SPEED RELIEF TO STRICKEN REGION

World News In Brief

Pusan, Korea.—(AP)—More than 3,000 persons were made homeless here Monday night when two fires destroyed 481 homes. One fire which started in a Korean home levelled 361 homes, making 2,400 persons homeless. Another started from a kerosene lamp in a refugee-crowded sector and destroyed 120 homes. It left 800 Koreans homeless. No casualties were reported.

Hollywood.—(AP)—Actress Ilona Massey disclosed Monday night that she and Charles Walker, New York city jeweler, have separated and that she plans to file for a Mexico divorce. The Hungarian-born actress, 41, and Walker, 38, were married in 1952. Miss Massey was divorced from actor Alan Curtis in 1942. Curtis died in 1953.

New York.—(AP)—The bureau of internal revenue Monday filed a tax lien against the National Committee to Secure Justice in the Rosenberg Case for $124,121. The committee was concerned with the defence of Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, executed atom spies. The government contended that the group collected between $300,000 and $500,000 from Nov. 1, 1951, to Oct. 31, 1952, and that the money was subject to income taxes.

Wormley, England.—(Reuters)—Delegates from eight Commonwealth countries met here today to consider closer co-operation in oceanographic research. The conference, which will last until Friday, is being attended by representatives from Australia, New Zealand, Canada, India, Pakistan and the United Kingdom. South Africa and Ceylon have sent observers.

Chester-Le-Street, England.—(AP)—A coroner's jury decided Monday that Ernest Hogg, 48, took his life by putting his head out of his window and cranking it tightly against his throat. He died of strangulation.

Manchester, Eng.—(Reuters)—Detectives took Fred Pearson, 42, to the police station to question him about shoplifting, and claimed that while there he stole £5 from a policewoman's handbag. He was given six months imprisonment on shoplifting and theft charges.

Reich-French Talks Open On Critical Saar Problem

By JOSEPH E. DYNNAN
Paris.—(AP)—West Germany's Chancellor Konrad Adenauer arrived today for a series of conferences aimed at bringing a rearmament West Germany into the Western defence system. The first hurdle he faced was the thorny Saar question.

Adenauer flew in from Bonn less than five hours before the scheduled start of talks on the Saar with Premier Pierre Mendès-France. The French leader has said a settlement of this question must be reached before the National Assembly will approve the Allied program for bolstering Western defences with German manpower.

"I have come to Paris with a great deal of hope that these next few days will bring great advantages for peace for our peoples, for Europe and for the world," Adenauer said.

The chancellor was accompanied by Walter Halstein, his foreign secretary, Political Minister Herbert von Blankenhorn and Theodore Blank, national defence chief. His talks with Mendès-France at Marly, the French Premier's summer home outside Paris, were expected to continue tonight and possibly through Wednesday morning.

Educationist To Replace False Hero

Salt Lake City.—(AP)—Utah Republican leaders Monday night named a prominent educationist to replace a self-confessed phony war hero as candidate for the United States Congress.

Their action followed unanimous acceptance of the resignation of representative Douglas R. Stringfellow (Rep. Utah) from his bid for re-election.

Selected as candidate was 62-year-old Dr. Henry Aldous Dixon, president of Utah State Agricultural College and considered to be the only strong Republican possibility in the populous northern Utah areas in the district.

Stringfellow told the state committee that he had not confessed the bogus nature of his story of wartime heroism sooner because:

"I just did not have the courage. I never found the way."

He appeared at the committee meeting Monday night moments after the group unanimously voted to accept the withdrawal he had proffered only a few hours before. He received a standing ovation. Then, in a voice sometimes shaken by suppressed sobs, he said:

"You could have made no other decision... God bless you for your courage and forthright action... In your presence I'd like to apologize."

But the evening's climax actually came when harried party officials, after counting a ballot that had given the nomination to Dixon by an unofficial 73 to 19, learned that Dixon had left some time before with a parting announcement that he would not accept.

Francis telephoning finally located him. Then, while some 92 members of the 128-man state central committee milled about in a room on the floor below, high party officials took turns pleading with Dixon, his wife, and then Dixon again to change his mind.

Stringfellow announced via radio and television Saturday that he had been living a lie as a war hero for years.

The disabled veteran, 32, married and the father of two, confessed that his story of a behind-the-lines mission into Germany—a story that had helped win him national prominence—was a hoax.

Tucson, Ariz.—(AP)—A B-47 Stratojet bomber crashed and burned while making a practice landing Monday night, burning one of the crew fatally and the other two severely. The plane, which was supposed to take off again after touching its wheels in a "shooting" landing, was demolished.

Over Million Dollars Received In First Day Of Campaign To Aid Toronto District Flood Victims.

Toronto.—(CP)—A great drive to rehabilitate central Ontario's flood-stricken areas swung into high gear today, harnessing the power of federal, Ontario and municipal governments and the charity of Canadians across the country.

A fund to aid those stricken in Friday night's storm in which at least 78 persons died neared the $1,000,000 mark on its first day and seemed certain of reaching the $10,000,000 target.

The Pope, the United Church of Canada, industries, provincial and municipal governments were represented in the first day's pledges, the largest a contribution of $250,000 from the Atkinson Charitable Foundation of Toronto.

At Ottawa, the cabinet met today to consider what form its aid will take. Prime Minister St. Laurent, promising "sympathetic consideration," said aid will follow the principle applied in the Winnipeg floods and the Rimouski and Cabano, Que., fires of 1950.

Premier Frost of Ontario promised a credit of $100,000 to market gardeners of Holland marsh, 30 miles north of Toronto, to start clearing water from their farms, where damage was estimated at $7,000,000.

Trustees of the $1,250,000 Canadian Disaster Relief Fund voted to help and chairman W. H. Manning of Winnipeg arrived in Toronto to determine how much will be donated from money remaining from the Winnipeg flood fund.

The British Columbia Flood Emergency Fund gave $100,000.

The Netherlands, eager to help the many Dutch immigrants in the Holland marsh and mindful of Canadian contributions during Netherlands floods two years ago, promised aid through its ambassador at Ottawa, A. J. Lovink.

Governor-General Vincent Massey was to aid the drive for relief funds by touring the area today. The Toronto Balm Beach Football Club pledged all receipts from its Ontario Rugby Football Union game with Kitchener-Waterloo here Wednesday.

Meanwhile the search for bodies went into its fourth day in the hard-hit western suburbs of Toronto—Etobicoke, Weston and Woodbridge. Some were taken from the muddy banks Monday and tied to helicopter pontoons for transport to a temporary morgue.

The death toll stood at 78 today, 57 in the Humber river area near Toronto's western border. Six were missing and presumed drowned and nine were missing.

Survivors moved back into some streets Monday and began to clear their homes of mud and water. Heavy equipment, clothing and men were sent by civil and military authorities, industry and relief agencies.

As municipalities studied long-range rehabilitation measures, Farquhar Oliver, Ontario Liberal leader, asked for a special session of the legislature to act on such problems.

A long-shelved plan for building three dams in the upper reaches of the Humber, a $2,000,000 project, was revived. Conservationists hoped the plan, opposed by Toronto city council in 1952, would be pushed through now that its need had been demonstrated.

At Long Branch the township council ruled that 147 houses on the bank of Etobicoke creek should not be used again. The medical officer of health has ruled them unfit because of the breakdown of sanitary facilities and the council made the ban permanent.

Traffic on main roads west of Toronto moved slowly Monday but police were able to funnel 80,000 cars and 100,000 persons across the three Humber bridges left standing. Special buses and shuttle trains carried many workers who left their cars at home.

Railway traffic was returning to normal and all main-line passenger trains were in operation Monday night—some through a system of long detours.

Henry Wells, departing commander of Commonwealth forces in Korea, today was awarded the American Legion of Merit at farewell ceremonies at United Nations command headquarters here. Nucleus Now Set Up For Reich Navy

By RICHARD K. O'MALLEY
Bremerhaven.—(AP)—A West German navy will be able to take to the seas 24 hours after final ratification of the London rearmament agreement.

It won't be much of a fleet at first, only some minesweepers, tenders, oilers and small patrol craft. Nevertheless it will be a navy.

Under the London agreement, Germany would be limited to 20,000 naval personnel. Warships must be 3,000 tons or less.

There is no 3,000-ton vessels for the new navy immediately available. But a fleet of rebuilt German minesweepers now waits for ratification's X-day. These ships have been operating with German crews but under the American flag for two years.

Readiness of the West German republic to step into its own sea role has been made possible by a quiet program instituted in 1952 by the United States navy and a handful of its officers.

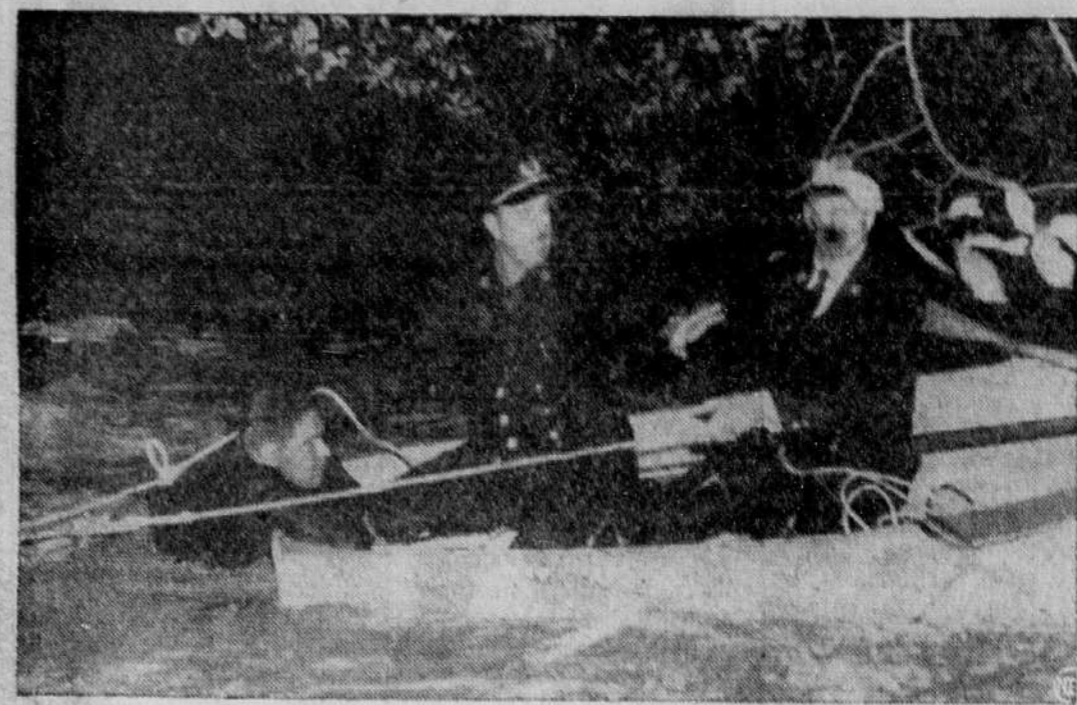

Two 10-boat squadrons of R-boats, each with a tender, regularly sweep the Baltic sea to clear wartime mines from sea lanes. The R-boats are 167 tons, carry a top speed of 18 knots, carry no armament at present, but are equipped with radar.

Their task is to widen present lanes and cut new ones for the safety of merchant shipping.

Officially designed as "mine-sweeping readiness unit," there are 918 Germans, including 85 officers, in the American-supervised program. They have a total of 42 craft. Both officers and men belong to the U.S. navy's German labor service unit at Bremerhaven.

Ninety per cent of the officers and 60 per cent of the men are veterans of the old German navy. But the percentage of young recruits is rising.

In addition to sea training, shore schools for the Germans are conducted at Bremerhaven.

Egyptian Girl Is Proclaimed As Miss World

By EDDY GILMORE
London.—(AP)—Brown-eyed Antigone Constanta, of Egypt—as full curves as a scenic railway—Monday night won the title of Miss World.

Beautiful Karin, Hultman, of Rochester, N. Y., a model, came second.

"Gosh," said Karin, "I'm jinxed. I'm always second."

She was second in a Miss U.S.A. contest in California earlier this year.

She was the first to congratulate the gorgeous girl from Alexandria. And she did it with a big kiss on her right cheek.

Miss Egypt could hardly be called little Egypt, for she weighs 132 pounds, her height is five feet, five inches, her bust 36 inches and her hips, which she swung to the whistling delight of the Lyceum Theatre audience, measure 36 inches also.

Her bathing suit was made of gold cloth and so thin that had Miss Egypt stooped to pick up a rose bud there's no telling what would have happened.

After the judges gave her the verdict she said, "I am very pleased. So happy."

Last year when another Miss Egypt failed to win the title she turned on Miss France—who did win—and delivered a classic remark. "I think she steek."

Little Miss France, 17-year-old Claudine Bleuse, who many spectators thought should have won, looked as if she were going to weep any moment.

Six girls received prizes and first honors called for £500.

The other winner and their places were:

3. Miss Greece, Elli Mela, a model.

4. Miss France, who made a statue of Venus on the stage look just what it was—a pale plaster model.

5. Miss Germany, cute Frauke Walther.

6. Miss Denmark, platinum blonde Grete Hoffenblad.

Western delegates realize that if they reject the offers they put themselves in the position of hindering the cause of peace. On the other hand, they are fearful of falling into a propaganda trap and committing themselves to something they might later regret.

Observers point out, however, that the Russians hold veto power in the council and can block any move that does not please them.

These new Russian moves—halted by many neutral powers—have placed the West on the defensive.

Sees Change Needed For Labor Peace

Ottawa.—(AP)—The chief negotiator for Canada's biggest rail union says the federal government must change its conciliation procedure in railway-union disputes.

W. J. Smith of Montreal, secretary of the joint protective board of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees (CBRE), advocates scrapping the present system of a three-man conciliation board consisting of company and union nominees and a chairman selected either by them or the labor department.

He advocates that all three board members be chosen by the government from persons of outstanding ability with knowledge of the economics of the country.

Smith, whose 34,000-member union is engaged in the rail-labor dispute that is to be arbitrated by a judge later this month, says existing legislation does not fit the needs of the railway industry.

"It has not worked in practice," says Smith, writing in the current issue of the CBRE's monthly publication.

"What has occurred is that the nominees of management have considered it their solemn duty to support and argue on behalf of management's contentions. The unions' nominees have felt it to be their duty to do likewise for the demands of the unions."

"The net result is that you have a board composed of two advocates with a chairman in between, all three persons with different objectives."

"This is not the machinery for evaluating the merits of an industrial dispute, and the government has an urgent responsibility to examine its legislation, especially as it applies to the railway industry. Denying railway workers their basic democratic rights and imposing arbitration is not the answer."

When negotiations later collapsed and the unions threatened a general rail strike, the federal government indicated it would bring in Parliament to legislate against a strike. At that, the unions agreed to accept binding arbitration by a government-appointed umpire. He is Chief Justice Sloan of British Columbia.

These regulations had the new stipulation that an immigrant Asiatic child must be born of lawful wedlock under circumstances in which he would be considered legitimate if the father had been living in Canada at the time of the birth.

Dave Moffett, a Vancouver lawyer specializing in immigration cases, had previously termed it a "loosely-worded" law which appeared to bar from Canada those children legally adopted in China by Canadian citizens.

A judgment by the Supreme Court of Canada last December said, in effect, that a Chinese law making a concubine's child legitimate upon the father's recognition was valid for the purposes of Canada's immigration laws.

Metal Fatigue Held As Cause Of Jet Disaster

London.—(Reuters)—Metal fatigue was the likely cause of a British Comet jet airliner crash in the Mediterranean last January, a court of inquiry was told today.

An investigator said it appeared that the worn-out metal had caused disruption of the pressurized cabin, resulting in the crash of the Comet off Elba island with the loss of all 35 persons aboard.

The inquiry was into the Elba disaster and a second Comet crash off Naples last April in which all 21 persons aboard were killed.

The two disasters resulted in the Comets—pride of Britain's air fleet—being grounded.

Sir Lionel Heald, retiring attorney-general, said the Comet which crashed off Elba was the first jet plane ever to carry passengers in a scheduled world service. At the time of the accident it had flown 3,681 hours for British Overseas Airways Corporation—more than 1,000,000 miles.

Extensive tests have been carried on since the Comets were grounded, and Heald, representing the ministry of transport and civil aviation, told the opening session of the inquiry that investigations "gave no support at all even for the suspicion there was sabotage at Rome" before either of the two ill-fated jetliners took off.

He spoke of the intense tests since carried out on Comets by government scientists at Farnborough, the royal aircraft research establishment.

He told the hushed courtroom that in the Elba disaster evidence showed there had been "an almost instantaneous upward force" generated inside the pressure cabin.

From tests with scale models scientists believe that most of the 35 passengers were blown out of the aircraft within one-third of a second of the accident taking place, he said.

Heald added: "This is all accounted for and can only be accounted for by a sudden disruption of the pressure cabin."

"There is what is called fatigue—metal fatigue. Everything in the investigation of Sir Arnold Hall, director at Farnborough, supports the theory that this was the cause of the failure of the cabin, and nothing contradicts it."

Two Youths Detained In Dual Killing

Montreal.—(AP)—Provincial police today announced the fatal shooting of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Therrien, a farm couple from Val David district, and said two teenage youths are detained.

The shooting occurred at the home of the Therriens Monday night and police who set up a road-block arrested the two boys when they entered St. Jerome, a few miles away, about midnight.

The Therrien home is near Val David, a Laurentian town 55 miles north of Montreal.

Provincial police said the 63-year-old farmer and his wife, 55, were at home Monday night when there was a knock on the door about 8:30 p.m.

They said two boys, apparently out on a hunting trip, asked for food and when the farmer refused, one of the youngsters shot him through the head with a .22 calibre rifle.

Police said the boys then went to another room to find Mrs. Therrien and shot her through

Place Curb On Imports Of Barley

Washington.—Reuters—President Eisenhower Monday issued an order limiting imports of barley into the United States to 27,500,000 bushels for the year which began on Oct. 1.

At the same time, the President rejected a recommendation by the tariff commission that the United States add a tariff fee of eight cents a bushel on imports above 22,500,000 bushels.

The commission had investigated barley imports after receiving complaints that they were threatening markets for domestic barley.

The import duty on barley will remain at about 7½ cents a bushel.

In Ottawa, Trade Minister Howe said Monday that the U.S. curb on barley imports is "not too serious."

"It is a compromise in which we preserve our market for malting barley and we are not too unhappy about it," he said.

Canada in the 1953-54 crop year which ended last July 21 shipped about 38,900,000 bushels of barley to the U.S., of which about 2,000,000 bushels was in malt.

It was the highest barley exports to the U.S. in recent years and compares with 26,000,000 bushels shipped in 1952-53 and 10,200,000 in 1951-52. Most of the exports are high-grade malting barley.

However, this year Canada has no large surplus of barley and crop indications are there will be no large output.

The main concession by Canada in the current issue is that she gets a limited market for feeding barley in the U.S., but retains much of her malting barley market.

Loophole In Immigration Rules Cited

Ottawa.—(AP)—New regulations of the immigration department have left a loophole which may enable offspring of a Chinese concubine to take up permanent residence in Canada.

A department spokesman said Monday that such a child would be admissible as a permanent resident provided it was legally adopted according to Canadian law by a Chinese-Canadian citizen and his wife.

He made the statement in clarifying new regulations issued recently by the immigration department.

These regulations had the new stipulation that an immigrant Asiatic child must be born of lawful wedlock under circumstances in which he would be considered legitimate if the father had been living in Canada at the time of the birth.

Dave Moffett, a Vancouver lawyer specializing in immigration cases, had previously termed it a "loosely-worded" law which appeared to bar from Canada those children legally adopted in China by Canadian citizens.

Communists Threaten To Close Southampton Port

By HAL COOPER
London.—(AP)—The main Atlantic liner port of Southampton was threatened today with a shutdown by a Communist-backed waterfront strike aimed at every major shipping centre in the British Isles.

The 16-day stoppage already has tied up the vast London dock area and sharply curtailed work at Liverpool, the second biggest ocean cargo port. Nearly 35,000 of Britain's 76,000 dockers are off their jobs and almost 200 ships lie idle at their moorings.

In Southampton, leaders of the wild cat strike competed with union officials, who opposed the walkouts, for the backing of 2,052 stevedores. Whether the Southampton workers would remain on the job was in doubt.

Anxious owners of the liner Queen Elizabeth brought the 83,000-ton ship in stern-first Monday so she would face the Channel and be able to leave without tugs if necessary. The liner is scheduled to sail Wednesday evening, carrying Queen Mother Elizabeth on the first stage of her visit to the United States.

Amid the mounting tension on the waterfronts, a second big strike by more than 20,000 of London's 45,000 bus drivers and conductors collapsed in a back-to-work movement.

Busmen who quit work last week in defiance of union orders agreed Monday to resume negotiations while union leaders operate with transport bosses on grievances involving pay and working conditions. The workers are asking a minimum of £10 pounds a week. They now are being paid between £8 and £9.

Arthur Deakin, chief of the big transport and general workers' union to which most of the dockers and bus workers belong, has denounced both stoppages as a "Communist conspiracy."

Only 9,000 of the dockers, members of the National Association of Stevedores and Dockers, have union backing for their strike. Another 26,000 men, all TGWU members, walked out in sympathy with the stevedores.

Daddy Ringtail Featherman Worries

By WESLEY DAVIS

The Featherman was very unhappy. Anyone could see it, and so did Daddy Ringtail, your monkey friend.

"Worry, worry, worry," said the Featherman in his feathery voice. He sat down on a rock the better to do his worrying. His hands were held together, and his head was between his knees, all the better to do his worrying.

Daddy Ringtail sat down beside him, because they were friends. He asked the Featherman what was the why of all the worries, but the Featherman shook his head. "No need to make you unhappy," the Featherman said. "Worry, worry, and worry," was all he would say.

"Featherman," Daddy Ringtail said, "we have been friends a long time, and friends are to help when trouble comes."

"Worry, worry, and worry," the Featherman said again, and he worried as hard and as fast as he could.

"Please, isn't there something I can do to help?" Daddy Ringtail wanted to know.

The Featherman shook his head. "Oh me!" he said,

FUNNY BUSINESS by Hershberger

"Give me a dozen of 'em—I'm going to be a millionaire!"

"It's such a big worry—almost too big for me to do all the worrying that needs to be done about it."

"Now I know how to help you," Daddy Ringtail said. "I'll help you do your worrying if—if you'll tell me what to worry about."

And so the Featherman told him: "I'm worrying about a pelican feather. I want one and there isn't a pelican anywhere in the Great Forest. Worry, worry, and worry."

Daddy Ringtail was about to help the Featherman a bit with the worrying when he remembered a something the Featherman did not know. Why, that very morning a pelican had come to live in the Great Forest. "Maybe he'll give you a pelican feather," Daddy Ringtail said to the Featherman.

The Featherman was happy to hear it, and Daddy Ringtail was happy to say it, all because they were friends indeed. Friends like to be happy with one another, and a happy day to you at your house, and tomorrow I'll tell you about what happened next.

Defer Voting On Three Of Five Municipal Loan By-Laws

Only Public Works And Electricity By-Laws To Come Up On October 27

In somewhat of an unforeseen move, City Council last night passed a motion in which they deferred voting on three of the five proposed loan by-laws which were to come before the property-owners next week. They decided that the coming referendum will consist in voting on by-laws 834 and 835, which are the public works projects and repairs for the hydro-electric department. The three others which concern the police and fire departments, the incinerator and special projects, have been deferred for voting perhaps in the coming spring.

In proposing the motion, Alderman W. H. Bradley, chairman of the General Administration committee, gave several reasons for this surprise motion.

Said Mr. Bradley, "It has been a long time since the City of Sherbrooke has presented five loan by-laws to the public at the same time. We admit that the five which have been presented are all necessary, but on the other hand there are certain ones which are more urgent. "No matter what the result of the vote may be on October 27, it will be considerable time before the by-laws can be duly enacted. The season is already well advanced and there are chances that a certain amount of the proposed work cannot be started until next spring or summer."

Mr. Bradley continued, "There is also a grave danger, that of confusion in the minds of the citizens, therefore it is our duty and in the best interests of the electors that I move by-laws 834 and 835, only be presented on October 27."

Mr. Bradley maintained that these were the two most urgent and of immediate concern to the public. He explained that the Public Works by-law will be the only source of public works projects carried on by the municipality during the next 12 months. It is no secret, he continued, that

As a result of last night's decision by city council to have a referendum on only two by-laws, the Chamber of Commerce have decided that they will only hold one meeting to which ratepayers and members of the City Council are invited. The meeting will be held tonight at 8 p.m. on the third floor of City Hall and will be presided over by Gilbert Rheume, manager of the Bank of Montreal.

the level of employment in Sherbrooke has dropped and the city must, at the very least, insure a regular program of public works.

In terminating, the North Ward Alderman said, "we will see whether Sherbrooke wants the ordinary, essential services carried on."

Alderman Leo Cadorette moved a vote of thanks be sent to the Governor of Vermont State, and all those responsible for the Bonne Entente visit made to Montpelier, Barre and St. Johnsbury on October 5 last. Mr. Cadorette denied certain accusations made by someone at the last meeting of ratepayers. These accusations, made about the Montpelier trip, were unjust and untrue, said Mr. Cadorette. He added that this particular person and others were part of a small organized group who receive the backing of a political party, which he did not mention.

Final Tribute Is Accorded To Aged Resident

Final tribute was accorded recently Miss Helen Jane Parks, a life-long resident of the Eastern Townships, when funeral services were held at Bishop's Funeral Chapel.

Miss Parks, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Parks, passed away in the Sacred Heart Hospital following a lengthy illness. She was in her 87th year.

Rev. Sydney Garland, pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church in Sherbrooke, officiated at the service. Hymns sung at the service were: "Abide With Me" and "Safe In The Arms Of Jesus."

Miss Parks is survived by one sister, Mrs. Robert Brown, one niece, Mrs. Edwin Harmer and Mr. Harmer, a great nephew, Mr. Gordon Harmer, and Mrs. Harmer, all of Sherbrooke. The bearers were: Roland Farr, George Wells, Ashton McGee, Walter Ellis, William McKeage and Cliff Cillis.

A native of Belvidere, Que., Miss Parks was a well-known local resident. The interment was in Elmwood Cemetery.

CAB Permits Air Service At Newport

Washington — (P) — The United States Civil Aeronautics Board has reversed the finding of an examiner and authorized Northeast Airlines to serve Newport, Vt., on a summer seasonal basis for the next two years.

Examiner Joseph L. Fitzgerald had recommended that service to Newport be denied. He said almost no traffic would move from the Sherbrooke, Que., area through Newport because of the fare differential caused by the U.S. transportation tax.

The CAB disagreed, and Monday authorized the service between June 15 and Sept. 15 as an intermediate point between Montpelier-Barre and Burlington, Vt.

Thieves, Vandals Cause Heavy Loss To Cottagers On Lake Massawippi

During the last week vandals have paid a visit to nearly dozens of cottages in the Lake Massawippi area near Woodland Bay.

Some of those affected were: Dr. T. J. Quintin and Georges St. Pierre, both of Sherbrooke; Carleton Joyce and Rene Letourneau, of Stanstead, C. A. Dunsmore, Sherbrooke; William Duxin, Derby Line; J. A. Laliberte, Dixville; Jean Lincourt and Gaston Lafleche, of Coaticook; Arthur Allen of Lennoxville, and Jules Manes, of Derby Line.

The vandals started at one end of the lake, where Dr. Quintin has a summer cottage and made their way up to Carleton Joyce's cottage. In between there are some ten summer camps and cottages. They also visited the east side of the lake where C. A. Dunsmore is located. Loss in the pillaging has been estimated at close to $1500.

The vandals were almost caught by Carleton Joyce, when he arrived one night at his cottage and found a load of articles piled up on the balcony and when he entered the house he found that one load had already been taken. He turned out the lights and laid in waiting for the thieves to return for their next load. They arrived some time later and saw Mr. Joyce's boat on the beach. They then went further up the lake where they took to the woods. Mr. Joyce lost a large outboard motor but it is believed that he captured the one belonging to the thieves. Beside the loss of the motor they took several other articles which were all valued at nearly $250.

At Dr. Quintin's cottage the vandals made off with two sleeping bags, a pair of rubber boots and a few other small articles. Mr. Allen was missing a radio and a boat. Other people were missing such things as clocks, rifles and flashlights.

The thieves also visited the east side of the lake where the Dunsmore's have two cottages and where the summer camp of Rene Letourneau is situated.

According to Mr. Joyce, the group is composed of two men and a woman all in their thirties. Provincial Police authorities have started investigations under Sgt. Morin and Det. Frank Wilmot and they believe that arrests are imminent.

Top Tennis Rank His Ambition, Says Bob Bedard

"With the experience gained in my last tourney, and that which I hope to gain from the one I am now planning, I hope that the City of Sherbrooke will soon be able to say that they have produced Canada's No. 1 tennis player." Thus Bob Bedard expressed himself last night at the weekly meeting of the Sherbrooke Optimist Club before which he was guest speaker.

Bob spoke on his European tour which he made last winter and spring. He also gave a brief account of the tournaments in which he participated in the Southern States and Cuba as well as the Davis Cup matches in Mexico this summer.

The talk started out with the various tournaments in Florida, such as Fort Lauderdale, New Orleans, Miami Beach, Hollywood, Jamaica and Puerto Rico. This was followed by several European tournaments, such as Monte Carlo, Rome, Paris, Berlin and Wimbledon. He described the pleasures and discomforts of the life of a tennis player.

Bob gave a very interesting description of the Russian zone of Berlin, which he visited while in Germany. He said that there were guards on the sidewalks and street corners. While the displays in store windows were like any of those found in America but once inside the store, the counters were bare.

He recalled that the most thrilling experience he encountered was playing in the world famous Wimbledon stadium. There are several inconveniences which one encounters in Europe. Such things as, no laundry facilities, the rudimentary means of rail transportation and the change of trains on a long trip.

The speaker said he was planning another tourney during the coming winter which would start in Southern France at Marseilles and then a three week sojourn in Egypt. From there he plans to go to Wimbledon once again.

The speaker was presented by Henry Crochetiere and thanked by Paul Nadeau, past-president of the Sherbrooke Optimist Club.

There were several invited guests for the meeting. These included Bob Bedard's father, G. S. Bedard, Majella Charest, president of the Sherbrooke Tennis Association, Jean Louis de Lesleue, secretary of the same Association, Alderman Carl Camirand, chairman of the City Parks and Recreation committee, Len O'Donnell, Sport's Editor of the Sherbrooke Record, Gordon Breen, Gilles Gamahe, President of the Quebec Tennis Association and Lucien Laverdure sent telegrams of regret for not being unable to attend.

MRS. WILLIAM NUTBROWN, of Birchton, proudly displays the ten-dollar bill we gave her for being the holder of one more of our Lucky Dollars. She is the twentieth winner we have had in the contest.

Much - Sought - After Lucky - $ Turns Up

Well, what do you know? That winner finally turned up officially. Yes, Mrs. William Nutbrown, of Birchton, came to claim her reward yesterday.

She held Lucky Dollar S/N 7647568, which she had found last Wednesday night in her husband's store in Birchton. She told us she checked the dollars in the till quite frequently, but was really surprised when she found one as she didn't think we spent them in Birchton. See, you never can tell, can you?

What we think is funny about the whole thing is that the dollar she found last Wednesday night was spent in their own store a whole week before she laid eyes on it. That could mean one of three things; either she isn't a very ardent follower of the Lucky Dollars; or the Dollar went out of the store right after it was deposited and then returned later; or they don't have much cause for giving out one-dollar bills in the store.

Taking all into consideration, we think it might be that the dollar went out and then came back, as the Nutbrown Store is a pretty important and busy institution of Birchton, and in a busy place like that, money changes hands rather fast.

There is another Lucky Dollar going out today, once more making eleven dollars waiting to be claimed.

Archbishop To Show Films Here

At a special meeting of all the members of the I. O. D. E. in Sherbrooke on October 26, His Grace, Archbishop Carrington, will show films on the Quebec North Shore and the Magdalen Islands.

His Grace, who is Metropolitan of an Ecclesiastical Province of Canada and Bishop of Quebec, has made many visits to the Labrador coast in the pursuit of his clerical duties and has taken many photographs of the beautiful and rugged country. In his commentary on the film, His Grace will speak about and illustrate the harsh living conditions and limited educational facilities available to its inhabitants.

As a result of his eloquent presentation of the film at the provincial annual conference of the I.O.D.E. in Quebec City last spring, a bursary was set up to provide an education for a boy from the Quebec North Shore,

Sher-Lenn Group Meets Tomorrow

The Sher-Lenn group has finally decided that it will be able to continue this year as a choral society. Rudy Gittel, president of the group, announced yesterday that it would continue on with regular practices this year with plans to present The Messiah later on in the season.

Mr. Gittel said that at the last meeting there was a good turnout of members, old and new, but there was still room for more. A particular need is felt for more male members of the chorus. If any men are interested and they have not yet joined, the weekly practice will be held this Wednesday night, at 7:30 in the Lennoxville High School gymnasium and it would be much appreciated if they turned out.

Fewer Deaths In Quebec

Time was when it was almost certain that Quebec province would lead the country in any record of births per thousand of the population. Now island Newfoundland, latest member of the Canadian family, has taken the first place according to the Dominion Bureau of Statistics' figures for 1953.

Newfoundland's figure is 33.4. Alberta, with the next highest birth rate, has 31.3. New Brunswick is third with 30.7 and Quebec is in fourth place with 30.2. British Columbia is last with 25.8.

Actually, the former French-Canadian lead has suffered no very drastic reduction. Alberta has a large French population, showing a striking growth in recent years, there being, it is said, about 70,000 French in the Edmonton diocese alone. And New Brunswick, in third place, has the second highest proportion of French among the provinces.

It is in its reduction of the mortality rate that Quebec is to be particularly congratulated. Its death rate was formerly at, or near, the top of the list. Now the province, when the Grim Reaper comes around, has sunk to seventh place. Only Newfoundland and the western provinces of Saskatchewan and Alberta show a lower death rate.

Quebec's gain in the fight against death reflects not only better living conditions but also increasing governmental alertness to the importance of health and the devotion of a larger percentage of public funds to the battle against disease.

A Slapper Slapped

Perquisites, as everybody knows, have for a long time been considered a natural part of many a job. Especially in the police force. No sensible restaurant keeper, for instance, looks twice when the man in blue reaches a questing hand into the cigar box or sits down, expecting the occasional meal without having a bill laid on the table.

This is true, of course, only in certain cases and not in the Eastern Townships. In places like Montreal. Even there the force has not a few scrupulous souls who keep their hands out of cigar boxes and eat at home.

Lately these perquisites and little liberties have suffered certain setbacks. Police chiefs are growing particular, finicky, one might say, out of all recognition.

There was the chief who took exception when one member of his force, a Marciano admirer, held an helpful umbrella over the heavyweight champ. Now the chief of an Iowan town has suspended Officer Danny Honts. Officer Danny, it was charged, leaned over in a restaurant and bestowed two, no, three, gentle slaps with a receipt book on the softer portion of a back-turned waitress. For this he was suspended.

No, Officer Honts it was not very dignified. You were in uniform and in a public place. The service may have been slow; you may have been waiting for ten minutes; you may have known this particular waitress would welcome rather than resent the gesture but you should looked first and seen that the chief's wife was sitting just two tables away — and waiting, too, for service.

In Passing

A sharp-eyed Montreal news vendor, who has stood for a few decades on the street just a block from the city's busiest corner, offered a passerby two weekly periodicals the other day. He remembered the reading choices of a customer for whom he had kept the magazines regularly ten or twelve years before. "Do you remember many like this?" he was asked in some surprise. "A good many hundreds," was the answer, "and some of them go back more than twenty years."

It has happened again. This time the man who has lost the bulk of his life savings through the burglary of his home is Joseph Quigley, retired Winnipeg hotelman. He reported the loss of $6,700 in cash, bonds and jewelry, taken from a trunk. The cash amounted to three thousand dollars. Mr. Quigley and his wife were away when the robbery occurred. "It just about sinks me," he said sadly. "Now, I'll have to sell my home."

People still continue to keep large sums in their homes when they might be wrecked far from home, in the Caribbean Sea. Such a fate could and should have been prevented by honorably retiring the famous racer at the proper time.

The Bluenose should have been preserved in her Nova Scotian home port, just as Lord Nelson's flagship Victory has been preserved at Portsmouth, England, and the American vessel Old Ironsides at Boston. Thus saved for the admiration of posterity, the Bluenose would have been a focal point of attraction for visitors to Nova Scotia's enchanting little seaport of Lunenburg.

We do, however, have the pictorial image of the Bluenose etched on every Canadian dime.

Thus, with fond recollections, we shall welcome the new Bluenose who, without slightest doubt, will serve as the means of bringing many more visitors than before to Nova Scotia. With accommodations for 150 automobiles and 600 passengers, and a round-trip daily, the new ferry on a 104-mile passage, will cut hundreds of miles from the trip that would be required by driving around the Bay of Fundy.

Mirror Of Opinion

THERE IS A NEW BLUENOSE TODAY
Sydney Post-Record

Bluenose is the name for the new ferry costing $4 million, which the Canadian National Railways will begin operating next summer between Yarmouth and Bar Harbor, Maine.

The Department of Transport has made a good choice of name for the smart craft now nearing completion in a shipyard on the St. Lawrence at Lauzon, Quebec.

At first there was some hesitation about giving the name of Nova Scotia's most famous schooner to a vessel of entirely a different character, but any other schooner or named would suffer by comparison. The name chosen for the new ferry will not detract from the memory of the original Bluenose but serve as a reminder of her celebrated story — the saga of the queen of racing schooners. And it follows the British practice of passing down famous names of one ship to another.

There is the more reason for the perpetuation of the name in view of the melancholy fate of the original Bluenose whose grave is a hidden reef upon which she

A TOUCH OF SHAME
Toronto Globe and Mail

There is something almost obscene in the news stories describing the "death watch" of newsmen and television people outside the home of the actress, Marilyn Monroe, and her husband, Joe DiMaggio, in the hope of getting some morsel of gossip from this ill-fated pair. The spectacle of more than a hundred of these people standing in rows "nine deep," is in a real sense a commentary on the civilization of which we boast so proudly.

CHILDREN AT EAST
Calgary Albertan

On the other hand, the modern child is too reluctant to exert himself. If the little troublemakers had to walk three miles to school and back every day, perhaps they wouldn't feel so much like cutting up at night. The modern child is definitely spoiled in that respect.

But perhaps he shouldn't be blamed. If his dad can't go three blocks to the barber shop without getting out the family car, why should the child be expected to walk three miles to school?

Whether or not the administration does anything to make the students sit up and take notice of their surroundings, it's still left to the student himself. As one Bishop's grad told his younger brother, "To get the most out of Bishop's, attend all your lectures, work for high marks, take part in some campus activities, but, also, meet as many people as you can from Lennoxville and Sherbrooke, and read the New York Times every Sunday."

"Tight Little Island Students" Are In Unintelligent Stupor

By RUPERT BUCHANAN

(Taken from the Bishop's University publication "The Campus" of October 15)

Do Bishop's students live in an ivory tower?

True, they don't spend all their time strolling begowned through vine-covered cloisters, with distant minds dreaming of philosophy and forgotten cultures. They are definitely not in danger of becoming too intellectual. The ivory tower we speak of is not one of intelligent aloofness, but of unintelligent stupor. It is a place, as the American College Dictionary says, "withdrawn from the world and worldly acts and attitudes."

After a student has spent his required three or four years at Bishop's, he knows by heart all the gossip about the faculty, the kitchen staff, and his fellow students, and he hopes he knows enough to pass the final examinations. But does he know anything about world affairs? How much money can he expect to earn with his education? How can he invest it? Where should he go to get a job? Because most students lead narrow, self-contained lives at Bishop's, they do not learn anything of these vital topics.

Their range of conversation is limited to sports, entertainment, studies, and the opposite sex.

They have not had sufficient initiative to reach out their hands to investigate and enjoy their very environment.

Ask a Bishop's student for the name of the mayor of Lennoxville or Sherbrooke, or how to get to Prospect and Dufferin Streets in Sherbrooke, or where the library is in Sherbrooke. The answers will be almost as pitiful as if you asked him who the chancellor of the university is, who the president of the Corporation is, what their offices involve, or a tough one such as what is the connection between the university and Bishop's College School.

To get anything more than a degree out of three or four years of life at Bishop's, the student must snap out of his stupor, and open his eyes and his mind to what is going on outside the cloistered college. Unfortunately, too few are doing this—only those who because of high positions in certain campus organizations are able to meet people from the "outside world," those who have part-time jobs, and those who happen to be naturally wide-awake and impressionable.

The apathetic situation can be remedied partially by the administration but mostly it's up to the individual student. Here's what he can do:

1. He can rouse himself to the fact that the Eastern Townships has more to amuse him with than movies, liquor and dancing. Sherbrooke in autumn is one of the most beautiful cities in Canada, but to be appreciated it must be seen in the daytime; the same applies to the rural countryside near the college. A few students have discovered the delights of church suppers in neighbouring towns, and some have enjoyed oldtime auction sales. Why not visit the Dominion Experimental Farm, less than a mile from the college, or go to hear good musical artists who occasionally come to the Granada Theatre in Sherbrooke, or attend a Lennoxville Town Council meeting?
 2. He can establish contact with people and businesses which will show him the practical end of what he is learning in lectures. Manufacturers and retailers in Lennoxville and Sherbrooke are surprised and flattered to receive inquisitive university students, and are always glad to show them how their businesses operate. If he's a science student, he might visit the Superheater Co. in Sherbrooke, Union Screen Plate in Lennoxville, or the power and heating plant right on the campus. Part-time jobs, besides helping financially, give a student valuable training in his vocation, and help him apply what he is learning while he is learning it. The worth of the balance provided by any part-time job is shown by the fact that students working outside the college obtain higher than average marks.
 3. He can read newspapers and periodicals to keep abreast of what is going on in the world at large, and, at the risk of being thought a bore, discuss these extracollegiate happenings with his friends.
- Here are some suggestions that the administration might carry out to awaken the minds of its undergraduates:
1. It might enlighten the students as to how the university operates, taking away the gloom of mystery which surrounds the Corporation, the College Council, the Academic Committee, and the Executive Committee. And if companies distribute financial statements to their shareholders, the college might disclose its financial condition to its students, who certainly should take an even greater interest in their Alma Mater than stockholders do in their companies. With the college so rich in history, the administration might publicize that excellent book, The First Hundred Years of Bishop's University, by the college's own Dr. D. C. Masters.
 2. It might try to make Bishop's University part of the Eastern Townships, bringing students into contact with the people of Lennoxville, instead of having the college exist a sort of "tight little island."
 3. It might introduce more timely courses, such as Geography 101, which deals with the story of Asia right up to the shelling of Quemoy, or whatever happens to be taking place at the time of the lecture. The purpose of this is to enable the students to see in contemporary life what he has been taught and thus reinforce his learning. It might originate a course in provincial politics, to increase students' knowledge of the subject to something more than the common "All I know is Duplessis is no good" grumble.
- Whether or not the administration does anything to make the students sit up and take notice of their surroundings, it's still left to the student himself. As one Bishop's grad told his younger brother, "To get the most out of Bishop's, attend all your lectures, work for high marks, take part in some campus activities, but, also, meet as many people as you can from Lennoxville and Sherbrooke, and read the New York Times every Sunday."

Northern Alberta Indians Cash In On Oil Privilege

By DON HANRIGHT
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Stony Plain, Alta.—Twenty-two producing oil wells on the Enoch band's reservation near this town 20 miles west of Edmonton have given the Indians a financial status that few Canadian communities of 250 persons could match.

Their oil income is approximately $10,000 a month, giving them at least $600,000 in a government-held capital account.

A separate revenue account, also held at Ottawa, holds money from agriculture and petroleum leases and sale of farm products. It is tapped each month for cash distributions of $20 to each of the 250 members of the band. Some Indian families of 10 or more soon could rival the wealthy Indians of the United States. But that's not the plan. As Chief William Morin says, the tribe is spending its money wisely on "sound development projects and not as foolishly as some of those in the United States."

The members of the Enoch band—and about 14,500 other Alberta Indians—own their own mineral rights. However, they are surrendered to the federal government's Indian Affairs Branch for negotiation, as are agricultural and timber leases. No Canadian can make a contract.

Although the tribal councils can sell reservation acreage, most

HERE'S THE ANSWER TO TOUGH QUESTION

How is it possible for a good player to go down at one trump in the hand shown today? It actually happened, and South was a good player. Unfortunately for South, however, West was an even better player.

West opened the queen of hearts, holding the trick. Since East had signaled encouragement by playing the seven of hearts, West continued with the jack of hearts. South held up again, quite properly, and West led his last heart to force out the ace.

South naturally went to work on his best suit by leading the king of diamonds. This time it was West who held up, thus showing that the hold-up play works just as well for the defenders as for the declarer.

South continued with a low diamond, and West played low again, allowing dummy to win with the jack. East discarded the four of clubs, and it was clear that declarer couldn't lead diamonds again profitably.

There was a chance that the spades would provide enough tricks for the contract, so declarer next led the queen of spades from the dummy, letting it ride for a finesse. West casually played a low spade, instead of winning the trick with his king.

It wasn't unnatural for South to believe that his finesse had succeeded. He led a low spade from dummy and finessed the ten of spades, whereupon West produced the king of spades to win the trick. West then cashed the ace of diamonds and got out with a spade, forcing South to win with the ace.

At this stage South was reduced to his four original clubs. He led the king of clubs hopefully, but West carefully refused the trick. South desperately led the queen of clubs next, but this time West took the trick with the ace of clubs.

He could now lead to East's established jack of clubs, allowing East to cash the king of hearts to defeat the contract.

CARD SENSE

Q—The bidding has been:

North	East	South	West
1 Diamond	Pass	1 Spade	Pass
2 Clubs	Pass	2 Clubs	Pass

U. South, hold: Spades K-Q-7-3, Hearts 8-2, Diamonds J-5-4, Clubs A-J-6-2. What do you do?

A—Bid three clubs. You have 11 points in high cards and can therefore express an interest in game by means of this raise. Your failure to bid no-trump indicates that you cannot stop the unbid suit.

TODAY'S QUESTION

The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades K-Q-7-3, Hearts 8-2, Diamonds A-J-6-2, Clubs J-5-4. What do you do?

Bygone Days

TWENTY YEARS AGO

From the Record of October 19, 1934

Mayor Camilien Houde of Montreal, last night warned that the future of French Canada rests on a new settlement plan. "Our English-speaking compatriots give us the lion's share of our revenues, but this will be the last time we can take that money to help ourselves," he said speaking at a Colonization Congress.

The death of Miss Mary "Minnie" J. V. Cotton, of Cowansville, is said to have severed an important link with the historic and romantic early settlers in the Eastern Townships vicinity of Dunham, Cowansville and Bromes. She was a daughter of the late Dr. Charles Cotton.

From the Record of October 19, 1944

Canadian forces are said to be attempting to force a crossing at the Italian Pisciatale river. Lt. Des Egan, of Sherbrooke led patrols across the 40-foot-wide river but was forced back in the face of 88 m.m. gunfire at point blank range.

P.O. Benoit J. F. Vanier, 29, of Sherbrooke has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross for "conspicuous gallantry and high devotion to duty" in a raid over Germany, the Department of Air Defence disclosed today.

New York—(AP)—Willie (The Wallop) Mays, the New York Giants' sensational outfielder, captured the National League slugging title for 1954 in a close competition with Duke Snider of Brooklyn and Cincinnati's Ted Kluszewski.

Slugging averages—based on total bases and times at bat—compiled by The Associated Press showed today that Mays produced 377 total bases in 565 at bats for a .667 mark.

Snider, last year's pace-setter, piled up 378 total bases, the most in the majors, in 584 tries for a .647 average. Kluszewski was third with .639 on 366 total bases in 573 at bats.

Included among Snider's 199 safeties were 39 doubles, 10 triples and 41 home runs. Kluszewski collected 187 hits while pacing the major leagues in homers with 49. Ted also had 26 doubles and three triples.

Minnie Minoso of the Chicago White Sox took American League slugging honors with a .535 average. The speedy outfielder-third baseman compiled 304 total bases in 568 at bats.

Mickey Mantle, the New York Yankees' switch-hitting outfielder, was runner-up to Minoso with a .523 mark. He had 163 hits and 27 homers in his extra-base output.

Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals finished fourth in the National League with .607, resulting from 359 total bases in 591 tries. Stan had 41 doubles, 9 triples and 35 home runs.

Musial also boosted his lifetime slugging average two points to .581—a National League record for 10-year men.

Eddie Mathews of Milwaukee, who finished second a year ago, was fifth in '54 with a .601 mark. The hard-hitting third baseman slammed 20 doubles, 4 triples and 40 homers among 138 safeties for 295 total bases.

Radio Mission Explained At South Stukely

South Stukely, Oct. 19 - "Some 120,500,000 radio sets in North America as compared to 31,229,000 television sets prove that radio is still holding a majority audience on the airwaves," Pastor Arthur M. Spenset of the Seventh-Day Adventist church, announced at a recent service. Urging the importance of using the radio as well as TV to spread the Gospel, the minister pointed out that more than 46,500,000 homes tune in their dials daily to radio programs. "Overseas," he added, "there is scarcely any other way for the church to reach into the homes unless it is through the newspaper."

The Adventist radio program, Voice of Prophecy, Pastor Spenset said, "receives in the neighborhood of 11,500 letters each week from its radio audience. Aired over 520 stations in North America and 800 around the world, the program has received 100,000 names of listeners on this continent alone within the last six months. It encompasses 12 spoken languages."

"As a means of bringing the Christian message to the hearthside," the pastor concluded, "radio is still in the first position." A special offering was received at the service to help ensure the continuance of the denomination's program.

Friends Honor Miss G. Fowler

Melboro, Oct. 19 — Mrs. Guy Frank, Mrs. L. Driver, Mrs. W. Adamson and Mrs. O. Wilkins were hostesses for a miscellaneous shower for Miss Gweneth Fowler in the United church hall. There were around 55 present. The hall was decorated in mauve, yellow and white.

Miss Fowler arrived from Cookshire planning to visit her sisters, but ended up at the hall at 9:30 and was taken completely by surprise to find so many gathered in her honor. After she was seated, the gifts were brought in on a wagon by Masters Wayne and Warren Wilkins and presented to the bride-to-be.

After they had been opened and passed around to be admired, Miss Fowler expressed thanks for the gifts and good wishes and to those who had sponsored the happy event. She invited all her friends to visit her in her new home at Cookshire.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, assisted by some of the younger folks. Tea was poured by Mrs. H. Fowler and Mrs. Albert Smith at a lace-covered table, centred with gladioli and yellow candles in crystal holders. Several menfolk came in at the close for lunch.

"The Rocket" Setting Merry Pace For Honors In NHL

Holds One Point Lead Over Howe And Geoffrion; Jacques Plante Has Best Average For Goalies

Montreal — (CP) — The way Montreal Canadiens and Detroit Red Wings bounced into immediate contention for leadership in the brand new National Hockey League race caused no particular eyebrow-lifting but the presence of a flock of Montrealers in the scramble for individual scoring honors may be indicative of things to come.

The league's official statistics, released today, show six Canadiens among the first 12 players. The Red Wings and the Boston Bruins have placed three men each among the select.

Veteran Maurice Richard, Montreal's ace sniper who has never won the point-scoring title, currently leads the pack with three goals and five assists for eight points. He is hotly chased by teammate Bernie "Boom Boom" Geoffrion and champion Gordie Howe of the Red Wings, each with seven points.

Bracketed with rookie Don McKenney at five points are Leo Labine, also of the Bruins, and all-star defenceman Doug Harvey of Montreal.

The four-point group takes in three Montrealers — Ken Mosdell, Jean Beliveau and Jackie Leclair — along with Alex Devecchio of Detroit and Fleming Mackell of Boston.

Montreal is setting the pace for league leadership with four wins, one tie and one loss, good for nine points. The Red Wings, who have played one game less, have four wins and one loss and trail by one point. Canadiens lost at home to Detroit and then turned the tables on the Red Wings in the Michigan city.

New York Rangers and Boston are deadlocked for third place with four points each. Toronto Maple Leafs and Chicago Black Hawks are still looking for their first victories. The Leafs have salvaged two ties with one by the Hawks.

The goalkeepers' feud is paralleling that of the leading teams. Jacques Plante of Montreal has a goals-against average of 1.50 and Terry Sawchuk of Detroit has 1.60. They are the only goalies in the circuit who have scored a shutout so far.

Glenn Pope Wins Hereford Mountain Motorcycle Trial For 2nd Consecutive Time; Only Four Finish Course

Glenn Pope of Sherbrooke won the annual Hereford Mountain Motorcycle trial held at Wallace Lake, Vt., and the Arnold Broder trophy for the second consecutive time. He led a field of twelve riders over the hard course which the heavy rain had made very difficult from all view points.

Only four of the field completed the course while the others were forced to retire half way over the layout. Following the annual events all members of the Queen City Riders Club were guests of Harold Munkittrick, local motorcycle dealer, at Frontier's Lodge.

Pope, on his 500 cc B.S.A., was 21 minutes late of the scheduled one hour and a half run and had an average speed of 20 miles per hour. Closest to him was Raymond Ladd, on his 500 cc Matchless, who was 43 minutes late on the time record. Austin Ladd and Douglas Ladd, of Lennoxville, both on 650 cc Triumph Thunderbirds, finished the run, but missed one check point on 30 mile run.

The three next riders Bob Patton and Howard Deacon, from Lennoxville, and Wayne Fisher, Bury, almost completed the course, but were forced to drop out, owing to mechanical troubles.

Five riders ran part of the trail, engines failed, clutch cables went off and brakes didn't work. Bikes had dead spots in deep mud. A couple of machines had to be brought back to town by truck.

Following is the list of riders who competed in the event with the first four the only ones who finished the difficult course.

1. Glenn Pope, 500 BSA, Sherbrooke.
2. Raymond Ladd, 500 Matchless, Lennoxville.
3. Austin Ladd, 650 Triumph, Lennoxville.

Johnny Saxton Has 15-Day Sentence To Serve In Jail But First Meets Gavilan For Welterweight Title

Pleasantville, N.J. — (P) — Johnny Saxton has a date to serve 15 days in jail, starting Thursday morning for traffic violations but he says he's going to take something with him to keep him warm — Kid Gavilan's welterweight crown.

"What you've got to do, you've got to do," said the 24-year-old New Yorker. "I've got to pay that penalty in New York and get to get it over with."

Asked whether the impending term affected him mentally, Saxton replied: "No. I've been training for four months for Gavilan. Those two post-nominals were annoying but I've set my mind on beating the Kid and nothing is going to stand in my way tomorrow night, in Convention Hall Philadelphia."

Webster, the leading scorer with 60 points on 12 touchdowns, has picked up 723 yards in his 126 attempts to top the ground gainers, however, his average gain of 5.7 yards is his best.

Student Fined On Scalping Charge

Madison, Wis. — (P) — A University of Wisconsin student said in court Monday it was a "widespread" practice of University of Wisconsin football players to sell tickets they get free for grid games.

The student, Robert Halloran of New Bedford, Mass., charged with ticket scalping, told Judge Donald Kaatz that he sold a ticket to the Wisconsin-Purdue game Friday night for $12 for his roommate, David Howard, sophomore end on the Badger squad.

Halloran told the judge that the practice of players selling tickets was widespread and he did not figure he was doing anything wrong.

"I think there is a sufficient amount of this going on among football players and around the

Jack Rensel, Guy Behind Scenes In Keeping A's In Philadelphia, Could Be Most Unpopular Man In Kansas

Philadelphia — (AP) — Jack Rensel could be the most unpopular man in Kansas City's history. Rensel is the mystery man, the guy behind the scenes, in the sudden, surprising and successful drive to keep the Philadelphia Athletics' franchise here rather than let it go to Kansas City by default.

A bustling advertising agency representative who once served as part-time public address announcer and jack-of-all trades for the Philadelphia Phillies, Rensel emerged today as the real driving force behind the "keep-the-A's-in-Philadelphia" movement.

Who says Rensel played such a prominent role? Roy Mack, and that's a pretty fair source. For Roy, the Athletics' executive vice president, has been credited right from the start with putting up the big fight to keep the ball club right where it's been for the last 54 years.

After the sale of the A's to a nine-member Philadelphia syndicate — with Rensel as one of the nine — Roy Mack was asked what suddenly changed the entire picture. What checked the seemingly irresistible rush of the franchise Kansas City-ward with Arnold Johnson, Chicago financier, pulling in that direction for $3,375,000 worth?

"What happened was Jack Rensel," said Roy's son Connie 3rd. And his father hastened to add: "That's right. He got the group together."

Rensel flitted on the rim of the A's situation for weeks, but few of the experts took seriously his repeated statement that the club would never leave Philadelphia. He kept saying that when it appeared Johnson all but had the franchise sewed up for trans-far west.

That was at the time of the American League meeting at Chicago Oct. 12.

HE HAS FRIENDS
Roy Mack came back from the Chicago meeting, apparently past the verge of selling his share in the A's to Johnson. He said he wanted to go back home to talk over the details with the other members of his "closely-knit" family — his brother, Earle, and their father, Connie Sr.

The situation simmered over Saturday while Roy Mack attended his daughter's wedding. It came to a full boil Sunday. With Rensel flitting about like a hungry shortstop, the members of the Philadelphia syndicate ironed out all but the legal details and announced they had come to terms with the Mack family.

Each one of the nine stockholders, including Ray, it was disclosed, added $250,000 to the kitty.

Where did Jack Rensel pick up that sort of change, someone asked?

"I didn't have it all," said Rensel, smiling. "I have some friends." With that kind of friends in this neck of the woods, who needs Kansas City?

Prospect Eliminates Legion In Semi-Finals Of Richmond Softball Playoffs; Meet Dow For Championship

(Special to the Record)
Richmond—22-20 this was the final score Sunday afternoon in favor of Prospect as they came back fighting to win over Legion and enter the finals against Dow. Paul Gregoire started for Legion and Cliff Gunter took over midway in the fifth but went back to first base halfway through the eighth inning. Gregoire suffered the loss while Roger Beaudin hurled for Prospect and went the distance.

Neither team scored in the first inning but in the second Prospect connected for four runs. Legionnaires equalled this as they took advantage of errors by Prospect to garner four runs. Gregoire got tagged for four hits which gave Prospect the lead once more and they added three more runs. Harold Kydd scored Legions' run when he came in off Smith's two-bagger. Prospect got one hit in the fourth and scored a run when Langlois came in after Beaudin's fly-out to Pye.

Norman Noel got Legion's only hit in their half of the fourth but no scoring resulted. Leading 8-5 going into the fifth Perreault started for Prospect making first base on Gunter's error. Stott went down on strikes and Blais hit a two-bagger and Perreault raced home when "Pat" Desrosiers threw men together and moved Gunter to the mound with Gregoire going to first base. Gunter threw his first ball to Creteau who singled to score Blais for Prospect's tenth run. Langlois fled out to Desrosiers and Creteau was tagged as second. Legionnaires were retired in order in the fifth. In the sixth inning Prospect went hitless and trailed 10-5. Legionnaires then came to life and tallied seven runs to move out in front 12-10 going into the seventh. Tremblay took over from Smith in the catcher role with Gunter still on the mound.

Prospect registered four runs but in the lower half of the frame Legion tallied four runs to take over once again. Prospect then went wild and aided by Legion's errors drove home six runs to lead 22-16. Legion posted four runs to reduce the lead while in the final frame Langlois came in after Beaudin's fly-out to Pye. Prospect on the long end of a 22-20 count.

Beaudin earned the victory but gave up fifteen hits while Gregoire was the loser. Gregoire whiffed six at the plate while Gunter nicked two and Beaudin one. The winners will now meet Dow on Sunday for the league title.

The meeting was opened with the singing of "O Canada," after which the minutes of the previous meeting, which was held last May, were read by the secretary, Mrs. Alex MacArthur.

Mrs. MacArthur read the list of officers for the new session: L. Ames, president; Mrs. Malcolm McCaw, immediate past president; Mrs. Sinclair McIntosh, first vice-president; Mr. Alex MacArthur, second vice-president; Mrs. Alex MacArthur, recording secretary; Mr. Sinclair McIntosh, corresponding secretary; Mr. John Cook, treasurer.

Mr. Cook reported that the scholarship of $75 given by the Association, had been won by Miss Gayle McLaren, of Metis, who is now attending the School for Teachers at Macdonald College. A letter was read from Miss McLaren, thanking the Association for the scholarship.

The membership convener, Mr. Ewart Martin, reported that a canvass is being made for new members, and that he would be glad to receive the names of new members. Mrs. Malcolm McCaw reported briefly on the playground, which was again the association for the scholarship convener, Mr. Ewart Martin, reported that a canvass is being made for new members, and that he would be glad to receive the names of new members. Mrs. Malcolm McCaw reported briefly on the playground, which was again the Association's summer project, and which, as in the past, proved again very successful. Sixty-seven children, representing thirty-seven families attended. The playground was under the supervision of Mrs. Earl Bockus, assisted by Louise Blinco, Sandra MacArthur and Ronnie Martin. MINISTER VISITS CANADIAN CHILDREN IN GERMANY — During his visit to the 1st Canadian Infantry Brigade in Germany, the Minister of National Defence, the Hon. R. Campney, visited Canadian school children in their new schools. Here, he checks the work of Darleen Swan, Calgary, Alta., and Patricia Butts, Ottawa, Ont., under the watchful eye of Miss Catherine Mackenzie of Toronto, their teacher.

ing a box will be provided, in which may be placed articles to be used at next year's playground, empty spools, match boxes, brightly colored wool and small pieces of cloth, also spoons, for the younger children, who prefer these to spades for digging.

The dime boxes were given out by the library convener, Mrs. Hannibal Sheltus, for donations for the library. These boxes will be collected at the March meeting. Books donated by individuals will have a name plate placed in them, containing donors' names. It is hoped that sufficient funds will be received to replace much needed books. On an average, 135 books a week are given out. With this turnover, it is easily understood how quickly books wear out. Mrs. Sheltus reported that a donation of $25 had been received for the library from Miss Lottie Casey, I.O.D.E.

Miss Lottie Casey, magazine convener, reported that she had received a number of subscriptions. A letter was read from the Quebec Federation of Home and School Magazine, stating a refund of twenty-five cents would be made to associations, who secured 80 per cent of subscriptions from their members.

Following the business meeting, the film, "Getting There Is Half the Fun," was shown through the courtesy of the Cunard Steamships Line. It showed the advance in ocean liners since the early days of the foundation of the Cunard line. This was the first ocean line to develop and maintain a regular schedule of sailings across the Atlantic. Prior to this time, ships had sailed, at the convenience of their owners.

History states that the first ship to cross the Atlantic was manned by a crew of Vikings, the voyage being made five centuries before the famous voyage of Christopher Columbus, which opened a century of glory for English explorers.

Following the showing of the film, the new principal, Mr. Bruce Kerwin, formerly on the staff of the Knowlton High School, was introduced by Mr. W. F. VanHorn, who gave a brief resume of Mr. Kerwin's activities. Educated at Stansfeld College, and Bishop's University, Mr. Kerwin, took his degree in education at McGill University, and served in the R.C.A.F. during World War II. For the past three years, he had been on the staff of the Lachute High School for a time. Mr. Van Horn spoke of Mr. Kerwin's great interest in sports, especially in skiing, hockey and golf. A warm welcome was extended by Mr. Van Horn to Mr. Kerwin on the occasion of his taking over as principal of the local High School.

In reply, Mr. Kerwin thanked Mr. Van Horn for his good wishes and expressed his great pleasure at being in Bedford. Mr. Kerwin then introduced the members of the teaching staff for 1954-55.

Grade I, Miss Cook of Grenville, formerly on the staff of the Buckingham school; Grade II, Mrs. Beerwort, of Bromo; Grade III, Mrs. L. Call, of Knowlton; Grade IV and V, Mrs. Beerwort of Clarenceville; Grades VI and VII, Miss May Scott of Sweetsburg; Grades VIII and IX, Mr. L. Gold of Montreal; French specialist, Miss White of Stanbridge East.

Mr. Kerwin took as the subject of his address "Getting There Is Half the Fun," as applicable to getting an education. The purpose of education is to fit students to be good public-minded and happy citizens. Education should also develop the character of the students.

Three very important things are needed, if the objective is to be attained: good teachers, good schools and pleasant surroundings.

The ultimate aim of education is to produce a person, who as a citizen will be an asset to his country. A teacher alike must display firmness in dealing with children, for their own good. It is essential that parents co-operate with teachers in the training of children, and never, under any circumstances criticize a teacher before a child.

Mr. W. W. Blelock, on behalf of the Home and School Association, expressed the thanks of all to Mr. Kerwin for his most interesting and instructive address.

The representatives from the local Association to the Quebec Federation of Home and School Associations are Mrs. W. W. Blelock, Mrs. Alex MacArthur and Mr. L. Ames. The representatives from the local Association to the regional council are Mrs. Malcolm McCaw, Mrs. Richard Craighead and Mr. Alex MacArthur.

The annual meeting of the regional council will be held in St. Johns on Saturday, November 13th.

It glows evenly over the entire bulb surface... does away with the annoying 'bright spot' that you see in the inside-frosted type... reduces bothersome shadows and reflected glare. When you settle down to the evening paper, or a bit of close work like sewing, this new softly-diffused light gives you extra hours of restful reading or working. Be sure the children have White Bulbs for their studies, too. Pick up a package of G-E White Bulbs and try them tonight. They are available in 60 watt, 100 watt and tri-light sizes.
