Drill practice is now being held every Friday evening by the unit in the R.M.R. Armoury on St. Catherine street.

Construction of the new hangar at St. Hubert Airport is progressing favorably and the structure is expected to be ready for use in plenty of time for summer flying. The frame was erected some time ago and interior work is now being completed.

The accident occurred when young Dorrance attempted to stop for a red traffic light. He was proceeding east on Sherbrooke and skidded under a Guaranteed Pure Milk Co. wagon which was going south on Metcalfe. The wagon was driven by John Barbien, 1700 St. Timothee street.

The front wheel and parcel basket on the bicycle were damaged.

J. HENNESSEY WINS AWARD FOR ORATORY

Speech Given in Junior Board of Trade Competition Adjudged Most Impressive

Jack Hennessey, of St. Leo's Academy, who has always been active in public speaking circles, was the winner in the senior section of the city-wide oratorical contest sponsored by the Junior Board of Trade. This competition was open to one representative from each high school, which also included the 12th year. Competing against 14 other speakers, his speech, "Sir Wilfrid Laurier" was adjudged to be the most impressive both from point of view of matter and declamation. Mr. Hennessey recently won the contest sponsored by the Westmount Hobby Show. He will re-deliver his address over the radio tomorrow night on the "Town Topics" program.

"Resolved that Britain's Foreign Policy is efficient," was the topic of a debate staged by the boys of the 2nd high, last Friday afternoon. The affirmative of the subject was upheld by D. Carling and E. Cloutier while E. Conway and B. Doherty battled on the negative side. After presenting a very plausible argument the decision was awarded to the negative side.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE ARRANGES FOR SESSION TO TAKE PLACE MAY 18

"Amateur Night" Will be Held in Victoria Hall — Door Prizes to Feature Event — Organization Plans Widespread Advertising Campaign — Board of Officers Met Tuesday

Arrangements for the next open meeting of the Business Association of Westmount to be held in Victoria Hall on Thursday evening, May 18, were drawn up at the organization's first executive session since the election of its current board of officers, held in Murray's Restaurant on Tuesday evening. The president, W. Gordon Kenwood, occupied the chair.

The meeting was marked by an unusually large turnout of members, all committee chairmen being present for the first time.

Upon recommendation of Miss Rhea Lafrance, chairman of the Ladies' Committee, it was decided that an "Amateur Program" would feature the entertainment to be presented at the open meeting, to which the general public will be invited. The Ladies' Committee will cooperate with the chairman of the entertainment committee, Eric Ohman, in preparing the show.

The executive of the association approved the plan as its members felt that there is considerable amateur talent among Westmount residents. Door prizes are also to be distributed at the meeting. It was pointed out that at the last session to which the public was invited a crowd of almost 600 attended.

Further plans for publicizing the organization and its members were also discussed and a recommendation to place four full page advertisements in the Westmount Examiner received unanimous approval. Questioned as to the past results they had experienced through ads inserted in the Examiner the majority of the members present stated that they had found them highly satisfactory.

In order to create the greatest possible interest in the coming meeting the executive made the request that all members of the organization co-operate to their fullest extent on the full page ads to commence next week in this paper.

C. H. James, chairman of the publicity committee, proposed a resolution of thanks to the citizens of Westmount for the cooperation they have given the association during its first year of operation. He voiced the prediction that his second year would see it make tremendous strides.

Albert Smithers, chairman of the membership committee, stated that a campaign would be undertaken to sign up as many local businessmen as possible. He stressed the need for organization among merchants here.

Examinations in the Temple Emanu-El Confirmation Class were held last Wednesday under the direction of the Rabbi. The confirmation service and ceremony will take place on Shabbath morning, Wednesday, May 24th. Parents of Confirmants are to meet with the Rabbi this Friday evening, after service.

Dr. and Mrs. Guy Hamel have returned home from Augusta, Georgia, where they spent the past two weeks.

CONST. H. GRANT COMPLETES 30 YEARS SERVICE

Presented With Handsome Desk by Members of Force Tuesday Night

On the occasion of his having completed thirty years in the service of the Westmount Police Department, Constable Henry Grant was presented with a handsome desk by the members of the force on Tuesday evening.

The presentation was made, on behalf of the force, by Alderman P. E. Scott, Commissioner of Police. Also present at the ceremony were City Manager Percy Jarman, Chief W. Gough, Sub-Chief Burris and a large gathering of police officers and constables.

Constable Grant first joined the force in 1908, but left the department for some years to work for the Board of School Commissioners, therefore breaking his seniority. Had he remained on the police force continually from that year he would now be one of its oldest members.

He is particularly well known in Westmount, having been assigned to patrol duty for a number of years. He was transferred from the beat in 1923 and since that time has acted as superintendent of the police and fire station.

Commissioner Scott and other officials present paid tribute to the many years of faithful service Const. Grant has rendered to the force.

DANCE IS HELD BY HIGH SCHOOL

A large and enthusiastic group of students attended the Westmount High School dance last Friday evening. Archie Etienne and his orchestra was in attendance. Supper was served at half-past eleven o'clock, after which dancing was resumed until half-past one o'clock. The committee in charge of arrangements for the affair included: B. Cogle, M. McGillivray, G. Grover, R. Lewis, B. Whiteside, C. Mussels, B. Heller, A. Morrison, H. Solomon, W. Murray and J. Priestly.

Twenty-two pupils of Westmount High school sat for the McGill University Scholarship Entrance examinations recently. Candidates were required to write an English essay and any other three subjects of their own choice. In order to achieve any degree of success, students must read extensively outside of their course, and must show a thorough knowledge of their specialized subjects.

WESTMOUNT, THURSDAY, APRIL 13, 1939

HAIL THE ROYALS!

For sheer courage it would be difficult to parallel the feat of Royals in defeating Goodyears Monday night at the Forum. Minus three stars, injured in the previous game in Toronto, playing under a severe physical as well as psychological strain, Frank Carlin's team did what practically all the experts declared to be impossible in coming from behind with only some nine minutes left to play to defeat the strong Toronto entry and capture the Eastern Canada title. Royals showed plenty of gameness on previous occasions this season, particularly in the play-offs. They erased a five-goal deficit in a game at Valleyfield; they erased a similar deficiency in a game against St. Jerome; and last Thursday, at the Forum, they spotted Goodyears a two-goal lead in the first frame and then won out pulling up by six to three. It's hard to beat courage like that, as Toronto's hand-picked team found out.

The defeat of Goodyears will be a hard mouthful for Toronto to swallow, for the team was brought together by a board of experts with the express determination of winning the Canadian crown and the world-wide publicity that a trip to Europe next year would bring. Royals victory emphasizes the fact that the fastest amateur hockey in the world is being played in the Quebec Senior Hockey League. Toronto probably won't admit that, but the evidence supports it.

KEEPING UP WITH THE JONESES

The most tragic thing in small town life is the effort of the Joneses to keep up with the Smiths and the efforts of the Smiths to keep up with the Johnsons, claims the Listowell Banner editor. The happiest person is the one who isn't interested in keeping up with anyone, but is content to manage his own business, earn all he can, buy what he can pay for and save a part of his earnings for his old age, and to send his children to college. The formula is simple, and the wonder is that more do not solve it.

IT'S GETTING WARMER

This year, while all Europe is experiencing the coldest winter in 80 years, it is cheerful news which scientists bring us that the world is actually getting warmer.

Many of us have suspected that for a long time. Who has not heard his grandfather or some other elderly person remark that "Winters ain't like they used to be when I was a boy?"

But now that research into changes in the climate has become more scientific, the men who study such things are beginning to agree that in the northern hemisphere, at least, the climate is getting warmer.

The records of the United States Weather Bureau run back only to 1871, but local records have been kept for more than a hundred years in numerous cities. Recent studies of such records show that Boston now has the kind of winter that Baltimore had a century ago.

The winter of 1837-38 used to be spoken of by old New Englanders as "eighteen-hundred-and-froze-to-death." Temperatures got so low that the moisture remaining on the trees froze and burst the tree trunks with a noise like musket fire all over the woodlands.

It is not likely that there ever will be another winter so severe as that. And it is not likely that anyone now living will pick strawberries in January on the shores of Hudson Bay.

But there is evidence that before the last Ice Age, out of which the earth is slowly emerging, tropical vegetation grew in Greenland, and we may be coming back to that.

THE FORUM

In Which Subjects of General Interest Are Discussed

Conducted by HOWARD S. ROSS, K.C.

NOTE:—The opinions expressed in these columns are not necessarily those of this newspaper and it does not accept responsibility for them. They are published for their general interest, variety and originality of treatment.

U.S.A. private utilities were told by the U.S.A. Supreme Court recently, that they have no right to assume they are a monopoly and immune from competition as it handed down a 5-2 decision upholding the right of the TVA to sell and distribute power. This important decision gave the TVA the right to construct a series of dams in the Tennessee Valley and sell surplus power developed to municipalities in the area.

The Court decided: "The vice of the position taken by the power companies is that neither their charter nor their local franchises, grant them a monopoly or render competition illegal."

"The franchise, to exist as a corporation and to function as a public utility, in the absence of a specific charter contract on the subject, creates no right to be free of competition and affords the corporation no legal cause for complaint by reason of the state subsequently by authorizing another to enter and operate in the same field.

"The local franchises, while having the element of property, confer no contractual or property right to be free of competition either from individuals, other utility corporations or the state or municipality granting the franchise."

"The decision agreed with the lower Court that the TVA had not indulged in "coercion, duress, fraud or misrepresentation in procuring contracts with municipalities, co-operatives or other purchasers of power."

Some prominent U.S.A. lawyers stated that the decision is so far reaching that, in their opinion, the Government could, if it chose, enter almost any enterprise without fear of suit as a competitor and that Henry Ford or General Motors would be barred from suing the Government to eliminate its competition in their field of manufacturing.

Is it to say that lowborn ideals must come before highborn ideals? That depends upon how we conclude to describe them. If ideals are lowborn because they have their source in ordinary needs, then it is lowborn ideals we must seek to realize first. In this strange world of ours, with its potential abundance of consumable goods and its staggering load of unemployment and want, there is an obligation which cannot be pushed aside without bringing tragic results upon the whole human venture. The spirit of man is hard pressed by outer circumstances today as perhaps never in history. We must find our way to a method or we shall witness a still further decline in valiant aspiration. The situation is not hopeless unless those who are concerned for the higher interests of life think it beneath their dignity to take off their coats and roll up their sleeves. If we lose, it will be by default.

The Report of the Christian Social Council of England makes this frank and true statement: "We believe that the Christian church should recognize frankly and clearly expose such results of the present monetary system as appear harmful to human welfare and should further declare that any monetary system must have objectives in accordance with Christian ethics. Economic policy must be subordinated to social policy and monetary policy subordinated to both."

"National amiability has of course the defects of its qualities, for it undoubtedly leads to toleration of gross abuses in public finance."

George A. Dionne

George A. Dionne, proprietor-manager of Dionne and Dionne, holds the distinction of owning Westmount's oldest-established provision firm.

Born and educated at St. Anne de la Pocatiere, Que., seventy years ago, Mr. Dionne came to Montreal in 1895 and opened Westmount's first grocery and butcher store on the north side of Sherbrooke street, at the corner of Wood avenue. Two years later he moved his business to its present site, on the south side of the street.

He ran his firm in partnership with Thomas Dionne until the latter's death in 1934.

When Dionne and Dionne was first established it was one of the few business firms operating west of Atwater avenue and its clientele has steadily increased since its foundation.

Keeping strict observance to its policy of selling only quality goods at reasonable prices, the store is now one of the city's most successful business firms. Four trucks and an equal number of horse-drawn vehicles form its delivery equipment and assure prompt service.

Mr. Dionne prefers to supervise the operation of the store, himself, rather than leave the management in the hands of others. Attending to the business, he says, is both his vocation and hobby. He usually commences work at seven o'clock in the morning and is seldom through earlier than seven o'clock at night.

A member of the Business Association of Westmount, he is married and the father of six daughters.

EASTER THEME MARKS SERMONS IN CHURCHES

Special Services Held Throughout District - Easter Music Played

Special sermons to commemorate the Easter season were preached in all churches of this district both on Sunday morning and also at the evening services. Easter music prevailed in all churches, which were gaily decorated with Easter lilies, the flower symbolic of the day.

Speaking to a congregation that more than taxed the facilities of the church building the Rev. Gilbert Oliver of St. Matthias Church told his congregation to remain steadfast in the belief of the resurrection, work for peace, and know that sooner or later real goodness will triumph. Rev. Mr. Oliver made a plea for loyal and sacrificial witness instead of lukewarm indifference which contrasts so badly with the keenness and sacrifice of those opposed to the Christian faith.

Taking "Intimations of Immortality" as the topic of his sermon, Rev. J. Lavell Smith of Westmount Park church cited evidences of belief in immortality among ancient peoples, those found in philosophy and certain analogies from science. The greatest basis for the belief, he said, was in Jesus and His example.

Reverend Dr. F. W. Kerr, of St. Andrew's told a record congregation that the Resurrection was necessary to afford coherence to the moral order of the universe and to show that in the long run love is stronger than hatred for the weakness of God is mightier than the bluster of men. Dr. Kerr said that the world today is struggling under a defeatist attitude and need nothing as much as the trumpet note of victory that came to the disciples when they discovered that the Master had triumphed over death.

"Dare We Believe in Personal Immortality" was the topic of the sermon delivered by the Rev. A. Lloyd Smith, D.D., at Dominion Douglas Church. Dr. Smith asserted the need of such a doctrine if people are to believe in a rational universe. It was the proof of the personal immortality of Jesus which had worked such wonders among the disciples, he said. The deepest foundation for the belief in personal immortality lies in the resurrection of Jesus from the dead, an event proved not only by the Gospels and other New Testament writings by the fact of the Christian Fellowship. In concluding Dr. Smith said that it is the Christian faith that as He is, we too shall be.

The WOMAN'S Page

TEA TIME TOPICS

Women's vanity suffered a severe blow on Sunday. Weather conditions did not afford them the opportunity of blossoming out in their spring outfits. While most of the ladies wore their new bonnets, the number wearing light coats or suits, were few and far between. So far conditions look favorable for a large turn-out next Sunday.

Fashion experts in London are trying to make, glen grey, oasis green and Tahiti rose, popular colors for spring and early summer wear. While these shades are very lovely, it is doubtful if they will be as popular in Montreal as they are in England. Most popular shades for spring and early summer in this country include, Royal blue, fuchsia, lime, Suez, cigarette and japonica. These shades are seen in all lines of wearing apparel.

Redingote dresses for spring and summer are much smarter this year. A light printed dress of fine silk, topped with a light weight wool redingote, made on fitted lines make a chic outfit for the young girl or the matron. Most of the redingotes are made in a manner that they can be worn separately and look just as smart. Contrasting shades in this particular style, plays a very important part.

Styles for youngsters are also undergoing some serious changes. Once upon a time, young girls wore middie and skirts, but not so now. This year's silhouette for little girls is quite different from last year's. The skater silhouette, worked out in dresses, suits, and some coats, is achieved with snug-fitting basque tops and swing skirts that flare out like Sonja Henie's. Little dirndl and princess frocks are still very popular, these styles ranking second to the skater models. It will also be noticed that children's clothes for this season are less peasanty and more simple as to trimmings. The lavender and fuchsia range, that has been accepted with such eclat in grown-up styles, has filtered through children's things.

Maggy Rouff, after sponsoring the biggest crinolines of the "modern romantic revival," runs to the other extreme and launches the narrowest hobbie skirts seen yet. These are forecast to have an important influence on future evening fashions. A typical model is in Maggy Rouff's new "China-blue" crepe. This blue has the rich, vibrant greenish cast of Ming pottery. The gown features a very full ruffled hem, mounted with a heading. Low drapery raises it in front and a ruffle kick up when the wearer walks, which makes it appear even shorter and forms a frilly frame for pretty feet and ankles.

Alix's South Sea Island evening draperies are in direct contrast to these fettering civilized lines. They evoke the haycoy days. Alix drapes cobweb jerseys, exotic gauzes and supple crepe in a secret fashion, known only to herself.

THE BEST

If you are looking for that which is best in the men and woman with whom you come in contact; if you are seeking also to give them that which is best in yourself; if you are looking for a friendship which shall help you to fulfill yourself as you ought to be; if you are looking for a love which shall not be a flattering dream and a madness of desire but a true comradeship and a mutual inspiration to all nobility of living, then you are surely on the ascending path.—Van Dyke.

WAR CUTS PRICES

A "bread war" which has been raging in Halifax, since late January, has brought joy to housewives. The "war" brought the price of bread to four and five cents a loaf instead of 10.

Bulletins From Birdland The Meadowlark By Winifred E. Wilson

"Spring is here" pipes the Meadowlark in a flute-like voice. As its winter quarters are comparatively near to its summer home in our upland pastures, it has an advantage over the birds that have far to come, often arriving at the first touch of spring, before even the Bluebird and Robin have pgt in an appearance. Consider yourself lucky if you get the opportunity of visiting it in April or May.

Many a time as my car hurried along a country road I have heard the sweet, clear notes, which can penetrate even the purr of a motor, coming from a grass-grown field hard by, though my eye could not detect the singer. But on stopping and looking more carefully I found the musician sitting on a low hummock, a stump, or in a lone tree.

The Meadowlark is quite unmistakable. Its front view shows a distinct v, evident at a considerable distance, on a decidedly yellow shirtfront. If it flies away from you, as is very probable, the white outer tail feathers are prominent. It is about half an inch longer than the Robin, with a rather flattened, striped head, reddish brown wings and back, a long bill, and a short tail.

All your wits are required to discover a Meadowlark's nest, which is built on the ground among last autumn's dead leaves and usually arched over like an oven with grass to protect the eggs from both the weather and prying eyes. Unfortunately it is too convenient for snakes.

This is one of the birds whose numbers have increased in America since the advent of man. When there was little open country there were few Meadowlarks. As trees were cut down Meadowlarks were given a chance to spread, until now they occupy almost every available meadow as far north as civilization stretches. But they generally live near running water. It is well for us that some birds appreciate the progress of civilization. Most of them retreat as man advances.

Added to the attractions of a haunting song and handsome plumage, the Meadowlark possesses yet another good quality. It classes amongst our most beneficial birds. An inveterate insect destroyer, it is especially partial to grasshoppers. When there are no more insects to be had it continues helping us by eating weed-seeds. Then welcome to our friend of the meadow! Which Sparrow is sometimes called "Hair Bird"?

DOMINION-DOUGLAS TO MEET ALUMNI FIVE TOMORROW

ROTARIANS ENJOY STORY OF BOY SCOUT CAMPOREE TO BE HELD NEXT JUNE

Scoutmaster Ferguson Describes Coming Event in Verdun as First International Scout Event of Importance to be Held in Canada

Boy Scouts of the Montreal District demonstrated their versatility at the regular weekly luncheon of the Rotary Club of Montreal this week at the Windsor Hotel, and ran it with great success. At the same time, they gave Rotarians an insight of the value of the Scout Movement.

Scout Bruce Ferguson of the Woodlands Troop, spoke of the 1937 Washington Jamboree he attended and announced that a Verdun Camporee would be held from June 23-25. This is the first large international gathering of its kind ever to be held in Canada. Several thousand Boy Scouts from the New England States will invade Verdun for the event.

Scout Rudy Cochius of the 1st Notre Dame de Grace Troop, acted as chairman at the luncheon. Scout E. Turner, of Trinity Memorial Troop, introduced visiting Rotarians, who were welcomed by Scout Peter Whitely, of St. George's Troop. Scout Alex Feichin, of the University Settlement Troop, described Scout training. Four Scouts from the Vickers Troop Silver Band played selections. Scout Stanley Sharman sang a soprano solo and Scouts of the Lions' Club Troop put on a short play, "A Scout's Vision."

Finally, Scout Cochius thanked the Rotarians for allowing the Scouts to participate in their luncheon. The club's president, William Harrison, thanked the Scouts for the educational entertainment they had given.

Fly and Bait Casting To Be Feature of Show

Fly and bait casting over an indoor pool by holders of provincial championships will be a feature of the two-day Sportsman's Show of the Anglers Association of Quebec at the Mount Royal Hotel, on April 25 and 26. A canvas pool is being set up for the occasion in the huge main ballroom of the Mount Royal and casting will take place on each day.

Exhibits of live game fish, pheasants, beaver and other animals and birds will be displayed and in addition, makers and distributors of fishing, hunting and other outdoor equipment will show their latest wares and gadgets.

For the two days of the show, the Mount Royal ballroom will be redolent of the outdoors. Members of the Committee in mackinaw coats and outdoor clothing will add a touch of color to the scene while tents, canoes, outboard motors and other appurtenances of the out doors will all help to whet the sportsman's appetite for his favorite recreations as well as advising him of what is new in outdoor equipment.

GLADIOLUS

Gathering The Fruits Of Our Labors.

From about mid-July on through the month of August is a most interesting time for those of us who have been growing Gladiolus. And those who have purchased some of the newer introductions so vividly portrayed in the catalogues (which we enjoyed reading during the Winter), will be anxiously looking for the blooms to appear so that we may know for ourselves whether our fond hopes have been realized or blighted. Often we are thrilled with the beauty of a new origination, but, alas! often disappointed. However, there is no greater optimist than a gardener, and next year you will find us quite willing to try something else again.

When sufficient blooms have developed we are anxious to use them for decorating the house, or sun porch, and equally anxious to take some to the office to show the city folks how well we grow them. A few suggestions as to how and when to cut will now be offered. It is generally agreed that most varieties should or can be cut when the first floret shows color, or is about half open.

Flowers cut in this condition are much easier to carry or pack. The danger of bruising the flower is considerably lessened, and the spikes take up much less space. In cutting the spike use a very sharp knife, making a downward cut rather than upward, for if your soil is very light, and the bulbs have been planted shallow, you will find there is a tendency to pull up the bulb if you are not careful. Remember to always leave at least four or more leaves remaining on the plant when cutting the bloom. These leaves are needed for the further development of the bulb. A bulb left without some foliage is entirely lost.

As a decorative flower the Gladiolus ranks very high. There is probably no other flower that has such fine keeping qualities, or Electrical heating apparatus plays big part in conditioning; Hank Greenberg is the subject. Brooklyn Dodgers soak in the sun and iron out some kinks at Clearwater. Leapfrog strengthens Yankee backs at St. Petersburg.

BUSY ATHLETE

Joe Richman, who just completed a busy season with the Y.M.H.A. basketball team, has been placed in charge of the sports goods department of Pascal's new store, 4827 Sherbrooke street west. In addition to his cage activity he plays hockey in the Winter, baseball and tennis in the Summer and is regarded as an all round athlete.

St. George's Day Service Planned

A St. George's Day service will be held in Calvary United Church, Sunday, under the auspices of Calvary Men's Own Brotherhood, meeting at 3 p.m.

The Officers and members of the Sons of England Benefit Society, and the Daughters of England will attend in a body. The guest speaker will be Rev. Arthur E. Coleman, B.A., rector of the Church of St. John the Divine, Verdun. Bro. H. J. Howell, P.D.D., of Westmount Lodge, S.O.E., will be at the organ. "How Lovely Are Thy Dwellings" will be sung by Miss Bertha Taylor, of Trinity United Church Choir. The Rev. W. L. Tucker will be in the chair.

VIMY RIDGE ANNIVERSARY IS OBSERVED

Sir Gerald Campbell Addresses Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L. at Annual Banquet

The twenty-second anniversary of the Battle of Vimy Ridge—the greatest victory won by Canadian troops during the Great War—was observed by some 1,600 ex-soldiers at a banquet held Saturday night in the Windsor Hotel under the sponsorship of the Montreal District Council of the Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L.

Sir Gerald Campbell, K.C.M.G., the British High Commissioner to Canada, the speaker of the evening, made a vigorous appeal for a return to conciliation and common-sense in international relations and also appealed for renewed efforts to maintain "the hard-won triumphs of our race"—the principles of civic, economic, and political liberty.

Sir Gerald said, in part:

"Do you sometimes lie awake at night and remember all you suffered so that the future of all mankind might be better than the days which were then your present? Do you cry out in desperation to ask if there is no other way of settling differences between so-called civilized nations than by murdering youngsters? Must Christ be crucified afresh so that each succeeding generation may sit up and take notice?"

Soldiers Against War.

"Yet some people believe it is the soldier who wants war. What nonsense. It is the political leader who leads to war and the soldier, the sailor and the airman are then called in to make sure that that leader's side wins," Sir Gerald said.

"But I swear to you that there is not a single political leader

Defeated St. John Y.M.C.A. in Two-Game Round Played At Forum Here Last Friday and Saturday — Johnny Ferraro and George Jackman Starred on Forward Line

The Dominion Douglas basketball squad will board the train for Windsor this evening for a best of three series with the Alumni five, Ontario champions. The Canadian senior final series opens tomorrow and if a third game is necessary it will be played on Monday.

The local team, displaying excellent form, downed the St. John Y.M.C.A. quintette 86-75 in a two-game round played at the Forum last Friday and Saturday evenings.

In the first match they defeated the St. John boys 45-35 and in the second encounter down the visitors 41-40.

The Double D's are a powerful team this year, boasting height, speed and keen marksmanship. It also has two top flight forwards, Johnny Ferraro and George Jackman.

Ferraro and Jackman, adept at receiving passes and shooting with accuracy while opponents are milling around their necks, cashed in on 19 points in the second session of the contest to wipe out a five-point advantage on the game the New Brunswick lads held at half-time and another the Maritime's bid for national honors.

The Dominions were expecting stiffer competition Saturday night from the invaders than Friday, when the easterners lost to the Montreals by a 45-35 count, and the locals were not disappointed.

The Saints dug in from the opening whistle and never stopped trying to overcome the Dominions' 10-point lead in the total-points series. The invaders jumped ahead in the first minute of play on a field-goal by Henry Hollies and were only overhauled in the last five minutes of the game when the Ferraro-Jackman combine went to town in a big way.

E.D., officer commanding, and under the patronage of Major-General and Mrs. L. R. LaFleche.

AND ... AND THINGS

By JACK HIRSHBERG

A STORM IS BREWING

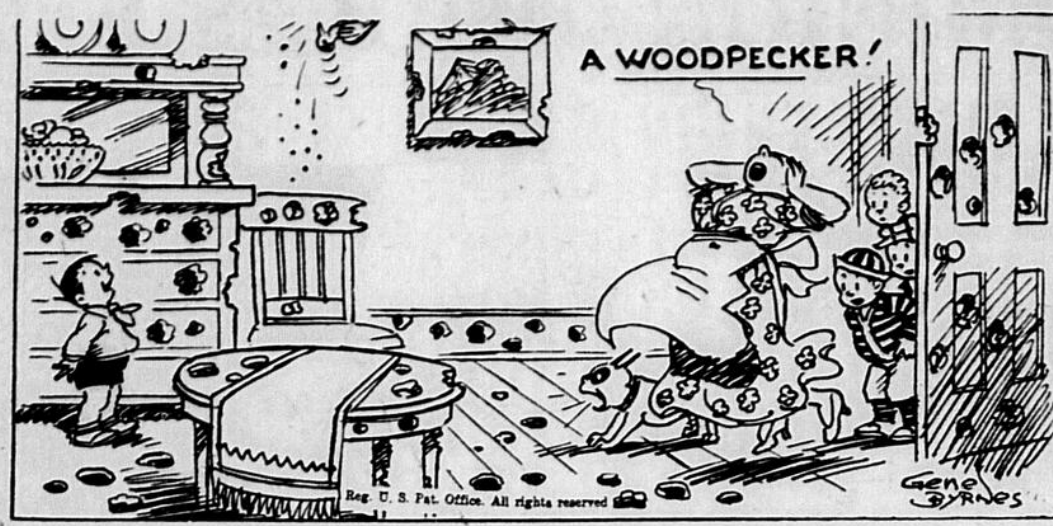

Conversing informally with Ed Murrow and Norm Schirer during the course of a trans-Atlantic CBS-CKAC broadcast Sunday afternoon, Hans von Kaltenborn quoted King Zog's characterization of Chamberlain and Daladier as "two fools who sleep." By so doing Kaltenborn merely fulfilled his duty as a sane and reliable newscaster, but it is also safe to say he has stirred up a hornet's nest.

Canadians, like their brethren across the pond, love to play patriotic, singing the praises of Canadian Liberty as compared to the lack of it in totalitarian states. But the streak of broadmindedness which urges a Britisher to practice what he preaches is often absent in Canadians. They preach liberty of speech and then condone a padlock law. They observe freedom of press by permitting fascist filth to be flung across the Dominion, but they ban a national American publication for a blunt but harmless caricature of our broadminded sovereign.

Thus it was that several months ago, when Kaltenborn termed Chamberlain's Berlin and Munich trips as sincere and unselfish, but foolish, staunch "patriots" across the land assailed Montreal and Toronto affiliates of CBS for carrying the speaker's remarks and urged that in future he be banned from Canadian airlines. It is a tribute to CBC farsightedness that no such narrow action was taken, but indications point to continued aggravation by chronic crabs as long as American commentators are allowed the freedom of our kilocycles.

While wholeheartedly opposed to any restriction upon American comments, this observer, along with many others, has long wondered when Canadian radio would produce a commentator of the calibre of Kaltenborn, Murrow, Jordan, Brown, Thomas or Kennedy. Canadian industry has never ventured to sponsor a qualified commentator — excepting, of course, General Motor's sponsorship of Beverly Baxter, whose opinions are seldom taken seriously — and sustaining news periods have — for the most part, been mere recitals of news of the day.

Unadorned news broadcasts are, of course, the basis for any special commentary, and as such, are to be commended and must be continued. But, intelligent commentaries on such broadcasts are both informative and stimulating — and comments with a Canadian viewpoint are sadly lacking.

Canadian commentators to date have proved either stilted, uninformed, dry or lacking in personality. Certainly, somewhere in Canada, there must be an individual sufficiently gifted with foresight, knowledge, personality, the power of analysis, background and imagination to sift the news and phrase intelligent opinions on the ever-changing scene. He may be a newspaperman. He may be a professor. He may be a novelist. Whoever he is, wherever he may be, it is up to Canadian broadcasters to find him and seat him before a microphone.

Meanwhile, Canadians shall have content themselves with the exaggerated views of American commentators — men who generally flavour their news with a dash of sensationalism, a drop of ego, a slight helping of showmanship and a pinch of fiction.

CUFF NOTES

Remember Victor Sutherland, suave leading man with the lamented Orpheum Players? Vic currently holds an important post with the W.P.A. Federal Theatre Project in Florida... Leon Kofman, who was born in Rubinoff's home town, Odessa, and studied with Mischa Elman, is conducting his ensemble nightly at the midtown Lorraine Grill, rendezvous of many local mikemen... Orson Welles plays host to Pearl Buck Friday through CKAC at 9. Anna May Wong co-stars with Welles in Buck's "The Patriot"... Ken Sisson, conductor of "Canada 1938," hit the music counters with a new song this week. Written in conjunction with Ben Bernie, the opus is titled "Daughter of Sweet Georgia Brown"... Despite reports carried by most daily papers, Deanna Durbin will not marry Vaughan Paul, young Hollywood director. La Durbin is 17... 20th Century-Fox will sponsor a CBS broadcast of the Kentucky Derby in behalf of "Rose of Washington Square," the new Tyrone Power-Alice Fay opus...

BONES

Frank Starr, whose sport commentaries supplement Christopher Ellis's nightly newscasts, dislocated a bone in his wrist in a fall outside the midtown Marconi studios this week... If the Lance Sieveking production of "The Shirt" is any example, BBC producers still have much to learn from their confreres this side of the ocean. Sieveking's poor use of an echo chamber helped make his production a complete flop... Sonny Ray, singing with Willy Eckstein's crew at Chateau St. Rose, is without doubt the best rhythm canary to hit town in many a year... Over 18,000 requests for souvenir spoons were received by CFCF following the station's announcement that the spoon was available upon request. The spoon commemorates the forthcoming Canadian visit of King George and Queen Elizabeth... And so the dial spins... Adios.

Clergy Protests Repeal.

Premier Maurice Duplessis announced last week that the Province's legislation not allowing children under sixteen to attend the movies, "will not be touched this year". Although several government leaders, including the Premier himself, have at various times during the past few months expressed a willingness to have this legislation at least modified, it appears that so many protests were received from clergy in the province that the Government has abandoned any intention of altering the existing statutes this session.
