Warfare possible in international union squabbles

WASHINGTON (CP)—Claude Jodoin and George Meany are locked in a bitter behind-the-scenes feud which threatens to erupt into open warfare between Canadian and United States labor federations. Informants close to the scene say Meany, president of the 13,500,000-member AFL-CIO, has privately ridiculed some of Jodoin's views on the Great Lakes labor dispute and in recent weeks has even refused to discuss the issue with the president of the 1,100,000-member Canadian Labor Congress. Meany is said to support the view that any trusteeship of Canadian maritime unions should be dominated by the AFL-CIO while Jodoin wants to retain CLC influence over such operations. The formerly warm personal relations between the 50-year-old Jodoin and the 69-year-old Meany appear to have vanished, informants say. They point to the reported treatment accorded the Canadian trade union leader in recent efforts to reopen private negotiations with Meany.

Meany bluntly let it be known through a third party that he was unavailable to discuss the Great Lakes issue privately with Jodoin. This may have been a reason why no progress was reported when Jodoin conferred with certain unnamed AFL-CIO officials here last Wednesday. Informants say whatever took place in those discussions did not help to eliminate the deep suspicion in the Canadian leadership that powerful U.S. labor forces are at work to destroy moves towards nationalism and independence from U.S. domination in the Canadian labor movement. The drive for labor independence in Canada has grown so strong, it was stated, that Jodoin may be forced into a battle against American influence to the point where he may openly accuse Meany of collusion in interfering with Canadian sovereignty. The weakness of Jodoin's position is that about 75 per cent of the CLC's membership is made up of international unions whose headquarters are in the U.S. Many of the Canadian branches' welfare and pension funds are interwoven with those of the main union bodies in the U.S.

Kennedy blasts Barry

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — President Kennedy has taken sharp issue with some of the foreign policy ideas advanced by Senator Barry Goldwater. Kennedy said these and other proposals backed by some conservatives would lead the United States into a "dangerous world of retreat—not of strength." Kennedy did not mention by name the Arizona Republican who may be his Republican opponent in the 1964 presidential campaign. But he included some Goldwater policies in a catalogue of what he termed unacceptable proposals advanced by ultra-conservatives. In a major address Thursday night before a full house of 8,000 at the Mormon Tabernacle, Kennedy argued that these policies would be "fatal to our national security" and "invite a Communist expansion."

Optimism is lacking at talks

UNITED NATIONS (AP)—West Germany's foreign minister joins those of Britain and the United States in preparatory talks today amid a growing feeling among Western diplomats that no wide agreement will ensue from the forthcoming encounter with Russia's Andrei Gromyko. In advance of his meeting with U.S. State Secretary Dean Rusk and Lord Home of Britain, Gerhard Schroeder of West Germany was reported agreeable to Saturday's Home-Rusk exploration with Gromyko, provided prospects for German reunification are not hurt. Home and Rusk met Thursday and were said to believe that while some secondary accords may be possible soon—such as a stepup in U.S.-Soviet communications and trade—movement will be slow on political issues. It was stated that both the Communists and the West have problems of their own which hinder their flexibility on East-West issues. The Russians are in a feud with the Red Chinese. The Western allies have trouble agreeing on more than a standard policy on Berlin. Gromyko is expected to call for a non-aggression pact between NATO and the Warsaw Pact countries and an exchange of observers to protect against surprise attack. Both ideas were advanced by Russia during last summer's negotiations on the limited nuclear test ban treaty.

Hemmed in by this vulnerability, Jodoin is reported trying his best to salvage what he can from the CLC battle with the Sea Farers International Union of Canada, headed by Harold C. Banks. If no private, union-sponsored solution is found, the Canadian government plans to impose a federal trusteeship over all five maritime unions in Canada. Jodoin is ready to agree to a trade-union trusteeship, providing the CLC is given some influence over the trusteeship's operations. Paul Hall, president of the SIU of North America, has refused to negotiate with the CLC and has publicly referred to Jodoin in derogatory terms. Hall wants the trusteeship to be dominated by the AFL-CIO.

Parliament opens Monday

OTTAWA (CP) — Parliament resumes Monday, picking up where it left off 58 days earlier to take a summer holiday break. Two things due for early attention are loaded with potential political fireworks. First of these is the proposed federal trusteeship over five maritime unions as a move to curb labor violence on the Great Lakes. Prospects for an alternative measure by the labor movement are slim. Second is the Canada pension plan which became a prime issue in the Ontario election campaign and faces strong opposition from an insurance company lobby. Critics of the pay-as-you-go contributory pension idea claim the government is rushing into it without enough thought. The minority Liberal government has pledged itself to forge ahead on both issues. Another item Mr. Pearson has said will get early attention is legislation to increase the $65-a-month old age pension by $10. The plan is payable to all Canadians at age 70. He said the measure will include the steps required to raise the extra $116,000,000 needed. The prime minister said speculation on the tax increases for this purpose have been "pretty accurate." The speculation has been that there will be an increase of one or more of the taxes on personal or corporate income or succession duties. Adding to the tension of each issue is the prospect of a government defeat forcing a new election. The Liberals have 129 members in the Commons against a combined opposition force of 136. The opposition breakdown is 95 Conservatives, 17 New Democrats, 13 in Real Caouette's new Creditist group and 11 Social Crediters led by Robert Thompson. These items were in various stages of the parliamentary mill when the lawmakers began their recess Aug. 2. Two bills providing for two new territories in the far north,

Los Angeles bakes at 108

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Los Angeles residents, baked by two days of near-record heat, braced for a third day in the oven today, with no relief in sight. The weatherman predicted a high of 108 today after Thursday's high of 109. It was even too hot for smog. When the temperature hit 101 Thursday the air pollution forced its way through the layer of warm air that normally acts as a stove lid to keep smog packed in the Los Angeles basin. Other things escaped, too, such as many school children, city office workers and anyone who didn't have to stay on the job. Downtown streets at noon were unusually quiet. The downtown Los Angeles high of 109 was the second highest reading in the city's history. The highest was 110 Sept. 1, 1955.

BOUNDARY FAIR OPENS — The 19th annual Boundary Rotary Fair opened last night at the Border Arena. It continues tonight and tomorrow night at 7 p.m. Above, looking at an exhibit during official opening ceremonies

QUEBEC (CP) — Canada's education minister unanimously agreed Thursday they need more money and tax resources from the federal government and Quebec's youth minister later said that without it, education, or even the country's future, could be imperilled. The seven ministers and three deputy representing 10 provinces issued a statement following a private meeting suggesting the question of more money for education be taken up at the November federal-provincial fiscal conference. One of two resolutions adopted during the ministers' meeting, an annual event, said in part that although education is under provincial jurisdiction, federal government grants have "the effect of imposing, in greater or lesser degree, federal policy upon education in the provinces." The ministers met in conjunction with the annual convention of the Canadian Education Association. Paul Gerin-Lajoie, Quebec youth minister, told the annual dinner, a few hours after the ministers' meeting, that provincial spending for education will soon reach the saturation point. "... This is we fall short of a major adjustment in federal-provincial fiscal agreements, the future of education in Canada is not so bright." A PARADOX The whole situation was a paradox. The provinces were charged with assuring the development of Canada's people. They were making a maximum effort to this end. "The effort however is clearly insufficient." The only logical solution "lies in a vast reappraisal and readjustment of our fiscal structures with a view to providing the provinces with sources of revenue that will yield much greater sums than they dispose of at the present time." The ministers said they wanted to go on record as favoring "a more adequate system of financing" for educational projects undertaken by the federal government. This could be done either through tax-sharing agreements, or through direct grants and subsidies "of a more general nature than those provided through the present agreements." Mr. Gerin-Lajoie, as conference chairman, told reporters the ministers agreed they would like to see such grants paid in "a more or less lump sum without detailed control by the federal government."

UOFM STUDENTS CALL BOYCOTT HALT WHILE HIGH SCHOOL TEACHERS MEET

MONTREAL (CP) — Two much homework, others said lunch hour 1 1/2 hours again, but added 10 minutes to the school day, a move accepted by teachers and students. The commission made the teachers' alliance 9:50-5:50 approval given to the school commission's alternate proposal in Thursday night's general meeting of teachers should ease the situation, observers said, since many students sympathized with their teachers. Meanwhile, Thursday, 10 boys were picked up by police for what police called inciting high school students not to attend classes at a high school. One was fined $5, the other three released to their parents. The alliance had objected sharply to the commission's new scheme of having each teacher instruct 26 class-room periods of 45 minutes a week, in place of last year's 23 periods of 50 minutes. The teachers' meeting approved the commission's compromise proposal of an average of 24 periods of 45 minutes. A joint study committee of the alliance and the commission will investigate teachers working conditions and report in six months.

OTTAWA (CP) — The occasional jitters are evident here as the United States slowly moves closer to the target date of January, 1962—disposal of part of the mammoth U.S. stockpile of strategic materials. Unless the disposal is orderly, the Canadian base metals industry could be scuttled. Dumping the excess commodities not only would disrupt the market in the U.S., but wreck the price structure and marketing arrangements the world over. Pierre Marois, head of the association, said it had been agreed the association will stop the boycott pending negotiations with university officials during the weekend. Some high school students said they were protesting a 10-minute cut in the lunch hour to 80 minutes from 1 1/2 hours. Some said they were against too

Trade balance the same

OTTAWA (CP) — No fundamental change in the pattern of Japanese-Canadian trade, at least in the near future, was indicated Thursday in statements following a two-day conference at the ministerial level. The trade balance now is about 2 to 1 in Canada's favor. Last year Canada earned a $90,000,000 trade surplus by shipping about $215,000,000 worth of wheat and raw materials to Japan and importing some $125,000,000 in a wide variety of manufactured goods. About one-third of the Japanese imports are subject to voluntary Japanese restraints, such as on textiles and footwear, designed to protect Canadian industry. These are negotiated each year. The ministerial meeting, however, was described officially as one that does not negotiate or reach firm decisions. This task is left to experts on both sides; they took six months to settle the 1962 Japanese quotas. Japan is believed to have pressed here for relaxation on future quotas, especially since Canada recently signed an agreement with Communist China—in connection with a second huge wheat pact—placing export quotas on $7,000,000 worth of Chinese shipments to Canada a year, mostly textiles. This would be a big gain in Chinese sales to Canada. A Japanese delegate said practically everything Japan has to offer in the Canadian market would be manufactured goods subject either to voluntary quotas or to the Canadian government's arbitrary valuations for duty purposes, which can be imposed under the 1954 Canadian-Japanese Trade Agreement.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Premier Bennett and E. Davie Fulton have turned British Columbia's Sept. 30 election campaign into a feud over the Social Credit government's two-river power policy. The premier and the leader of the New Democratic Party, and Liberal leader Ray Perreault have power policies but they are concentrating on other aspects of their campaigns. WINNIPEG (CP)—Case studies indicate mental retardation is strongly linked with hereditary factors, a Minneapolis doctor said Thursday. Dr. Sheldon C. Reed of the Dight Institute for Human Genetics at the University of Minnesota said a study started in 1911 has recently concluded that it is possible to say in advance some parents are likely to have retarded children. WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials have decided on a policy of chill correctness—the polite cold shoulder—for dealing with Mrs. Ngo Dinh Nhu when she arrives in the United States.

Reports heard before the polls opened spoke of plans for demonstrations and incidents to mark voting by pro-Buddhist and student elements protesting recent government actions. The government took strong security precautions with troops deployed at likely trouble spots throughout the country. From Rome, where she is on a world tour, Mrs. Nhu replied tartly to U.S. ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge's criticism Thursday of her attack Sunday on U.S. junior officers in Viet Nam. Mme. Nhu had called the officers irresponsible "little soldiers of fortune" who forced their seniors into following a confused policy. Lodge said her remarks were cruel and shocking.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

LEAD COMES UP TO STRONG HAND
The Jacoby Transfer Bid (JTB) has numerous advantages, but outstanding among them is that it makes it possible for the no-trump hand to be declarer so that the opening lead comes up to the strong hand. This advantage is greater after an opening two-no-trump because there are more high cards in the closed hand.

were several club openings. The JTB players landed at six spades with South as declarer. Some got there via the Blackwood route. Others used the bidding shown in the box. North transferred, cue bid diamonds and finally invited the slam by going to five spades. This didn't put any great burden on South. He had the right kind of hand to accept the slam invitation.

In the Billings, Mont., regional every South player opened with two-no-trump. There was no reason to make any other

The play was even less of a burden. South had some worries after the heart opening, but he played two rounds of trumps and when both opponents followed to the second trump lead the worries were over. South was able to ruff dummy's last diamond and to discard two of dummy's clubs on high hearts. This left him with only one club loser.

CARD SENSE

Q—The bidding has been:
South West North East
2 N.T. Pass 3 Pass
3 Pass 5 Pass

You, South, hold:
A-Q-6, A-K-9-8, K-4, A-Q-7-4.

What do you do now?
A—Your partner's three-heart bid was the spade transfer. Now he is inviting the spade slam and you should bid six spades. You have very good spades, first round control of three suits and second round control of the fourth.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Your partner opens one spade. Second hand doubles. You hold:
K-K-7-6, A-Q-8-5-4, K-2, A-3-2.

What do you do?

About Television

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — Danny Kaye is a great comedian because he can evoke laughter in so many ways. Wednesday night in his CBS premiere, the red-haired pixie sang a song with a pantomime accompaniment by a high stool that magically followed him around the stage. Then he had a sketch that went a little too long about a nervous man on his first plane ride. Later, he danced in his light-footed way and sang a graceful duet with singer Lovelady Powell.

The big production number was a demonstration of how a baseball song would be written by Lerner and Loewe, Leonard Bernstein and Meredith Willson — they were called My Fair Umpire, Horsehide Story and The Baseball Man. Along the way Danny did marvellous imitations of Rex Harrison and Robert Preston.

Generally the show was delightful. If that is to be Kaye's pace for the season he will wear well. The kindest thing one can do for Glynis, the other CBS pre-

Ever Hear of a "DIURETIC"?

Maybe not. But you should know what a "diuretic" does. There may be times when you should use one. You likely understand how important the kidneys are in maintaining good health. Also that if the kidneys fail to function properly excess acids and waste material remain in the system. This may result in subsequent urinary irritation and bladder discomfort, often followed by backache, tired feeling and disturbed rest.

Show Business

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Early in the second act of the new musical Zenda the villain made the motion of hurling a dagger at the hero.

The dagger, which was to pop out of a box in a bit of stage trickery, arrived about 30 seconds too late.

It was one of those onstage mishaps that brought a laugh from the audience, and the performers. To some patrons it seemed to emphasize the hit-and-miss quality of the show.

But the hits seemed to outnumber the misses, and Zenda's chances for Broadway success appear better than average. Zenda, which will open at the Mark Hellinger Theatre Oct. 26, is a product of Los Angeles-San Francisco civic light opera which gave the theatre such hits as Song of Norway, Kismet and Peter Pan—and such flops as Magdalena and Three Wishes for Jamie. Zenda has three top stars, direction by George Schaefer, music by Vernon Duke, dances by Jack Cole.

The idea of basing a musical on the Anthony Hope novel, The Prisoner of Zenda (filmed in 1922, 1937 and 1952), seems to be a good one. The story of a British vaudeville villain who doubles for the king of a tiny European country isn't too intricate to slow things down.

CLASH OF STYLES

Why, then, is Zenda not an unqualified hit? The answer seems to lie in a clash of styles. The show is primarily an operetta, rare nowadays. The ponderous scenery, the sometimes florid acting style are at odds with attempts to update the proceedings. Some dances bear little relation to the whole — especially a twist number and a final ballet that looks like Martha Graham rampant.

The music lacks the lilt required for a successful operetta. But there are assets that help offset these factors. Alfred Drake, possibly the best star of the musical stage, gives utmost skill to the tricky, dual role. Whether in a corny music hall or a love song, in bedroom farce or court politics, he proves the indispensable man of Zenda.

Chita Rivera, late of West Side Story and Bye Bye Birdie, shows her versatility. Playing the king's fiery mistress, she sings with style, dances beautifully and handles comedy like a veteran.

Here is the solid, silent Super Torque Ford for 1964

The most beautiful Ford ever—hundreds of pounds stronger, smoother and steadier than any other car in its field. Open competition has bred into the '64 Fords the kind of total performance you just can't create on the test track alone. They're hard muscled, fast-moving, sure-footed... with more steel in their frames, huskier bodies, more solid road-hugging strength than anything else in their field. A remarkable new suspension system gives them a ride as smooth as cars costing thousands more—and the '64 Fords offer you substantially more car than anything at their price. Don't take our word for it—take the wheel and see. Test drive the total performance of the '64 Fords... at your Ford Dealer!

The 1964 Super Torque Ford has the beauty, elegance and power of a car born to be a winner! Choose from 16 models in four series, including the Ford Custom, Custom 500, Galaxie 500 and Galaxie 500/XL.

FUN IN THE SAND — Young boys play in the sandbox in the backyard of the Maplemount Home for Young Folk at Cookshire. The non-denominational children's foster home is a project which the Sherbrooke Welfare Agency

The Sherbrooke Welfare Agency provides a wide variety of services to community

Not long ago, in mid-winter, an almost blind father of four children, all under five years old, sat in the corner of a peeling tar paper shack in the Sherbrooke area. His dimming eyes saw nothing to give him any encouragement. His wife needed immediate medical attention. His thin, blue-lipped children were undernourished and inadequately clothed.

A volunteer social worker for the Sherbrooke Welfare Agency, Mrs. Harold Munkittrick, summoned by an interested neighbor, was welcomed into the icy cold shack.

Through another organization, Mrs. Munkittrick arranged the immediate provision of a repaired and comfortable house. A needy mother's pension, and a pension for the blind were arranged, to augment the family allowance payments, previously the family's only source of income.

Clothing, food and fuel were supplied for the remaining winter months.

Douglas Armitage, president of the Sherbrooke Welfare Agency, a participating member of the current Community Chest Campaign, reported recently that an operation on the father's eyes had proved successful and that he is now happily employed.

The mother, he said, "is now in good health and much benefited by her social welfare counselling in budgeting and child care."

"Two of the children are now attending school and are showing better than average progress."

Mr. Armitage went on to say that, of course, all the cases referred to the Sherbrooke Welfare Agency "do not turn out as rewarding as this, but some do and this makes it all a very worthwhile effort."

The agency was founded in 1954 to carry on general welfare work among the needy in the city of Sherbrooke and its environs without distinction to race or creed.

It is organized to:

- Co-operate with and assist all organizations presently engaged in welfare work.
- Prepare and file a report on all cases for which assistance is requested — such reports to be made available on demand in writing to those welfare services or other charitable organizations duly recognized as such by the federal, provincial or municipal authorities.
- Maintain a depot for the reception and distribution of clothing.
- Its board of directors consists of a member of each of 10 local churches and ten local service organizations.
- Membership is open to all upon payment of a one-dollar per year membership fee.
- Another project of the Sherbrooke Welfare Agency is participation in the operation of the non-denominational children's foster home, Maplemount, at Cookshire.

Agency President Douglas Armitage is also a member of the home's executive committee and reports that, at present there are 18 children in residence, with an additional four expected in the future.

Chairman of the Maplemount committee is Dr. W. J. Klinck, Lennoxville.

The Sherbrooke Welfare Agency is one of the six organizations participating in the Sherbrooke-Lennoxville Community Chest campaign, Sept. 23 to Oct. 8. The agency will share the $24,000 objective.

Although the agency is hopeful that a full-time paid social worker can be hired in the future, all work done now is on a voluntary basis.

A full-time social worker for the agency was strongly urged last Monday by Doris Clark, Canadian columnist, social sciences graduate, and social worker, who spoke to a meeting of the agency.

Institute hopes to fight African 'drift to the left'

By MALCOLM REID (Record staff reporter)

"There is an undeniable drift to the left in Africa," and the International Institute of African Affairs now being set up at the University of Sherbrooke will take it as part of its task to help arrest this drift by teaching "Western values."

The institute's director, Michel Struelens, last night gave this outline of what he hoped to make of the institute, and added the warning that the Communist World was working to lead Africans along its path with such efforts as the Patrice Lumumba University in Moscow.

Mr. Struelens, speaking to the press with university officials and institute sponsors at the Social Club, said he was confident his past career as public relations man for the regime of President Moïse Tshombe of Katanga would not make Africans see him as a defender of white control in Africa.

"There may have been some suspicion that Tshombe stood for white rule for the first few months of Katanga's independence," Mr. Struelens said, "but after the Tananarive conference, even the New York Times said Tshombe was nobody's puppet."

The 1961 Tananarive conference between Tshombe, the central Congo government from Leopoldville, and other elements in the formerly Belgian Congo, did not manage to bring the secession-torn Congo back together. Katanga was not reintegrated into the republic until late 1962, when the United Nations reunified the country by force.

Mr. Tshombe, the first Congolese provincial leader to take his territory out of the federation, is now in Spain. Patrice Lumumba, first central premier of the republic, fell from power in the secession crisis of 1960, and was reported by a United Nations investigation to have been killed by supporters of Mr. Tshombe some months later.

"History will judge if the United Nations was wise," Mr. Struelens said last night. Katanga, without the intervention of the UN, could have maintained itself in complete independence, he declared.

On the organization of the institute, the director said he would devote the first year to collecting books and documents on Africa and making a series of service club speeches on Africa and the institute across Canada.

There was a possibility that the institute would never hire any professors, he said, leaving that to a future "faculty of African sciences" which would be set up directly under the university. The institute would continue to act in an advisory capacity, keeping its autonomy.

The institute will have its own sources of funds. Marcel Therrien, Montreal real estate dealer who represented the organizing committee last night, said it would announce these on Wednesday as the result of a list of official patrons will be issued next Monday, however.

Mr. Struelens said he had been misquoted in Montreal as revealing the institute would be financed by the Union Minière, the major copper mining firm in Katanga. All he had said was that he didn't see any reason to refuse a donation from the Union Minière if one were offered.

"But it would be a shame if the institute became something foreign-owned," he said.

He had never had dealings of any kind with the company, he said. "You can't say the Union Minière is pro-Tshombe or anti-Tshombe. International capitalism places its support where it can make the most money," he said.

He had friends in almost every country of Africa, he said. And Tshombe himself had been on good terms with such other African leaders as the now-deposed President Fulbert Youlou of the ex-French Congo, and Kenneth Kaunda of neighboring Rhodesia.

Mr. Struelens began his African career in 1950 as an economic inspector for the Belgian administration of the Congo, later becoming head of tourism for Belgian colonies in Africa, the post in which he was sent to Katanga shortly after Congolese independence.

Struck by car, man, 81, dies

St. Vincent de Paul Hospital officials reported that the death of an 81-year-old Sherbrooke man occurred Wednesday as the result of injuries received in a car accident the same day.

Louis Bolduc was struck by a car on Minto Street at 8 a.m. Wednesday as he tried to cross the street.

Driver fined $50 for hit and run accident

A Lennoxville man pleaded guilty to a charge of hit-and-run before Sessions Court yesterday and was fined $50 and costs by Judge Evender Veilleux.

Gaston Grimard 31, of Lennoxville was accused of driving the car that struck Leo Roberge on Big Forks Street the night of January 3.

Mr. Roberge suffered a fractured leg.

Philippe Lessard 47 of R.R. 2 Sherbrooke was fined $50 and costs by Judge Evender Veilleux yesterday after being found guilty of driving while his faculties were impaired by alcohol.

The judge rejected the testimony of the accused that his son had been driving the car when police spotted it travelling along the streets of Windsor at 4 a.m. recently, moving from one side of the road to the other.

A second charge brought against Mr. Lessard — reckless driving — was dropped after Judge Veilleux declared that police testimony showed the accused had not been travelling at high speed.

Leopold Belanger 61, of Sherbrooke was fined $50 and costs and had his driver's permit suspended for three months yesterday after Judge Redmond Hayes found him guilty of driving while his faculties were impaired by alcohol.

Mr. Belanger had recently been involved in a head-on collision which also caused another car to veer off the road into the ditch in Windsor.

Swimming and life-saving organization is formed

Swimming and life-saving instructors from Sherbrooke, Lennoxville, Waterville and Danville met this week at the Sherbrooke YWCA to form a new club called the Club Dalphin, for instruction in swimming and life-saving.

Main purpose of the club is to further knowledge of swimming and water safety, according to Lorne Harding of Lennoxville who was elected president.

Members of the club will be available to speak and show films in their respective areas. They will strive, Mr. Harding said, to have all swimming areas guarded by certified instructors and life guards and attempt to make every swimming area safe through proper teaching.

Laurent Charest of Sherbrooke was elected vice president and Valerie Rawlings, also of Sherbrooke was elected secretary-treasurer.

Members present for the organization meeting included Russel Kezar of Waterville, Mrs. Stanley Falconer of Sherbrooke, Susan Choquette of Sherbrooke, Eric Harding of Danville and Claude St. Jacques of Sherbrooke.

Annual Boundary Rotary Fair opened

ROCK ISLAND — The 19th annual Boundary Rotary Fair was officially opened last evening by Yves Forest, M.P., who in his opening remarks paid tribute to the work of the Rotary Club for the benefit of other persons.

Other speakers were Georges Vaillancourt, M.L.A.; Rene Letourneau, Past M.P.; Mayor E. J. Struthers, Stanstead, Mayor Hugo LaPenna, Beebe, Mayor Carroll Smith, Rock Island.

The Rotary Club president, Rev. Ralph Rogers, welcomed everyone to the three-night fair. Andy Joyal, the Fair chairman, was also introduced.

The first of the three nights of "Fun for All—All for Charity," ran approximately 600 in attendance. Many went home with valuable prizes.

The Border Sketch Club has a showing of paintings and there is a booth arranged by the Stanstead Frontier Branch, Royal Canadian Legion and Foster Cosby American Legion.

New 1964 motor cars are on display. Industrial booths and others show electrical appliances and the latest in modern home furnishings.

There are game booths for all and last night all were well patronized. In the corny game a valuable prize was won each game. This game offers a bicycle if BINGO is won with the first five numbers called.

In Chancet booth there are beautiful prizes of electrical appliances, wool blankets and other prizes. Last night's winners were Harold Wormsley; Mansur Fournier, Stanstead; George Joyal, Jean Leclerc, Rock Island, Jean Marc Bertrand, 549 Sherbrooke St. Magog. Outstanding number is

A cash prize of $10 was won from the raffle by George Beware, Newport, and $5 each went to Hector Channell, Stanstead, A. S. Judd, Jr., Derby Line, and Ivan Perkins, 1628 King St., Sherbrooke.

Raymond Shepard, Beebe, won the door prize, a TCA travel bag and also the electric tea kettle donated by Southern Canada Power.

The fair will continue again to night and tomorrow night. Doors open at 7 p.m. and all booths will be in operation at 7:30 p.m.

Saturday evening there will be a feature attraction when Dick Eggers, an American Western cowboy will be present and display horsemanship with trained horses. Mr. Eggers is the trainer or grand champion Arabian horses owned by Mitchell Bronfman of Montreal. This show will start at 7:30 p.m. Mr. Eggers is training the animals at a farm in the Stanstead area. There is no extra charge to see Dick and the horses.

Another Saturday night feature will be a drawing for a trip for two to Bermuda or Florida, all expenses paid, or a cash prize of $500.

Pouliot Furniture is donating a chrome kitchen table and four matching chairs which will be the door prize.

If the weather turns cold the Arena will be heated.

The Sherbrooke Daily Record "mystery person" will be at the fair Saturday night. He or she will be part of the fair crowd. Those correctly identifying the "mystery person" and in possession of a copy of the Sherbrooke Daily Record will be awarded prizes.

LT. Col. CODERE

To head Fusiliers regiment

The promotion of Major Bernard Codere, CD, of Sherbrooke, Quebec, to the rank of Lieutenant-Colonel was officially announced at 9 Militia Group Headquarters today by Brig. Jean Prosper Gautier, Group Commander.

Second-in-command of Les Fusiliers de Sherbrooke, RCIC, Lt-Col. Codere will assume direction of his regiment on Monday, in a change-of-command ceremony when he will officially take over the unit from Lt-Col. John J. Dunn, CD.

Born in Sherbrooke in 1930, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Codere, Lt-Col. Codere is married and has six children, five sons; Yves 10, Alain 9, Gaetan 7, Jerome 3, Joseph-Henri 18 months, and a daughter Josee 5. Mrs. Codere was formerly Viviane Johnson of Richmond.

Educated in Sherbrooke grade schools, Montreal's Brebeuf College, and Stanislas College, he is now employed in civilian life with Codere Limitee of Sherbrooke.

First enlisting with the Canadian Army Militia in September 1950 as an officer cadet with Les Fusiliers de Sherbrooke, Lt-Col. Codere qualified as a second-lieutenant in June 1951, and was promoted to Captain in 1955. After completing his field officer's course at Camp Bouchard, Quebec, he was promoted to Major in 1960, and appointed second-in-command of his regiment in 1961.

Baby-sitting precautions are urged

Increased use of baby sitters has added a new dimension to home fire prevention, Inspector Maurice Lemieux of the Sherbrooke fire prevention bureau said yesterday.

He said many fires in the home are allowed to get out of control because baby sitters in charge of the family do not know what to do.

Insp. Lemieux suggested the following rules be observed:

- The sitter should have a sense of responsibility, should like children and preferably live in the neighborhood.
- Instructions should be given in writing as well as orally — Where you are going and telephone number, or the name and number of someone to call in an emergency. Your telephone number and location of telephone.
- Emergency telephone numbers for FIRE, POLICE, DOCTOR.

How to call the fire department.

Location of exits.

How to control the furnace or stove.

Leave a flashlight in case of power failure.

In emergency:

- Get the children out. Don't wait to dress them. Wrap them in a blanket.
- Even the smell of smoke or gas is enough warning to summon help. Say exactly where you are. If you can, turn on the front lights, to attract attention.
- Don't re-enter the house.

He said that during Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 6 to Oct. 12, local fire department personnel will be visiting city schools.

Waterloo man to mark 90th birthday Daisy Queen sleigh among his memories

WATERLOO — (Special) — Another senior citizen of Waterloo enters the 90-year class.

George Golden, 1121 Main Street will be 90 years old September 29. He is the last of a family of eight sons, born to John Golden and his wife, Puris Kendall. He was born at Warden in 1873 and has lived in Warden and Waterloo all his life. His brothers, Ed, John, Jim, Will, Ernie, Sam and Charlie also lived in this vicinity and will be remembered by many.

Mr. Golden was a millwright and worked in a sash and door factory and tannery in Warden.

"I remember working for Austin Berry," he said. "We made the Daisy Queen sleigh. It had springs under the body. The runners were bent up, front and back. The springs were fastened to the runners. The sleigh was painted black."

Mr. Berry was sure he was on the road to fortune with his invention. The Daisy Queen made quite a little flurry on the market. The riders rode along in greatest comfort, with the sleigh rocking on its springs. Unfortunately, the action of the rocker when pulling back nearly killed the horses on a run. It did not prove practical and was discontinued.

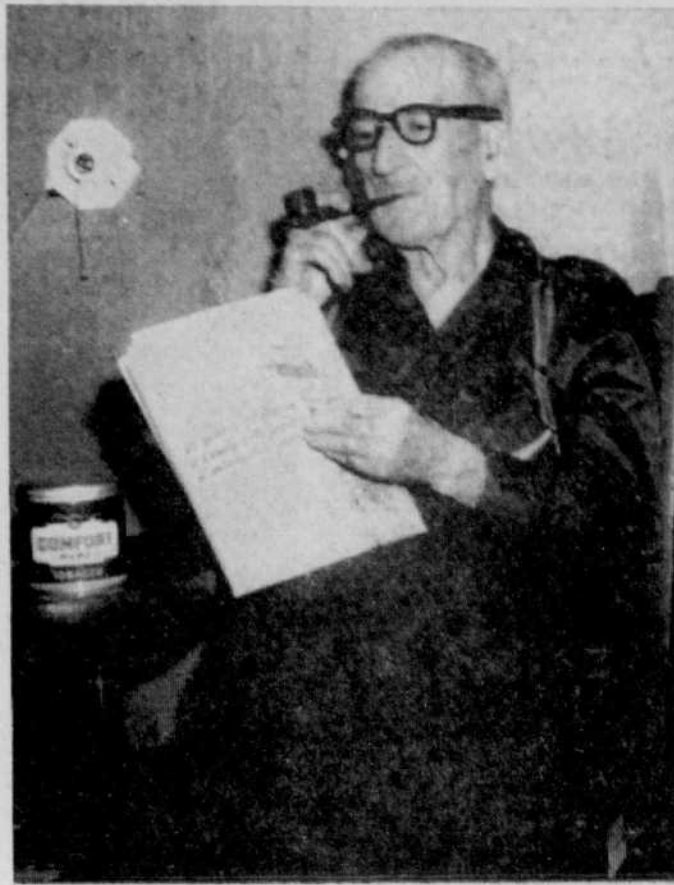

Another product of the old times that George Golden worked on was the iron-wheeled bicycle. This was made in the foundry at Warden. Samples are still to be found in museums centres, such as Knowlton Museum and Upper Canada Village. A huge wheel was in front with the small wheel in back joined with a long, curved rod. The rider sat up high in the air and pedaled away, at his own risk.

George also worked in Austin Berry's Carding Mill in Warden at one time, during the days when Warden was quite a prosperous village.

When the Golden's moved to Waterloo, George can be particularly well-remembered by every one as the milkman on a bicycle. Never owning a car, he rode around delivering his milk on bicycle. Weather never held him back. He did all his errands with his bicycle. One winter day, some years back the man skidded on the ice, fell and was badly hurt. Since then he has been more or less confined to a chair or on crutches.

The radio is now his greatest comfort in life. His eyes have failed beyond enjoying the TV, he said.

Mr. Golden's wife, Dorothy Kendall and his son, Willard, have predeceased him. He lives alone with a nephew, Cliff Kendall. His daughter-

Granby school proposes bus pickup of pupils

GRANBY — (Special) — To make it easier and safer for the students who board the Abbotsford school bus after school at Granby High School, parents are asked to refrain from parking their cars in front of the main door of the school, between the marked telephone poles from 3:15 to 4:15 p.m.

Parents who pick up young children by car are asked to try to arrange a set meeting place, such as Louise Street, at the west end of the school, Ottawa Street, or Lorne Ave. north of the school. There is no room at the front of the school for all cars that call, especially on rainy days.

Verreault Transport have offered a special bus for school children living in the Vittie, Mountain, Denison, King, Leger area. The proposed bus would pick up the children at school at noon and deliver them back to the school at 12:50 p.m.

In order to find out for the bus company how many children would take advantage of this service, the school is asking all interested parents to fill out a form sent to them on their bulletin and return it to the school.

Relatives and friends gather at Mystic to honor Granby couple

MYSTIC — God's Acre, the home of Miss Estella Primerman, was the setting for an advance gathering of some 70 friends and relatives, who came on Aug. 31, to express their congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Miller, of Granby, who were celebrating their golden wedding anniversary, Sept. 3.

The bride of half a century wore a beige, two-piece outfit, accented by a corsage of deep-sea carnations.

The couple received the guests near an archway, above which was a large, gold 50. Many of the guests were old-time friends of Mr. Miller, having known him during his early life, when he lived in Mystic.

The rooms were beautifully decorated with baskets of gladioli, and other bright autumn flowers, with the general color scheme of the other decorations being carried out in gold.

Throughout the afternoon and evening, refreshments were served. Tea was poured by Mrs. Howard Bradford, of Montreal, a daughter, Mrs. Ross Miller, of Granby, daughter-in-law, Mrs. Henry Bird, of Waterloo, sister of Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Marjorie Laurie, of Granby, her sister-in-law, and Mrs. Kenneth Best, of Bedford.

The afternoon was marked by a short program, with Jack Emmis, of Beaufort, acting as M.C.

Mrs. Muriel MacKenzie, of Kingston, Ont., recited "The Boy's Scandal and Cornflower." These were followed by two solos, "The Wedding Guest and Shall Not Pass Again This Way," sung by Miss Vera Reid, formerly, in girlhood days, of Mystic, who now resides at Ville St.

Foster

Mr. Harold Griffin of Lachine, and Mr. Stewart Griffin, of Drummondville, were weekend guests of their mother, Mrs. A. J. Griffin, Mrs. T. Tomlinson of Maxville, Ont., is remaining for an indefinite time with her sister, Mrs. Griffin.

Mrs. John Heatherington was home for the weekend, after spending two weeks in Montreal, where she has again enrolled their daughter, Nancy, in the Iona School.

Friends are sorry to learn that Mrs. Harmon Spencer is confined to her room most of the time through illness.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Whitehead for a few days were Mr. and Mrs. Olaf Whitehead, of Attleboro, Mass., Mr. Homer Whitehead and Mrs. R. P. Hilliker, of South Stukely, Mr. Walter Wheeler, of Manchester, N.H., Mr. and Mrs. George Johnston of Bromes and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilson, of Sutton Jct.

Laurent, Miss Reid was her own accompanist at the organ.

In conclusion, Rev. Peter MacCaskill, United Church Minister of Mystic and Bedford, gave a most suitable message for the occasion, which was followed by prayer. He then offered his congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Miller, commented on their exemplary lives and wished them many more years of happiness together.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller were the recipients of a money gift from their Mystic friends as well as personal gifts from others. Mr. Miller expressed thanks, on behalf of Mrs. Miller and himself.

The joint hostesses, Miss Eileen Montgomery, of St. Lambert, and Miss Estella Primerman, were assisted in serving by Miss Jane Bradford, granddaughter, Mrs. Dorothea Lenney, Mrs. Elaine Clow and Mr. George Clow, Young Jeff Martin, acted as a most efficient parking guide and others helped in many ways to make the occasion a happy and memorable one.

Former minister and wife feted by Sutton choir

SUTTON — Rev. and Mrs. Gerald Norris, former residents of Sutton, were pleasantly surprised when several members of the senior choir of Grace Anglican Church visited them recently at their cottage on Lake Memphremagog.

Mr. and Mrs. Norris were members of the choir during their residence in Sutton, and their friends gathered to wish them well prior to their departure to a new parish, Hale C. Reid, acting as spokesman for the group, presented Mr. and Mrs. Norris with a table lamp as a token of the esteem in which they are held by their Sutton friends.

Among those who were present were Miss Mona Chateaus, Mrs. Leslie Durrell of Waterloo, Mrs. Alfred Lengacher, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Miltimore, Mrs. W. O'Regan, Mr. Hale C. Reid, and Mr. Henry Whitford.

Knowlton

Dr. and Mrs. A. S. Douglass entertained members of the Dr. Douglass Group of the B.M.P. Hospital at a delightful dinner at the Knowlton Golf Club on Sept. 19. Mrs. H. Seal, convener of the group, expressed thanks for the kind gesture of Dr. and Mrs. Douglass and in replying the doctor mentioned he was proud and pleased that the group had been named for him.

Kindergarten reopened on Sept. 16, with Mrs. Harold Spencer as instructor. Eleven children were registered and more are expected this month.

Several classes from the High School and their teachers visited the local Museum and were conducted through it on Sept. 17.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hogle of Moers, N.Y., and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Pettes, of Cowansville, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Armstrong.

Little Helpers service held in Mansonville

MANSONVILLE — On Sept. 21, a service was held in St. Paul's Anglican Church for the little tots seven years and under. Mr. Albiston opened the service with Scripture, followed by a hymn, and the Little Helpers repeated their own prayer. At the offertory each child placed his mite box on the collection plate.

The service closed with a hymn, the Little Helpers adjourning to the Parish Hall, where they were welcomed by Mrs. Miller, W.A. president. Mrs. Bailey, Little Helpers secretary told the story of the Good Samaritan with the aid of a flannelgraph, and Miss Atwell related an action story.

The Misses Villa Woodard and Doris Cadorette played games with the little ones, while the ladies prepared lunch for the children and tea for the ladies.

Waterloo social notes

Mrs. Dave Brinton and little daughter, Susan of Trenton, Ont., have arrived to spend two weeks with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Smith. Mrs. Smith was in Montreal to accompany her daughter and granddaughter to Waterloo.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Shetler of Belleville, Ont., spent the weekend in Waterloo and attended the party for Mrs. Edna Irwin.

Luncheon guests on Sept. 24th, of Mrs. C. G. Hall and Mrs. C. Bullock were Mrs. Marie Simard, Miss Joyce Raymond, Miss Florence Bowker and Miss Edith Watson, all of Montreal.

Mrs. A. F. Robinson was in Granby to visit Mrs. George Robinson, who is home from hospital to convalesce. Mrs. Len Robinson, of Vancouver, is caring for her mother.

Mr. Tom Anderson sailed on the Empress of Canada for a trip to Belfast, Ireland, where he will visit relatives. Mr. Anderson expects to be away about six weeks.

Mrs. Merle Walls was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Lang at their summer home, Lake St. Francis.

In 20 years, this piece of property will be worth more money—or less. For a long-term risk-free investment, London Life has a suggestion.

Why buying a London Life policy is as good as buying a piece of property (perhaps better)

The value of London Life permanent insurance is not in the lap of the gods. It is guaranteed. You don't need a large down payment. You can borrow money on it. And all the while it protects your family more completely than any other investment.

YOU MAY LIFT YOUR EYEBROWS when we compare a London Life Jubilee policy with a piece of property. But consider these facts:

- (1) Investment in a piece of property usually involves some risk. A London Life Jubilee policy avoids the hazards of investment risk. The cash values of your policy are guaranteed in writing.
- (2) Start modestly. $13.09 a month isn't very big league in the investment world. But invested in a London Life Jubilee whole life policy it provides protection and builds substantial savings. If you start at age 25, by the time you reach age 65 you will have had $10,000 life insurance protection for your family for 40 years—and you will have built up savings of about $12,580, twice as much as you have paid in premiums. This is made up of $5,580 in guaranteed cash value, and about $7,000 in accumulated dividends. (Based on the 1963 dividend scale and assuming you leave dividends to accumulate.)
- (3) When you're ready to retire, what other form of property offers you all these choices: at age 65

- you can keep right on with your London Life insurance protection; you may stop paying premiums and take a paid-up policy for an adjusted amount; you may take the cash value, plus dividends that have built up—take it in a lump sum, as an income guaranteed for life or as an income for so many years. No other property is so versatile.
- (4) London Life has had an outstanding dividend record over the past 50 years. Since 1951, the dividend rate has been increased six times.
- (5) With your first premium you create an immediate estate. If you die, the value of your London Life policy is greatly increased—worth much more than you have paid in premiums. Many other properties must be sacrificed when the owner dies.
- (6) You can borrow from London Life on the cash value of your policy. Quickly and quietly. Just call the local London Life office or your representative. No credit check. And all the while your policy continues to protect your family.

- (7) When you borrow from London Life, the interest rate is 6%—comparable with banks' regular lending rates and much lower than personal loan companies'.
- (8) A London Life Jubilee policy is a good investment in other ways. It is not affected by market fluctuations. It is just as safe as high-grade bonds and much safer than most common stocks. It is particularly attractive because while it earns you money it protects your family.
- (9) Property values may rise or fall. But a London Life Jubilee policy grows with dividends and guaranteed values. Dividends are declared each year. The dividends payable to London Life participating policyowners in 1963 will be more than $23 million.
- (10) One reason London Life premiums are low is because Canadians, on the average, are long lived. Dividends to policyowners are high because, among other things, the Company invests wisely and profitably. (In 1962, the Company earned 5.47% on its investments—after investment expenses.)
- (11) No two men have the same insurance needs. That's why your London Life representative has been schooled to tailor insurance to fit your needs. He is trained to give you efficient service for many years to come.

How to glamorize the common hamburger

By LOUISE MOORE

Although a juicy hamburger nestled in a big soft bun is hard to beat it's handy to know of other ways to vary this favorite. It can be glamorized in dozens of ways.

It's also handy to know that a pound of ground beef makes 4 patties half inch thick and 3 inches in diameter.

The patties should be thick rather than thin and mold them lightly to avoid a too compact meat ball.

Needless to say that the meat should be of good quality and fat free. Have the butcher put the meat through the coarse blade of the grinder for juicier patties.

The secret of a juicy meat patty is to brown the outside without drying the inside.

Use all beef or a combination of beef, pork and veal. Some like to include sausage meat for a zesty burger. The proportion is 1/2 of each.

Seasonings are a matter of taste. Mince onion and if the onion is sauteed lightly before adding it to the meat it gives a better flavor and is less likely to cause distress. Garlic, salt, minced parsley, Worcestershire sauce, tabasco, finely chopped mushrooms blue cheese, chili powder, catsup, thyme, marjoram are some of the seasonings to vary your hamburgers. Broil the burgers not too quickly until nicely browned on the outside and juicy and tender on the inside.

Do not pat down with a spatula as that will force out the juice and make them tough.

For tasty burgers cook only to the rare stage. And for something special add a good red wine to the pan after the burgers are cooked. Stir and spoon over the hamburgers several times and serve at once.

Of course always think of the youngsters when hamburgers come to mind and here is a dilly for them to sample in the back yard.

ZESTY HERB FLAVORED HAMBURGERS

Combine 2 pounds ground beef, 2 tbsps. melted butter or margarine, 1/2 cup finely minced onion, 1/4 cup finely minced celery, 1/4 tsp. garlic salt, 4 tbsps. finely chopped fresh parsley or use parsley flakes, 1/4 tsp. each thyme and marjoram. Mix lightly to blend. Form into patties 3/4 inch thick. Broil on baking sheets about 3 inches from source of heat allowing 5 minutes on each side. Blend 1/3 cup butter or margarine with 2 tbsps. lemon juice and spread over the patties. Serve piping hot. Serves 6. More butter may be used with the lemon juice if you wish them really rich. These are delicious with this pickle coleslaw.

PICKLE COLESLAW

Combine 1 quart finely shredded cabbage well chilled, 2 tbsps. finely chopped sweet pickles, 1 tbsps. grated onion, 2 tbsps. diced pimiento, 1/2 cup real mayonnaise, 2 tsp. mild vinegar, 1 1/2 tsp. sugar, salt and pepper to taste. Chill. Makes 6 to 8 1/2 cup servings.

VARIATIONS

A zesty way to vary the hamburger is to bury a chunk of Roquefort or blue cheese in the heart of each burger patty. Then broil or fry. Or mix the ground meat (2 lbs.) with a tbsps. or two of prepared mustard, a tbsps. of Worcestershire sauce, 1 tbsps. grated onion, a few drops tabasco, some finely chopped parsley, salt and pepper to taste. Shape into patties and broil or pan fry.

Finely chopped mushrooms make a tasty addition to a hamburger mixture.

SWEDISH MEAT BALLS

Soak 1/2 cup bread crumbs in 1 1/4 cups of milk. Finely chop 1 medium onion and saute in 1 tbsps. butter until slightly brown. Add 1/2 lb. ground beef, 1/2 lb. ground lean pork, 1 slightly beaten egg, 1 tsp. salt, 1/4 tsp.

Art show at Howardene

An exhibition of Canadian paintings will be held at Howardene from September 29 to October 6, between the hours of 2 1/2 p.m. and 7-10 p.m. each day.

The exhibition is being sponsored by the governing board of Sherbrooke Art and the paintings will be on loan from the Zanettin Gallery in Quebec City.

The exhibition will be open free of charge to the public and is being held to introduce promising Sherbrooke artists to the community.

To date, there are 450 members in Sherbrooke Art, with Mrs. Carrier Fortin as president.

Christening

The christening of the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Lee, Montreal, (formerly Dianne Broadbelt, of Sherbrooke), took place in St. Peter's Church, on Saturday afternoon, September 21st, 1963, at 3:30 o'clock. Rev. J. D. R. Franklin officiated. The child received the names Stephen Bruce, Mrs. Jessie Lee (great aunt), of Montreal, was godmother. Mr. O. J. Broadbelt, and Mr. Wells Macdonald standing proxy for Mr. Vernon Lee, of New Brunswick, were godfathers.

Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Broadbelt, Argyle St., entertained at the tea hour, in honor of the occasion, the table being arranged with a peach coloured, hand embroidered, cut work cloth, centered with a silver bowl of blue sweet peas, white and mauve baby mums, and flanked with blue tapers in silver holders. The top tier of the young parents wedding cake served as the christening cake.

Pouring were Mrs. J. A. McCorkell and Mrs. Robert Blake. Assisting in serving were Mrs. David Turnbull, Mrs. Wells Macdonald, Miss Grace Blake, and Mrs. Walter Billson.

In charge of the guest book were Masters Billy Billson and Tommy Macdonald guests attending from Montreal, Valois, Rosemount, Bishopton, Bromptonville and Lennoxville.

Polly's pointers by Polly Cramer

DEAR POLLY—My hint is for those who like to sew. When there are seams to be pressed, especially in wool, and you do not have a sleeve board, a rolling pin wrapped in a clean dish towel works beautifully. This would also work for pressing suit sleeves where a crease is not wanted. —M.C.

GIRLS—Fasten the towel on the rolling pin with a rubber band at the top and one at the bottom. When sleeves are large, try a terry cloth hand towel around the rolling pin. —POLLY

DEAR POLLY—I like to tidy my living room at night before retiring. Instead of dumping all the cigarette butts into one large ashtray, I empty the ashtrays into an empty tin coffee can with a lid. Put the lid on tight and the butts will not burn without oxygen. As an added precaution put some water into the can. Now I go to bed with no fear of a fire starting in the trash can. —Mrs. J. F.

GIRLS—As you go around emptying the ashtrays, carry a damp paper towel to wipe out the ashtrays so they are passably clean until you get around to washing them. —POLLY.

DEAR POLLY—When I need to leave a note for our milkman, I cut paper in the shape of a capital T, about 1 1/2 inches wide. The length is the height of the bottle and I crease it down the center, write my order at the top and put into an empty bottle. Several can be cut at one time. Never a note lost! —M. M. H.

DEAR POLLY—When packing my cosmetics for travelling, I find and label plastic prescription bottles with the needed hand lotion, cleansing cream, powder, astringent, etc. from my large economy size packages. This not only prevents breakage and spillage but narrows everything down to a compact size. —MRS. V. J.

GIRLS—This would certainly help solve the weight problem when traveling by air. —POLLY

DEAR POLLY—We are living in such an era of mass gift giving that if one fails to plan ahead, it can become a very costly and exhausting chore. You girls who sew can turn out, at a nominal cost, many delightful and useful gifts. I use my zigzag machine for making so many gifts. Monogrammed linens (applied or machine stitched) are attractive, personal gifts for brides or even the graduates. Monogrammed towel sets and handkerchiefs with hand embroidered initials or signature make inexpensive and lovely gifts. Stuffed animals and toys are quick and easy to make for baby gifts.

I remove ribbons from gifts that arrive at our house and add them to our gift wrapping box. Also I use pretty shelf paper for wrapping and find I save money.

Since starting to plan ahead, gift giving is no longer a chore to me or such a strain on the budget. It is now a real pleasure and I save money, too.

GIRLS—It is amazing what pretty gifts can be assembled with some bits of material and 10 nimble fingers. —POLLY.

ST PAUL'S LADIES' GUILD

The opening fall meeting of the St. Paul's Ladies' Guild, was held recently in the Church Hall, with the president, Mrs. G. Carleton in the chair who opened the meeting with prayer.

The treasurer, Mrs. F. Staniford gave a report on the rummage sale held in June and several letters of thanks for sympathy cards were read by the secretary.

Dates were discussed for a rummage sale to be held in the near future, and the usual donation was voted to the wardens.

The meeting closed with prayer, led by the president. The next meeting will be held in the church hall on Wednesday, October 2.

Adapt, adapt to change

Interests change as one develops and matures. The woman who complains of her husband's disinterest in hobbies used to share before marriage, is forgetting that age and responsibility affect the way a man spends his leisure time.

A wife recently left her husband of four years because he wouldn't dance with her.

Her main complaint seemed to be that they married each other because they shared the same interests. But after a few years of marriage his interests had changed.

Evidently she didn't understand that what happened to her husband happens to most men.

If the average wife wrote down her husband's main interests and ideas of relaxation at the time they married and then made out another list four or five years later, she would have two lists with few duplications.

But that shouldn't make her feel cheated. As a wife, it is her job to keep up with his changing interests, not to sit and sulk because they've changed.

Husbands and wives remain companionable through the years because they are willing to share each other's new interests and activities as they develop through the years.

It's foolish for a wife to feel hurt because her husband, who once loved to dance, can't be dragged onto a dance floor.

So they've lost that "common interest" they once shared. What of it?

Another interest can take its place. All a wife who wants

Fashion show to be sponsored by church group

WATERVILLE — At the meeting of United Church Women held in the church hall on Sept. 18, Mrs. E. Fidler gave an interesting talk on the United Church shield, explaining the meaning and origin of its symbols.

The announcement was made of a fashion show to be held in the church hall on Sept. 30. Proceeds will be used to pay a church debt.

The devotional period was conducted by Mrs. D. Steer, with Mrs. R. Beckett at the piano for a hymn.

Members were asked to bring in freedom from hunger coins and mite boxes on or before the meeting on Nov. 13, and were reminded of the In Memoriam cards. Announcements of the latter will be made from the pulpit.

At the request of the chairman of the finance committee, it was decided to increase the U.C.W. allocation by $10 for the coming year.

The United Nations f/n 7.62 rifle used by the Canadian Army is a pleasure to use according to fourth members of the U.S. National Guard from Newport Vermont, but it has a terrific recoil. The American soldiers were guests of the 7/XI Hussars RCAC last Sunday, when the armoured regiment held the first of their new rifle association shoots at the Sand Hill Rifle Range. Twenty-one of the 7/XI Hussars matched against the U.S. soldiers, and all had a try at the U.S. Garand and Browning Automatic Rifles which the Canadians also spoke very highly of.

President Bill Boisclair expressed his thanks to all those who attended the Battle of Britain Parade and to the press for the excellent publicity extended the Wing in this regard.

The Wing is glad to announce that all six wheel chairs owned by the Wing are on loan and three additional chairs are on order.

President Bill Boisclair will be attending the Association National Convention, which is being held in Vancouver this week.

At the next meeting in October a cheque will be presented to Mr. Eric Webster representing the Cecil Butters Memorial Home.

The members are reminded that dues are now payable and it will certainly help the treasurer if he does not have to send out reminders to this effect.

The 24 Technical Squadron RCEME held a successful scheme over the September 14th and 15th weekend, starting with range practice and practical training in the Gould area.

On the October 5th and 6th weekend, the 24 Tech. will join with the 7/XI Hussars for range qualifications at Camp Farnham.

At the first regular meeting of the fall season of No. 303 Wing Royal Canadian Air Force Association, Ed Martin announced that the golf tournament would take place at Dufferin Heights Golf Club on September 29th, those interested.

A vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. Grandpre and Mrs. R. Olson for their work in promoting the well attended adult polio clinic. Mrs. Grandpre announced that another adult clinic will be held in the near future, and advised all to be on the alert for the announcement of a definite date. Mrs. J. R. MacKay, Mrs. Olson and Mrs. N. C. Lamb volunteered to assist at this second clinic.

Mrs. E. Hatch and Mrs. Lamb will help prepare the pupils' entry lists for the school fair and Mrs. E. Spice will accompany Mrs. Hatch to the school fair to be held in Ayer's Cliff. Several articles, and donations of money to purchase articles, for the fish pond at the school fair, were contributed at the meeting.

Mrs. C. Smith, convener of citizenship, suggested placing pamphlets, which she receives on citizenship and world affairs in the school, and the branch voted to purchase a reference book in lieu of prizes for the school.

The evening program, under the convenership of publicity, was patterned on a previously successful program to which guests were invited and at which each convener spoke briefly of the most interesting aspects of her work, submitted suggestions for future projects or methods whereby her convenership might be strengthened or made more interesting. Each of the six conveners participated, thus covering the wide scope of Women's Institutes interests and endeavors.

At the close of the program, Mrs. J. R. MacKay presented Mrs. L. F. Holland, who is moving to Montreal, with a small gift from the branch and a card signed by all the members.

A pleasant tea hour marked the close of the evening.

RICHMOND — The opening fall meeting of the Ruby Unit of the U.C.W. of the Richmond-Melbourne United Church, was held in the church hall, Sept. 17. The leader Mrs. C. E. Manning, welcomed the many guests including the U.C.W. president, Mrs. Bruce Moffat.

The highlight of the evening was the presentation of three colored films, shown by Lorne Taber, who, on behalf of the group was thanked by Mrs. Manning.

In the absence of Mrs. R. McMannis, the worship period was conducted by Mrs. F. Wintle and the leader.

Mrs. F. Roster read minutes, financial and correspondence, consisting of a note of thanks from Mrs. Lyall Simpson for the farewell gift from the group.

Twenty-three parish calls were reported and 17 calls to Wales Home. Fees were $9.70.

The leader expressed thanks to Mrs. K. Armstrong and Miss Hazel Boast for selecting the films, and to the hostesses Miss Edith McCourt, Miss Beatrice Cross, Mrs. John Lowry, Mrs. James Copping and Mrs. Hazel Semple.

It was announced that there would not be a harvest supper this fall.

Mrs. R. E. McArthur, a member, who has been convalescing at the Vallee Rest Home, Sherbrooke, has returned to her apartment, Stanley Avenue.

Members were reminded that a box of good used clothing for relief would be packed very shortly, any donations may be left with Mrs. D. Dykeman as early as possible.

Following the meeting a food sale was held, proceeds amounting to $13.70.

At the close of the evening, assisted by Miss Mary Ewing, the hostesses served refreshments.

Descendants of Geo. Goodenough hold reunion

BROOKBURY — The sixth annual reunion of the Goodenough clan, descendants of the late Geo. Goodenough, was held Sept. 15, at the North River Farm, of Col. and Mrs. Wells Bishop.

Col. Bishop, a grandson of the late George Goodenough and his wife, Elizabeth Palmer, welcome each year, relatives from far and near to this memorable event.

Members attended the gathering from New York, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Vermont and Canada.

In welcoming remarks, Col. Bishop stated that it was gratifying to see so many present, and the object of the reunion was to keep in touch, adding that there were few families with such family connections as that of the late George Goodenough.

According to statistics, there are 527 members eligible to attend. Since the last reunion, five deaths have been recorded, namely: Bertha Goodenough Hastings; Reginald Stevens, Mrs. Amos Crooks, Ronald Learned, Florence Matthews Cook.

Col. Bishop extended a special welcome to Mr. and Mrs. Walden Bradbury, from Watertown, Mass., who were attending for the first time.

Ten of the 13 branches of the family were represented. Mrs. Hilda Currier, the former Mrs. Thomas Goodenough, was the only one present of the first generation. The second generation was well represented by Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Goodenough, Danville; Mr. and Mrs. Graydon Goodenough, Potsdam, N.Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Russell Goodenough, Northfield, Vt.; Raymond Greenback, St. Johnsbury, Vt.; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Beattie, Richmond, Col.; and Mrs. Wells Bishop, of Sawyerville; Mr. and Mrs. George Loveland, Sawyerville; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Loveland, Sawyerville; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ward, Bury.

One of the cousins, Wright Goodenough, who had attended all the previous reunions was unable to attend, having undergone surgery a few days previous to the event. It was also regretted that Roy Loveland, of Virginia, a staunch supporter of the reunion, was unable to come. Mrs. Cora Austin, a neighbor and life long friend, who is about to celebrate her 98th birthday, attended the reunion.

Lennoxville High stops BCS 4-1, St. Pat's and SHS Juniors battle to tie, Stanstead-Drumville split

The St. Francis Valley Inter-Scholastic Soccer Leagues, Senior and Junior, are in the middle of their schedule and bunched around the top spots are, Sherbrooke High, Lennoxville High, St. Pat's High and Stanstead.

Wednesday afternoon Lennoxville High Seniors took the measure of B.C.S. Seniors to the tune of a 4-1 win. Thursday St. Pat's and Sherbrooke High Juniors battled to a scoreless tie while Drummondville and Stanstead locked horns in both divisions. In the Junior tilt Stanstead took the game 5-0 while in the Senior game they went down to a 3-1 defeat.

Feature of the Senior tilt at Drummondville was D. Messier, the starchy Drummondville forward, who scored his team's three goals. L. Linsell got the only Stanstead goal. In the Junior game Brunelle and Hardwick each had two goals with Thornton getting the other.

B.C.S. Seniors and Lennoxville played it on even terms in the first half. The teams were tied 1-1 when the half ended. Don Rothney scored on a penalty for Lennoxville and O'Brien tied it up before the half time whistle. B.C.S. seemed to lag in the second half of the game. The defence was getting pierced rather easily by the eager Lennoxville forwards.

Tom Rothney put Lennoxville ahead at three minute mark. Don Rothney came up with his second goal after five minutes play scoring again from a penalty shot. Bob Dunn completed the scoring just before the final whistle with Lennoxville winning 4-1. D. Rothney, W. Billing and J. Beerworth were the winner's stars.

The Sherbrooke High St. Pat's Junior game was quite a tussle. Both teams in the first half came close to scoring, but stout defensive work by the full backs kept the forwards from penetrating into the defensive zone.

St. Pat's took the offensive on resumption and managed to put the ball in the net but it was ruled offside. The game was still being played at a fast clip. Just on the whistle Sherbrooke were awarded a free kick inside the St. Pat's zone but it was blocked by Jim Daigault.

The game ended shortly after this with it still tied at 0-0. Starring for St. Pat's were Claude Adams and Johnny Veat. Sherbrooke High School stars were G. Willard, A. Oxford and P. Klossner.

Restocking program is in full swing

Members of the Lake Massawippi Fish and Game Protection Club and office 's of the Provincial Fish Hatchery of Baldwin Mills are seen in progress of draining one of the many pools on the property of the Club. A total of 901 brown trout were taken and dumped into Lake Massawippi for some happy fishermen to catch. The trout averaged a little over seven and a half inches. In the top photo, left to right, are Clinton Krupp and Angus Patterson, who are in the act of dragging the net across woods shore where Ivan Wood, club executive, is waiting. The lower photo shows a few of trout as they were being dumped into the tanks. Other members who assisted in the work were, Alvah Patterson, A. Stafford and L. Mosher. (Photos by Doug Gerrish)

Chualvo to meet DeJohn

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Heavyweights Mike DeJohn and George Chualvo meet in a 10-round television fight tonight and Cassius Clay is waiting to take on the winner.

The bout will be telecast nationally by ABC-TV, starting at 9 p.m. EST.

DeJohn, 31, a former member of the top 10 among heavyweights from Miami Beach, Fla., has a record of 46 victories, 11 losses and one draw, with three straight kayos this year.

Chualvo, former Canadian heavyweight champion, has a 24-7-1 record. He is 26.

Nub Beamer is question mark, says Dave Skrien

VANCOUVER (CP) — British Columbia Lions coach Dave Skrien said Thursday the team won't know until this weekend whether injured fullback Nub Beamer will be able to play in Monday's Western Football Conference game here against Calgary Stampeders.

Beamer injured his knee Monday night when Lions lost 23-17 to Ottawa Rough Riders.

Doctors drained blood from the sore spot Wednesday to relieve tension. They said Beamer will have to rest a few days before he can test the knee under pressure.

The injury, first thought to be serious, now is believed to be a simple bruise.

Sandy Koufax working on book in preparation for World Series, Giants win, McCovey gets No. 44

Sandy Koufax is working on a book. If it meets the success, it'll gross about $13,000 and probably be titled "The Year the 'Yankees Struck Out in the Series."

The ace left-hander of the National League champion Los Angeles Dodgers, scheduled to pitch the World Series opener next Wednesday, said Thursday he has started taking notes on the American League champion New York Yankees.

"I have faced every one of them at least four or five times during spring training," said Koufax, "but I need a complete accurate line on them before we play that first game."

What does Koufax, only the fourth pitcher since 1900 to strike out 300 or more batters in a single season, think of the Yankees?

"I know they're basically a fast-ball hitting team, and have power," the 25-game winner said.

UNDERCUTS YANK POWER
"I really don't think they have more power than the San Francisco Giants, in our league, and the St. Louis Cardinals are a pretty good hitting team too you know," he added.

Koufax was 4-1 against the Giants and 4-0 against the Cardinals. Thursday he led the Dodgers to a 5-4 win over New York Mets.

In other NL games, Billy O'Dell pitched a three-hitter and Willie McCovey regained the league home run lead with No. 44 in San Francisco Giants' 10-0 walloping of Philadelphia Phillies. Houston Colts edged Pittsburgh Pirates 5-4 in 11 innings.

Cleveland Indians whipped Kansas City Athletics 4-1 in 10 innings in the only American League game.

Larry Sherry started for the Dodgers but the Mets built a 4-1 lead. Lee Walls hit a homer in the sixth for the Dodgers to close the gap, then Howard hit his decisive shot in the eighth, off Galen Cisco. It was his 28th homer, and gave the victory to Ken Rowe.

DAILY INNING
McCovey collected a single in the Giants' six-run first inning, then combined with Ed Bailey to wind up the scoring in the third as both homered. McCovey's homer was a three-run shot and put him one up on Milwaukee Braves' Hank Aaron in the homer race.

Bob Aspromonte's single scored the winning run for the Colts in the 11th. Aspromonte also scored two runs. He singled and scored on Jim Wynne's homer in the sixth, then walked and scored the tying-run on Wynne's triple in the eighth.

Maple Leafs beat Paille

VANCOUVER (CP)—Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League found the shot to beat goaltender Marcel Paille and pumped away to a 6-3 win over Vancouver Canucks in an exhibition game Thursday night before a capacity crowd of 5,080.

The Stanley Cup champions picked up four goals on shots that bounced off Paille's gloved hand.

The Canucks, playing their first game after 10 days of training for the Western League season, lacked finesse at the net.

Toronto scorers were John MacMillan, Bob Pulford, Dave Keon, Ed Litzenberger, George Armstrong and Carl Oeberg.

Howie Hughes scored on goaltender Johnny Bower after a second period breakaway. Kjell Svenson of Sweden worked the third period for Toronto and had no chance on Bob McCusker's deflection and a close-in bullet drive by Buddy Boone.

The Leafs' record in exhibition games preceding the National League season now is 14-2.

Series expected to go limit with possibility of Koufax appearing three times, pitchers' series

NEW YORK (AP) — The home run, a lethal weapon that has carried them to 20 World Series triumphs in 40 years, is likely to bring New York Yankees another world championship, their seventh in eight October meetings with Los Angeles Dodgers.

As in four of their previous seven meetings, the 1963 series should go the limit of seven games. Except for the long ball, a department in which the Yankees clearly excel, there is little to choose between the teams.

The Dodgers, because of the possibility of the appearance of Sandy Koufax in three games, have a slight edge in pitching. The Yankees have a stouter defense, but the Dodgers offset much of this advantage by their superior speed. The Yankees also will have whatever advantage comes from series experience.

Everything points to a pitchers' series with runs scarce. This should suit the Yankees fine. One single blow has been known to end many a series pitching duel and the Yankees' starting line-up, with the exception of Bobby Richardson and Tony Kubek, harbors home run power. The Dodgers, forced to claw and scratch for runs during the regular season, have only two legitimate long ball hitters in Tommy Davis and Frank Howard.

Site favors Yankees

Opening at Yankee Stadium, which would be the site of four in a seven-game series, is another plus factor for the Yankees. Ralph Houk's team has a remarkable record at home, winning 58 of 78 so far. In contrast, the Yankees won 46 while losing 35 on the road.

The Dodgers surprisingly have played almost as well on the road as they have at home. Through Thursday's games, they show a 49-28 home record compared with 49-32 away.

The planned pitching alignment by the rival managers also figures to give the Yankees an edge, however slight. Barring 11th hour changes, Houk will open with Whitey Ford. Koufax will oppose him in what shapes up as a brilliant duel of lefthanders.

Ford, the 35-year-old wonder, holds a flock of World Series pitching records including 10 victories in 15 decisions. Koufax' only previous World Series

ALL teams in Eastern Football conference arriving at moment of truth, Als to play Burket

The moment of truth is fast arriving for all four Eastern Football Conference teams.

With the season past the halfway mark, three of them—Ottawa Rough Riders, Hamilton Tiger-Cats and Montreal Alouettes—are still tied for first place.

For the unpredictable Toronto Argonauts, time is running short. The Argos have only four points in eight games, and are four behind the other three EFC teams.

With six games left in the schedule, the Argonauts have to catch fire. Coach Nobby Wirkowski says they can't wait for one of the other teams to fold.

"It's squarely up to us," he said Thursday. "We have two games with Ottawa left, two with Montreal and one with Hamilton, so we don't have to back in."

RIDERS ROLLING
They get their first chance Saturday, when they visit the capital to play the Riders, now rolling with a three-game winning streak.

One of the season's big games follows Sunday when Montreal journeys to Hamilton to tackle the Ticats. By Sunday night, at least one of the leaders will be out of first place.

The Argos have been drilling hard this week in an attempt to battle back from last Sunday's 50-0 shellacking by Calgary Stampeders in a Canadian Football League interlocking game.

Wirkowski was a sn't amused when he revealed that some of his players didn't even bother to scan and learn the playing list he distributed Tuesday in preparation for Wednesday night's practice.

"Lots of school children don't do their homework," someone suggested.

"School children aren't getting paid what our backs are making," Wirkowski shot back.

Ottawa coach Frank Clair is worried about his team coasting on the crest of their winning streak, but he finally decided to continue with the same lineup.

The Rough Riders have won consecutive games over Hamilton, Winnipeg Blue Bombers and British Columbia Lions.

In Montreal, Alouette coach Jim Trimble said Fred Burket, who has been on the Als bench all season, will play Sunday in place of Don Clark, out for the season with a knee injury.

Burket will play fullback with Dave Hoppman moving to Clark's halfback position.

Trimble also announced he would start Warren Rabb at quarterback. Rabb, picked up from Buffalo Bills of the American Football League, helped move the Als to a 25-17 victory over the Stampeders Tuesday when he replaced Bubba Marriott in the second half.

Celebrating Val Estrie's 1st Anniversary

RAVISHING LUXURIOUS THUNDERBIRD

The completely restyled 1964 Thunderbird has a fresh new look while retaining the traditional Thunderbird classic styling pictured here. One of the new comfort and convenience features of the new Thunderbird hardtop and Landau models is the silent, draft-free ventilation system. Thin-shell bucket seats, pedestal-mounted and retractable seat belts all contribute to greater interior room and convenience. The dash panel has been completely redesigned with instruments located in separate pods. The Thunderbird will be seen in Ford dealerships later this month.

The Record's Farm Report

Big Wheat Sale Boosts Economic Outlook

Wheat, in Canada's spotlight for the last two months, seems likely to hold the headlines for most of the next year. Trade minister Sharp's announcement of the sale of 246 million bushels of wheat to Russia has ensured this. Most of this grain, 198 million bushels of wheat and 29.5 million bushels in wheat flour, will be delivered to Russia in the current crop year. Another 18.7 million bushels will be taken in the third year of the new 3-year Canada-USSR trade agreement which expires in April, 1966. With the 11 million bushels purchased by Russia two weeks ago, this means that 239 million bushels of wheat will be shipped to the USSR by July 31, 1964.

Mr. Sharp's giant sale will take all the surplus from this year's bumper 694 million bushel wheat crop in the Prairies (last year's exports of 330 million, domestic use of 134 million, plus USSR sale of 228 million bushels add to a neat 694 million bushels). By adding close to $500 million to Canada's commodity exports, the new sale should bring such exports close to balancing imports for the first time in years. It promises to boost winter employment, especially on the railways and at Maritime ports. It promises to raise incomes in the Prairies substantially.

Biggest problem is in moving this volume of wheat into sea-board terminals. (Ocean freight rates on grain jumped sharply last week.) Difficulties were encountered in getting 354 million bushels shipped in the 1961-62 crop year. For 1963-64 the Wheat Board estimates 550 million bushels for export delivery. Fortunately most of the year is still ahead for transporting these record wheat exports. But unquestionably every available boxcar, lakeboat and terminal facility will need to be used at full capacity to get this much wheat to sea. In the process, the major weaknesses of present grain transportation and handling facilities should come to light and be remedied. Last week, also, there was evidence that milling the flour for the USSR contract would create some problems. In 1962-63, Canada's flour mills processed 78.8 million bushels of wheat and operated at 70% of capacity. The Soviet flour requirements (equivalent to 29.5 million bushels of wheat) will add 37% to last year's throughput and the flour mills will be pressed to meet them. Criticisms were heard last week from a number of small flour mills, not members of the milling association, who had been left out of the allocation of the Russian contract. Some mills were also expecting losses on the millfeeds (bran, shorts, etc.) for which they had already contracted the grain. The extra millfeeds resulting from the USSR flour milling seemed certain to depress the price of these feeds in Canada.

Eastern Feed Prospects Hit By Soviet Deal

Up to now the problems in feed supplies for eastern farmers seemed to involve mainly the difficulties being encountered by the government in drafting the new feed grain assistance legislation announced by Agriculture minister Hays. Last week the big Soviet wheat sale threatened eastern feed supplies again.

A bigger supply of lower cost mill feeds was in prospect. But the urgency of moving so much wheat quickly to sea-board seemed likely to push aside much of the movement of Prairie feed grain to eastern Canada. Indications were that special attention would be given to these problems by the administrators.

Fed Cattle Up In West, Cramps Eastern Feeder Cattle slaughterings recently at 46,400 head, had started their fall climb. They were running 23,000 head above last year with choice and good grades (last week 24,100 head) up 45,000 and lower grades down about 2,000.

Prospects are that this substantial increase in fed cattle slaughter will be maintained and expanded this fall and winter. Expect a big increase in fed cattle from western Canada. Forage and feed grain supplies are large there (though Alberta, where most cattle are produced, was hit by drought in some areas). Some 18,000 more feeder cattle have moved from Prairie stockyards to western feedlots than last year. Ontario has shipped in 20,000 fewer feeders to date than in 1962. Feeder cattle exports to the US from the Prairies are down 33,000 or 40% from last year.

This hold-back of feeder cattle in the West has kept feeder prices up within a dollar or two of last year's, while fed cattle prices in Toronto are down $3 from 1962. Prospects are that this spread between feeder and slaughter prices will continue to narrow this fall and Newcomers to gardening are very often confused by the terms annual, biennial and perennial.

Typical examples of annual flowers are zinnias, marigolds, petunias and snapdragons, all of which produce roots, stems, leaves, flowers and seeds all in the one season and then die. Annuals are the easiest flowers for the beginner to use in the garden.

of color in almost any spot in the garden with little care and effort.

Biennials are not as widely used as they could be in most gardens. They're plants which are started in late spring or early summer from seed and produce roots, stems and leaves the first year.

They live over winter and the following spring or summer they bloom and then die.

Forget-me-nots, Canterbury Bells, and the Siberian Wallflower are typical examples of true biennials.

However, there are a number of plants which are really tender perennials but here in southern Ontario we treat them as biennials. This group would include violas, pansies and foxgloves.

Perennials are the workhorses of the garden and are plants having roots which live more than two years. In most cases the plants send up new branches and flowers year after year.

One of the most long-lived of the perennials is the peony. There are specimen plants of this excellent perennial which have been blooming continuously for over 100 years.

Repairing dripping toilet should be quite easy

A dripping toilet tank is annoying and costly.

The water wasted is more than you think. If you doubt this, let the problem go until your next water bill comes in.

There's no need for either the annoyance or the expense.

The trouble is easy to detect and, most of the time, quite easy to repair.

Cover Breaks

Carefully remove the tank cover. Remember, it's breakable. Water will be running into the toilet bowl from one of two places: through the overflow tube or through the discharge opening under the rubber tank ball.

Empty Tank

Before attempting any repairs, empty the tank. Flush the toilet. Then either turn off the water supply, if you have a shutoff valve near the toilet, or secure the tank float so that it doesn't fall back down turning on the water.

Tie it to a stick, brush handle or ruler placed across the top of the tank. The tank float is a copper ball that floats on top of the water. It is fastened by a rod to a shutoff mechanism. You can give yourself more working room by removing the trip lever and the handle. Nuts on both sides of tank well stem with a loop in it. If the guide is out of line this could be the trouble. The guide can be adjusted by loosening a screw.

Examine Ball

Examine the tank ball. If the rubber has become soft, replace it. See that it seats properly in the opening. Run some water in to the tank and

Water Logged Float

When you first examined the water in the tank, you may get more water into the tank. On rare occasions, the trouble may be a worn washer in the inlet valve. Replace with one of the same size.

When replacing any parts, it's wise to take an old part with you to the hardware store. It is important that replacements be exactly the same.

The rod that connects the float with the supply valve may be bent. Straighten it. Bend
