AWAIT REPLY FROM EGYPT

Seeking Accomplice In Kidnapping Case; Murder Count Likely

MINEOLA, N.Y., (AP) — Police sought today to learn whether a friend helped the kidnapper who left little Peter Weinberger to die in a roadside tangle of honey-suckle vines.

Authorities said Angelo John LaMarca, 31-year-old mechanic, told them he took the Weinberger baby to Brooklyn and left him overnight with a friend only hours after the July 4 kidnapping.

"The identity of the friend in Brooklyn mentioned by LaMarca is unknown and the whereabouts unknown," a police official said. "He has repeatedly refused to identify the person or the place."

LaMarca's wife told reporters: "Someone else is involved but he won't say who."

LaMarca, a bushy-haired man with two children of his own, was held without bail for further hearing next Friday. Authorities said a murder count probably will be added to the kidnapping indictment sought from the grand jury.

A policeman was locked in with the dejected prisoner to guard against any suicide attempt.

LaMarca was charged with kidnapping the 32-day-old infant from the patio of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Weinberger's ranch home in Westbury, N. Y.

LaMarca was quoted as saying he abandoned the child the next day after he panicked in a vain attempt to collect $2,000 in ransom to meet a pile of debts.

Searchers found the decomposed remains of the infant Friday in underbrush near a heavily travelled Long Island Parkway half a mile north of the LaMarca home in Plainville.

Under New York law a person who causes a death while committing a felony is liable to first-degree murder charges, punishable by death in the electric chair. Kidnapping also carries a maximum penalty of death.

LaMarca was arrested early Thursday at his Plainville home. He was tracked down after a painstaking Federal Bureau of Investigation search through more than 2,000,000 handwriting samples.

The ransom note bore certain handwriting quirks. FBI men finally found matching peculiarities in LaMarca's signature in federal district court records in New York City. LaMarca received a suspended sentence last year on a bootlegging charge.

Petrov made a hasty exit from New York's Idlewild airport Thursday with his wife and three-year-old son.

Petrov is the third Russian citizen to lose his UN job for attempted spying. He was recruited in Moscow in 1953 for the Russian language translating section of the UN secretariat. The job paid about $8,000 a year.

Petrov called the language section Tuesday and said he was ill. He did not show up for work again.

He was dismissed after James J. Wadsworth, deputy U. S. delegate to the UN, relayed to Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld the justice department charge that Petrov "had attempted to obtain information vital to the security and defence of the United States."

The justice department said Petrov tried to get classified data about physical specifications and flight characteristics of certain U. S. military planes from an aircraft company employee. It added that the Russian did not succeed.

Immigration Only Helped

Bulk Of Population Increase By Births

OTTAWA (CP) — Immigration has helped Canada increase her population but more than 95 per cent of the rise in the last century was from Canadian births.

The high Canadian birth rate — sixth highest in the world in 1954 — combined with the world's second lowest death rate provided the main dynamic factors which helped Canada build up a population of 15,000,000 in 1954 from 2,400,000 a century ago. The current population has been roughly estimated at 16,000,000.

These and other facts of Canada's growth, the survival of her mothers and babies, the characteristics of marriages and divorces and the impact of medicine and religion in this general field are detailed in a new bureau of statistics study released Friday.

The bureau said religion exerts such a strong influence on marriage in Canada that in 1954 the brides and grooms of about 71 per cent of all marriages were of the same religious denomination.

It is noted also that while the Canadian birth rate has climbed, the number of illegitimate births also has increased. The total rose to 3.9 per cent in 1954 from 2.6 in 1925.

But the most striking fact, said the bureau, is that more than 95 per cent of Canada's population rise during the last century has been due to natural increase.

In that period of a century, life expectancy has increased from some 45 or 50 years in 1851 to more than 66 years for men and 70 years for women in 1951.

The number of babies dying before reaching their first birthday was reduced. In 1851, the deaths were between 100 and 200 for each 1,000 of live births; in 1954 they were down to 32.

The rate of marriages in recent times has dropped though it is higher than in the 1920's. The rate dropped to 8.5 for each 1,000 of population in 1954 from 8.9 in 1952-53 and the peak of 10.9 in 1946. It compares with 7.9 in 1921 and 6.4 in 1931.

Divorces, rare in Canada prior to the First World War, rose to a high of 7,683 in 1946, eased slightly and dropped to 5,922 in 1954.

Urges U.K. Announce Government Plan In Cyprus Struggle

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Nicosia's Mayor Themistocles Dervis today urged Britain to announce immediately a self-government plan for Cyprus.

Such a move, Dervis asserted, could save the "deteriorating" situation on this Mediterranean island colony.

Dervis is chairman of the Greek Nationalist party and a member of the inner cabinet of the Greek Ethenarchy Council, chief organization of the dominant Greek Orthodox Church. He also is spokesman for other Greek Cypriot mayors.

In an interview with the newspaper Times of Cyprus, Dervis said Britain's recent surrender offer to the EOKA underground complicated the situation.

"What the real motive was in demanding surrender at such a time, I do not know," Dervis said. "It leaves me no doubt at all that although they (the British government) had an opportunity to make a quick end of the whole question, they did not want to do so because they never intended at any time to give the people self-government and self-determination."

EOKA, the fighting underground force of the movement to unite Cyprus politically with Greece, declared a truce Aug. 16 in a bid to negotiate the future status of the British colonial island.

Britain followed with a surrender offer that gave EOKA members the choice of going to Greece and seeking Greek citizenship or staying on Cyprus. If they remained here and gave up their arms, the surrender terms stipulated they would not be prosecuted unless they were connected with crimes involving the killing or wounding of someone.

EOKA has threatened to end its truce by midnight Monday unless the British withdraw their surrender terms. Tension eased on the island after the truce was announced, but British officials said Friday night a 25-year-old Greek Cypriot was killed and a youth wounded seriously in an explosion near Larnaca. They said the blast apparently was caused by a bomb.

Three weeks ago she underwent an operation to bypass an intestinal obstruction.

Three weeks before the intestinal surgery, Mrs. Zaharias underwent an operation to sever sensory nerves to the lower part of her body. The operation was to relieve pain.

Recently, government informants said the March forecast by Mr. Harris likely will be well short of the actual surplus by year's end next March 31. They estimated it may reach about $300,000,000.

Last year Mr. Harris originally forecast a $160,000,000 deficit, which later turned out to be deficit only $33,000,000.

Princess Margaret has accepted an invitation to come to British Columbia for this province's centennial celebration in 1958.

"She will spend an extensive period here during B.C.'s centennial year," the newspaper said in a front-page story. It said its information was obtained "exclusively" and that "officials insisted today on keeping mum about the visit."

Premier Bennett and other officials declined comment, the newspaper said.

Condition Of "Babe" Zaharias Said Not Good

GALVETON, Tex. — (AP) — George Zaharias said Friday the condition of his famed athlete wife is "not good" but the hope is where she is fighting cancer said the Babe is free from pain, cheerful and determined.

Zaharias' statement was the first time that he failed to express optimism publicly. The Babe has been fighting cancer since 1953.

Three weeks ago she underwent an operation to bypass an intestinal obstruction.

Three weeks before the intestinal surgery, Mrs. Zaharias underwent an operation to sever sensory nerves to the lower part of her body. The operation was to relieve pain.

Princess May Visit Vancouver

VANCOUVER — (CP) — The Sun says Princess Margaret has accepted an invitation to come to British Columbia for this province's centennial celebration in 1958.

"She will spend an extensive period here during B.C.'s centennial year," the newspaper said in a front-page story. It said its information was obtained "exclusively" and that "officials insisted today on keeping mum about the visit."

Premier Bennett and other officials declined comment, the newspaper said.

Surplus Continues To Mount

OTTAWA — (CP) — Fat tax returns from Canadian corporations helped produce a $110,000,000 budgetary surplus on July operations of the federal treasury. The month's mark was not far short of the $113,000,000 surplus which Finance Minister Harris forecast last March he would have for the entire fiscal year.

The July surplus was $47,600,000 higher than that of a year earlier. It brought the total for the first four months of the current fiscal year to $330,364,000 — almost triple the $131,952,000 surplus reached at the same point last year.

Recently, government informants said the March forecast by Mr. Harris likely will be well short of the actual surplus by year's end next March 31. They estimated it may reach about $300,000,000.

Last year Mr. Harris originally forecast a $160,000,000 deficit, which later turned out to be deficit only $33,000,000.

Expect Nasser Will See Envoys In Cairo; Russia Warns West

LONDON (AP) — The five-country Suez Canal committee today hoped for a quick reply from Cairo on whether President Gamal Abdel Nasser will enter negotiations to resolve the Suez crisis.

Australia's Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies, committee chairman, said he would "stay by the phone" until a response came. Menzies delivered to the Egyptian embassy Friday night an invitation for Nasser to meet with the committee delegated to approach him about internationalizing the vital waterway.

There was no immediate reaction from Cairo. Before Menzies' invitation was sent, a source close to the Egyptian president said Nasser had not yet decided whether to receive the committee. Other informed quarters predicted Nasser would act in a "diplomatically correct" fashion — presumably meaning he would at least see the envoys in Cairo.

The committee was set up by the 22-power London conference majority to propose to Nasser that the canal be operated by an international board. Eighteen of the countries attending the parity supported such a plan. The London conference was called after Nasser announced July 2 that Egypt had nationalized the 103-mile Middle East waterway.

It is the second time the Western powers have invited Nasser to negotiate. He rejected Britain's invitation to attend the London meeting which opened Aug. 16.

Several of the conference delegates — including U. S. State Secretary Dulles and the Foreign Ministers of France and West Germany — saw hope that Egypt would accept the majority proposal.

But Soviet Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov warned of serious consequences in the Middle East if the West tries to break Egypt's grip on the Suez Canal. He said military preparations of Britain and France were "flagrant violation of the United Nations charter."

Shepilov departed by plane for Moscow today. Dulles left for Washington Friday.

Russia seemed to be massing its propaganda forces to support a rejection from Nasser of the international control plan. Moscow radio said the plan is "a one-sided ultimatum" backed by "the notorious policy of force."

Some top diplomatic officials in Washington were reported concerned over signs that Russia would accept the majority proposal.

U.S. Abandons Search For Plane Survivors

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — The U. S. Navy announced today it has abandoned the search for survivors of a navy patrol plane downed off the Red China coast.

Vice-Admiral Stuart Ingersoll said the hunt was called off at 10:25 p.m. EDT, Friday after "all possibility of locating survivors was exhausted."

The navy department said the body of one of the 16 crew members was picked up Friday "in international waters" amid the wreckage of the plane about 100 miles southeast of Shanghai. He was identified as technician Albert P. Mattun, Delta, Ohio.

The search ended 59 hours after the plane, a four-engine Mercator, radioed it was under aerial attack off the China coast.

Red China protested that the search conducted by the U. S. 7th Fleet violated Chinese territory. Peiping radio accused the Americans of an "act of military provocation" and of "grave provocation to the Chinese people."

The Peiping radio said late Thursday that Communist planes had damaged a "Chiung Kai-shek plane" about 1 a. m. Thursday over islands southeast of Shanghai. Officials here said no downed plane.

Nationalist Chinese planes were in the area at the time. The navy said the Mercator was on a routine patrol and training mission from Japan when it flashed the attack signal early Thursday. The message went out when the aircraft was 160 miles north of Formosa over international waters, the navy said.

The navy and air force launched an immediate search of the area. In addition to Mattun's body they found two empty life rafts and two fuel tanks from the downed plane.

Three Frenchmen, now making Montreal their homes, reached the English coast on Monday afternoon drifting across the Atlantic on a raft.

Why did they do it? Just to show it could be done, they replied. But the trio soon reaped a profit. A London newspaper paid £7,500 ($21,000) for their story.

The raft was 30 feet square, a sort of platform made of cedar planks. A tarpaulin gave the voyageurs shelter. The long drift began May 24 at Halifax.

The raft's company: Henri Beaudou, 29, Gaston Vanacker, 31, Marc Modena, 27, and two cats, Pou and Gritton. The cats were not allowed to land, because of quarantine restrictions.

This Week's News In Review

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

A hint on how Egyptian control of the Suez Canal might work came out of Cairo Wednesday.

The Egyptian who heads the new organization operating the nationalized waterway made this threat: If British and French canal pilots quit their jobs as some have done, British and French ships will have to wait to get through the canal. They'll be put at the end of the lineup of ships, behind those of every other nationality.

Later, Cairo denied any such threat had been made. But according to the New York Times the denial was a result of the furore the threat had created abroad.

The West had argued that it is to guard against discriminations of that type that a truly international authority to run the canal is necessary. A plan to that end was adopted at the London conference on Suez, which wound up its work Thursday.

The plan will be submitted to Egypt, which is almost sure to reject it. The West's hope is that Cairo may take it as a basis of further talks.

SOVIET VISITOR
The Russian minister of fisheries arrived in St. John's, Nfld., to start a three-week official visit to Canada. His mode of travel was appropriate enough. He came in a fishing trawler, the largest one in the world, in fact.

A. A. Ishkov is the first Russian cabinet minister ever to visit Canada. He is repaying a visit to Russia last year by Canada's Fisheries Minister Sinclair.

FARM NEWS
An article in the London Times said there is a danger of Western Canada farmers becoming "grain technicians" rather than honest-to-gosh toilers of the soil.

With almost 90 per cent mechanization, the London newspaper said, almost no manual labor is needed. The "suitcase farmer" sows his land but lives in the city. After the harvest, he might put in next year's crop, then repair to Miami for the winter months.

From New York came a story about an air-conditioned tractor which would keep the hired man cool the year around. The Cockshutt farm equipment firm announced it has successfully tested such a product. The driver would ride in a cooled, transparent cab attachment.

ATLANTIC RAFT
Three Frenchmen, now making Montreal their homes, reached the English coast on Monday afternoon drifting across the Atlantic on a raft.

Why did they do it? Just to show it could be done, they replied. But the trio soon reaped a profit. A London newspaper paid £7,500 ($21,000) for their story.

CYPRUS TERMS
The EOKA terrorist organization in Cyprus proposed an armistice. Britain's reply: surrender. The surrender terms would allow the rebels to leave the Mediterranean island for Greece (with which they seek to unite Cyprus). Those not choosing to go to Greece would be detained but not otherwise punished unless suspected of crimes against persons.

The EOKA leadership rejected the terms and challenged: "Come and get us." Britain said the surrender offer would be kept open for three weeks.

The Lindbergh Law Reacts

The brutal slaying of little Peter Weinberger — regardless of whether or not the killing is technically regarded as a murder — may indicate that the so-called "Lindbergh Law," under which kidnapping is regarded as a federal offence punishable by death may now be another example of laws passed during a time of high passion which defeat their own purpose.

This law was enacted in face of the widespread indignation which followed the abduction and subsequent slaying of the Lindbergh child twenty years ago. Undoubtedly those who urged its enactment and the legislators who voted for it almost unanimously were firmly convinced that it would frighten would-be kidnapers from even touching a youngster.

It may have prevented a few, or even many, kidnappings. But in several cases, possibly in the Weinberger case, it has had the effect of bringing about the death of the kidnap victim. It has been read into the court records of the United States that on more than one occasion the abductors have realized the tremendous import of their crime and acting on the old policy of "You might as well hang for a sheep as a lamb," have disposed of their victims when their plans began to go astray.

We do not for one second hold the idea that kidnapping is anything but the foulest of crimes and that the abductor deserves little or no sympathy from the public or the law. But what we do believe is that kidnapping in itself should not be made a capital offence. There should be a reasonable encouragement for the kidnapper to return his victim at least alive if not unharmed.

Positively No Comment

With an easy admission of cowardice, we'll decline comment on a clever little fatherly trick that came to our attention recently.

We will merely record it.

It seems that a certain parent, male variety, became tired of seeing his wife and daughter garbed more frequently than not in slacks. "Women," he said thoughtfully to himself, "and especially that wife of mine, were not built for slacks."

So this was his solution, though there was no report whether it had been successful or not.

First of all, he chose occasions when his tactics were sure to draw the desired attention. Then, he simply refrained from showing any of the accepted gallantries to women in slacks, whether they happened to be within his family circle or not.

For example, he neglected to rise when a woman in slacks entered a room. He didn't bother to open doors or to pick up things they dropped. He "failed to notice" that his wife was holding an unlighted cigarette, but graciously leaped to snap his lighter for a "dressed" neighbor.

Interesting! But don't forget. We just heard about it. It's not our idea and mum's the word.

Horses Reduced Accidents

When the farmer stopped having to rest his horses periodically he also stopped resting himself. The failure to observe rest periods and the accompanying fatigue is blamed for many farm accidents, according to a report published by the Health League of Canada.

Motor vehicle accidents are responsible for the greatest share, followed by "work" accidents, including accidents with farm machinery. Among major industries, farming rates third in the number of accidental deaths.

The high level of work accidents on the farm is partially due to the shift from horse-drawn to motor-driven machinery.

"Horses had to be rested periodically, and with this came rest for the driver. Furthermore, the same horses could not be worked 10 to 15 hours a day for several days," the report says, adding that it is not unusual for a farmer to spend more than 10 hours a day in the field with a tractor, especially if he gets a late start because of weather or soil conditions.

Studies show that there is a peak mid-morning and mid-afternoon period during which the majority of accidents occur. Thus, a mid-morning break like that given in most factories is a good idea for the farmer.

Carelessness in the handling of machinery and poor safety design also have contributed to farm accidents. Only in recent years have manufacturers been interested in safety in farm machinery, but the safety devices now provided are often removed by the farmer, inviting accidents.

SOCCER NOW MAJOR GAME HERE

(Toronto Telegram)
One of the most striking developments in Canadian sport is the rapidly growing popularity of soccer football. For this there are several reasons, among them the practice of bringing first-class teams from the British Isles to compete with Canadian athletes. That the kicking game is an attractive spectacle was shown on Saturday when 18,249 spectators gathered in the rain to watch the Moscow Lokomotiv in action against a Canadian All-Star eleven.

Another reason is the steady influx of newcomers from European countries in which soccer is a favorite pastime. At one time soccer here was largely confined to players of British origin. Now it brings together in more or less friendly contest new Canadians of all nationalities, and in times to come it may prove a great unifying influence.

Vatari Artemiev, captain of the Moscow Lokomotiv, predicts that it will replace hockey as Canada's national game, and his reasons may be guessed. As a game it has the advantage that it requires relatively little equipment. As a spectacle, it has the advantage that it is played in the open summer air and can be easily understood by the uninitiated spectator. As soccer players and their supporters come from abroad, the popularity of the game will grow. Whether it will ever displace hockey as the national pastime is a question which may be left to time to answer.

The Soviet soccer captain thinks, on the other hand, that hockey will supplant soccer as the favorite sport in Russia. This may be true for the Iron Curtain bars an influx of soccer enthusiasts, and Russia's climate, like Canada's, favors the winter game, which is one of the finest sport spectacles ever invented. If it does prove true, the Soviet may challenge the admitted supremacy of Canada's best professional teams.

PSYCHIC BID SWINDLES FOE

East and West were swindled in today's hand, but don't waste any sympathy on them. Give North credit for a neat psychic bid that worked like a charm.

North naturally suspected that the opponents could make a game against his worthless hand. There was no way for him to talk them out of all the unbid suits, but he could and did make an attempt to talk them out of the unbid major.

Poor East didn't know what to do when the rebid of two hearts was passed around to him. If North had an honest spade bid, which was entirely possible, it would be very dangerous to step into the auction.

East therefore passed, and South easily made nine tricks at his dummy contract. When the dummy appeared, the defenders looked uneasy. They suspected that they had been done in, and they were right. They could have made 11 tricks at spades.

You, South, hold:

A Sea Deep . . . .

By Rev. B. S. Murray, M.A.

O'er the sea of memory I am travelling today, recalling an August afternoon in the year-year spent by the sea-side. My companion was in a boyish merry-go-round, aerial-stunt kind of mood; Quaker-like I decided to be alone on the beach.

Alone? Not exactly. I never feel that way there. But I did prefer to hearken unto the sea voices that afternoon; and have a rest from human voices.

Sea Voices . . . . . The crying gulls . . . the channel bell . . . the surf beating against the shore . . . the wind . . . here were the voices that intrigued me. I wanted to find out what they were saying, a desire that I attribute to the sea-dog blood in my veins. My forebears, on my maternal side, were Devon men, Devon that bred such as Sir Francis Drake and Sir Humphrey Gilbert who sailed to Newfoundland and took possession of it in the name of Queen Elizabeth, then was lost on his voyage home. I like the poetic description of Sir Humphrey sitting on the deck, the Book in his hand . . . "Do not fear, heaven is near" he said, "by water as by land."

So I like the sea, the deep blue sea. I like the men that go down to the sea in ships and occupy their business in deep waters, (Psalm 157; 23). I like those ships which Longfellow named "floating bridges that span the ocean, bringing man nearer unto man." Somehow those who were born and lived within the call of the sea have a spirit akin to the sea and a strong urge to listen to and to endeavour to interpret what the sea says.

A Deep God Speaks

Sitting by the sea I found that familiar phrase "the deep blue sea" flooding through my mind. I knew it was blue for I could see that. But for its depth I had to depend on those trained to measure it. As I scanned its surface, the vastness, the boundlessness of it overwhelmed me, its depth captivated me.

Unfortunately a sense of depth is one of our modern lacks. Abetted by such slogans as "save the surface and you save all" we have elected to chose to ignore the depth. Thoughts of the sea should correct this for it has both breadth and depth.

With such an expanse of water which covers three-fourth of the earth's surface, no one who thinks without confusion can but clearly reflect that the God who made the sea for the use of man and owns it, is truly a great God. (Psalm 95; 3). Beware lest you forget that the same great God made you and me. Thus the sea which with its trumpet of infinity keeps insisting that infinity is in us too. Those who remember this cardinal fact are so thrilled with the honour of being God's children, made in His image, endowed with reason so that we alone of God's creatures can think His thoughts after Him, and possessed of a never-dying soul, that it is their desire to express their thanksgiving by living a four-dimensional life with the accent on depth.

All such mariners of God, heroes of the sea of life, and eternity, hear the daily call to sail beyond the shore of self and embark on the seas not marked in any chart. There they find depths of spirit never dared before, a new dimension for their land-locked hearts.

To that lover of the sea who penned "It is not only wind and surf you hear. The Infinite is thundering in your ear." The sea preaches a daily sermon, pointing to a "deep" God who keeps calling, calling, calling, to the deep within you, to commit your way unto Him and, trusting Him, to live deeply ever afterward.

Accentuate Depth
If it is adventure you are seeking, here it is. Adventure equal to that of any navigator who ever explored the seas. It is this discovery or rediscovery of God who is merciful and mighty, all-sufficient and adequate that will rest your heart, when you will find peace, contentment and joy, these three.

At the sea-side, by the lake or in your room, wherever you are I invite you to hesitate on God as your maker, defender, redeemer and friend. He will lead you ever deeper into a world beyond the physical senses, interpreting that world of light, color, wonder and beauty "beyond our margins which the physical senses never know."

Thrilled to the depth of your being will you be when you really KNOW that God, with his love, so amazing and divine who chooses to identify and share the realities of your human life with you. In youth "when morning gilds the sky" He is compass for the ship, direction-finder for the aeroplane; in maturity when the cup of life fills He gives enduring riches. When the storm signals are up and the hurricane roars, He gives security, strength, and serenity. And when darkness nears "at evening time it shall be light."

So, the deep in my heart (Psalm 27; 8) calls to the Deep God, who alone satisfies and fills it, thereby affording me those solid joys and lasting pleasures reserved for those who hear the Voice of God calling and with a heart aflame, come, just as they are. And God, in silence, answers, giving strength to tired bodies, light to joyless minds, love to lonely hearts and peace to anxious souls.

My prayer, then, for you is that your holidays will be days of rest and gladness, holy days, and re-invigorated, re-conditioned, with your spiritual batteries re-charged, you will resume "the daily round, the common task" of God has assigned to you, resolved to live deeply.

MY JESUS, AS THOU WILT

My Jesus, as thou wilt;
Oh, may thy will be mine!
Into thy hand of love
I would my all resign;
Thro' sorrow or thro' joy
Conduct me as thine own.
And help me still to say,
"My Lord, thy will be done."

My Jesus, as thou wilt;
Thou' seen thro' many a tear,
Let not my star of hope
Grow dim or disappear;
Since thou on earth hast wept
And sorrowed oft alone,
If I must weep with thee,
My Lord, thy will be done.

My Jesus, as thou wilt;
All shall be well with me;
Each changing future scene
I gladly trust with thee;
Straight to my home above
I travel calmly on,
And sing in life or death,
"My Lord, thy will be done."

"MY JESUS, AS THOU WILT"

For those who know the life story of Benjamin Schmolck, the author of "My Jesus, As Thou Wilt," the sentiment and spirit of this glorious hymn take on a new significance.

Mr. Schmolck, the son of a Lutheran minister at Brauchitzdorf, Silesia, was sent away from home to attend secondary school at Lauban when he was 16 years old. Shortly after his graduation, he preached a sermon in his father's pulpit and his message made such an impression on one of the wealthier parishioners that he paid the youth's expenses through a three-year theological course at the University of Leipzig. Benjamin stayed on for a fourth year and supported himself by writing poetry.

After leaving college, he served for a time as assistant in his father's parish, then he accepted the assistant pastorate of a church at Schweidnitz. In 1714, he became the chief pastor of this congregation. In the years that followed, his ministry was marked by countless trials and discouragement which again and again, demanded that the young clergyman live in the spirit of the sentiment expressed in his hymn.

The counter Reformation had caused the Lutherans to lose their churches at Schweidnitz. They built another just outside the city walls—a little edifice restricted by law to timber and clay construction, and without tower or bells. It was the only church permitted to serve the people of 36 surrounding villages.

Here Benjamin Schmolck lived out his life of service, meeting all obstacles and defeat with patience and humility. How often, during those dark, trying years he must have sung:

"My Jesus, as Thou wilt;
All shall be well for me;
Each changing future scene
I gladly trust with Thee."
He died in 1737, on his wedding anniversary, following a lingering illness. His illness, however, never conquered his sunny spirit and he went out bravely in the happy faith of his hymn:
"Straight to my home above,
I travel calmly on,
And sing, in life or death,
"My Lord, Thy will be done."

Later in the week, Mrs. Simoneau, assisted by Mrs. J. M. Thomson of Rock Island, held Open House so that Sister Henriette might meet her friends at the Boundary. Many people called to extend their congratulations, the guests including Rev. George Guay, parish priest of the Church of Our Lady of Mercy.

The rooms were decorated with seasonal flowers and refreshments were served from a lace-covered table, centered with a bowl of pansies. Mrs. Farrow and Mrs. Frank Huitson poured. An anniversary cake, decorated in silver and white and topped with a miniature nun, was cut and served.

Sister Henriette was presented with a purse of money, with best wishes for many more years of teaching in her beloved convent. The recipient expressed her appreciation of the opportunity of meeting her friends and thanked them for their gift.

Cards Of Thanks

We sincerely thank our friends and neighbors for their kindness in arranging the party for us at our home in honor of our 40th wedding anniversary. For the gift of money, flowers, cards and telephone messages, to all who brought food or assisted in any way. Especially do we thank Mrs. Ernest Dewing, Mrs. John Campbell and Mrs. Donald McErea. We are deeply appreciative to each and everyone on this memorable occasion.

In Memoriam

SMITH — In loving memory of my beloved husband, Henry, who passed away August 26, 1951. It was the month of August when I stood by an open grave. As I watched them lower a loved one I would have given my life to save. But I knew my thoughts could not awaken. That soul in silent agony. So I laid down my heart beside him. And silently walked away. Time does not heal a wound so deep. It merely eases pain. But I will remember you, dear Henry. 'Till we meet again.
Always remembered by,
HIS WIFE, JESSIE.

HOLTHAM — In loving memory of our dear parents, Frank, who passed away August 25, 1948, and May, who passed away April 19, 1955. Deep in our hearts they will always stay. Loved and remembered every day.
JOYCE, BERNICE & BERNARD, SONNY & LUCILLE, EARL & EILEEN.

NORRIS — In loving memory of our dear husband and father, George R. Norris, who departed this life on Aug. 26, 1948. August brings sad memories, Of our loved one gone to rest; He will always be remembered, By the ones who loved him best.
MRS. GEORGE NORRIS & FAMILY.

BELLAM — In loving memory of our dear parents who passed away Mother, Florence A. Bellam, Aug. 25, 1955; Dad, Joel E. Bellam, Jan. 2, 1952. We were always welcome, No matter what the weather. Those faces in the doorway Always smiled the same; Mother'd have a clean print apron on. Her neat hair all ashine, And always glad to see us come. Was that Dad of mine. We were always welcome. No matter what the weather. How they always loved to get, Their family all together; I like to think when life is done. Wherever heaven may be. That they'll be standing in the door. Up there to welcome me. Sadly missed by:

Working Hostess Must Plan Parties

How does a mature woman who has gone to work outside the home manage to keep up her former standards of entertaining as a beautiful hostess? It takes a little practice. It also takes a little less entertaining. The parties and dinners she gives can be just as gracious and as much fun as before, but there will probably be fewer of them. Meal planning should be done so that there is a minimum of work to be done upon arrival home.

Clothes for the evening should be cleaned, mended and sorted almost like a fireman's outfit. When a woman gets home from work, everything she's going to wear should be laid out or hung up so that she can get right into them.

If she usually takes a bath, a woman should plan on a quick shower between work and the arrival of company. She should also schedule things so that her husband can have one, too, if he wishes.

Setting the table, setting out glasses, chilling soft drinks and filling the ice trays can be done in the morning.

The hours of work that lay the groundwork for a dinner party—dusting, vacuuming, polishing silver, marketing—must be invested on weekends or in the evening. So a working woman will, quickly find she can't have a dozen parties a month and stay feeling peppy and rested.

A week in which a dinner party is planned should be organized around it. Preparations are made in advance, cleaning up and catching up are done afterwards, over several days.

Mr. Stanley Ashton, brother of the bride, acted as best man for Mr. Graham and the ushers were Mr. Gorm Bell, of St. Catharines, Ont., and Mr. Croft Caw.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church hall where the wedding cake, decorated by Mrs. Croft Caw, centered the bride's table.

Mr. and Mrs. Graham later left by air for a three weeks trip to Newfoundland, the bride travelling in a dark brown suit with beige accessories. On their return they took up residence in Montreal.

Think Of Entire Family When Decorating A Home

By RUTH MILLETT
Sue has just furnished a new house and it is as pretty a picture of a home as you'll ever see in a decorating journal.

Sue's friends are asking each other, "Have you seen Sue's house? It's lovely and it is exactly like Sue."

What's wrong with this picture? Well, it so happens that Sue isn't a career woman, living alone with only herself to please. Sue has a husband and two children. But look from one end of the house to the other and you'll find no traces of their interests, their personalities or their tastes.

From front door to back, upstairs and down, it is definitely Sue's house. And that is how all of their friends unconsciously refer to it.

In her zeal to have a home that is perfect for entertainment, in her desire to have a home that will impress her friends, in her narrow view that a home should express HER personality and preference, many a wife like Sue makes a home that the rest of the family must fit itself into as best it can.

A daughter's bedroom turns into what the mother thinks a girl's bedroom ought to look like, not an expression of the daughter's tastes and individuality.

A son's room must look like a picture of a boy's room. Never mind whether he can display his treasures and store all of his keepsakes that come under the adult term of junk.

As for the man of the house, he just has to fit in as best he can.

Such houses may make a woman proud. They may be a flattering background for her. They make other women "ooh" and "ah."

But are they homes?

DENNIS THE MENACE By Hank Ketchum

* YOU MEAN I COULDN'T HAVE ANY CANDY THIS AFTERNOON ON ACCOUNT OF THIS ? *

The Province of Quebec, the cradle of Canada, has a rich tradition as the birthplace of Canadian agriculture. Throughout the years, the land has provided the source of livelihood for the larger part of its population.

In this great agricultural development the Eastern Townships, that rich area radiating from Sherbrooke which is known as the Queen of the Eastern Townships, has long been to the forefront. It stands as a leader in animal breeding and field crops, in dairying and poultry, in beef cattle and maple products, etc., while keeping to the fore in industrial and commercial fields.

Urban communities provide excellent markets for the sale locally of farm produce and the rural population constitutes a first class market for manufactured goods. This mutual assistance builds up a very healthy economic situation and is beneficial to the community.

It gives me great pleasure to urge consumers to visit the agricultural sections of the Sherbrooke Fair and see for themselves the choice products offered them by farmers in their own districts. I particularly invite them to visit the exhibit of the Provincial Department of Agriculture showing how the Provincial Government aids in promoting agricultural prosperity.

An unflinching barometer of the progress registered from year to year in the picturesque region lying south of the St. Lawrence River, the Sherbrooke Fair is a credit to its organizers, to the population at large and to the Province.

HON. LAURENT BARRE
MINISTER OF AGRICULTURE

It is with great pleasure that I extend a welcome to everyone in the Eastern Townships, and beyond it, to visit the Seventy-first Annual Sherbrooke Exhibition. The Provincial Government is, of course, extremely interested in these exhibitions which mirror the industrial and agricultural development of our Province.

This year the Department of Lands and Forests have an exhibition at the fair stressing the importance of forests in the national life of Canada, and showing how fortunate is the Province of Québec in her forest resources — the exhibit stresses, too, the need for proper care of this rich natural gift. I believe it would be both instructive and interesting for each of you to visit this exhibit.

Finally I wish to congratulate the directors of the Eastern Townships' Agricultural Association and all who worked with them to make this exhibition the best ever, Good Luck, and see you at the Fair.

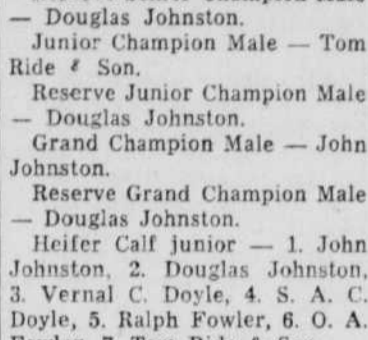

Lt.-Col. the HON. J. S. BOURQUE,

Minister of Lands and Forests and Hydraulic Resources.

MAIL COW TESTING PLAN

AN INCONTESTABLE BREEDERS' GUIDE

Although there is a fair number of dairy farmers actually taking advantage of the Provincial Mail Cow Testing Policy, the percentage of those using this incontestable guide to herd improvement is almost too low.

The benefit and numerous advantages deriving from the continuous practice of cow testing, organized and supervised by our Livestock Branch, cannot be over emphasized.

By so doing the dairy farmers may:

- 1.—Find out cows in his herd that are good milkers and those which are not.
- 2.—Eliminate boarder cows which necessitate much labor and feed without any profit, and often at a loss.
- 3.—Feed economical and balanced rations to milking cows according to their individual milk production.
- 4.—Establish the transmitting ability of his herd sire of those used at the Quebec Artificial Breeding Center.
- 5.—Make an easier choice of replacement heifers, the basis of all anticipated successes.

Mail Cow Testing practices is a very simple operation, and furthermore only a small entry fee is required from dairy cattle breeders who are really anxious to increase their farm income. Any farmer of this province may adhere to the plan at any time of the year. Ask for application form at your agronomer's office or at the "Mail Cow-Testing Section", Department of Agriculture, Parliament Buildings, Quebec City.

LEN O'DONNELL'S Sport Shots and Pot Shots

MARILYN BELL MAKES IT SECOND TIME Canada's marathon queen, Marilyn Bell, came through with another fine display when she conquered the famous Juan de Fuca strait from Port Angeles, Wash., to Victoria in the record time of 10 hours, 38 minutes.

It was her second attempt on the strait and kept her amazing record intact. The 18-year-old sweetheart from Toronto has emerged unbeaten after tangling with Lake Ontario, the English Channel and the Juan de Fuca for the "grand slam" of swims.

The finish of her epic struggle was a real battle against high waves and the game little youngster was forced to give everything she possessed to reach the wharf. She was determined to conquer it and went the limit to do so.

An estimated crowd of between 25,000 and 30,000 was on hand to greet her and follow her throughout her last grueling miles. When she was about four miles from her goal, fighting a heavy chop and brisk wind, she stopped swimming for a moment, shook her finger at Gus Ryder and said: "No matter what happens, what I say, in the next few hours, don't pull me out." She was making sure of finishing.

Marilyn has certainly proven that she has fight, grit and determination and has made herself a niche in the sporting world with her fine performances. We must admit that she is in a class of her own and is a wonderful idol for all youngsters.

The Richmond Darts League has called a meeting for Wednesday at 8.00 at St. Jacob's Hotel. President George Berwick is hoping that all clubs will be represented. Any new groups wishing to join are asked to be on hand for the gathering.

The Sherbrooke-Lennoxville Little League rapidly is coming to an end and it looks as though St. Pat's Old Boys sponsored White Sox will walk off with the honors.

Coach Gerry Daniels' boys require one more victory out of their three remaining games to wrap up the title and if they continue at their present pace it looks as though it is all over but the shouting. The remaining games of the schedule are slated to commence at 6.00 instead of 6.15. President Ted Anderson is making the change to allow more time to finish before darkness.

The battle for second spot looks as though it will go right to the wire with the Athletics and the Indians battling it out. One slip would give the other squad a big advantage with each team going all out to win the favored runner-up spot.

Competition for the 18 berths on the Olympic squad certainly has turned into what can be termed, "The Battle of the Best." Some 200 athletes are in Hamilton fighting it to earn themselves a trip to Australia. Of the group 12 men and six women will be chosen. It looks as though chances of making the grade are pretty slim with all the stars on hand.

The Montreal Alouettes open their Big Four season this afternoon at 2.00 and the game will be carried over Sherbrooke's new station CHLT-TV. They will meet the Toronto Argos minus Tom Dublinski and are favored to post their first win. The Argos without their star quarterback and passer are kind of an unknown quantity.

There was no news from behind Toronto's "Iron Football Curtain" but it seems as though Gerry Doucette will get the nod for the quarterback slot ahead of Ed Songin and John Stephans are still with the Argos. Ronnie Knox certainly made an impression in his Canadian football debut with the Tiger-Cats.

The Hamilton squad dropped their opener to Ottawa Rough Riders but they don't seem to be worrying very much about it. They are all worked up about their new addition, Ronnie Knox from UCLA. It looks like a tough season all around. No more push-overs at Ottawa.

Big Don Newcombe of the Dodgers is the first 20-game winner of the major leagues this season. He made it with a verdict over the homer-happy Cincinnati Redlegs on Thursday evening and at the same time it kept the Dodgers close on Milwaukee's heels.

The Braves are still rolling along despite all the pressure and from the look of things it doesn't seem to worry them much. They were forced to come from behind Thursday but rallied with homers by Thomson, Aaron and Logan to knock over the pesky Phillies.

The National League race looks as though it will go the whole way while over in the American only a miracle could knock the Yanks out of first place with their comfortable eight-game lead. The Indians are the closest but it looks as though they lack the required power to do anything.

The annual Sherbrooke Fair opens this afternoon with the Conklin midway in full swing while this evening Ralph Flanagan and his R.C.A. Victor recording orchestra will be on hand to get the Fair away on a swinging foot.

There will also be races while tomorrow afternoon the card will be held instead of the evening owing to the night show. Boom Boom Geffrion, of the Montreal Canadiens, will be on hand this evening and will make the presentation of the special door prizes. Tomorrow afternoon it will be Jacques Plante who will be the visiting guest on the "Parade of the Champions" which is staged by Dow Brewery in the main building.

Flanagan's orchestra is recognized as one of the top bands in the country and the executive of the Fair figured he would be a good attraction for the opening night. So don't forget to drop around and hear one of the best in the business this evening at the Arena.

Jr. Free-For-All Handicap Pace Main Feature Tomorrow Afternoon; G. W. Gagnon's Maryland Lady Entered

A Junior Free-for-all Handicap Pace is the main feature on tomorrow afternoon's racing card and will see eight of the top side-wheelers in action. This evening another nine-race fixture is slated with post time at 8.15 while tomorrow the bugle call will sound at 2.00.

Maryland Lady, owned by G. W. Gagnon, will be making her return to the local track after a brief sojourn in Montreal. Adelaide Dumas' little mare, Mary G. Herbert, will be trying for her first victory for quite some time.

Amedee Beaudoin and his Direct Harvester have drawn the seventh slot while Fabi's General Gallon, fresh from her double win this week, will get away from the eighth position. Combs' Clever Volo has sixth spot in the field and is rated as the horse to watch in the class.

The Coombs horse is one of the strongest finishers along with Direct Harvester and can come down the stretch to nip the rest of the field. Fabi's General Gallon seems to have at last struck his racing form and following his double win in 2.10 4/5 and 2.11 on Wednesday can be reckoned to be right near the top.

Another good class is the "DD" Trot with another good eight-horse field to fight it out for the top money. Fabi's Helen Van, if she stays on her feet, could well lead the field home. Buster Hucks' Maryland Queen must be considered following her performance in placing second in 2.15 Wednesday.

The list of Sunday's starters follows:

- 1ST & 4TH - D. PACE Purse: $200.00
1-RIDGETOWN, E. Cote.
2-LADY BROOKE C. C. Denault.
3-DANNY PRINCE GRATTAN, V. Larose.
4-MISS RUTH GRATTAN B. O. Morin.
5-NANCY'S HIGHNESS, R. Jutra.

By WHITNEY MARTIN NEW YORK (AP) — Inasmuch as Mickey Mantle is being compared to Babe Ruth in everything but appetite, a friend suggests a check of the relative merits of the pitching Ruth faced in 1927 and Mickey is facing this year.

That's asking the impossible. You might as well argue that Jack Dempsey could lick Joe Louis, or Rocky Marciano would knock out John L. Sullivan.

You just can't compare athletic performances of different eras unless a yardstick is available, and who is to say whether the pitching of the 20s was better than it is today or the hitting was worse, or vice versa.

About all you can discover from checking the list of Ruth's victims and those of Mantle this year is that both sluggers played the field with little discrimination.

Ruth hit his home runs off the best pitchers as well as patsies, and Mantle is doing the same. In racking up his 60 home runs in 1927 Ruth hit them off a total of 32 pitchers. Mantle, as of Thursday, had 42 home runs off 31 pitchers.

This would indicate that Mickey is a little less discriminatory than the Babe, who seemed to have his favorites, including Rube Walberg and Milt Gaston, off whom he hit four apiece. Mickey has hit four off the Senators' Camilo Pascual.

Seven pitchers were Ruth's victims three times, and eight were two-timers. Mantle has nicked Bob Lemon for three home runs, and Lou Kretlow, Ed Burtschy, Herb Score, Paul Foytack, Billy Hoelt and Virgil Trucks for two each.

Dodgers Lose Clem Labine For Four Weeks

CINCINNATI (AP) — Pennant hopes of Brooklyn Dodgers received a rude jolt Thursday when x-rays disclosed that relief pitcher Clem Labine has suffered a chipped bone in his right wrist and would be out of action three to four weeks.

Labine was struck while batting in the top half of the ninth inning Wednesday night in St. Louis by Cardinal hurler Larry Jackson. He pitched the bottom of the inning and saved a 5-3 victory for Roger Craig.

After the game Labine said his wrist had become numb, and when the Dodgers arrived here Thursday he was taken to hospital.

Physicians said the cast would be on Labine's wrist for two weeks and that he probably would be unable to pitch for three weeks, or a month.

The righthander set a Brooklyn club record Wednesday night by finishing his 42nd game. He has saved 16 games for the Dodgers this year, and has a 9-6 won and lost record.

Johnny Peirson Signs Again With Bruins

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Bruins announced Friday that veteran forward Johnny Peirson has signed a contract for the 1956-57 National Hockey League season.

The veteran right-winger had a 20-goal average for six years in the NHL before he retired two years ago. He came out of retirement last year and in 32 games rapped in 11 goals.

Brown Wins Fight Crown In Upset

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — "I had to gamble, it was the only way to win," a tired but happy Joe Brown said today, nursing a broken right hand but holding a newly-won lightweight championship as balm for his wounds.

The 30-year-old ex-carpenter from New Orleans, who fashioned quick reflexes and a stinging left jab as tools of his trade, finished with a whirlwind rally in the late rounds to lift Wallace (Bud) Smith's title Friday night.

Brown, the target for Smith's pursuit during most of the 15-round, smashed the 27-year-old Cincinnati titleholder to the floor twice in the 14th round. Smith rose from the canvas weary and dazed and a target for Brown's right in the final round.

Members Of 1954 Red Wing Team In Liquor Deal

MONTREAL (AP) — President Clarence Campbell of the National Hockey League Friday confirmed Detroit reports that Red Wing players had been involved in carrying liquor across the international border two years ago and that some of it had been found in a Detroit gambler's home.

Campbell said he knew of the situation at the time—the 1954 Stanley Cup final between the Red Wings and Montreal Canadiens.

Mayor Nadeau Will Officially Help The Sherbrooke Athletics To Open Their 1956 Season Here Tomorrow Afternoon

When he boots the first ball against the Quebec Bulldogs at the Park Avenue Stadium. Game time is 2.00, rain or shine.

The Athletics are making a return to the league following a two-year layoff and will present practically a complete new lineup. Only eleven performed with the former club while fifteen have never played the game before.

Coach Warren Berwick has been drilling the team for two weeks and a half which doesn't give very much time to brush up on all the angles. Harry Hodge is the trainer of the local team and that has kept him pretty busy rubbing out the kinks and looking after the bruises. He has done a grand job and the boys really appreciate him.

The Quebec squad according to all reports will field a pretty strong club with plenty of experience and football sense which will come in very handy. Three Rivers is the other team in the loop and the winner of the section will meet the Montreal champions.

Ailing Argos Tangle With Alouettes Today Minus Dublinski, Pfeifer And Shipp; Coach Walker Is Worried

MONTREAL (AP) — The teams that staged just about the thriller-diller of the 1955 football season meet today in their opening date of the Big Four schedule.

Montreal Alouettes play hosts to Toronto Argonauts and if the game is anything like the 1955 eastern final it will be a spectacular one in its own right. In that memorable battle each team slugged it out with gobs of touchdowns and Alouettes finally finished in front 33-38.

There will be many of the same players on the McGill Stadium field today but only one of the two pass-throwing field generals is expected to perform. Tom Dublinski of Argos is still suffering from an injured leg and his place likely will be taken by young Gerry Doucette. Ed Songin and John Stephans may also see work at quarterback.

Sam Etcheberry will again lead the Al's in their effort to keep in tact their long string of victories on their home grounds. Alouettes' last loss here was to Hamilton Tiger-Cats Nov. 22, 1953.

Redlegs Drop Five Games Behind As Braves And Dodgers Triumph; Yankees Blank White Sox 2 To 0

Manager Birdie Tebbetts' Cincinnati back of the leaders with a 4-4 loss to the second place Brooklyn Dodgers, who broke up Larry Jansen's comeback magic on homers by Duke Snider and Carl Furillo yesterday.

The victory kept the world champions within two games of the first-place Braves, who combined brawn with Warren Spahn to defeat Philadelphia 6-1 as Joe Adcock and Ed Mathews homered.

Fourth place St. Louis handed Pittsburgh a seventh straight defeat, 6-2, while the last place New York Giants were coming within range of both the sixth-place Pirates and seventh-place Chicago by defeating the Cubs 5-4 in 11 innings.

In the American League, the Chicago White Sox 2-0 behind Johnny Kucks' four-hitter that produced his 17th victory. Cleveland remained eight games behind the first place Yankees by defeating Boston 5-3. Detroit rallied in the ninth to trim Baltimore 4-1 and Kansas City swept past Washington 8-4.

The two-run homers by Bell and Post hoisted the Redlegs into the major league record books with a total of 41 home runs in 21 consecutive games. The old record for home runs in any number of consecutive games was 40, set by the Yankees as they wrote a 1941 record by hitting one or more in 25 consecutive games. Brooklyn had held the record for 21 games, with 38 in 1953.

CARS ARE MY LINE!

Unlike almost every other piece of machinery, an automobile has to be kept not only in good running order, but also in good stopping order.

The car manufacturers have recognized this and one of the sidelights that's been largely overlooked in the so-called "horsepower race" is that as engines have become more powerful, the car makers have been turning out brakes that are larger and more efficient.

But, I'm afraid, most people don't pay much attention to their brakes until the car begins to pull to one side, or the brakes begin to fade.

Pulling to one side can have a lot of causes. A rear spring shackle that's too tight can do it, or a coil spring that's weak can pull a car over to that side.

The pull may be on the opposite side of the car to where the trouble is. We find cars pulling to the right because the line to the left front brake is clogged. Or a car will pull to the left if a little brake fluid gets on the right hand brake lining.

Lovenguth Wins 21st As Leafs Maintain Edge

Toronto Maple Leafs still held their 3 1/2-game lead in the International League today, but Miami Marlins had broken the three-way tie for second place.

The Leafs turned back Havana Sugar Kings 5-3 Friday night by snapping the jinx which pitcher Rudy Minarcin had held over them for seven games.

The Marlins were the only one of the Leafs' three closest pursuers to win. They dominated Montreal Royals 7-1 while Richmond Virginians turned back Rochester Red Wings 3-2.

The Virginians and Wings now are 4 1/2 games back of the Leafs.

In the other game, Buffalo Bisons edged Columbus Jets 2-1. Before Friday night's game Minarcin, a member of the Toronto club in 1954, had beaten the Leafs four times without a loss this season and three times in 1951 while hurling for Buffalo.

Lynn Lovenguth became the first Toronto pitcher to win 21 games since Luke Hamlin turned the trick in 1943. He checked the Sugar Kings with six hits and hit a home run in the fifth, drove in another with a single and tallied the Leafs' fifth run in the seventh.

Toronto To Stage Special Welcome For Marilyn Bell

TORONTO (AP) — Swimmer Marilyn Bell is to be welcomed on the steps of city hall when she returns from her triumphant swim across the Strait of Juan de Fuca, Mayor Nathan Phillips said Friday.

"I think that is what the people of Toronto would like us to do," he said.

Members Of 1954 Red Wing Team In Liquor Deal

MONTREAL (AP) — President Clarence Campbell of the National Hockey League Friday confirmed Detroit reports that Red Wing players had been involved in carrying liquor across the international border two years ago and that some of it had been found in a Detroit gambler's home.

Campbell said he knew of the situation at the time—the 1954 Stanley Cup final between the Red Wings and Montreal Canadiens.

"The customs people were fully aware of what had happened," said Campbell. "They told the Detroit management, in effect, you had better tell those guys to quit."

Asked if the situation then brought any suggestion that the cup series be cancelled, Campbell said there was no consideration at any time of cancellation and any suggestion that there was "is nonsense."

Within An Hour... Someone Will Be Burned To Death

America's annual sacrifice to fire is 10,000 human beings and three hundred million dollars worth of property. The frightful loss of life averages about 30 people per day—more than one an hour. Most of the victims are women and children.

We all fear fire and particularly dread the idea that a fire may break out while we are sound asleep and that we may be overcome by smoke and burned to death.

Sleeping families—women and children—helplessly trapped in their homes—perish in the night. They didn't expect the fire any more than you expect one. Had these fires been discovered when they started, it would perhaps have been a different story—probably no story at all.

Most fires could easily and quickly be extinguished if discovered in time. If you have never experienced the shock of standing helplessly while a fire consumes your home and possessions, you cannot realize what a feeling of security one has when a proper equipment is installed to immediately give you warning that fire has started.

"The GARDSMAN" Fire Detector and Alarm doesn't give a fire a chance to gain control—it sounds a loud alarm almost as soon as a predetermined heat is reached. "The GARDSMAN" is a Fire Detector and Alarm complete in itself that does not depend on the human element to start

THE GARDSMAN eliminates the danger of being trapped by fire

it, nor does it depend on electrical power—batteries—fuses, or the like. It is a strongly built mechanical device, controlled by a sensitive metal thermostat which starts the alarm when the temperature indicates danger.

An overheated furnace is detected by this delicate instrument, which sends out warning of possible danger. Simple to install, no maintenance expense and the cost very low. Come in right now and see a demonstration or ask us to send a representative to your home, without cost or obligation.

For a limited time only a modern pressurized push-button operated Fire Extinguishers will be given FREE with each order of a GARDSMAN. (The Automatic FIRE DETECTOR Alarm Bell). For further information on how you may obtain a GARDSMAN, write:
