GIANT WEEK-END SEARCH STARTS FOR LOST BOY

World News In Brief

San Francisco, June 4.—(AP)—Torch singer Billie Holiday, charged with possession of opium, was acquitted last night by a jury of six men and six women.
The night club singer, testifying earlier in her husky voice, denied charges that she knowingly possessed a bundle of opium last Jan. 22.

Los Angeles, June 4.—(AP)—Los Angeles' Siamese twins are three weeks old today and doing as well as can be expected. The little girls, joined at the top of their heads, are gaining weight and developing normally. Dr. Phoebe Berman had said preliminary examinations indicated each baby has a complete set of organs, including a separate brain.

Paris, June 4.—(Reuters)—British anti-aircraft teams and equipment may shortly be brought to France to instruct the French army, Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery said today. Important progress had been made in harmonizing defence plans of the western European countries, he added.

Hamburg, June 4.—(Reuters)—The British-licensed German news agency DPA reported last night that a new uranium and silver deposit had been discovered near Oberschlesien, in the southern part of the Russian zone of Germany. More than 1,000 workers had been recruited in Leipzig during the last few days for uranium mines in Aue, about 10 miles from the Czechoslovak frontier, the report added.

Vienna, June 4.—(AP)—Vienna forgot postwar worries for a while last night and became once more a carefree musical centre of Europe. A crowd estimated at more than 200,000 overflowed Rathaus square to hear the Vienna Philharmonic Orchestra play the music of Johann Strauss the younger who died 50 years ago this month.

Paris, June 4.—(Reuters)—The French national assembly yesterday passed by a vote of 367 to 221 a bill ending the colonial status of Cochinchina and permitting it to be attached to the new Indo-China state of Viet Nam. Bao Dai, former emperor of Annam, who has agreed to lead the new state, made the attachment of Cochinchina—an essential condition for fulfilling his part of the compact which he reached with the French government in March.

Lake Success, N.Y., June 4.—(AP)—Maj. Gen. Lowell W. Rooks, a former director-general of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration (U.N.R.R.A.), has been named co-ordinator of the U.N. appeal for children, it was announced yesterday.

Margarine-Butter Question Raised By Agriculturist

Guelph, Ont., June 4.—(AP)—A Danish delegate to the International Federation of Agriculture told the international farmers' meeting here yesterday that governments should stop subsidizing margarine unless they are prepared to give the same preference to butter.

A. Hogsbroholm told a sub-committee that any government which allows free entry of vegetable oils "produced by cheap labor in other countries" is indirectly subsidizing margarine.

He asked for an investigation by the I. F. A. and the United Nations' Food and Agriculture Organization, and suggested that findings be presented to the international dairy federation meeting in Sweden next August.

In another sub-committee here, delegates continued to seek a plan which would stabilize prices of agriculture products and provide for disposal of temporarily embarrassing surpluses without displacing ordinary trade channels.

A special drafting committee will meet again Monday to try to develop an acceptable plan, based on recommendations received from Canadian and United States farm organizations.
Today the delegates from 23 nations are touring farms in the vicinity of the Ontario Agricultural College here, where they have been missing since May 31. The conference ends June 11.

More Than 2,000 Expected To Take Part In All-Out Hunt For Michel Fontaine

Living Costs Index Goes Up In April

Ottawa, June 4.—(AP)—Spurred by higher food costs, particularly a seasonal increase in meat prices, Canada's cost-of-living index edged ahead one-fifth of a point during April.

This increase—the second successive slight rise shown in the bureau of statistics' monthly report—brought the index to 159.5, compared with 159.3 a month before and 159.8 a year ago.

The index now is within one-tenth of a point of its all-time peak of 159.6 reached last October. In the eight months, it fluctuated only seven-tenths of a point.

Between April 1 and May 2, food prices showed the main increase. Clothing prices and costs of home furnishings and services rose slightly, fuel and lighting costs dropped and rent and miscellaneous items declined in price.

The index for food, which is regarded by the bureau as taking up nearly a third of the average household's budget, jumped a full point during April, from 159.5 to 159.95. This compared with an all-time high of 205.4 last Oct. 1 and was the first advance in the food index since that time.

The clothing index increased from 183.2 to 183.3, while that for home furnishings and services moved up from 168 to 168.1.

A drop in coke and anthracite coal prices in Ontario and Quebec cut the fuel and lighting index from 151 to 150.1, while the index for miscellaneous goods and services held steady at 128.4 and 122.4 respectively.

Although the fuel and light index drop of nearly two points was the sharpest change during the month, it was not enough to offset the rise in food prices. Fuel and light is regarded by the bureau as responsible for only six per cent of the average household's budget.

The general index now is 58.2 per cent higher than it was in August, 1939, at the outbreak of war.

The United States cost-of-living index, computed on the same basis as Canada's, stood at 169.4 last April 15. This was a rise of 0.1 from the previous month and an increase of 0.4 from Jan. 15.

The Danish proposal for a "three-dial" was endorsed by R. W. Morrison of Long Branch, Ont., president of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture. He said in an interview that "free entry of vegetable oils to Canada forces farmers to compete with a standard of living that Canadians are not willing to accept."

Mr. Morrison said most industries in Canada are substantially protected by tariffs, but not the dairy industry.

He said the Canadian Federation of Agriculture is awaiting outcome of a request for right to appeal to Privy Council the decision last year of the Canadian Supreme Court ruling manufacture and sale of margarine legal in Canada. Mr. Hogsbroholm said Denmark was probably the only country where the government directly subsidizes margarine. There a two-cent a pound subsidy is paid, although margarine sells there for about 35 cents a pound in comparison to 80 cents for butter. He said the Danes however are rationed, in order to build up the export trade.

Soldiers, Police and Civilians Will Join in Final Effort to Find Six-Year-Old Boy Lost Near Eastman Since Monday.

A force of more than 2,000 fresh volunteers was expected today to join the gigantic search for six-year-old Michel Fontaine, missing since Monday in swampy, dense bushland on his father's 900-acre farm near Eastman.

A nine-man directional committee, set up last night to co-ordinate searchers into a highly-organized unit, appealed for a force of 3,000 to take part in a concentrated week-end drive into the dense bush.

Numbers taking part in the search have increased steadily since Monday night when word of Michel's disappearance brought crowds flocking to the Eastern Townships village, midway between Granby and Magog. As many as 800 were combing the brush yesterday.

The frail lad disappeared while he and two older brothers were out after the cows. The brothers told the little fellow he had better go back to the farmhouse. At that time he was in a pasture near the rugged woods.

No fresh clues have been found since yesterday when a boy's footprints were found in damp ground deep in the bush. The prints were declared less than two days old, but as the hours went by they gradually faded and with them faded hope that Michel could still be alive.

VOLUNTEERS WANTED
The committee organizing the search for six-year-old Michel Fontaine, lost in the woods near Eastman since Monday, today appealed for more volunteers to join in the mass hunt which is being organized this week-end. It is hoped that at least 2,000 men—more if available—will be on hand to comb the dense woods which still hold secret the fate of the youngster.

Mayor J. L. Fortin of Eastman said this morning that a large detachment of army personnel had arrived last night to take part in the search and immediately had gone into the woods.

Today it was expected there would be more than 300 military men, 50 Provincial Police and more than 1,000—possibly 2,000—civilians looking for Michel.

The search committee met for more than an hour late yesterday and made plans for co-ordinating and expanding the hunt over the week-end.

Members of the committee are: C. J. Warwick Fox, member of the Legislature for Bromie; Mayor Fortin, Const. Ray Seguin of the R. C. M. P., Lieut. H. W. Gaudreau of the Provincial Police, Maj. John S. Gilchrist of the 73rd Battery, R. C. A., Magog, Claude Charest, Ken Johnston, Jean Morin and Alex Paradis, the latter newspaper men.

Provincial Police today intended to block off the road leading from the Montreal highway to the farm, controlling traffic so that only those persons taking part in the actual search will be allowed through. The presence of searchers has been a problem up to now and the control check is being put into effect with a view to better organization.

Constable Seguin of the R. C. M. P., is preparing a list of "bush warden" men who know the area well enough to act as guides for the searchers.

The committee decided there already are enough local women present to prepare food for the searchers.

The meeting outlined on a map an eight square mile area in which it is believed the boy must be. More detailed army maps were brought in today.

Maj. Gilchrist and Capt. P. E. Roy of the Royal 22nd Regiment from St. Johns were appointed to take over direction of the search parties.

Mr. Fox is in charge of financing the operation. Several hundred dollars, including one $100 anonymous gift, already have been subscribed to pay for food and transportation. Most of the money so far has come from Magog organizations.

Union Heads Blamed For Breakdown

Quebec, June 4.—(AP)—George K. Foster, manager of the Canadian Johns-Manville Company, at Asbestos, Que., in a statement yesterday blamed union leaders for the rupture of settlement talks in the strike of 5,000 workers. He added that the company had "no alternative" but to try to keep its plants open.

The statement invited all strikers to return to their jobs at an hourly wage increase of 10 cents. The company's 2,500 workers, on strike since Feb. 13, are seeking a 15-cents-an-hour boost to bring their basic pay to $1.

At the same time, Gerard Picard, president of the Canadian Catholic Confederation of Labor, with which the Federation of Asbestos workers is affiliated, stated the union's reasons for insisting on the acceptance of two clauses in any settlement formula.

He said these were clauses providing for re-hiring of strikers without discrimination and an impartial chairman for arbitration of the points in dispute. Both clauses were turned down by the government and the company.

Two other Theford Mines, Que., companies rejected union settlement proposals—similar to those rejected by the Canadian Johns-Manville—in letters signed by their secretaries. The companies are the Asbestos Corporation Limited and the Johnson's Company Limited.

The Johns-Manville manager said prolonging of the strike was "not reasonable." He added losses by the company and employee "leave the company with no alternative but to make plans to keep the plants open."

In his statement the Catholic union leader said the company and the government did not seek "a peace treaty" but "a capitulation."

He said the "non-discrimination clause" was a "point recognized for many years" in labor dispute settlements.

Chambers-Hiss Case Is Heard

New York, June 4.—(AP)—The character and credibility of former Communist Whittaker Chambers, charged with espionage, hinges on the government's perjury charge against Alger Hiss, was the target of defence counsel yesterday.

Under slashing cross-examination, Chambers acknowledged that he lied under oath before the same federal grand jury that returned the perjury indictment against Hiss, former state department official.

Florida, gray-haired defence lawyer Lloyd Paul Stryker also drew from Chambers an admission that he had failed to tell the whole truth before official bodies on several other occasions.

Both defence and prosecution lawyers have stated that it is principally a matter of credibility.

The T.L.C. committee decided against recommending affiliation of the S.I.U.

In a statement made at Montreal, C.S.U. president Harry Davis termed the action "a stab in the back against the striking seamen" and "strike-breaking of the most despicable kind in trade union history."

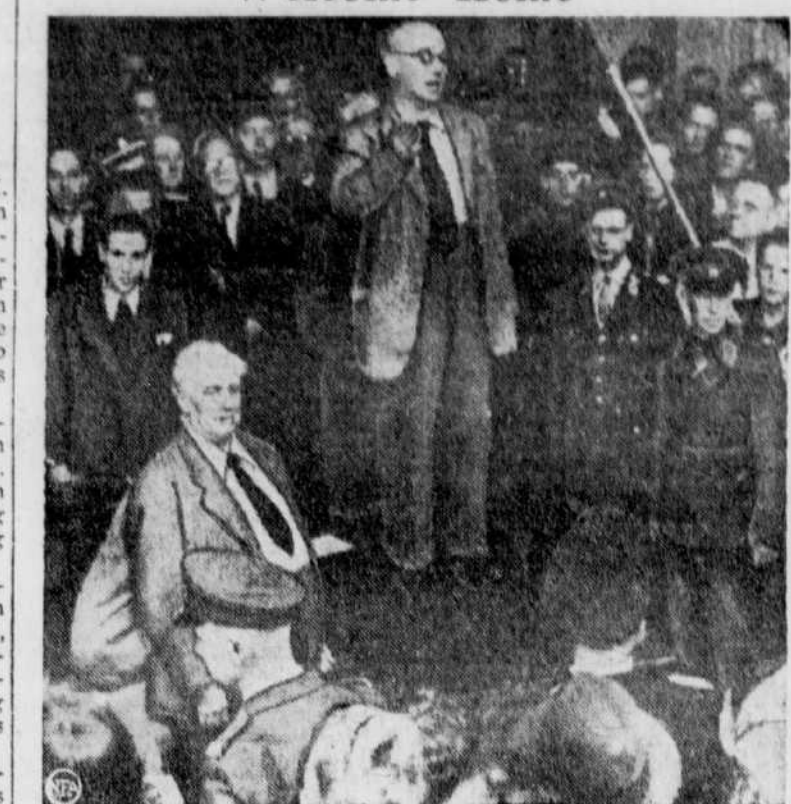

He said charges laid by the congress against the union were "nothing but a lot of generalities created out of thin air." He said the "capitalization of Bengough" (T.L.C. president Percy R. Bengough) and his executive to the American Federation of Labor and business is an act of gross betrayal.

Mr. Davis indicated that Mr. Bengough had found the strike embarrassing because of the Liberal government of which he is a strong supporter.

Montreal, June 4.—(AP)—Frank Hall, Canadian vice-president of the International Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Workers, last night described suspension of the Canadian Seamen's Union by the Trades and Labor Congress as "a wise and courageous step."

Mr. Hall, who led the fight in the T.L.C. to oust the allegedly communist-dominated C.S.U., said its suspension would serve to consolidate the ranks of labor. "It is a great thing for the country itself," he said.

Canadian Seamen's Union Is Cut Adrift By T.L.C.

By The Canadian Press
After two stormy months on strike, the Canadian Seamen's Union today is on its own—cut adrift, at least temporarily, by its parent union body and beset by the rival Seafarers' International Union (A.F.L.).

The heaviest setback to date for the 6,000-member union, allegedly communist-led, came yesterday when the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada announced in Ottawa that the C.S.U. had been suspended. The suspension will come up for review at the Congress's annual convention next September.

The T.L.C. announcement was the most shattering blow for C.S.U. since it called the seamen's strike March 31. This came after east-coast shipowners had drawn up an agreement with the S.I.U., which, until that time, had been inactive in Canadian deep sea shipping circles.

Since then, developments in the bitterly-waged conflict between the two unions saw scores of C.S.U. men abandon the union to join the S.I.U.; outbreaks of violence; court actions in cities around the world and the calling out of troops in England to unload food cargoes. Meanwhile, the S.I.U. made progress in the manning of strike-bound ships the world over.

C.S.U. officials in Montreal last night were bitter in their condemnation of the T.L.C. move. They said the union membership was determined to carry on the strike, although such action now has all the earmarks of a last-ditch stand.

The C.S.U. suspension came after five days of closed meetings in Ottawa by a special meeting of the T.L.C. executive council granted full power to consider the position of the C.S.U. as an affiliate. The committee indicated the suspension would not have been made had some of the union executive resigned. Union officials declined to do this.

The T.L.C. committee decided against recommending affiliation of the S.I.U.

Lower Costs For Freight Advocated

By JOHN LEBLANC

Winnipeg, June 4.—(AP)—The royal commission on transportation yesterday heard suggestions for improvement of transport services and lowered costs over a wide field.

Proposals submitted included reiterations of earlier demand for lower freight rates in the west; better transport facilities into northern mining areas; an even distribution of railway income among various sections of the country; better rates on seeds for western farmers; and extension of air transportation.

These suggestions were received as the commission under Hon. W. F. A. Turgeon went through the third day of a sitting here, first stop on a Canada-wide tour in which it is to investigate all angles of transportation under federal jurisdiction.

Submissions received by the commission were from metal-mine operators, oil and electric companies, farmers' organizations, garment manufacturers and 'spaghetti' manufacturers.

The mid-west metal mining association, speaking for metal operators in Manitoba and Saskatchewan, said that transportation facilities into mineral areas should be improved.

Its brief said highway, rail and plane services into those regions should be extended, as a means of developing mineral production.

The organization—representing the west in a joint submission entered by eight farm organizations of the three prairie provinces—declared that seed should be made available to farmers at lowest possible rates, the brief said last year's 21-per-cent general freight-rate increase had been a "grave and serious error" and had seriously injured the west's program of seed distribution.

The farm organizations went so far as to say that the railways might be well advised to carry seed free.

"It would pay them many times over because of the additional bushels of grain they would haul," the brief said, adding that this would come about through bigger crops if the farmers could get seed more cheaply.

The garment manufacturers' association—representing 28 Manitoba firms producing work clothes and sports wear—said "another increase in the cost of production or transportation is likely to endanger the existence of this industry by rendering it incapable of meeting the already stiff competition from overseas."

Mr. Caldwell looked to the future and said he saw a return to the two-party system in federal politics, with a coalition party made up of Liberals and Progressive Conservatives opposing the C.C.F. But the C.C.F. party was "gaining ground" daily and he was optimistic about its prospects in the election.

Trade Minister Howe stepped into the campaign with a broad-based speech from Ottawa in which he defended the government's trade policies, under attack by the Progressive Conservatives. He said there was no reason why 1949 should not be as good a trading year as 1948.

J. M. Macdonnell, president of the Progressive Conservative Association, told a rally at Antigonish, N.S., that one of the chief reasons why the election was called at this time was that the Liberals in Parliament were "more and more afraid that George Drew would be able to turn what had been a steady retreat into an open and uncontrollable rout."

UK Economic Future Is At Stake

By STUART UNDERHILL
Canadian Press Staff Writer
London, June 4.—(AP)—Is Britain heading toward an economic decline?

The labor government says no—that there will be no devaluation of the pound sterling and that the current slackening in British export shipments was expected and can be overcome.

The pound at present is set at a value of $4.03. The government's decision it should stay there is backed by most newspapers.

Sales to Canada have been increasing, but there have been indications that the export drive is losing its momentum. The Board of Trade, British equivalent of Canada's trade and commerce department, says that can be offset if manufacturers will reduce prices and go after foreign markets more aggressively.

There has been widespread belief that Sir Stafford Cripps, chancellor of the exchequer, has been under the United States pressure to reduce the value of the pound; and that belief probably fed yesterday's rumor that Sir Stafford was

Railway Amalgamation Is Discussed By St. Laurent

By Canadian Press Staff Writer
Railway amalgamation, a long-standing general election issue, was tossed back into the campaign for Canada's June 27 national vote last night by Prime Minister St. Laurent.

He chose Stratford, an Ontario rail centre, as the place to touch on Liberal policy on the amalgamation question, and said the Liberals would neither the sort of railway union advocated by the C.C.F. nor the kind the Progressive Conservatives "secretly" want.

Troops who believe in the future of Canada, he added, believe the railways and other transportation facilities should be maintained and improved "for the benefit of the country and our people."

As the Prime Minister moved deep into his Ontario campaign, George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, carried his campaign eastward across the Prairies, speaking in Alberta. M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, stepped into the west with a speech at Flin Flon, Man.

Mr. St. Laurent didn't elaborate on what he thought the C.C.F. and Progressive Conservative amalgamation policies were. But he did say he thought it "happy" for Canada that the railways weren't amalgamated "in line with the views of pre-war 'prophets of doom'."

The Liberal party felt there were certain great undertakings which should come under public ownership. But it didn't favor public ownership of business as a

Local Musical Examination Winners Greediness Is Are Announced By McGill Faculty Denounced In Chamber Talk

Winners of the local McGill University centre examinations in music were announced today by the University.

Recognizing the necessity of helping to raise the standard of musical education in Canada, and at the same time to bring the influence of competent examiners to bear upon instruction, McGill University conducts examinations throughout the Dominion.

In view of the fact that it grants Degrees in Music and a Diploma of Licentiate, the University extends its field of work by means of local examinations, which are preparatory to those for Degrees and Diplomas.

The examiner appointed, by the Board of Governors of the University, is the local Secretary, Wright W. Gibson, M. A., principal-superintendent of Sherbrooke Protestant Schools.

Practical local examinations in music were conducted this year by Dr. Frank Hanson, a member of the McGill Faculty of Music.

In all High School Grades, pupils may receive credit for music as a unit of their High School course by qualifying for the certificate granted by the McGill Faculty of Music.

Following are the results of the Sherbrooke Local Centre examinations held this year:

Theoretical Examination
Junior Grade: John Lenaghan, 91 per cent, (High Distinction); Arden Sears, 90 per cent, (High Distinction); George Morgan, 84 per cent, (Distinction); Constance-Marie Gervais, 83 per cent, (Distinction); Fern Herring (Bishopston), 61 per cent, (Pass).

Preparatory Grade: Donna Harrison (Bishopston), 81 per cent, (Distinction); Fern Herring (Bishopston), 63 per cent, (Pass).

Elementary Grade: Francis McCreia-Ellis, 91 per cent, (High Distinction); Shirley Steinman, 86 per cent, (Distinction); Jane Quintin, 76 per cent, (Honors); Barbara Wright, 72 per cent, (Honors).

Practical Examination
Highest Grade: Grant Sampson, 77 per cent, (Honors).
Senior Grade: Joan Leech, 75 per cent, (Honors).
Intermediate Grade: George Morgan, 84 per cent, (Distinction); Constance-Marie Gervais, 78 per cent, (Distinction); Joanna Northey, 78 per cent, (Honors); Philip Roberts (Magog), 78 per cent, (Honors); Eunice Morton (Drummondville), 75 per cent, (Honors).

Primary Grade: Judith Pratt, 90 per cent, (High Distinction); Barbara Cairns, 88 per cent, (Distinction); Leslie Marcus, 88 per cent, (Distinction); Kathleen Sullivan, 81 per cent, (Distinction); Norma Herring (Bishopston), 61 per cent, (Pass).

Preparatory Grade: Donna Harrison (Bishopston), 81 per cent, (Distinction); Fern Herring (Bishopston), 63 per cent, (Pass).

In a broadcast Thursday night, dealing with "Money and What it Does," the Sherbrooke Chamber of Commerce denounced greediness wherever found... whether in rich or in poor. Social reformers, the broadcast said, usually preach a share-the-wealth theory, but do not mean to practise it themselves, but intend, always, to share the other fellow's wealth. "If they really wanted to share the wealth," the broadcast said in effect, "they could start right now by putting their hands in their own pockets and sharing with those who have less."

The broadcast stressed the fact that money is no longer a commodity in itself. While it was true that many years ago, when money had an intrinsic value in itself, being made only from precious metals, this situation no longer existed, and thus the old charge that the rich could exploit the poor by "cornering" the money market was not valid today.

On the other hand, it was asserted that each member of society could make his money and all other money more valuable by increased productivity. As one character in the story expressed it: "When I produce more goods or services, I make the widow's mite worth more; when I produce less in goods or services, I rob widows and orphans, and all my fellow men."

The ability of all citizens to contribute to the welfare of all through increased productivity was held to be one of the great challenges of the day, which, if faced resolutely, would lead to a fuller, more abundant Canadian heritage.

27th Armoured Regiment Reunion Planned

To mark the fifth anniversary of the Normandy invasion, a grand reunion of all persons who served with the 27th Canadian Armoured Regiment (Sherbrooke Fusiliers Regiment) R.C.A.C., will be held at the Victoria Rifles Armory in Montreal on June 18.

The program includes a memorial service at the Cenotaph, a short business meeting, a reception buffet supper and dance. A large attendance is expected and former members of the Regiment who have not yet received notices are asked to get in touch with the reunion committee chairman, J. E. Fuger, Room 718, 1420 Stanley St., Montreal.

"Bomb," the Regiment's famed tank which was the only one built in Canada to land on the Normandy beaches on D-Day and continue in action until the Germans surrendered, is seen in the above picture, with some of the men who were in its crew.

P. C. Conventions In Ayer's Cliff And Richmond Top Political Week-End

With conventions of the Progressive Conservative Party being held in Richmond and Ayer's Cliff today to select candidates in Richmond-Wolfe and Stanstead, the line-ups of the major parties are being rapidly completed in this district. The Liberals have already nominated their men in all eight Eastern Townships ridings, while the Conservatives have picked their champions in four, with two more being named this afternoon. The only districts in which the Official Opposition will not have made its choice by the week-end are Drummond — Arthabaska and Megantic.

The convention proper at Ayer's Cliff is regarded as something of a formality, with the former Progressive Conservative member, John T. Hackett, K.C., being considered the unanimous choice. However, a political rally will follow the formal selection, the speakers including Mr. Hackett, Hon. J. Olier Renaud, M. L. C., Denis Gerin, M. L. A., Stanstead, and J. C. Samson.

The Richmond gathering may provide more fireworks. Adjourned from last Saturday, the meeting may find three or more names brought before it. Actively seeking the honors are J. A. Goulet, Mayor of Woodville, J. G. Vadeau, a Councillor for the village of Danville, and Phydime Brodeur, a Danville district farmer. Henri Crepeau, of Montreal, chairman of the Provincial nominating committee will preside.

The only major party leader definitely to announce a meeting in Sherbrooke is George Drew, Progressive Conservative chief, who will tour the Eastern Townships the week prior to election day, probably speaking in Sherbrooke Tuesday evening, June 21, although the date has not been definitely set.

In all probability, Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent, who opened his campaign at his native village of Compton, will make a win through the district between now and voting time.

The candidates so far named for the Eastern Townships ridings are:

Drummond-Arthabaska — Armand Cloutier, *Lib.; Antoine Le-maire, U. des E.
Megantic — Jos. Lafontaine, *Lib.; Richmond-Wolfe — E. O. Gingras, Lib.; Roland Pelletier, U. des E.; Shefford — Marcel Boivin, *Lib.;

Canada's Shut-Ins Will Be Honored Tomorrow As "Their" Day Is Marked

Tomorrow is the day set aside for the shut-ins of Canada. This is a day designed to encourage remembrance of the sick and disabled, that it may bring some extra cheer and fellowship into the lives of those who cannot mix in the normal social life of unhandicapped people.

If you know a shut-in, a visit from you tomorrow will help to brighten their day. If you have ever visited a shut-in, then you will appreciate the work that the Shut-In's Day association is doing.

zations. Mayor Fortin is in charge of the food distribution.

Today the organizational centre is being moved away from the Fontaine home. Since the search began the loud speaker has been blaring and the parties have been milling around the immediate area of the farm house.

The army men who arrived last night were from the Royal 22nd Regiment and it is reported they were sent to Eastman on instructions from the Department of National Defence. A plane also was ordered but it was decided that this would be of no use.

It was learned yesterday that three of the searchers themselves had been lost in the woods. They were Dominique Nadeau, Fernand Gagnon and Robert Gauthier, lost from early morning Thursday until 11 Thursday night. They eventually made their own way out of the woods.

dealing a blow at communist infiltration of the trade union movement.

Mr. Hall said that this group and himself did not regard the action as in any sense a personal victory. "We are anxious to co-operate with the Congress in carrying on the work of the movement in Canada," he said.

As for the Seafarers' International Union (A.F.L.), which Hall sponsored in Canada to replace the C.S.U., he said: "We do not consider the S.I.U. (affiliated with the T.L.C.) an immediate issue. It can be considered at a later time."

Huntingville W.C.T.U. Honors Bride-Elect

On Thursday evening, May 10th, members and friends of Huntingville W. C. T. U. met in the Community Hall, Huntingville, to honor Miss Jean Hunting, a popular local bride-to-be.

Miss Hunting was escorted to the Hall by Mrs. E. J. Harrison and was surprised to see so many ladies present. Mrs. W. T. Evans played the Wedding March as she was led to a decorated chair.

On a large table before her was a beautiful display of daintily wrapped miscellaneous gifts. Mrs. Henderson, president, presented the gifts on behalf of her society and visiting friends.

Miss Hunting was assisted in unwrapping the gifts by her mother, Mrs. K. W. Hunting, her sister, Mrs. George Beers and Miss Iris Nuthorn. She very graciously thanked every one for their gifts and invited them to visit her in her new home.

A very humorous smelling contest furnished entertainment for the evening. Twenty-five items used in the home, consisting of spices, condiments, beverages, extracts, etc. were passed around to each lady to smell and identify. Mrs. A. Day of Huntingville won the contest and was presented a suitable prize.

Refreshments were served by members of the W. C. T. U. Mrs. K. W. Hunting and Mrs. R. S. Lipsey poured tea at the attractively arranged table. Lilies-of-the-valley formed the centerpiece and lighted tapers in crystal holders added to the attractiveness of the table. Apple blossoms in profusion were used to decorate the hall.

Several members of Milby W. C. T. U. were present.

This pleasant evening came to a close by each wishing the bride-elect much happiness in the future.

THREE FIRES REPORTED
Three minor fires called the fire department out last night. Fire razed the watchman's shack at the city dump last night. Damage was estimated as "very small." Slight damage was also reported in one automobile fire and a lamp fire at 22 Montreal street.

400 Thetford Workers Want To End Strike

Thetford Mines, Que. June 4.—Mayor Tancrède Labbe announced yesterday that 400 local miners are seeking to negotiate for a return to work.

He said the groups wishes to leave the ranks of 2,000 asbestos workers who have been on strike here since Feb. 13 for a wage increase of 15 cents an hour, raising their basic pay to $1 hourly and other benefits.

Mayor Labbe, who also is a minister without portfolio in the provincial cabinet, said the men visited city hall to ask him and his council to negotiate a return to work for them.

He quoted a spokesman for the group as having complained that they were suffering from the strike and that their resources were at an end.

resigning. For him, devaluation would be a personal defeat. However, the rumor was emphatically denied at the treasury.

Those who say an economic decline is coming point to these things:

1—The Financial Times index of industrial stocks has dropped from 121.3 at the beginning of the year to 106.7, which is only 2.5 above the post-war low reached in 1947.

2—Prices of government securities have moved downward every day since a week ago Thursday and the Financial Times index of government securities prices has fallen from 113.48 to 112.9.

3—The purchasing power of the pound at home now is only about one-third what it was in 1914.

Oscar Hobson, one of the country's leading newspaper economists, sums up the situation by saying: "There is no argument—as to whether we are in for a recession—we are already in it."

cially on Chambers' word that the perjury charge against Hiss hangs.

Hiss is accused of swearing falsely when he denied Chambers' claim that he turned over government secrets to Chambers, self-described former courier for a pre-war Russian spy ring.

Chambers, whose testimony has pictured Hiss as plotting with him and a Soviet agent, Col. Boris Bykov, to filch government secrets, spoke softly as he answered Stryker's questions.

He acknowledged that, during his 14 years in the Communist party, he had been a traitor to the United States, that he scored religion and had lived with a woman "outside the bonds of matrimony."

He denied Stryker's description of the woman as a prostitute. Chambers said he had told the grand jury which indicted Hiss that he had no direct knowledge of Russian spy activity, although he actually did.

"Then you admit now that you testified falsely and committed perjury before the grand jury in this building," asked Stryker. "That's right," Chambers replied.

The Doctor Says

RUBBING ALCOHOL HELPS RELIEVE DISCOMFORT OF CHIGGER BITES

By Edwin P. Jordan, M.D.

In some of the Army camps during the war, chiggers proved to be far from a joke. In peacetime, too, chiggers cause a lot of discomfort to many people who are exposed.

The chigger is a six-legged, red, undeveloped form of mite. At this stage of its development the mite apparently must become a parasite and live on domestic animals, birds, or human beings.

When a person walks through underbrush or grass, he comes in contact with growth on which these undeveloped mites lie. Chiggers crawl on the skin and when they meet an obstacle, such as a garter or belt, they are likely to stop and bite, fastening themselves to the surface of the skin. They do not burrow into the skin but attach themselves to it. The mite fills with tissue fluids and drops off after a few hours, leaving a red welt on the skin which is likely to itch intensely.

Relief for Itching According to one authority, the severe itching caused by chigger bites can be relieved by touching the area with rubbing alcohol three times a day, followed immediately by some anti-itching oil, such as standard boric acid ointment with a little phenol, usually 1 per cent, added to it.

This ointment should be applied only in small quantities after the alcohol—about three times a day as needed to relieve the itching. It is rubbed in gently and what is left is wiped off with a little cotton. In addition to relieving the itch, this treatment may prevent infection with germs which often follows itching.

Of course, no treatment is as satisfactory as prevention and this is true for chigger bites as well as it is for anything else. If a person is likely to come in contact with tall grass or other vegetation on which chiggers are likely to exist, high boots or long trousers may be sufficient to prevent them from reaching the skin. Dusting the skin with powder of sulphur will also help to ward off these troublesome mites.

Q—What is the cause and treatment for lupus erythematosus?

A—The cause is not known. Many treatments have been tried but none is as yet completely satisfactory in all cases.

LAURENTIAN HERITAGE

Corinne R. Rouleau
This delightful narrative of life in a Quebec village is portrayed through the eyes of Justin Rivier, a small boy who sings like an angel in the church choir, yet manages to get into mischief as soon as he doffs his surplice and cassock.

This chronicle gives a picture of a way of life which still persists in many French-Canadian communities; the impact of births, marriages and deaths on the whole neighborhood; and the year-round routine of a habitant community which gives itself heartily to whatever it does—work and play, song and prayer, feasting and festivity.

The Rivier family is a pleasant one to know. There are Black Noret, the father, whose silence was not always understood; the gentle mother who was truly, as the neighbors said, a Madame Contente; and the many brothers and sisters with their differing desires and common interest in each other's pleasures. There is an undercurrent of deep religious faith in all their activities, and a consciousness of the values which makes Laurentian Heritage refreshing reading for a hurried age.

ALL I COULD NEVER BE

Beverly Nichols
More than twenty years have passed since the publication of Mr. Nichols' former titles, Down The Garden Path, A Touch of Red, A Village In A Valley. If its author could have looked so far ahead, he might have had some difficulty in recognizing himself in this, his second essay in autobiography. For though the candour remains and the gusto for experience is undiminished, the whole work shows, as is inevitable, a greater understanding of the human material which is its subject, and a deeper insight into the problems of his characters. It is a crowded picture gallery of famous people, painted by a literary artist who has the peculiar knack of catching a likeness in a few bold strokes. At the same time it is a revealing study of the gradual development of an acute and sensitive personality.

Unlike most authors of autobiography, Mr. Nichols is more inclined to write of his failures than of his successes. And it is typical of the author that from these failures he extracts more amusement—and gains more instruction—than from any of his triumphs.

THE SPEAR PENNY

Dorothy D. Willette
The Spear Penny is a very unusual real novel set in Wales and America in the 1820's, '40's, and '50's. The characters are consistent and well drawn; the charm and mysticism of Wales is exquisitely set forth and the author has the same sensitive feeling for the American countryside.

According to Welsh superstition one member of a family owes it to another to compensate for any wrong done, and the payment exacted for the soul's salvation is called a spear penny. In this perceptive and dramatic novel, Megan, one of two sisters and a beautiful selfish girl, is the guilty one, and her spear penny is leaving the land of her birth with her husband and sister, and claiming, in the land of strangers, her sister's fatherless child as her own. In America the scene shifts back and forth from a Welsh settlement in Ohio to New York in the raucous days of Jenny Lind and Parum.

Mrs. Willette's book has the three dimensional quality, the characters, the sweep, the originality of the Welsh flavor, and a style that set it apart from all recent historical novels.

School News In Review

SHERBROOKE HIGH

By HARVEY BENNETT
The winner for the Newton Memorial Trophy was named last week. On behalf of the school, I send our congratulations to Ronald Ross who emerged the victor out of a tough field of competition. Those nominated for the final vote were: Merlin Harvey, John Turnbull, John Evans, Fraser Smith and the winner Ronald Ross. Mr. Gibson told the significance of the trophy to the male members of the school. The meeting was under the chairmanship of Mr. N. Carter, English specialist. The scrutineers were Don Towne and Harvey Bennett.

The Baccalaureate Service was held last Sunday in the Baptist Church. The girls as usual, wore white dresses with sweet peas in their hair. The boys stayed in the traditional dress of white trousers and blue blazers with carnations in their lapels.

We extend our congratulations to Ann Harding, who due to her splendid acting in the girls Church Festival held recently in Coaticook, won second prize out of a wide field of competition, comprising actresses from Quebec City, East Angus, Magog, Coaticook and Sherbrooke. Ann portrayed the beautiful princess, in the play "The Princess and the Woodcutter." We also congratulate Enid Harding who ably played the part of the king in the same play. The entire cast gave a splendid performance.

The Grade XI Commercial class held an "Office Day", in which they portrayed a typical office. Although first of its kind ever held in the S.H.S. it was a great success. The greater part of success goes to Miss Crawford, Commercial teacher, who supervised and advised the pupils just how an office should be run. The classroom was open to anyone wishing to watch the class at work. The school faculty and many members of the school board were some of the visitors. The name of the store in which the pupils worked was "Macey's", a retail clothing store.

The personnel consisted of: Office Manager, Harvey Bennett, his private secretary, Joan Murray, Sales Manager, Ernest Steinman, his secretary, Betty Bangs, receptionist, Beverly Drew, switchboard operator, Elizabeth Grime, bookkeepers, Pearl Robinson, (chief), Marion Dunsmore and Jean Boyle, typists, Pauline McAllister, June Griffin, filing clerk, Hester Smith, and sales agent, representing different companies, Gilboe Cassar.

The entire school were fortunate to have shown to them the film, "Great Expectations" on Friday, May 28.

This will be the last time this year that the S.H.S. will have a column in the Record. We hope it will be possible to have one next year. We wish to thank the Record for their generosity of letting us have space in their paper. We enjoyed very much of writing S.H.S. news for it. To the pupils, we wish them good luck with their exams and a pleasant holiday.

Scotty's Garden Letter

I often think that quite the prettiest and most charming flowers are those which appear on the smaller classes of flowering plants. In early summer there's nothing to beat the splashes of lovely color from clumps of Phlox, or Aubretia, or the grace of the white flowers of Arabis. Practically any rock garden will have some small plants with delightful flowers, if you'll just take time to stop and look at them closely. Here's my chance to reel off a list of Latin names a couple of inches long, but I will forbear.

You're just have to out and look for these things yourself and find out what they are. You'll find the research worthwhile.

I am quite a lover of Pansies, those beautiful velvety flowers, but you know, I'm getting so that I prefer the Violas, the small relations of the Pansy. They are much more floriferous than Pansies, and in my experience, harder, and they come in very pleasant shades of color. If you've never had them in your garden try one or two plants and see how you like them. Or better still, buy the seed and grow them yourself—they're not hard to grow. I should warn you that some of these "small fry" are very choosy and won't thrive just anywhere. I have had no luck with Anemone, Armeria, or Gentian Acaulis, but only a few miles away I know a garden where they grow like weeds. If you can get them to grow for you, you'll find you have something very lovely in your garden. While they are rock garden plants, they don't have to be in a rock garden—probably they'll do much better for you in a sunny border.

Before I close this letter, I'd just like to ask if you've ever seen (or tried) the dwarf Sweet William? (Listed usually as Dianthus Barbatas, dwarf usually). It is a

LETTER FROM BRITAIN

Post-War Cars Stand Hardest Test

By EDWARD HODGKIN

Cars manufactured in Britain's factories are being exported in increasing numbers to all parts of the world: indeed, the export figures for the month of March were the second best on record—18,774 vehicles and 3,698 chassis.

At last year's Motor Show in London there were really two exhibitions to look at; one was the array of sleek new cars inside the hall, and the other was the long line of veteran cars, almost all dating from before 1939, which had been parked in the nearby streets by visitors to the Show including thousands from overseas. Most motorists in Britain seem to feel the same affection for their old car that they feel for an old pipe or an old tweed coat, but that does not prevent them from looking with envious eyes at models, and if the Show had been run by some American, who offered to trade us "New cars for old," who would not have said good-bye to his trusty old chariot—with only the slightest pang of parting, if the truth be told?

When Britain's motor industry got down to civilian production at the end of World War II, it had to make good a five-year gap during which there had been no production for the civilian market at all. This break was in some ways a help, though it was also a tremendous challenge to designers, engineers and executives, who must have felt rather as though they were going back to school again. That they met the challenge is now a matter of history. When the Austin A. 90 Atlantic Convertible carried off no less than 63 United States records on the Indianapolis track recently, it showed that Britain's motor car industry is basing its motor policy on quality, not on quick returns from the boom years.

Beverly Stevenson, one of the Graduates of '48. In his letter the Administrative Director said: "Miss Stevenson is a fine student with ability and talent. Her work has been of high rank and her name is now on our student Honor Roll."

"We are very glad to send this excellent report to you and to assure you that we are proud of the standing of your former student."

Activities
The dates of the two junior operettas have been set for Thursday and Friday, June 9 and 10. They will be presented in St. George's Church Hall, at Lennoxville. The program will begin at 7:30. After the last evening's performance prizes will be presented to the pupils of Grades I to VI for the year's work.

Sports
On Friday, May 27, the senior boys defeated the Sherbrooke High School senior softball team. At the Y's Men's Track Meet on Saturday, Allen Hunting broke the existing pole vault record in the senior class. The record of 9' 7" was set up in 1944 by Drummondville. Hunting cleared 10' 4" on Saturday after having broken every record in this event at the Brome County Track Meet, on May 24, when he vaulted 11' 4 1/2".

Four boys are entered in the Montreal meet taking place on Saturday, June 4.

There will also be some participation in the Eastern Townships' Girls' Track Meet at Sherbrooke on Saturday.

Well folks, the graduation dance was a great success. With the very beautifully decorated gym to go with the sweet flow of music from the "Swingsters Orchestra," everyone spent an enjoyable evening. Our congratulations are extended to the Students Council and Decoration Committee for preparing the dance and wish the best of luck and success to the graduates.

Sports
Well, as you know, the track meet was on the 24th, K.H.S. ranked fourth with Art Mizener scoring the most points for Knowlton.

All the participants enjoyed the presence of Murph Chamberlain, Billy Reay and Bill Durnan, all of the "Canadians" hockey team. At this meet, Mr. Durnan stated that if a person wanted to play professional hockey, he should go to school as long as possible, the longer the better.

Well, folks, I guess I will close up so good-bye for now and I hope to see you next week with more news from K.H.S.

LENNOXVILLE HIGH
The rapid approach of the June examinations has placed all other activities in the shade, and there is little to report this week from the High School grades.

The school was proud to receive a letter from the Vesper George School of Art in Boston, mentioning the excellent work done by grand little plant and is gay with flowers all summer long. It never grows more than six inches high, which makes it excellent for the front of the border.

Too numerous to mention here are all the little flowers I'd like to tell you about, but any good garden book or seed catalogue will help you make up your mind as to just what you would like to try your hand at growing.

Grueiling Test

The records which the Austrians smashed were for stock cars; that is to say, distance and period records for an ordinary model such as anybody can buy from any dealer, not a specially tuned example. The test was a gruelling one. Three drivers, each taking three hours at the wheel and six hours' rest, drove for seven days and seven nights non-stop, often in appalling weather, at an average speed of over 70 miles an hour.

This test was made in the United States, partly because of the host it was rightly expected to give to the prestige of Britain's cars, and partly because Britain is badly off for suitable tracks. In the words of the old song, Britain is "a right little, tight little island," and we really have hardly the room to build large testing tracks in suitable places. Motor racing is popular in Britain, all the same, and crowds of enthusiasts flock at summer week-ends to Donnington Park and Goodwood, where the meetings are held; but the big events are mostly held on the Continent of Europe, and we even confine our Tourist Trophy races to small islands off our own small island—namely the Isle of Man and the Channel Islands.

It was in one of the Channel Islands T.T.'s last Easter that a 12-year-old car made in Britain, and driven by a garage proprietor from Leicester, England, romped home ahead of all the new European machines, much to the surprise of everybody except Bob Gerard himself, who drove the winner and never had any doubt about its capabilities. And just to show that this was no flash in the pan, another pre-war British car—this one a mere 11 years old—came in third.

It is not only the comparatively young industries, like the motor industry, which have had to adapt their traditional skill to the changed conditions of the post-war world: even these longest-established industries have found that the pace of things has changed and makes an exacting demand on the ingenuity of workers and managers alike. What industry, for example, has so continuous a history of inherited craftsmanship as stone-quarrying? Yet the quarries and cutters of today work with tools which their fathers had never dreamed of. Diesel locos, or shears and electric cranes have replaced the pick, the hand saw and the horse, which have done the work, and done it well, for hundreds of years until now.

Underground Quarries
The quarries of the West of England produced the stone which was used for Buckingham Palace, and many other famous buildings, ever since the legendary days 1,500 years ago when St. Aldhelm is supposed to have cast his glove on Box Hill in Wiltshire, and prophesied that those who dug there would find wealth. Men dug, and the wealth they found was the famous Bath stone. At first they excavated the surface, but in the 18th century the railway came, and at great cost in money and men's lives cut the long Box tunnel which carries the railway between Bath and Chippenham. After this the quarries learned to work in the long underground galleries, where the tempera-

SHERBROOKE BRANCH, NO. 10

This month the Legion is going to stage "Operation Vote" a Canada wide campaign to combat indifference and apathy amongst those who have the right and privilege of being voters in the forthcoming election. The Legion being strictly non-political, does not care for whom you vote, as long as you do vote. Lt.-Col. L. D. M. Baxter, O.B.E., V.D., Dominion President of the Canadian Legion has released some rather startling figures in connection with the last general election. Of some eight million eligible voters, no fewer than one and a half million failed to vote! So every Legionnaire is requested to use his or her influence amongst friends and acquaintances to get them to get out and vote on election day. As President Baxter says: "To vote is the only way in which the people can share in the government of the country. Only by expressing their will at elections can they determine their future and maintain the principles of Democracy."

This coming week will bring back memories to many of "D Day" in Normandy five years ago. It doesn't seem like five years since it all happened, does it? It just seems like a few months since I was chased by a buzz bomb in a large flat field near Gosport (You don't believe me, eh?) Several members of the Pipe Band journeyed to Montreal on Sunday to take in the Black Watch church parade. The pale green color of their complexions on their return was not caused by sickness, but envy—the Black Watch Pipe and Brass bands were all dressed up in full pre-war style, Feather Bonnets and all the rest of it. It certainly is a handsome uniform, but it's definitely not for the short and tubby types! To show it off well you have to be tall and slim—like me! The boys of our band would be glad to accept the donation of a thousand dollars or so for the acquisition of full dress for the band. Step right up! And don't forget your cheque book.

At the next branch meeting, our president and delegates will give a report on the Provincial convention. We are expecting a pretty comprehensive report, but we don't expect them to tell all—that wouldn't be fair. We hear that next year's convention will be held here in Sherbrooke. So you'd better get rested up this year, as next year you are all—repeat all—going to be busy!

See you at the meeting?

ture, summer and winter, stays at a steady 56 degrees. They sawed out the big blocks which were carried to the surface by ponies and built into the houses and churches of our cities.

But a modern air shearer, a machine which was originally used for coal-mining can do in half-an-hour the work that would take a full day's hand-sawing. A mechanical pick can do in a day the work of a week's manual picking. There is no feeling of resentment among the stone-workers at this mechanisation. In the quarries, as in the mines, the men know that improved methods mean more production, and this means more pay. The skill of the individual is still the most important part of the work, and the trade is still one that is handed down from father to son in the same family.

NORTH HATLEY

North Hatley, June 2.—The closing meeting of St. Barnabas' Guild was held at the home of Mrs. Charles Coleman. The meeting was opened with a devotional period, conducted by Rev. Mark Beaufort.

The president, Mrs. R. W. Bowen, was in charge of the business period, during which all business for the season was completed, and plans were outlined for the Luncheon and Sale, to be held on July 13.

The hostess was assisted in serving refreshments by the Misses Ruth and Anne Coleman.

Members and their husbands were welcomed by Mrs. Thomas Adler, president of the Chapter, which was followed by the singing of Hatikvah.

After the dinner, the president gave a resume of the year's activities, highlights of which were the sponsoring of the barn dance at Little Lake, card party, tea and food sale at the Community Hall, Chanukah Dance, Eastern Township Shoppers' Guide and Cook Book, tag day, nearly new sale, raffle of an afghan donated by Mrs. Harry Budning, and the sale of Magazines. All were outstandingly successful. Mrs. Adler thanked her fellow officers and members of various committees whose co-operation and assistance had resulted in so successful a year.

Mrs. Adler, Mrs. Abe Schacter, Mrs. Isadore Echenberg, Mrs. Dave Echenberg and Mrs. Irving Steinman then presented WIZO pins to the following for their splendid work: Mrs. Isadore Echenberg, Mrs. Bert Hyman, Mrs. Jack Cooperman, Mrs. Abe Gillman, Mrs. Dave Echenberg, Mrs. Irving Steinman, Mrs. Jack Echenberg, Mrs. Joseph Niloff, Mrs. Sam Echenberg, Mrs. Abe Schacter, Mrs. Thomas Adler, Mrs. Alec Powell, Mrs. Abe Mittleman, Mrs. Terry Hollander, Mrs. Simon Marcus, Mrs. Harry Budning, Mrs. Isadore Echenberg, Mrs. Al Waldman, Mrs. Joseph Bordoff, Mrs. I. Herman, Mrs. Henry Weinstein, Mrs. Lawrence Chankin, and Mrs. Sydne Echenberg, Mrs. M. Smith, Mrs. Ed. Slater, Mrs. Abe Echenberg, and Mrs. Leon Echenberg.

A cheque representing the proceeds of the Cook Book was then presented to Mrs. Henry Nathan, vice-president of Montreal Hadassah, by Mrs. Schacter and Mrs. I. Echenberg. These proceeds will go to Youth Aliyah.

Mrs. Lawrence Chankin introduced Rabbi Isaac B. Rose, National Director of Canadian Young Judea, who assumed his duties within the framework of Zionist Organization of Canada. Rabbi Rose served two and a half years overseas as Staff Chaplain of the First Canadian Corps in England, Italy, France, Belgium, Holland and Germany. Twenty-Third Golf Season Opens At Sherbrooke Club

Long hours under the summer sun—the gratifying sound of a solid drive down the fairway—the satisfaction of under-par shooting—laughs at the novice—gasps at the pro—and hours of clubhouse replaying on cool evenings—that's eighteen holes of health and relaxation.

From its humble origin in the Scottish highlands, the game followed the expansion of the British Empire to every major English speaking nation in the world, and jumped to Europe where country clubs today number many hundreds.

Played in its early stages by a small group of fanatics, golf today has favour with men and women from every walk of life. Citizens whose occupations range from managing banks to driving buses appreciate the relaxation and friendly competition of a week-end's golf stint.

Sherbrooke's first introduction to the game came with the nine-hole St. Francis Golf Club in the East Ward. As enthusiasm for the sport increased, however, the limitations of a nine-hole course grew more noticeable. In 1926 something was done about it.

Seven Sherbrooke golfers, W. D. Van Rode, Dr. W. W. Lynch, D. J. Salls, C. A. Joslin, F. A. Briggs, Dr. G. M. Hume and J. P. Wells, the last four now deceased, purchased 130 acres of rolling farm land north of the city for almost $16,000.

CANADIAN GOLF GROUPS

Twenty-two golf associations are spread across Canada from Prince Edward Island to British Columbia. These groups include professionals as well as amateurs.

As listed by the 1949 Canadian Almanac and Directory, the associations are: Royal Canadian Golf Association, The Canadian Ladies' Golf Union, Canadian Seniors Golf Association, Alberta Seniors Golf Association, Province of Quebec Golf Association, Eastern Townships Golf Association, Western Ontario Public Links Association, Alberta Golf Association, Prince Edward Island and New Brunswick Golf Association, Canadian Professional Golfers Association, Manitoba Seniors Golf Association, Canadian Women's Senior Golf Association, British Columbia Golf Association, Saskatchewan Golf Association, Ontario Golf Association, Seniors Northwestern Golf Association, Nova Scotia Golf Association, Maritime Seniors Golf Association, Toronto and District Professionals Golf Association and the Golf Greenkeepers Association of Ontario.

Calling it the Sherbrooke Country Club, the seven directors sold $100 shares to new members and set out to develop a 18 hole golf course.

By 1927, one of the finest club houses in the district had been erected at a cost of some $12,000.

During subsequent years, club directors improved the eighteen hole course, rearranging greens and tees. 1949 members of the Sherbrooke Country Club are offered one of the top-notch, scenic courses in the province.

Course par at Sherbrooke is 71, but in June 1942, the late Sherman Peabody rounded it with a cool 69, setting an amateur record. This was repeated last fall by the present pro, Harry Fowles. His uncle and former pro, the late Dave Turnbull, established the course record when he posted a 68 for the eighteen. This record has never been broken or equalled. It was approached only by the two men named above.

First hole-in-one on the course was made by A. C. Stevens on July 5, 1932. He plunked the ball into the old 4th hole, now the 13th. On October 8, 1941, H. L. Gagnon dropped one into the old 7th hole, now the 16th, with a number four wood. Two more holes-in-one are recorded for Ernest Armitage who sunk both in different years with the same brassie. Other holes-in-one were registered by Ernie Sewell at the old 2nd, Derek Pearce at the 4th, W. F. Steele at the 7th, and A. W. Kerridge at the 12th.

Link Line-Up

Johnny Palmer, Badin, N.C., lines up a putt on the second green of the Hermitage Country Club, Richmond, Va., as Slammin' Sammy Snead watches during their match that decided the PGA title. Snead was the winner.

Virus Diseases in Strawberries Causes Shortage

It is becoming increasingly evident that many stocks of strawberries in Canada are infected with virus. The recognition of this fact has been delayed by the failure of the commonly known varieties to show readily recognizable symptoms. Most of the strawberry varieties that are grown in Canada, when infected with a virus, do not exhibit the yellow mottling or marginal yellowing that is usually associated with virus infection. The only effect is a varying amount of dwarfing of the plants and suppression of runner formation, the end results of which are decreasing yields and the so-called running-out of the variety.

The situation is a serious one for the commercial grower, says A. W. S. Hunter, Division of Horticulture, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa. It is also a situation that the grower cannot entirely overcome by his own efforts. The final solution will involve either the finding of absolutely healthy plants of existing varieties and their subsequent propagation, or, if this is not possible, the breeding of new varieties to replace the present infected ones. Both of these alternatives can be undertaken only by experimental stations or research institutions.

In order to appreciate the precautions that must be taken it must be understood that virus diseases are usually spread by sucking insects and therefore infection can take place over relatively long distances. It should also be understood that viruses are carried in the plant sap, and once a plant is infected, all runners connected to it will quickly become infected. Therefore, in order to be of any value, roguing of diseased plants must involve removal of the whole clone.

Growers frequently obtained their planting stock from the last row or two in the fruiting plantation. From what has just been said, it is obvious that this is not a good practice. The system affords only a poor opportunity for roguing out diseased plants, and growing in such close proximity to the rest of the plantation, disease may easily spread from infected plants that are likely to be present in adjacent fruiting rows.

A much better practice is to grow plants for propagation in a location as far removed as possible from all other strawberries. This also includes wild strawberries, since they are frequently infected with virus. Set out only the most vigorous plants obtainable of the desired varieties. Plant them three or four feet apart in each direction and as soon as they start growing, inspect them regularly and remove all plants that do not look right or that are not as vigorous as they should be. In order to be worth while, this roguing must be done carefully, regularly and ruthlessly.

No plant should be given the benefit of the doubt. One should also keep in mind what plant vigour the variety is capable of producing. It is not enough to discard only the worst plants and save all the better ones. Everything but the very best must be discarded. This may mean the retention of only a small portion of the plants the first year, but if these superior clones are used as foundation stock, the general level should be much higher in subsequent years and the proportion of poor vigour plants proportionately less.

Popular Club Caters To Golfers And Tennis Players; Weekly Dances Held

The Mount Pleasant club, one of the district's most popular rendezvous for golf and tennis in the summer and for skiing in the winter, will reopen tonight at 9 p.m.

The management has gone to considerable work renovating this club. The interior has been completely redecorated and a pleasant surprise awaits those who will be seeing the club house for the first time since its face lifting.

There is a new interior lighting system which adds considerably to the friendly atmosphere of the club.

A full entertainment program has been arranged for the summer season and there will be a dance every Saturday night. At least two big "name" bands will appear during the summer.

In addition to these Saturday night parties, there will be music every Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights, with the Mount Pleasant trio providing the entertainment.

Another feature of the Mount Pleasant club is that it will cater for private parties. It is a good place to remember for those garden parties, banquets or reunions which are always a part of summer activities.

There is a fine trail for those who like to ride, although the club does not provide horses itself.

Foster Guild Members Held Regular Meeting

Foster, June 4.—An interesting meeting of the Bishop Carmichael Memorial Church Guild was held at the "Parsonage" with a large attendance of members.

The meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. A. L. Young, and minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. C. D. Johnson.

A report of the antique fair and card party in the Town Hall, showed a net profit of $19.75. At that time eleven members were confined at home through sickness or caring for sick members of their families.

Mrs. R. H. Wright offered to send fruit to three sick members. Mrs. W. R. Durrell, Mrs. L. P. Durrell and Mrs. N. Crowhurst. The president asked the mem-

It was voted to send a gift to a member, who has recently left the community, and a card to a member who will soon observe her fiftieth wedding anniversary. It was voted to hold the next meeting on June 2. Each member is to bring a double fee. Mrs. R. E. Allen kindly offered her home for the next meeting.

Delicious refreshments were served by a committee who were thanked by the president. Rev. and Mrs. Bockus were also thanked for the use of their home.

ATHLETICS PLAY IN GRANBY TONIGHT; MEET SAINTS TOMORROW

New Players Due To Report Over Week-End To Locals; Tangle With Martin's Squad In Sunday Fixture

Lou Shapiro, who will arrive in town today, will hurl tomorrow evening when the Athletics take on St. Hyacinthe in the second game of a Sunday series, announced Roland Gladu, manager of the A's, last night.

This evening Sherbrooke moves over to Granby to take on Gene Oliver's Red Sox in a regular league fixture while St. Johns and Drummondville will meet and Farnham goes to St. Hyacinthe to complete the evening bill.

Manager Gladu will field his same team pending the new arrivals due to report in this week-end. Lou Shapiro, with the team last year, is supposed to be on hand for tomorrow's game and a new infielder by the name of Stan Sharkey, who hails from Fort Worth, Ind., is due at the beginning of the week. Gladu also stated that a right hander hitting outfielder with whom he is in contact with should be in at the start of the coming week. Both these new players are right-handers and should add considerable power to the right side of the plate.

The majority of the present players are left hand bat swingers, and when a right hander hurls Manager Gladu has very few men to throw in to use from the same side of the plate. With the addition of these men it should help the local club in their efforts in rebuilding the team.

St. Hyacinthe, their opponents tomorrow evening, will be playing their first game of the season here as their previous engagements in town have been washed out. The Saints and the Athletics were the finalists in the loop last year and are at present, both at the bottom of the league, which is quite unusual for them. Both teams have been way off their pace from last season, and are battling it out for the cellar position of the circuit. The Saints have been, off and on, all year although they are reported to have a strong club but so far, as the A's, they have failed to produce anything sensational.

The afternoon fixture tomorrow will be played in St. Hyacinthe and the evening tilt will take place at the local park under the floodlights at 8.30 in the evening.

Hal Newhouser Stops A's As Tigers Win 4-3

Hal Newhouser stopped Philadelphia Athletics with eight hits yesterday as Detroit Tigers took a 4-3 decision for a sweep of their three-game American League series.

The victory gave Newhouser a 5-5 mark for the season and snapped his personal three-game losing streak.

Two home runs accounted for all three of the A's runs, the first being a fourth-inning homer by Sam Chapman and the other a two-run walk-off in the seventh inning by Eddie Joost, his 10th of the season.

A six-run first inning enabled Ed Barry Wynn to coast to an 8-1 victory over Boston Red Sox, while Cleveland Indians teammates slashed out 10 hits.

The victory was Wynn's third within two weeks. He had a two-hit shutout going into the eighth inning when Johnny Pesky's safe bunt, a ground out, and Bill Goodman's single produced Boston's lone marker.

Drummondville, Farnham Win

By The Canadian Press
Drummondville put together six runs in three innings last night to beat St. Johns 8-6 in a Provincial Baseball League contest which saw heavy hitting by both sides.

St. Johns took a 5-2 lead in the bottom half of the third with a five-run outburst against Drummondville starter Poliquin. But the visitors came back to win over the locals with 13 hits, one less than St. Johns.

Farnham, meanwhile, overwhelmed St. Hyacinthe 8-0 to give Krakowski the pitching victory. A five-run sixth for Farnham drove starter Blumette from the box in favor of Howitz. St. Hyacinthe got only five hits off Krakowski while Farnham put together 11 bingles. They were the only games scheduled.

Stan Musial Says Cards Will Win N.L. Pennant

New York, June 4.—(AP)—Loyalty is a wonderful thing, although sometimes it covers a multitude of doubts. The "My dad can lick your dad" boast often is based on hope rather than conviction.

Anyways, we are tempted to believe Stan Musial is talking with conviction when he says he thinks St. Louis Cardinals will win the National League pennant.

Stan Musial is the Cardinal hitting star everyone has been worrying about but Stan Musial. Unlike many a ball player in a batting slump, he doesn't mind being asked what has been the matter. His answer would be a genial "nothing."

He means there has been nothing wrong that you could put your finger on and say "That's it." He thinks his timing has been a little off, and that maybe he was pressing a little and hitting at bad balls in his anxiety to connect, but nothing has worried him.

He and Ted Williams, generally rated the two best hitters in the

"Sport Shots" and "Pot Shots"

BY LEN O'DONNELL

The $84 question in local sporting circles at the present is "What is wrong with the Sherbrooke Athletics?" Every baseball fan has been asking this question and from my point of view I would say "Nothing that a few breaks and a couple of wins wouldn't correct."

We all know that our boys haven't had any breaks to date, everything seems to be against them. They are in a slump, but I am of the opinion that if they can win a couple of games, with a spell of warm weather, things will be different.

The players themselves know that things are against them, and they don't need to be told it. They are trying harder than ever to try and break the jinx that has fallen over them, but so far Lady Luck has not smiled at them.

But I want it understood before I get any deeper into this subject that I am not offering alibis for the team, in fact I don't believe that they need any.

Some of the fans are taking great delight in riding the boys, and I believe this is just the right manner to make matters worse. I understand that the fan pays his money which entitles him to say what he wants, within reason, but on the other hand, what I have never been able to understand is why the local fans pick on the boys when we all know that they are trying their level best to win ball games. The players love winning just as much, if not more than the fans do, and nobody can say that our boys are not giving their best to do so. I understand that it is hard to see men get struck out when the bases are loaded, when there is a chance that a clean single would make all the difference in the world. But the player feels it worse than the fan, who is sitting in the stand.

I am of the opinion that if a player, who is drawing a good salary, does not do his best then he should take his medicine, including the razzing and perhaps a little fine on top, but after watching the team in action in every game to date I feel that only a few are not doing their level best.

Nothing ruins a good team quicker than continual razzing from the fans, when things are breaking against them. We have just as good hurlers as there are in the league, as well as hitters, and once they start rolling they will be hard to stop. At the present it looks as though the boys are all tightened up from over-trying, under the tough pressure, and that makes things worse, but this could be overcome with a few breaks from Lady Luck, and a couple of victories to get the boys back in their stride.

The executive of the club is determined to get rid of the players who are not giving their best and Manager Gladu tells us that he has been in contact with several players, and should be hearing from them this week-end.

As was announced yesterday by President Dr. A. N. Dupuis, that the executive had complete faith in Roland Gladu as manager of their team and that they were behind him 100 per cent no matter what he does, so long as the boys behind the scene are giving him their complete backing, and this is the way that it should be run. I don't think that there is anything that ruins a club, of any kind, quicker than to have 10 men trying to give orders. The proof in that last winter when the local hockey club attained high heights in the game. There was only one boss, and that was Coach Ivan Dugre, and he alone gave the orders to the men, and in turn responsible to the executive for their behavior, on and off the ice, and the success thus obtained more than justified that it was the proper system by all means.

The Hi-Y Club is sponsoring their annual girls' meet today at the Parade Grounds and a good list of contestants is taking part in the event.

The girls don't go in for quite so many events as the boys but their interest I think is much greater than that of their school pals. If the weather holds our I imagine that quite a few records will be set.

Six schools are entered in the meet and they should give Stanstead College, the defending champions, a real go before the winners in the various events are declared. The meet is divided into three sections, middles, juniors and seniors, with six events in each class.

The opening event of the Sherbrooke Country Club, the president-vice-president match, which was supposed to be run off last Saturday, is scheduled for this afternoon. The committee was forced to put the match back a week as the players failed to turn out for the event.

Manager Roland Gladu announced last night that Lou Shapiro, who was one of the mainstays with the hurling staff last year, will be back with the club tomorrow or the beginning of the week.

Rollie also stated that an infielder by the name of Stan Sharkey will report in a few days. Sharkey is a right hander and plays any position in the infield. He hails from Fort Worth, Ind., and should add considerable strength to the right side of the plate. As well as these two, an outfielder will also be in town, Rollie didn't reveal his name, but definite news is expected from him this week-end. So boys that is the picture in the baseball world.

Muddy Field Is Outlook Today For Running Of Famous English Derby

Epsom, Surrey, England, June 4.—(AP)—It will be mud or glory today for a near-record field of three-year-old colts who will fight it out over the storied Epsom Downs for the highest prize of the British turf, the Historic Derby Stakes.

Thirty-three starters are expected to face the barrier while hundreds of thousands of fans watch in tense excitement and millions more glue their ears to their radios at post time, 3 p.m. BST (11 a.m. ADT).

Soft going is likely for the 170th renewal of the race that annually makes horse-players out of thousands of Britons who normally wouldn't know a fetlock from their furlong. Torrential rain fell during the second race on Friday's card and off-and-on drizzle was the order of the day.

No matter what the weather is like, however, the safest Derby bet is that the rain will not seriously cut attendance nor hamper the high spirits that annually attend this greatest of all mass picnics.

Tipsters by the hundred, fortune-telling gypsies, eel-pie vendors and touts of every description will be there rubbing shoulders with evangelists who try to hold public prayer meetings in the infield. Pickpockets will circulate through the crowds, as well as bookies—for the most part honest.

but sometimes a welsher or two.

Two entries almost sure to benefit from softer going are the Aga Khan's Hindustan and the 100-to-1 longshot, Mutton Boy. It also has been said during the last fortnight that sloppy footing would seriously hinder Lord Derby's blinkered Swallow Tail, second favorite at 8 to 1.

At the final call-over at the Victoria Club in London, Royal Forest remained favorite at 9 to 2. These odds were shorter than those at the previous call-over when he was 5 to 1.

Nimbus became second favorite at 17 to 2. Swallow Tail, formerly second choice, moved out to the favorite at 9 to 1 with the chief French hope, Armour Drake fourth choice at 100 to 9.

The American-Bred Brown Rover was next at 100 to 7.

Other prices were: Hindustan 100 to 6; Scottish Meridian 100 to 6; Val Drake 20 to 1; Barnes Park and Jai Hind 25 to 1; Gades and Courier 33 to 1; Targui 40 to 1; Royal Empire 50 to 1.

Xerxes, Conservative, Grand, Lord Drake, Marco Polo II and Willoughton all were 66 to 1.

Big Wig, Boisson, Button Boy, Enver Pasha Happy Mich, Highlander III, Iran, Le Troubadour, Mon Chetelain, Neopolitan Star, Normanton, Pijonum, Ungengo, all were at 100 to 1.

Sid Gordon, who along with Whitey Lockman drove home four runs, paced the bombardment with a homer, double and single.

Monte Kennedy, who went the distance for the Giants, cruised to his fifth victory. The southpaw granted 11 hits.

Philadelphia Phillies and the Cincinnati Reds ended their doubleheader just where they started—tied for fifth place in the League pennant race.

The Reds won the opener 8-2 on the strength of Lloyd Merriman's triple and pinch-hitter Danny Littwhiler's outfield fly in the ninth. The Phils came back to square accounts 3-1 as Andy Seminick, star on Thursday's night's home-run battle with three round-trippers, drove two runs home with a first-inning double.

Brooklyn Dodgers salvaged the final game of their three-game series with St. Louis beating the Cardinals 5-2 on the strength of a four-run seventh-inning rally.

Unitcast, Superheater Win Softball Fixtures

Unitcast and Superheater maintained their winning stride in the Sherbrooke Softball League last night at the Parade Grounds as they downed the Machineries and Fairbanks to remain tied for top spot in the loop.

Unitcast downed the Fairbanks squad 15-8, but a 3-2 count at the end of the third frame, in the lower half of the inning Ernie Galvin's boys pushed nine runs across the plate to move out into the lead which they never relinquished. In the fifth they added four more, and finished up with two in the sixth frame. Baz McCormick's Sealemen threw a freight into their opponents as they took over the lead at the start of the game, when they accounted for three runs off of Roland Bouchard, but when his brother, Fern, took over the Unitcast came back strong to finish well out in front.

In the Machineries-Superheater battle the Super Men took over the lead in the second inning with two runs to break a 3-3 deadlock, and kept adding more in each frame while they held Charlie Clark's boys to only two runs, and that was in the final inning, to end up on the long end of a 11-5 count.

400 Racers To Compete For Honors This Month

London, June 4.—(AP)—The thrum of motorcycles will shatter the peace of the Isle of Man this month. And holiday-makers will cheer to the tune of the annual tourist trophy races.

On tortuous lanes, round hairpin bends, through damp mountain mists, more than 400 motorcycle enthusiasts will battle at speeds up to 120 miles an hour for honors in seven races.

Highlight is June 17 when the 254-mile senior tourist trophy event for 500 C. C. machines—the blue ribbon of motorcycle racing—will be held.

Practice for the events started weeks ago, although June 1 is the official date. Riders from Spain, Belgium, France, Denmark, Italy, Australia, New Zealand and Britain have been accepted, but Ger-

Fifth Annual Interscholastic Dominion Track And Field Meet Takes Place Today In Montreal

Montreal, June 4.—(AP)—Canada's young track and field hopefuls will take over Molson Stadium today by the hundreds for the fifth annual interscholastic Dominion and Provincial championships.

The entry list last night stood at 650, representing 59 schools from Winnipeg to Halifax.

At least one-quarter of the entrants are from outside the Montreal metropolitan area.

Points represented include Winnipeg, Toronto, Hamilton, Oakville, Ont., Ottawa, Sudbury, Hawkesbury, Ont., and to the East, Saint John's and Rothesay in New Brunswick, and Halifax.

Ages in classes one to five are: Under 14, under 15, under 16, under 17 and under 20.

Because of the heavy entry list, heats in all classes will be necessary. They are scheduled to get under way at 10 a.m.

Provincial championships will be decided in the first four classes and Dominion championships in class five, or senior.

Toronto's ace pair is expected to be George Lynch and Dick Ferguson, both of them half-milers and miler. Last year Lynch set a record in the half-mile in the senior class and Ferguson won both the half-mile and mile in class four.

Ottawa Tech's Dave Pratt, who won the class four discus last year, man entrants are still "inadmissible."

Ninety riders tried to enter the senior classic, but only 70 were accepted. For the junior, 125 applied, but only 103 were accepted. And in the lightweight 33 were accepted, with nine in reserve.

For the clubmen's T. T. races the union decided this year to accept all entries—177. They will be divided into 1,000 C. C., senior, junior and lightweight events.

Women have been rejected as entrants for the races. But the automobile union says the ban is not permanent.

New York, June 4.—(AP)—Ponder and Capot, both with designs on the rich Belmont Stakes a week hence, meet again today, with seven others in the 10th running of the Peter Pan Handicap at Belmont Park.

Every spring, or whenever their paths cross, Stan and the Red Sox slugger get together to talk batting, and have discovered their theories have much in common.
