PRICE ONE CENT

IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS.

Sir Charles Tupper and Sir Wilfrid Laurier Refer to the Death of The Late Hon. W. B. Ives.

Ottawa, July 18.—At the opening of the House of Commons yesterday the galleries were moderately well filled and all eyes were attracted to a vacant seat, the desk in front of which, draped in black, bore a chaplet of roses, and the sign of the inward and in many cases, unexpressed grief of those who, amid the vagaries of political warfare, recognized a departed foe and in a champion worthy of their steel and in a deceased colleague a comrade and friend, who even in the fiercest warfare, never failed to recognize the truest principles of the brotherhood of humanity. It was little wonder then that, when Sir Charles Tupper rose to improve the occasion, he did so with emotion, or that Sir Wilfrid Laurier should have touchingly recalled his sentiments when but a few moments ago the Premier had left the special train, which had returned him to his place in Parliament from the bedside of his dying colleague, the Hon. Mr. Geoffrion, accentuated as it was by the still recent demise of the Hon. Senator Sanford.

Sir Charles Tupper—Mr. Speaker, the very melancholy duty again devolves upon me to refer to the sudden and untimely death of one of my old colleagues and a member of this House. I have conferred with my friend, the leader of the House, who would have been most glad to have met this melancholy occasion by the adjournment of the House had not the present state of public business and the period of the session rendered it almost impossible. I need not say to the House, of which the late Mr. Ives has been so long a member, that no gentleman could be removed from this House whose absence would perhaps create a greater void. As an able lawyer, as a man of great business enterprise and capacity, as a member of the Legislature for many years, and as an administrator of an important public department, Mr. Ives has filled an honorable place in this country, and has well and faithfully discharged the various duties devolving upon him. In the Eastern Townships of Canada, and in regard to the French-speaking population of the province of Quebec, he occupied a very important position, as every person in the House well knows; and I am quite certain that his loss will be deplored not alone by his Conservative friends in this House, but by every member of the House, as I believe that perhaps no man on either side of the House to a larger extent enjoyed the kindly feeling and friendly regard of all who composed its membership. To me and to the party to which he belonged, his loss is a very great one indeed; and to Parliament and the country at large it is a loss that must necessarily be severely felt. Death has visited the members of this Parliament in an extraordinary degree during the present session. It is only a short time since one of the prominent and distinguished senators of the country, who left us in the enjoyment of a fair amount of health and vigor, and whom we expected to see return to us in a few days—I need not say that I refer to the late Hon. Senator Sanford—was suddenly snatched away by death. He only remains in our memory as a noble figure which we hold our positions here. I am quite sure that every member of the House will join in tendering his heartfelt sympathy, not only to the family of my late lamented colleague, Mr. Ives, but also to the family of the late Senator Sanford, who have been bereaved in both instances in such a remarkably sudden manner, of the heads of those families.

to speak upon. On some questions, indeed, it is not too much to say that he was an authority. In everything that pertained to finance, business, commerce, agriculture, lumbering and mining, he had a vast amount of knowledge; and a great deal of experience, which enabled him to speak on all these questions as a master, and his loss amongst us will be all the more felt when we have to deal with such questions as these. To his friends, his political friends particularly, I can realize that the blow must be a very sad one; because he was a man of great wisdom in counsel, of great pertinacity of views, and of unflinching courage; and these qualities must have been invaluable to his party. I may, perhaps, be permitted to say that to myself personally the death of Mr. Ives is a particularly sad one, because before I had the opportunity of meeting him in this House, when he and I were both young struggling lawyers, we had occasion often to follow the same circumstances, and many a time we were engaged together, sometimes on one side, sometimes on opposite sides, in the keen contests of the Bar; and it is a pleasure for me to remember at this time that the friendship we enjoyed at that time continued to the last to be of the most cordial character. I may be permitted, therefore, for myself and on behalf of my friends, to join in the expression of sympathy which we all feel for his wife, and his friends in their sad bereavement. I may say also that I cordially join in the expression of sympathy which the hon. leader of the Opposition has uttered in reference to the death of the late Mr. Sanford. His death was particularly sad to his family, and for this reason the sadness of death appears to us all the more keenly under the circumstances.

NEED DOUBLE TRACK.
Street Railway Company Seeks to Improve Exhibition and Park Service.

A Petition in this Connection Will Come Before the City Council Tonight.

It is learned from the Street Railway Company, that it will present to the Council this evening a very important petition in connection with its East Sherbrooke service. In effect, the petition asks that permission be given to lay a double track on Bridge and Pine streets, to Victoria Park, and that the city bear the expense of some necessary widening of Bridge street.

The Company in its petition says:—“Our facilities for accommodating traffic on our Park line is not equal to the demand during heavy summer business and during exhibition time. This we know by a year's experience, and of it we are frequently reminded by citizens. On account of the long bill on Bridge street, the number of cars that can safely be run on single track Park line is very limited, so limited, in fact, that at least two of our cars are always idle while many of our would-be patrons are obliged to wait. The necessity at present is not more cars.”

The petition goes on to say that all other possible routes from the bridge to the Park have been examined and are found to be not feasible. “After careful consideration, we are satisfied without any doubt that the only feasible way to materially increase our facilities on the Park line is to double track that line from the switch near the east end of the St. Francis river bridge direct to the park. We, therefore, respectfully petition for leave to build and maintain, under the same conditions and terms as are expressed in by-law No. 164, another track on Bridge street and Pine street, parallel with the present tracks, and northerly and westerly from it; from the switch on Bridge street, near the east end of St. Francis river bridge, to the south line of Victoria Park, together with the necessary switches and turnouts to connect this track with the present track. The width between tracks to be not less than ten (10) feet six (6) inches centre to centre, or about five (5) feet six (6) inches between the adjacent rails of the tracks; the city to widen the said streets, if it deems it necessary, at its own expense. Judging from the very general desire for this proposed improvement, especially on the part of strangers coming to Sherbrooke for the games and exhibition, we beg to venture the opinion that the net benefit would be much greater to the City of Sherbrooke than to this company, and it is entirely fair and proper for the city to widen the streets. We state frankly that we would not undertake this improvement unless the city is willing to make such widening as it thinks necessary at its own expense.”

“In this connection we also petition to be relieved of the obligation to run our cars on Bridge street hill in the winter time, but to stop the Park line car at Bowen Avenue instead of at the south end of Pine street. It is very difficult to bring the car down safely on the steep hill with a frosty rail, and it accommodates hardly anyone.”

Should the above petition of the Street Railway Company be granted, we understand it is the intention to complete the work in time for exhibition. There has certainly been ample evidence that on special occasions the service on the exhibition and Park line is very inadequate. That the only way to remedy this is by the laying of a double track seems to be clearly demonstrated by the company's petition. The city as well as the company would benefit by an improvement in the service on this line, and, therefore, the company's proposal is certainly worthy of careful consideration by the Council.

THE SENATE REFORM.
C. A. GEOFFRION DEAD.

The House of Commons to Have the Power to Pass a Bill Which the Senate Rejects.

Ottawa, July 18.—The Prime Minister has given notice that he will move, on Wednesday, than an humble address be presented to Her Majesty the Queen, setting forth that the provisions of the British North America Act, 1867, respecting the powers of the Senate of Canada, are unsatisfactory and should be brought more into harmony with popular government, and praying that Her Majesty may be pleased to recommend to the Imperial Parliament a measure for the amendment of the said act in such terms as will effectually make provision as follows:

“If the House of Commons passes any bill which the Senate rejects, or fails to pass, or amends in a way not accepted by the House of Commons, then if the House of Commons at the next following session, again passes such bill and the Senate again rejects or fails to pass, or amends the same in a way not accepted by the Commons, the Governor-General may, by proclamation, convene one or more joint sittings of the members of the two Houses for the further consideration of such bill or amendments, and a question whether such bill, or amendments, shall pass, shall be decided by a majority of the members of the two Houses present, and voting, and the vote of any such joint sitting shall, as respects such bill or amendment, have the same force and effect as a vote of the Senate under the existing constitution.”

ANOTHER WATCH GRABBER.
GEORGE DESROSIERS' UMBRELLA SAVED HIM LAST NIGHT.

He Was Stopped on Market Street by Strangers, Who Tried to Steal His Watch.

Last evening, at about five minutes past eleven o'clock, Mr. George Desrosiers, of the postoffice, was walking quickly up Market street towards his home, when he was accosted by two men who were standing on the sidewalk at the Young Ladies' Academy building, having apparently stopped for a moment as he approached them. The taller of the two said politely, “Good evening,” to which Mr. Desrosiers replied “Good evening, sir.” The man then said “Can you tell me the time?” and stepping into the street a few steps, so that the light from a distant lamp could enable him to see, Mr. Desrosiers drew out his watch, and stooping over slightly said: “I can't see very well, but I think it's ten minutes past eleven.” Before he could return the watch to his pocket, the man seized it and gave it a violent tug. Desrosiers was naturally much surprised, but he raised his umbrella and struck the would-be thief on the wrist, so tremendous a blow that he broke the umbrella, causing him to drop his hand, and then turned and ran quickly down the hill, pursued by both men, as far as Mr. St. Aubin's store, where they disappeared down an alley.

HE PASSED AWAY EARLY THIS MORNING.
Was a Member of the Laurier Government—An Able Lawyer.

Vaudreuil, Que., July 18.—(Special)—Hon. C. A. Geoffrion died at 2.15 this morning. The end was very peaceful.

Hon. Christophe Alphonse Geoffrion, Q.C., was the son of the late Felix Geoffrion, of Varennes, P.Q., and was born in 1843. He was educated at St. Hyacinthe College, and graduated B.C.L. at McGill, 1868, having two years previously been admitted to the bar. He practiced for many years in Montreal, and was created Q.C. by the Provincial Government, 1873, and by the Marquis of Lansdowne, 1887. He was elected batonnier of the Bar of Montreal, 1885-86, and was professor of the law of contracts in McGill University. He entered the House of Commons, April, 1895, for Vercheres. He was returned for Chambly and Vercheres, defeating Hon. L. O. Tailon, in the general election of 1896, and was called to the Privy Council by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, August, 1896, as minister without portfolio.

SOME TIME ago speaking of his career the Globe says: During his professional career he has been connected with many important cases, and it is safe to say he is the trusted repository of more business and political secrets than any other man in Montreal. For example, he was Mr. Tarte's legal adviser in the famous Connolly-McGreevy investigation in 1891, and it was largely through his skill in connecting threads of evidence and in marshalling his facts that the details of those swindles were exposed. He represented the Mercier Government in London, when the banks appealed to the Privy Council against the tax on commercial corporations imposed by the preceding Conservative Government and as a result of his argument the act was declared constitutional.

Notwithstanding his strong Liberal proclivities he was chosen, by the late Archbishop of Montreal to defend him in the action for damages which was brought by the Canadian Review because Mr. Fabre, in the exercise of his episcopal functions, considered it necessary to forbid the faithful to read that journal. He was legal adviser of the Banque du Peuple at the time of its suspension, and there can be no doubt that he subsequently pulled the directors out of a very bad hole.

THE KISSING BUG.
Everybody is now looking for the kissing bug. One gentleman brought in a big this morning which he had captured, and was certain it was the real thing. Its appearance, however, did not tally with the description and illustration of the Boston article, and he went away disappointed.

Mr. R. W. Boyd, district manager of the New York Life Insurance Company reports that a kissing bug entered his room last night. It was over an inch in length and black with yellow stripes, there being no doubt that it was of the real New England brand. He attempted to capture it, but it escaped through the open window.

THE CYNIC.
It is surprising how well a homely girl looks in a picture.

Somehow a man who has some enough to keep his own counsel is never liked.

If you don't believe you are a bore watch people get away when you turn your back.

The children of a poor man never care so much whether he forgives them for an offense or not.

RESCUED FROM DROWNING.
Ottawa, July 18.—(Special)—Miss Christie, Mrs. Behan, Miss Agnes Behan and the Misses Kirby, who were rescued from drowning through the heroism of young Gordon Heron, at Chelsea, on Friday, have recovered from the shock and are being congratulated on their escape.

ATTEMPTED BURGLARY.
Norwood, Ont., July 18.—(Special)—At 2 o'clock this morning an attempt was made to enter Geo. Duffield's jewelry store. The would-be burglars succeeded in removing one panel of the back door by the use of a chisel and auger, when Harry Buck, who was sleeping inside, was awakened by the noise and fired on them. The men made good their escape by means of a horse and buggy, which were in waiting at the front, leaving their tools behind them.

MORRISBURG BURGLARS.
Jewellery Store Robbed for the Second Time in Two Weeks.

Morrisburg, Ont., July 18.—About 2.30 a.m. yesterday morning burglars forced an entrance through a rear window into Chalmers' jewellery store and made an attempt to blow open the safe. Two charges were set off. The last one was of terrific force and could be heard for blocks around. Parties living in the building were aroused and succeeded in scaring off the robbers. The door was badly damaged, but the safe was not opened. The explosion was of such force as to break the glass in all directions. One large portion went through a door some twenty-five feet from the safe. Four men were distinctly seen by different persons making good their escape. They fired a number of shots at those who were giving the alarm. This is the second time Chalmers' store has been burglarized in the last two weeks.

PERSONAL.
Miss Ida Kincaid is visiting at Agnes, Lake Megantic.

The Rev. G. H. Parker, of Compton, is spending his vacation at Caccouna.

Miss Mary Hubbard is visiting “Woodlawn,” Pigeon Hill, with some friends.

Mrs. G. E. Rioux is at her summer home, St. Flavie, Mataue, for the heated term.

Mrs. W. Duncan Smith, and her little son and daughter are staying at Massawippi Lake.

Miss E. E. Miller, of Birchton, is spending a few weeks at Old Orchard Beach, Me.

Mrs. J. B. Duford left this morning for Old Orchard where she will spend a few weeks with friends.

TOWED TO ST. VINCENT.

St. Vincent, Cape Verde Islands, July 18.—The Italian steamer Centro America, from Montevideo, June 30, from Genoa, with 620 passengers, has been towed here from a point 300 miles away, having been disabled by the loss of her propeller.

JANOWSKI CHALLENGES LASKER

London, July 18.—Janowski, the chess expert, has challenged Lasker, the winner of the recent London tournament, to play a series of ten games for $2000 a side for the championship of the world. He stipulates that the match shall be played at the beginning of 1900 and may take place anywhere except in London.

ELECTRIC CARS COLLIDE AT SOUTH DIGHTON.

Taunton, July 18.—Two cars on the Somerset & Swansea electric road collided at South Dighton yesterday. Motorman Marcus Chase of the Taunton car jumped and fell into the river, but was rescued with slight injuries. John Murphy, a passenger, was cut about the head, but not seriously.

NO MORE PRIZE FIGHTING IN RHODE ISLAND.

Providence, R.I., July 18.—Governor Dyer has been aroused by the recent prize fights at Exeter and Narragansett Pier, and is determined to prevent such contests in future if possible. Yesterday he issued a proclamation in which he offers a reward of $500 for the apprehension of persons engaged in or promoting prize fights within the confines of the State.

W. S. BARTON'S BODY FOUND AT WEST RUTLAND.

Worcester, Mass., July 18.—The body of W. S. Barton, former city treasurer of Worcester, who has been missing from his home here since last Tuesday night, was found in a pasture in West Rutland, about twelve miles from this city, yesterday afternoon. There was no suspicion whatever of suicide or foul play. All his effects were found on his person. He had evidently wandered away while suffering from mental aberration, and died from exhaustion. The remains were brought to this city.

When in Sherbrooke stop at the American House. J. McDonald, Proprietor.

EXPRESS WRECKED.

Locomotives Telescoped, Baggage Cars Smashed. New Haven, Conn., July 18.—A serious collision between passenger trains of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company occurred in the railroad cut at Fair street, shortly after one o'clock yesterday afternoon. The colonial express from Boston, due in New Haven at 1 p. m., crashed into an out-bound air line passenger train. Both locomotives were telescoped and the baggage cars were wrecked. It is stated that no one is seriously injured. A misplaced switch, it is announced, caused the collision.

LONE SAILOR PICKED UP.

Capt. Andrews Too Exhausted to Complete the Ocean Trip. Liverpool, July 18.—The British steamer Holbein, which has arrived from New York, brought to this port Captain William Andrews, who on June 18th started from Atlantic City, N.J., in a 12-foot boat to cross the Atlantic. Captain Andrews was picked up on July 12th, 700 miles from land, in a most exhausted condition. After the Holbein took him aboard he set his boat adrift.

RIOTOUS SCENE AT A CEMETERY.

Women Attack a Cruel Husband at the Grave of His Wife. Vienna, July 18.—There was a tumultuous scene in the Weidling cemetery, Vienna, Sunday, at the burial of a woman who had been maltreated by her husband. The husband was present at the funeral, and a mob of 800 women attacked him with sticks and stones. Hemming the fellow in on all sides and yelling "Wife-killer!" at the top of their voices, the women battered him, tore his clothes to shreds, and would have lynched him had not the police interfered. As it is, the man was rescued only after a desperate struggle.

DIED OF SELF. INFLICTED WOUNDS.

Braintree, Mass., July 18.—Henry Gardner, an inventor, who was found in the woods off Quincy avenue in East Braintree last Saturday afternoon, suffering from bullet wounds in the head, died yesterday morning. Mr. Gardner had no regular business, but was quite prominent in town affairs. He had been endeavoring to perfect plans for a system of perpetual motion, but was not successful. He was sixty-four years old and leaves a widow and a daughter. It is thought financial troubles led him to shoot himself.

QUEBEC'S REASON WHY.

Feel Very "Sore" Over Saturday's Defeat. Poor old Quebec! You couldn't win, but you can kick! Read this taken from the Quebec Telegraph, yesterday's issue:

"The Sherbrookes played an exceedingly rough and foul game, maiming Mike Murphy and others, but it all went, and then to make matters worse, when Murphy scored the fourth game Umpire McAllister refused to give it, yet he was not removed. There seems to be ample room for a protest. Before this occurred a Sherbrooke man shot and the umpire's hand went up for a game, although the ball struck the pole and bounced out. The referee cautioned him for this. When the fourth game began Murphy was moved up to the Quebec home and soon went through the flags, ball and all, but Umpire McAllister refused to put up his hand. In going through Murphy was seriously injured in three places, the hand, shoulder and face being literally battered to pieces. The visitors were completely disgusted with their treatment. The members of the Quebec Lacrosse team have returned from Sherbrooke a pretty badly used up looking lot of men. They are lamed, cut, battered and bruised, and look more as if they had come out of an engagement with the Philippines than out of a lacrosse match."

A PAPER SCALE.

Mr. John A. Hardisty, of Montreal, was in the city yesterday. Mr. Hardisty is the Montreal manager of the Eddy Paper Co., of Hull, and recently had the Fairbanks Scale Co. make a scale from his own design that will give the weight of small pieces of the thinnest kind of paper made. It is very useful for manufacturers of newspaper, and quite a curiosity to others.

PERSONALS.

Mr. and Mrs. John Campbell, of Quebec, are visiting their daughter, Mrs. J. F. Kerr. Major Wood returned yesterday p. m. from Bolton Springs, having left Mrs. Wood to make a longer stay. Major reports the "Spring House" to be quite fully occupied and run by C. R. Todd, Esq., an up-to-date hotel man. Everything neat and clean, good table, and clean comfortable rooms.

FEWER CANADIAN SHIPS.

Smaller Number of Vessels Being Built in the Dominion Than Formerly. Montreal, July 18.—The Dominion shipping list issued by the Maritime Department shows that although last year there were a few more vessels than in the preceding year, the trend of Canadian shipbuilding is downward, and the number of vessels of all kinds on the registry list is steadily decreasing. Last year 278 vessels of 24,522 tons were built and registered, as compared with 236 vessels of 17,094 tons in 1897 and 326 vessels of 21,243 tons in 1894. The registry shows that in 1879 there were 7411 vessels, steam and sail, of 1,332,094 tons; in 1889 there were 7153 vessels of all kinds, with tonnage of 1,040,481, and in 1898 there were 6643 vessels of 693,782 tons. The value of the vessels built last year is estimated at $1,103,490, and the total value of Canada's merchant marine is placed at $20,808,460.

THE NEWS WAS CENSORED.

Protest of Correspondents in Philippines. Manila, July 11, via Hong Kong, July 17.—The constantly increasing strictness of the censorship of press despatches from Manila, which has prevented the cabling to the United States of anything that did not reflect official views of important events and conditions, resulted in a united effort on the part of correspondents here to secure an abatement of the rigor of the censorship. The initiative in this direction was taken a month ago, and resulted in the framing of a statement which was presented on Sunday, July 9, to Major General Elwell S. Otis, commanding the military forces of the United States in the Philippine Islands, with a request for permission to telegraph it to the United States. The correspondents also asked that they be allowed to cable to their respective papers all facts and the different phases of events as they transpired here. The correspondents had two long interviews with General Otis, in the course of which they complained that the evident purpose of the censorship was not to keep information from the enemy, but to keep from the public a knowledge of the real condition of affairs here. It was also asserted by the correspondents that newspapers printed in Manila, which reach the enemy quickly, are permitted to publish statements similar to those which correspondents are forbidden to cable.

ADRIFF FOR WEEKS.

One Vessel Travelled 6,000 Miles in Search of Her. Victoria, B. C., July 18.—The steamer Aorangi brought news that the steamer Perthshire, after having been located and boats despatched to her assistance, was again lost for weeks, finally being found by the steamer Talune on June 20. One steamer travelled 6,000 miles in search of the missing craft. Capt. Wallace, who found her on the first occasion, failed to supply chart whereabouts, hence the second period of anxiety. She had been drifting seven weeks when finally towed into Sydney harbor. She had about 60 passengers, and is herself valued at £100,000.

BRIEFLETS.

There has been called for tonight at 8 p. m., a meeting of the district Scottish clan in the Y.M.C.A. rooms. Those interested are requested to attend.

There will be a dance and supper in the boat house on Thursday night. The music will be furnished by Rufus Laboury, of Sand Hill. Whole bill, $1 per couple.

Sherbrooke Council, R. T. of T., will hold its regular monthly meeting this evening in Foresters' Hall. Installation of officers will be the principal business. Thursday evening the Council proposes holding a lawn social in Victoria Park. In the event of unfavorable weather the social will be held indoors. Invitations have been extended to neighboring councils to be present.

Twice within the past three months has Ebenezer Church been called upon to mourn the loss of one of its number. In both cases the departed was a young woman who had just attained an age, when life was full of possibilities, and held many attractions. The pastor in his sermon Sunday evening, which was of a memorial nature, referred to those who had received, the call while yet in the flower of their youth, and made a very touching and eloquent appeal to those—and especially the young people—who had not already put their trust in Him to confide in the Saviour at once.

The Care of Shoes!

The life of a pair of Shoes depends largely upon the care you bestow upon them. The leather of which they are made requires nourishment, else it soon dries up and cracks. Slater Polish contains the nourishment the leather stands in need of. A little booklet "Polishology" contains many bits of information that will be treasured by the man or woman who is interested in getting the maximum amount of wear out of a pair of Shoes. You can obtain this booklet, and Slater Polish at

Mr. and Mrs. J. William Shaw and Mrs. W. R. Hannon, Montreal, are at Glen Villa.

Mr. Walter G. Nairn, Nutley, N.J., is at Carrington Cottage.

Six hundred and eighteen letters were stamped at our local postoffice Monday evening, July 10.

Mr. and Mrs. Engstrom, of Waltham, Mass., visited at Mr. Geo. Colt's this last week. Mr. E. is superintendent of the mechanical works in the Waltham watch factory.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Ayer, of Wilmington, were also visitors at Mr. Colt's last Friday. Mr. Ayer is an extensive florist, supplying the Boston market the year round with choice flowers from his extensive greenhouses. He is the son of D. J. Ayer, of Moe's River.

Rev. W. H. Rieder, of Huntingville, was in town last Saturday, the guest of Rev. E. Smiley.

Mr. Myron Hunting, of Huntingville, who is agent for a separator of milk, placed one in Mr. Charles Jackson's new barn this last week, where it can be seen in operation any day at night and morning.

Mrs. Orville LeBaron has returned from the hospital much improved by the medical treatment she received while there.

Windsor Mills.

[News items for insertion in the DAILY RECORD will be gladly received by A. McLean, local correspondent, Windsor Mills.]

July 17.—Rev. J. H. and Mrs. Fowler, of Sutton, are spending a few weeks with their son, Mr. Geo. Fowler, of H. P. Co. The rev. gentleman will deliver the sermon in the Methodist Church on Sunday morning next.

HATLEY.

July 17.—Very many of our townspeople were shocked at the news of the sudden death, at Ottawa, of the Hon. W. B. Ives on Saturday last. Mayor Avery Ives, a cousin of the deceased, received the first news of the serious illness of our honored friend, at North Bay, Ont., on Thursday morning last. In his death the Eastern Townships loses an able parliamentarian and a progressive business man.

Saturday last was a typical hay day. Those who have faith in July lore will be pleased at the above fact for, "St. Swithin's day if thou be fair, For forty days 'twill rain nae mair." At present but little hay has been harvested and farmers are anxious to go on with their work.

Although a little late in the season, yesterday was observed as children's day in the Methodist church here. Last evening the children gave a nice entertainment consisting of singing, speeches and recitations, all of which were well rendered. It is hardly fair to individualize in a report like this, but the children will pardon us if we specially mention Miss Ethel Moulton's recitation which was a gem of elocution. Misses Eva Putney and Estelle Corey also sang sacred songs very acceptably. Master Willie Morrison's collection speech was liberally responded to by the congregation.

Three Villages.

[News items for insertion in the DAILY RECORD will be gladly received by Miss Perth, M. Parker, local correspondent, Rock Island.]

STANSTEAD, ROCK ISLAND AND DERBY LINE.

July 17.—Miss Charlotte Kinney, Newport, is the guest of Miss Kittie O'Rourke.

Another runaway occurred here between eight and nine o'clock Saturday evening, and it is indeed a miracle that some one was not killed. It seems that a gentleman, two ladies and two children were driving from Derby Centre, when nearing Derby Line they met a team turning out on the wrong side, colliding with the wagon taking one of the wheels off. This frightened the horse and all the occupants of the former team were violently thrown out. The horse still continuing to run colliding with three other teams. However, all the occupants escaped receiving no injuries. One of the wagons was completely demolished as well as the others being damaged.

The funeral of Mr. Walter Taplin was held this afternoon at Heathton, his death was very sudden.

Mr. Cheney Beebe, clerk in Mr. F. P. Pocock's store, left on Saturday night to visit friends at Quebec.

Mrs. Bowers and daughter, Miss Pearl, Sherbrooke, are the guests of Miss Foote, Derby Line.

Miss Mary Curley, Sutton, and Miss Ethel Cole, Newport, are both guests of Miss Downs, Stanstead.

SHOOTING FOR QUEEN'S PRIZE.

Second Stage of the Tournament at Bisley, Eng. Yesterday.

Bisley, Eng., July 18.—The second stage of the rifle shooting contest for Her Majesty the Queen's prize began yesterday morning. This contest is open only to volunteers and retired volunteers and is in three stages. Last week there were 1770 competitors at the first stage at the shooting at 200, 500 and 600 yards. At 200 yards the Canadian, Bertram, and several others scored the highest possible, 35. Of the other Canadians, Cartwright, A. B. Robertson and Huggins scored 33, Rennie and Wilson 32, Gilchrist and Wetmore 31, Blair, Graham, Ogg and Fleming 30, Brayles, Weatherbie, Simpson and Buckley 29 and Heller and Ross 27. The shooting in the second stage was at 500 and 600 yards, 10 shots at the first and 15 shots at the second distance.

THE MARY OF ARBITRATION.

It is Now Decided That It Shall Consist of Ministers Accredited to Holland.

The Hague, July 18.—The sub-committee of the arbitration section of the peace conference at its meeting Saturday adopted a resolution that a permanent court of arbitration should consist of the ministers accredited to Holland instead of the ministers resident at The Hague. This will have the effect of bringing in the smaller states whose ministers are accredited to two or more countries simultaneously.

A Siamese Swell.

One of my neighbors was an interesting creature, and evidently well pleased with himself. He wore long finger nails, and seeing me look at him spread out his left hand, evidently for my admiration. On the fourth finger he wore a large Chinese ring, and all the nails were long, particularly those of the fourth and fifth fingers, which had grown to a length of at least an inch. They looked like huge claws, especially when he tried to pick up anything from the seat. The owners of such nails regard them with extreme satisfaction and cultivate them so carefully that they sometimes attain a prodigious length.

They are largely affected by Siamese and Chinese clerks who fancy themselves exquisites. They are supposed to indicate the fact that their owners do no manual work. Curiously enough, in so far off a place as Mexico, the same idea exists, but there it is generally confined to the little finger. I do not know what else he had to be proud about unless it was his right leg, which was elaborately tattooed above the knee. He was dressed in only a panting, and to a cord around his waist was attached a wallet for his tobacco, betel nut, etc. He also carried some food wrapped in a piece of green plantain leaf.—Gentleman's Magazine.

Climate and Consumption.

I am in favor of treating tuberculous patients near their homes and in the same or nearly the same climate as that in which they will have to live and work after their restoration to health. My reasons for advocating such principles are founded on the experiences of all modern phthisio-therapists, who have demonstrated that the hygienic and dietetic treatment in special sanitariums is feasible and successful in nearly all climates.

I know from personal observation that cures of pulmonary tuberculosis effected in our ordinary home climates, which are on the average not considered as especially favorable to this class of sufferers, have been more lasting and more assured than cures obtained in more genial climates.

And, with all due deference to the opinions of others, I do not believe there exists any climate which has a special curative quality for any form of pulmonary tuberculosis. Climate can only be considered as a more or less valuable adjuvant in the treatment of consumption, but not a specific.—S. A. Knopf, M. D., in North American Review.

NOTES OF THE NEWS.

Despatch from Washington says Adjutant General Corbin says that no more commissions will be given to Massachusetts men for the volunteer army, as the State's quota is full.

The last of the eighteen steel bridges built for the Eastern Chinese Railroad by the Phoenixville, Pa., Bridge Company, has been completed and accepted by Constantine Lepeschoff of St. Petersburg, the engineer who has superintended their construction. These bridges were completed within ten weeks after work was begun, and all but three are well on their way to Vladivostok, their shipping destination.

The manager of the Dawson branch of a Victoria firm, writing from that city, says: "From reliable sources we have learned that the steamships Roanoke and Garonne will take from St. Michaels to Seattle and San Francisco $7,000,000, or a little more. The Canadian Bank of Commerce shipped $1,500,000 to each place; the Alaskan Commercial Company a little over $500,000, and the North American Trading & Transportation Company $500,000. We are informed by the Bank of Commerce managers that they had in sight here at one time this spring $4,000,000. The bank people declare that the total output this year from the spring clean-ups and summer work will not be less than $18,000,000, and will probably reach $20,000,000."

ENFORCING CONTRACT LABOR LAW.

Several Austrian Miners, Sailed to Have Been Employed Illegally. Deported From Iowa to Their Homes.

Chicago, July 18.—Fifteen Austrian coal miners that are being deported from Rathburn, Io., to their Croatian homes on the charge of having violated the contract labor law, left Chicago for the East yesterday, but Consul General Nuber, of the Austrian-Hungarian empire, was at the station to investigate the rumor that the men were being unjustly returned to their native homes. Mr. Nuber wired Acting Consul General Freyeseleben at New York to investigate the case thoroughly, with a view to preventing the deportation of the fifteen men if they are found to have been dealt with unjustly.

Midsummer Health

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND

The Only Medicine That Bestows the Blessings of True Health.

Interesting Testimony from a Cured Man.

If you have entered into the oppressive heat of mid-summer and find yourself suffering from dyspepsia, liver and kidney troubles, pain in back and side, headache, insomnia and stomach disorders, let us urge you to give Paine's Celery Compound a fair and honest trial if you would be healthy, strong and happy. We fully realize the seriousness of your condition, and with a desire for your physical welfare we recommend Paine's Celery Compound, the medicine that is now doing such a marvellous work for thousands of sufferers in our country. If your doctor is unfettered by professional etiquette, he will advise you to use the great life-giver. Your friends and neighbors will be pleased to tell you what it has done for them in their time of distress and agony.

Mr. Charles Comeau, of Neguac, N. B., tells of his terrible sufferings and his cure by Paine's Celery Compound, as follows:

"I can conscientiously recommend Paine's Celery Compound to all who may be suffering from dyspepsia and liver trouble. For years, while living in Black Brook, I suffered from a complication of troubles, and was so bad with dyspepsia that I could not touch a morsel of food. I found it difficult to sleep and what little I did get was often broken with horrid dreams. Intense sufferings from liver complaint added to my load of agony; I also had dizziness, pains in the back, and was pale, haggard and despondent. I kept doctoring and dosing without deriving the slightest benefit, and finally gave up hope of getting well. One day my daughter, who had read of a wonderful cure by Paine's Celery Compound, begged me to try one bottle of the medicine. I told her it was no use to throw away money, but she pleaded so hard that to please her I bought a bottle, and before it was used up I felt better. Encouraged so much, I continued with the medicine and improved every day.

"I am now cured, thanks to Paine's Celery Compound. You cannot wonder that I consider Paine's Celery Compound the greatest medical discovery in the world. I urge all who are suffering to try this grand medicine and test its virtues."

TN DAYS OF MOB-LAW.

THE STIRRING TIMES THAT SAN FRANCISCO SAW IN 1856.

The Vigilance Committee That Became Famous For Its Many Desperate Deeds, but Which Ridd the Town of the Criminal Class.

It was in 1856, in San Francisco, and law was chaos; mob law was supreme. The judges were finally given warning that unless they enforced the laws they would be summarily dealt with—that is, they would be taken out and hanged to the nearest tree. It was a stirring time.

The vigilance committee of San Francisco in this year was famous for its desperate deeds, but after its self assumed reign was over the morals of San Francisco increased amazingly. It was almost a paradise on earth. Drunkards, cutthroats, soundrels and others of this ilk gave the place wide room. They knew that if they were caught they would be hanged. Andrew J. Kellogg of Detroit told of these days:

"The California of 1856 was a terrible place," began Mr. Kellogg, at ease with his pipe. "You see, it was like this: The men who rushed to the goldfields in the early days never expected to remain in the western country. Their purpose was to make their pile and get out. They came to California, scrambled for gold and paid no attention to law and order. It was a paradise for gamblers, thieves and cutthroats. The worst element, it seems, came to Frisco, where they were soon in possession of the city government and ordered millions and millions of dollars worth of improvements that were never made. But the contracts were let, in order to give gamblers a chance. Vice flourished like a green bay tree. It was a lawless, violent land, where life wasn't worth a pinch of snuff.

"The first few weeks I was there things like this happened: The United States marshal was shot in cold blood by a gambler; the gambler's paragon put up $10,000 to defend him, and the lawyer was promised $10,000 more if he got his prisoner off.

"He had had one trial, but the jury disagreed, and in the meantime we took him out and hung him.

"This was the state of California justice. Why, men convicted of murder, arson and other foul crimes would be hauled up before the judge, who after listening to the damning testimony would say:

"The sentence of this court is that you pay $5 fine."

"On other occasions, when a murderer was brought into court, a judge would say:

"There is no need of hearing the witnesses in this case. The prisoner is discharged."

"And the ballot box stuffing! We sent one of the boxes to the Smithsonian Institute after the fuss was all over and had it labeled, 'This is a specimen of California ballot box stuffing.'

"There was a trick the ballot box stuffers used to employ to keep the gang in office. You know, in those days tailors and servants used to have a small pot filled with charcoal, used to heat bathtubs. I noticed that in every election booth in certain precincts there was always one of these little heaters. The ballot boxes were supposed to be of inch pine, rough pine supposed to be of inch heading around the edge. The top was of inch stuff all right enough, but the bottom was hollow, of eight inch stuff. In this false bottom were placed enough votes to win the day for the gang's candidate. When the polls were closed, the little fire pot was brought into use and the unfavorable votes destroyed. The ballot box stuffers said that they had the fire there because the room was so cold.

"It was such acts of lawlessness as those that led to the formation of the famous California committee of vigilantes. It consisted of over 6,000 of the most highly respected people in the community, whose sentiments of justice had been outraged by the long continued acts of injustice and crime permitted by the regular judges.

"The first intimation I had of the formation of the committee was when a friend said to me one morning:

"Want to see some fun?"
"Yes."
"Then come down to the jail."

"On arriving I was astonished to find a double row of men drawn around the whole square. An assault was about to be made on the jail by outraged citizens. They were calling on the jailer even then to open the doors. In the terrible quiet before the storm broke I could hear the leader say:

"Open the doors!"
"There was a deathlike silence."
"Open the doors!" the ringleader cried again, "or we will batter them down."
"With that he raised his handkerchief as a signal.

"When this handkerchief falls," he added in a voice like thunder, "I'll give orders to fire the cannon. She's loaded with solid shot."
"There was a cannon before the door."
"The man with the blazing torch stood near by.

"You should have seen the hand slowly fall! It was a most thrilling sight. Slowly the hand fluttered, and at the very last moment the jail doors were flung open, and the populace entered to drag out the prisoners.

"At first the jailer refused to give some of them up.

"The two that we took out of the jail were given a fair trial before the committee of 63, the executive committee, which heard all the evidence as given. It required a unanimous vote on their part to hang a man as well as a two-third majority of the committee of delegates, numbering 250 members.

"That night San Francisco was in a fever of excitement. What would happen next? Where would the revenge of the populace be shown tomorrow?
"Every one stayed indoors that night as far as possible.

"A few days later the judges were warned. They were told to try cases properly or suffer the penalty—by giving up their lives.

"Twenty irresponsible members of the community, ringleaders in ballot box stuffing and murder, were taken to the wharf, put on outgoing steamers and told never to come back again on pain of immediate death."

Griggs—Yes. A person can never tell just how much it is going to cost to keep them up.

A FAITHFUL DOG.
Its Owner Realized Its Worth, as Well He Might.

"Well, I wouldn't have believed it," exclaimed Jones in astonishment as he dropped in to see Smith the other evening and was met in the hall by a St. Bernard dog.

"Wouldn't have believed what?" asked Smith.

"Why, that you'd have a dog in your house," continued Jones. "It belongs to one of your neighbors, I suppose?"

"No, sir; that's my dog," replied Smith proudly.

"You don't really mean it, old man? Why, I've known you for five years, and you've always had a marked aversion for dogs."

"Yes, I did have until lately, but I wouldn't be without one now. This brute is a noble, faithful fellow, and I wouldn't take $100 spot cash for—"

But at this juncture he was interrupted by his wife calling down over the banister: "Henry Smith, who was it that scattered these cigar ashes all over my dresser?"

"It must have been the dog, my dear," was his reply.

"And who was it that dropped these apple peelings on the floor?" she demanded.

"The dog, my dear," answered Smith.

"And there's a bottle of muckilage spilled on the hall carpet up here too. Is that some of your work, Henry?"

"No, my dear; the dog's to blame for that."

"And, goodness gracious," she continued angrily, "if some one hasn't been whittling up here again! How many times have I told you not to do that in the house?"

"But I had nothing to do with it, my dear. The dog's been up there probably chewing a stick."

"Well, it's a burning shame the way this house is messed up. Your collars and ties are scattered all over the rooms."

"Are they, my dear? That dog's been up there again then. Yes," continued Smith as he drew his friend into the parlor, "I wouldn't take a big pot of money for that dog. Why, the noble fellow saves me about 20 jawings a week."

"So I see," chuckled Jones, "and you bet I'll have one before noon tomorrow."

WILLING TO PAY FOR IT.

What Uncle Bill Wanted the Newspaper Publisher to Do.

A number of newspaper men were exchanging reminiscences a few days ago in a Court street inn. One of them, by the way, was an ex-publisher—that is to say, he once owned and edited a paper in the upper section of the state. One of his subscribers was William Makepeace Thackeray Willington, whose neighbors called him "Uncle Bill" to save time and labor.

"One day Uncle Bill walked into my office," said the former publisher. "He placed his whip in a corner and removed his hat. He asked if I was the editor. I pleaded guilty. 'Shake,' said he, 'I am glad to know ye. When I was a young fellow, I used to do some writin' myself.'

"Uncle Bill lapsed into silence and did some soft thinking for several minutes. Then he resumed the conversation. He said he liked the appearance of the Banner of Freedom mighty well and hoped it was not only bringing me fame, but money also. Naturally my bosom swelled with pride. The old man said he had only a few minutes to spare, and, before leaving, he wished to ask a favor. I supposed that he was about to spring a little poem which he had dashed off all by himself, but that wasn't the case. Uncle Bill said:

"My son, I want to ask you a special favor. My eyes are not as strong as they were, and I would like to have you print my copy of the paper in a type two- or three-sizes larger than you use in the regular edition. Now, mind, I don't want you to do this for nothing. I'm willing to pay for it. Here's the money, and if that isn't enough let me know when my subscription is due again and I'll pay what's owing."

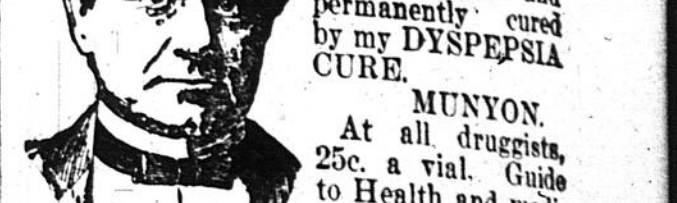

"The old man dove his right hand into his pocket, fished out a silver half dollar and plunked it on my table, saying: 'There's the money. If that isn't enough to cover the extra expense, let me know when I call in next spring, and I'll make good. I'm willing to pay for any little favors.' Before I could explain the impossibility of his scheme he jumped into his buggy and started off for Deep Hollow."

A Curious Old Ad.
A Boston paper has unearthed this curious old advertisement from the Boston Post Boy and Advertiser for March 10, 1767: "The Bell Cart will go through Boston, before the End of next March, to Collect Rags for the Paper Mills at Milton, when all People that will encourage the Paper Manufactory may dispose of them; the best Price will be given. They are taken in at Mr. Caleb Davis's Shop, at the Fortification; Mr. Andrew Gillespie's, near Dr. Clark's; Mr. Andrew Rundale's, near Phillips's Wharf; and Mr. John Bolles's in Long Lane; Mr. Frothingham's in Charlestown; Mr. Williams's in Marblehead; Mr. Ellison's in Salem; Mr. John Harris's in Newbury; Mr. Daniel Fowle's in Portsmouth; and at the Paper Mill in Milton.

"Rags are as Beuties, which concealed here; But when in Paper, how it charms the Eye; Pray save Rags, new Beuties to discover; For Paper truly, every one's a Lover; By the Pen and Press such Knowledge is displayed, As wouldn't exist if Paper was not made; Wisdom of Things, mysterious, divine, Illustriously doth on Paper shine."
