UNIONS HAVE REFUSED TO ASSIST COAL MINERS General Armstrong Inspected The Sherbrooke Regiment

THE MINERS' FEDERATION IS NOW EVIDENTLY ANXIOUS TO FIND A WAY OUT OF PRESENT DISPUTE

The Project of a General Strike in Great Britain Has Been Abandoned—Miners and Coal Owners Are Resuming Negotiations, and Important Developments in the Industrial Situation Are Looked for Over the Week-end—Other Unions Have Evidently Abandoned Any Ideas They May Have Entertained of Taking Drastic Action to Resist Reductions in Wages

(Associated Press Despatch)

LONDON, June 25.—With the project of a general strike abandoned and miners and coal owners resuming negotiations, important developments in the industrial situation are looked for over the week-end.

The Miners' Federation is now evidently anxious to find a way out of the dispute, as the effects are proving disastrous, not only to the finances, but to the solidarity of the organization, and the spreading industrial stagnation of the country which has already thrown 2,250,000 persons out of work and reduced many others to half time, enforces the necessity of a speedy settlement.

Other unions have evidently abandoned any ideas they may have entertained of taking drastic action to resist the demands of the employers for a reduction of wages. The railwaymen's wages have, under the sliding scale agreement, been automatically reduced five shillings per week to correspond with the drop in the cost of living.

OTHER LABOR UNIONS REFUSED TO JOIN THE MINERS.

(Associated Press Despatch)

LONDON, June 25.—The request of the coal miners' representatives for a new meeting with the Government and coal mine owners, decided upon last night with the object of obtaining a settlement of the coal strike, brought a quick response from Mr. Lloyd George, the Premier. This morning he invited the owners and miners to a joint conference to be held at the Board of Trade on Monday.

Newspapers generally in their articles today are more optimistic over the possibility of an immediate settlement of the long strike which now has been in progress nearly three months.

The decision to attempt the re-opening of negotiations between the mine owners and their employees was reached at a meeting of the executive committee of the miners' union last night.

This step was influenced, it was declared, by the failure of the miners to secure financial support from other trade unions, and the reluctance of other labor organizations to join with the miners for industrial action to enforce their mutual demands.

The hope was expressed that the Government would renew its offer to grant a ten million pound subsidy to the coal industry as an aid to the settlement.

DARING ROBBERY YESTERDAY AT CHAMBLY BASIN

Manager of Canadian Bank of Commerce Relieved of $1,500

(Associated Press Despatch)

CHAMBLY BASIN, June 25.—A daring robbery took place yesterday morning, when Mr. L. A. Parent, manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce at Chamblly Basin, was relieved of $1,500 in currency. Mr. Parent was driving to the branch bank at Chamblly Canton with a horse and buggy, accompanied by a driver. When he was still on the outskirts of the town, three men stepped out from the side of the road, with drawn revolvers, and demanded that Mr. Parent and his companion hold up their hands. A large grey touring car was drawn up beside the road, and in it were two other bandits. These bandits covered the men in the buggy, while the others took the satchel containing the money. When they were satisfied that they had obtained all that was possible, they got into the waiting car, which disappeared in the direction of Montreal.

After the robbery Mr. Parent immediately notified the police, and detectives were despatched in search of the bandits, and all entrances to Montreal are being guarded.

The entire population of Chamblly turned out, armed with every manner of weapon. The grey car, without numbers, was found near St. Hubert, and the men are reported to have been seen going across the country. No word has yet been received of their capture.

THE REPORT OF SEA PIRATES NOT BELIEVED

Story of Pirates Boarding the Schooner Deering Ridiculed by Editor of Lloyds List.

LONDON, June 25.—Cold water is thrown in shipping circles here on reports from America regarding the mysterious disappearance of the schooner Carroll A. Deering and other vessels. The story that a message had been found in a bottle to the effect that the Deering had been boarded by men from a tanker or submarine and that the crew had been put in irons, was derided by the editor of Lloyds' List, who said that many years' experience of such missives had shown that they were almost invariably frivolous.

All appearances, according to observers here, point to the abandonment of the Deering by the officers and crew when they saw that the vessel was foundering, or perhaps after she had run aground where she was found.

ACTION TAKEN FOR WORK AT ASCOT SCHOOL

The School Commissioners of the Township of Ascot Sued for $2,656.25 by Conroy.

Presiding the Superior Court term these last days, His Lordship Mr. Justice Gosselin heard and rendered judgment in the following cases:

Conroy vs. The School Commissioners of the Township of Ascot.—Proof and hearing on the merits in an action to the amount of $2,656.25 instituted by the plaintiff to recover from the defendant the cost and value of his labor connected with the heating and plumbing installation at the school situated in Ascot, Cookshire road, near the Experimental Farm. Plaintiff alleges in his declaration that on the 10th, January 1918 he made a verbal contract with the school trustees, which was later approved of by the architect; that this work was done to the personal knowledge of the latter and of the defendant. After hearing the proof adduced and having heard the parties by their counsels, His Lordship took this case on deliberation.

ACTION UNDER WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION ACT

Miller vs. Lessard.—Proof and hearing on the merits in an action instituted by plaintiff to recover the sum, in capital of $3000.00 and in half-salary of $189.00, under the Workmen's Compensation Act while he was in the employ of the defendant on the 28th, August 1920 engaged in cutting and barking of trees in the lumber camp of defendant. After hearing, His Lordship rendered the following judgment:—Seeing the consent of the parties, condemned the defendant to pay to plaintiff the sum of $500.00 in capital and the sum of $1500.00 for costs with the taxation of three witnesses at two dollars each.

COMMISSION ON SALE OF MO- TOR CARS

Godbout vs. Pratt et al.—Proof and hearing on the merits in an action instituted by the plaintiff for the sum of $413.00 against defendants, heirs under the succession and estate of the late J. A. Planché, of the Town of East Angus, to recover the amount of commission due him in virtue of a certain contract of sub-agency made and passed with the E. T. Motor Sales Company of Sherbrooke, automobile dealers in the "Overland" automobile. Plaintiff alleges that he sold three cars for the company and that he did not receive any remuneration according to the terms of his contract. After hearing and proof adduced and having heard the parties by their counsels, His Lordship rendered the following judgment:—Judgment condemned defendants to pay to plaintiff the sum of $413.00 with interest at 5 per cent. since the institution of the action and costs of suit.

INJURED BY FALL FROM LAD- DER

Demers vs. Canadian Connecticut Cotton Mills Ltd.—Proof and hearing on the merits in an action to the amount of $3082.65 instituted by the plaintiff against the defendant in virtue of the Workmen's Compensation Act as the result of an accident which the plaintiff suffered on the 26th, July 1920 whilst in the employ of the company defendant when engaged in his work, he fell from a height of eight feet from a platform against which a ladder was leaning, which said ladder was not provided with pickets in the ground to prevent it from slipping, and whereby plaintiff suffered injuries to his hip and leg. After hearing, His Lordship rendered the following judgment:—Action declared settled out of court.

RENTAL OF PASTURE AT FON- TAINBLEAU

Desrochers vs. Rousseau.—Proof and hearing on the merits in an action to the amount of $269.00 instituted by the plaintiff to recover from the defendant the sum fixed for rental of a certain pasture at Fontainebleau. Plaintiff alleges in his declaration that it had been agreed between the parties that the defendant was to pay to plaintiff the sum of $3.00 per head for the young cattle and $4.00 for the older ones. After hearing, His Lordship rendered the following judgment:—Seeing the consent of the parties, condemned defendant to pay to plaintiff the sum of $50.00 with interest from this date and costs of suit.

THE JUDICIOUS CHOICE OF SITE COULD SAVE THE RATEPAYERS A SUM IN EXCESS OF $28,000

Commission Authorized to Select Any Site—By-Law Distinctly States Ball Street Property Will Cost $30,000—What Authority Has Commission to Offer $32,700—Option on Property Said to Expire Today—Council to Consider Question at Next Session on July 4th.

DEFINITE action with regard to the Technical School site has again been delayed and more than usual interest is being evidenced in this question which has been confined to the background for the past few years.

On October 19, 1920, by-law No. 408 was approved by the ratepayers by a majority of 357 votes and was subsequently approved by the Lieutenant-Governor in council on November 27, 1920.

This by-law read in part as follows:—"Whereas to build and establish the Technical School in the City of Sherbrooke, the latter must buy and supply the site, and for that purpose acquire the lots of land known and designated as lots Nos. 77, 78 and 79 of the subdivision of lot No. 144 on the official plan and book of reference, for the south ward, of the City of Sherbrooke, and transfer them to 'The Sherbrooke Technical School.'"

"It was therefore enacted by the said by-law No. 408 that 'The City will buy the said lots for the price of $30,000 payable cash.'"

Further it was enacted that "the City will give over and transfer to the Sherbrooke Technical School, the right of property of said lots and the Mayor and Secretary-Treasurer are hereby authorized to sign, on behalf of the City, the deed of transfer to the Sherbrooke Technical school."

At the time this by-law was passed, the Ball Street property was the only one available, but during the course of the past few months, several other very desirable properties have been offered to the Commission, which in accordance with an amendment approved by Quebec, has the power to purchase any other suitable site.

By-law No. 408, which was sponsored by Alderman George Delorme did not appear to be of exceptional interest to a majority of the ratepayers and only slightly over the required quarter presented themselves at the polls. The measure which carried by a majority both of votes and valuation was supported largely by the South, East and West wards, while the North and Centre wards turned in a very light vote.

Practically no opposition was offered as it was unanimously felt that a Technical school was greatly desirable for a progressive City of Sherbrooke's standing. The question, however, has since arisen as to whether the City could not purchase a more suitable site and incidentally save the saving of a considerable sum of money.

At the time of the voting of the by-law, the measure had been before the Council for several months, but owing to lack of clearness in the legislation incorporating the Commission, a delay was occasioned.

Rotary Club Interested.

When the by-law was voted upon, the question of site was not taken into consideration, the fundamental feature being the anxiety of the ratepayers to have a technical school at as early a date as possible.

On October 15, 1920, the Sherbrooke Rotary Club adopted the following motion:—"Whereas Sherbrooke is a Manufacturing City and its prosperity depends on the intelligence and skill of the workmen; and whereas the Technical School is to the best interests of the City; be it resolved that this club support the by-law which is to be voted upon Tuesday next."

This motion emphasizes the fact that the site was not taken into consideration whatsoever, but merely the necessity of having the school. The Rotary Club also adopted a motion that the Secretary-Treasurer write a letter to Alderman Delorme, through whose efforts the plans were brought to a successful and concrete result, expressing the thanks of the Rotary Club for his good work and endeavor in this connection.

Offer Submitted by Fairbanks.

Since that period conditions have somewhat changed and on April 1st, 1921, Mr. A. C. Howard, Manager of the E. and T. Fairbanks and Co., Ltd., wrote to the Commission, in part, as follows:

"The matter of finding a suitable location for the Technical School was brought to my attention by Mayor Denault who suggested that a certain part of our property would be an ideal place for the location of this school if it could be so arranged. In consequence,

"The directors of the E. and T. Fairbanks and Company Limited, in the interest of advancing technical education in the City of Sherbrooke and the proper locating of the Technical School and relating that it is the technical trained men who go into our industries and develop and expand them, have decided to offer part of the Company's property to the City for this purpose.

"As a representative of the E. and T. Fairbanks and Company Limited, of this city, I wish to place before your Commission the proposition of supplying the following portion of our property as a site for the erection of the Technical School.

200 ft. frontage on Belvidere by 200 ft. deep, 40,000 sq. ft. at 10c, $4000.00; 490 ft. frontage on Galt by 235 ft. deep, 115,150 sq. ft. at 10c, $11515.00. Total $155,150; $15515.00.

"This property which we are offering you at 10c a foot has an assessed taxable valuation of over 30c a foot as registered by the city valuator and upon this valuation we pay our taxes every year.

As you can see our price is not based on or is it anywhere near its actual valuation, nor have we figured our price to utilize the amount of the $30,000.00 appropriation for the purchase of land for this school.

"It was our desire to set a price on this property at as low a figure as possible in order to lessen the tax payers burden as much as possible. Certainly the price cannot be duplicated anywhere in the city.

"We are not offering any of our property that can or will be used as an industrial site. This is proven by the city having previously purchased adjacent property on the corner of Belvidere and Galt for use as a power substation. Furthermore, property in question will not allow for a railroad siding reaching it. On the other hand we have sufficient remaining property suitably located for the expansion of our own industry.

"The location of the Technical School on Belvidere Street would be in keeping with the prominence which should be accorded public buildings of note. Its location would also be central enough to be most accessible to the majority of students attending. It would also be located in a most advantageous position to serve the industrial classes and to get the nearby industries to help give the students a practical education.

"There is no modern school erected today that does not make provision for suitable recreation ground to protect the health and vitality of the students, and for this reason we are offering sufficient ground to take care of this important feature if it is so desired.

"We wish to thank you for the opportunity of serving the people of Sherbrooke, also for your consideration of our offer."

This generous offer on the part of the Fairbanks Company has attracted considerable attention and ratepayers are wondering what serious objection can be made in connection with this proposition.

The property is nearly nine times as large as the Ball Street property and is half the price. It is not a question of "Wards" as the properties under consideration are all in the West Ward, but the fact remains that the majority of the Commission still favor the Ball Street site at a price of $32,700.00.

Ball Street Site Very Limited.

The Ball Street property allows no provision for possible extension as its area is very limited so that should the future growth of this City warrant more extended premises it would be necessary to purchase additional territory.

It is understood that the maintenance of the Technical School will amount to approximately $10,000 per annum.

The City Council and the School Commission have already been given concrete instances of the feeling of the general public and a petition signed by over seven hundred ratepayers, asking that the Fairbanks site be considered properly, warrants serious consideration.

At a recent session of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, the members of which are all interested in the industrial life of the City and are extremely anxious to see the Technical School in operation, it was unanimously recommended that the Fairbanks site be purchased, representing the most suitable location available under existing conditions.

Aldermen Omitted to Put Motion.

Britain's Relations With United States And Japan Discussed From Every Angle

Fear that British Cabinet Has Decided in Favor of Renewing Alliance and that Premier Meighen and General Smuts Will Not Be Strong Enough to Influence that Decision Is Expressed by "The Nation"

(Associated Press Despatch)

LONDON, June 25.—The Imperial Dominions conference and the question of Great Britain's relations with the United States and Japan form the subject of lengthy articles by the weekly reviews. They discuss the Anglo-Japanese alliance from every possible angle.

The Spectator maintains its attitude against renewal of the treaty, arguing that even if the Dominion Premier acquiesces in renewal, it will only be out of the deference to the views of the British Government, while the people of the Dominions will be slow to recognize the necessity of renewal. It believes there is nothing hostile to Japan in allowing the treaty to lapse.

"Maintenance of the alliance, which is admittedly only a matter of international courtesy," adds the paper, "is not worth while if it deprives us of United States sympathy and comes to be regarded in the Dominions as a weighty obligation they are compelled to assume out of love and respect for the Mother Country."

Fear that the British Cabinet has decided in favor of renewing the alliance and that Premier Meighen of Canada and Lieutenant General Smuts, the South African Premier, will not be strong enough to influence that decision, is expressed by the "Nation." It argues that with whatever restrictions the new treaty may be hedged, the alliance must mean that for some purposes and some contingencies the British and Japanese fleets are to be counted together.

The "Nation" denounces Japan's rule as having been everywhere, and especially in Korea, and Siberia, "beyond all western precedent—ruthless and bloody." It says that "everywhere, but especially in Manchuria, Japan has found expedients for circumventing nominal equality in

Inspection Of Sherbrooke Regiment Was The Occasion Of An Excellent Turnout— General Armstrong Favors Cadet Move

Dinner Held in Officers' Mess—This District Has Over Fifty Per Cent. of Cadets in Canada—Hope Expressed that Authorities Will Reorganize High School Cadets—Big Proportion of Canadians Now Medically Unfit.

THE inspection of the Sherbrooke Regiment held at the Parade Grounds yesterday evening was carried out by Brigadier-General Armstrong, C.B., C.M.G., G.O.C., M. D. No. 4, who was accompanied by Colonel R. Alexander, D.S.O., and Colonel Penhale, D.S.O.

On his arrival at the Parade Grounds, General Armstrong was received with the general salute and after the march past the different company commanders took over their respective commands and went through the regular routine drill.

Subsequent to the manoeuvres the regiment, headed by the brass band, paraded to the Armoury for "Muster" parade, Colonel Lambert, Paymaster, being in attendance.

The Regiment was under the command of Colonel Worthington, C.M. G., with Major Francis second in command; Adjutant, Lieut. G. Sampson. There was an exceptionally good turnout of all ranks and a very creditable appearance was made.

After the inspection, the officers mess held the inaugural opening, the guests including General Armstrong, Col. Alexander and Col. Lambert.

In a few appropriate remarks, the General stated that he was well pleased with the improvement shown by the men in their drill and commenting upon the excellent quality of the N.C.O.'s, observed that they formed a splendid nucleus and expressed the hope that in the near future the Regiment would again be at full strength and thus show in quantity what it had already shown in quality.

Referring to the cadet movement, General Armstrong expressed himself as strongly in favor of the movement and detailed the programme that had already been made in this branch. A few years ago this district could only account for 11,000 cadets, while today the district shows that there are 23,000 cadets representing twenty-five per cent. of the total number of cadets in Canada.

Dealing with the value of cadet training, he advised that it could not be overestimated as it teaches discipline, obedience and physical training and in view of the fact that a sound body is a sound mind, it assists materially in the educational branch of the movement.

General Armstrong was highly optimistic and ventured to state that within a year or two, there would be some 33,000 cadets in this district alone.

He suggested that it would be a wise step on behalf of the High School officials to get the High School Cadets started again and hoped that the authorities would make an earnest endeavor in this respect.

In his opinion, the cadets apart from being the nucleus of the Canadian Militia, were deriving considerable benefit from the physical training which was well worth a small amount of trouble. The physique of Canadians in general leaves much to be desired and out of 300,000 men examined recently, 161,000 were found to be unfit, that is to say over fifty per cent. medically unfit. He felt that if the cadet movement could be pushed for a generation, this high average could be reduced to twenty-five per cent. or even less.

PREMIER MEIGHEN AD- DRESSED CONFER- ENCE.

(Associated Press Despatch.)

LONDON, June 25.—At yesterday's conference of Cabinet ministers, it is understood Premier Meighen strongly stressed the view that only with the fullest autonomy of the component parts of the Empire can the whole survive and prosper.

ORIGINAL MOTIVE HAS DISAP- PEARED.

LONDON, June 25.—The Manchester Guardian, which is an opponent of the renewal of the Anglo-Japanese alliance, contended in an editorial today that the original motive of the alliance, which was a protective measure against Germany and Russia, has disappeared.

It asked if a military alliance was necessary to insure the "open door" in China and the security of Great Britain's dominions in the East, and if such an alliance was possible "without turning the edge of it against the United States."

It was declared by the newspaper that no answer had, so far, been given to these questions, and that it was unlikely one would be forthcoming.

SHE COULD HARDLY BREATHE AT TIMES SAYS MRS. PICARD

Little Quebec Woman Is Overjoyed at Her Wonderful Return to Health.

"It seems almost too good to be true that I am at last free from my suffering and can now eat, sleep and lie down at night and sleep like a child," said Mrs. M. R. Picard, of 219 Charest St., Quebec, in relating her experience with Tanlac.

"I was in a terribly rundown condition before I began taking Tanlac. I had no appetite, and even the smell of cooking nauseated me at times. I suffered dreadfully from indigestion, and everything I ate caused me to bloat with gas until I could hardly get my breath. I had such frightful pains across my back I could scarcely stand them, and I frequently became so dizzy I had to catch hold of something to keep from falling. My nerves were so shattered that the least excitement nearly frightened me out of my wits, and my sleep was so restless and broken I felt completely tired out the next day. I couldn't find a thing to bring me relief, and was very much discouraged over my condition.

"I finally began taking Tanlac, and it is wonderful how the medicine has overcome my troubles. It has given me a splendid appetite, put an end to my suffering, and built me up to the best of health. I just feel fine all the time, and believe Tanlac will help anyone suffering like I did."

FEDERATION OF LABOR TO HOLD NIGHT SESSION

An Unusual Volume of Work Still Remains to Be Completed at Convention.

(Associated Press Despatch) DENVER, COLO., June 25.—Election of officers, the demand of women for equal rights and privileges in all labor unions, determination of future relationship with European trade union movements, and jurisdictional disputes, were the major issues confronting the annual convention of the A. F. of L. today.

Although the convention had been in session nearly two weeks, an unusual volume of work remains. Because of this several delegates announced they would move to hold night sessions in order that all business could be transacted by Sunday morning.

Owing to a ruling by President Gompers, the election of officers, usually made a special order of business on the day before adjournment, will be held this year on the last day. The action of the convention last year in electing officers a day before adjournment was unconstitutional, Mr. Gompers said.

SERIOUS FIRE BROKE OUT AT ALEXANDRIA

(Associated Press Despatch)

ALEXANDRIA, Ont., June 25.—Breaking out from a cause unknown, a disastrous fire Thursday swept the southeast section of this town, destroyed twenty-one frame dwelling houses and one store, and rendered as many as twenty-five families homeless. With such rapidity did the flames make their way through the district, which is known as Johnstown, that the firemen were utterly unable to cope with them.

The section swept by the fire is about a mile long and about as wide. The residents of the dwellings were mostly French-Canadian factory workers, and in almost every case lost all the contents, along with their homes.

question were faithfully given, to the pleasure of the members, especially those who had not been able to be in Sherbrooke for the D. M. A.

A vote of thanks was moved and carried for Miss Burton's splendid report. It was decided to purchase yarn and other materials upon which to work, also to continue the meetings of the W. A. during the summer, when the roads are good, and possibly to close for a time in winter.

The hostess served very acceptable refreshments before the members left for their respective homes.

BLUE BIRDS WON CAMPAIGN CONTEST.

The Girls' Club of St. Paul's Mission at the beginning of the year was divided into two camps named, respectively, the Patricians and the Blue Birds, for a membership campaign.

In this friendly contest the Blue Birds won by three, and consequently the winners were entertained at supper by the losers, the event taking place Tuesday evening at the Mission Hall. After a short business meeting the party, some sixteen in number, adjourned to the tea room, where a capital supper had been prepared by the Patricians, with a choice menu. The table was decorated with flowers and potted plants, and the enjoyment was general.

After a supper a short musical programme was carried out in the hall, piano solos being contributed by Miss M. Patton and Miss F. Ineson, and vocal solos by Miss J. Ineson and Miss G. Ford, while all the members joined in jolly choruses, concluding with "Auld Lang Syne" and the national anthem.

Before the party broke up, Miss Ineson expressed to Miss Walde, the president, on behalf of the members, their appreciation of the efficient and capable manner in which the affairs of the organization had been carried on during the year.

AMERICAN MINISTER DELIGHTED WITH SHERBROOKE.

Mrs. H. A. Bullis and daughter, Mrs. R. Kirby, of Mansville, Que., were in the city last week, accompanied by the Rev. Dr. James Crow, of Oklahoma, and Miss Evelyn Crow, of New York, Mrs. Bullis' brother and niece.

The Rev. Dr. Crow, who is making a motor tour of the Eastern Townships, is on his initial visit and has many pleasing remarks to make, especially of Sherbrooke as an industrial city which surpasses any he has as yet visited in either the United States or Canada, for its size. Its rolling hills and water powers, were especially commented upon.

Dr. Crow, who is some sixty years of age, has travelled extensively and states that he has known of the conditions such as he has found them, he would gladly have considered Eastern Canada as the land of his adoption. While in the city he was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Sears, Court Street.

CAPTAIN HALL HAS PASSED AWAY.

The death occurred Saturday last of Captain Joseph Hall, of New Haven, Conn., who will be remembered in Lennoxville and Sherbrooke as "Joe" Hall, of Bishop's College School. Captain Hall, who won fame and distinction as an aviator in the American army overseas, was decorated for his gallantry in action. He was shockingly wounded when his machine caught fire over the German lines, but succeeded in bringing down his plane inside the French lines. After returning home, Captain Hall continued in the service, became captain of a bombing squadron, and on Memorial Day was sent up from an aviation camp in Maryland to demonstrate a newly-

MARRIAGES

PHILIPS—MARTINDALE
STANBRIDGE EAST, June 25.—One of the prettiest of June weddings was celebrated in St. James' Church at two o'clock on Wednesday, the 15th, when Mrs. Jessie M. Martindale, daughter of Mrs. Ella Corey and the late Mervin Corey, Stanbridge Ridge, was united in holy matrimony to Mr. George A. Phelps, son of Mr. H. G. Phelps, Mayor of Stanbridge East, and Mrs. Phelps. The ceremony was performed by the rector, Rev. Robert Atkinson. The beautiful church was decorated with masses of white and pink peonies, pink roses, white daisies and ferns. A very large number of friends and relatives, as well as of the general public, assembled to witness the ceremony. Mr. Leslie Phelps, of Boston, brother of the bride, very ably performed the duties of usher. Mrs. Allan Cornell played the wedding march. The bride, who was unattended, was beautifully gowned in navy blue tulle, with hat and veil to match. Immediately after the service Mr. and Mrs. Phelps left, amid a shower of rice, confetti and good wishes for a motor trip to Boston, Springfield, Atlantic City and the White Mountains.

Those who attended the wedding from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. John Phelps, Mr. Leslie Phelps, of Boston; Mr. and Mrs. Miss McElroy, Mr. and Mrs. Simonds, of Richmond, Vt.; Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Cochrane, of Clarenceville, and many others from the Ridge.

STEVENS—WARD

RICHMOND, Que., June 25.—A quiet but pretty wedding took place on Wednesday June 22nd, at twelve o'clock at the Methodist Parsonage, in the presence of immediate relatives, the Rev. T. Roy officiating, of Miss Mildred Luella, youngest daughter of Henry Ward, to Mr. Levi W. Stevens; both young people of Richmond. The bride, who was unattended, was in a suit of navy blue broadcloth, with georgette blouse of the same color and wore a black transparent hat trimmed with pink rose buds, and carried a bouquet of pink and white peonies.

Immediately after the ceremony the happy couple left on the noon train for Portland, Me., and other American towns. On their return they will reside on College Street.

LOACH—WHITEHEAD
SOUTH STUKELY, Que., June 25.—A very pretty marriage ceremony was solemnized at St. Matthew's Church, South Stukely, on Monday June 20th, at two p.m. The contracting parties were Miss Ethel Mary Whitehead, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Whitehead, of this place, and Mr. Frederick Loach, of Sherbrooke. The Rev. F. A. Allen was the officiating minister. The sacred edifice was prettily decorated with ferns and roses and potted plants. The bride was given away by her father, and was tastefully gowned in white veil trimmed

The bride was the recipient of many handsome gifts among which was a silver pie knife, the gift of the Methodist Church choir, of which the bride was a member.

On Monday a shower was given Miss Ward by Mrs. Blanchette and Mrs. A. Ward, the gifts being presented by little Roberta Blanchette in a beautifully decorated basket of yellow and white. After the bride elect had expressed her thanks, dainty refreshments were served, and all departed after wishing her all good luck and happiness.

The bride and groom were unattended. After the ceremony at the church the guests, some thirty in number, proceeded to the home of the bride, where congratulations were in order and a sumptuous dinner was served.
Mr. and Mrs. Loach left by auto, for their home in Sherbrooke, the bride travelling in a navy blue serge suit trimmed with gray and georgette blouse trimmed with beading embroidery and pretty hat to match. The out of town guests were the mother and sister of the groom, and Mr. and Mrs. Hebert, Ames, of Sherbrooke; and Mr. John Clark of Waterville; besides other relatives and friends.

JERSEY PICNIC AT WATERVILLE HUGE SUCCESS

A Large Number Attended the Event—Interesting Addresses Were Heard.

Between four and five hundred people assembled at Grayburn Farms, Waterville, on Tuesday for the first annual "June Jersey Jubilee" of the Quebec Jersey Cattle Breeders' Association. Sixty automobiles were counted on the grounds.

The arrangements made by Mr. Gale for the comfort and entertainment of those present were excellent. The spot chosen for the picnic was ideally located, being delightfully cool and affording a splendid view of the farm buildings and valley of Coaticook. The greater part of the Grayburn Herd was on exhibit and was in fine fettle. A delightful lunch was served by Mrs. Gale on the speakers' platform, which had been surrounded with boughs adorned with rustic furniture. Spring water was near at hand and ice cream and sodas procurable at a booth nearby.

The afternoon's programme, some two and a half hours in length, was varied and was followed with unflagging interest by the whole assemblage. Much regret was expressed that President F. E. M. Robinson, of Upper Merbourne, was, through illness, unable to be present. In his absence, Vice-President Eugene O. Baldwin, of Coaticook, presided in a very capable manner. His opening remarks were both appropriate and of a very humorous nature. Mr. F. G. Gale followed with an address of welcome, and spoke or recent statistics published showing a shortage of some thirty per cent. in the United States among cattle of all kinds and gave his own experiences in the farming business, showing he had first had just "cattle", then grade Jerseys and now had nothing but pure-bred stock.

Mr. D. O. Bull, of B. H. Bull and Sons, Brampton, Ont., Jersey Breeders and Importers; followed, complimenting the Association on its initiative and the success of the picnic. Then he gave a demonstration of three cows, pointing out, by means of comparison where each excelled and was deficient. The demonstration was followed with marked attention by the crowd.

A report, read by Mr. R. L. Gale, secretary of the Association, showed that although but five months in existence, nevertheless the Association was coming on in leaps and bounds. Fifty members had already paid their dues, forty-six Jersey censuses received, reported 1089 pure-bred and 188 grade Jerseys in the Province, and it was felt that many herds were not as yet reported. The report further noted that two carloads of Quebec Jerseys would shortly be shipped to British Columbia, that the awards to be offered Jerseys at Fall Fairs would be large and outlined a plan, subsequently adopted, whereby a Jersey page would shortly appear in the "Sherbrooke Daily Record."

Mr. L. C. McOut of Macdonald College gave interesting technical advice regarding dairying.
Mr. J. A. St. Marie, live stock promoter, of Montreal, gave interesting data on the live stock situation in the Province. Mr. W. Elmo Ashton, fieldman of the association, spoke in a very interesting manner regarding his activities. Senator Rufus H. Pope of Cookshire spoke of the good work Dr. Toimie, Minister of Agriculture, was doing for pure-bred stock raisers, and made interesting remarks in regard to the care that should be practiced in rearing the rising generation.

The Rev. E. K. Wilson, of Waterville, interested the crowd with his recital of the merits of the Jersey cow, dwelling especially on the fact that she was the cow for the poor man as well as the rich. He related his own experience with Jerseys, showing how profitable a man can keep one or two Jersey cows.

Mr. MacDonnell, agronomist, of Lennoxville briefly concluded the addresses, calling attention to the importance of forming calf clubs.

Breeders from all parts of the Province were present, Mr. J. C. Neal of "The Farmers Magazine," Toronto took a number of pictures, and Vermont was represented with some fifteen or twenty Jersey breeders.

Mr. Bull, before leaving the grounds, informed the secretary that he would be glad to donate one hundred dollars to the Association to be used as the Association saw fit. Needless to say the offer was accepted with thanks, thus increasing the already favorable condition of club's finances.

Altogether the affair, although but one in the link of activities of the Quebec Jersey Cattle Breeders' Association was highly successful, the weather being delightful, the attendance being large and the people's enthusiasm spontaneous.

THE JUDICIOUS CHOICE OF SITE

School Commission to the effect that the Commission had selected the Ball Street site and asking that the City furnish the $30,000 provided for.

It was moved that the matter be referred to the Finance Committee, but this met with strong opposition from Alderman DeLorne who contended the question should be disposed of immediately. Alderman DeLorne finally agreed to allow the matter to go through to the Finance Committee provided a report was submitted back to the Council at an adjourned session to be held Wednesday evening. This was agreed to by the different aldermen. Subsequently Alderman Brault discussed questions relative to the workmen's houses and the E.T.A.A. and the aldermen left the council chambers without putting an official motion for adjournment.

The Council therefore did not meet on Wednesday and the next session is called for Monday, July 4th, and in the meantime the option which the Commission has on the Ball Street property expires today. This latter fact, however, is not likely to be taken seriously as the owners of the Ball Street property are evidently very anxious to sell at the handsome figure of $32,700.

By-Law Says Lots Will be Bought for $30,000.

In its letter to the City Council, the Technical School Commission states that it is prepared to absorb the difference of $2,700, which exists between the price to be paid for the property and the amount to be granted through the Council. Opinions would appear to differ as to the legality of this point.

By-law No. 408, distinctly states that the City Council will buy lots 77, 78 and 79 of subdivision of lot 1444 for the price and sum of $30,000 payable cash, and will subsequently give over and transfer to the Sherbrooke Technical School, the right of property of said lots.

The Commission, however, offers $32,700 for these very lots which the City is authorized to purchase for $30,000 and no more, and then undertakes to absorb the difference of $2,700. This would mean to say that the City would be paying $30,000 for only part of the lots, whereas the by-law distinctly says the whole property will be purchased for $30,000.

Different Properties Offered.

Three different properties were offered to the Technical School Commission for consideration, the approximate figures of which were given as follows:

First offer:—The property on Ball Street, dimensions 198 by approximately 90. This was offered to the Commission for $32,700, and has been duly accepted.

Second offer:—The property on St. Edward Street, behind the Central School, dimensions 200 by 197½. This was offered to the Commission for $20,000. This property, much larger and nearly $13,000 cheaper, has been turned down.

Third offer:—Fairbanks Company property. The company offered the Commission 155,150 square feet for the sum of $15,515. This represents property nine times the size of the Ball Street property at less than half the price. The company also offered the Commission any portion of the property, so that an area of 200 by 200 feet, larger than either the Ball Street or St. Edward Street properties could have been secured for $4,000, actually less than one-eighth of the price actually to be paid.

On looking up records it has been found that the dimensions of the Ball Street property are officially shown as being 209 feet frontage by 112 in depth, although one of the lots which has a frontage of 77 feet on Ball Street, tapers off and is only 66 1-2 feet at the rear. This area represents some 5,500 square feet more than the approximate figures given by the Commission and the question now arises as to what the actual dimensions of this property really are.

Many ratepayers are beginning to realize that a larger property and a saving of $28,700 is an item worthy of very serious consideration under present circumstances.

The social held on the St. Patrick's Academy lawn on Thursday evening under the auspices of the St. Patrick Mission Circle was a very successful one from every point of view, and the financial return, as well as the pleasure shown by those who attended, amply repaid the organizers.

An ideal evening, the beautiful music of the Harmony Band, the prettily-decorated tables and the original games provided for their amusement attracted many, and a brisk business was carried on in ice cream cones and cooling beverages. One of the prettiest tables was the flower booth, laden with fragrant blooms, where Miss Valida Turcotte was in charge, assisted by Misses Doris Hewitt and Marguerite Gauthier. Quits, under the convener-ship of Miss M. Mooney, and the Penny-Hop, looked after by the Misses Loretta Steele and Marion Dunn, furnished genuine fun and also proved to be profitable features.

Misses Elizabeth Bradley, Eva McConnell and K. Flannery, at the candy table, soon disposed of their delicious wares, all of the toothsome home-made variety, and Miss M. O'Connor's department, where iced drinks, penicils and "smokes" were sold, was decidedly popular. The general arrangements were in the hands of Miss Gladys Mullins and Miss Mary McConnell, president and treasurer of the Circle respectively, assisted by various members and friends of the organizations.

Hatcher, Miss Idonea Nourse, the classmates of the little boy at the Sherbrooke High school and other friends.

The service was conducted by Rev. Alfred Bright, of St. Andrew's Church, who delivered a short address full of comfort and sympathy to those so suddenly bereaved, referring to the good standing of deceased in school and his attendance at Sunday school. Those he left behind must not mourn as those without hope, for he was safe and well at home. The interment was made at Elmwood Cemetery, the bearers being six school fellows of deceased, and the mourners were Mrs. James Dalby, his mother; Helen and James, sister and brother; and Regina, Andrew Dalby, lives in Regina.

The casket was covered with beautiful flowers from the school children, the teacher and others.

PICNIC AT THE GROVE WAS A GREAT SUCCESS

The picnic on behalf of the orphans of the Sacred Heart Hospital was a decided success, and the Sisters of the Sacred Heart Hospital are more than ever profoundly moved at the kind assistance of Sherbrooke's population toward their old folks and orphans. The delicious things given, as well as the splendid automobile trip, were much appreciated. No need to say that everyone, especially the Sisters, is extremely grateful to the lady organizers and to all those who have contributed to bringing so much sunshine into their midst.

On the final night, three thousand people were present and it was to this large audience that Mrs. Mock sang. Lieutenant Governor Newlands with Miss Newlands was present and presided at the final concert and at its close, Miss Newlands presented the medal to Mrs. Mock amidst great applause. The secretary was authorized to acknowledge the indebtedness of those in charge to the Eastern Townships Agricultural Association for the use of the Exhibition Grounds on that day, also the officials who helped see the work carried successfully through. It is hoped in the near future to run off four of the events that it was found impossible to run off on Monday.

No one begrudges her her chance to play. Goodness knows she has slaved and drudged over the old-fashioned stove long enough.

But you would never dream from the delicious cooking that "Mother" is having her holiday. Go into the kitchen and see how free from dust it is, how cool and clean.

She just turns on the electricity—and presto—dinner is done to a turn. "And," she explains triumphantly, "it is much more economical than the old stove!"

PAVING PROGRESS.

Excellent progress is being made on the city's paving programme for the year. The indications are that Dufferin Avenue and Melbourne street work will be finished well in advance of Exhibition time and that there will be ample time for the Aberdeen Avenue work which is on this year's programme.

The benefits of good paving becomes more and more apparent, and the present wonder is that the public got along so many years without it.

CROP PROSPECTS.

At this season of the year the whole world regards with greatest interest estimates of the coming harvest. Conditions of the coming year depend so largely upon the harvest that every individual is personally concerned regarding the outlook.

In Eastern Canada, including the Eastern Townships, the drought of the past number of weeks is undoubtedly having a serious effect upon the hay crop. The yield in many cases will be scarcely one-half of normal. There is, however, still time for the grain and root crops to come along and an average harvest is still a possibility.

Press despatches from the West are most optimistic. They even predict a record production. Conditions are declared to be perfect.

It is to be hoped that these reports are literally correct. Canada and the world needs a big crop. Such would have a remarkable effect upon general business.

AMERICANS AND MAGNA CHARTA.

Magna Charta Day has caught the fancy of Americans as well as Britishers, and many journals across the line give considerable space to the anniversary.

The Boston Transcript, under the caption, "Our Debt To Magna Charta," says:

"The recent anniversary—the seven hundred and sixth—of the beginning of the Magna Charta conference at Runnymede was celebrated by a union of several patriotic societies in New York, though by the general public there and elsewhere it was permitted to pass, as usually, quite unnoticed. It was claimed by the few who observed it that theirs was the first commemoration of it ever made in America. If that be true the fact is of little credit to the nation at large, though of much credit to those who after so many years of ungrateful neglect have established, as we hope, a commendable custom."

"For the Articles of the Barons," as Magna Charta used commonly to be called, must not be regarded merely as a historical document, nor yet as belonging exclusively to England. All thoughtful students of American democracy attribute the stability and success of this Republic largely—and quite correctly—to what we may term the heredity of self-government. They recognize the fact that the founders of our Government had behind them the traditions, the discipline, and the spiritual impetus of centuries of popular rights and popular government. It is only fitting that we should recognize and remember Magna Charta
as the beginning of those traditions and influences, and therefore as the primal source of American democracy."

"There can be no exaggeration in saying that in Magna Charta were enunciated, most explicitly, some of the most important provisions which Jefferson and his colleagues insisted upon incorporating in the first amendments to our Constitution, commonly and appropriately known as the Bill of Rights. The fourth, fifth, sixth and eighth of those ten articles were almost literally copied from Magna Charta. Perhaps the most valued of all our constitutional guarantees is that which declares that no person shall be deprived of life, liberty or property without due process of law. That is in Article V.
Of our constitutional amendments ago
the barons made it Chapter XXXIX.
of Magna Charta, in these words:
"No freeman shall be arrested, or detained in prison, or deprived of his freedom, or outlawed, or banished, or in any way molested, and we will not set forth against him nor send against him, unless by the lawful judgment of his peers and by the law of the land."

"With equal directness it was provided that every accused person should be entitled, freely, to prompt and impartial trial, pending which excessive bail should not be required.
Indeed, most of the principles of our Bill of Rights were established at Runnymede, wrested by the insurgent barons "by force and fear" from the ablest and most unscrupulous of the Angevin kings.
"Nor should we make the mistake of supposing that the barons secured merely their own rights and disregarded those of the common people. The historian Green truly says that the rights which they claimed for themselves they claimed for the nation at large. There were, of course, some exceptions, specially noted in the text. But these were largely technical. The great principles of personal liberty and rights such as we have quoted from the famous Chapter XXXIX., were specifically demanded and secured for all the freemen of England, whether nobles or commons. Moreover, the moment these principles were established in behalf of the barons, it became inevitable that they would be extended to all the people. Precisely the same arguments which required

the sovereign to concede those rights to some of his subjects required that they should be enjoyed by all his subjects.

"It would be preposterous to pretend that the guarantees of personal and popular rights in the Constitution of the United States were spontaneous new creations or inventions of the authors of that instrument.
They were written into the Constitution by men whose ancestors more than five centuries before had written into the Great Charter. They were the common property of the Anglo-Saxon race and were inherited by this branch of it just as was the English language. It is no wonder, therefore, that the majesty of our Constitution or from the respect and devotion with which it is to be regarded, to invest it with the authority of long descent. It will on the contrary confirm our allegiance to it to recall and to commemorate its inheritance from Runnymede. If in the rude old days of force, determined men exacted these guarantees of the rights of man from a despotic and unscrupulous king, all the more surely should we, in these days of law, maintain those same rights when there is none to challenge them but ourselves. That is the lesson of our inheritance from Magna Charta."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

FARMER AND DEALER.

Editor of Record:
Sir—The articles written by Mr.
Vaughan and the railroad men have created a live interest in the subject by many readers of your valuable paper.

It surely is a matter of vital importance at the present time to the public. It appears to the writer that the time is ripe for the railroad man to come off his perch and get busy. He has continually been telling us that when the high cost of living came down he was willing to have his wages reduced, but now he defies the laws of the land. He strikes and holds up traffic; he damages his own business by high freight rates and obliges the farmer and others who are struggling for their very existence to resort to the motor truck and other modes of conveyance, in some cases to deliver their produce to market at a lower cost than it can be handled by freight or express.

The farmer has taken his loss,
which has been heavy, and the cost of living has come down 50 p.c. or more as per article in your columns of June 8th, "Cost of Living."

Why is the railway man not willing to help out? Who has caused the most trouble in the world with regard to strikes, etc.? The railway man or the farmer? How would it work out for the farmers to strike and refuse to work for thirty days,
and stone, fire bricks or murder anyone who undertook to take their place to feed their dying stock?
What would be the result of this,
even if it were done only in our country?

Why does not the railway man come out and do his part by agreeing to work two or three hours per day more than he is working now at one-third less wages, same as the farmers are doing? Why do they not give their union leader, who has made it his business to cause strife and trouble between capital and labor, his choice of being hung on the nearest tree or get out and earn his living by the sweat of his brow?
I am sure in saying that if the average farmer did not work more hours per month than the railroad man, three-fourths of them would not be able to support their families, would lose their farms and be obliged to seek food from the soup houses provided by charity.

If the farmers would form as strong a union as the railroad men have done, they would be able to make the railway fellow sit up and take notice.

The farmers being the backbone of the country, we hope will continue to set a good example for the railway men and continue to work long hours without strikes or trouble, and thereby ensure the prosperity and progress of civilization.

In my opinion the strong labor unions are responsible for three-fourths of the factories being closed and so many out of employment today. If everybody would keep busy, taking the highest wages they could get, it would not be long before the business of the country would pick up and become once more on a solid foundation.

If the farmer cannot get for his stock and products which he should have, and is raising it even at a loss, he does not strike, but continues to produce just the same, that the railroad man, the miner, and in fact, the world, may be well fed. Is this not a good example and motto for the strong unions to follow? It is to be hoped that the railroad worker will throw off his coat of grumbling and grudging even if he does not have quite so much time to attend the pictures and other pleasures, and put his shoulder to the wheels of industry and assist the farmer in getting the old cart moving in the right direction once more.

I would like to suggest that the railroad boys cast the beam out of their own eyes so that they may see more clearly to get the most out of the farmers' eyes.

I feel it my duty to assist Mr.
Vaughan, who has so ably handled this discussion against the several railroad men.
Hoping the prodigal sons will soon come back and show their willingness to help out in time of need;
thanking you for this space, I am Yours sincerely,
J. B. REED.

"Through Hardships To The Stars"

THERE is a fine old family motto, "Per Ardua Ad Astra"—"Through Hardships to the Stars."

Only a person of vision could have created such a motto. Only a family with an ideal could have lived up to it.

IT seems to be a "Law of the Universe" that all human success demands sacrifice.

No institution worth while is ever developed without someone going
"Through Hardships to the Stars."

The higher the ideal the more keen the sacrifice is likely to be.

THE founders of the Mutual Life
of Canada had before them
a very high ideal—"Service to the Canadian Nation."

They did not seek financial success for themselves, for they founded a life insurance company without capital. They wished to build an institution that would be of more than ordinary service to the people of Canada.

To achieve success without capital required superhuman efforts in the early years. By the inspiration of a fine ideal the founders were led through hardships—were called upon to practice severe economies and make great sacrifices.

ON the foundation that they so bravely laid has been reared a super-structure that is a magnificent tribute to them and of great value to the people of Canada.

Because of the sacrifices of the founders, the people of Canada can secure life insurance on the mutual principle—insurance at cost.

EVERY policyholder in the Mutual Life becomes a part proprietor.
All the profits belong to the participating policyholders. To-day the Mutual Life provides protection for 84,000 families at a minimum cost and without paying dividends on any invested capital.

Keep before you that fine old motto, "Through Hardships to the Stars", and you will feel inspired to sacrifice and economize yourself in order to carry the full amount of Mutual life insurance your family would actually need if you should pass away.

BELIEVE THAT GEORGES NOW IS AT HIS BEST

Manager Descamps Believes that Carpenter Will Make Dempsey Dizzy with His Speed.

(Associated Press Despatch)
MANHASSET, N. Y., June 25.—There is a wholesome belief in the camp of Georges Carpentier that the blonde Frenchman will attain his lifelong ambition—the world heavyweight title—when he meets Jack Dempsey a week from today.

Descamps, the manager, and Gus Wilson, the trainer, appear to be satisfied that the pugilistic idol of France is greater than ever and will pay their highest hopes in the coming battle. They think that he will make Dempsey dizzy with his speed and will bowl him for the count along about the fifth or sixth round.

DEMPSEY RESUMES TRAINING
(Associated Press Despatch)
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 25.—With his heavyweight championship contest one week away, Jack Dempsey today resumed training, after a twenty-four hour lay off to celebrate his twenty-sixth birthday.

Dempsey is in high spirits and shows none of the irritability that was noticeable a week ago. The champion was the guest of honor at a surprise party given him at his camp last night in remembrance of his birthday.

At nine o'clock Dempsey bade his visitors good night. A telegram from his coming opponent, Georges Carpentier, was among the birthday messages he received.

Dempsey's weight today is placed at 192 pounds by his trainer, Teddy Hayes. There is every possibility that the champion will scale under the 190 pound mark when he enters the ring at Jersey City.

GERMAN FIRMS PLAN TO SECURE CANADA'S TRADE

Trying to Regain Hold on Markets—Hiding Old-time "Made in Germany" Trade Mark.

MONTREAL, June 25.—An instance of the manner, in which the Germans are trying to regain their hold on the markets of the world, hiding the old time "Made in Germany" trade mark, has been furnished the Canadian Manufacturers' Association here, in a letter from a Berlin firm trying to secure Montreal connections.

This came in the way of a circular letter, with catalogues, sent to a Montreal firm dealing in art and stationary supplies. The letter signed by Anton Heilmann, said:—
"Enclosed I beg to hand you a sample and catalogue with price list of my silhouettes. These are manufactured in Germany by artists of eminent ability. The silhouettes have neither the name of the manufacturer nor the country of origin stamped on them, and therefore the name of your firm could be affixed, if wanted, to same. I am able to supply you with these silhouettes in all sizes, allowing forty per cent. discount to wholesale dealers.
"These quotations are, indeed, quite low and with them you may be able to meet all competition."

GIANT AIRSHIP TO BE FLOWN TO UNITED STATES

R-38 Took Air for First Time, Making an Entirely Satisfactory Flight.

LONDON, June 25.—The giant British-built airship R-38, which has been bought by the United States and will be flown to that country by a United States crew, took the air for the first time last night, making an entirely satisfactory flight, it was announced by the Air Ministry today.

The R-38 left the Carigan Station at 7.45, and landed six and one-half hours later, after a flight over the nearby counties.
She carried forty-eight persons, including the members of the crew. Among the officers were two from the United States, commander L. H. Maxfield, who will captain the airship on her trans-Atlantic flight, and Lieut.-Commander V. N. Bigg. A number of distinguished British officers were also on board.
After further trials to test the thorough reliability and general airworthiness of the ship, she will be handed over to the United States crew, who will carry out the flights necessary to familiarize themselves with the handling of the big flier before her departure.

We Champion the Liberty

WE have had the good fortune to obtain representation for the Liberty Six. We believe in the Liberty. We know it to be a good car—and to be a different car.

We have never met any who ever rode in or drove it who did not acknowledge that there is a difference in the way the Liberty rides and drives.

And this difference is the result of a deliberate purpose to make it so.

The positions of the clutch and brake pedals, the steering wheel, and the brake and gear-shift levers are determined with rigid exactness.

The slope, width and depth of the seats are designed to permit the average person to handle the car with ease and ride it with the utmost comfort.

The spring balance and weight distribution have been scientifically designed so that one or five people may ride in the Liberty with equal enjoyment.

Every detail of Liberty construction has been just as carefully worked out.

The result of such forethought and precision is quickly evident the moment you ride in or drive the Liberty car.

It is characterized by an ease of operation you have never before experienced in a motor car—unless you have already tried the Liberty.

The clutch pedal yields with surprisingly little resistance, yet the clutch engages with over a ton pressure. Steering is almost instinctive. Gears may be shifted at a finger touch.

There is a snap and flexibility in the car's action, yet a sure and steady smoothness of the powerful motor, which is at once uncommon and delightful.

Over hills or rough roads you will find that the car drives easily and steadily, altogether without strain, and with power to spare.

In every feature of its performance you will recognize the dominant thought of driver-convenience and owner-welfare.

The number of people who have already learned this difference is exactly the number of those who have driven or ridden in the Liberty.

You, too, are sure to realize and appreciate the difference in the way the Liberty rides and drives.

We welcome the opportunity for the Liberty to prove for itself that its difference is real and that it does offer something unusual and better in motor car riding and driving.

A car is ready for you, whenever you find it most convenient.

CLOSING SPEECHES.
Rev. P. E. Brouillet, chaplain of the Institution, and Rev. A. Gervais, of Kingscroft, gave the pupils judicious and practical instructions for their conduct during the holidays.

They congratulated them on their success and the honors they had justly merited, the numerous diplomas from Laval University, Dominion College of Music, Commercial Institutes, and the three medals won in the Underwood Association's contest for typewriting.

Rev. Father Blais spoke of the present prosperity of the Institution asserting that it was in a great measure due to the devotedness and attractive personality of Rev. Father Brouillet, whose zeal was not only confined to the educational and spiritual welfare of the pupils, but to their health, comfort and amusement. He insisted on the value of a good, Christian education, and encouraged the pupils to sacrifice the pleasures of home to procure this priceless treasure. He dwelt on the devotedness of the Sisters and congratulated them on the results of their noble work, adding: "As we gaze on this assembly of modest young girls surrounding us, we are impelled to put on the lips of their teachers the words of the Roman matron: 'These are my jewels.'"

BEDFORD BAR RESOLUTION OF SYMPATHY

His Conferees Held a Special Meeting to Commemorate His Long Services.

SWEETSBURG, June 25.—A special meeting of the members of the Bedford Bar was held at the Court House of the Village of Sweetburg, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, on the 22nd of June, 1921, on the occasion of the death of Mr. Z. E. Cornell, K.C.

It was proposed by Mr. Leonard, seconded by Mr. England, that Honorable Justice Hackett preside at the meeting and that all the officers of court be invited to form a part with the advocates. This resolution was adopted, and Mr. John P. Noyes, protonotary of the Superior Court, Mr. C. B. Jamieson, sheriff, Mr. B. Iron, deputy protonotary, Mr. Fred Powers, deputy sheriff, Mr. J. A. Boisvert, crier were present.

It was moved by Mr. F. X. A. Giroux, K.C. seconded by Mr. Lefebvre, that a resolution of sympathy be voted by the members of the Bar and the officers of the court, expressing their heartfelt regret of the death of their esteemed conferee, Mr. Z. E. Cornell, K.C., of Bedford, who has been a member of this Bar for more than forty years, and who has always earned the sincere admiration by his gentlemanly manners, his courtesy and his high qualities.

This resolution was adopted unanimously, after words of praise and eulogy by presiding Justice M. F. Hackett, Mr. John P. Noyes and several members of the Bar.

It was moved by Mr. Leonard, seconded by Mr. Giroux, that the members of the Bar regret very much to be engaged actively with the last term of the Superior Court and with a jury trial, which prevented many of them from attending the funeral; but that the Bar be represented by its batonier Mr. Cloutier and by a committee composed of Messrs. C. A. Nutting, G. P. Nutting, G. P. England and A. Gaudet, and all other members who might be able to attend.

It was moved by Mr. Stockwell, seconded by Mr. Bowles, that copies of the resolution be sent to Mrs. Cornell, and her family, and also to the press.

The meeting was then adjourned sine die on a standing vote of sympathy.

ENGLAND IN NEED OF PLAYGROUNDS FOR 135,000 PERSONS

Not Enough Room in London and Vicinity for Outdoor Games.

NO FREE SPACE IN PARKS

55,000 Want to Play Tennis, 55,000 Cricket and 45,000 Football.

(Special Despatch.)

LONDON, Saturday. The most annoying crisis London has faced since the beginning of the war has nothing to do with the Germans or Ireland or the coal strike. It has developed with the balmy spring weather in the form of a lack of playgrounds for British sportsmen and sportswomen. Everybody wants to play outdoor games and there is not enough room in London and the neighborhood, by at least not enough, has yet been developed for the purpose.

In all the history of England there has never been such a rush to play popular games as this year. For instance, it is authoritatively figured that 35,000 daily want to play lawn tennis. Five thousand cricket teams of eleven men each want to play this game and 45,000 want to play football. All this is in addition to golf, which is by far the most popular game in England; hockey, lacrosse and polo being others. There is no apparent reason for this surprising enthusiasm for sports except a natural rejuvenation that has come after five years of war.

It is an actual fact that to play an outdoor game in London is really a hardship because of the scarcity of places in which to play. Here there are so free tennis courts and football fields in the public parks as in America. In order to play tennis or cricket one must belong to a club which entails an appreciable subscription fee, and now even these have long waiting lists and have no hope of being able to accommodate all those who wish to join this season and probably won't be able to do so for two or three seasons.

Wants 600 More Acres. In addition to those figures compiled by sports experts there are literally tens of thousands who would gladly join in if only they could find room to play. One enterprising sports critic is trying for five hundred or six hundred more acres for sporting grounds just to meet the present demand. England is more eager to play, more healthy and more strenuous than ever before and like a surbed three-year-old, she is champing at the bit to get away.

The number of persons who play tennis and cricket in London today, the acres devoted to these games and the money spent would have staggered sports profits of twenty years ago. The London County Council Tennis Club alone has 200 registered players. And with the system of registration it is necessary to wait three and four weeks for a game in order to deal justly with the enormous number of applicants for the limited courts under its control. The organization is building fifty extra courts, but even these will not begin to meet the demand, which is four and five times above the accommodations.

There are five times as many courts today as before the war, which is a fourth of what is necessary. It is true that tennis has taken on a vastly greater importance during the war, but the fact remains, but the fact alone is only an indication of a desired outlet for the sports fever which has grown to such an astounding degree.

The spread of cricket has been retarded for the reason there is no room to play. This presents a more difficult problem because a cricket field requires four acres. Cricket clubs in London alone are looking for 8,000 acres. There are no more open spaces embracing 60,000 players, and all have long waiting lists. Football is suffering the same fate, because large grounds are needed. The London County Council has 200 registered players. And with the system of registration it is necessary to wait three and four weeks for a game in order to deal justly with the enormous number of applicants for the limited courts under its control. The organization is building fifty extra courts, but even these will not begin to meet the demand, which is four and five times above the accommodations.

Football and Golf. The secretary of the London Football Association figures that there will be 1,000 football clubs playing next winter, with another 2,000 if there is any hope of getting more grounds. These will all play within twelve miles of Charing Cross and within ten miles of the city. The number of football players alone has grown four times as great as the number before the war.

Golf presents probably the most difficult problem, for it is the business man's game which the workingman has learned to like. This is probably not true in America, but in England everybody loves golf and the clubs are absolutely swamped with applications for membership. Experts believe that the Anglo-American sports coming after the war will greatly encourage this admirable desire to participate in games known on both sides of the Atlantic. The Englishman is too good a sport to resist being beaten all the time and this being the keen interest in the international golf, polo and tennis matches has shown clearly that anything else how the English love these friendly tilts. Also there are resident Americans who are trying to find a place to go off and swing the coconut and tennis matches has shown clearly that anything else how the English love these friendly tilts. Also there are resident Americans who are trying to find a place to go off and swing the coconut and tennis matches has shown clearly that anything else how the English love these friendly tilts.

ANCIENT TOMBS DISCOVERED. (Special Despatch.) Three Minutes Under Water; Calls It Easy

(Special Despatch.)

PARIS, Saturday. ANY one can remain under water for several minutes eating cherries without suffering inconvenience, says a Frenchman who is exhibiting his amphibious powers at the Palais du Trocadero. "In order to keep up the expansion of the thorax," he said, "make swallowing movements, but close the nasal channels by forcing the roof of the palate. This will cause ascension of the larynx with restrictions of the glottis."

RADIO SENDS BERLIN
OPERA OVER EUROPE

'Madame Butterfly' Caught by Microphones and Carried by Wireless.

(Special Despatch.)

BERLIN, Saturday. The Staats Opera gave a performance of "Madame Butterfly" this week that was transmitted by wireless and could be heard by all European wireless stations. Microphones placed on the stage bore the music to the wireless station at Koenigsplatz. The experiment was organized by the Post Office Department, which intends to establish a concert and opera service by telephone for villages in the rural districts as a means of raising revenue. If the new device for the transmission of music works out satisfactorily telephone subscribers will be furnished with performances at stated times and all they will have to do to hear the best artists of the German capital will be to take up their telephone receivers and listen.

A given wave length will be used exclusively for the transmission of these performances by wireless to avoid interference by other wireless sending stations.

LONDON POLICE RAID
POKER GAME IN CLUBS

Oppenheim, Novelist, Pays a Fine Close to $70.

(Special Despatch.)

LONDON, Saturday. The great American game of poker, which the English do not play well, but are learning fast, came under an official police ban this week and raids were carried out against several clubs in order to put a stop to gambling. The first club prosecuted was the Cleveland, of which E. Phillips Oppenheim, well known novelist, is chairman. He was fined £15. Mr. Oppenheim said he did not play himself, but he assumed responsibility for the game in the Cleveland Club.

The police are causing widespread criticism on the ground that it is destroying personal freedom and is coupled with the propaganda against dancing, the danger of men and women playing tennis together and against mixed bathing. The London press is unanimous in defence of the well known American game and says that if poker is banned, why not bridge?

Big Resort Planned Within Hour's Ride of City.

PARIS, Saturday. Although gambling resorts are not permitted within 100 kilometres of Paris, French lovers of lacazart, poker and other poor poker systems are not going to lose their favorite amusement. They have formed a syndicate which will transform a little health resort in Normandy, "Forges les Bains" into one of Monte Carlo's biggest competitors, with a casino, luxurious hotels and all the charms of the expensive Vichy resorts. Being only an hour's train ride from Paris, Forges les Bains is already crowded with visitors eager to buy up suitable sites for summer hotels.

In reviving gambling there, the promoters are merely repeating history, for during the reign of Louis XIII, it was favored as a resort by D'Artagnan and other musketeers, who sought repose there after violent fights in behalf of their king or mistress. The old town still has many reminders of the ancient days, but they will disappear to make way for Paris's new playground.

ROYALTY AT ASCOT
TO AID IN REVIVING
OLD TIME SPLENDOR

Ambassador Harvey and Wife Will Be Prominent at Races.

PLANES DIRECT TRAFFIC

King and Queen in Brilliant Equipages Will Head Distinguished Guests.

(Special Despatch.)

LONDON, Saturday. The Ascot race meeting, which is the climax of the London season, will be more brilliant this year than since the days before the war, with the King and Queen attending daily beginning Tuesday and tout London following in their train. The four days of racing promise to take on not only all of the old splendor, but its new features will make the season of 1921 a historic one.

Like the Derby it will be largely a motor car affair, but it will surpass the Derby as a society attraction. In addition to the automobiles, which are supplanting the old time carriages, two airships will mark the tide of the times by directing traffic from their lofty posts.

Among those heartily joining in the Ascot spirit are the American ambassador and Mrs. George Harvey, who will be the guests of Leland Littlefield at their place on the Thames. London society is pleased to note the quickness with which the Harveys have stepped into social affairs, and they will be among the most prominent Ascot visitors.

Americans to Be Prominent.

The Ambassador and his wife will be followed by a host of American residents who have arranged to be on the course. The King and Queen will head a large party of distinguished guests who will gather at Windsor Castle and will drive to the race course with them in a semi-state procession.

Eight landaus, each drawn by four horses with postillions accompanied by outriders in scarlet and gold, will reach the extreme eastern end of the new mile track at 1 o'clock, and will proceed along the whole length of the course to the royal enclosure. The royal party will go through this ceremony each day. The formal decorations and stands will be along the usual lavish display, while the catering will be on a more gigantic scale than ever before. It is planned to serve 3,000 luncheon hours.

The formal decorations and stands will be along the usual lavish display, while the catering will be on a more gigantic scale than ever before. It is planned to serve 3,000 luncheon hours.

Elaborate Traffic Control. Elaborate preparations have been made to control the traffic with patrols and first aid repairs along the routes under the supervision of the Automobile Association. The R-26, carrying fifty passengers, will take part in the supervision of traffic, assisted by the R-22, without passengers, but serving as a patrol as it did on Derby Day. The people discovered at the Derby that long special trains were not necessary, so enthusiasm over the Ascot races has grown surprisingly.

There also will be a splendid road display, West End shops reporting that they are swamped with rush orders for the latest fashionable gowns. The absence of economy in the fashion displays the last two months has made those with money extend themselves for the Ascot event.

Fashion has decreed that for this occasion a black lace gown will be in order, relieved, perhaps, with touches of color, while the choicest creations will be of shadow lace over a black foundation completed by a silver fur fox. Waxed ribbon has come back to the front, while monkey fur is retaining its old popularity for collars, capes and muffs.

The latest from Paris for the Ascot races is an evening gown, filmy about the shoulders with a cape collar and white velvet and black monkey fur buttoning high around the neck and falling over the shoulders.

LADY ASTOR'S BUTLER
MOVES TO NEW YORK

Perfect Servant Helped Her to Win Election.

(Special Despatch.)

LONDON, Saturday. Lady Astor has just delivered a lecture on household cares and how to manage a home, and in it she aroused the envy of many heads of West End homes when she said she had a perfect butler, to whom she had always given the credit of having won for her her seat in the House of Commons because of his attention to details during the stress of the campaign.

This inspired an enterprising London reporter to go to Lady Astor's house in St. James's square to interview this paragon, but he was informed the butler left the service a year ago and was now residing permanently in New York.

FRANCE SEEKING TO RAISE POPULATION
BY MARRIAGE LAW

Bill Introduced in Chamber Eliminating Required Consent of Parents.

TO AVOID INEQUALITIES

Change Proposed Putting Husband and Wife on the Same Footing.

(Special Despatch.)

PARIS, Saturday. France is making a vigorous effort by means of propaganda to increase the number of marriages so as to build up her population depleted by the war. Even the church officials are willing to aid in the movement as far as the marriage of others is concerned, the noted Abbe Lemire presenting a bill before the Deputies this week which will put France in the same class as other nations where marriage is possible on attaining the age of maturity without waiting for the consent of the parents.

The laws of the Roman Catholic Church have never insisted on parental consent, declaring that the matter concerns only the individuals who are members to the contract, but a civil ceremony has never been possible unless the parents gave their consent a week in advance. This resulted in the scrapping of many good intentions and the setting up of housekeeping on an illegal basis without worrying about ceremonies.

At the same time prominent parliamentarians are again proposing a change in the marriage laws which will remedy existing inequalities, chiefly the phase which to-day obliges a husband in return for wifely obedience to protect her, but not necessarily to render her the same obedience. Suffragists especially are eager for this, declaring that if the law is amended it will be the first real step toward granting feminine rights.

But all leaders of Parliament thought do not agree that a change is necessary. Fanny Heidy expressing the opinion at the close of a rehearsal at the Paris Opera that if a husband is really struck at 1 o'clock, and it doesn't matter whether it is changed or not.

Mme. Colette, favorite of the literary world and having a double matrimonial record, admits that although the marriage act has twice been read before her she has never paid any attention to it, and therefore it doesn't matter whether it is changed or not.

Helen Duetrie, the only French aviator wearing the Legion of Honor decoration, declares outright that woman was created to obey the male, and besides "as it is so easy not to marry, a legitimate ceremony compensates for little inconveniences."

MARCHIONESS FAVORS
MARRIAGES IN YOUTH

Ridicules French Law Putting Men's Majority at 30.

(Special Despatch.)

LONDON, Saturday. The agitation in France for repeal of the law there that a man cannot marry without the consent of his parents until he reaches his majority, which is fixed at 25 years, is reflected in a controversy here, where it is almost the unanimous opinion that couples marrying young are much happier than those who wait until later in life.

Marchioness Townshend, speaking of the moral aspect of the case, said early marriages were best, because both men and women have higher ideals when young and therefore are more critical. She ridiculed the French law and said she was thankful it did not exist here.

"Good or bad tendencies will develop before one is 25," she said, "and persons must be allowed to follow the dictates of their heart in the matter of marriage and without interference at the age when nature inspires."

U. S. AID ASKED TO BUY
A VERMEER FOR LOUVE

French Fear 'La Ruple' Will Go to Germany or Italy.

(Special Despatch.)

PARIS, Saturday. American contributions are being sought by friends of the Louvre with which to purchase Vermeer's celebrated landscape "La Ruple," which has been the principal feature of a collection of six noted paintings in the Amsterdam Museum.

It was said to-day that as soon as it became known the French Government could not give the $600,000 francs necessary to make the purchase an anonymous American sent his check for $500,000 francs to open a fund. This is to be swelled by 1,000,000 francs now available from the Beaux Arts treasury for the purchase of paintings likely to increase France's artistic prestige.

The intention to purchase the painting, however, has aroused attacks from financiers, as well as some art lovers, who are pointing out that the Dutch owners are asking four times the price demanded before the war and are suggesting that it will be possible to purchase the painting for less than 1,000,000 francs as soon as the long awaited wave of lower prices arrives. Experts, however, are afraid that if France does not buy it now some German or Italian museum will take advantage of the opportunity to get the most notable example of the master's art.

RAYMOND DUNCAN PUTS HIS LIFE INTO PERISCOPIC POEM

Portrayal Given in Latin Quarter Theatre Shows He Rises and Goes to Bed Unwashed and Pays Rent With Aid of U. S. Tourists.

(Special Despatch.)

PARIS, Saturday. The life of Raymond Duncan is a veritable poem, according to his own interpretation, for the fantastic Greek from Los Angeles, Cal., has composed what he terms periscopic verse describing an ordinary day in his life.

Before a selected group of disciples and friends Duncan himself directed the first presentation of his poem at the Aesthetic Theatre in the Latin Quarter. Here is his general outline of how to conduct a life of perfect art: At sunrise he wakes from a hard bench covered with two blankets. He dons a homespun tunic, held in place by a belt. Then by slapping his hands he calls a group of women servants, each bearing a babe in her arms.

"It is the hour of ablutions," sings Duncan. But he himself forgets to take a morning bath. Then comes the daily scene with the concierge because the rent is unpaid. Two American tourists save the situation by paying cash for one of Raymond's muses, for in his haste to make the world understand how to live, Isadora's brother apparently has forgotten to line his own purse sufficiently.

As proof of his fraternity he then adopts all the illegitimate babies whose working mothers consider them destined for the aesthetic life and greets the new disciples with a resounding kiss. Then comes a dinner, which is meatless but plentiful, after which Duncan, sitting on the floor, gathers the chosen ones around him for a final lecture before he, still unwashed, is tucked between rough sheets prepared by a female seeker after truth.

TICKET SCALPING IN BRITAIN PROFITABLE

Seats of Wimbledon Park and Hurlingham Bring Fancy Prices.

(Special Despatch.)

LONDON, Saturday. With the growing interest in international sports ticket scalping has become a profitable business here, and prices which would put to shame Tex Rickard's fondness regarding his arena are being asked—and what is more to the point are being paid—for seats in Wimbledon Park for the tennis matches there and at Hurlingham for the international polo games.

Wimbledon Park seats were sold at auction months ago, and now the lucky possessors of these tickets are putting them on the market for a season or a daily rate. Seats which cost the holders £5 are now being hawked for £20, and in the front stand £50 and even more.

It was stated in club circles here that two seasons' seats this week brought as high as £60, which was well over $200.

Meanwhile on the sporting pages of newspapers announcing the popularity of these games writers are lampooning the idea of the Dempsey-Carpenter fight in the United States, with its "fabulous purses and fabulous prices."

Prices for tickets for the international polo matches at Hurlingham range from £2 to £10 for a single game and as high as £25 for the tournament, which means the best two out of three games. Speculators have grabbed up many of the best seats and are advertising them extensively in the daily newspapers of London.

DUKE OF ORLEANS STILL SEEKS FRENCH THRONE

Message to Royalists Says He Is Ready When Called.

(Special Despatch.)

PARIS, Saturday. Although France never was more unitedly republican than to-day, the royalists still cling to the hope of a restoration of the monarchy, and at the banquet recently a message from Philippe, Duke of Orleans, who is accepted as the logical pretender to French rulership, was read, declaring: "With the aid of God, when the people so desire, I am ready."

"History has shown," the Duke declared, "that it is impossible to govern France without a personal, permanent leadership, around which natural discord, rivalries and legitimate competition can continue without damaging the Government. When France lies bleeding and is waiting for legitimate leadership, the Government when left to itself is showing its impotence and does not even know how to execute the treaty which it has concluded."

The Duke of Orleans insists that this is not the fault of the French people, but declares that the failure lies in the absence of himself as the personal leader of the destiny of France, and concludes his message by saying that the "near future will prove whether in such grave circumstances France has the Government which she deserves."

LACK OF SLEEP ONLY
FEW DAYS IS FATAL

But One Can Live Without Food for Weeks.

(Special Despatch.)

PARIS, Saturday. You may be able to go without food for weeks and weeks, but if you are deprived of sleep for only a few days you will die, says Dr. Anna Lipinski, who has been lecturing before French medical societies on the value of slumber in therapeutics.

Dr. Lipinski herself has gone three weeks without eating, although she managed to keep her strength at a fairly normal scale by frequent drinks of water. She is continuing her experiments in a laboratory on the outskirts of Paris, despite the fact that she lost her sight several years before the war, but has given a mass of evidence to the doctors which is expected to reform the treatment of many neurasthenic and digestive maladies.

EDISON LIST STARTS
FRENCH BRAIN TESTS

Many Forgotten Incidents in Country's History Are Brought Forth.

(Special Despatch.)

PARIS, Saturday. Thomas A. Edison has inspired French researchers to devise their own lists of educational tests, and they are revealing many incidents in French history that have been forgotten by a great majority of persons, as well as calling attention to the parts France's rulers have played in evolving present day methods. Even the wisest Sorbonnettes stared blankly last week when one professor asked:

"Why is your handkerchief square instead of round?"

After days of searching in encyclopedias, it was explained that this common article in daily life was made square because of one of the quaint laws of Louis XVI, handkerchiefs prior to his reign having been of any shape (fanned by the user, Louis XVI, however, had a great admiration for neatness of proportion and personally drew up the edict that "hereafter all handkerchiefs manufactured in my kingdom must be of equal length and breadth."

In subsequent years it was common for persons seeking political favor to cause the arrest of handkerchief manufacturers, the dimensions of whose handkerchiefs varied even a centimeter. Later a law was made to prevent law borders of varying dimensions being attached to handkerchiefs which otherwise were square and made of baliste, cotton or silk.

Other tests here by newspaper writers showed a woeful ignorance in France regarding America, one prominent Senator when asked what Sir Chicago was in replying: "I am uncertain, but I think it is Milwaukee."

'CHU CHIN CHOW' MAKES BIGGEST LONDON RUN

Play Once Doomed Is Still Drawing Crowds.

(Special Despatch.)

LONDON, Saturday. Instead of saying "before the war" when they want to indicate the time before the great conflict in theatrical circles in London it is now the custom to say "before 'Chu Chin Chow.'" This theatrical fixture seems destined to remain here for some time. Three weeks ago it was announced that it would close at His Majesty's Theatre, but now the producers are advertising the 2,200th performance with the posters pasted over "Chu Chin Chow's" death notice.

The announcement of the closing of the play caused such a rush of business that it was decided to continue it for several weeks more.

No play in the history of the stage here has had such a phenomenal run as has "Chu Chin Chow," and its fifth complete year will be ended soon. It claims the distinction of having carried on during several enemy bombing raids during the war and has entertained the delegates to half a dozen allied conferences here.

INDUSTRY LOST GENIUS
WHEN FOURNIER DIED

Travelling at Night to Save Time Costs His Life.

(Special Despatch.)

PARIS, Saturday. In the death of Achille Fournier, director-general of the Schneider Creusot Works, when his automobile crashed into an express train at a grade crossing, France lost a genius who, though 38 years old, had shown a command of organization and industry. He was so engrossed in his duties that he invariably travelled in his automobile at night so as not to lose time. It was during such a journey in the middle of the night that the chauffeur failed to see the approaching express train.

When the war started M. Fournier was only a branch superintendent of the big steel works, but his devotion attracted the attention of M. Schneider and won him promotion to the highest industrial position, namely, that of director of relations with the United States manufacturers and at the same time controlling 125,000 workmen. As a financial organizer his success was remarkable. He personally arranged the coordination of the Schneider Creusot Works with the Austrian Skoda and the Luxembourg subsidiaries and obtained for M. Schneider an interest in 125 corporations.

U. S. TO ENGLAND AIR
LINE TO MAKE TRIPS
ACROSS IN 48 HOURS

British Company Promises Comforts of Steamships at $50 a Passenger.

FOR BI-WEEKLY SERVICE

Light Freight and Mails Also Will Be Carried in Proposed Plan.

(Special Despatch.)

LONDON, Saturday. A bi-weekly airship service across the Atlantic is one aim of an all-British aerial transport company now in process of formation. It is estimated that the journey can be made in 48 hours. Passengers will be provided with every simple comfort obtainable on a steamship. Light freight and mails also will be carried.

This dream of the ages appears much nearer realization than is generally thought outside of the small circles of designers and experts who keep patiently working on their cherished ambitions despite the cloud under which the airship passed from the military tangent.

The new company proposes to maintain regular services of both airships and airplanes, the planes to run daily to Paris, Brussels and Amsterdam and the airships to America and Canada. According to the plans the planes will be entirely of metal and will carry parachutes. They will be able to land safely both on land and in water.

$50 Fare Will Be Charged.

The airships will be able to carry fifty passengers and will contain sleeping cabins, a dining room and a smoker lounge, while efficient chefs will provide the best of meals. All this will be for a fare of $50, which is not more than the first class fare on a steamship.

This all would not be possible under the original plans of the R-27, sister ship to the ZR-2, but she will now be built for commercial purposes. The R-27 is in the Royal Airship Works' hangar at Cardington alongside America's ZR-2, but the builders expect to finish her despite the action of the Air Ministry in trying to give away all airships now flying.

The British ship will be different because the ZR-2 is essentially a service craft. The former is almost certain to be changed to suit the needs of the airlines. The new ship will be built to be arranged so as to be more comfortable than the steamships on steamships because they are more roomy. They have two bunk beds high enough so as not to inconvenience one's movements about.

There is a collapsible table to be used for eating or carding playing. Sliding windows opening off the side of the ship will afford a wide view outside. It is planned to have a series of these steamships accommodating two passengers on each side of the ship.

This ship will be heavier and therefore probably slower than the ZR-2, with a lower ceiling, but she can carry 10,000 feet and still attain 15,000 feet, which, as every aviator knows, is high enough for comfort and usually too high to keep warm.

Demonstrations for Buyers. The R-26 is already equipped for passengers along the same general lines but less elegant. She will carry between thirty and forty passengers. A series of demonstrations under Major Scott, who piloted the R-24 across the Atlantic, are being planned for any firm that is interested in taking her over.

Businessmen and designers here refuse to be discouraged by the action of the Air Ministry in scrapping airships. They have specifications for airships that will surpass anything in existence in capacity, power, speed, comfort and general utility. A determined group of experts believe that in a great measure the future of aviation depends on the development of the airship. And while it they cannot compete with certain types of airplanes, they believe that airships as flying ships are distinctly apart from those of George Stephenson.

It is certain that in a couple of years if properly backed they could cut the travel time from London to Egypt to a day and a half, London to India to five days, and London to Australia to ten days. The trip to America they would be able to make in less than two days.

Seek to Interest Dominions. They are trying to get the Dominions interested in some scheme of cooperation to forestall the fate of the airship because the strongest bond of the empire lies in quick communication. The Air Ministry is urging an imperial syndicate with the whole empire represented to undertake the building of a great fleet of airships. It is pointed out that the advantages of such a fleet would be immediate and impressive, while the advantages in wartime would be incalculable.

The salvation of the airship depends on some such cooperative scheme. Those who disagree with the Air Ministry are buying a white elephant in the ZR-2 were greatly stirred up, and indignantly denied this. They launched an array of facts and figures all, however, contradicting what is intimated by the Air Ministry's announcement that if no all-British company offers to take over the airships by August 1 they will be turned over to a disposal board.

PRICES AND DETAILS OF SHERBROOKE MARKET

Although there were not so many dealers present as usual, Landowne Market was very busy yesterday. The demand for vegetables was exceptionally good, though the meat demand fell off on account of the hot weather.

Eggs were very firm and steady, selling at practically the same price as last week. Butter was also firm ranging between twenty-five and thirty-five cents a pound. Creamery butter showed a slight advance, having an average increase of two to three cents a pound.

Demand and supply for chicken and fowl both proved to be very good and the price ranged between thirty-five and forty-five cents. This is slightly lower than last week, the low price for last week being thirty-eight cents.

The vegetable market consisted largely of local produce and there was a decided decrease in imports. Cucumbers were sold at ten cents; lettuce was offered at two heads for fifteen cents; spring onions and radishes were bought for five cents a bunch. Cauliflowers appeared on the market at various prices. They sold as low as twenty-five cents a piece and went as high as fifty cents. New potatoes dropped ten cents, coming down to ninety cents a peck. There was a large offering of cabbages at twenty cents a piece and there was a great quantity of asparagus on sale.

This price is very high compared to the Toronto and Montreal markets where strawberries are selling at the average of two boxes for twenty-five cents. COUNTRY PRODUCE

Montreal, June 25.

EGGS—There were no further developments in the condition of the local egg market yesterday, but the feeling remains very firm for all grades on account of the falling off in the receipts in the interior and the higher prices ruling at country points. The trade here was fairly active, there being a good steady demand for supplies to meet actual requirements, and the movement is fully up to the average for the season. The receipts yesterday were 3,354 cases, as against 2,432 for the same day last week, and 8,269 for the corresponding day a year ago.

We quote wholesale jobbing prices as follows:

Selected eggs 40c
Straight receipts 37c
No. 1 candled stock 35c
No. 2 candled stock 31c to 33c

MAPLE PRODUCTS—There was no improvement in the demand for maple product owing to the very warm weather prevailing, and the fact that retail buyers in most cases have ample supplies on hand to meet all requirements for the time being. The market was quiet and prices were unchanged with maple syrup quoted at $1.50 to $1.75 per tin of one gallon, and maple sugar at 15c to 20c per lb. as to quality.

POTATOES—The market for potatoes was without any new feature.

DIXVILLE IS VISITED BY A SERIOUS FIRE

Residence of Mr. W. W. Norris Was Destroyed—School Building Also Caught Fire.

DIXVILLE, June 25.—This place was visited by a disastrous fire yesterday, when shortly before noon the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Norris, about one-fourth of a mile from the village, on the Coaticook road, was burned to the ground. The fire, which is thought to have originated in the basement of the barn, was discovered by Mrs. Norris, who was alone in the house at the time, but it had made such headway that, with the stiff breeze blowing, nothing could be done to check the flames. Mr. James Parker, jr., of Coaticook, was the first on the scene and removed Mr. Norris' fine span of grey horses from the burning barn. Scores of men were soon on the spot and assisted in removing quite a little of the furniture from the house. The buildings, which included house, shed, carriage shed and barn, were all destroyed, also all the farm implements, six hogs and a number of calves. The loss is partially covered by insurance. Much sympathy is felt for Mr. and Mrs. Norris in the loss of their home.

The fire-fighters had scarcely reached their homes when a second fire alarm was given. This proved to be in the Model School building, which had been ignited by sparks from the first fire. A crowd soon gathered, and with the use of fire extinguishers succeeded in subduing it, but not before the roof had been charred in several places.

ANNUAL OF THE CORPORATION OF WALES HOME

Great Plans Are Being Made for Dominion Day in Richmond.

RICHMOND, Que., June 25.—The second annual meeting of the Corporation of the Wales Home was held on Friday afternoon in the town offices. There was a good representation of the members and much enthusiasm was displayed. Previous to the meeting the visiting governors paid a visit to the home in progress of construction and expressed themselves as pleased with the progress made. At 2 p.m., the president, Mr. B. C. Howard, called the meeting to order and business of the day was undertaken. The secretary read the financial statements for the year, which were all audited and approved. These reports will be printed in pamphlet form and distributed among the governors and friends of the institution.

Dr. Hayes was summoned and found it necessary to have the arm amputated. Mr. Gunter is recovering from the accident and operation.

E. T. STUDENTS SUCCESSFUL IN MUSIC EXAMS

Miss Adams Secured a Triple Distinction and Mr. Blackburn a Double Distinction.

The Practical Examinations held by the McGill Conservatorium of Music took place here this week. A beautiful Heintzman Grand being loaned for the occasion by H. C. Wilson & Sons. Dr. Herbert Sanders, F.R.C.O., of Ottawa, one of Canada's most distinguished musicians, was the examiner. The following are the successful pupils:

Pupils of Mrs. LeBaron Adams:—Singing, Intermediate Grade, Distinction: Miss Ardice Adams.

Pupils of Miss Laura Rugg:—Piano, Lowest Grade: F. E. Hovey; Elementary Grade: A. E. Doyle.

Pupils of Mr. A. E. Whitehead, Mus., Bac.:—Organ, Intermediate Grade, Distinction: Blanche A. Roe, Bessie I. Fowler; Senior Grade, Distinction: John W. Blackburn.

Final, Licentiate Grade for Teacher, Blanche A. Roe, Bessie I. Fowler.

Final, Licentiate Grade for Performer, Blanche A. Roe.

The following interesting facts should be specially mentioned: Miss Ardice Adams has secured a triple distinction (in singing, theory and piano). Mr. John Blackburn has secured a double distinction (in theory and organ, and obtained highest marks in the Dominion in theory).

The two successful candidates for Licentiate in Pianoforte are to be highly congratulated upon terminating so pleasantly such a difficult course. The final examinations included the playing of important works by Bach, Beethoven, Liszt, Chopin, Mendelssohn, Schumann, Debussy, MacKenzie and others; also difficult tests were given in sight-playing, transposition, modulation and pianoforte teaching. In addition, difficult papers were set in the following theoretical subjects: Harmony (three hours), Counterpoint (three hours), History (three hours), Acoustics (two hours) and Form and Analysis (three hours). It will readily be seen that this constitutes a very searching and important examination, especially when it is remembered that this represents only one year (the final) of a three years' course.

Mr. A. E. Whitehead is the local secretary for the McGill University Examinations in Music.

ANNOUNCEMENT

We are pleased to inform the public that in a few days we will have completed our repairs, and will be in a position to offer our patrons the best of service in every department. In years past we have found ourselves handicapped for the want of space and were unable to serve customers in the manner desired. We can now say that when the carpenters have completed their work our floor space will be increased by over 4,500 square feet, this is made by taking over the premises recently occupied by the Canadian Bank of Commerce, next door to our present store.

We have converted the whole ground floor of the Metropole Building into one store. With this extension we will occupy more floor space than any store in Sherbrooke, or even the province, in our line of business. Our Men's and Boys Department will consist of 4,000 sq. feet and our Ladies' Department 6,000 sq. feet making a total surface of over 10,600 sq. ft.

Since the inception of our business we have always tried to please customers and friends, but owing to insufficient space, this could not be done properly, but now with these latest improvements we will be in a position to give perfect service. Nothing is missing, plenty of room, large stocks of new high grade merchandises and an experienced and intelligent staff at your service.

We are convinced that with all these modern improvements, that the firm of J. M. NAULT, Limitee, will be in the future as in the past--the best place for the buying public of the Eastern Townships, to trade, and we will do our utmost to please.

The Official Opening will be announced in a few days, watch for our advertisements in this paper.
