A Wayward Girl.

Detective Robinson, yesterday, took into his fold Miss Ethel Acker, "a damsel fair to see," who claims to be but a few months in this city from New York. On her coming here she quickly obtained employment as a domestic in a house on Phillip's-square where her handsome face and suave manner, placed her among the boarders as a jewel, but a couple of weeks ago the fair Ethel left, and with her disappeared a number of small articles of "vertu," which were of little value, but highly prized by the boarders. They were relics from their sisters, their cousins and their aunts. The mistress also missed some of her wearing apparel.

The case was on Tuesday placed in Mr. Robinson's hands which resulted in his capturing his prize at 39 St. Catherine-street, where she and a lady friend had, since her departure from her victimized friends, been housing.

Robbed on the Cars.

D. H. On speaking to the strangers they denied all knowledge of the affair. A detective went with the young man to an hotel where he supposed the trio were staying. He found them there, but they denied all knowledge of the matter. Fletcher left the hotel with the detective, being undecided what action to take, but when he had made up his mind to have them arrested the trio had gone.

WOODMAN SPARE THE TREE

SESSIONS OF AMERICAN FORESTRY ASSOCIATION AT QUEBEC.

Valuable Contributions to Forest Literature—Visit from Lord Stanley—Hospitality to Visitors—Premier Mercier Applauded—Dan Dougherty's Speech—F. X. Perreault Excited—Boodle Discussions Out of Place.

QUEBEC, Sept. 4.—At last night's session of the Forestry Convention papers were read by Colonel Ensign, Forestry Commissioner of Colorado, on "Rocky Mountain forests"; on "How to Celebrate Arbor day" by Prof. Lazanby; "Tree Planting on the Prairies," by Mr. Joly; "The management of forests by the French Government," by Mr. Vilmorin; and "Nursery of Fruit and Forest Trees in the Far North of Quebec," by Mr. A. Dupuis. Great interest was manifested and Mr. Vilmorin was questioned in regard to the admirable system of education in forestry pursued in the French schools.

General James Grant Wilson spoke of the immense forests of the Adirondacks now unfortunately almost denuded of trees, of the late efforts of Government to repair the work of destruction, and the beneficial results flowing from the observance of arbor day. Hon. G. F. Talbot, of Maine, deplored the disappearance of forests in that State to such an extent that its people had to go to Washington Territory for masts of their vessels and to Tennessee and Michigan for first class lumber for the finishing of buildings. He spoke of the efforts made to prevent further waste, destruction of forests by fire, etc. Mr. Aubrey White gave valuable information supported by statistics of the condition of the forests in Ontario.

After a lengthy discussion of these reports, the secretary, Mr. Archer, of Philadelphia, presented the report of the executive and legislative committee named at Philadelphia last autumn and it was decided that a committee consist of Messrs. J. W. D. French, E. E. Fernow, J. X. Perreault, J. B. Harrison, P. L. Vilmorin, Aubrey White, E. E. Tache and Wm. Little, be appointed to consider the report and the best means of obtaining practical results from the work of the association. Hon. Mr. Joly, in the absence of Mrs. S. W. Dodds, M.D., read her paper on the causes of cyclones, which treated exhaustively of the various theories advanced and suggested the planting of forests as a remedy.

Mr. B. C. Fernow, chief of the Forestry Division of the United States, read his paper on forests as a national resource. This voluminous and learned work introduced a number of points of very great interest, and suggested that the matter of re-foresting the land was a work to be undertaken by governments.

This Morning's Session.

The preliminary remarks were made by Hon. Mr. Joly de Lotbiniere, after which several papers were read.

About 10 o'clock His Excellency the Governor-General, Lord Stanley of Preston, accompanied by his aides-de-camp and several gentlemen of his suite entered the Congress hall and addressed the members. His speech was short and the American members were highly pleased with His Excellency's remarks. The Governor-General extended to them such a welcome as they will remember hereafter. Mr. Lozanby delivered an address on timber growing in Ohio. Mr. F. X. Perreault, of Montreal, recommended a system of cutting timber down such as exists in France and Germany. Mr. C. L. Allen delivered an address on "Tree Planting in Normandy." Mr. B. E. Fernow, chief of Forestry Division, showed a model of a tree planting machine with which 15,272 trees can be planted by one man in a day of nine hours. Mr. Vilmorin (from France) delivered a very important address on "State Timber Growing in France." Mr. Edre, secretary of the Pennsylvania State Board of Agriculture, arrived here yesterday and joined the convention. The present convention, it is said, is only a summer one, and another one will be held in December, at Washington, D. C., at which several members occupying important positions at the congress will be present. The officers will be named at the Washington convention only.

His Honor Lieut-Governor Anger has invited the American members of the Association to a state ball at Spencerwood to-morrow. Every possible attention is given to the American members by the people of Quebec, and they are just now the object of attention from the eminent visitors who have assembled here for the festivals to be given in honor of Prince George of Wales.

The Federal Government has placed a steamer at the Association's service and to-morrow the members will sail around the Island of Orleans, and they will pay a visit to the far-famed shrine of La Bonne Ste. Anne en route.

Afternoon Session.

Mr. A. Dupuis read his paper on "Nursery of Fruit and Forest Trees in the Far North of Quebec." This work was being discussed between Mr. Little and Mr. Fernow, when Hon. H. Mercier, Prime Minister, made his entry into the hall, accompanied by several ladies and gentlemen, among whom were Mr. Beverly and Hon. D. Dougherty, the distinguished American lawyer. Mr. Joly de Lotbiniere introduced the Premier to the audience, who was much applauded. Hon. Mr. Joly recalled in few words how at the last convention of the Association at Philadelphia, Hon. H. Mercier had invited the Association to hold a congress in Quebec, promising to help in some way or other. It was through him that the Association secured the present commodious hall, and other facilities which rendered the work of the session so easy.

Hon. H. Mercier congratulated the Association on its efforts to save so important a source of revenue as the forests, and he hoped that they would be attended with success. Speaking of the hospitality he had bestowed on the Association, he said it was comparatively little, considering the good Quebecers derive from the labors of the Association. In concluding the Premier said: "I hope that when you go back to your own country, to your own great country, you will remember the Province of Quebec."

Mr. Dougherty responded to the Premier's speech with his usual eloquence. The great American barrister held his hearers in suspense. He dwelt on the relations of the Province of Quebec to America, and paid a gallant tribute to Quebecers at large, and ended his remarkable speech by saying: "I am sure that every true American will try and entertain peace and good-will between Canada and the United States as long as the stars shall shine or the great St. Lawrence shall flow into the sea."

A pretty lively debate took place when Mr. J. K. Ward's forest insurance scheme was brought forth for discussion. Mr. Wm. Little, of Montreal, and Mr. Harrison, of New Hampshire, opposed it on the ground that it would encourage incendiarism. Hon. Mr. Ward said his project was the fruit of many years of study, and that it would, if put in practice, prove a great protector to forestry.

Things went on pleasantly until Mr. F. X. Perreault of Montreal, while speaking of the different administration in Ontario and Quebec, made some remarks about the sister Province's lumber and forest management, whereupon the Ontario delegate advised him to speak of his own Province. Mr. Perreault became excited and spoke of certain sales of limits which had been lavished on political favorites for a cent an acre, and blamed the Government and the ministers who had thus deprived the country of a large portion of the forest wealth.

At last Hon. Mr. Joly de Lotbiniere rose and expressed his regret as to the discussion having taken such a course and that some of the speakers had grown excited, but he said he was in French a saying which would serve nicely in this instance. The saying is a French one, "Il faut laver son linge en famille," which can be translated thus "One's linen should be washed at home." Showing clearly that the congress sessions were not to be employed for discussions on boodle.

AMUSEMENTS OF THE DAY.

Opening of the Advance Sale for Margaret Mather's Engagement.

The advance sale for the coming engagement of Margaret Mather opened auspiciously yesterday morning and there is every indication that this famous actress will receive a warm welcome from her Canadian countrymen. The repertory includes some of the best-known of English plays and several Shakespearean works. "The Honey-moon," which will open the season Monday, is celebrated as the work of John Tobin, one of the greatest masters of comedy since Beaumont & Fletcher.

Held by the Enemy.

This popular drama is ever welcome at the Royal, and the announcement that it will be next week's attraction meets with general approval. In speaking of the present company a critic says: "Every part in the play is taken by an actor or an actress who seems to be specially adapted by nature for that particular character, so well does each one succeed in portraying his or her especial role."

At the Theatres.

"Master and Man" is being played to fair houses at the Academy, and Fort Donelson is drawing well at the Theatre Royal.

The Strauss Concert.

The indications are that the Strauss concert is going to be a success. Messrs. Hugh and Robert Shimmer deserve much credit for their plucky venture in bringing Strauss to Canada and feel much confidence in their expectation that the public will support them. The enterprise is necessarily a very costly one but the visit of Strauss and his orchestra is not one that is likely to be repeated for some time at any rate. In order that those people, and they are many, who at once made up their minds to go to the plan of seats was opened at Nordheimer's and a large number of the best seats have already been booked. It is a good plan to secure places without delay. Any one can subscribe for these concerts up till Saturday night when the list will be closed, and on Monday the plan will be opened for subscribers only. On Wednesday Sept. 10, the plan will be opened for the public.

Sommer Park.

There is an immense programme at Sommer Park this week, including Geo. Testo, whose wonderful feats of strength astonish the large audiences who visit the park. Miss Lotta and W. Davene, the gymnasts, Ramzo and Arno, the comical acrobats, are also present, besides our own city band which has been playing a good deal new music lately. There will be a matinee to-morrow.

Col. Moore's Remains Arrive.

The remains of Lieut. Col. W. J. B. Macleod Moore, whose death has already been announced, were brought to the city last night. The body was met at the depot by G.M., J. H. Stearnes; D.G.M., H. Cooper; S.S., J. H. Isaacson; Prov. Prior, Jos. Martin; Grand Registrar, Dr. Lovejoy; R.W. Brothers E. J. Adam, Wm. Hill, Smith, H. Dunn; Bros. Guest, Weddon, and others.

The cortege formed at the station and marched to the British Masonic Chambers, where the body was laid in state. Lodge Richard de Lion arrived shortly afterwards, and watched over the remains during the night. The funeral will take place this morning at 10 o'clock from the same building to Mount Royal cemetery. No masonic ceremony will be held in this city, as it has already taken place in Prescott.

Protestant Inmate Hospital.

Mr. Alfred Perry received a telegram from Hon. J. K. Ward, at Quebec, last evening, stating that Hon. M. Langelier, Provincial Secretary, would at once forward an order for the transfer of some sixty patients from the Longue Pointe Asylum to the new Protestant Inmate Asylum at Verdun. The transfers will probably be made to-day and to-morrow, as the order to do so was expected to reach the city last night.

THE CORNERERS BUSTED.

UP LIKE A ROCKET AND DOWN LIKE A STICK.

Branches in all the Chief Cities—Losses by Attempts to Control the Markets—Legitimate Business Killed by Gambling Operations—Liabilities that may Run into Millions—How Many Honest Men Ruined.

NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—Samuel A. Sawyer, David L. Wallace, and Thomas Miller, constituting the firm of Sawyer, Wallace & Co., cotton, coffee and provision commission merchants, of No. 18 Broadway, have assigned for the benefit of their creditors to, Marshall Ayres, without preferences.

The assignment was a surprise on all the exchanges and in Wall-street. The cause is the losses the firm have sustained in their foreign option business. The first intimation of any trouble was just before the closing hour of the exchanges, when a number of the firm's contracts were closed out. Shortly before the closing of the county clerks office, a general assignment, without any preferences, to Marshall Ayres was filed.

At half past one the cotton exchange called upon the firm for a settlement of their differences. The messengers were kept waiting until a few minutes before three, when they were told no settlement could be made.

Late in the afternoon the firm made the following statement: "It is with inexpressible sorrow that we are forced to close our 37 years' business career by a general assignment for the benefit of our creditors. Our resources have been completely exhausted by losses in our foreign option business (wheat and provisions chiefly) conducted through London. Owing to the number and variety of these foreign accounts we cannot state the amount of our liabilities or assets; but when we can do so a meeting of our creditors will be called, if they so desire. Meantime we have turned over to our assignee, Mr. Marshall Ayres, of the City of New York, all our assets, both partnership and individual, without preference of creditors."

(Signed), SAWYER, WALLACE & CO.

The house was established in 1853 by Mr. Samuel A. Sawyer, who came to this city from Tennessee. The business gradually increased until it has assumed mammoth proportions, its ramifications extending to all portions of the globe. The firm dealt extensively in cotton, tobacco, coffee, produce and provisions, and were prominent factors in all the large schemes and deals in such commodities. In 1888 a tobacco syndicate unloaded on them an immense amount of low grades, which they held for some time before they were able to dispose of it. It was supposed that they had been making money, though at times they had lost from their syndicate dealings.

Some seven years ago they established a branch house at Louisville, which has since been managed by H. O. Grinter and Robert Wallace. The firm had branch houses in the following cities: London, Liverpool, Glasgow, Antwerp, Amsterdam, Hamburg, Marseilles, Madrid, Paris, Berlin, Prague, Vienna, Baden, Pesth, Trieste, Leghorn, Barcelona, Liebon, Mannheim and Havre. The failure will undoubtedly reach into the millions, though at present it is impossible to make any approximate estimate.

Houses on Wall-street say the cause of the failure was the result of the effects made by the firm to squelch competition in the commission business by doing their commission business with European speculators without a margin at a small commission. In the pork deal last January the firm is said to have sustained losses of $1,000,000 on this account. The claims for these losses against European speculators are among the nominal assets. It is estimated that the sum total of nominal assets will reach $1,750,000, among which are included the $1,000,000 lost in the pork deal.

In 1882 the firm made an attempt to corner corn in the New York market, but made a failure of it. The firm have undoubtedly immense holdings of merchandise in the various products in which they deal, both in an export and import way. It will, however, take time to realize on these holdings and the general opinion is that the assignment was made to limit the loss on speculative operations.

A Thieving Fellow Boarder.

A young man named Walter Capen reported at the Central Police Station yesterday morning that early last spring he and a friend named Charles Henry left England for this city. On their arrival here they both succeeded in getting employment on the C. P. R. at Hochelega. They both boarded at No. 111 Shaw-street. Wednesday night Capen went to bed early and about 12 o'clock his friend Henry came into the room. Capen spoke to Henry and went to sleep. On examining his clothing in the morning Capen found that all his hard-earned summer savings, amounting to $40, had been taken from his pants pocket and that his friend Henry had disappeared. The detectives are on his track.

Winnipeg Money Market.

The Winnipeg Commercial of Sept. 1 says: In monetary circles matters are quiet at the moment, but the banks are preparing for a heavy call for funds as soon as grain commences to move. Commercial collections are very close, but dealers are consoling themselves with the belief that money will soon flow in as the crop moves out. Discount rates are holding firm. Mortgage loan business on farm property is dull, but there has been something doing on city property. Most of the companies are holding rates of interest firm, and some refuse to do business after 8 per cent, even on choice city security. Loans, however, are known to be made at 7 per cent. on good city property.

THE CONVENTION CLOSED.

The C. M. B. A. Delegates Elect Officers and Dine Together.

The proceedings of the convention of the C.M.B.A. were brought to a close yesterday. The principal business transacted was the election of officers, and before this was finished the assembled delegates were honored by a visit from His Grace Archbishop Walsh, of Toronto. The retiring president, Mr. J. O'Connor, of Stratford, extending a cordial welcome to the venerable prelate, drew attention to the fact that he was the first member of the Canadian hierarchy to join the association. Since then he had rendered valuable service to the organization, both by word and example.

Archbishop Walsh, in reply, expressed his pleasure at seeing so many representative members of the association assembled at the convention. The outcome of their labors would, he was sure, largely increase the efficiency and usefulness of the organization. Their association rendered an important service to the cause of Catholicity by promoting harmony and fraternal feeling amongst their co-religionists. It was the means of bringing together Catholics belonging to all positions in life, and for uniting them for the purpose of furthering their social and spiritual interests. He hoped that they would continue to progress in the future as they had done in the past, till their association extended throughout the Dominion of Canada. (Applause.)

The New Officers.

The election of officers resulted as follows: John A. McCabe, of Ottawa, president; W. P. Killaskey, of Chatham, Ont., first vice-president; Judge Rioux, of Sherbrooke, second vice-president; W. J. McKee, of Windsor, Ont., treasurer; Samuel R. Brown, of London, secretary; J. E. Martineau, of St. Roch's, marshal; Joseph Rheame, of Amherstburg, guard; trustees, O. K. Fraser, of Brockville, Rev. M. J. Tiernan, of London, and T. P. Tansey, of Montreal. Committee on Laws: J. K. Barrett, of Winnipeg; Thomas Coffey, of London and R. L. Dowdell, of Almonte. Finance Committee: Thomas O'Neal, of Paris; Jas. Quillinan, of Niagara Falls, and John Ronan of Hamilton. Representatives to the Supreme Council: T. J. Finn, of Montreal; D. J. O'Connor, of Stratford, and Rev. Father Murphy.

The motion to separate from the United States carried by almost an unanimous vote. It will now go before the Supreme Council for confirmation, and when passed a Canadian Supreme Council will be established.

The Banquet.

The banquet which was given in the hall of the Vic's Armory was attended by about 170 guests, including several ladies. Owing to a slight accident, Archbishop Walsh was unable to be present. Acting Mayor Hurteau sent a letter expressing regret at his inability to accept the invitation he had received, and wishing the C. M. B. A. every success. The toasts were proposed and responded to in neat and eloquent speeches, some of which were received with enthusiastic applause. Several of the newly-elected officers, on behalf of themselves and the general body of delegates, spoke feelingly of the gratitude they felt for the warmth and cordiality of the welcome that had been extended to them by their Montreal brethren.

The drive which was to have taken place yesterday was postponed till this morning, owing to the engrossing character of the business which had to be transacted.

Montreal at Jamaica.

The sub-committee of the Finance Committee appointed to consider the advisability of spending $1000 for a painting of Montreal to be sent to the Jamaica exhibition, held a meeting yesterday afternoon. A letter was received from Mr. Bishop offering to furnish a painting together with the ownership of the same for $1000.

Mr. Alley and Mr. Granville appeared before the committee with an offer to give line-light views of the city, its principal buildings, interior and exterior, and send a lecturer to explain everything if the committee would guarantee them $1000.

The members considered the idea a good one, but as the money allotted them was far from painting they were unable to do otherwise than get a painting. This was looked upon as the best move, more particularly so as the picture could be used at the Chicago Exhibition and in London subsequent to the Jamaica Exhibition.

It was also suggested that a number of photographic views be purchased from Mr. Lucas showing the prominent buildings in Montreal.

The committee finally decided to wait upon Mr. Bishop for the purpose of finding out if he could extend the present painting he has of Montreal so as to take in the sugar refinery and other buildings in the East End at present not in the picture.

Arrived in Private Cars.

Two parties traveling by their own special cars have been spending a few days in the city. Mr. Charles H. Cummings, of New York, accompanied by a party of English and American friends, arrived in the city in their special car yesterday, having been in an extended tour since May. They went West over the Northern Pacific, visiting the Yellowstone National Park, after which they went to Alaska. They returned stopping at the Windsor.

Another party, composed of Mr. John Hoey, president of the Adams Express Company; Col. O'Brien, vice-president of the Southern Express Company, and Mr. Herman Olbricks and wife, have arrived in the city in Mr. Hoey's private car, "Long Island." The car, which is a perfect rolling palace, came in over the Grand Trunk Railway, and after spending a few days in the city, during which time they stopped at the Windsor, left this morning for the White Mountains.

Children Bought in Sicily Italy to be Brought to Death on London Street—Dancing and Gaiety that Sadden the Hearts of Spectators—A Good Use for an Act of Parliament.

LONDON, Sept. 4.—The London authorities are taking steps to put a stop to the traffic in Italian children, which is so largely carried on between Italy and England. The padrones buy children from their parents in Calabria and other remote parts of Italy, for sums of money, on the promise that the children shall be clothed and fed. In London the little ones are trained to vagrancy mendicancy and hardships, their instructions being to look appealingly, but not to beg for money. The Children's Protective Act recently passed is being used by the police as a means of stamping out the evil.

LIVERPOOL LABOR CONGRESS.

A Stormy Debate on the Eight Hour Day For Labor.

LONDON, Sept. 4.—The progress of business in the Liverpool trades, union congress was retarded to-day by an angry debate over the 8 hour question. Its use in naval operations at sea, however, especially in quick firing, is regarded as likely to prove highly advantageous.

Mean Revenge on a Process Server.

LONDON, Sept. 4.—Mr. William O'Brien, who was served with the papers in Lord Salisbury's libel suit while travelling with Mrs. O'Brien, proposes to have his revenge for this rude interruption of his honeymoon. He has persuaded the railway company to prosecute the process server for misdemeanor in travelling in a first-class carriage while holding only a third-class ticket. FRIDAY MORNING, SEPT. 5th

THE SHERBROOKE EXHIBITION.

We are pleased to be able to record a brilliant success for the Great Eastern Exhibition at Sherbrooke. It excels any previous exhibition of the kind that Sherbrooke has had, and both in the display of agricultural products and collection of animals was a most creditable enterprise.

THE JAMAICA COMMISSION.

At the meeting of the Halifax Board of Trade a few days ago—when Mr. Brown, the Canadian Commissioner to the Jamaica exhibition, presented the object of his mission to that Colony—Hon. A. G. Jones pointed out some of the difficulties, under present fiscal arrangements, in the way of enlarging our trade with that island.

For years he had tried to find products outside of fish that we could send to the West Indies and could sort the cargoes with, but never met with very satisfactory results. He tried boots and shoes but the prices were too high. He sent out some mottled soap like the article much used there, but he found that the retail price was the same as the wholesale price here.

Mr. Brown admitted that there were some things in which we could not compete with England or the United States, but he thought we should be able to compete in a number of the smaller manufactures, such as brooms and brushes, carriages, clocks, cordage, glass, India rubber boots and shoes, locks and hinges, nails, tacks, saws and tools, scales, lamps, boots and shoes, harness, musical instruments, writing paper, soap, coal oil, spirits, plows, hoes, and other small articles.

THAT BLUNDER.

The Water Committee are beginning to realize, as pointed out by The Herald a few days ago, the grave character of the blunder they made in giving Mr. St. Louis carte blanche to make repairs required at the tall race bridge. The contractor, it appears, has undertaken to ignore the authority of the Water Works Superintendent and proposes to do just as he pleases.

power to defeat Ald. Grenier's extraordinary motion by giving his casting vote with Ald. Thompson and Hamelin, but did the exact opposite. He had it in his power to undo the blunder by giving his casting vote for a reconsideration, but did the exact opposite.

THE GOVERNMENT AND THE HERALD.

We observe that a so-called deputation has waited upon Sir John Thompson and asked him to defend the conspirators whom The Herald Co. is now prosecuting. Whilst it may be true that the case is one of considerable public importance, involving new and interesting legal points, we decidedly fail to see why the public money should be spent in the direction proposed.

PERHAPS.

The junior—or is it the senior?—ministerial phonograph in Toronto hints that there will be a general election this year. It indicates the time as thus: "before the Canadian farmer will have 'eaten his turkey.'" In Lower Canada the farmer usually sells his turkey and eats something else, but in Ontario, which is a superior, extra, width three-ply kind of place, probably the bird provides for the consumption of the home market, so to say.

It is easy to agree with The World that the thing is possible, and that no consideration other than personal advantages would guide "the old man", though The World does not put it quite in this way. But whatever "the old man's" intention may have been before Senator Sherman's proposal to Congress we should think that incident will tend to cause a reconsideration of it.

MR. WEBB AND THE KNIGHTS.

Vice-President Webb seems to be getting the better of the argument in the New York Central squabble. He says he discharged seventy-eight men, of whom only seventeen were Knights of Labor. These men, he alleges, were discharged either for incompetency, drunkenness, insubordination or insubordination, and he claims for his company an equal right to discharge any of its employees without giving reasons to outside people as it gives to its men to leave their employment without assigning their reasons for so doing.

dress was not sought for apparently in the right way. How many men are now out of accustomed employment never to return to it in the same place who would be in the enjoyment of their weekly income but for the interference of paid agitators; how many women and children are now pinched and suffering merely because some well paid chairman, secretary or committee-man saw his way to fill his pocket or indulge in some petty spite, perhaps because of being discharged for incompetency, against his employers.

THE GAZETTE:—The proprietors of The Herald are suing a number of printers for civil damages incurred during their recent unpleasantness with their work-people. There will be much public interest taken in this suit, both as regards its legal outcome, and as to being the latest thing in the way of an attempt to take the breaks off a Hielan-man.

In one of the best dime museums in New York City, the most attractive and curious freak on exhibition is an ordinary looking individual, whose distinctive peculiarity is that, he is the only man alive who knows more than he thinks he does. We need hardly say that we do not believe this curiosity penned the above paragraph. Making all due allowance for fraternal sympathy, we would call the attention of our hebdomadous contemporary to the fact that, according to the law of this Province, those who fail to pay condemnations for damages, are liable to imprisonment. We would also express our belief that Mr. Jailer Payette will be forced to receive the defendants (should their pockets be as empty as The Gazette would lead us to suppose), breaks or no breaks.

MR. POWDERLY has been at the head of the Knights of Labor order since 1879. In 1882 he was in receipt of $400 salary and threatened to resign if it were increased. He has, however, since taken a more practical view of the salary question, and by successive steps it has been increased until it now reaches $5,000—a sum considerably larger than he could earn in a workman's garb. It will therefore be seen that when Mr. Powderly orders a strike, he stands in no danger of being called on to submit to any of the privations to which the striking workmen and their families are called on to expose themselves.

APPROPOS of Sir John Thompson's speech at the Mansion House in London The Calgary Herald says:

We are indeed most anxious in Canada to do our part towards strengthening the Empire by maintaining a military force which we are proud of, and we must all assume that it is in harmony with this grand idea that a section of Canada as large as the whole of Europe is not permitted to organize a single militia company or equip a squad of cavalry!!

The Calgary Herald ought to know by this time that Sir John Macdonald doesn't trust the Northwest people. He regards them as being only one degree better than Indians.

THE WINNIPEG COMMERCIAL says an attempt is being made to work up another real estate boom in that city, which it condemns, saying that while genuine investments of capital will be welcomed no gambling operations are desired such as will reduce the real estate business to the level of dealing in grain futures, Chicago style.

THE LIBERALS are rather enjoying the situation, and the "angry friends" are likely to be found in the ranks of the protected combines, and among their representatives in Parliament. Probably also the high taxation organs will feel slightly "at sea."

THE VICTORIA, B. C., Colonist, Conservative, says the Chignecto Ship Railway scheme is "a most interesting one," and it "sincerely hopes that it will be a greater benefit to that part of the Dominion than its most sanguine friends 'now venture to hope.'" This is rather cold comfort for the people of Canada who have to subsidize it for twenty years at the rate of $170,000 a year.

A TORONTO journal thinks that when Ontario ministers go away partly on departmental business and partly for a holiday the expenses of both parts will come out of the public treasury. When Dominion ministers go away the expenses are charged in the same way, whether there is any departmental business in it or not.

SHERBROOKE SHOW.

FOURTH DAY OF THE EXHIBITION—UNABATED INTEREST.

Fine Weather and a Large Number of Spectators—The Exhibits Prove Immensely Attractive to the People—Additional Notes—Prizes So Far Awarded.

This is another favorable day for the exhibition so far as weather is concerned, although the attendance is not quite so large as yesterday. The main or industrial building has been the centre of attraction throughout the exhibition. To-day the press men were conducted through the building in a body by the directors. Among the exhibits shown here, and not mentioned yesterday, is that of G. H. Nicholls & Co., of the Copleton Mine. They have a very fine display of their minerals and phosphates, both in the crude and manufactured state. The Granby Cigar Company and the McLaughlin Carriage Company have very good exhibits in their respective lines. The Massey Manufacturing Co., as usual, a very fine display of agricultural implements, their self-binding reapers attracting particular attention. They also showed their improved fanning mill, and their other exhibits were worthy of particular notice.

The races in the three minute and farmer's classes, which were in progress at the time of yesterday's writing, resulted as follows:

- THREE MINUTE CLASS. Mr. Dubois' Bonny Boy..... 1 Rickford Maid..... 2 H. F. Pierce, Minnie G..... 3 FARMER'S RACE. Wm Crawford's Ivy..... 1 Roy Eaton's Molly Brown..... 2 Lock's Charley..... 3

The race in the three minute class was very interesting and took five heats to decide it.

The balloon ascension was another fizzle, as it caught fire while being filled and went up in smoke. As a consequence this part of the program will not be carried out. It is only fair to the directors, however, to say that they are not to be blamed for the failure, as the aeronaut was to have been paid for a successful ascension.

The judges' books are as yet not all in hand. A full list of the prize-winners therefore cannot be given, but so far they are as follows:

Senator Cochrane, of Compton, took all the first prizes with his herd of thoroughbred Polled Angus and Herefords, and John Leonard of Cookshire, got most of the first prizes on Jersey, while Thos Irvine, of Montreal, and Mrs Robertson, of Howick, divided the honors in Ayer-shires.

Among the gentlemen's single drivers Senator Cochrane took 1st and C Campbell, of Richmond, 2nd. Ladies' single drivers—special prize—Miss Moir, 1st; Mrs E Worthington, 2nd. For pair of drivers, Dr N. Worthington took 1st. Both these classes turned out some very pretty rigs.

Chas K Bates, of the Highland stock farm, Derby, Vt., had Abdullah Wilkes and Highland Wilkes, two of his finest horses, on exhibition, but not for competition. These horses attracted a good deal of notice among horse fanciers.

FOLD BY THE ENVELOPE.

Character Disclosed in the Way You Write Your Friend's Address.

Some persons claim that character discloses itself to the observer from the outside of an envelope, and although the assertion seems decidedly far fetched, there is more than a grain of truth in it after all. It all depends, however, on that little clause "to the observing." If one stops an instant to think, a blurred or blotted address suggests that the writer must have a good deal of "don't care" in his make; if the contrary were the case and an accidental blotting of his envelope had occurred, it would have been destroyed and a clean one taken in its place. If letters come habitually blurred and slovenly in their address, it argues a certain slovenliness in character.

If the penmanship is a quick, careless, dashing hand, it suggests that the writer is of a quick, nervous temperament, while if the writing itself is "hurried to slovenliness it discloses lack of system an individual always in a hurry." A running hand, small and concise, bespeaks the collegiate, accustomed to taking notes at lectures; a round, full hand, a public school education with Spencerian teaching in writing; a very angular up-and-down hand hints at the writers great imitative powers, for that is never natural; a very bold, dashing style argues individuality, and a peculiar hand originality with strength of character, especially if the peculiarity in the chirography is not pleasing.

If it is a labored hand it means one of two things, either lack of practice—perhaps in early education—or a very careful, painstaking individual. If it is, however, a particularly careful, round, even, beautiful hand, it argues vanity, for the writer has evidently been praised for his penmanship and likes praise. If his neat, pleasing address, believe in the person's good opinion of you, for he does his best in writing you. If it only pleases you because it is conventional, neat and good form, believe in his general good breeding and education, for his writing is like the smile on the face of a society woman. Again, if the chirography be almost illegible never ask the writer to do you a favor; he would not bother himself to be nice to anyone.

As for the envelope itself, if a plain, ordinary affair, it means, not as might be supposed, poverty of purse, but either poverty of cultivation or the filling of so cheap a need, and the letter itself will reveal that it is borrowed article and its use a case of it or none at all. If the envelope be pictured or tinted you may doubt the owner's good taste, while if it have a monogram or crest you can be sure it indicates pride or self-esteem. If it be something unique and novel in design, as very long and slender, or very broad and square, look out for the gushing maid—at this season of the year "the summer girl."

Of course the summer girl is extremely particular about her stationery and takes with her the very latest fads or nothing at all; she is prone to fancy something a trifle newer than the conventional cream white heavy or linen paper. Perhaps the very latest thing she can get is the paper in deep heliotrope and blue tones stamped with a clover leaf in one corner, with a finish that gives to the clover the glister of satin. Accompanying this she must have a sweet grass box to hold the paper, and a dear little pen-wiper in the shape of a clover leaf and made of flannel; the whole thing somehow made to suggest new-mown hay sort of innocence.

If one is simply sighing for tinted paper the shades of pale gray and yellow with the address stamped in silver are the most desirable things to be used, but a good sensible sticking to a good sensible conventional paper is highly satisfactory. The address is the only thing that is new stamped upon one's paper by those who study good form in everything, the envelope accompanying it being plain.

A woman who looks after her letter paper and watches that her supply does not exhaust itself and her needs require her to take up with anything pro tem, adds one admirable quality to the list of attainments which should make up her individuality. Precise, dainty ways are acquired charms which should not be sneered at.—Chicago Herald.

A Smart Old Man.

The Bowling Green (Ky.) Times tells how the postmaster at Rochester, N.Y., who kept a small grocery, made a smart speculation with postage stamps several years ago, when the keepers of small offices were allowed 60 per cent of the receipts for their services. "The old man concluded he would increase his stock, so he boarded a train for Louisville, and, going to the wholesale grocery house of Cowles & Co., said to Pleas Cowles: 'I want to buy $1,000 worth of goods and pay cash for them, provided you will let me pay you in stamps.' The grocery king reflected and concluded that stamps were equivalent to the cash, and, besides, he wanted to sell the goods, so he agreed to sell the goods and take in payment $1,000 worth of stamps. The postmaster at once ordered the stamps from Washington, sending $400 for the payment of them, of course the stamps deducted his 60 per cent. The postmaster-General made a kick, but the stamps had to come under the contract which the Rochester postmaster had with the government. The old man made $800 and Mr. Cowles sold $1,000 worth of goods."

Eight Words and All the Letters.

Half a dozen members of the Press Club were discussing the peculiarities of the English language the other evening when Dr. F. E. Rice took the Argus to task for printing a paragraph which read about as follows: "The following is said to be the shortest sentence in the English language containing all the letters of the alphabet: 'John P. Brady gave me a black walnut box of quite small size. The entire sentence contains less than twice the number of letters in the alphabet.'" "That's a good sentence of its kind," said the Doctor, "but I think if you will carefully study the sentence, 'Pack my box with five dozen liquor jugs,' you will find that it contains less letters than the sentence you published, and yet omits no letter in the alphabet."

PLUCKING THE SOILED DOVES.

All's Fish, However Smirched, That Comes Into the City's Net.

As is the rule the early, morn sanitary man of The Herald has made his early rounds. 'Tis seldom, however, that he can fill his pockets with the leaves which are just plucked from the "greenhouse." This morning, however, he was successful and on his vigils strolled into Station 4. Prior to entering his eye first struck a group of youths in earnest chat, the chief theme being how to raise "the boodle" at that early hour to bail out their "gals" out. "What a chance there was for one of our impecunious uncles who carries to his chain a charm of three balls—but there were none there. The scene on entering the station can hardly be described. At the back of the office there is a corridor which contains two large cells. They are neat and well lit up, and looking through the bars could be seen the faces of several poor fallen ones who in earlier years had been their parents' pride, but alas!—on the list of arrivals at Hotel 4 were registered: Marie Louise Desjardins arrested for keeping a house of ill repute. She was chaperoned by the dames Cary Woodruff and Lilly Anderson, who are charged with being inmates. Lilly Anderson, the proprietress of a well known ranch on Vitre-street, was duly installed as guest, as were her help-mates, Lulu Lapoint and Marie Honle. A gay lothario who gave the name of Medec Legare was also initiated being caught entertaining the young doves.

Minnie Palmer is also among the plants, she being arraigned for being the proprietress of a naughty establishment on St. Elizabeth-street. She was attended by her maid in waiting, Annie Rooney, Gerlie Ferguson and Annie Smith. "At an early hour but few of the bird of "Paradise," had their cage doors opened. To Sergeants Leggett, Pine and Paradis belong the credit of these raids.

CUPID'S NET.

The hammock has much to answer for. It has developed from nothing into a potent factor in midsummer social joys and sorrows.

A decade ago the hammock was sporadic. It is now universal. Certain tourists from this heretofore unhammocked land of the free journeying in Mexico and in Cuba noted the meshed crescent with interest first and with admiration afterwards, insomuch that they brought one of the swaying couches with them.

The result has been remarkable. Americans have taken the hammock to their very hearts, and American ingenuity has devised machinery capable of turning out hammocks almost as fast as the finished article will turn out its occupant.

A summer bereft of a hammock would be to the American lad and lass a dreary and unromantic period.

Given a good article of moonlight and a hammock big enough for two, and there is no combination which will more rapidly and thoroughly advance the cause of Cupid and bring about the lighting of Hymen's torch.

The hammock is an institution which could not have its origin in so busy and practical a land as America. It is a daughter of the south, of lands where languor and idleness reign beneath an almost vertical sun. Its motives savor of leisure and its mission is one of romance.

As an aid to flirtation it is twin sister to a fan.

If a young couple ever trust themselves to the support of the same hammock at the same time, Cupid has his own way thereafter. The pair must of necessity be brought into such sweet proximity that every particle of formality and reserve is melted away.

One may withdraw from his fair one on a bench, may hold aloof while seated on the same grassy bank, and may hitch his chair away, or closer, as his feelings dictate. But in the same hammock one can do none of these things. He can only submit to fate and propinquity and be led delightfully to the momentous question.

The hammock is fashioned much like a spider's web. But who would willingly be a fly when the web holds a charming maiden? And what man is there with soul so dead who is not glad that the hammock has come to stay?—Pittsburg Bulletin.

Not "Sweet" Girl Graduate. The other day I found myself in a railway train, in front of two students who had just graduated the day before from a great school for girls. Such parties are common enough at this season of the year, and usually attract attention by their entire obliviousness to the fact that there are people in the world who are apathetic, at least to the way in which things are managed at Q—Hall; but these girls won my interest through some sentences of sound, common sense, which came over the back of the seat in sweet, though rather petulant, feminine tones.

"Did you have a good time with it all?" asked one.

"No, I didn't; and all for the simple reason that I felt that I was needlessly ridiculous. There has been so much fun made in the newspapers about 'sweet girl graduates' and their general silliness and uselessness, that I was as ashamed of my lovely white Paris gown as if it had been a fool's cap. You know what happened about my valet's duty? Well, I had read so much about 'embarking on these of life,' and all the rest of the rose-colored twaddle which is usually put into valet's duties, that I made up my mind that I would do something different. I fixed up what I thought a bright, but slightly cynical view of the situation, and handed it to the president. You should have heard the lecture I got! You would have supposed I was the most abandoned wretch in the universe. Prex was 'sorry I had developed such a spirit under the gracious influence of Q—Hall.' Now I protest against giving girls a certain sort of education and then making fun of them when it is finished. In the effort to escape being naughty pambly I got myself called a young Voltaire, and was forced to read against my will a lot of pink-and-white stuff about 'making the world a brighter place.' If I ever have a chance to teach the world anything, I will teach it not to sneer at its young women for their lack of a worldly experience which they are promptly punished for showing the slightest scrap of."—Kate Field's Washington Letter.

DID YOU KNOW IT.

We, too, have an Empire on which the Sun Never Sets.

Webster's eloquent description of the British Empire is very readable, but we doubt whether it is generally realized that we, too, have a dominion on which the sun never sets. It will hardly be believed, perhaps without an examination of the maps, that San Francisco, instead of being the west line of this dominion, is only about midway between our eastern and western limits; and yet it is a fact that the furthest Aleutian island acquired in our purchase of Russian America, is as far to the west of that city as Eastport, Maine, is to the east of it. Between the north-west limit of Washington Territory and the southern limit of Alaska there is a break of a few degrees but with the slightest reduction our territory extends through 166 degrees of longitude, or 17 degrees more than half way round the globe.

Hence, when the sun is giving its good-night kiss to our westward side, on the confines of the Behring Sea, it is already flooding the fields and forests of Maine with its morning light, and in the eastern part of the state is more than an hour high. At the very moment when the Aleutian fishermen, warned by the approaching shades of night, is pulling his canoe toward the shore, the wood-chopper of Maine is beginning to make the forest echoes with his stirring music of the ax.—American Paper.

It Saved His Life. GENTLEMEN—I can recommend Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, for it saved my life when I was about six months old. We have used it in our family when required ever since, and it never fails to cure all summer complaints. I am now fourteen years of age. FRANCIS WALSH, Dakeith, Ont.

DEATH IN THE DESERT.

Terrible Experience of a Party of Chinese Smugglers.

It has just come to light that a party of Chinese who attempted to smuggle themselves into the United States from Lower California, got lost on the desert and had a terrible experience, one of the party dying of thirst and exposure, says the San Diego Union.

They found the frontier so closely guarded that they stole a march towards the eastward and got into the desert. Here they got lost and wandered aimlessly around for several days, suffering unutterable agonies.

One of the Mongolians was a youth of some fourteen years. He gave out under the terrible sufferings and became crazy. In his ravings he imagined the blistering sands were limpid water and eagerly filled his parched mouth with the burning particles.

This only added to his horrors, and pretty soon he lay down to die, his companions being in too pitiful a condition to render him any assistance.

Here they heaped a pile of sand upon him and left him alone to sleep his last long slumber, while they, with swollen tongues, aching limbs and heavy hearts, continued their aimless wanderings—lost in a trackless desert.

It is asserted that they at last reached the railroad and soon reached Los Angeles, minus everything they had attempted to bring into the country except the clothes upon their backs.

They had thrown away the bundles containing the many things the Chinese hold dear, all of which mark their track upon the waste of sands.

As the almond-eyed ones have a system of spreading information among themselves, it is quite likely this terrible experience will prevent any more of them attempting to invade the United States via the desert route.

How Nihilists Live and Work.

The arrest of the Nihilists in Paris seems to have put another link in the Franco-Russian alliance, and the affair has brought out some curious details of the manner of life of the sworn enemies of the czar. In the lodgings of Atschinazi the police discovered a metal lathe and a quantity of bombs. In trying to find out where the lathe came from they discovered abundant evidence of a powerful organization. In the beginning of last winter this lathe was brought to a female member of the society, Mlle. Kraponne, who lived in small apartments in the Rue de la Sainte. These apartments, the Paris papers say, had been successively occupied by three Russian revolutionists. The machine was used for cutting out the pieces used in the construction of grenades. The neighbors often heard the noise of the workers, and saw the smoke that issued at times from the apartments. They also remarked the quantity of iron plates that were carried in. About the end of March last the lathe was taken to the Rue de la Butteaux Cailles and placed in the apartments of Mlle. Lubowich. This lady's home consisted of three rooms, one of them being turned into a workshop or grenade factory, while the two others were occupied by Guitowich and Atschinazi. The latter spoke French, and was the interpreter for the others. He was studying medicine, and had apartments in the avenue de Montsouris, in which he seldom made his appearance, but where several Russian Nihilists had often been lodged. But it was in the Rue Butteaux Cailles that the making of grenades was carried on with most activity. They bought and fitted up a little steam engine for their lathe, and worked away all day long with great industry. In the evening a number of young men and young girls came there to take tea and dance and sing, but their conduct seemed irreproachable. Their neighbors found them extremely polite, but reserved in their manners. They evidently wished to keep by themselves, without forming any French acquaintances. The arrests are important, because they include most dangerous conspirators, whose principal object was the assassinations of the czar.

CINDERELLA AFRESH.

A St. Paul Girl's Misadventure After a Party.

An interesting sight was witnessed early yesterday morning by two night-workers while wending their weary homeward way up Wabasha street, says the St. Paul Pioneer Press. A young couple who had evidently put in the night at some dancing hall, had stopped on the opposite side of the street, and the lady was endeavoring to change her dancing slippers for her walking shoes. Her pedal extremities were of course somewhat swollen by the night's dancing, and her efforts to make the change were futile. Her companion then came to the rescue; but their combined efforts were unavailing.

Finally the attempt was given up, and she concluded to replace her slippers; but, lo! when she attempted to do so she found that her feet had swollen to such an extent that it was impossible to wear them. Here was a dilemma sure enough. A hasty consultation was held, and her escort took off his shoes and handed them to his fair companion. They were just the fit, and soon the couple continued their homeward journey, the gentleman in his stocking feet.

CORNWALL GETS IT.

THE COUNCIL'S DECISION ON SATURDAY'S MATCH.

The Factory Town Boys Get It by the Chairman's Casting Vote—Montreal and Ottawa—The Bicycle Club's Handicap Meeting—Racing at Sheepshead Bay—General Sporting Gossip.

It is all settled. The committee of the senior lacrosse league have given their decision and it will have to be abided by.

The Cornwallis are jubilant, the Shamrocks dejected and crestfallen, the majority of the lacrosse loving public in Montreal and other Canadian cities and towns very much dissatisfied, and on the whole the decision was one which was altogether unexpected and general surprise was manifested.

The meeting to decide what should be done on account of referee Dr. Shank's mistake on Saturday last in the time of play between the Shamrocks and Cornwallis, was held yesterday afternoon in the office of Mr. W. J. Cleghorn, New York Life Insurance building. The facts of the case were brought forward. Toronto supported the Shamrocks, Ottawa the Cornwallis, and in the closing vote the chairman, Mr. Cleghorn, (Montreal) decided in favor of Cornwallis. The representatives at the meeting were:

Mr. W. P. Cleghorn, Montrealers, chairman. Mr. George Crites, Cornwallis. Mr. Harry McLaughlin, Shamrocks. Mr. Samuel Struthers, Toronto. Mr. Clarence Martin, Ottawa.

Contrary to the usual manner of holding these meetings, connected with lacrosse matters, the press were admitted and both The Herald and Gazette representatives were in attendance. The chairman in calling the meeting to order announced the business, and immediately Dr. Shank's report was presented and was as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Game description and Score. Includes 'First game won by Shamrock', 'Second game won by Cornwallis', etc.

Delay for fouls, stoppages, etc. 128

Net time 123 min. The score card as above shows that the two hours had a little more than elapsed, so I said to the captains, "Time is up." The teams then left the grounds. A few moments later, on being questioned as to the correctness of my time taking, I examined my figures and found that an error in the first game of two minutes and one in the fourth game of ten minutes, amounting in all to twelve minutes, had been made. (The corrected time is placed in brackets after the first and fourth games, as above.) These twelve minutes being deducted now show the corrected time to be not 123 minutes, but (111) one hundred and eleven minutes.

Thus it is seen that nine (9) minutes more of play are needed to complete the necessary two hours.

This report is respectfully submitted. A. L. SHANKS, M.D., Referee Cornwallis vs. Shamrock lacrosse match, Aug. 27, 1890, Montreal, Sept. 1, 1890.

Mr. McLaughlin then arose and stated that according to the constitution two hours were allotted for each match, and on this occasion the team were given only 111 minutes instead of 120 and he considered it only justice to both teams that the match should be played over again. Previous to the meeting he had spoken to Mr. Crites, who was willing to accede to an agreement to play the nine minutes out, but the Shamrock representative contended that playing nine minutes at the beginning of a match was not the same for the teams as at the end, and it was his desire to have the match played over and he considered it did not lay in the power of the committee to order nine minutes' play.

Mr. Crites here arose and said that at the end of the match the referee had given a decision, the captains of both teams had acquiesced and the referee had no jurisdiction after the match ended to reverse that decision.

McLaughlin said no certificate had been given by the referee as called for in the rules, that the match had been given a written notice that it was not completed. That was all the committee had considered.

Mr. Crites—"It is not in the power of this committee to reverse a decision of the referee and it would be a bad precedent to establish as such cases may occur again." The speaker here added: "I will agree with the Shamrock Club to have the 9 minutes played out in Montreal, and pay over $80 to the Shamrocks, pay all expenses, take the gate receipts, and after completing the 9 minutes, give an exhibition match of 2 hours."

The fall races of the Ottawa Rowing Club will be held to-morrow afternoon. Edward Hanlan has his patent shoes in the Toronto Rowing Club house and intend giving an exhibition of walking on the water on that day. Eight four-oared crews are in for competition.

SWIMMING.

The English Mile Championship Swim Decided. The race for the mile swimming championship of England was decided in the sea at Brighton, on Wednesday and was won by N. Finney in 23 min., 7 sec.

David Dalton the American, has completely ignored Finney's challenge to swim against him, in which the latter agrees to give Dalton one mile in five for any distance he names.

QUOITS.

Montreal vs. St. Gabriel Quoiting Club. A friendly match has been arranged between the two oldest quoiting clubs in the city, namely, the Montreal and St. Gabriel Quoiting Clubs, to take place to-morrow afternoon on the St. Gabriel grounds, in rear of the fire station, Centre-street, for the accommodation of the members of the fire brigade, who belong to the club, and cannot go away far from the station in case of an alarm of fire: 31 points, twelve players from each club. The match commences at 2 o'clock sharp. Both clubs will go on the grounds with the firm determination to win, as they have been hard at practice for some time, and each player will strain every nerve and muscle to gain the mastery for his respective club, especially the St. Gabriel club, as they recently beat the Dominion club in two matches running, and have confidence in their superior playing cutting the paper every time. As there is no entrance fee to the abided by and he would vote in favor of giving Cornwall the match. The meeting then broke up.

The above is about the substance of what transpired at the meeting, though several little matters which generally crop up on such occasions come under notice. A few moments after the meeting began it was plain to be seen what the result would be should a vote be taken. Mr. Martin was instructed by the committee of the Ottawa to vote against Shamrock. That was evident, and the Toronto representative had his work cut out ahead of him. The Shamrock delegate was also instructed to hold out and accept no other terms than to play the match over again. The tone of the meeting from the start, that is the majority, was in favor of Cornwall, but a general feeling existed that it would be better if some agreement could be arrived at bringing about a match by mutual consent. This could not be arranged, and both clubs are in a loss, in one point of view, though the Shamrocks were perfectly right in holding out for what they desired. They have the majority of public opinion on their side, but from a financial point of view they have made a mistake in not accepting the terms of Mr. Crites. They claim, however, that it is not money, but justice, they desired, and as Mr. Martin of Ottawa put it: "This is not money, but the championship, and as we are all working for amateurism, money is out of the question when this committee have work to do."

As to the question of bets the decision of the committee holding the referee's decision as final, gives all bets in favor of the latter, though some will make a vigorous argument that this should not be, as the constitution calls for two hours' play; this did not take place. The referee, contrary to what ought to be expected of an amateur, gave a decision declaring bets off, (in writing) and many still hold that their deposits should be drawn.

ATHLETICS.

The Salford Harriers Will Attend the C. A. A. Meet Here.

The team of champion athletes of the Salford Harriers, of England, which will meet the cracks of the Manhattan Athletic Club, of New York, in a series of athletic competitions in the principal cities of America during the fall, left home on the steamship Teutonic yesterday. The Salford Harriers and the American cracks have signified their intention of taking part in the Canadian championship games to take place on the M. A. A. A. Grounds on Sept. 27. Some alterations have been made in the team and the following started for America: E. W. Parry, national cross country champion; N. D. Morgan, 100-yard champion; T. L. Christie, the crack sprinter of the Manhattan Athletic Club, will accompany the team to this country. Meetings will be held in Detroit, Chicago, Buffalo, Boston, Philadelphia.

A Hippodroming Expedition.

Regarding the visit of the Salford Harriers to this country, The London Sunday Times prints a column on the "hippodroming expedition with the Salford Harriers." It says the achievement will benefit the athletics neither of England nor America, and that, while the individual members will have a high old time, the effect will be to lower, rather than raise, the standard of manly sports.

ODDFELLOWS IN TOWN.

Reception and Parade of the Springfield Canton Yesterday.

Favored by fine weather, the Patriarchs Militant of the Independent Order of Oddfellows from various points in Connecticut and other States enjoyed a gala day yesterday. They arrived at Bonaventure depot in the morning, and after spending some time in visiting the sights of the city, they were accorded a public reception by the local members of the Order in front of the City Hall. A. D. Cunningham, in the unavoidable absence of Mayor Greiner, owing to the fatigue of his journey home, welcomed the visitors in the name of the city. He said: "I sincerely regret that in consequence of the vast improvements which our city is at present undergoing, our streets are in a state of disorder. I trust, however, that when you leave our city for your respective homes you will carry with you a favorable impression of our city and people. I may say, gentlemen, that I had the good fortune to be born under the Stars and Stripes, and it is natural in man to entertain a love for the place of his birth. I am now a Canadian citizen, and my hope is that the people of the two countries may each remain side by side in perfect friendship, each sending to the other the products which they require, in unrestricted reciprocity. So far as annexation is concerned, gentlemen, I would like to see the brave Americans conquering the love of our fair Canadian girls, and our Canadians laying siege to the lovely ladies of Yankedom. At present this is the limit of my annexation proclivities. However, gentlemen, it is not the time to speak on questions of this nature, and it only remains for me to again welcome you to our city; and I only regret that his worship the Mayor was not present to do so in person, knowing that he would have done it much better than myself."

The Export Trade in Horses.

While the importation of horses from the Old Country continues, there is an export trade of a somewhat smaller extent being carried on. Mr. D. A. Duggan, manager of the Montreal Horse Exchange, informed a reporter yesterday that so far this year he has shipped about sixty horses to the Old Country, principally trotting stock. The last shipment made was of four very fine horses owned by Mr. W. Tibbits, of Yorkville, Eng., on the Lake Superior. The owner had five horses to ship, but one took sick on the train and died after its arrival here. It was one of a pair for which $2000 was paid in Chicago. Mr. Duggan has at the Exchange two big horses, which are part of a shipment per the Lake Superior from Liverpool. They took sick on the passage out and were left at the Exchange by the owner, Mr. Wheeler, of Kansas. They have been getting along nicely. Their trouble was lung fever.

Two fine coach horses, purchased in the city for Lieut-Governor Daly, of Halifax, Nova Scotia, were shipped by the Grand Trunk Railway for their destination, by Mr. Duggan, on Wednesday evening. He has since received word that the car and the two horses were burned somewhere near Richmond, P. Q. No particulars have yet been received as to the cause of the unfortunate occurrence.
