3 bombs explode in Havana

NORTH HATLEY — The spectacular flash in the sky, reported by many airline pilots in Eastern North America early Saturday evening, was witnessed by Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hobbs, of North Hatley.

Mrs. Hobbs told the Record that she and her husband had arrived at their home from a trip to Sherbrooke about 5.40 p.m.

As she was making her way from the car to the house, Mrs. Hobbs saw this "rather frightening" object in the sky toward the southwest.

She described it as about twice the size of a full moon but somewhat deeper in color. Behind this there was a huge, deep-red glow. As it came up into the sky, the main object became larger but its color remained constant.

Mr. and Mrs. Hobbs watched the object at intervals over a fifteen-minute period. Then the centre of the object disappeared, leaving the duller outside circle.

Mrs. Hobbs said that the object appeared in the sky just about where the sun normally sets at this time of year and that it travelled as if it had been fired from something, leading her to believe it might have been the result of an explosion.

The strange flash was first reported by C. Ward, a Trans Canada Air Lines captain, who saw it while in the vicinity of Bagotville. Several other pilots also reported sighting the phenomenon, including a second TCA flight over Albany, N. Y.

The operator at the Quebec City airport confirmed the brilliant lights

Brief 'strings' are rejected

TORONTO (CP)—Two advertising associations who offered "not for publication" information to the royal commission on publications have been ordered to produce it without strings or face legal action.

Grattan O'Leary, head of the three-man commission inquiring into the Canadian periodical business, issued the order Monday to the Association of Canadian Advertisers, Incorporated, and the Canadian Association of Advertising Agencies.

Warren Reynolds of the agency group and Allan Yeates, president of the advertisers' body, said the two groups made a confidential survey of memberships to determine current attitudes "toward the problems of the periodical publishing industry... and actions that might be taken to remedy them."

Troops tense, ready

New Algeria outbursts feared

ALGIERS (AP)—Moslems in this riot-torn city began burning their dead today, raising fears of new emotional outbursts after four days of bloody violence in which 90 persons died and hundreds were injured.

French troops familiar with Arab emotionalism were tense and ready. Riot police ringed the Moslem quarter and the Casbah. To the east, French President

VIENTIANE (AP)—King Savang Vatthana today stepped into the civil war torturing his jungle kingdom of Laos and ordered Quinim Pholsena to dissolve his infant pro-Communist regime, Savannakhet Radio reported.

Quinim, who charged that Western troops are awaiting to storm this capital, beefed up his defences with arms flown in by the Soviet Union.

Vientiane in effect was under military control of the pro-Communist Pathet Lao and left-wing paratroop Capt. Kong Le.

The king ordered government powers turned over to an anti-Communist regime headed by Prince Boun Oum and Gen. Phoumi Nosavan in Savannakhet, the radio broadcast said. Boun Oum was named premier and Phoumi minister of defence.

But the announcement was expected to have little immediate effect on Quinim's regime in the besieged administrative capital.

Quinim, who integrated his forces with those of the Pathet Lao Monday, has indicated he will ignore any decisions taken by the king "under duress."

SAYS ATTACK IMMINENT
Quinim's government and his military leaders charged that rebel forces backed by four Western powers are about to storm Vientiane.

They appealed to the Western diplomatic corps and the United Nations commissioner here to prevent bloodshed.

They also threatened to turn their guns on foreign troops who, they claimed, have joined Phoumi's forces outside Vientiane.

No independent evidence is available here that Phoumi's forces are supported by any foreign forces or that they are about to attack.

Russian arms—including howitzers and mortars—flown in from Hanoi are being rushed to the city's perimeter. Troops set up mortars at the airport, post office, power station and other strategic points.

(In Washington, the United States, France and Britain called a top-level talk on what is widely regarded there as Soviet military intervention in Laos.)

(In Red China, newspapers called for immediate world action to halt what they called "United States intervention and aggression" in Laos.)

Productive session
Employment measure approved by Commons

OTTAWA (CP)—The Commons trudged productively on the legislative treadmill Monday, giving final approval to a third anti-unemployment measure, first reading to a fourth and beginning debate on the raising of pensions for disabled veterans.

Sent on to the Senate after third and final reading was a bill expanding federal aid for construction of vocational schools and training of personnel.

Introduced was a bill to set up a 25-man productivity council drawn from the ranks of business, labor, industry and civil service technical advisers. Its aim would be assisting the expansion of Canadian output per man in a world grown increasingly competitive.

Veterans Affairs Minister Churchill began debate on the resolution preceding a bill—details still unknown—which would raise pensions for disabled veterans and bring about certain administrative changes.

Lionel Chevrier (L—Montreal Laurier), Liberal floor leader, stuck a needle into the government at one point, urging it to hurry along whatever additional employment legislation it has.

"It seems to us... that far too much time is being taken on this emergency legislation, far more than should be taken under the circumstances," he said.

He complained that eight government supporters had dealt—and often irrelevantly—with the resolution on the productivity council while only one Liberal had spoken.

Will tax Hutterites

OTTAWA (CP)—The federal government has decided to collect income tax from the Hutterite colonies of western Canada, starting in the new year.

The decision announced Monday by Revenue Minister Nowlan ends 11 years of tax exemption for the pacifist sect's farm colonies, which in 1949 were freed from income tax on the grounds that they were religious charitable organizations.

Mr. Nowlan said a government study has revealed that the Hutterite farms are operated as businesses to produce profits. Therefore, he said, the colonies are "properly liable" to income tax.

Individual members of the colonies also will be subject to the tax—as they always have been. However, few of them actually pay tax. Their taxable incomes usually are too low because of the communal nature of the big farms.

Neither cold nor snow stops intrepid stork

NEW YORK (AP)—The one thing old man weather couldn't stop cold Monday was the stork.

A snow plow cleared a path for a police car speeding to the Bronx home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Davis, where a boy was born prematurely to the couple. Patrolmen rushed the newborn safely to a hospital incubator.

Brooklyn patrolman Carmine Dragonetti returned to duty Monday from a 12-day honeymoon and found himself serving as midwife for a 22-year-old woman stranded in her home by drifts.

Phoning his wife for instructions, Dragonetti pulled off the delivery in top form. The parents promised to name the new boy Carmine.

In Queens, a patrol car bearing Police Commissioner Stephen P. Kennedy stopped for a young man waving frantically on the street. Vincent Scibelli, 23, told of his 19-year-old wife, Patricia, in labor with her first child, and no taxis to be had. The police boss and the father-to-be joined forces and got her to the hospital in good order.

Would boot out rebels

HAVANA (AP)—Three bombs exploded in the Cuban capital Monday night, injuring seven persons and giving Premier Castro plenty of proof that opposition to his regime is growing.

Opposition to Castro among labor groups was evident as the giant Cuban labor confederation summoned leaders of member unions to boot out the bosses of this rebellious electrical workers union—the first workers group to stand up openly in defiance of Castro.

Amaury Fraginals, boss of the electricians, led his union in a march on the presidential palace Friday night, shouting "Cuba si, Russia no." Fraginals sought a conference with President Osvaldo Dorticos.

Fraginals and Fidel Iglesias, another electrical workers leader, have been termed "traitors" by the labor confederation.

The government-controlled confederation now appears ready to strip both men of authority.

In another development, official sources confirmed that an airplane, identified as a B-25, dropped thousands of leaflets on three cities in Las Villas province Sunday night. Havana was showered with leaflets early Monday.

The leaflets were signed by the "Democratic Revolutionary Front" and urged all Cubans to join "the invisible army" opposing Castro.

Livestock market

MONTREAL (CP)—Morning offerings on the Montreal livestock markets amounted to 70 cattle, 35 calves, 18 hogs and 55 sheep and lambs.

Two prisoners injured

Police quell inmate riot

MONTREAL (CP)—A heavily armed force of more than 120 city and provincial police quelled a riot early today at Bordeaux jail in north-end Montreal, the second disturbance at the jail in the last six months.

Two prisoners, identified as Roland Jacques Poirier, 28, and his brother Maurice, 30, were taken to hospital with head and hand injuries believed to have been caused by flying glass.

A spokesman at the hospital, confirming the injuries, said both men "seem in very serious condition" but declined to elaborate.

The riot started about 10:30 p.m., when 180 prisoners in one of the jail's six wings broke out of their cells. Police forced them back about 1:30 a.m.

The jail houses about 1,500 men serving two-year terms or less, plus men declared criminally insane or awaiting trial.

More than 250 other policemen were ordered to stand by at their homes and stations in case they were needed.

Cause of the disturbance was reported to be anger at what the prisoners considered cold cells. Temperatures in Montreal were about five degrees above zero when the trouble started.

Precise details on the Bordeaux riot were unavailable hours after it ended. Reporters who telephoned the home of Lt.-Col. Charles E. Gernay, the jail's governor, were told: "Call the prison." Calls to the prison were not answered throughout the night.

A provincial police spokesman said: "I can't tell you anything because I don't know anything." City police said it was a provincial matter.

Last June a riot started in a mental wing during a softball game and three prisoners were wounded by guards in a getaway attempt. There was a small flare-up a few days later.

Maritime storm kills 7

HALIFAX (CP)—A savage pre-winter storm moved out of the Maritimes early today leaving a trail of destruction and death.

Seven people are known to have died in accidents closely associated with the storm which roared in from the Atlantic bringing winds up to 70 miles an hour and six to 12 inches of snow.

Air and sea travel was halted and highway traffic was slowed.

The Maritimes, caught off guard after a hot summer and fine fall, reeled under the impact. Stoves were stoked and house fires resulted. Cars skidded off the highways constantly.

The storm was expected to move north and cross Newfoundland today. Winds were expected to be in the 20s and 30s range in the Maritimes today and there would be a few snow flurries and colder.

FLIGHTS CANCELLED
TOA cancelled all its operations east of Montreal when the storm closed in Maritime airports. Two planes were turned back in mid-flight. It was not immediately known whether flights would resume today.

Waterfront activity here was halted but is expected to resume today. The navy, with three ships at sea, reported that the storm made no serious change in its schedule.

Record cold hits U.S. northeast

NEW YORK (AP)—Record low temperatures and bitter, cutting winds retarded New York City and the northeastern U.S. today as they fought to dig out from the worst blizzard in 13 years.

The storm Monday took more than 120 lives, crippled transportation and brought much business activity to a halt. But the prospect was that many of these same effects would be felt throughout the day.

The temperature fell to nine degrees in New York City today, and in some surrounding areas it fell to near zero. It was the coldest Dec. 13 ever recorded by the weather bureau.

Quebec hospital bill passes in Legislature

QUEBEC (CP)—The government's bill on hospital insurance was adopted by a 41-to-27 vote in the Legislative Assembly Monday, a special-sitting day.

The Union Nationale opposition voted against the way the bill was drawn up, after voting unanimously with the government last week in favor of the principle of the bill, which in effect amounted to saying only that Quebec should have hospital insurance.

The bill goes now to the Legislative Council, the provincial upper House, for approval. The Legislative Assembly sat Monday—Mondays are usually days off—to speed up processing of the bill so the insurance could be effective by Jan. 1 as promised by the government.

Although the Union Nationale has a majority in the Legislative Council, the bill is not expected to be blocked there. Instances of blocking by upper House members are rare.

Main opposition arguments in a long debate on the bill were that it was a copy of federal legislation and not suited to Quebec's mentality and traditions. The bill in effect authorizes the provincial government to sign an agreement with the federal government for Quebec's participation in the national hospital insurance plan. It is the only province that has not yet done so.

Hospitals will participate in the plan, though individual contracts have to be worked out. Insured hospital services will be available to public-ward patients when the plan goes into effect, government members said in the House. Later the services will be extended to outpatients departments.

Premier Lesage said Quebec will not be able to finance its share of the plan out of consolidated revenues alone, as he first thought. A new source of revenue would be sought.

After the bill was passed, Premier Lesage tabled supplementary estimates for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1961 totalling $114,139,828 which included $13,500,000 for hospital insurance.

Hits lack of interest rate action

Bank of Canada examination is urged

TORONTO (CP)—A thorough examination of the functions and responsibilities of the Bank of Canada and of Canada's entire financial structure would be helpful, N. J. McKinnon, chairman and president of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, said today at the bank's annual meeting.

Over the last quarter-century, he commented, there has been an extensive growth of finance companies and deposit and loan organizations operating outside the influence of the Bank of Canada.

He felt that such developments and, more importantly, the problems facing Canada in the international sphere, and recurring movements in interest rates to an extent "much greater than normally desirable," were reasons for the suggested study.

There had been a slight relaxation "of the excessive monetary stringency which existed at this time last year," and there had been a slight improvement in the liquidity of the banking system, though loans in general had continued at high levels.

SHOW NO STABILITY
"Money markets, however, have shown no stability, and interest rates, which had fallen during the summer months, have more recently risen sharply. For a nation whose trade and employment are suffering from a currency valued too highly in foreign markets, it is anomalous that interest rates should again be rising."

Mr. McKinnon said that apart from conflicting views on how to deal with the premium on the Canadian dollar, "an important factor in maintaining the premium is the inflow of funds derived from the high level of our borrowing in foreign currencies."

"There is little doubt that, if our borrowings abroad diminished materially, a trend to a discount on our dollar, instead of a premium, would soon emerge."

NO POSITIVE EFFORT
"There appears, however, to have been little, if any, positive effort by the Bank of Canada to influence the level of interest rates. One may wish that there might be some evidence of a more positive attitude by our central bank, as there is by central banks in other countries, toward exchange and interest rates and the condition of the financial markets in general, which are traditionally in the recognized field of a central bank."

Mr. McKinnon's comments were contained in a text made available to the press in advance of delivery.

Mr. McKinnon said the problem of Canada's growing im-

About Television

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—Television didn't offer much competition to Christmas gift lists during the weekend. With one notable exception it held little of special interest.

The notable exception was Saturday night's CBS Reports program called Rescue and narrated by actor Yul Brynner. It was a graphic and often heart-tearing account of some of the men, women and children who for years have been "rotting" in Brynner's word—in refugee camps throughout the world. Many of these 15,000,000 subsist in squalor and downright day-by-day hunger. But it was not their ragged clothes nor the incredible crowded quarters that was most shocking. It was the

FOLLOWS FAMILY
Although the program showed displaced persons' camps in Africa and Europe, it followed one European family—the Naumovs—from a DP camp to a new life and happy ending in Winnipeg.

The Naumovs, Ukrainians, were relocated in Winnipeg last spring after six years in an Austrian refugee camp. TV cameras followed the family of six on their journey from the camp to a home provided for them in Winnipeg.

The father is a tubercular patient, one of several hundred admitted to Canada during World Refugee Year. He was placed in a hospital for treatment.

The Naumov's story ended with the family's 13-year-old daughter telling her new school-mates that coming to Canada from the Austrian DP camp was "a happy wonder for us."

In the camp, she said, they were "always hungry. But in Canada, we have everything to eat."

Show Business

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Jason Robards Jr., who got his seasoning in television, has been hailed as the theatre's finest new actor.

What is he like? He has been compared to Humphrey Bogart. Actually, he looks more like Bogart's old pal, John Huston — lean, towering, long-faced with unruly hair and burning eyes. He talks frankly, although he was, of course, guarded about his reported plans to marry Lauren Bacall, Bogart's widow. Her name has been mentioned in Mrs. Robard's divorce action in New York.

But Robard did reflect on his early Hollywood days. He isn't a native, but he was born on the way.

"My father and mother were touring in a play across the country, and I arrived in Chicago," he said. "They came to Hollywood and settled here. My father was starring in pictures then, and the living was good. Later, things started to go downhill and the living wasn't so good."

Robards admitted that the roller-coaster nature of his father's career may be the reason why he showed little interest in acting as a boy.

Landing in Manhattan after the war, Robards decided to try acting after all. He did a mess of soap operas and got into TV. He has appeared on 400 shows, the latest being the highly lauded The Iceman Cometh.

Robards Jr. finally made it back to Hollywood, but that doesn't mean he'll stay.

"New York is the place for me," he said. "The theatre is what I like; you can't beat what you get from audiences."

Mrs. Nell Scott, of Montreal, spent three weeks with Mrs. S. B. Warner.

Mrs. Ralph Luxford spent a week end with her daughter, Mrs. A. Davenish, in Montreal.

St. Luke's W.A. Christmas party

MAGOG — Mrs. M. Moynan entertained St. Luke's Women's Guild at her home on Main St., when the pre-Christmas party for the members was held.

Mrs. Levick, president, was in the chair and a donation was made to the Christmas Tree and to the Building Fund of the Church. Miss B. Cunningham was elected as Chairman for the nominating committee.

Rev. Mr. Ripper distributed the gifts to the members. The raffle, donated by Mrs. E. Jackson, was won by Miss B. Cunningham.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by the members.

Meetings will resume on Jan. 11, at the home of Mrs. M. Gustin, Pine St.

Gift drive by Legion

Members of the Sherbrooke Branch of the Canadian Legion turned out Tuesday to officially open the Canadian Legion's Christmas Tree appeal in Sherbrooke.

For the eleventh consecutive year a Christmas tree has been set up in the Bank of Montreal on Wellington Street.

According to E. J. Struthers, Quebec Provincial President of the Canadian Legion, the idea originated in the United States but Syd Hart started the appeal in Sherbrooke.

Over the past 11 years some 1,000 gifts have been donated and given on Christmas day to World War I and II veterans in the three local hospitals and the Sacred Heart Hospital.

From today on until Christmas Day Sherbrooke citizens are asked to donate parcels to the appeal. Wrapped parcels should be taken to the Bank of Montreal where tags will be given to the donor to mark contents of parcel and the donor's name. Money may be donated and pinned to the Christmas Tree.

The money donated will be given to veterans in the form of gifts. On Christmas day, Syd Hart, along with two Canadian Legion members will visit the hospitals giving gifts to the Veterans.

All gifts over and above those needed for the local veterans will be sent to the Ste. Anne de Bellevue Hospital in Montreal where they will be distributed to veterans.

At the Court House

Prison terms for theft

Judge Redmond Hayes sentenced two men to eight and four months respectively after it was revealed Monday morning in District Court that they both had a criminal record.

Fernand Jutras, 19, of Sherbrooke, was sentenced to eight months in Winter street jail after he pleaded guilty to stealing eight cases of beer, a radio, cigars and approximately $75 in cash.

Raymond Goulet, 18, of Sherbrooke, will spend four months behind bars. He pleaded guilty to stealing eight cases of beer.

Judge Hayes imposed the eight-month term on Jutras following the latter's refusal to follow the Court's advice on previous occasions.

"The next time you appear before me," said Judge Hayes, "I will send you to the penitentiary."

In Goulet's case, the Court was of the opinion that the 18-year old youth could be rehabilitated.

nald Larrivee, 24, of St. Adrien de Ham, was fined $150 and costs and his driving permit was suspended for six months after he pleaded guilty to driving his car while under the influence of alcohol and of a second charge of criminal negligence at the wheel of his car.

Ask more forestry engineers

QUEBEC (CP)—The Forestry Association of Quebec Eastern Townships Monday presented a brief to Lands and Forests Minister Bona Arseneault asking for a stepped-up reforestation program and the appointment of more forestry engineers and technicians to serve the 17 counties of the townships area.

The association's brief acknowledged that more than 1,400,000 trees have been planted this year, but said the number was not sufficient to keep pace with the demands of forest industries.

It was suggested that the government build new tree nurseries and enlarge existing ones. The government could also consider buying plants from private nurseries.

The association said only five forestry engineers have been appointed to serve the Eastern Townships—an average of one forester for each 2,280 square miles.

More forestry engineers were needed to assist wood-lot owners, who hold more than 95 per cent of the forested land in the Eastern Townships.

Because of the importance of the pulp and paper, lumber, and furniture manufacturing industries, the brief said, the provincial governments should appoint technicians to study more efficient replacement of birch and cherry trees.

Bank Governor to address Bishop's study conference

The Conference on Canadian Studies will be held at Bishop's University on March 17 and 18, 1961. C. L. O. Glass, Principal and Vice-Chancellor, announced Monday.

The theme of the conference will be "Canada in the Fifties", J. E. Coyne, Governor of the Bank of Canada, will be the main speaker. The conference is under the general guidance of D. C. Masters, M.A., P.Phil., F.R.S.C., Professor of History at Bishop's University. Hon. Mr. Justice D. C. Abbott, P.C., D.C.L., LL.D., of Ottawa, Chancellor of the University, will act as chairman at the main meeting of the conference.

The conference will consist of three panel discussions and a public meeting at which Mr. Coyne will deliver his address. The panels include such speakers as J. W. Pickersgill, Member of Parliament for Bonaville-Twillingate, and formerly minister of Citizenship and Immigration; W. T. G. Hackett, assistant general manager of the Bank of Montreal; Prof. Desmond Pacey, head of the English Department of the University of New Brunswick; Ralph Gustafson, well known Canadian poet and a graduate of Bishop's; W. B. Nesbitt, Parliamentary Secretary, Department of External Affairs.

In making this announcement Dr. Glass emphasized that this was one aspect of a continuing effort on the part of the University to serve the cultural and academic needs of the community. The general public is invited to attend all sessions, and discussions from the floor at the panel meetings will be encouraged.

Council confusion

Rival delegations squabble over shopping centre exits

Confusion reigned for a short time at the regular weekly meeting of the city council Monday night when three delegations of Sherbrooke taxpayers met simultaneously with the aldermen to present three differing ideas on the same subject.

The subject was the controversial question of whether or not exits from the new shopping centre onto residential Lomas Street should be opened and if so, whether the whole street or part of it should become commercial.

Delegation number one, composed mostly of merchants from the shopping centre represented by Paul Brazeau, local attorney, proposed that the two connecting roads from the shopping centre onto Lomas Street remain open as exits and entrances. Their chief argument was that of convenience for their customers, "a large section of the Sherbrooke population."

Delegation number two, made up of several proprietors on Lomas Street, proposed that the barriers now in place on these two exit-entrances should remain in place. They argued that the increased traffic caused by having them open was detrimental to that residential area and a hazard to life and limb.

The third delegation, also made up of several proprietors on Lomas Street, were neither for or against opening these exits, but asked that if they were opened, Lomas Street should become commercial. They maintained that the much-increased traffic to and from the shopping centre made their street a commercial area, anyway, so it might as well be zoned as such.

Utter confusion was the order of the day when these three groups entered and began arguing with one another as well as with various members of the council. In addition, some of the aldermen did not at first realize that they were facing three delegations rather than one.

Finally the several spokesmen stepped forward and presented their views. Mr. Brazeau said that the group which he was representing hoped for an amicable solution to the problem and were ready to abide by any "legal" decision which was taken.

The other two groups noted that while they would also abide by any "legal" decision taken they had no intention of permitting a compromise.

On that note, after some twenty or thirty minutes of arguments and counter-arguments, the meeting ended with Mayor Armand Nadeau calling for further study and a possible judicial decision.

City business

Lowest tender failed to meet city specifications

Tenders for the traffic light system at the intersection of Galt, Alexander and Larocque Streets were opened at the meeting of the city council Monday night, but neither of the two submitted was accepted pending "further investigation."

The tender submitted by one company over $2,000 lower than that of the other, did not conform to specifications.

A request by University of Sherbrooke students for a $1,000 grant to help subsidize their week-long winter carnival was turned down by city council Monday night.

The aldermen also decided not to place an ad in their annual magazine — at $150 — but voted them a grant of $300 as the total contribution of the city.

Increase shown in jobless

Unemployment in the Sherbrooke district has risen considerably in comparison with both last month and November 1959. J. E. Charette, manager of the Sherbrooke Unemployment Commission announced Monday.

In his report, Mr. Charette said the number of unemployed applicants last month reached 4,424, compared with 4,119 in October and 4,159 in November 1959.

In November there were 3,210 registrations; 1,023 referrals; 707 placements. In November 1959 there were 3,188 registrations; 645 referrals, and 467 placements. In October 1960, there were 3,064 registrations; 743 referrals, and 557 placements.

As for insurance, the report stated that in Sherbrooke and its sub-offices in Richmond, East Angus and Coaticook, claims have climbed to 2,125, an increase of 31 over October, 1960, and 150 over the month of November, 1959.

Budget is under fire by C. of C.

Following the regular meeting of the Sherbrooke Chamber of Commerce on Monday a statement was issued concerning the City Council's recent decision to reduce the mill rate by two mills.

The chamber reiterated the stand it had taken in August recommending that the mill rate be reduced in proportion to the increase in taxable value of the new roll, which would have had the result of obtaining the reduction in the mill rate and at the same time bring about a balanced budget.

The Chamber pointed out that the City Council's method of reduction results in the presentation of an unbalanced budget.

J. L. Gauthier, delegate of the local chamber to the provincial chamber, announced at the Monday meeting that there was a possibility that the next provincial convention would be held at Seven Islands.

Proper lighting of King Street West from Jacques Cartier Boulevard to Burlington Street will cost the city about $90,000, the aldermen were told Monday night.

This brought on a discussion as to which type of light was best — the fluorescent or mercury vapor lamps. Advocates of the latter type of lighting were more numerous.

The construction of four four-apartment houses, known as "Quadrex" homes, was approved by the council.

Each of the four apartments in the houses have several rooms on the ground floor and several on the second floor and each has two entrances.

Their construction will require a modification of the zoning by-law but plans for the buildings have been recommended by town planner J. C. Lahaye.

The number of active claimants at the end of November 1960 for all district offices, the report concludes, represents an increase of 817 over October, 1960, and 150 over the month of November, 1959.

Clearings drop

Sherbrooke Clearing House totals for the week ending December 8, 1960, were $2,801,096.67, reports Y. Beaulieu, manager of the Sherbrooke Clearing House.

Totals for the corresponding week during 1959 were $4,462,811.85, while the totals for the corresponding week during 1958 were $3,678,692.98.

Shefford Township Council hits proposed route of expressway

Members of the Shefford County Council have vigorously opposed the plans for the new Sherbrooke-Montreal Autoroute in a long memorandum forwarded to the Sherbrooke city council, on the grounds that political pressures have been brought to bear on the project and private interests have excluded certain areas from benefiting from the new super-highway.

However, West Shefford, Waterloo and St. Alphonse de Granby have not supported the Shefford group.

The memorandum further contended that much of the Shefford area had been ignored in the plan and that it would continue to be ignored in spite of any protests.

Mayor Nadeau of Sherbrooke and Mayor Boivin of Granby previously stated that the Committee of 14 — formed to promote the Autoroute — had merely tried to satisfy the greatest number not individual groups.

Mayor Nadeau admitted that the Autoroute direction problem was a ticklish subject, but he stated the present plans would provide the greatest good for the greatest number of communities in the Townships.

Mayor Boivin earlier stated that any other division in planning the Autoroute would only serve to frustrate and show progress on the project.

Both also stated that it was important that the Autoroute serve the important tourist areas of Mount Orford, Lake Memphrémagog, Waterloo and Farnham.

In part, the brief stated: "Unhappily, the turn of events on the subject, divergence of opinion, pressures brought to bear and various compromises have led to considerable distress in our region... and we have formed a new committee... to suggest a new route."

"Our attitude is not one of protest or of controversy, in spite of the fact that the wishes of the County of Shefford will be disregarded, but we believe... it will slow up indefinitely, the progress of the project."

"Thus we do not ask that the Autoroute pass through one town and not another, but rather in the straightest possible line from one point to another. To lengthen it by another 10 miles will just add to economic difficulties for all the areas concerned."

Mayor Nadeau also pointed out that it was not in the best interest to end the road at East Angus, but that the Sherbrooke-East Angus road join it to make the Autoroute more accessible for people in that region.

"We may have made suggestions," said Mayor Nadeau, "but it was up to the government to make the final decision."

Commenting further on the memorandum, Mayor Boivin stated that not all the Mayors of Shefford County municipality supported it. He cited West Shefford, Waterloo and St. Alphonse de Granby among the ranks of supporters of the present plan.

Come for tree, steal lion cub

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—While Jesse James was opening a can of peaches for his supper, an Indian and two white men stole a lion cub from his trading post.

James, the operator of the Stage Coach Trading Post, told police that the trio entered his store Sunday night, saying they were looking for a Christmas tree.

James went ahead with his supper. After the Indian and the two white men left, James discovered someone had reached into the lion cage and lifted out a female cub, right under the nose of her mother and four other cubs.

Pete Lucas, owner of the animals, has offered $500 reward for the cub's return.

Commissions undermining democracy

The proposal of the Union Nationale Opposition in the Quebec Legislature that the administration of the Quebec Hospitalization Insurance Act be placed in the hands of an independent commission is but another in a long line of proposals that is rapidly changing Canada, and many other countries, from democracies into bureaucratic dictatorships.

Two basic reasons underlie the tendency to hand this or that legislative function over to an "independent" commission. First is a belief in many quarters that such a commission could carry out certain undertakings much more efficiently than civil servants who are responsible to the cabinet and thus to parliament. Second is desire by politicians to relieve themselves of responsibility for the application of some law of whose wisdom they are doubtful — either from an administrative or political angle.

Considerable doubt exists as to the validity of the first argument. There have

Widened job opportunities

Observing a ten-year-old watching a television educational or even science fiction series emphasizes the amazing variety of occupations open to the youth of today as compared with the rising generation of thirty or forty years ago.

Think of the wide changes from the day when a boy's ambition was confined largely to being a railway engineer, a fireman, a baseball player or even a newspaper reporter.

Today, the field of television itself offers careers which were unknown half-a-century ago. For the more adventurous there are openings as space scientists, submarine commanders, missile and rocket designers; for the more cautious, there are such lines as electronic mechanics.

A look into the past

In his great work, "The Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire," Edward Gibbon gives his reasons for the disappearance of Rome as the great world power.

The following reasons given by the British historian may provide thought for many people on this continent today:

1. — The rapid increase of divorce, the undermining of the dignity and sanctity of the home, which is the basis of human society;
2. — Higher and higher taxes and been too many instances in the past of "independent" commissions becoming a law unto themselves. Free from control by governing bodies they have embarked upon programs that were wasteful in the extreme or have ignored the public interest in carrying out pet schemes of their own.

Members of legislative bodies find such commissions a convenient whipping post to evade their own responsibilities. Faced with a difficult decision between duty and political expediency, too often the member comes up with the bright thought — hold a commission responsible.

In some cases, such independent commissions have performed important services to the country but in the overall picture the menace to our democratic processes more than offsets such benefits as may result from whittling away at the powers and responsibilities of the elected representatives.

data processors or even bull-dozer operators, professions which have developed within the past fifty years.

Even if there are complaints that the moderns are too prone to become conformists, this should not be applicable to the employment field. A recent classification lists some 42,000 different specialties open to young Canadians or Americans.

This variety of occupations might be one of the reasons underlying the supposed trend to uniformity. The more ambitious individual, who a few years ago might have found an outlet for his originality in erratic behavior, today may be so busy developing new industrial processes by day that he is content to follow along more traditional lines in his leisure hours.

the spending of public monies for free bread and circuses for the populace;

3. — The mad race for pleasure, sports becoming every year more exciting and more brutal;

4. — The building of gigantic armaments when the real enemy was within, the decadence of the people;

5. — The decay of religion — faith fading into mere form, losing touch with life and becoming impotent to warn and guide the people.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

SOUTH SAVES HEART KING

South went through all the motions before playing from dummy. At least he appeared to go through all the motions. Eventually, South decided that West was more likely to have led from a queen than from an ace, so South played the ten of hearts from dummy and beamed delightedly at North when East won with the ace.

Unfortunately for South, East abandoned the heart suit and shifted to the jack of clubs. Now

South had to lose four fast club tricks.

South was discouraged and pointed out to his partner that he was just unlucky, but that he had saved one trick by his brilliant decision at trick one.

South did guess correctly at trick one, but he also made the wrong play. His correct play would have been to call for the king of hearts and to drop his five spot on East's ace.

If East shifted to a club South would be down two, but East might well have played his partner for five hearts to the jack and led back a heart, in which case South would wrap up his contract with at least one extra trick.

2 Spades Pass ?

30,000,000 watch and fear

When Franco goes, what of Spain?

Alan Harvey, chief of CP's London bureau, has made a reporter's tour of Spain. In this story he tells of the difficulties the dictatorship is likely to encounter after Franco goes.

By ALAN HARVEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer
MADRID (CP)—Thirty million passionate people are waiting for the cork to be pulled out of the fizzy bottle that is Franco Spain. They are waiting, and fearing. The stopper in the bottle is General Francisco Franco, a wintry little man on a white horse, and there may be an explosion when he goes.

Or there may not. A personal forecast, based on a two-week visit, is that there will be confusion, perhaps chaos, but little bloodshed. The legions of maimed men, diminishing now, recall what happened last time. Nobody wants another civil war.

Conscious of Franco's bad press abroad, the visitor may see things differently inside Spain. Persistent reports that this elemental, fiercely proud, inward-looking country is seething with unrest can almost surely be dismissed. Old hands say there is no discernible focus of opposition.

Franco runs a totalitarian regime and few have any fondness for him, but in his cold unlovable way he represents values cherished by a static society. That is the drama of Spain.

They don't like him and they can't let him go.

CHURCH BONDS STRONG

The visitor's strongest impression may be of a clinging conservatism. Tradition has the strength of steel in a predominantly agricultural country that has never known the softening influences of the Protestant Reformation, that reacts truculently and instinctively against anything threatening home, family and—above all—religion.

In the land of the donkey and the cross, orthodoxy is triumphant. Roman Catholicism is a powerful force, particularly among women. It is the spiritual cement binding an anarchic and restlessly individualistic people. It makes Spain one of the most staunchly anti-Communist countries in the world.

Paradoxically, Communists are practically the only tight-knit opposition. The 30 or so "democratic" parties are hopelessly divided. A daily barrage of Communist propaganda is aimed at Spain from Prague, Moscow and even Peking. If Franco died suddenly, possibly the only take-over attempt would come from the Communist underground or a few "exaltados"—fanatics.

BLAME COMMUNISTS

The political atmosphere seems less oppressive. People talked freely of Franco, even in public places, but none admitted sharing Republican sentiments during the civil war. Several spoke of "atrocities" committed by the Republicans and seemed to regard the war essentially as a Communist onslaught against Spain's established order.

Time and again, fiery Spaniards stressed the importance of tradition and religion.

"Religion is something we have in our bones," said 23-year-old Mari Alvarez de Sotomayor, articulate member of one of Spain's oldest families.

"We imbibed it with our mother's milk. Centuries of religion result in a certitude about life that comes out in the great moments. We may be absolutely mad, and frivolous about small things, but in this we are absolutely serious. We know what things are important, we know that life is hard, and we know how to die."

Spain, the traveller perceives, has fire in its blood. Here in this arid, self-dramatizing land, where civilization flourished long before Christ and Christian North fought Moslem South for eight centuries, a thousand dreams of glory lie buried in the tawny dust.

ENEMY OF DEMOCRACY

Now, a mellowing process may be at work. Perhaps 21 years of peace have doused the Iberian flame. Perhaps a thin slice of Western-style prosperity, increasing with Spain's tentative return to the European economic fold, may appease old passions.

How bad is Franco, really? British editor Ian Gilmour says the regime in rejoining Europe is like a prostitute trying to be a nun. American author and correspondent H. L. Matthews called Franco "one of the most tenacious and outstanding enemies of democracy in the world."

Observers seasoned in Spanish politics temper their criticisms of the austere, purple-lipped generalissimo from Galicia in the northwest corner of Spain. For some, this is a comfortable society. The diplomatic carousel goes round and round in tasteful apartments; maids are cheap, diplomats live in the millionaires' section of Madrid and have swimming pools in their gardens.

Allowing for such possible bias, there still seems a feeling that Spain is "different," a case apart. It has never had a strong middle class and workers are not well organized. When there were free elections, in the first quarter of the century, they were usually "arranged."

NEED TOUGH BOSS

In one of the most probing sentences written about Spain, British writer Gerald Brenan described it as a society that "puts the deeper needs of human nature before the technical organization required to provide a higher standard of living."

Spaniards themselves say they

are unruly and need a tough boss. Franco, single-minded, devout, with the military man's belief in iron discipline, probably sincerely believes he has divine blessing.

He rules subtly, distributing judicious concessions to the groups that keep the intricate wheels of his coalition in motion. Army, church, big business and labor organizations are kept carefully in line. As soon as a personality emerges, Franco chops him down to size.

Strikes now are classified as crimes of military rebellion, enabling strikers to be brought before military courts for trial and sentence.

Bright spirits suffer in Spain. Lacking outlets in a manipulated society, the talented and energetic feel themselves "superfluous men." Manuscripts moulder in desk drawers, unsubmitted to an iron censorship that restricts foreign films mainly to westerns and whodunits. A Shakespeare born in 20th century Spain, like the mute, inglorious Milton of Gray's poem, would "blush unseen, and waste his sweetness on the desert air."

MONARCHY PROMISED

What happens next? Technically, Franco is committed to a holding office as long as there is breath left in him. He was 68 Dec. 4. He lives carefully and can point to forbears who died at 102 and 94.

One detached observer, a close student of Spanish politics, says if elections were held pretty much the same group would be returned. There hasn't been a general election since Feb. 16, 1936.

The pretender to the throne is 47-year-old Don Juan of Bourbon, a great grandson of Queen Victoria. He waits patiently in a villa on the Portuguese Riviera, indifferent to reports that Franco is "grooming" the pretender's son for the job. The 22-year-old Don Juan Carlos is not regarded as a careful figure.

A forecast is that in three to six years, Franco will hand over to a prefabricated regime, headed by a strong prime minister who would be given a term of five years in a bid for stability. One name mentioned is that of Alberto Martin Artajo, Catholic leader and former foreign minister.

Meanwhile Spain waits, chafing yet apathetic, straining at the leash but seeing no escape.

"They're a pretty good bunch of people, the Spaniards," was one comment. "They need leaders but nobody is interested in leading—except leading the good life."

Tomorrow: Government divided on joining European economic partnership.

POWER MEANS EGGS
ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Resources Minister W. J. Keough says that five years after electrical power comes to the lush Cochrane Valley on Newfoundland's west coast, farmers will be producing 1,000,000 dozen eggs annually. It might also result in development of other industries such as raising mink, cattle and sheep.

SPANISH LEADERS — Spain's totalitarian regime under General Francisco Franco (right) kept itself politically and economically isolated from Europe for more than 20 years. But in the last 18 months Foreign Minister Fernando Maria Castiella (left) has been working to strengthen Spain's international links and contacts. (CP Photo)

1960 a mixed year for sports fishing

By BEN WARD
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Low water and poor catches in the Atlantic provinces; an intriguing rumor of a 16-pound speckled trout in Quebec; an outstanding year for Manitoba, and a 62-pound spring salmon in British Columbia caught by a girl only a few pounds heavier—these were the highlights of a mixed year of sport fishing across Canada.

Eastern anglers generally had to work harder for their catches while Westerners enjoyed one of the best seasons in years.

A cross-Canada survey by The Canadian Press indicates that at least 5,000,000 persons went fishing in the country this year, including about 1,000,000 from the United States.

Abnormally low water levels played havoc with salmon fishing in the Atlantic region. In Newfoundland some smaller rivers practically dried up and the salmon catch was down to about 18,000, well below the record year of 1958 when more than 22,000 were taken.

Nova Scotia and New Brunswick had the driest summer in 35 years, cutting drastically into salmon and trout fishing. The salmon catch in Nova Scotia was lowest on record.

TUNA AT HALIFAX
A couple of bright spots helped to offset the general decline in salmon catches. A 14-pound German brown trout, a variety introduced into Newfoundland only a few years ago, was caught at New Harbor in Trinity Bay. And a new tuna area came into prominence with 29 of the big bluefin landed off the mouth of Halifax Harbor.

Quebec fisheries officials were startled by a report that a woman had caught a 16-pound speckled trout in the northern Chibougamau district. A game department official sent to investigate was told that the fish, 26 inches long, had been turned over to a Cree guide who ate it.

Blocked by the difficulty of getting information from the Indians, who speak little or no English or French, the fisheries department gave up the quest for confirmation of what might have been the largest speckled trout ever caught. It left intact the world record of 14 pounds, eight ounces, set more than 40 years ago in the Nipigon River of Northern Ontario.

Manitoba was one of the high spots in the national picture. Outstanding catches were reported from every section of the province, but notably from Gods Lake and God River in the far north.

BIG TROUT AND PIKE
Gods Lake yielded a 50-pound lake trout and a 33-pound pike, according to records kept by Bert Kooyma, provincial fisheries branch director. A brook trout of six pounds, eight ounces was reported caught in Gods River. The Winnipeg River gave up a wall-eyed pike (pickered to most anglers) that weighed just short of 13½ pounds.

Mr. Kooyma said there was no apparent explanation for the unusually productive season.

"The fishing continued generally good through July and August instead of running into the usual summer doldrums."

Salmon fishing was "fabulous" in the Kitimat and Queen Charlotte Islands area of British Columbia where fish of better than 70 pounds were frequent. Rivers Inlet, 300 miles north of Vancouver, was one of the few disappointments. Normally good for 1,000 trophy salmon (over 30 pounds) in a season, it recorded only 70 this year.

EVEN CONTEST
For B.C.'s top fishing thrill of 1960 it was hard to match the feat of eight-year-old Yvonne Mitchell of Vancouver, a 66-pound girl who took a 62-pound spring salmon at Comox on the east coast of Vancouver Island.

Alberta had an "open year" with no closed seasons on any game fish. Catches of rainbow, cutthroat, brook and lake trout were excellent in most areas. One trend this year was the growing popularity of fly-casting

Crash probe intensified

PLATTSBURGH, N.Y. (AP) — The U.S. Air Force said today it will dispatch ground and air searchers in full force today to look for the last of eight airmen missing since Friday night when they parachuted from their disabled jet bomber into the Adirondack Mountains.

Seven were found alive over the weekend. Their B-52 jet bomber crashed near Barre, Vt., about 100 miles east of the search area.

A parachute believed to be that of S. Sgt. Pierre Maheux, 27, was described as an experienced woodsman and the air force said it is optimistic of finding him.

Now he has him now he doesn't

PIEDMONT, Calif. (AP) — "Have your escapee George Collins, 50, in jail here. Come get him." Police Chief William Pfaff wired prison officials at Chino, Calif., Thursday.

But Monday morning the chief discovered that Collins had:

Fashioned a pick from a jail bed spring, unlocked his cell door, unlocked the cell next door without waking the two sleepers in it, placed the lock pick in a captain's office, and walked out.

"Don't come for Collins," the chief wired Chino. "He's gone."

Ex-royal butler makes debut in yellow cutaway

DANIA, Fla. (AP)—Princess Margaret's former butler made his debut Monday night as butler in the "royal box" at the Dania Jai Alai Fronton.

Portly, silver-haired Thomas Cronin stalked about in a yellow cutaway, serving champagne to guests in the box.

He also greeted parties at tables in an adjacent dining room. Some guests asked for his autograph.

Cronin was hired by Roy McAndrews, owner of the Fronton, after leaving the princess' household.

Jai Alai is a strenuous wall game something like handball only a wicker scoop is strapped to each player's arm to trap and hurl the ball. In Florida the game is played at Fronton or courts licensed for pari-mutuel betting.

Dania is about 15 miles north of Miami.

The "royal box" is the Fronton's name for a reserved area for special guests.

HITS LACK OF INTEREST

balance of international payments in recent years is not altogether due to foreign investments, which often tended to be self-sustaining by serving markets elsewhere. A major factor arose from Canadian borrowings abroad.

NEED SAVING FOR GROWTH
Mr. McKinnon said healthy and sustained growth will require capital investment, and therefore saving, both corporate and personal.

He said there is no more reason for discouragement now than there was for excessive optimism a year ago.

"While we must face the future with realism we should not forget that Canada possesses a more diverse economy than at any other time in our history, and our internal strength and resilience have improved greatly over the last quarter of a century. Given wise and courageous management at every level, we can face the future with confidence."

Upholds decision

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States Supreme Court unanimously upheld Monday a decision of a three-judge federal court in New Orleans which swept aside special Louisiana laws to preserve segregation. The high court's action keeps in force the lower court rulings which threw out a variety of laws enacted by the Louisiana Legislature with the aim of blocking school desegregation.

Rambler American and Classic again win Gas Economy Test

IN THE RECENTLY CONCLUDED gas economy test, conducted by the Toronto Daily Star, a Rambler American "Custom" with standard transmission and a Rambler Classic "Custom" with automatic transmission again topped their respective classes. The gas mileage figures above represent the average achieved in exhaustive tests, which included stop-and-go traffic as well as high-speed highway driving.

This latest victory proves once again that Rambler is way out in front when it comes to gas economy. But gas economy is only part of the Rambler economy story. Figure out the important savings you get from such features as the ceramic-armoured muffler, guaranteed for the life of the car during original ownership, Rambler's reasonable prices and traditionally high trade-in value and Rambler's quality construction which helps cut maintenance costs to a minimum. The Doctor Says

—TESTS OF NEW DRUGS HOLD PROMISE FOR ACNE VICTIMS

Until recently I was reluctant to recommend special types of treatment for the pimply youngster who failed to control the eruption of acne through conscientious application of the home treatment plan, previously detailed.

Attempts to correct the balance of hormones in the blood, by giving effective doses of female sex hormone (estrogen) over the necessary period of years, invites risks for girls as well as boys.

Long-term treatment with anti-infective agents attacks the problem at the wrong end, beside placing a heavy strain on the family pocketbook.

X-ray treatments may not, in themselves, deliver enough dosage to encourage the later development or growth of a malignancy. But when the dose they deliver is added to the amount of radiation each of us receives from atmospheric and food contamination, there may be a risk that's far too great to assume in order to get rid of facial blemishes.

A few months ago I was able to report the first promising approach to solution of the acne problem.

Following the discovery that the tissues, but not the blood, of acne patients contained an excess of sugar, a team of Canadian physicians decided to treat what they called "skin diabetes" with one of the drugs used in the treatment of true diabetes mellitus.

For their experiment, they chose tolbutamide, a sulfa-like drug sold under the trade name of Orinase. To their delight, the experiment proved successful. Shortly thereafter, confirmation was obtained from American observers.

Since the drug cleared the eruption without lowering the blood sugar, it appeared likely that, as in the case of true diabetes, it produced its happy effect by stabilizing the glandular imbalance, perhaps by direct or indirect action on the pituitary governor.

It is, of course, too soon to be certain of the tolbutamide effect, and of its safety when given over the necessarily long period of time.

Its administration merits consideration, under strict medical supervision, in the cases of youngsters who have failed to benefit from conscientious trial of the home treatment plan, of sensitive adolescents who go into a "tail spin" each time a pimple puts in an appearance, and especially of personages whose career or livelihood is so dependent on facial appearance.

Christmas program delights large audience at Y.W.C.A.

A most delightful program of Christmas music was the highlight of the tea held at the MacKinnon Memorial on Saturday afternoon, given by the Singing Girls of Sherbrooke, under the direction of Mrs. Lois Ogilvie Blanchette.

Opening most appropriately with Schubert's Ave Maria, each number was expertly rendered and showed the versatility of the singers. Outstanding was the Lord's Prayer by A. Malotte, sung in Latin which brought out the rich full tones of the singers. In a lighter vein, The Sleigh by Koski was rendered to the tinkling of sleigh bells.

The program also included Bless This House by Taylor and Brahe; The Carol of the Drum; Silent Night by Cruber and the finale, Merry Christmas written by Mrs. Blanchette.

The whole program was given unaccompanied and was well received by a large and appreciative audience.

The choral group and their director was introduced by Miss Margaret Haight, president of the Board of the YWCA and Mrs. Fred Bampton, vice president, extended thanks to the singers for a most delightful program.

The gymnasium, where the tea was held was beautifully decorated in the Christmas theme, two tall lighted Christmas trees each side of the stage forming a lovely setting for the choral group in their turquoise lace gowns.

The tea table with its colorful Christmas cloth was tastefully arranged with a beautiful Yuletide centerpiece and slim red candles. Novel candles in crystal holders centered the small tea tables.

The many guests were received by Miss M. Haight and Mrs. F. Bampton and the cashier was Miss Gwen Norris.

Pourers during the afternoon were Mrs. F. S. Rugg, Mrs. H. Clark, Miss M. Haight and Miss D. Lee.

This most successful and entertaining affair was held under the general convensership of Mrs. G. Spafford and Mrs. B. Simms.

Personals

Mrs. L. Peterka has returned to her home on Durham Street, after spending the past two months in England where she visited her mother and other relatives.

For holiday evenings

This dance dress for the holidays is both young and dramatic. It's done in shocking pink taffeta by Seymour Jacobson, has jeweled bodice and little capelet lined with rows and rows of net ruffling.

Fashion

Making your clothes money do the most for you is chiefly a matter of learning that simplicity in dress is both smart and inexpensive. This means avoiding fluffy ruffles and fancy draping.

Be ruthless about weeding out your wardrobe. Get rid of anything which you have not worn for two years. Have in your closet only those suits, dresses and coats which are really getting use.

Glass beads are such hot fashion today that the Indians could probably buy back Manhattan with enough of them. Newest shades include purple, ruby, sapphire, avocado and olive in both three and five strand lengths.

BLIND POPULATION
An estimated 23,000 persons in Canada are reported blind.

Pointed tips for makers of funny get-well cards

A friend just out of the hospital has a stack of the sick, sick, sick type of "funny" get-well cards to remember the experience by. He says there ought to be a printed warning on the envelopes of such cards:

"Do not open until after recovery."

He claims there is nothing funny about a broken leg, or an operation, or a serious illness to the person who is smack dab in the middle of it.

Such cards, he says, probably seem hilarious to the writer who thinks them up and a riot to the hale and hearty friends who buy and send them. But they don't seem funny to the one who gets them—not that is until he has recovered his sense of humor along with his health.

He has another suggestion in case the makers of the funny get-well cards don't take to his first idea. In that case, he hopes they will put another line of cards on the market—a type of card to be sent to the sender of the isn't-it-hilarious-that-you're-in-the-hospital type of card.

This return card could be as insulting as a comic valentine and would give the patient a way of getting even with his healthy,

St. Paul's Sunday School holds Christmas tea, sale

The spirit of Christmas was brought out in the beautiful decor in St. Paul's Church hall on Saturday afternoon when members of the Sunday School and teachers sponsored a well attended Christmas tea.

Beautiful Nativity silhouettes arranged on the walls and tiny angel replicas in their gossamer white, pink and blue gowns and silver and gold wings reflecting in the light of tall white tapers gave a quiet Christmas beauty to the hall.

Adding to the colorful scene the tea table was arranged with a bright Christmas centerpiece and white tapers in silver holders. This lovely display was arranged by Mrs. A. Boryk and her daughter Sonia.

The guests were received by Miss Allola Graham with Mrs. Don Hutchinson acting as cash-on-Liturg.

Pourers during the afternoon were Mrs. R. S. Jervis-Read, Mrs. Ralph Caunter and Mrs. Irving Richards.

The guests were served by the Sunday School children under the supervision of Miss Cheryl Nugent.

Duties in the kitchen were carried on by Mrs. Hartley Graham, Mrs. Clarence Mayhew, Miss Beverley Benton and Miss Joyce Murray.

The work table was in charge of Mrs. Norman Winslow and Mrs. Hubert Nugent while the fish pond was looked after by Miss Jean Smith and Miss Diane Caunter.

The candy table was in charge of Miss Wendy Hutchinson and Miss Nancy Richards.

Soft recorded Christmas music gave a delightful background for a most successful tea the proceeds of which will provide Yuletide fun for the kiddies.

OUR LADY OF GOOD COUNSEL

The regular meeting of Our Lady of Good Counsel took place recently in the Canon Fiset Memorial Library, with the president, Miss A. Hand in the chair.

Rev. Julien Clark opened the meeting with an interesting talk on Liturgy.

This being the last meeting before Christmas plans were made to send cheer baskets to missions in the west; the Manitoulin Islands' parcel was shipped last month.

Hospital visiting report showed 110 visits to the local hospitals. Eleven workers gave 104 hours at the Cancer Dressings Station. It was also stated that 3 Ditty bags are being sent by the Stella Maries to the Catholic Sailors club in Montreal.

The meeting terminated with the president extending Christmas wishes to the members.

Beauty Tips

Use a light finger on the pressure-packed scents. A little "whoosh" goes a long way.

Bangs are not the best choice for anyone with a low forehead. But if you have a low forehead and still feel that bangs would enhance your other features, be sure to start them well back on your head and have them end just below the hairline.

A day in your life in century 21

By WARD CANNEL
(Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)
SEATTLE (NEA) — Brief reminder: as of New Year's Eve, it's only 39 years to the 21st Century.

But in this immediate future, according to Ewen Dingwall, general manager of Seattle's Century 21 Exposition, there's so many big changes in store for us earthlings that it's going to take 74 acres of exhibits just to hit the high lights.

Well, here's how your life may change in these few years before 2000, according to one researcher for the 1962 Seattle world's fair. She is Jane Armstrong, a veteran science reporter, assigned by one of the fair's major planners, Donald Deskey Associates, to find out what Mr. and Mrs. Consumer are in for.

It's 3 p.m.—end of the work day. Irving Consumer of the Predictor Corp. closes his information retrieval unit. Irving's job is finding out what's been done via electronic memory units about one or another problem so that his superiors can decide whether proposed inventions or discoveries can ever be invented or discovered.

At home, Gladys Consumer is getting ready for dinner. At her core unit in the kitchen she consults her home computer to find out how many calories, vitamins, etc. her family will need tonight and what kind of menu will supply it. She is interrupted by the laundry man who has come to pick up the used paper sheets and clothing for re-pulping and remanufacture.

At this moment, Irving arrives home in his inflatable airplane (it's almost ready for delivery now). Gladys takes the frozen dehydrated food out of the closet—not the refrigerator—and puts them into the solar oven. She checks one part of the core computer for proper cooking and another to find out where the children are.

Then she comes into the living room to relax with her husband. They've given up smoking and drinking, of course. Instead, they use an electro-thermal high frequency stimulator—the size of a pencil—to massage their skins. Irving places a coded card into the news machine to find out what's been happening. And together they watch the sun set through the controlled weather. (There hasn't been an air accident for years.)

JANE ARMSTRONG: Sometimes she gets a bit uneasy.

Tonight there's a slight change in plans. The Consumers were going to visit Irving's parents, grandparents and great-grandparents. But because of the Christmas-New Year's holiday, the community university has had to give a few extra lectures for students working toward their Ph.D.s. So, the older folks are at school.

Irving decides that he'll stay home and listen to his hi-fi—a small machine that fits into his car. Gladys welcomes the chance to continue with her astronomy lessons at the civic observatory. Junior, who did his homework by pill (it stimulates learning centers in the brain depending on the subject to be studied), takes his skis and goes down to the powdered plastic slope, checking with the core computer first so that his mother won't worry about him.

About midnight, the whole family reassembles (they don't need nearly the amount of sleep 1961 man needs) and has a core computer-approved snack. Then it's off to bed.

Lying there in their humidified, purified, weather perfect bedroom, Irving and Gladys discuss briefly their plans for throwing out the east wing of the house and replacing it with completely new architecture and decor. They'll do that on Saturday morning.

But meanwhile, tomorrow's another busy day. "It doesn't frighten me at all," reports researcher Jane Armstrong of the 21st Century. "But now and then I do get a little uneasy."

Waterloo church groups hold tea in Yule setting

WATERLOO — There was an exceptionally large attendance at the Christmas tea, sponsored by the W.A. and the W.M.S., at St. Paul's United Church on Dec. 6.

The hall was beautifully decorated in keeping with the season. Mrs. Harold Boomhour and Mrs. Alfred Young poured at the lace-covered table, while Mrs. James Heatherington and Mrs. Henry Bird poured coffee. Lighted candles, circled by bright decorations, centered each small table. A tempting salad tea, under the supervision of Mrs. Ethel Quilliams and Mrs. Edna Irwin, was served the many guests.

The work table, with Mrs. Jean Daine and Mrs. Glenna Maynes in charge, was well patronized. The food table, looked after by Mrs. Dora Young and Mrs. Mary Tetreault, was cleared quickly.

The W.M.S. also had a food table, in charge of Mrs. Oley Young and Mrs. George Marshall, which was equally popular, with its home cooking.

A booth was given to the C.G.T. girls, who had a busy afternoon selling Christmas wreaths they had made. The members were pleased with the gratifying results of their annual Christmas event.

Focus on health:

Find heart grows new tissue

Medical comments this week touch on regenerated hearts, dreams, and a warning about rebound tumbling.

REGROWTH OF HEARTS

The heart has some ability to regenerate new tissue, says a Soviet physiologist, Prof. Nikolai Sinitsyn.

Experimenting with dogs, he removed small pieces of the heart wall and replaced the missing bits with flaps of borrowed skin or muscle, or synthetic materials. The flaps provided a scaffold for growth of new connective tissue to make the heart wall strong again, he reports. The method might be useful for strengthening areas of the heart damaged by heart attacks or tumors.

DANGEROUS BOUNCE

Rebound tumbling — devices which can turn you into a gymnastic jumping-jack — can be much fun, but dangerous unless their use is wisely controlled, a medical team warns in the Journal of the American Medical Association.

The physicians tell of five young men who suffered severe nerve injury, with three paralyzed and one fatally hurt. In four cases, they were hurt while trying backward somersaults. The physicians urge that no one try dangerous manoeuvres until he's well trained. Dreams occur during about 20 per cent of all our time asleep, even if people don't remember dreaming. And it's all to the good that we do dream, says the publication, Therapeutic Notes. Volunteers prevented from dreaming became anxious and found it difficult to concentrate. They were awakened whenever movements of their eyes during sleep indicated they were about to begin dreaming.

TROPICAL LIFE

If you're thinking of volunteering for an assignment in Africa, don't worry that life in the tropics will make you age prematurely.

For there's no reason to believe the tropics speed up aging, says a consultant in the current Medical Digest, and in fact, "one cannot fail to be impressed by the comparatively young appearance of many of those who have lived long periods in the tropics."

Stars and Masons at Stanstead hold Christmas party

STANSTEAD — A good number of members of Golden Star Chapter O.E.S. and Golden Rule Masonic Brothers were on hand at the Masonic hall on Dec. 9, for the annual Christmas party.

Interesting games under the chairmanship of Rev. Ralph Rogers and his committee, Mr. and Mrs. U. E. Cargill, Howard Walsh, Mrs. Alfred Aldrich and Mrs. Carroll Aldrich, were played and winners were awarded prizes.

With Mrs. Gordon Johnston at the piano carols and Christmas songs were sung.

Gordon Johnston, W.P. and Mrs. Phyllis Chamberlain, W.M., gave out the exchange of Christmas gifts. The hall was attractive with red Santa Claus, evergreens and a lighted tree.

At a long table decorated in Christmas motif lunch was served by the committees in charge, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Evelyn Colt, Mrs. Ethel White-man and Mrs. Mirtie Walsh, assisted by others.

Indians Edge Beavers 5-4, Maroons And St. Francis Tie 2-2

Frank Mahovlich Of Leafs Must Be Wondering What He Must Do To Break Canadiens' Stranglehold On NHL Race

MONTREAL (CP)—Frank Mahovlich must be wondering what he has to do to break the stranglehold Montreal Canadiens' big three have on the point-scoring leadership of the National Hockey League.

Two weeks ago the big left winger of Toronto Maple Leafs was in a 10th-place tie. Then, in one week he scored five goals and one assist and moved into a sixth-place tie.

Last week he whammed in five more goals—four of them in one game—and added two assists.

He's in fourth place today, but he's still 10 points behind the leader, eight behind the second-place man and seven behind the third-place man — exactly the same situation two weeks ago.

Meanwhile, the Montreal powerhouse was still churning out points last week. Bernie Geoffrion scored five goals and two assists, Jean Beliveau went him one better with a pair of goals and six assists and Dickie Moore counted two goals and four assists.

RETAINS LEAD

Geoffrion held on to the leadership and now has 45 points on 20 goals and 25 assists. Beliveau took over second place. He has a 43-point total on 14 goals and 29 assists.

Moore, the leader two weeks ago and second last week, slipped back to third place. He had counted 24 goals and 18 assists for 42 points.

Mahovlich's goal-scoring spurge ran his total to 26 in the Leafs' 29 games so far this season, highest in the league. Moore has 24.

Beliveau is setting the pace for assists with 29.

Ullman counted one goal and three assists last week and dropped to fifth place from fourth. He has nine goals and 25 assists for 34 points.

Bracketed at 32 points in a sixth-place tie are Henri Richard of Montreal and Andy Bathgate of New York Rangers. Richard scored three goals and three assists, moving up from an eighth-place tie. He has 15 goals and 17 assists.

Bathgate, alone in fifth place a week ago, scored no goals but collected three assists. He has a 16-16 record.

Vince Martinez And Cecil Shorts Clash With Winner Getting Chance At Welterweight Title At Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)—Cecil Shorts and Vince Martinez will be fighting for a chance at the welterweight title tonight when they meet in a 10-round co-feature of the annual Christmas toyshop fund boxing show at the Cleveland Arena.

Shorts, 22, a former Cleveland golden gloves champion, beat Benny (Kid) Paret just two hours before the Cuban became champion.

Martinez, 30, of Miami Beach, Fla., fought Virgil Atkins for the title two years ago. He is on the comeback trail after seven successive victories.

In the other 10-round co-feature tonight Pete Rademacher of Columbus, Ga., former Olympic heavyweight champion, will meet Willi Besmanoff, 28-year-old German who now lists Milwaukee as his home.

Besmanoff, a substitute for Alex Miteff, rates the edge in this bout because of his experience.

Miteff, of Argentina, faces a possible indefinite suspension by the National Boxing Association for pulling out of the fight. Eye specialist Dr. Robert S. Rosner confirmed Monday that Miteff is in no condition to fight because of corneal ulcers, but matchmaker Larry Atkins argued that if the Argentine boxer had not agreed to serve as a substitute for a fight in London, England, last Tuesday he would have no optical difficulty.

Waterloo Panthers Dump St. Hyacinthe Lions 6-4 Last Night In YVBA Tilt, Butch Bouchard On Hand For Fixture

WATERLOO (Special)—Monday night in a home game Waterloo Panthers dumped St. Hyacinthe Lions 6-4 in a regular Yamaska Valley Basketball Association game.

Play started slowly, and after the first 13 minutes the score stood at only 13-12 for Waterloo. However, the Panther big guns began to open up and by half-time the locals had gone ahead 39-13.

Starting again after the half-time break, the Waterloo boys steadily forged ahead and pumped home another 25 points to only 17 for St. Hyacinthe.

Big guns for the visitors were G. Girouard with 21 points and C. Bernard with 5. Home town top scorers were W. Tibbitts, R. Seguin and H. Lowery with 19, 16 and 10 points respectively.

Prior to the game, both teams were welcomed by Butch Bouchard, master of ceremonies for the evening, and brief addresses were made by Tom Wilkinson, YVBA vice-president, and Mayor Armand Russell of Waterloo.

The game was started off by Mayor Russell in a jump-up between the two starting centres, S. LaForest and Wallace Tibbitts.

At half-time, raffle winners were drawn: Margaret Davidson, Jacques Toussaint, Larry Young, and Gerry McGovern.

Lineups:
 St. Hyacinthe: M. LaFortune, 2; G. Girouard, 21; G. Bernard, 5; P. Frappier, 2; S. LaForest, J. P. Tanguay, J. G. Savard — 30.

Former Champ Ike Williams Testifies He Rejected Big Bribe Offers To Throw Fights, Sonny Liston Next

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate investigators call Frank (Blinky) Palermo and Sonny Liston, top contender for the heavyweight championship, for quizzing today in hearings on mobster influence on boxing.

Palermo, a Philadelphia racketeer figure, gets a chance to answer testimony by former lightweight champion Ike Williams that Palermo had relayed bribe offers totalling more than $180,000 to throw fights. Palermo was his manager at the time.

The Senate anti-trust and monopoly subcommittee, conducting the inquiry, has heard testimony that mobsters grab a lion's share of Liston's earnings. The subcommittee indicated in advance its members want to find out whether Liston knows anything about this.

Liston's manager, Joseph P. (Pepp) Barone of Allentown, Pa., is reported too ill in an Allentown hospital to testify. The investigators have heard St. Louis police testimony that 52 per cent of Liston's ring earnings go to New York gangster Frankie Carbo, 12 per cent to the fifth amendment pleading St. Louis hoodlum, John J. Vitale, and 12 per cent to Palermo.

OFFERED BIG BRIBES

Williams when he ruled the 135-pound division from 1945-51, testified Palermo reported that someone—he did not identify the other party — had offered big money to throw fights with Jimmy Carter, Kid Gavilan, Freddie Dawson and Juste Fontaine.

Palermo, he said, recommended against accepting the bribes but left it up to Williams.

Williams said he rejected each one, but conceded Monday he wished he had taken $100,000 for his non-title scrap with Gavilan in 1949 and $50,000 for his last bout as champ—with Carter in 1951.

Subcommittee chairman Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., suggested that on looking back, Williams could feel better because he resisted temptation.

"I do not, senator," Williams persisted, "I do not."

Since then, Williams ruefully recalled, a lot of friends he had not wanted to disappoint had run out on him.

Now taking home $92.97 every other week from his job as a warehouseman for the state of New Jersey, Williams estimated that in the ring, "give or take a few thousand, I made a million dollars."

The 37-year-old former champ, whose identity had been concealed before he testified, said he never saw a penny of $65,000 in purses for two title matches in 1948. Palermo spent it before he could get his hands on it, Williams said.

Chatham Maroons May Play Trail As Guider Game

CHATHAM, Ont. (CP)—Ted Power, playing coach of Chatham Maroons, said Monday a suggestion that his team and the Trail Smoke Eaters play an exhibition game before the Smoke Eaters go to the world hockey tournament next year has been misinterpreted.

Power, who returned home Saturday with the Maroons after a disappointing tour of Russia and Sweden, said he suggested the game to Jack Roxburgh, president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association.

He said he felt the game would acquaint the Smoke Eaters with what they might expect in the tournament in Switzerland next March. Trail will represent Canada at the tournament.

Power said he did not want the suggestion to be taken as a "personal grudge but rather as a helpful venture."

The Maroons, of the Ontario Hockey Association Senior A league, defeated Smoke Eaters in four straight games for the Allan Cup last spring. They had first call for the trip to Switzerland but turned it down in favor of their recent tour. They had a record of two victories and two ties and five losses in the nine games played.

Guy Lindley Squad Takes Over Top Spot In Junior League, Only Three Points Separate Top Four Clubs

Rallying in the last period Guy Lindley's Indians emerged with a close 5-4 decision over Pat Murphy's Beavers last night to slide into top position in the Sherbrooke Junior Hockey League. In the other tilt of the twin-bill Guy Joubert's Maroons and Jacques Rousseau's St. Francis battled to a 2-2 deadlock.

Following last night's games the Indians now hold first place in Ivan Dugre's loop with seven points while the Maroons follow with six. The Beavers are next with five and the Saints are in fourth spot with four. Bishop's, who have been idle for the past week, occupy the cellar but they have played less games than their opponents.

Two very good games were witnessed and despite the cold weather a good crowd was on hand to witness the youngsters in action. The next twin-bill is slated for Sunday afternoon with the first game booked for 1:45 sharp.

In the Indians-Beavers tilt it was nip-and-tuck the whole way with each team coming up with some fine work. Denault and Pelletier gave the Beavers a 2-1 lead at the end of the first frame. Garon was the scorer for the Indians.

In the second period each team tallied once with the Beavers holding a 3-2 advantage at the end of the period. Rivard evened the score at the start but Fautoux put the Murphy clan out in front before the end of the frame.

A quick goal at the start of the final frame evened the count once again and Bourbonnais put the Indians ahead for the first time in the game. Pelletier deadlocked it again but two overlapping penalties proved costly to the Beavers and Nadeau registered the winning tally.

In the second half of the bill the teams battled hard to post a victory but close checking kept the score down. Denis Patenaude, Maroons, and Bennett, Saints, both goalies came up with some good saves.

The Maroons got off to a 1-0 start in the first frame when Gordie Robinson battered the disc by Bennett from close range. It was the only tally of the frame although the Saints had the man advantage when the Maroons had two men in the cooler but they failed to click.

In the second stanza Baudet evened the count for the only marker of the period. The teams were going all out but they were missing around the nets. In the final period Serge Gregoire, Maroons rearguard, drove a hard shot into the meshings and the Maroons were ahead once again.

A few minutes later poor clearing by a Maroon defenseman set up the tying goal when Seminaro hit the meshings behind Patenaude, who had no chance on the shot. For the balance of the game they battle away but they failed to break the deadlock and the game finished 3-2.

Independents Extend Lead In ETABA Downing Drumville Clippers 44-41 Saints Host Clippers Tonight At SHS

Independents increased their lead in the ETABA Sunday in Drummondville when the squad edged Drummondville Clippers 44-41.

The Independents now have a total of 10 points as compared to Sherbrooke Saints and Drummondville who are tied in second place with six.

In tonight's action, Drummondville Clippers travel to Sherbrooke for a tilt with Sherbrooke Saints at Sherbrooke High School starting at 8:00.

A close, well-played game was turned in Sunday when the visiting Independents edged the Clippers 44-41 and action was tops throughout the tilt.

Coming back from a 19-18 lead at halftime, the visitors found plenty of opposition in the Drummondvillers who matched them basket for basket throughout the half. However, when the final whistle blew, Independents squeaked by with the 44-41 victory.

Garth Smith led scoring for the visitors with 20 points followed by Dan Patridge with 12. For Drummondville, Nic Tomiczek was tops with 11 while Phil D'Amour and Jean-Claude Boucher had 10 and 9 respectively.

Independents: G. Smith (20), D. Patridge (12), R. Miller (4), N. Stafford (3), P. Baird (2), C. Bishop (2), H. Chapman (1), H. Littlejohn, R. Kotze, Total - 44.

England's Soccer Players To Study Strike Methods

LONDON (AP)—England's soccer players Monday considered the use of a "slow-freeze strike," a method used in South America, in their battle over wages and contracts.

The 2,700 professional players in England have called meetings in London, Manchester and Birmingham this week to discuss strike action.

One idea is that the players should copy the strike tactics used successfully in Argentina in 1948.

At every Argentine league match the first week every player staged a two-minute strike immediately following the referee's whistle for the start of the game.

PROLONG TIME

In every succeeding match, the strike was doubled from two to four minutes, four to eight and so on until the games were in a complete freeze.

The Argentine players won after a six-month fight.

The players also will consider other strike variations to force the league chiefs into abolishing the maximum wage and granting more freedom in contract negotiations.

The strike meetings follow peace suggestions by the league chiefs for a maximum of $84 a week—instead of the present $56.

The players want the maximum abolished completely and the right to negotiate their own contracts.

Weather Permitting, Los Angeles And Washington Will Pick Their Players Today, Trading Deadline Extended

By BOB GREEN

BOSTON (AP)—Weather permitting, Los Angeles and Washington clubs will pick their players for their new American League baseball teams Wednesday.

The history-making draw was scheduled for today, but a raging blizzard closed all air traffic in and out of Boston, and Los Angeles officials couldn't make it to the meeting.

Shortly after the meeting was postponed, a league spokesman said the loop had received permission from commissioner Ford Frick and the National League to extend the inter-league trading deadline to midnight Friday. The original deadline was midnight Thursday.

It was for that reason, a league spokesman said, that the loop asked for the trading deadline extension.

LIST REMAINS SECRET

The list of 120 major league players available for draft by the two new teams has not been announced officially.

Each team must select 28 players from the pool at a price of $75,000 per player. If they want, they also may draft one "unprotected" minor league player from each of the eight existing teams. These are players who were eligible for the regular Nov. 28 draft who were not chosen at that time.

The price on these will range from $12,500 to $25,000 a player, depending on the classification of the league in which he played.

Each of the eight existing teams made 15 players from their 40-man rosters available for the pool. The ground rules are such, however, that no team can lose more than seven players now on its roster, plus two minor league players.

The two teams must pick 10 pitchers, two catchers, six infielders and four outfielders. The other six players can be for any position.

Pimlico Track Gets Jolt From Weather Man

BALTIMORE (AP)—"Only the horses will be outdoors," a Pimlico publicity blurb proclaimed at the opening of an "autumn" meeting Nov. 14.

Not even the horses were out today.

Sunday's snow fall a foot deep on the track made it impossible for the horses to race Monday. And road conditions were expected to be still hazardous today so Pimlico cancelled again.

Pimlico thought it had the weather beat when it enclosed its grandstand in glass last year and added a new club house with similar protection last month.

Even the paddock where the horses are saddled and jockeys mounted was indoors.

Pimlico's 28-day meeting had been scheduled to come to an end Thursday. It has not been decided whether it will be extended through Saturday to make up the two lost days.

No. 1
Hello Ski Friends!
Meeting you this season is going to be a very enjoyable experience. I hope we shall have many new members in our family of skiers.

"Skiing is not merely a sport but a way of living." It doesn't take long to realize this. But as life has its problems, so does skiing. Perhaps some tips picked up in my many years of training both here and abroad may help you solve some of yours. As the winter is not far off, let's start today.

To pick up where you left off last year as well as to prevent minor or major accidents, pre-season training is a must. Let's not forget that if all our muscles are in good condition we react more quickly and automatically when necessary.

For general fitness all year round there are several well-known exercises which I follow. (1) The sit-up. With hands at sides, sit up putting your head to your knees stretching finger-tips to toes. (2) Toe touching. Clasp hands above head, knees stiff, touch toes of each foot alternately. Starting at ten times for each exercise, increase one a day until you reach thirty. Remember that speed is important and should increase as you progress.

I do hope that you will join these daily meetings and that you will feel free to write to me with your particular problems and questions.

Jumping Tournament Of Champions To Be Staged By O'Keefe's, First Four Winners Will Enter European Events

MONTREAL — A Jumping Tournament of Champions to be held at Camp Fortune, Ottawa, March 11 and 12 with winners being sent to compete on the international ski jumping circuit in Europe was announced jointly today by Mike Guzzell, president, Canadian Amateur Ski Association and D. J. Delaney, general manager, O'Keefe Brewing Company (Eastern Division).

O'Keefe's Jumping Tournament of Champions will be the last major Canadian ski jumping event of the year and will bring together the top three placings in each C.A.S.A. division. The first four Canadian winners in the O'Keefe Competition, and a coach to be selected by C.A.S.A., will be sent to Europe the year following.

Transportation costs overseas and return and a living allowance of five dollars per day will be paid each Canadian sent abroad by the company. Duration of the competitors' stay on the European Jumping Circuit will not exceed two months, explained Mr. Guzzell.

According to Doug Delaney, the scheme is an attempt to help upgrade ski jumping in Canada and to create an initiative for Canadians to become more proficient in this Olympic sport. In the last five years our company has helped bring two world championships to Canada (266 cubic inch hydroplane world speed record — W. R. Hodgson, Miss O'Keefe; and the Gold Cup for Dragon Class Yachts — Walter Windeyer, TIP).

"By encouraging individuals and making it possible for them to compete in international events both the competitor and sport gain stature. We are anxious to see Canada gain gold medals in the Olympics and we are willing to do something about it. Our covenant with C.A.S.A. covers a three year period at which time it will be reviewed and if progress is noted, further negotiations will be undertaken," he said.

"Bringing together the best skiers in Canada regardless of nationality will insure a spectacular and highly competitive meet at Camp Fortune, Ottawa," said Montreal's Bill Tindale, Chairman - International Competitions Committee C.A.S.A.

Canada's prominence in world skiing has been attained by two girls, Lucille Wheeler and Anne Heggveit, both of whom have retired from active competitive skiing. In the past three years these girls won four of eight World Championships gold medals and one Olympic gold medal.

C.A.S.A. is currently trying to raise money to send a group of six girls and five boys to Europe this year in order to give Canada a strong basis for the 1962 World Championship Team, and a chance for medals in the Winter Olympics 1964.

Four to six years' international training and competition are required to produce a winner and they must have the chance to compete against the world's best or they are lost, according to Miss Patricia Ramage who has managed Olympic teams in the past.

"The O'Keefe Brewing Company in sending Canadians overseas to train for Olympic sport is showing an initiative that might well be brought to the attention of the Government of Canada and citizens of this country. The lack of opportunity to compete with top skiers and the lack of top calibre coaching does not allow the development of competitors to the levels of excellence required for Olympic competition. And this does not only apply to skiing but to all sporting activities in Canada," said Mr. Guzzell.

Lucky Winners Are Identified

AGUA CALIENTE, Calif. (AP) — Two couples, holders of an $8 multiple ticket in the 5-10 handicapping at Caliente, won $84,237 Sunday. The race track identified them Monday.

They are Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wood and Mr. and Mrs. Max Tulao, all of National City, Calif. The four put in $2 apiece for the ticket, the only one correctly picking the six winning horses in the fifth through the 10th races. Wood made the selections.

Both Wood and Tulao are retired navy men.

New Era Dawns In Tennis As Italy Makes Davis Cup Challenge Round

PERTH, Australia (AP) — A new era in tennis dawned today with Italy, surprise conqueror of the United States, headed for Sydney as the first European nation to crash the Davis Cup challenge round in 24 years.

The tennis world was in a state of shock after the sensational comeback of Italy's Nicola Pietrangeli and Orlando Sirola, who after dropping the first two matches, rallied for a 2-0 victory in the interzone finals over heavily-favored U.S. stars.

It marks the first time in 60 years of Davis Cup competition that Italy has gained a showdown round of the sport's world series. And it is the first shutout for the Americans since 1936.

Pietrangeli's triumph over Buchholz came as no surprise since the agile Italian is rated one of the world's best amateurs. But it was almost beyond belief that Sirola, who never has won a major title, could stand up in a heavyweight slugging match with the hard-hitting MacKay.

The American hopes wilted as the six-foot-seven Sirola, playing as calmly and coolly as if it were a Sunday picnic, served with such effectiveness that he never lost a delivery. He permitted MacKay only nine points on service in the last two sets.

WILD DEMONSTRATION
The match ended on a bizarre note as MacKay sent two shots into the net for a double fault, setting off a wild demonstration by the Italians and a large number of supporters in the gallery.

Pietrangeli, who became so nervous he couldn't watch the Sirola - MacKay match, leaped down from the stands with the Italian coach, former Wimbledon champion Jaroslav Dornby.

There was a wild scene on the centre court, with the Italians kissing and embracing each other and with Sirola finally carried to the dressing room on the shoulders of shouting fans. Pietrangeli burst into tears.

The last European nation to hold the Davis Cup was Great Britain in 1936.

The Italians will play Australia in the challenge round Dec. 26-28.

Bill Sweeney Takes Over As Top AHL Scorer

NEW YORK (AP) — Bill Sweeney of pace-setting Springfield Indians has replaced Buffalo's Larry Wilson as the top scorer in the American Hockey League, the latest figures showed today.

Sweeney collected four points in last week's action, giving him 43 for the campaign. Wilson had only two points and dropped into second place with 42 points.

Art Stratton of Springfield is third with 38 points followed by Phil Maloney, the Buffalo captain, with 37. Harry Pidhirny of Springfield has the most goals, 20. It is the 12th consecutive season in which Pidhirny has reached the coveted 20 mark in the AHL.

Marcel Paille continues to lead the goaltenders. The Springfield star has yielded an average of only 2.55 goals a game. Howie Young of Hershey Bears is the loop's bad man having served 144 minutes in the penalty box.
