

MANY SURPRISING RESULTS IN GREAT BRITAIN

Voters Refused To Be Influenced And Many Apparently Firmly Established Political Figures Are Now In The Discard — Winston Churchill, Arthur Henderson, Sir Hamar Greenwood And Others Defeated—Labor's Gains Constitute New Menace

(Canadian Press Cable)

London, Nov. 16.—British voters apparently refused to be influenced by tradition when they cast their ballots yesterday with the result that many apparently firmly established political figures were cast into the discard.

Perhaps the most amazing development was the defeat of Winston Churchill, former Colonial Secretary in Dundee, a constituency which he has held for many years.

Not only was he defeated by the only Prohibition candidate who sought election, E. Scrymgeour, but he ran fourth in the contest. After a long and brilliant career as a soldier, Mr. Churchill entered political life in 1900 and has been a prominent figure in British politics for more than ten years.

Little less surprising was the defeat of Arthur Henderson, the Labor leader in the face of the heavy Labor gains. Of him it has been predicted that if ever Great Britain had a Labor Premier, Arthur Henderson would be the man.

Labor, in turn, defeated Sir Donald MacLean, Asquith's principal supporter in Peebles, where the Labor candidate, J. Westwood, got 6,324 votes; the Conservative 5,992 and MacLean 5,377. Also there is the case of Sir Arthur Griffith-Boscawen, Minister of Health in the Bonar Law Cabinet and Minister of Agriculture under Lloyd George. He was unseated at Taunton by P. H. Simpson, an Asquith Liberal.

The defeat of Edwin S. Montague, former Secretary of State for India in the Lloyd George Cabinet was not so much of a surprise following the difficulties he got into last March by authorizing the publication of despatches from the Government of India calling for the revision of the Treaty of Sevres—an act which caused Lloyd George to demand his resignation and caused him to be rebuked also by Lord Curzon and Parliament.

Another figure long prominent in British politics who went down to defeat yesterday is that of Sir Hamar Greenwood, former Chief Secretary for Ireland who was beaten by the Conservatives in Sunderland. Sir Hamar used a strong hand in Ireland and in some of his public utterances proved himself more of a soldier than a diplomat which did not serve to increase his popularity.

Another notable loser was Colonel Leslie Wilson, Chief Conservative Whip and Secretary to the Treasury in the Bonar Law Cabinet. The voters apparently did not take kindly to his sudden change of heart at the memorable Carlton Club meeting where at the last moment, after having been the Chief Coalition Whip he turned against Lloyd George. Lord Birkenhead directed his best sarcasm against Wilson in his campaign but his defeat nevertheless came as a distinct surprise and was one of the severest blows to the Government.

The Lloyd Georgians were responsible for the defeat of Walter Runciman, President of the Board of Trade in the Asquith Cabinet, who got only 7,324 votes in Berwick to 11,933 for Captain Hilton Phillipson, the Georgian Candidate. Mr. Runciman, a prominent ship owner had been a Member of Parliament since 1899.

What Can Lloyd George Do

The Bonar Law majority is so large that Lloyd George can hope for little comfort even from those Conservatives who stuck by him at the Carlton Club meeting. In fact the entire political situation in the light of all but a few scattering returns brings out the problem. What can Lloyd George do to restore his prestige?

The Bonar Law Government is likely to go on with a policy so close to that of the Coalition Government that little chance will be given Lloyd George to make attacks. Labor gains constitute a new menace, and unless both Lloyd George and Asquith ultimately decide to join forces with the Conservatives against Labor, it seems that there is nothing left for either but the role of a sort of futile critic of both sides unable to influence the decisions of either.

The following, with 607 out of 615 returns is the parties' standing:

Conservatives 345; Labor 141; Liberals 2; Georgians 44; others 15. Ignoring the influence of the Coalition, the former house under the present classification would have stood: Conservatives, 368; Liberals, 32; Georgians, 119; Labor, 76; others 19.

Labor practically doubled its representation at the expense of both wings of the Coalition while the Asquithian Liberals benefited in the same fashion.

A careful analysis of the results seems to indicate that it was material considerations that influenced the voters.

The Midlands and Lancashire, where Lloyd George had counted on considerable support, turned Conservatives on Bonar Law's and Lord Derby's assurances that they would not for the present alter the free trade policy of the country.

In Wales and Scotland Labor gained through the general disaffection, unemployment and discontent on the large mining and industrial districts. The Labor Party was not shown such treatment where skilled workers predominate. But the Labor Party is jubilant to-night. It is now the second party in the House of Commons, heading the Opposition and their official statement announces that they will succeed to power when the Bonar Law Government falls. One of the important factors in the Labor gain, however, was the apathy of the voters. Out of 21,000,000 voters only about 14,000,000 went to the polls, of whom the Conservatives drew 5,340,000; Labor 4,250,000; Liberals, 2,750,000, and Georgians 1,850,000, approximately. Had the proportion of Labor gains at the expense of the Conservatives as indicated last night been maintained, Bonar Law would not have had a majority at all. The early reports this morning confirmed the trend indicated last night. But in the early afternoon, Lancashire and Scottish returns began to come in, showing that Lloyd-George's hopes were blasted in one place and Liberal hopes in another. Lancashire voted Conservative and Scotland Labor.

Despite the comfortable Parliamentary majority, the Bonar Law Government is woefully in the minority according to the popular vote. While 5,341,413 according to the returns far have voted Conservative 5,632,232 voted for other parties. In every instance where there was a three or four cornered fight the winner was far in the minority. Each of the four parties gained by this situation, but Conservative and Labor more than others.

Following are the comments made by the leading figures in yesterday's general election.

Prime Minister Bonar Law:—"I am greatly satisfied with the results of the elections, demonstrating that the country is ready for a Conservative regime."

David Lloyd George:—"The results coincide with the anticipations of my headquarters. I am quite satisfied."

Herbert Asquith:—"The enormous Labor poll and the tremendous turnover in Scotland are due to widespread unemployment and the consequent acute distress and the House of Lords decision regarding the rent restriction Act."

Frank Hodges, the Miners leader:—"I am greatly pleased with the miners' poll as demonstrating allegiance to the Labor Party."

(The above despatch is copyrighted in the United States by the New York Herald.)

Numerous defeats were due to three-cornered contests. Labor suffered in the loss of Arthur Henderson but, on the other hand, J. Ramsay MacDonald, Philip Snowden, Sydney Webb, Chairman of the Independent Labor Party and other Labor stalwarts, have been returned.

A notable feature was the change in the attitude of the country towards men of the persuasion who were rejected in the patriotic wave in 1918. Among these successful candidates are Ramsay MacDonald, Snowden, Arthur Ponsonby, Chas. P. Trevelyan, Noel Buxton and George Lansbury, former editor of the Daily Herald.

Lloyd George Quite Satisfied

Mr. Lloyd George said to-night that he was "quite satisfied" with the results but declined to be interviewed.

Mr. Asquith declined to express any opinion on the results until he had an opportunity to examine them in detail.

The Labor Party issued a manifesto stating that they find abundant reasons for satisfaction in their success and their gains at the expense of both Liberalism and Conservatism and declare that their party will constitute the most vigorous and efficient opposition that the House of Commons has seen for many years.

At Labor headquarters the opinion was expressed that everything points to a Labor Government in the near future. Labor's success is believed to be largely attributable to Sydney Webb who has been in great measure responsible for the campaign organization of the party for the past thirty years.

Mr. Webb has been, with George Bernard Shaw, the leading spirit of the Fabian Society, which represents intellectual socialism and closely co-operates with the Independent Labor Party.

Frank Hodges, Secretary for the Miners Union, expressed delight to-night at the fact that with one exception all the miners candidates were successful and predicted that Parliament would have to reconsider the question of nationalization of the mines.

The London crowds displayed renewed interest in the results of the pollings and similar scenes were witnessed today as yesterday but on a much smaller scale. Crowds rapidly dwindled this evening when the principal returns were known.

London, Nov. 16.—The long drawn out fight between former Premier Lloyd George and Sir Geo. Younger has for the time ended with victory for the Chairman of the Unionist party. Younger and his adherents staked their political fortunes at the famous Carlton Club meeting, which smashed the coalition and sent Lloyd George into the wilderness on the conviction that the country was ripe for a return to straight party politics and in the firm belief that the nation would support their conviction by sending the Conservatives to the House of Commons with a good working majority. Their confidence has been amply justified. Yesterday's elections have returned a Parliament with almost the same overwhelming predominance of Conservatives as the last Parliament elected in 1918 on a wave of grateful enthusiasm to Lloyd George as "winner of the war."

In the new Parliament, Premier Bonar Law will command a majority over all parties combined of approximately 80. While this cannot properly be described as a landslide, as the Conservatives at the time for the dissolution of Parliament commanded about 200, it amounts, considering the peculiar circumstances of the time and the high hopes held by the Labor and Liberal parties of the return of the country to progressive views, almost to the same thing and it may be supposed that the Conservatives themselves hardly expected such favorable results.

It means a Parliament with little change except that Mr. Bonar Law replaces Mr. Lloyd George as Premier and that the former Premier's attenuated following, reduced by the elections to under fifty, will presumably henceforth be in the van instead of working in co-operation with the Conservatives. The downfall of Lloyd George is the outstanding feature of the elections.

The Coalition Liberals at the dissolution numbered 129; they are represented in the new Parliament by only 44 members. There will be many regrets among the former Premier's admirers that he failed to take the advice of some of his well wishers and retire for a time entirely from the political stage.

The Asquithian Liberals lately improved their position, rising from thirty-four in the old Parliament to sixty-four in the new, but they did not do so well as they expected. On the other hand, Labor, although it failed to fulfill the high hopes the party entertained at the dissolution, has done exceedingly well, rising from 76 to 141 seats. It is generally believed that Labor would have done far better but for the tactical mistake in its advocacy of a capital vote.

While the strength of Conservatism in the country is a matter of surprise, perhaps the keynote of the elections is the decline of Liberalism and the growth of the Labor party. This seems to show that henceforth the struggle will be between the Conservatives on the one hand and the Laborites on the other.

The position now is that Labor is the second strongest party in the House and in what looks now as the improbable event of the present Government suffering defeat in Parliament it would be the Labor party that the King would naturally turn for a new Premier. Another striking feature of the elections is that the women voters have taken quite an unexpectedly strong interest in the struggle, their participation probably accounting more than anything else for the heavy polling. But, however keen their interest in political life, they do not appear to be in the mood to elect women to Parliament, only Lady Astor and Mrs. Wintringham, already in the House, being returned.

Estimates Differ.

Estimates on the present distribution of parties in the House of Commons differ somewhat, owing to certain confusion in party boundaries and the number of isolated members representing independent groups, such as "non-partisans." Included in the Conservative group are thirteen Ulster Conservatives.

There are still ten seats, the results of which will not be announced tonight, namely, some of the Universities and distant scattered Scottish constituencies, from which the results may not be available before Saturday.

There have been many noteworthy casualties among all the parties, the most striking perhaps being the defeat of Arthur Henderson, labor leader, and Winston Churchill, former Colonial Secretary, and the overthrow of five members of the new administration, for whom safe seats will somehow have to be found.

The defeat of Mr. Churchill, Sir Hamar Greenwood, former Chief Secretary for Ireland, and Frederick G. Kellaway, former Postmaster-General, were severe blows to Mr. Lloyd George, who, however, had the satisfaction of seeing his son returned by a big majority, while both his secretaries, Sir Edmond M. Griggs and G. H. Shakespeare, were elected.

Mr. Asquith himself had a somewhat narrow escape from defeat, and his chief henchmen, Sir Donald MacLean and Walter Runciman, went down.

Major Lloyd George, the former Premier's son, had an enormous majority in Pembroke, his poll being 21,569 to 9,703 for the Laborites, Jenkins. But the Georgians continue to fare badly and although Mr. Lloyd George was elected unopposed for Carnarvon, the Georgian candidate, Major C. E. Breese, was defeated for the County of Carnarvon by the Laborite, R. T. Jones, by more than 1,600.

A noteworthy return was the reelection of the new Penisons Minister, Major George C. Tryon, despite the recent agitation against the proposed abolition of that ministry.

12 Majority For Law.

Prime Minister Bonar Law had secured a majority of twelve over all other parties in the new House of Commons when the returns for 545 of the 615 divisions had been received late this afternoon, in as much as there are three non-voting members, including the Speaker, thereby making the number necessary for a bare majority 307. The Conservatives up to that time had captured 319 seats.

This did not mean, however, that the Prime Minister already had obtained a so-called working majority, as the support of some of the Conservatives will be limited on many questions, but the Conservatives were looking to the remaining seventy seats to swell their numbers and increase their lead over the combined opposition.

Thus far three members of Mr. Bonar Law's Government have been defeated, namely Sir Arthur Griffith-Boscawen, Minister of Health, W. A. Watson, Lord Advocate, and Lt.-Col. George F. Stanley, Under Secretary of the Home Office. The chief whip, Lt.-Col. Leslie Orme Wilson, is also among the losers. In the case of Lt.-Col. Wilson, it is announced that he will retain his office and another seat be found for him, and it is assumed the same will be true of the others.

A feature of the election was the number of seats gained by the Labor party, which enters the House with by far the largest number of members in its party's history. With 76 seats yet to hear from the Laborites had rolled up the big total of 129 members, as against the 76 they had in the last House. The gains were mainly at the expense of the Conservatives and the Georgian Liberals. The opponents of Labor claim that Labor's successes were due to the split in the vote of those who, on the other hand, the Labor leader asserts, that Labor is coming into its own as the result of its policies of working for the poverty-stricken population and for the peace of the world.

Labor thus takes its place as the second party in the House of Commons. Mr. Lloyd George's expedition into the wilderness would seem on the face of things to have gained him little, as at the time of the returns quoted above he had only 28 followers elected and was running next to the last position held by a little body of independent thinkers of various persuasions.

The women, as was generally expected, fared badly and many cases ran last in the voting. Lady Astor and Mrs. Margaret Wintringham were re-elected, but no others were reported while most of the returns for their districts are already reported.

Churchill Defeated.

(Canadian Press Cable)

London, Nov. 16.—Winston Churchill was defeated in Dundee. Churchill was fourth place in the field of six candidates in Dundee. Scrymgeour, running as a prohibitionist, was elected with a vote of 32,578. A Labor man and another Georgian respectively took second and third place.

The defeated former Secretary of State for the Colonies was ill during the campaign and directed his fight mostly from his bedroom.

Churchill received 20,466 votes. A Communist, W. Gallacher, was last candidate in the finish in Dundee constituency. He received 5,906 votes.

G. H. Shakespeare, the late Secretary of Mr. Lloyd George, was elected on the National Liberal ticket for Wellingborough. He received 14,995 votes against 11,067 votes cast for W. R. Smith, his Labor opponent, William Watson, Lord Advocate in the present Cabinet, was defeated for the Gallopway district by the Liberal, Major C. R. Dudgeon, who polled 12,406 votes against Mr. Watson's 10,557. In Dover Major John Jacob Sector received 18,151 votes against Sir T. Polson, the Independent candidate, who polled 6,054 votes, and L. J. Stein, Liberal candidate, who polled 2,885 votes.

Of Interest To Canadians.

Toronto, Nov. 16.—A number of the individual results of the British elections will have particular interest for Canadians. Even among political opponents there will be keen regret for the defeat of Sir Hamar Greenwood in Sunderland where six candidates ran for the two seats, the two Conservatives heading the poll with majorities of nine and five thousand respectively over the ex-Canadian newspaperman with Labor a poor fourth and fifth and the Asquithian Liberal nowhere. Sir Hamar's courageous course as Secretary of State for Ireland during the irconciliable days immediately before the settlement no doubt proved his undoing.

Canadians cannot regret the defeat in Taunton of Sir Arthur Griffith-Boscawen, Minister of Health in the Bonar Law Cabinet, who as Minister of Agriculture in the Lloyd George Cabinet actively and persistently opposed the removal of the embargo on Canadian cattle.

Canadians are also interested in the defeat of Winston Churchill, Colonial Secretary in the Lloyd George Government, and the ever-seam invitation to the other seven Dominions to send contingents to the Near East on Sept. 16 last.

No doubt his campaign suffered from the fact that he had but recently been operated upon for appendicitis and a dead set on him was made by the Dundee Communists. It is significant that the poll was headed by a Prohibitionist with Labor taking the second seat and Mr. Churchill's Georgian running-mate being ahead of him in the poll. He will be a sad loss to Lloyd George in the debating strength of the next House unless a seat can be found for him.

Far cleverer than his father, Randolph Churchill, head of the famous Fourth party in the House during the eighties, and a young man yet, Winston Churchill has undoubtedly a great political future still before him.

Among Labor candidates defeated was the Canadian, Haycock, son of the former head of the pattern of industry movement in Ontario.

Major Moison, of Montreal, running on the Conservative ticket, was elected.

Members of the Canadian corps will remember Captain J. H. Thorpe, an English barrier, who after being wounded in action, was loaned to the corps as a court martial officer. He was re-elected in the Rusholme division of Manchester as a Unionist with a greatly increased majority.

A REBUKE TO "NORMALCY."
The election showed a fairly simple purpose. It was a rebuke of the "normalcy" which came dangerously near to degenerating into reaction. The protest was against active reaction as embodied in a vicious tariff in the nation and against the bourbonism in the State that we know locally as Lukism. It was a protest against passive reaction as embodied in a foreign policy of doing nothing at a time when the needs of the world and the interests of the country demanded leadership from the United States. In a time which called for the as-

Laxative Syrup Pepsin
Helps Nature Give Relief

Try it when a Laxative is needed and see the wonderful results

IT is not necessary to take a violent physic for so simple an ailment as constipation. Yet many thoughtless parents give mercury in the form of calomel, and coal-tar in the form of phenol when a natural vegetable compound like Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin will do the work equally well and without danger.

People should realize that mercury may salivate and in certain conditions loosen the teeth; that phenolphthalein, by whatever name known and however disguised in candy, may cause dermatitis and other skin eruptions; that salt waters and powders may concentrate the blood, dry up the skin and cause lassitude.

You can take Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin yourself or give it to a babe in arms, as thousands of mothers do every day, with the confidence that it is the safest and best medicine you can use for constipation and such complaints. A teaspoonful will re-

"SAMARIA" ON FIRST N.Y. TRIP

Luxurious Oil Burner Comes Closest Of All To Being Perfect Ship

The new "Samaria", due to arrive Saturday, is the latest effort of the Cunard Line to produce a perfect ship.

Although this is the oil burner's 1st. visit to New York she made several voyages to Boston during the spring and summer, sailing to Queenstown and Liverpool. She was generally accepted in Boston as the finest ship that ever sailed into the New England port.

The "Samaria" will sail from New York for Ireland and England on November 18 and will then be placed in readiness for a cruise around the world, which she will begin in January under the auspices of Thos. Cook & Son, sailing by way of Gibraltar and returning through the Panama Canal.

The "Samaria" is the largest steamer ever built on the Mersey and is typical of the great new fleet of big one-funnel oil-burning Cunarders. Possessing the latest developments in marine engineering, she represents what is practically a new type of liner—a ship that is at once luxurious and highly efficient, and the outward sign of this is the one big raking funnel.

Following are the dimensions of the "Samaria":

Length over all 623.9 feet; Length between perpendiculars 606 feet; Breadth moulded 73.5 feet; Depth, moulded to shelter deck, 45 feet; Gross tonnage 20,000; Sea speed 16 knots.

There are accommodations for nearly 2,600 passengers, made up of 325 first class, 240 second class, and 1,504 third class.

This steamer's propelling machinery is of the latest improved type of Brown-Curtis turbines driving twin screws through double-reduction gearing. She is also fitted with the remarkable gyroscopic compass.

In the "Samaria" there are two garden lounges for the use of first class passengers and a verandah cafe for second class passenger. These set up a high level of luxury and appeal strongly to Atlantic travelers.

The various public rooms have been so designed that they all lead from a main staircase, which forms itself into an imposing central hall. These rooms consist of a great oval lounge, a drawing and writing room. To all of these there are subsidiary rooms or alcoves which, while forming part of the general ensemble, maintain a certain sense of privacy. A feature of the dining room is the separate tables for two or four persons or small parties. This applies to both first and second class dining rooms. There is ample deck space, both open and covered, for promenading, exercise and the various games that add to the joys of ocean voyaging.

The extensive passenger accommodation extend over seven decks. Thus the "Samaria" is a real floating hotel, with all that Cunard service cuisine stands for.

The "Samaria" is a sister ship of the "Scythia" and the "Laconia." She is the second Cunarder of that name. The first was built in 1883, her dimensions being: length, 311 feet; beam, 39 feet; depth, 28.3 feet; gross tonnage, 2,574; horse power, 1,590; speed, 11 knots. These figures make an interesting comparison with the dimensions of the new "Samaria" and reveal something of the progress made in ship construction during the last half century.

The Cunard Line, in conjunction with its associated lines, now totals over a million tons of shipping.

Extremely Heavy Loading Continues All Over New Yorke Central System

The New York Central Lines report continuing extremely heavy coal traffic on the coal carrying sections of their railroads. In an announcement issued at the executive offices of the New York Central system at New York today, it was stated:

"Heavy coal loading continues on the New York Central system took place on October 20 when there was loaded a total of 3978 cars. This means that 138 tons were loaded into cars every minute throughout the 24 hour period. The best previous day's record was made on September 25 when a total of 3670 cars were loaded.

"With practically five months of mining inactivity during 1922, there already has been loaded up to November 1st, 75 per cent of the amount of coal loaded in the same ten months period of 1921 when mining was in progress during the entire period.

"The total of coal car loadings on the New York Central Lines during the year 1922 to November 1st was 320,161 cars or 16,068,950 tons as against 425,153 cars or 21,257,550 tons for the same period of last year. The average monthly loadings of coal cars during the year 1921 was 41,970. In the five months of mining activity up to November 1st; this year, the average monthly number of loads of coal has been 64,032 cars or 22,062 cars per month more than the average loadings of last year. Considering the inactive period, this indicates an increase of $2.5 per cent.

"The maximum monthly loading of cars of coal on the New York Central system took place during the month of September when 67,503 cars were loaded. On the New York Central Railroad proper, there were 21,548 loadings of coal cars during the month of October.

"Coal for the Northwest is being handled in large quantities from the Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia mines to the lakes for boat shipment to the Northwest, the transfers to steamers at Ashabua Harbor on Lake Erie being particularly heavy. During the 32 working days between September 16th and October 18th, 765,405 tons in 14,559 cars were dumped into lake vessels at that port. This is an average of one carload dumped into lake vessels every three minutes during the period mentioned."

LORD SHAUGHNESSY DELIVERS AN IMPORTANT IMMIGRATION TALK

Tells Montreal Kiwanians Practically Nothing Has Been Done During The Last Eight Years To Attract Population—Lose Thousands Of Settlers Who Should Have Come To Us—Very Few Immigrants

(Special to The Chronicle.)... Montreal, November 16—Lord Shaughnessy to-day delivered an important address on immigration before the Kiwanis Club of this city. Lord Shaughnessy said: "Practically nothing has been done during the past eight years to attract population. Of course, the war interfered, and during the period of the war it would have been impossible to bring people here, but four years have elapsed since that we have lost to other countries thousands of excellent settlers who should have come to us. Indeed, it is worse than that, because the census returns show that in 1911 Canada had a population of 7,200,000, and the census returns for 1921 show a total population of 8,700,000. But for that period the vital statistics show that there was a natural increase of 1,336,099, and immigration into Canada from other countries of 1,975,000. Had we received no immigrants at all, the natural increase should have given a population of 9,000,000, so that in those ten years we have approximated only lost the equivalent of all the immigrants who came in, but did not even maintain, according to the census returns, the increase due to natural accretion, after making full allowance for our war losses. It goes without saying that many of those who left were foreigners, who were compelled to return to their own countries on the outbreak of the war, so that the shrinkage was not an unmitigated evil, but it emphasizes the necessity of replacing them as quickly as we can.

When we take into account the fact that our National Debt which was $335,000,000 in 1914 has now reached the staggering sum of $2,240,000,000 approximately the equivalent of $270 per capita of our population, a National Railway System (acquired for reasons that are more or less defensible), that with its annual deficits absorbs the greater portion of our rather prodigal income tax with no prospect of immediate improvement, we must realize that the burden is too great for a population of 8,700,000 people, and that if we are to carry on without serious inconvenience we must secure with all possible speed a very large addition to our population and to our production. Great as is our National Debt, and serious as is the railway burden, we have within our country, in undeveloped wealth in our lands, our forests, our mines, our fisheries, and other resources, ample assets to meet all our present and future requirements, provided that by industry and development this hidden wealth be made gradually available.

Room For Thousands. Plainly stated we have on one side these enormous national liabilities and a sparse population. On the other side, we have vast areas of agricultural land in the Western Provinces within fifteen miles of existing railway lines, only awaiting settlers to establish homes for themselves and their families, and to make those lands productive for their own advantage and for the general financial advantage of Canada, and in Ontario, Quebec and the Lower Provinces there is still room for a great many thousands of settlers.

The mineral districts of our country thus far exploited are a mere patch on the great mineralized area of the Dominion, and our forests utilized in a sensible way will be a source of incalculable wealth. Clearly our policy must be to bring these matters under the notice not only of the people of Great Britain and the United States, but of many of the continental countries as well, and to bring them to their attention. We want you to come to our country and enjoy opportunities and advantages quite beyond your reach in your own country. We shall not deceive you, nor shall we permit other to do so. You will be informed of the climatic conditions of the particular portion of Canada to which you wish to go, and incidentally be mentioned to you that in every section of the Dominion the climate is healthful and invigorating. With us you will enjoy the best form of government in which every citizen has a voice without reference to his position in life. If you are a laggard do not come. We want men and women, who are industrious and who realize that indolence or indifference will lead to failure here, as it will in any other where country. We expect you to become citizens of Canada, and to take active intelligent interest in Canadian affairs; that you, children are not only educated, but by your example encouraged to lead clean moral lives. It is not our intention when you land on our shores to turn you loose to shift for yourselves. We shall have bureaus or departments to take you in hand and advise and guide you until you have reached your destination.

Notwithstanding the War, Great Britain can furnish a very large number of settlers of the right class and for the first time, I think, in history, the British Government is prepared to lend its assistance, financially and otherwise, to help the vital importance of the subject that we have under discussion, and has the best intentions in the world but to get prompt and effective action there must be no relaxation of a campaign that has been and is being conducted by the Press, trade organizations, and the Kiwanians throughout the country. To begin with there should be some amendments to our immigration laws and regulations. The requirement of continuous passage from country of origin is surrounded by many difficulties. There can be no good reason why an Englishman temporarily living in Oregon, who had bought a ranch in Alberta, should under our regulations be denied admission as a settler, because he came to us from Oregon instead of direct from England. Nor should we be prevented from getting any settlers from the United States who, not being naturalized United States citizens, would be required under our law to return to their own country and come from there direct to Canada to ensure admission. I am only referring briefly to one or two out of many instances in the last couple of years that were brought to my notice. It is true that the regulations have recently been amended with reference to British settlers, but the barrier against others still remains. The Act was originally designed to deal with a special menace, but I am sure that it can be amended so as to meet its original purpose without maintaining such serious obstacles to colonization and settlement. There are other details in the immigration regulations that require alterations, but it is not necessary to discuss them now. There should be urged upon Government the appointment without delay of a thoroughly capable enterprising Minister of Immigration and Colonization. I think that Hon. Mr. Stewart, who is with us today, will bear me out in the statement that the Department of the Interior is now overburdened with work, and that this additional load should not be placed on it. The Minister in charge of Immigration will be a very busy man, and should be able to give his whole time and thought to this work. Heretofore it has been sort of a hodge-podge that the Cabinet Minister or Deputy in charge of Immigration should come from the West. There would appear to be no good reason for this. While naturally the main efforts of the Department will be directed to the West, there is room for considerable energy in Eastern Canada, and after all it makes but very little difference whether the Minister comes from the East or the West, provided he be just the right man.

DEBORNE INTERDICTION AND BROTHER-IN-LAW EXECUTOR

Abbe Declared Incompetent Of Managing Estate And Adelard Tetreault Is Appointed—Judgment Of Judge Bruneau Bristled With Denunciations Of Application Of French Civil Code In Quebec Courts

Montreal, Nov. 16—Therefore, the said Abbe Adelard Delorme, the accused, is hereby declared an interdict, and upon the unanimous advice of his family council the Court names the petitioner, Adelard Tetreault, to take care of his person and possessions to the full extent of the law. The above was the conclusion of the judgment handed down in the Superior Court today by Mr. Justice Bruneau in connection with the petition of Adelard Tetreault, brother-in-law of the Abbe, to have the latter interdicted from handling his estate, and with the cross-petition of Leopold Houle, lawyer, who asked that Abbe Delorme be declared competent to manage his own affairs.

The finding of Mr. Justice Bruneau, notes of which covered seventy five pages of type written foolscap and took nearly two hours to deliver, bristled with denunciations of the application of the French civil code in the Quebec Courts. The control and supervision of private asylums through visiting justices of the peace and country doctors who were not alienists, drew still further criticism from the judge. "The only qualification that a justice of the peace requires appears to be that of personal wealth," he said. "Accompanied by doctors who are not alienists, they visit private asylums. What the value of their inspections may be, I do not know, but I very much doubt if it amounts to very much."

On the matter of the competence of Abbe Delorme, Mr. Justice Bruneau took as his argument the fact that five experts had sworn at the criminal trial that the priest was insane. Against this came a certificate from Dr. Brochu, Superintendent of the Beauport Asylum, where Father Delorme is now held, stating that Delorme was sane and capable of managing his own affairs. The judge stated that according to law such a certificate was not sufficient proof and that he weighed the balance against the expert testimony of the five alienists. It was of little value. Delorme interdicted. Rev. Adelard Delorme, at present in the Beauport Asylum after being indicted by a Grand Jury on a charge of murdering his half-brother, Raoul, was this morning interdicted by Mr. Justice Bruneau and declared incapable of administering his large estate.

A scattered handful of people were in the Court when Judge Bruneau took the bench to deliver judgment. Madame Come Paquin, Delorme's aunt, Rosa, his sister, and Lillie, his half-sister, were present and had been waiting in Court for some fifteen minutes before the judge appeared. Dr. Gaston Dehellefeuille, expert alienist from the Hospital of the defence during the "sanity hearing" strolled in. Gustave Monette and Ephrem Pilon, who appeared for the petitioner, got into Court just in time to hear the opening sentences.

Leopold Houle, Delorme's counsel, was not successful. The judge had read a couple of pages before Mr. Houle appeared. "I have already announced," said Mr. Justice Bruneau, as he turned to a bulky sheaf of documents, "that in rendering this judgment I would take the opportunity of making some observations on our Asylum's management, and the first part is contained in the law." His Lordship sketched briefly the nature of the petition—that Delorme be declared an interdict and that a provisional administrator be nominated in the event of interdiction being refused. "The question to be decided is whether Delorme is insane," he added.

Olden And Modern Methods. The history of an insane person's rights under Roman and French laws occupied the bench for the next five minutes and brought the judge to a comparison of the pitiful existence of the lunatic in the middle ages with the present conditions under which the unfortunate are given every care by staffs of expert doctors. "I may say here," said his lordship, "that I do not belong to that school of thought which contends that the main purpose of the expert alienists is to declare people insane. I shall return to that observation from time to time, since the testimony of expert alienists plays such an important part in this connection." In mediaeval times, Mr. Justice Bruneau pointed out, the insane were considered as sorcerers with malignant powers, and instead of being treated they were chastised. History was full of examples of the barbarous treatment of those suffering from mental derangement. Finally France adopted laws for the handling of the insane, after deep

CITY TO PERMIT DOG TEAM USE

Dogs May Be Harnessed For Sporting Purposes From December To April

The question of the city permitting the harnessing of dogs for sporting purposes here during the winter months was vigorously debated by the Finance Committee at the City Hall last night and the final decision was that the city will permit the harnessing of dogs from December 1st, until April 1st, but only for sporting purposes and a license of $2 will be charged by the city for each dog which is harnessed. Two delegations waited on the Finance Committee last night in this connection. The first was composed of M. B. A. Neale, manager of the Chateau Frontenac, accompanied by Mr. J. P. A. Gravel, K.C., who asked that the city permit the use of dog teams in connection with a programme of winter sports.

The other delegation was composed of members of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. Among the delegates were Messrs. J. T. Ross, John Hamilton, A. Robertson, John Laird and others accompanied by their lawyer Mr. A. Gervais. The S.P.C.A. delegation opposed the permission sought by the C.P.A. on the grounds that there was already a by-law prohibiting the harnessing of dogs in the city and they also argued that this practice tended to cruelty to the dogs. After the delegation had retired the aldermen discussed the question from every angle. Ald. Paradis (St. Sauveur) is opposed to dogs on general principles and would have nothing to do with permitting the use of dog teams in Quebec. He argued that by encouraging the keeping of big dogs Quebec would return to the "Dog Village" days when certain families kept as many as ten dogs and then appealed to the St. Vincent de Paul Society for help in order to be able to feed the animals. He argued that if the city did permit the use of dog teams they should levy a tax of $25 on each dog. Mayor Samson said that this could not be done as the city could not charge more for a dog than a horse.

Ald. Drolet took a contrary view and held that the tax of $2 for dogs used in teams was too high. He was in favor of making it even lower than that. A large delegation of members of the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada waited on the committee relative to the license charged by the city on taverns and groceries selling ale. It was pointed out that these stores pay a license fee to the government and that the city should therefore not collect a license from them. They were told that the city would reduce its license providing the Government did likewise. After the meeting a caucus was held to discuss the building by-law for St. Francois d'Assise parish which has been a bone of contention at the City Hall for many months. The caucus only served to

ALIENATION SUIT FOR $150,000

Brought By Montreal Man Against New Yorker—Summons And Complaint Filed

(By Canadian Press) New York, Nov. 16—Summons and complaint in an alienation suit for $150,000 damages brought by Arthur I. Aikin, of Montreal against Morris Sweetwood, were filed in the County Clerk's Office today by John F. Farrell, Aikin's counsel. Aikin charges Sweetwood with the alienation of the affections of Mary Grace O'Donnell Aikin who became the plaintiff's wife on June 9, this year, in this city. A feature of the case is the fact is that the suit grew out of a letter alleged to have been received by Mr. Aikin, in Montreal, from a friend who on August 7th is said to have seen Mrs. Aikin and the defendant together on the Boardwalk in Atlantic City and followed them to the Ambassador Hotel in that resort. Mr. Farrell later today declined to make known the name of the friend in question, but it was learned that he was present at the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Aikin. After the marriage the plaintiff and his wife lived for a few weeks in this city. Then they went to Montreal. Some weeks later Mrs. Aikin left Canada to come to New York. Soon afterward the letter above mentioned was received by her husband.

The plaintiff further alleges that the defendant acquired an improper influence over Mrs. Aikin after she and the plaintiff had lived as man and wife for about two months; that in August Sweetwood enticed her away from the plaintiff and has since then harbored her despite "the almost peaceable efforts of the plaintiff to reclaim her". Sweetwood is in the wholesale millinery and other lines of business and is said to be wealthy. He is married and has two children who live on Riverside Drive, N.Y. Aikin is a steel salesman. Many fish are capable of producing sounds, some by the scraping of fins or other organs, some by means of gas emitted from the air-bladder. But no fish can hear; it may feel the vibrations set up by sound.

NEW RIORDON CORPORATION

To Provide Working Capital For Coming Season's Cut Of Logs

Montreal, Nov. 16—At today's meeting here of the creditors committee of the Rioridon Co., Ltd., Chairman R. M. Davy stated that in order to provide much needed working capital for the coming season's cut of logs, a new corporation has been formed under the name of the Rioridon Pulp Corporation which advanced monies and took a lease of the properties in order to allow the lenders of the money to work up the inventories so created, vesting in the Rioridon Company the right to take back the properties upon repayment of the advances. Mr. Davy expressed the view that if the present scheme of financing saves the company the creditors will lose everything. The same, he added, would have been true had the company financed itself through the banks.

The chairman stated that the operating profit on the Kipawa mill for the year to September, 1922 was $21,143. The Hawkesbury mills and the Gatineau properties were operating satisfactorily. He was of the opinion that the business of the company should be held together as a unit until financial houses interested are able to submit a plan of reorganization which was essential in view of the tremendous burden arising from fixed charges which under present circumstances absorbed all profits made by manufacturing.

URGENT RELEASE OF MISS MACSWINEY

Deputation From Dublin Corporation Visit President Of Dail For Purpose

Dublin, Nov. 16—A deputation from the Dublin corporation visited the Government buildings today to urge President Cosgrave of the Dail Eilreann to release Mary MacSwiney, now on the twelfth day of her hunger strike in Mountjoy prison. Mr. Cosgrave was unable to see them, being engaged in Government business, no appointment having been made. It was explained. The Republican Army in a notice referring to the trial of Erskine Childers by a Military Court set for to-morrow protests against the action taken in connection with his case. It condemns the disparaging references recently made to him by Winston Churchill in a campaign speech and praises Childers for his work in exposing the English terror in Ireland to the world.

MURDER CHARGE IS WITHDRAWN BY CROWN

Montreal, Nov. 16—The charge of murder against Emile Trudeau was this morning withdrawn by J. C. Walsh, K.C., Crown Prosecutor. Trudeau who was charged jointly with Wilfred St. Onge, of murdering a shoemaker named Nestor Babroivitch on April last, was called to the stand to testify immediately after his dismissal. St. Onge is now facing the charge alone.

DR. HENDERSON DEFENDS BOARD

Says It Frequently Stretched Regulations So Returned Men Would Benefit

Ottawa Nov 16—(Can. Press)—Dr. Gordon Henderson, K.C., continued his speech before the Ralston Royal Commission this afternoon defending the Board of Pensions Commissioners' administration of the Pension Act and claiming that instead of the board trying to make the act as regards pensions more stringent, they frequently went further than the letter of the act in interpreting its provisions so that the ex-service men would benefit. Dr. Henderson stated that in admitting to pensions discharged members of the force against the wording of the act, the Board "took a chance" which Parliament afterwards justified by legislation. He stated frankly that in this particular case the Pensions Board broke the law for the benefit of the returned soldier and the returned soldier should be the last to accuse the board of unfriendliness. Col. Dulon stated that the returned soldiers wanted the Board to break the law a little more in their favor. When inconsistencies in the original act were noted and when new conditions arose, Dr. Henderson continued, the Board prepared amendments which, if anything, were easier on the service man than the original act. The argument will continue tomorrow.

NO CHARGE TO ANSWER

At this morning's session of the Pensions Board investigation Dr. Gordon Henderson, counsel for the Board, contended there was no charge or maladministration, graft or corruption to answer. J. R. Bowker, counsel for the G. V. A., admitted there was nothing against the personal integrity or honor of the Pensions commissioners and their staff.

20 YEAR BANK CLERK GIVEN 3 YEAR TERM

Montreal, Nov. 16—Aime Belanger, twenty-year-old bank clerk, formerly employed in one of the local branches of the Banque Nationale, was this afternoon sentenced to three years in the penitentiary by Judge Ferrault for defrauding the bank of $6,024. Evidence showed that Belanger, while acting as both teller and bookkeeper took in deposits and never entered them in the books of the bank, although he made up the customer's passbooks correctly.

QUEBEC, NOVEMBER 17, 1922.

THE BRITISH ELECTIONS.

With results from the British elections practically complete it is now evident that the Conservative Government of Mr. Bonar Law will have a safe working majority over all the other parties in the House. This is the outcome that was most generally anticipated although the situation was exceptionally complex, owing to confusion of parties and absence of decisive issues.

Nothing succeeds like success and the victory of Mr. Law may be accepted as justification of his action in breaking up the Coalition. Moreover, there is reason to believe that his diagnosis of the position was entirely accurate. The demoralization of the Liberal Party is evident and the gains made by Labor are impressive in the extreme. Had Lloyd George taken his Coalition administration to the country it is far from impossible that he would have been defeated by the Laborites and quite unlikely that he would have secured a working majority. As it is, Bonar Law kept his party virtually intact and was able to present a strong front to the Communist element in spite of contests in which there were frequently from three to six candidates running.

So far as the essentials of general policy are concerned there will be little difference between the new Government and the old and Bonar Law seems to have struck the key note of popular feeling at the moment by his emphasis upon "tranquillity"; the more so as very wide-spread alarm had been created by Labor's threatened levy upon capital. Whether the incoming Prime Minister will be able to do more towards restoring normal conditions at home and abroad than his predecessor has yet to be demonstrated, but he will at least command the confidence of the world of finance, which is an extremely important asset.

We are not of those who are inclined to be severely critical of Lloyd George's Near Eastern policy as a whole. On the contrary, we believe that compromises which he was led to make are responsible for present difficulties. At the same time the Coalition had undoubtedly outlived its usefulness and public confidence alike and, when time has lent proper perspective to events, the ex-Premier may himself be able to recognize the benefits of a return to the normal party system.

Sentimentally Canadians will be gratified at Mr. Bonar Law's success, small though his actual connection with this country has been; while the feeling exists that he was entitled to his turn of office, since the opportunity had been presented to him on several previous occasions when public spirit made him stand aside and serve with loyalty and ability under one who had been for years an inveterate political opponent. We in Canada have no more right to intervene in British domestic politics than Englishmen would have to intervene in our own, but we may with propriety express the hope that the elections just held and the mandate just issued to the Conservative Party will make for the peace and prosperity of the United Kingdom, the Empire and the world at large. There are many difficult and dangerous problems still awaiting solution and it is no light responsibility that rests upon the Ministry of Mr. Bonar Law.

A LOSS TO LETTERS.

Elizabeth Roberts MacDonald, whose death occurred the other day as the result of an accidental injury sustained some months previously, is a sad loss to Canadian letters. She was remarkable as a member of what has been described as the most poetic family in the Dominion and one which will always be remembered as having founded a real school of Canadian poetry. Charles George Douglas Roberts was born in 1860; Frederick George Scott, William Wilfred Campbell, Bliss Carman, Archibald Lampman in 1861; Duncan Campbell Scott, Jean Bisset, Pauline Johnson in 1862, and Elizabeth Roberts in 1864. There are other names of the same period, but of these five years these mentioned will probably outlive the rest. Lampman and Campbell and now Elizabeth Roberts MacDonald have passed.

William Carman Roberts, editor of The Literary Digest, and Theodore G. Roberts, novelist and poet, are brothers of Mrs. MacDonald, and there are several of the next generation that possess the family gifts. She was born in the old rectory of Fredericton, N.B., daughter of Rev. George Goodridge Roberts, LL.D., Canon of Christ Church Cathedral, and his wife, Emma Wetmore Bliss, daughter of Hon. G. P. Bliss, Attorney-General of New Brunswick. The debate between those who look to environment and those who rely upon heredity to account for genius and talent, may be assisted by the record of the Roberts family. It is more probably in the combination of the two that we must seek a solution of the problem, and it will be necessary also to account for the affinity that combines heredity and environment in such happy manner.

Both father and mother entered into the literary interests of the children, and every incentive was given them to follow these inclinations. It is not unusual for parents who discover literary tendencies in their offspring to take every means known to smother the impractical notions. It was otherwise with the Roberts. "In summer weather," Mrs. C. F. Frazer has written, "the great old-fashioned garden, haunt of all fragrant and time-forgotten flowers, was the favorite meeting-place. There, in and about the hammocks, with their cousin, Bliss Carman, extending his great length on the turf below, and shaggy Nestor, wise and most understanding of household dogs, wandering about from one to another for a friendly word or pat, and a score of half-tamed wild birds fluttering and twittering in the trees above, the young people did indeed see visions and dream dreams." Dreamhurst, the ideal home, has such a garden.

"At one end toward the darkling hemlock woods, My garden stretches; here are old-time flowers, Monk's-hood and bleeding-heart, forget-me-not; Pink musk and meadowsweet, and many more From childhood loved, with many stranger blooms Whose names I know not yet."

In the poetry of Elizabeth Roberts, the ideal garden remains as a vision in her heart, and she never forgets through all the disappointments and failures of life, amid all the mists and storms, that the garden of dreams awaits the day of her return. There are definite experiences of its beauty, as in her poem, The Gates of Gold. The language of the simpler poets does not impress all readers with the weight of meaning that it may carry, for the images are familiar and have been often degraded by use, but the plain truths come in, words of childhood, and the deepest things are veiled in the life about us. There is no space for quotation, and one can only mention titles. But if the reader will try to understand the poems of Mrs. MacDonald, in which the deeper sides of life and thought are touched, it will be difficult for him to escape the force of the realities that inspire them. Among these are The Summons, When Fades the Year, Terra Beata, Trust, The Voice of the Wind, Sphere of Wonder, and, lastly, with its suggestion of the mighty rushing Pentecostal wind, The Wind of Life.

THROUGH THE ROCKIES BY MOTOR.

The Vermilion-Windermere section of the new motor highway from Calgary across the Rocky Mountains is now nearing completion and engineers of the Canadian Parks Branch announce that this road, which forms the last link in the through highway from Calgary to California, will be ready for traffic early next summer. As soon as it is open, a circle of 6,000 miles, touching three national parks in Canada and seven in the United States will be completed. Motorists in both Canada and the United States are eagerly awaiting the opening of the road and work is being rushed to have everything in readiness for next July.

A few years ago the Province of Alberta built the section from Calgary to the eastern boundary of the Banff National Park and the Dominion Government carried on the road from that point through the national park to the Vermilion Summit on the inter-provincial divide. The Province of British Columbia had agreed to construct the remaining section, from the Vermilion Summit to a point in the Columbia valley where connection was made with the existing road from Golden, but owing to the outbreak of war and financial and labour difficulties, it found itself unable to carry on the work.

In 1919 the Dominion Government agreed to undertake this section and the date for completion was set for 1924. The road is therefore being opened a good year in advance of the date agreed upon. This has been made possible by the energy of the park engineers and the fact that operations were continued by order of the Government throughout the entire year.

Construction of the Vermilion-Windermere section presented many difficulties not only on account of the mountainous character of the country, but owing to the long distances from railroad. From the crest of the Rockies, which the road crosses via the Vermilion pass, the road drops down the abrupt western slope of the Rocky Mountain Range proper and then ascends to cross the Sinclair range descending to the floor of Sinclair valley and through the thrilling Sinclair Canyon to the Columbia. Forty miles of the road had to be cut through virgin timber, fourteen bridges had to be constructed and the road finally carved through the huge walls of the Sinclair Canyon.

The railroads, Castle, Alberta, and Fairlands, B.C., were 75 miles apart. This meant that supplies for the central portion had to be transported by trucks or wagons, a distance of over 30 miles. The heavy snowfall in this district added considerably to the difficulty in the winter months. During the winter of 1920-21 the snow sometimes lay as deep as four or five feet on the passes and it often took days for the supply teams to reach the end of the road. About 60 miles of road were kept open during the past two winters.

Every mile of the new highway is said to have been laid out so as to afford the motorist the finest views of the incomparable scenery as well as the easiest grades. The region is practically virgin country and those who have gone over it declare it embraces some of the most magnificent scenery in the Rockies. The route is one that has been followed in the past by none but a few intrepid explorers, chief of whom was Sir James Hector, Geologist with the Palliser Expedition, who ascended the Vermilion on the famous journey which later resulted in his fortunate discovery of the Kinking horse pass. The region is in fact so new that very few of the peaks bear names and fewer have as yet been ascended. A new world rich in virgin attractions is therefore opened both to the mountaineer and the motorist. The district abounds naturally in big game which is increasing rapidly and becoming very tame under the sanctuary conditions prevailing in the national park. Wild goat, elk, moose, deer and even bear will all come within sight of the passing motor and a friendly sheep will often dispute the right of way.

A Verse Or Two

"I SAW LOVE DIE"

I saw Love die—yet, not from mortal blows,
Nor still from other heavy cruelty,
But, hour by hour, he faded wearily
Beneath a host of little, p ricking woes;
A taunt that turned life's poetry to prose,
A sordid quibble and a mocking sneer,
A lack of thought that light neglect made clear,
A doubt, as final as a withered rose.

Just these: not any vital in its sway,
But each envenomed with a subtle sting
That slowly wore Love's ebbing strength away
Till he had no resistance left to bring,
And, tired of struggling 'twixt vain hope and pride,
As silently as falling dusk, Love died.
—Charlotte Becker, in New York Herald.

THE HECKLER IN THE BRITISH ELECTIONS.
(Manchester Guardian.)

It often happens that the healthiest feature of a political meeting is the heckler. He may be only a noisy nuisance, but he may render the gathering the supreme service of smashing right through some sonorous phrase to the reality, or lack of reality, beneath it. There is sometimes value in spitting hairs, there is always value in spitting words, which, as the philosopher Hobbes remarked, are wise men's counters, but the coinage of fools. Socrates is usually admitted to those lists of the world's greatest men which people occasionally compile for their amusement; and the greatness of Socrates lay largely in the fact that he was the perfect heckler, worrying away with the pertinacity of a terrier at the idea behind the phrase.

WOODROW, THE SILENT.
(Philadelphia Inquirer.)

It is unusual for such a prominent man as Woodrow Wilson, holding such a conspicuous post during the world war, to be judged during his own lifetime. Usually estimates of this kind come generations after his death, but the printing press is very handy these days, and the memoir habit has become epidemic. Already we have had the impressions of Joseph Tumulty, the private secretary of Mr. Wilson, and the book written by Robert Lansing, who was his Secretary of State, and now we have these revelations from the pen of Secretary of the Interior Lane, who was confessedly one of the strong members of the Cabinet. The only one who determined to preserve silence apparently is Woodrow Wilson himself, the man who, if he willed it, might "take unfold" that would overshadow all of the others.

Children need
Dominion
Rubbers
right through the winter

DOMINION Rubbers mean health protection. They mean freedom from colds, sore throats and tonsillitis, caused by getting the feet wet or sitting all day in damp shoes.

Don't limit the children to a single pair of rubbers each.

You'll find it a real economy to have a pair of rubbers for each pair of shoes, because both shoes and rubbers will wear longer.

Try this plan yourself. DOMINION Rubbers come in styles, shapes and sizes to fit every shoe for men, women and children.

Don't ask for "a pair of rubbers"—insist on getting DOMINION rubbers, the perfect fitting, comfortable, long-wearing rubbers.

BLOOD TRANSFUSION FROM ONE PUP TO ANOTHER.

Oakland, Calif., Nov. 16.—Blood transfusions from the veins of Apache French, a pedigreed pup to those of Major, a Boston terrier has saved the latter's life. "Major's" illness was caused by swallowing two ice-cream spoons which a veterinarian removed, but the shock and loss of blood nearly caused the death of the patient. The transfusion operation took an hour and a half. Both patients are recovering.

Sirius, our brightest star, is called a fixed star, but it appears to move about an inch in a century, which means, considering its distance from the earth, that it moves 1,600,000 miles each day.

MR. GEO. MADDEN CALLED BY DEATH

Prominent Quebecker Passed Away Suddenly At Residence Last Evening

Quebec has lost one of its oldest and up to the last hour of his life one of its most active citizens in the passing away last evening at 7 o'clock of Mr. George Madden. Endowed with the native genius and energy of his race, Mr. Madden began life early at hard work having emigrated to the West when a mere boy where he was engaged at railroad construction in Minnesota for several years. He returned to his native province with much experience it blessed with scanty earthly goods. His experience, however, he turned to advantage and he applied it for the last forty years assiduously in building up a large road contracting and coal business.

Mr. Madden was not only a successful business man, he was also a public spirited citizen. The extensive parishes of Saint Sauveur and of St. Malo were at all times the recipient of his generous benefactions. Living among a population almost entirely French, Mr. Madden enjoyed throughout his life their friendship and good will. Like every good Irish Catholic, Mr. Madden was a devoted and generous friend of St. Patrick's Church, and no appeal for help or support was ever sent out to him that he did not cheerfully and liberally respond to.

Mr. Madden also played a very important part in municipal, provincial and Federal politics. Alderman himself for many long and eventful years under the regime of the late Hon. S. N. Parent, Mr. Madden fought with success, many an electioneering battle and he had hosts of friends who bore him on to victory.

Four years ago at the ripe old age of eighty when his health was failing, he went south to Miami for the winter, where he recuperated his health and each succeeding winter since he visited the same health resort. It may be truly said that Mr. Madden directed his business to the very last and died in his harness—for up to yesterday he was overseeing road construction work.

Mr. Madden leaves behind him a large and highly respected family to mourn their incalculable loss. Among these are his only son, Mr. Martin Madden, member for Quebec West and three daughters, Mrs. Charles Griffin, Miss Marguerite and Miss Mary J. Madden to all of whom and to their sorrowing kindred their numerous friends and acquaintances will extend their sympathy and condolence.

WEEKLY LUNCHEON OF THE KIWANIS CLUB.

The usual weekly luncheon of the Kiwanis Club at the Chateau Frontenac yesterday was presided over by President Apedalle, while the speaker was past President Tanguay who related his experiences of his recent fraternal trip to Ontario, when he visited both Peterboro and Kingston.

It was announced that a party of Kiwanians from Kingston would visit Quebec next week, when they would be the guests of the local club.

President Apedalle referred to the fact that over a thousand members of the Montreal Kiwanis Club were hearing Lord Shaughnessy deliver an important address on immigration, and said that Quebec Province was more interested in natural than artificial immigration.

CITY TREASURER PLEASED WITH TAX COLLECTIONS

The Quebec City Treasurer Mr. Verge, is a busy man these days receiving cheques of money from the tax payers in payment of their obligations to the city. Seen at his office in the City Hall yesterday afternoon, Mr. Verge was engaged in opening a heap of mail containing cheques and on being asked if the monies due the city by the tax-payers were coming in to his satisfaction, the City Treasurer replied that he was very well satisfied, but would be unable to give out the figures of the total amount received until the beginning of next week.

Don't forget the Apollo Dansant, 227 St. John Street, this evening.

BAZAAR CLOSES TOMORROW EVE

Brisk Business Done Yesterday In All Departments—Bargain Night Saturday

Tomorrow evening the St. Patrick's Church Bazaar comes to a close, but in the meantime no time is being lost, or efforts spared by the parishioners, to make the event a gigantic success.

From the time that the bazaar formally opened on Monday evening right up to last evening big crowds have attended, both in afternoon and evening and have purchased liberally of everything to be obtained inside the walls of the big hall where the bazaar is being held in the old school on McMahon street.

Last evening the Children of Mary Sodality were the guests of honor, and an extremely large crowd was on hand in honor of the occasion. The business done at the various booths in the hall being exceedingly brisk, a goodly number took advantage of the opportunity to patronize the dining room, and indeed this spot bids fair to become the most popular in the entire bazaar with its appetizing chicken dinners for the very nominal price of one dollar. Under the direction of Mrs. F. O'Connell, everything in connection with the dining room moves smoothly and it is little wonder that the place is well patronized. Today being a fast day, a wonderful fish and oyster supper will be served instead of the usual chicken dinner, and it is hinted that tonight's affair will even surpass the customary chicken dinner.

Many of the beautiful dolls that were on view at the beginning of the week have been disposed of, but the Doll's Paradise still contains a number of beautiful examples, and there is little doubt but that there will be keen competition to secure possession of one of them.

MME. GALLI-CURCI ARRIVES IN CITY

She Loves Her Art And Appreciates Kindness Of Her Audiences

In the course of an interview last evening just after arrival in the city, Madame Amelia Galli-Curci told a chronic representative that she was delighted to be once more back in Quebec, where the people are so enthusiastic over music. Madame is a slim, girlish person with a delightful simplicity of manner and unaffected cordiality that has won the hearts of the various audiences wherever she has appeared.

Madam Galli-Curci arrived at the Chateau shortly before 10 o'clock, and had hardly been in the hotel for five minutes, when, with her husband, Homer Samuels, she took a short stroll on the Terrace, which is a daily habit of hers before retiring.

Speaking of her work, Madame Galli-Curci said: "I love my work. It is natural for me to sing, and I believe we should get all the joy out of life as we go along. It is after all, all a matter of mental adaptability, for happiness comes from within."

Madam Galli-Curci is a great believer in the power of personality. "Unless an artist loves her public she cannot get across to them," she said. "Technique is nothing, for the moment that the audience is made aware of technique the artist fails. Technique there must be, of course; but it must be the art that conceals art. Above everything, these must be a love for one's audience. It is because I love my audiences so much that people are so kind to me."

Referring to her Canadian visit, she said, that she was only appearing in four cities this season, Hamilton and Ottawa, where she had just concluded her engagements, Quebec and Sherbrooke. She had given a concert in Montreal earlier in the season, and on her return to the States would begin her opera season.

Despite her busy life Galli-Curci is a devoted home lover. At the present time, probably the first of next year, when her magnificent new home in the Catskills shall be ready for occupation. Designed by the great architect Luedberg. It is built from stone hewn from the mountain upon which her new residence stands, and will give, when completed, an appearance of an aged mansion, set amid the background of the mountains.

Speaking of the recent events in her native country, Galli-Curci believed that if the Fascisti were in good faith, it would do much for Italy, and enhance the power of the King. Italy could never be a republic.

The great soprano was radiant as she discussed her love for America. Since this country gave her a royal welcome four years ago in opera, it has constantly honored her in honors upon her, and never has she failed to show her gratitude by giving of her best, for the keynote of her personality is sincerity and appreciation.

Galli-Curci did not go abroad last summer. Her vacation was spent in America at her beautiful estate "El Minto." "I became an American citizen more quickly than I expected," she said. "I had my first papers and did not have to take out my second, for I secured my citizenship more easily and more happily," referring to her marriage in January, 1921, to Mr. Homer Samuels, the American composer and pianist. The famous soprano will spend today quietly and practise a little for her concert at the Drill Hall this evening.

DEMONSTRATION FARM DISCUSSED

Saveu Charges Government Influenced By Political Feeling—Hon. Caron's Denial

After all the fireworks which attended the sitting of the Legislative Assembly on Wednesday the sitting yesterday afternoon was tame in comparison, but with all that there were two interesting debates. The first concerned the choice of a demonstration farm in St. Maurice County, and Mr. Saveu charged that the Government made its selections not in the interests of agriculture but to help Government favorites.

Hon. J. E. Caron denied this saying that the farm selected was the best suited for the purpose and most centrally located.

Several questions were answered during the sitting and among the private bills passed was the measure to increase the borrowing powers of the Quebec Catholic School Board.

On a motion for the production of correspondence concerning the establishing of a demonstration farm in the County of St. Maurice in 1921 and 1922, Mr. Arthur Saveu, Leader of the Opposition, said that the Hon. Minister of Agriculture had brought in the following statement for the establishment of the farm: he gave his word that party politics would not enter into the application of the law and that the choice of the farms would be made regardless of party interests and solely from the point of view of agricultural interests.

He wanted to show, by the production of the documents, he said, that the demonstration farm in St. Maurice County was chosen through party feeling and in a most odious manner. He wanted to establish that political fanaticism had influenced the choice of the farm of Mr. Odzars Gellinas, of St. Barnabe, to be used as a demonstration farm in St. Maurice County. He quoted from the Votes and Proceedings of November 16, 1922 the following statement made by the Minister of Agriculture in reply to the Member for Laval: "The demonstration farms are established on the recommendation of the Superintendent of demonstration farms." He affirmed that this had not been done in the case of St. Maurice County and it was his duty to protest against the political abuses which were rampant in the administration. Funds voted for agricultural purposes were used for political ends and to help Government favorites.

Mr. Nestor Ricard, Liberal Member for St. Maurice, said that he was surprised that the Leader of the Opposition had spoken so long and had said so little.

Mr. Saveu—"What is because the Member for St. Maurice understood nothing?"

Mr. Ricard declared that there had been no political feelings in the selection of the demonstration farm in his county. The Leader of the Opposition probably did not know that Mr. Gellinas belonged to a Conservative family.

Mr. Saveu—"Oh that's nothing. The Prime Minister belongs to a Conservative family too?"

Mr. Ricard said that the statements of the Leader of the Opposition were untrue from beginning to end, and if he kept on that way he would remain in Opposition for a long time. He said that the buildings erected on the Gellinas farm had been paid for by Mr. Gellinas himself and not by the Government.

carried out, but that they would be made soon.

The debate on the question was adjourned by Mr. Saveu.

Liquor Sales

At question time Mr. Saveu was given the following information in connection with the sales of liquor from May 1st to October 31st: Val-leyfield, 102,436 bottles of spirits and 23,081 gallons of wine, totalling $426,410.72; St. John's, 36,541 bottles of spirits and 15,337 gallons of wine, totalling $139,355.75; Sherbrooke, 102,567 bottles of spirits and 25,598 gallons of wine, totalling $377,371.75; Three Rivers, 43,524 bottles of spirits and 15,922 gallons of wine, totalling $129,391.10; St. Jerome, 8,113 bottles of spirits and 3,614 gallons of wine, totalling $26,556.60; Joliette, 12,753 bottles of spirits and 3,886 gallons of wine; Berthierville, 7,730 bottles of spirits and 4,762 gallons of wine, totalling $17,214.85; Sorel, 9,777 bottles of spirits and 3,547 gallons of wine, totalling $28,036.30.

The following private bills were passed in committee of the House—and given third reading:—

To amend the acts respecting the Board of Roman Catholic School Commissioners of the city of Quebec.—Mr. Cannon.

To incorporate L'Orphelinat St. Sauveur.—Mr. Paquet. (St. Sauveur.)

To authorize the Protestant School municipality of the City and Parish of Laclaire and the Towns of La-salle and Dorval to have a Board of Six Trustees.—Mr. Ashby.

Respecting the construction of the church of Ste. Catherine de Montreal.—Mr. Vautrin.

To regularize the clerkship of Armand Belanger.—Mr. Ashby.

To ratify a deed of agreement entered into between Price Brothers & Company, Limited and certain municipalities, providing for the construction and maintenance of a bridge across the river Saguenay, and a deed of agreement between the same municipalities providing for the construction and maintenance of the roads leading to his bridge.—Mr. Gaudreault.

VILLA TOO GOOD FOR GOLDSTEIN

American Flyweight Champ Decisively Outpointed And Outpunched N.Y. Bantam

New York, Nov. 16.—Pancho Villa, Filipino holder of the American flyweight championship went out of his class tonight and defeated Abe Goldstein, New York bantamweight, in a 15-round contest at Madison Square Garden.

Villa received the judges' decision after decisively outpointing and outpunching his heavier rival. Villa was the aggressor throughout the first three rounds, parring with cat-like grace he jabbed at Goldstein steadily and landed several hard lefts to the body. He drew blood from his opponent's nose in the second round. The pace quickened in the third round and both exchanged hard body blows. Goldstein seemed content to stay on the defensive.

Villa had the better of a rapid fire exchange in the fourth, landing several slashing lefts to Goldstein's head and body. Goldstein shook Villa with two left hooks to the jaw in the fifth after a slow session of sparring. The Filipino scored with both fists repeatedly in the sixth as he carried the fight to Goldstein who had landed few telling blows so far.

The next three rounds were slow. Villa shot over his left effectively several times in the seventh, while Goldstein missed a number of swings for the Filipino's jaw.

Goldstein jabbed Villa repeatedly with his right in the eighth but apparently with little effect. The Filipino swung wildly in the eighth after Goldstein landed a hard right to the jaw, but came back with a piston-like attack to his opponent's body.

Villa set a faster pace in the tenth and eleventh, driving with his left to Goldstein's body as he ducked and danced around his opponent. Goldstein whipped over his left and crossed with his right to the chin several times in the twelfth, his first real blows in several rounds. The Filipino rushed the fighting at the bell and forced a fresh stream of blood from Goldstein's nose.

Goldstein blocked most of Villa's rushes in the thirteenth but not without absorbing considerable punishment as his opponent directed a two-handed attack to the head and body.

Villa had the best of the exchanges in the fourteenth, his hard lefts and swinging rights keeping Goldstein on the defensive throughout.

Villa started the fifteenth furious, driving Goldstein about the ring as he shot over damaging lefts to the face. He shook Goldstein with a wicked hook to the chin. The final bell rang with Villa pounding both fists to Goldstein's body.

DEMERS FINED AND SUSPENDED

Three Rivers Boxer Loses Fifteen Dollars For Quitting To Legare

A fine of fifteen dollars and suspension for thirty days was the punishment meted out to Kid Demers of Three Rivers, by the Athletic and Sports Commission of Quebec, last night, for quitting to Soldier Joe Legare in the sixth round of a scheduled ten-round bout at the Imperial Theatre, Monday night. The Commission met under the presidency of Dr. O. Leclerc, while the other members present were Messrs. Emond and Mullins, and Secretary Emile Dion.

The reports of the referee, Alf Lynch and the judges, Omar Fare and A. Conroy, were received and stated that no low blows were struck during the bout, and that Demers had quit cold. The Commission then decided to fine and suspend the boxer.

A letter was read from P. J. Mulqueen, Chairman of the Ontario Athletic Commission, offering the suggestion that the various boxing bodies of Canada co-operate and form a body to govern and control all boxing in the Dominion and incidentally be in a position to declare Canadian champions in the different classes. This suggestion was looked upon very favorably by the local Commission and it was decided to send a delegate to the meeting at Montreal on the 7th of next month. This meeting is being called to make preliminary arrangements regarding the formation of the Dominion body. The local delegate will be either P. J. Mullins or the Secretary, Emile Dion.

LITTLE HEADWAY MADE BY SKIERS

Clubs Failed To Reach Agreement Regarding Days For Staging Competitions

Although the various ski clubs of the city were represented at the meeting held at the Chateau Frontenac last evening to arrange a program of sports which will be staged under the auspices of the C.P.R. this winter, very little headway was made. It appears that the Quebec Ski Club is averse to competing in any events on Sundays, and would like the principal races or jumping competitions staged on Saturday afternoons. A hot discussion arose on this point, the Quebec Amateur Ski Club stating that should the events be staged on Saturday it would be practically impossible for the club to be represented as the majority of their best runners and jumpers would be unable to compete. However, the question was left over until the next meeting when it is expected the clubs will come to an amicable agreement.

The program for the season, though not definitely decided upon, will be practically the same as last winter and will include a cross-country race, short distance races, jumping competitions will also be on the bill.

It was announced at the meeting that the Chateau Frontenac would erect a jump on the Citadelle Hill as was done last year.

The clubs were represented as follows: Quebec Amateur Ski Club, F. W. Russell; Quebec Amateur Ski Club, R. Choquette and F. Verge; Canadian, R. Racine. The Chateau Frontenac Sports Committee was represented by R. G. Amiot, D. Hains and P. E. Gingras.

CHALLENGERS WON THE PAQUET CUP

Captured Three Man Bowling Trophy By Three Pins Last Night

The closest games so far this season for the Paquet Cup as well as the Champlain Cup were played last evening, one match being won by the slight majority of three pins while nine pins separated the contestants in the other contest.

The Paquet Cup, for three-men teams, was won by the Challengers by three pins while the Champlain Cup for two-men teams remains with the Defenders. This contest being decided by a majority of nine pins.

The match for the Paquet Cup was decided in the final string, the teams starting the third string with only two pins difference. The Defenders shot into the lead in the opening string, taking the game with 89 pins to spare. In the second string the Challengers hit the pins with a vengeance and with every player on the team with a score of over 200 on his credit, wiped out the lead of 89 secured in the opening string by the Defenders and in place took a two-pin majority themselves. The Challengers captured the final string by one pin, which gave them the cup by a majority of three pins on the three strings. The scores:

GORDON STANDS BY STATEMENT

Won't Back Down About Bribe Being Offered Manitoba's Attorney General

Winnipeg, Nov. 16.—"The statement stands, but I am not adding anything to it at present," said Rev. Dr. C. W. Gordon (Ralph Connor), when asked to-day to elaborate on his statement yesterday to the Presbyterian Synod of Manitoba that $50,000 had been offered Hon. R. W. Craig, Attorney-General, in an effort to induce a lax administration of the prohibition laws.

Dr. Gordon declined to give the name of the "respectable man" who he said approached the Attorney-General.

Denials that their organizations had any knowledge whatever of any attempt to bribe Mr. Craig were entered today by the Manitoba Moderation League and the Hotel Men's Association of Manitoba. The Moderation League at the present time is circulating petitions which will be presented to the Legislature backing up the request for a referendum next summer on Government sale of liquor for beverage purposes.

Referendum has been promised and prohibition forces are organizing in their determination to keep Manitoba in the "dry" column.

SPORTING NOTES.

The Quebec Amateur Ski Club is scheduled to meet at the Chateau Frontenac this evening to elect officers for the season as well as to draw up a plan of club events.

Kid Dube, the Lewiston boxer, who figured in some good bouts here during the summer and incidentally won them all, will arrive in town this morning. Dube will probably figure on the next card of bouts to be arranged by the Quebec Sporting Club, on the 27th. Billy Conroy, a heavyweight, is coming with him.

Steve Donaghue, the popular English jockey has just accepted $4,000 and $4,000 from Lord Woolavington and Mr. White as retaining fees for first and second call on his services. This amount, which represents something like $46,000 in Canadian money at the present rate of exchange, is the most fabulous sum ever paid a jockey in retaining fees.

The following telegram was received from Billie Benson, who is well known in Montreal, November 16.

Sporting Editor,

 Would like to have Ralph Brady of Syracuse, also Frank Brady, brother of Ralph, to fight Frank Corrigan of Stoneham, both boys are under the management of Billie Benson and Eddie Baker. Would like to hear from promoters.

BILLIE BENSON,

There is a possibility of a shake-up occurring in the City Hockey League in the next few days. The latest rumor is that the Loyola team is going to disband, while it is now a well-known fact that the Crescents will not operate their franchise this season. Dame Rumour has it that Loyola is seriously considering disposing of their franchise to the St. Valier outfit, while Crescents will most likely hand over their papers to Laval.

Everything is now ready for the big C.P.R. duckpin tourney in Montreal on Sunday, and the local C.P.R. Telegraph team will leave Montreal tomorrow at noon for the Quebec tourney. The expectation of taking three straight strings out of their Montreal opponents when they meet them on the alleys. The Ottawa team is also expected to be on hand and they will meet the winners of the Quebec-Montreal series. The local pin-spitters, Capt. John Farrell are full of hopes regarding the bringing of the championship of the Quebec Division to the Ancient Capital, and if good intentions are any criterion the title is nailed to the wall in Quebec right now. The players making the journey are: Jas. MacDermott, J. W. Langlois, J. Genois, J. Farrell, L. O'Byrne and T. Dawson.

All persons holding outstanding tickets for the Charity Shield final are requested to hand in same to Mr. R. W. Morton the League Secretary at once, so that everything can be straightened out without delay.

WANT ROBERTS IN MONTREAL

Crown Prosecutor Asks That He Be Taken There From Quebec

Montreal, Nov. 16.—Crown Prosecutor Charles Cahan, K.C., who is prosecuting John H. Roberts in the Criminal Courts of Montreal, on a charge of criminal libel appeared before Judge Amedee Monet today and asked that Roberts be brought from Quebec where he is in the custody of the Sergeant-at-Arms of the Provincial Legislature. The charge against Roberts, editor of the Axe, was laid by Wilfrid Brunson, local manager of the stock broking firm of Logan and Bryan.

"Roberts should be here," said Mr. Cahan. Judge Monet thought that the Sergeant-at-Arms at Quebec should be properly advised that Roberts was wanted before the Courts in Montreal.

Mr. Cahan then pointed out that the Sergeant-at-Arms should be advised by an order from a judge. Judge Monet stated he would take this matter under consideration until afternoon when he would render his decision.

Judgment To-day.
 Judge Amedee Monet will give judgment to-morrow in the matter.

MANSLAUGHTER CHARGE AGAINST SCULLING CHAMP

Walter Hoover Arrested In Connection With Death In Auto Accident

Duluth, Minn., Nov. 16.—Walter Hoover, world's amateur sculling champion, was arrested here today on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the death in an automobile accident of Herbert Seelye, 55, of Madison, Wis. Hoover was released on his own recognizance pending arrival of Madison authorities, who preferred the charge.

The accident occurred at Madison several weeks ago while Hoover was returning by motor from New Orleans where he attended the American Legion convention. Hoover was held blameless at the time by a police officer who witnessed the accident.

THE best example we know of the "and so it goes, ad infinitum" theory is a man who makes a living repairing machines that repair machines that sharpen safety-razor blades.

CARPENTER WANTS TO MEET SIKI BEFORE BECKETT.

Paris, Nov. 16.—"All this talk about my fighting Joe Beckett early or late in January is pure bunk," said Georges Carpentier, according to the Paris Herald.

"I repeat that I will not fight anybody until I have again met Battling Siki. I am hoping that will allow him to fight long before his nine months suspension has expired. I will be ready again inside of six weeks, and I think the public will find its confidence in me well placed."

Poor is the friendless master of a world—a world in purchase of a friend is gain.

ONTARIO-QUEBEC GOOD RELATIONS

No Misunderstanding Between Two Provinces Experienced, Declared Mr. Perron

Hamilton, Ont., Nov. 16.—At a banquet held here last night in connection with the official opening of the Hamilton Brantford provincial highway by Hon. Frank C. Biegs, Major-General S. C. Mewburn, former Minister of Militia and Member for West Hamilton in the Federal Government proposed a toast to the interprovincial relations between Ontario and Quebec. He thought that too much paternalism had actuated the legislatures of the various provinces of Canada. If about 90 per cent of the present paternalism were abolished, he thought, Canada would be the better.

Hon. J. L. Perron, K.C., Minister of Highways for the province of Quebec, declared that he had never experienced any misunderstanding between the two provinces, save what he had heard reported by a narrow-minded clique, which was not at all representative. The problem of keeping the young people on the farms of Quebec had been solved by building good roads. The solution, therefore, lay in Ontario and Quebec getting better acquainted. This could only be brought about by better good road connections between the two provinces.

WALTER HOOVER ARRESTED

Connection With Death In Auto Accident

Duluth, Minn., Nov. 16.—Walter Hoover, world's amateur sculling champion, was arrested here today on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the death in an automobile accident of Herbert Seelye, 55, of Madison, Wis. Hoover was released on his own recognizance pending arrival of Madison authorities, who preferred the charge.

The accident occurred at Madison several weeks ago while Hoover was returning by motor from New Orleans where he attended the American Legion convention. Hoover was held blameless at the time by a police officer who witnessed the accident.

THE best example we know of the "and so it goes, ad infinitum" theory is a man who makes a living repairing machines that repair machines that sharpen safety-razor blades.

ROBERTS IN MONTREAL

Crown Prosecutor Asks That He Be Taken There From Quebec

Montreal, Nov. 16.—Crown Prosecutor Charles Cahan, K.C., who is prosecuting John H. Roberts in the Criminal Courts of Montreal, on a charge of criminal libel appeared before Judge Amedee Monet today and asked that Roberts be brought from Quebec where he is in the custody of the Sergeant-at-Arms of the Provincial Legislature. The charge against Roberts, editor of the Axe, was laid by Wilfrid Brunson, local manager of the stock broking firm of Logan and Bryan.

"Roberts should be here," said Mr. Cahan. Judge Monet thought that the Sergeant-at-Arms at Quebec should be properly advised that Roberts was wanted before the Courts in Montreal.

Mr. Cahan then pointed out that the Sergeant-at-Arms should be advised by an order from a judge. Judge Monet stated he would take this matter under consideration until afternoon when he would render his decision.

Judgment To-day.
 Judge Amedee Monet will give judgment to-morrow in the matter.

The Montreal Port.

The great city of Montreal stands virtually alone in her demand to be considered the head of the ocean navigation. The Hamilton Spectator says: "The Canadian Government does some queer things. It spends a lot of money to hire a lot of ships to go to St. John when Halifax is the proper port, and the nearer port to Britain. It spends a lot of money digging a ditch to make Montreal the head of navigation, when Quebec is the natural head of navigation, and its use as such would please all Canadians except the Montrealers."

Electric Railway Stock.

A quantity of stock of the new Electric Railway has been sold at 112 1/2. There was recently a new issue of stock which was allotted amongst the original shareholders in proportion to the amount which they already held. The fractional shares remaining over after this allotment were advertised for sale by tender, and the offer of E. E. Webb, Esq., was accepted at the price mentioned. An allowance of 6 p.c. has been made by the directors to those shareholders who preferred to pay for their stock cash down instead of by instalments. The price of the fractional stock has been employed in paying the first dividend.

HEALTH DEPT. IS PROGRESSIVE

Dr. Paquin Speaks Of Up-To-Date Facilities Provided And Contemplated

Dr. Paquin, with the active assistance of the President of the City Health Department, Alderman Drolet, is doing excellent work these days in perfecting the equipment of the department for the protection of the public health.

Ever since Dr. Paquin received his appointment as Medical Superintendent of the Quebec Department of Health, he has never ceased to impress upon the city aldermen the need of equipment for the perfection of the department and protection of the public health of the city. He admits that he has ever received the sympathetic support of the aldermen, the chairman and members of the Health Committee, but there has been so much required that it has taken time to meet the essential needs of his department. But with the assistance of the present chairman of the Health Committee, Alderman Drolet, the backing of the Mayor and members of the City Council he is now beginning to equip his department which he hopes in time to be second to none in the Dominion.

The City Health Department has taken possession of the new building in Dorchester street in the vicinity of the Drouin Bridge, where the operating part of the department will be centralized. Here will be located the city's four ambulances, two auto cars and two drawn by horses as well as two express wagons used for disinfection purposes. In this building will be also located a new disinfecting machine of the very latest type, known as the Troy sterilizing and disinfectant machine, recently acquired by purchase, which will be used for the disinfection of bedding, clothing, etc., from houses which had been infected with contagious disease.

A portable sterilizing and disinfecting machine will also be kept in this building to be taken wherever demanded by citizens for the disinfection of factories, public buildings or private dwellings. There are five men employees connected with this civic building, two chauffeurs for the auto ambulances and two assistants to drive the two other horse-driven ambulances or if required assist in the city inspection work under the inspectors, etc.

City Clinics.

Added to the Quebec Health Department are two clinics of dentistry established through the good work of the Quebec Rotarians, and now carried on by the city with Dr. Lanier in charge, and since the opening of this clinic in September, no less than 200 children have been treated, which includes the extraction of teeth. This special work he has carried on under the auspices of the city is of more importance than generally understood by the public. Bad and decayed teeth are one of the causes which lead to tuberculosis, and it is extremely important that the teeth of children be given special attention by the parents and the medical profession. The parents of children never bother about the teeth of their children unless the little one suffers from a toothache or other pain, instead of making a careful examination of their children's molars from time to time and taking them to a dentist for examination.

In connection with the civic clinic, the nurses in the employ of the Health Department, in making their rounds of the schools, examine the teeth of the children and when they find a child in need of attention, obtain the address of their parents, call on them and if the family is poor, give the children a card to Dr. Lanier, which procures for them dental treatment. Thus, it will be seen, the City Health Department is conducted by a regulated system to ensure efficiency in the organization and perfect security for the service in the interest of the public health.

Eye, Ear and Throat.

The second clinic conducted under the auspices of the City Health Department is for the treatment of the eyes, ears and throat of the children of the city whose parents are in poor circumstances and unable to meet the expense of a private specialist. This clinic is conducted by Dr. J. A. Toussaint, No. 525 St. John street, with an office in the Orphan Asylum, Colombe street, St. Saviour.

In the case of this clinic, the trained nurses who visit and inspect the schools in the city also examine the children's eyes, ears and throat, and if they find any of the children suffering from eye defect, ear trouble or throat infection, they give them a card that entitles them to treatment from Dr. Toussaint.

FINE CELEBRATION BY TENNIS EXPERT.

London, Nov. 16. — (By Canadian Press) — England's Grand Old Man of Tennis, J. G. Ritchie, recently celebrated his 52nd birthday by passing into the finals in the London Covered Courts Lawn Tennis Championships a fine achievement indeed as the entry was of a very high quality. Ritchie is one of the most wonderful veterans who have ever graced English sport.

At 52 years of age he plays tournament lawn tennis practically every day of his life and thrives on it. Some people may think that a man is too old at 40 for such a strenuous exercise but Ritchie needs an hour's good play every thirty years his junior, and he keeps on doing it. He is slower than he was ten years ago, but a compensating asset is the subtle brain of a great lawn tennis "general."

That, and a matchless steadiness, pulls the veteran Ritchie through. He gets everything back, and works with one object to get his opponent out of position. That accomplished, he finishes off the rally with a neat and reasonably hard shot.

Money is of a prolific, generating nature. Money can beget money and its offspring can beget more.

MINISTER DEMANDED FINES FOR ABSENCE

Clergyman Made Strange Stipulation For Funeral Service In Old Country

London, Nov. 2. — (By Mail.) — The Rev. George Maclean, of St. David's Presbyterian Church, Dundee was asked to take the service at the funeral of the wife of James Macdonald, a local publican, but refused.

He gave as his reason that both Macdonald and his wife had been struck off the church rolls for non-attendance at communion.

He offered, however, to attend the funeral if Macdonald paid him one penny for every Sunday in the past 15 years, during which, he alleged, Macdonald had not attended church, the money to go to the unemployed.

Macdonald refused to accept such a condition, and secured another minister for the funeral.

The clergyman maintains that he acted in accordance with the laws of the church, while Mr. Macdonald holds that he is still a member, though he had been absent a considerable time owing to his wife's illness.

ENORMOUS TIMBER WASTE IN NEW JERSEY

New Jersey's forests are being burned up at the rate of 70,000 acres a year, which means not only that her area of growing forests is being reduced annually to that extent, but land which should become a public asset of great value is being converted into a public liability of only slightly and embarrassing proportions.

These are two million acres of forest land in New Jersey almost within trucking distance of the greatest lumber market in the world, according to the estimate of the American Forestry Association, which offers the opinion that sooner or later the people of the State of New Jersey will awaken to the economic significance of the fact, but that the awakening may come too late.
