from the first trial. The documents were wheeled into court March 12 on a hand cart. All documents filed before the Court of Appeal were also filed.

A court official said the total was about 10,000 pages of reading for Judge Blain. In addition, both sides handed in written notes.

Mr. Dupuis was first elected to the Commons for St. Jean-Iberville-Napierville in 1958. He was appointed to the Pearson cabinet Feb. 3, 1964, but left the cabinet in January, 1965, at the request of the prime minister.

In March of that year he was arraigned on the influence-peddling charge.

Mr. Dupuis was defeated in the federal general election of November, 1965, when he stood as an independent Liberal.

Trials cost him a lot

MONTREAL (CP) — Yvon Dupuis said Tuesday his two trials cost him a fortune, but it was worth every penny to have his name cleared.

The former minister without portfolio in Prime Minister Pearson's cabinet was speaking in an interview shortly after he was acquitted at a second trial on an influence-peddling charge.

"That fresh spring air — it seems fresher for me today than it has for three years," he said. "I'm going away for a rest. I want to forget the whole business."

Asked if he plans another political career, Mr. Dupuis said: "My political career is over. We'll leave it at that—I have no desire to return."

"It was a long wait, but three years of injustice has finally come to an end."

When he returned from his vacation, he would devote his full time to the firm of Themis-Multifacem Eng., which prepares joint records and booklets for defence lawyers pleading cases in the appeal court.

Pass public works bylaws

Council passed two bylaws last night, allotting $939,500 for public works in 1968 and $330,000 for water-works and sewers for 1968.

The two bylaws were passed without any objections as they were prepared, discussed and disputed for the past several weeks.

The two figures total $1,269,500 and the city's share of the finances amounts to $697,600 while the taxpayers will pay the remaining $571,900.

The city's largest project this year is the paving of streets, a total of $420,700 being allocated to this task.

It plans to allow $300,000 for the opening of new streets and the laying of foundations for new streets, the city's share being $20,000.

Miscellaneous works and purchases will cost $185,700.

Repairs to city sidewalks and the construction of new sidewalks will cost $18,100 this year and the expansion of certain city streets will cost $15,000.

The East Ward was granted the most money for the paving of streets, as council foresaw an operation costing $183,000 to repair the ward's streets, the city paying $20,800.

The West Ward paving work will cost $106,000 and the North Ward was allowed $40,700 for this project. The city will pay $24,700 of the West Ward operations and $8,500 in the North Ward.

The city will pay $1,500 of the total costs of $16,600 for the repairs to the sidewalks in the North Ward.

Recovering some city streets will cost $91,000 this year, and the city will pay the entire amount, as it will for all of the following public works.

It will cost $39,200 to enlarge the municipal ski area and it will also cost $39,200 to renovate City Hall.

Repairs and renovations of the arena will cost $37,000.

The city intends to spend $21,400 to build a viaduct for the CPR on Wellington Street.

It will cost $17,500 to meet management expenses of the parking areas this year and $14,800 will be spent to purchase and install a system which registers and records on tape all telephone calls to the police department.

Enlarging Laurier Street in the South Ward will cost $10,000.

The city will spend $7,000 for special sewers for areas where the drainage of streets is a problem.

The city intended to spend $7,000 for the installation of a ventilation system in the municipal garage.

However, when tenders were opened last night, the various companies' charges were much higher than $7,000.

One quoted a price of over $11,000.

The tenders will be studied by the Director of Services, Charles Langlois and the city engineers who will submit a report at the next week's meeting.

Enlarging Galt Street West will cost $2,500 and it will also cost $2,500 to enlarge Kennedy Street.

It will cost $1,500 to demolish a slum house on St. Martin Street.

It will cost the city $1,500 to construct a sidewalk between Liege and Meilleur Streets.

These above facts and figures constitute the total of the public works planned for 1968 in Sherbrooke.

The city also intends to spend $200,200 for the construction of sewage pipes in 1968.

Want parity

TORONTO (CP) — In a head-on collision over a union demand for wage parity with U.S. workers, the United Auto Workers union has told Massey-Ferguson Industries Ltd. it will strike the company's Toronto and Brantford, Ont., plants Friday.

The company, employing about 6,000 workers in the two plants, said Tuesday that within two months of any parity announcement it would have to begin closing out some of its operations in Canada.

Photographer

MUNICH (AP) — Associated Press photographer Klaus Frings, 32, died early today from a head injury he received Monday night while covering a West German student riot.

Frings was hit by a stone during a clash between police and student demonstrators.

Demand meeting

HANOI (CP) — The official Hanoi newspaper Nhan Dan demands that the United States agree promptly to meet in Warsaw, and protests against intensified raiding of North Vietnam.

If the United States "obstinately refuses to accept" either Phnom Penh, Cambodia, or Warsaw, Poland, as a meeting site, it would "demonstrate its deceitfulness and bear entire responsibility," the party daily says.

Five killed

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Officials at central prison say five persons were killed and several wounded today when police tried to break up a sit-down strike in a courtyard of the prison.

Five prisoners had begun the sit-down Tuesday afternoon. A small building was set afire late Tuesday night.

Waste of troops

SAIGON (AP) — A senior U.S. officer said today American forces that lifted the siege of Khe Sanh made no effort to block the withdrawal of the North Vietnamese because "militarily it was unwise and a waste of troops."

"They had dozens of escape routes," said the officer. "They could always go around you. We would have needed three divisions of troops. Our objective was to lift the siege of Khe Sanh."

Federal help

OTTAWA (CP) — Officials of the floundering Newfoundland fishing industry meet Fisheries Minister Robichaud here today to outline their bid for vitally-needed federal support.

Mr. Robichaud, in an interview Tuesday, termed the meeting important but was noncommittal when asked for reaction to a proposal that his government introduce a support price for fish similar to that paid on many farm products.

Richmond plant is sold

RICHMOND — Grace Fibres Canada Ltd. announced yesterday that it has purchased the plant and business of the Textile Fibres Department of Dow Chemical of Canada, Limited, located at Richmond, Quebec.

Grace Fibres, the only Canadian supplier of synthetic carpet backing and twisted and braided rope, is a wholly owned subsidiary of W. R. Grace and Co. and part of its Cryovac Division. The Richmond Plant of Dow's Textile Fibres Department manufactures polyolefin and saran yarns and some converted products.

Grace Fibres plans early expansion of the Richmond Plant to support and complement its present synthetic carpet backing and rope product lines.

Dow - Richmond personnel will be retained by Grace with additional hourly personnel scheduled shortly.

Commenting on the sale, Dow President L. D. Smithers said: "The synthetic fibres market in Canada has been swinging more to finished products and away from yarns. Since our basic business in Canada is chemicals, plastics and packaging, the Richmond Plant does not fit into the pattern of our expansion plans. It does fit in with Grace's rapidly growing Canadian business in converted synthetic products."

T. C. Widder, Jr., President of Grace Fibres, said that the Richmond operation would continue under the direction of John M. Gardiner, Dow - Richmond General Manager, with all Richmond management personnel continuing in their present or comparable positions. Marketing and sale of Richmond products will be integrated into the Grace Fibres sales organization, which will include the present field sales personnel.

In summary, he stated, "We're pleased to have the talented personnel of Dow-Richmond join the expanding Grace Fibres Canadian organization."

Grace Fibres Canada Ltd., with headquarters at Brantford, Ontario, operates three other Canadian Plants which are located at Brantford, Ontario, Vancouver, B.C. and Truro, Nova Scotia.

Fighting accelerates

SAIGON (AP) — Fighting accelerated in South Vietnam Tuesday and today with 45 combined forces soldiers and at least 56 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese reported killed in clashes around Saigon and Khe Sanh.

The U.S. marines on the Khe Sanh front took their heaviest casualties in two weeks—17 killed and 35 wounded—when a marine patrol attacked North Vietnamese bunkers four miles south-southwest of the U.S. base in the northwest corner of the country.

An estimated 40 North Vietnamese hit the marine combat patrol with mortars and rockets and then laid down intense small arms fire. U.S. fighter-bombers and artillery pounded the bunkers until the North Vietnamese escaped about midnight.

At least seven North Vietnamese were reported killed.

ATTACKS RENEWED

North Vietnamese artillery attacks on the Khe Sanh base, which subsided after the siege was lifted April 5, also have increased this week.

To the south, combined forces troops pushing through jungles and rice paddies reported six sharp clashes within 35 miles of Saigon. It was one of the busiest days so far in Operation Complete Victory, the 100,000-man sweep which began April 8.

South Vietnamese troops with U.S. air support fought for an hour with a Viet Cong force 16 miles northwest of the city. Twenty-six Viet Cong bodies were found and one government soldier was reported wounded.

A platoon of newly equipped North Vietnamese attacked an American patrol 23 miles east of Saigon, giving weight to intelligence reports that sizable numbers of northern troops are infiltrating the capital area and the Mekong Delta.

NEW OUTFITS

The North Vietnamese had new green fatigue uniforms, steel helmets, a munition packs and other gear. The U.S. troops estimated they killed a dozen of the North Vietnamese and reported two Americans killed.

The Viet Cong also fired more than 100 mortar rounds into an officers training centre and a police headquarters five to six miles north of Saigon, killing four South Vietnamese and wounding 30.

In the air war, B-52 bombers made six more attacks on the A Shau Valley west of Hue, a major infiltration route from Laos. The U.S. command suspects the North Vietnamese there may be preparing for another attack on Hue.

U.S. pilots flying missions against North Vietnam stayed below the 19th parallel Tuesday for the 13th successive day, military sources said. The deepest reported penetration was a strike by navy A6 Intruders on a railway siding 22 miles north of Vinh, about two miles south of the parallel.

Back to work

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — (AP) — Memphis's 1,300 garbage collectors return to their jobs today after settlement of a labor dispute that brought Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. to the city where he was killed.

Ahead of the strikers, 98 per cent of them Negroes, was the mammoth job of clearing streets and vacant lots of refuse accumulated during the 65-day walkout.

Change medicare

The Manitoba government believes the federal government will change the national medical care insurance program. Welfare Minister Jack Carroll told the legislature Tuesday.

Speaking during debate on a Liberal resolution asking that the province participate in the federal program, which starts July 1, Mr. Carroll said the province hopes the federal government will revise the program to make it "better tailored to the economic and health needs of the nation."

HONOLULU (AP) — Issues of war and peace in Vietnam and tensions in Korea are expected to be discussed today at a one-day conference between President Chung-Hee Park of South Korea and U.S. President Johnson.

Park arrived in Honolulu well after dark in a light drizzle and was met by Johnson.

Once formalities were over, Park and Johnson climbed into a helicopter to be whisked to his hotel.

The two chief executives had a full round of formal meetings set for today at the luxurious ocean front estate of the late industrialist Henry J. Kaiser.

Park's visit coincided with important developments affecting his country and the military-diplomatic situation in Vietnam, where South Korea has nearly 50,000 troops in action.

—Two Americans and two South Koreans were killed by North Korean intruders last Sunday near Panmunjon.

—Park, on leaving his homeland for Honolulu, lauded Johnson's new initiatives toward a Vietnam peace but seemed to express a bit of restiveness by adding "there is a limit to concessions and patience."

—Foreign Minister Tran Van Do of South Vietnam suggested in Saigon the Vietnam allies might do well to hold a summit conference in advance of any substantive peace talks with Hanoi.

—In Washington an official who asked not to be identified said a

If Quebec separates from Canada, Ontario would also have to opt out while the Western provinces would probably be assimilated by the United States, a University of Sherbrooke student said last night.

Addressing a group of teenagers from across Canada who of Quebec separating from Canada the money the province now pays to Ottawa for defense could be used for its own army.

The university student didn't give an exact definition of the term army. One opinion formed by observers was that he was simply referring to the Quebec French-Canadian populace.

He admitted perhaps Quebec would not gain anything economically through separation. And he added that Pierre Bour-gault, President of the Rassemblement pour l'Independance Nationale (RIN), recently replied "he didn't know" when asked what the economic consequences would be if Quebec opted out of confederation.

The 23-year-old student did suggest American capital would continue to flow into the province because the US is interested in the natural resources of Quebec.

are participating in the Sherbrooke Hi-Y Club conference on Bilingualism and Biculturalism. Norman Paquin said Quebec might not gain anything economically, but it would gain in the sense of having its own army within its borders.

Mr. Paquin said in the event third party might be needed to settle the issue of where he initial peace contacts should be made.

SITES REJECTED

The United States and Hanoi have been squabbling over this question, with Washington contending it should be in a neutral country while Hanoi has suggested Warsaw, Poland, and Phnom Penh, Cambodia.

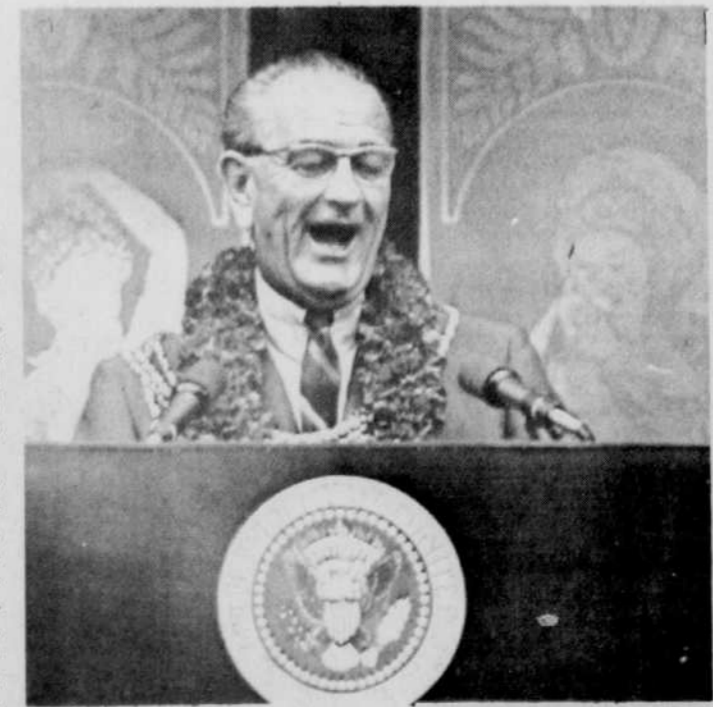

Accompanying Park to Hawaii were Defence Minister Choi Young Hi and Foreign Minister Choi Kyu Hah.

Johnson took into the meetings William P. Bundy, assistant secretary of state for East Asian affairs; Chairman Earle G. Wheeler of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and troubleshooter Cyrus R. Vance, dispatched to Seoul by the president as a troubleshooter last February when relations between the two countries were on a shaky footing.

Park and his government expressed misgivings about some aspects of U.S. policy in Asia, and questioned U.S. steadfastness in the defence of South Korea, after discovery Jan. 21 of a plot to assassinate the South Korean leader and the seizure two days later of the U.S. intelligence ship Pueblo. Both those developments were directed from North Korea.

After Vance returned to the United States, Johnson asked Congress for an extra $100,000,000 in military aid for the Seoul government—a request still pending.

JOHNSON TELLS STATUS OF PEACE TALKS — President Johnson, speaking from the steps of the Iolani palace in Honolulu, tells the crowd that greeted him there that he has received no response from Hanoi concerning U.S. proposals for a site for talks to end the Vietnam War. (AP Wirephoto)

U.C.W. views film on work in Hong Kong

NORTH HATLEY — The meeting of the United Church Women was held in the Community Hall, on April 1. Three guests, Rev. James Brooks, minister of the church, Mrs. Brooks, and Mrs. Ed Wells, were present.

The opening worship period, and Easter meditation, was conducted by Miss Ella Morrisette and Mrs. E. Hatch.

The program convener, Mrs. George Cheal, had arranged for Mrs. Brooks to show a film dealing with the program, A Ship Under the Cross, a project of the World Council of Churches. The film showed the work being done in Hong Kong. Mrs. Brooks explained the pictures, and different aspects of the work and drew attention to the fact that the World Council of Churches is meeting this year in Sweden. At the conclusion of the program Mrs. Brooks was thanked by Mrs. M. Sharman.

It was decided to send sympathy cards to sick or bereaved friends in the community. Plans were made for a meeting of several of the young mothers in the community, who are unable to attend the regular evening meetings of the U.C.W. It is hoped these young women can be helped to form an afternoon group. An initial meeting will be held on April 23, when the U.C.W. will serve refreshments and take care of the small children.

Articles are being collected for a layette, and also clothing for a bale to be sent to the Toronto depot. It was announced that a summer school for U.C.W. members will be held in August, at Ste. Anne de Bellevue, and the local branch hopes to be able to send a representative.

At the close of the business hour, Mrs. C. Smith served refreshments.

Beebe- U.C.W. Unit Two nets $209 at supper

BEEBE — The April 1 meeting of Unit Two, U.C.W. Wesley United Church, was held in the Church parlor. President, Mrs. L. Rediker, opened the meeting with a short devotional period.

Net proceeds from the recent turkey dinner were $209.27. The church allocation was paid. New cups and saucers have arrived to be added to the church cupboards. More articles are needed in the kitchen and a committee was appointed to look after the purchasing.

Articles are to be handed in at May meeting to be sent to a Gaspe outpost. Each member is asked to bring at least two articles.

It was decided after some discussion, to cater for the Stanstead County Fish and Game Club turkey dinner at the church on June 11. A list of suggestions as to how the next turkey dinner could be improved was handed in.

Mrs. M. Labor won the round robin. Refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. M. Labor, with co-hostesses, Mrs. Cooper and Mrs. Rediker assisting. May meeting is to be held at the church with Mrs. E. Blake as hostess and co-hostesses, Mrs. F. Young and Mrs. D. Hibbard.

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — The reproduction process of the lumbering green sea turtle, which often travels 1,000 miles to the off-Africa island of Europa to lay its eggs, is awesome and interesting. And interesting too, are the little one-man submarines built to order for Jacques Cousteau and his band of sea-faring explorers.

ABC put them both together in a special program Monday night. The result was the weakest of the Cousteau undersea series to date, but it was still a fascinating and at times a drama-filled hour.

The spawning habits of this huge creature, weighing upward of 400 pounds and which lays as many as 500 eggs in a season, are not exactly mysteries. But Cousteau and his underwater photographers were able to follow them around the sea floor as well as up on the beaches as the females struggled over the sand to drop their eggs.

DEADLY ENEMY
Most interesting portion of the hour was the hatching of the young turtles and their furious struggle to make their way back to the protective sea. The drama was supplied by the hovering and sinister frigate birds who picked off the unprotected young turtles at such a rate that often there is not a single survivor in an original clutch of 100 eggs.

The submarines were interesting additions to the Cousteau underwater equipment, but there was a rather phoney drama built up in the series involving what was alleged to be their initial tryouts. The program, third in the series, lacked the magnificent and unusual undersea photography of the others, but even with its shortcomings, it was a superior program.

Trudeau sold Quebec to Anglo-Saxons

Regular air service planned to Montreal

A 19-year-old French Canadian who learned English from childhood playmates suggested last night Prime Minister-elect Pierre Elliott Trudeau has sold out Quebec to the "Anglo-Saxons."

Jean Real Couture told teenagers attending the Sherbrooke Hi-Y Club conference on Bilingualism and Biculturalism that during Trudeau's "grass roots" Sherbrooke visit he said Quebec is alright as it is.

Mr. Couture was referring to the demand for a "particular or special status" for Quebec that has been voiced by Premier Daniel Johnson. Addressing the students on the first full day of the five-day conference, Mr. Couture said, "Trudeau is our first minister" and this is what he has done to Quebec.

The remark was followed by stamping the floor which brought disapproving remarks from the assembled teenagers at Mitchell School. Throughout his speech Mr. Couture received numerous pointed although constructive remarks from the mainly English-speaking teenagers.

Yet he stressed at one point in an emotion-strained voice, "in front of me are English-Canadians and in front of you is a French-Canadian . . .

but remember first that we all are Canadians." Applause echoed throughout the gymnasium.

When asked to explain his disapproval of Trudeau, Mr. Couture gave a two-fingered reply as well as mentioning the justice minister's "thumbs down" approach to a special status for Quebec.

Mr. Couture scolded Trudeau for his remark in Western Canada to the effect that French spoken in Quebec is "lousy."

He further dressed down the prime minister - elect for the introduction of Bill 195 which calls for reform measures regarding abortion and homosexuality. He indicated this wasn't the proper moral attitude for a prime minister, but didn't elaborate further on the bill's suggestions.

Throughout his address the one-time representative of former Sherbrooke MP Maurice Allard said he was speaking for the majority of Quebec youth.

"Seventy per cent of Quebec doesn't want to see" the implementation of bill 195, he warned.

Echoing a recommendation of the Royal Commission on Bilingualism and Biculturalism Mr. Couture said "Quebec wants French Canadians from other provinces to have the same rights and respect as the English-speaking citizens in Quebec."

He praised the swing toward bilingualism by Premiers John Roberts and Louis Robichaud following the federal-provincial constitution convention.

He added however that "three provinces out of 10 are not enough" to recognize French as a national language.

"Quebec doesn't want to separate and the rest of Canada doesn't want it to, but this will happen if Quebec doesn't receive equality with the rest of Canada," he warned.

He spelled out the necessity for French-Canadians to fill executive corporation slots in stead of company officials opting for English-Canadians who are often brought to Montreal for that particular reason.

Mr. Couture told the teenagers that now is the time for Canadian youth to see that a change is made.

"I believe the young people have the most important work to do now. The older people won't change."

He said the present and future needs of Canada must be studied. "You can't say it's not Sacair Inc. president, W. S. Richardson, said this week the air service is planning regular flights to Montreal.

He said he hopes the service is in operation by the end of April but that certain details are presently holding things up.

Sacair has flown 132 people to Quebec City in the eight weeks since it has started.

There were 40 people just last week who used Sacair to reach the capital.

There will be flights to Montreal from Monday to Friday. Sacair now uses two planes, both twin-engine Piper-Aztecs, capable of carrying the pilot and five passengers.

Mr. Richardson reported an air-cargo and an air-express service presently in operation between Quebec and Sherbrooke.

Persons may make reservations to travel to Sherbrooke from Quebec at the Quebec airport and will be able to do the same in Montreal when arrangements are completed.

Council raps 'speed demons'

Council members were up in arms last night over the city's speed demons and asked citizens' cooperation in nabbing offenders.

Alderman Romeo Quintal started the ball rolling when he pointed out that the balmy Easter weekend was the beginning of the use of city streets as racing tracks for some drivers.

He denounced drivers who didn't use their heads, stating they posed a serious danger to children in the city.

Mayor Armand Nadeau supported Mr. Quintal and asked the citizens' cooperation to help nab the speeders.

He also pointed out the majority of people who drive at reckless speeds are those who travel the same streets every day. He said it was everyone's duty to inform the police if they know of someone who uses the streets as a race track.

Alderman Hilaire Beliveau joined the protest and added a new twist to the conversation, rapping motorcyclists for the noise they make late at night. Alderman Marcel Savard suggested a safety campaign sponsored by the municipal police to help avoid serious accidents in the city because of speeding this year.

Mayor Nadeau said the police were always on the job but explained "they can't be everywhere at once."

Council received a letter from Roger Roy of the Pavages de L'Estrie Enr. which stated the company would like to have a contract for part of the paving of city streets this year.

Council decided to wait until a report on the company's machinery and material is submitted before deciding.

The letter stated the company had offered a tender to the city for the entire paving operation but had received a reply simply thanking it for its offer.

The work has been given to Cie Seroc and Mr. Roy said he finds it unusual that the city should award the contract to a company without accepting tenders as other municipalities do.

The company offered to do part of the work at the same price the city is now paying.

Sherbrooke will grant $100 for a float to be used in the Cookshire Centenary parade

Churchill Falls development described to city Rotarians

Members of the Sherbrooke Rotary Club last night learned more about the Churchill Falls Power development in Labrador which when completed will become the world's largest single source of power in the world.

Speaker was club member John Daly who is general manager of the Canadian Ingersoll-Rand.

Mr. Daly's talk was demonstrated with a film showing the history of the falls and the development of the power project. "Never," he said, "have engineers tackled a job to rival in size, the harnessing of Churchill Falls."

Estimated cost of the project is $900 million — twice the cost of the St. Lawrence Seaway and almost five times as much as Montreal's Metro. Mr. Daly said future expenditures are projected to be as high as $400,000 a day, and the project will include a labor force of 4,500 men.

"Water flow will be at the rate of 18 million gallons a minute . . . all the water required in a normal day by the city of Montreal and the 18 municipalities served by its waterworks would flow by every 14 minutes," said Mr. Daly.

Mr. Daly explained that the central Labrador plateau forms a shallow saucer with dents in the rim. Some water escapes through these low spots to other rivers, but most of the drainage is through the Churchill River whose most spectacular feature is the 246-foot Churchill Falls.

"Long stretches of rapids precede and follow the falls so that the Churchill River actually drops a total of 1,100 feet in less than 20 miles. By diversions, the water that normally would cascade over these rapids and the falls will be channelled along an almost level course on the plateau and then dropped the entire 1,100 feet at one point."

This, said the speaker, is the key to Churchill power . . . "forcing the river to a vertical drop of more than 1,000 feet, all at once."

He said to accomplish this, the dents in the Labrador saucer will be plugged with 32 miles of dykes and the river will be diverted upstream. The water will back up to fill a reservoir area half the size of Lake Ontario.

Mr. Daly added that the catchment area will be about 27,000 square miles, three and one-half times the size of Lake Ontario and twice the size of Vancouver Island. This catchment area will cover 24 per cent of the whole of Labrador.

Cowansville will enforce fire bylaw

COWANSVILLE — (Staff) — Cowansville Police Chief Yves Pouliot said that the town answered 13 calls for grass fires over Easter weekend and added that the bylaw governing deliberate setting of such fires will be applied in the immediate future.

Alderman Paul Milette said that steps must be taken to curb the number of grass fires handled by local fire fighters. The 13 handled from Good Friday to Easter Monday including one in the municipality of East Farnham when a barn was razed, appeared to tax the volunteers.

disregard for public safety through the careless ignition of grass fires, was a hazard to all the local population. He urged that the populace to take preventative measures before a major tragedy occurs.

Space exhibit is success

MONTREAL — (Staff) — James E. Myles, Eastern Canada manager of Southex, said that the Space Research Institute's exhibit was one of the highlights of the Quebec Education Show, held at Place Bonaventure from April 5 to April 7.

The exhibit featured rocket equipment manufactured at the Highwater laboratory and was complemented by photographs and schematic diagrams showing the evolution of the High Altitude Research Program (HARP) instituted by the Space Research Institute of McGill University in 1965. The Canadian Government withdrew financial support of the laboratory June 30, 1967.

The institute conducted negotiations with Norwich University, Northfield, Vermont during the fall of 1967 and the University effectively took over the laboratory in January 1968. Most Canadian personnel have been retained and future openings will be filled on a basis of competence.

Mr. Myles said that all the persons he talked to in respect to the institute's exhibit felt "that it was an excellent means of displaying technological and scientific achievements that were created and inspired by Canadian initiative." He said that this was the first show of this nature held in the province, and that the attendance for the three day affair exceeded 12,000.

There were 170 exhibitors, 11 seminars covering all facets of education were held as well as a display of educational films produced by The National Film Board. The exhibits covered all forms of school supplies from floor finishes to electronic equipment. Educators and administrators were pleased with the variety.

Miss Therese Baron, deputy-minister of education, said that she was extremely gratified with the well organized show, especially in view of its broad coverage.

The work convener, Mrs. Oscar Desruisseaux, asked for articles for the sale table, including mystery parcels.

Mrs. Arthur Rogers reported on overseas relief and welfare, urging the members not to slacken their efforts toward the work.

Plans were set up for the spring supper on May 11 with cold turkey and salads on the menu. The committee in charge is Mrs. Howard Picard, Mrs. Gilbert Nutbrown and Mrs. Arthur Rogers.

Regret was expressed that an active member, Mrs. Charles Spalding, had moved from the area.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. VanderLeden and Mrs. Nutbrown.

The May meeting will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie McCallum with Mrs. Arthur Rogers as assisting-hostess.

and girls who participated in the athletic program of the school.

The purpose of the banquets was to allow the parents to share in the achievements of their sons and daughters and at the same time allow the school, as a whole, to register its approval of those who had practiced and worked so faithfully.

During the father - son banquet a trophy was given to John MacDonald, of Massawippi, as the outstanding male athlete of A.C.H.S., an honor bestowed for his athletic ability, leadership qualities and all around good sportsmanship. Runners-up were Ken Ingalls, Katevale and Larry Bowen of Massawippi. John MacDonald also received a trophy as male free-shot champion of the school, the result of competition open to all students of the high school grades.

The speaker at the banquet was Patrick Baker, basketball coach, at Macdonald College. Mr. Baker stressed the meaning of a true athlete as one who rather than being merely athletic ability, but is at the same time an educated man with leadership qualities.

After the lecture a game was played for the benefit of the fathers, which saw the senior team defeat the juniors by a score of 42-28.

MOTHERS AND DAUGHTERS

Suzan Norrie of Ayer's Cliff was the winner of the outstanding female athlete of the school for 1967 - 68, and was given her trophy at the mother-daughter banquet. Runners up were Marsha Mosher and Debbie Crook. Miss Mosher was the winner of the female free shot trophy. All three girls displayed their talents by leading the Junior girls to a victory of 28 - 3 over the Senior girls.

A special thank-you was extended to Mrs. Claude Norrie, who coached the girls team and did excellent work.

During the banquet Roland Dewar, athletic director at Lennoxville High School, gave some helpful advice as to the requirements of a successful female athlete and also suggested benefits to be gained by the athletic program in the new regional schools.

Both banquets were well attended.

The hope was expressed that the experience will go a long way toward reminding the young people, as well as their parents, that the athletic program of a school is a vital part of their total development and cannot be considered as merely an extra-curricular activity.

For and about Women

Says woman designer

American male, a drab dresser

LONDON (CP) — The North American male in everyday attire has become a drab dresser with a retarded sense of style.

That, in blunt summary, is the view from London as expounded by a designing young woman named Gail Ansell. Explanation may well be a strong streak of almost Victorian sobriety in American life, the result of heavy international obligations.

Gail's opinion swings more weight than the usual female tendency to nag about shiny-serve menfolk and then take the problem with an unwearable item of neckwear.

Gail, a delectable and assertive 24, is house designer for Cecil Gee of London, an influential men's wear firm with headquarters equidistant in both space and spirit from Savile Row, the holy place of traditional bespoke tailoring, and Carnaby Street, which gives its name to things bright and beautiful in male toggery.

Her disarming explanation for taking up men's designing at art school is a simple "I just like men."

YONGE ST? POOH!

Michael Gee, one of two sons in the family firm, explains that Gail knows her job and the company is anxious to maintain a youthful look to its clothes, though its market is mainly adult.

Gail, who spent three months in Canada and the United States during a break from art-school studies, concedes North American sports and leisure wear top place. But everyday business and evening clothes are strictly ough.

The universal North American can suit—the uniform in Toronto or Miami, Vancouver or Manhattan—is an uncomely combination of apparently-indestructible Ivy League and dated, boxy Italian style, the latter a fashion

To show a little flair, the answer at present is flare—at ankles and wrists and in the jacket.

For the jacket, narrow, slightly squared shoulders, more prominent lapels; slightly waisted at the back, but at the lower level of the rib cage; deep back vent or double vents.

FLEXIBILITY RULES

The trousers, pleatless, should measure about 17 inches at the knee—"fitting the thigh to the point of indecency," says Gail—and flaring to 18 inches at the shoe, slightly more if you have big feet or are under 20.

The 1930s look inspired by Clyde is all very well, says Gail, but she believes the return of trouser cuffs and long-roll lapels will not make it in a big way.

But the whole point is flexibility — double or single-breasted jackets; long or short lapels or none at all; tieless clerical shirts for evening, turtleneck or rollneck sweaters for day.

Anything to escape the deadening impact of sameness, says Gail, and always with a sharp eye on Continental Europe, where men are more fashion-conscious than the women and yet evade the Anglo Saxon male's dread of appearing effeminate.

Paris, Michael says, is unquestionably the men's fashion centre of the world—a fact that tends to be obscured by the publicity given to Parisian women's styles.

Michael speculates that the conforming conservatism among North American males and the burgeoning trend to stylish experiment in Britain is connected with political power shifts in world affairs.

U.S. TOO SERIOUS

"American men have the ultra-serious attitudes—including a dour sense that personal appearance must conform to a 'respectable' norm—that go with their country's heavy responsibility in world affairs," he says.

"It's the same earnest approach that developed in this country along with worldwide responsibilities in Victorian times and persisted as long as the empire remained.

"Now that we are in decline—a sort of modern Sodom and Gomorrah—British men can afford to kick free of the grey uniform and bowler hat."

The American attitude has spilled over into Canada, Michael says. In fact, although two Montreal tailors have bought the Gee design consultancy service, Canada's conservatism is even tougher to crack than in the United States, where the company has moved on from consultancy to juicy export contracts.

ONLY WOMAN ON BOARD

— Prof. Livia Thur is the only woman member of the University of Montreal's board of governors and six-member executive committee. A graduate of Belgium's Louvain University, she is a professor in the university's economics department, of which her husband, Prof. Otto Thur is chairman. (CP Photo) that reached its peak in London a decade ago.

Gail charted a moderate way out of this conformist trap for the interviewer, who by now was squirming under the implied criticism of his Yonge Street tailor-made from Toronto.

Personals

Pourers for the Spring Salad Tea and Sale, sponsored by Trinity UCW on Wednesday, April 24, in Trinity Church Hall, will be Mrs. Solon Barnes, Miss Bessie Hess, Mrs. Ernest Howland and Mrs. C. E. Soles.

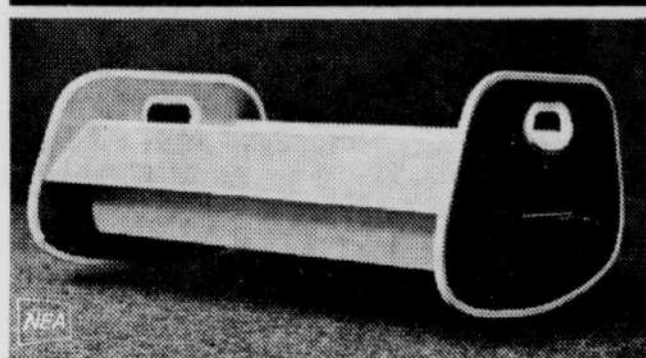

Mr. Byron Labonte, who is on the teaching staff at the Alexander Wolff School, Camp Valcartier, is spending the Easter holidays with his sister, Mrs. Evelyn Fearon, at Sand Hill.

Friends of Mr. J. C. Hallett will regret to learn that he is a patient in the Sherbrooke Hospital, Room 204.

SAFE CAR RIDING FOR BABY

From the outset, teach your baby safe practices for riding in a car. Be sure the car is provided with safety straps or seat belts fastened securely for both front and back seats. A small baby usually travels in an adult's arms or in a car bed or basket. The adult should wear a properly adjusted seat belt, or the car bed should be tied to the seat or placed on the floor of the car.

Never let your baby move about as you drive. When he can sit up, he needs a car seat which permits him to look out of the window. Avoid those with steering wheels attached. In a sudden stop, the attached wheel can damage the baby's face or press against his abdomen, causing internal injuries.

Polly's Pointers

Eases Answering Chore With Spaces in Letters

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY—I write to my parents at least once a week. Mother does their letter writing but now she has arthritis in her hands, so it is difficult for her to write as much as I would like to hear. To eliminate a lot of writing for her, I write a paragraph and then leave a space for her comments, answers, and so on throughout the letter. I also ask questions about things I want to know and she answers just beneath the questions. I use air mail paper so there is no extra postage due at either end.—BEVERLY

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY—Nothing I have tried will remove the stickiness from my wooden salad bowl. I do not know if this is varnish or a build-up of oil that seeped into the wood. Please help me.—KAREN

DEAR POLLY—We have a 58-inch-diameter round dining table which is used often for card games. We always protect the top with a pad but the cards kept sliding and separating during the game. Finally I made a round plastic cover six inches larger than the table diameter. It has a hem around the outside edge with a cord drawstring run through it. Now this extra top cover can be pulled up to fit snugly and the plastic allows the cards to be dealt smoothly.—MRS. R. A. S.

DEAR POLLY—Quinque wanted to know what to put in the water with cut marigolds so there is no odor to the water. Place only a drop or two of household bleach in an average vase with the flowers and water. This keeps the inside of the vase from turning brown.—AFTON

DEAR POLLY—I find that one pair of 36-inch shoe laces, cut into three- to four-inch lengths, are wonderful for sewing into the backs of children's sweaters, jackets and coats that are hung on a hook at school. I sew them in with heavy carpet thread. I often double a piece of grosgrain ribbon and sew it into adult sweaters and coats.—MRS. M. H.

300 voices join in 20th annual Easter Festival of Choir Music

STANSTEAD — It would seem that all roads from the Eastern Townships and Orleans County, Vt., led to Stanstead on Sunday evening for the twentieth annual Easter Festival of Choir Music, sponsored by the Northeast Council of Churches, as a congregation of approximately 600 filled Centenary United Church to listen to the beautiful music of Holy Week and Easter sung by a massed choir of about 300 voices and by individual choirs.

The program began with Reg Seguin, the organist, playing a prelude, Angelus, then the congregation joined the choirs in singing a hymn.

Rev. Geoffrey Joyce, pastor of the host church gave the invocation prayer and asked all to think of the shadow of tragedy at this time in the untimely death of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.

Rev. R. D. LaWall, of the Baptist Church in Newport, spoke briefly relative to Dr. King, saying that everyone was deeply moved by his death. He had known Dr. King in 1957, when he was in seminary in the south, where Dr. King was also a student, and he made reference to the message of Mrs. King over radio and television that "violence can destroy . . ."

A minute of silence was broken by Mr. Seguin playing a few bars of mourning music.

The massed choirs under the direction of Richard Croudis sang, The Heavens are Telling, The Holy City, Listen to the Lambs, The Seven Fold Amen as the offertory response, Lift Up Your Heads, and in conclusion the beautiful Hallelujah

Chorus.
Stanstead South, Wesley United and Centenary Churches of Rock Island, Beebe and Stanstead joined to sing, No Turning Back.

This was an ecumenical festival and the choir of St. Edward's Roman Catholic Church, Derby Line, sang, Adoramus Te Christe.

Salvation is for All was the selection of the First Baptist Church, Newport, followed by the choirs of Greensboro United, East Craftsbury Presbyterian, Craftsbury United and Albany Methodist Church choirs singing Go Not Far From Me, O Lord.

Beulah United and St. Paul's United of Ayer's Cliff and Magog, joined by friends of the two churches sang, O Come Ye Servants of the Lord.

A plasticware party will be held in the church hall after the meeting. Each member is to invite one or two guests and to bring refreshments for them.

After adjournment Mrs. Sutton introduced and welcomed two ladies from Lennoxville, Mrs. Allan Mack and Mrs. A. B. Lovelace. Mrs. Mack spoke on books and the theme, People who think, read. She had several books on display for the ladies to look over or purchase.

Ontario is wary of civil rights

MONTREAL (CP) — Marc Lalonde, policy adviser to Prime Minister Pearson, said Tuesday Ontario is reluctant to agree to a proposal by the federal government to incorporate a human rights charter into the constitution because it fears the move means "republicanism coming in by the back door."

Mr. Lalonde said part of the Ontario government's hesitation is based on the assumption that "entrenchment of a human rights charter in a repatriated constitution is somehow an introduction of the American system."

He was speaking at a meeting of a Montreal-area branch of the Quebec Liberal Federation along with Jerome Choquette, member of the Quebec legislature for Montreal-Outremont.

Mr. Choquette said this would be the "ideal," but until it is done, Quebec should establish its own charter for inclusion in the province's constitution.

QUEBEC SCENE:

Ask new trial for man sentenced to life

MONTREAL (CP) — Lawyers for Pierre Vallieres Tuesday asked the Quebec Court of Appeal to grant a new trial for their client, recently sentenced to life imprisonment after being found guilty of manslaughter.

The manslaughter charge stemmed from the death of Therese Morin, an office employee of H. B. La Grenade Inc., killed in 1966 when a time bomb exploded at the strike-bound shoe factory where she worked.

Robert Lemieux, Vallieres'

lawyer, said in his request for the hearing that the life sentence handed down April 5 was "excessive, severe and draconian."

Pay mayor

MONTREAL (CP) — A former employee of Alfred N. Miller Corp. said Tuesday 10-per cent kickbacks on public works contracts were paid by the firm to the mayor of suburban Pin-was settled before the strike began.

Issues separating the parties were said to be relatively narrow, ranging from union demands that Ford match the best of the health and welfare benefits at General Motors of Canada to requests for a five-minute wash-up period for foundry workers in Windsor.

Involved in the strike are 5,646 workers at car and truck assembly plants in Oakville, 4,177 employees in a foundry, engine plant and transmission plant at Windsor, 1,033 in a car assembly plant in St. Thomas, Ont., 250 in a glass fabricating plant in Niagara Falls, Ont., and 491 at parts depots throughout Canada.

Negotiations could end strike against Ford

TORONTO (CP) — Negotiations that could end a strike by more than 11,000 members of the United Auto Workers against the Ford Motor Co. of Canada Ltd. were set for 9 a.m. today.

Both company and union spokesmen expressed optimism about the end of a strike at five Ford plants when master-table talks adjourned Tuesday night. The strike started at 10:30 a.m. EST Tuesday.

The company said it was hopeful a settlement would be reached soon, with agreement on the "niggling, minor issues" that remained. The union said one more session of talks "should clean it up."

The spokesmen said negotiations for the five locals would sit all night, hammering out issues at the local level. When settled, these must be talked over again in the master discussions.

The strike began after more than 25 hours of continuous negotiations failed to reach an agreement.

A major issue—methods to introduce wage parity with United States auto workers by 1970—was settled before the strike began.

Issues separating the parties were said to be relatively narrow, ranging from union demands that Ford match the best of the health and welfare benefits at General Motors of Canada to requests for a five-minute wash-up period for foundry workers in Windsor.

Council also received tenders for furniture for City Hall.

The new office furniture will be placed during the renovation of the city hall.

Council authorized a payment to Armand Desbiens of $9,276.74 for the spraying of trees and hedges on city property.

He said the shock of Quebec's separation would be harder on Ottawa and the rest of Canada than it would be on Quebec. "Quebec can live alone," he warned.

Mr. Couture emphasized Canada must accept French as a speaking, working and teaching language in Canada as well as English.

When a student asked him how youths in Western Canada can learn French when they aren't exposed to it he replied, "first you should learn it in school."

"Then you should get everyone together in a group and try to speak it." He also suggested the students should read French - language newspapers and listen in to radio and television shows in French if it's possible.

The conference teenage delegates left for a Montreal tour at 1 p.m. today. They will return to Sherbrooke early Thursday morning.

The conference winds up on Friday and the delegates leave for home Saturday.

Hard Boiling of Eggs Cuts Salmonella Danger

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

(Last of Two Related Columns.)

Q—Is there any harm in eating eggs that have been removed from the shell and kept in the refrigerator?

A—If the eggs were good to begin with and are not kept so long as to have spoiled, they can be eaten raw or cooked. If, however, the shells were cracked before you took the eggs out of the carton there is danger of bacterial (Salmonella) food poisoning. Refrigeration does not lessen this danger but thorough cooking (hard boiling) will eliminate it.

Q—My husband eats about six eggs a day. He is 46 and not overweight. Could that number of eggs have any bad effect?

A—Although eggs are an excellent food, their yolks have a high cholesterol content. Most doctors now advise eating three to six eggs a week.

Q—Does eating raw egg whites harm the kidneys?

A—No.

Q—What foods are permitted on a bland reducing diet?

A—A bland diet omits pepper, mustard, horseradish, vinegar, catsup and spices in general. Also, it should contain a minimum of roughage—no raw fruit or vegetable and no bran. A small amount of pureed vegetable or fruit is sometimes allowed.

A reducing diet omits most but not all of what's left. That explains the popularity of the several products that give 225 calories per serving and still supply all of the body's needs.

Q—Is it beneficial or harmful to take a little nap after a meal? Could it cause obesity?

A—A 15- or 20-minute nap after the noon or evening meal is an excellent restorative for both muscle and mind. Obesity will result only if a person eats more food than he needs for his daily activity—too much food and too little exercise.

Q—I have rheumatism and was told not to eat acid-forming foods. What foods should I avoid?

A—The acidity of any food in your body depends on its ash or residue when it is fully consumed. Peas of any kind help to alkalize your system. The same is true of berries (except cranberries), cherries and rhubarb in spite of the fact that they contain a weak acid and have a tart taste. If you wish to avoid ash-formers, you should cut down on, but not eliminate from your diet, fish, fowl, red meat, corn, peanuts and sweets.
