GOVERNOR-GENERAL AND LADY BESSBOROUGH ARE ROYALLY WELCOMED BY CITIZENS OF SHERBROOKE

Streets and Buildings Gaily Decorated and Cheery Sun Overhead Made Attractive Setting for Reception to His Majesty's Personal Representative in Canada—All Classes of Citizens Joined in Demonstration of Loyalty—Various Institutions Visited—Fitting Tribute Paid to Heroic Soldier-Dead.

Sherbrooke, the Queen City of the Eastern Townships, was in gala attire today. Its citizens were happy, everyone wore a broad smile, there was a festive attitude throughout the city, a spirit of rejoicing and celebrating. Well indeed should it have been so, for the metropolis of the Eastern Townships was entertaining distinguished guests. Sherbrooke was privileged to welcome none other than His Excellency the Earl of Bessborough, P.C., G.C.M.G., Governor-General of Canada, and his charming wife, the Countess of Bessborough.

Fully realizing the great honor bestowed upon the city, everyone tried to make the vice-regal visit a memorable one, and to welcome and entertain their Excellencies in such a manner that they would take away with them kindly thoughts of the people of Sherbrooke and happy remembrances of their visit here.

This was the first time that the Earl and Countess of Bessborough had visited Sherbrooke, and there is no doubt regarding the impression which the distinguished couple made with the people whose guests they were. No sooner had the smiling countenance of His Excellency appeared before the vast throng which awaited his arrival at the official reception platform on Depot street than he had made his way into the hearts of all. He was no longer a visitor, but one of Sherbrooke's citizens. His pleasing manner and democratic bearing made one forget that he was the most important man in the Dominion of Canada and that he stood in the midst of the people as the personal representative of His Most Gracious Majesty King George the Fifth. Like the beloved Sovereign whom he represents, he was one of the people, a man among men.

The Countess of Bessborough, a lady of unusual charm, is an able help-mate in every way to her distinguished husband. Gifted with beauty, charm and regal staidness, she won the admiration of all.

The vice-regal visitors were met at Richmond by His Worship Mayor L. Forest and Mrs. Forest, who accompanied them to Sherbrooke, the trip being made by motor so that their Excellencies might have an opportunity of viewing the beauties of the Eastern Townships.

Upon their arrival in the city they proceeded immediately to the official reception platform on Depot street, where they were accorded a civic reception.

The platform was gaily decorated with flags and bunting, and a bright sun overhead added beauty to the occasion. A number of invited guests, including the city aldermen, members of Parliament, representatives of the clergy and the heads of various charitable, religious and social organizations, were on the platform to greet them. Standing about the platform on the steps and verandahs of adjoining buildings were throngs of citizens and visitors from outside districts, who joined in the welcome, and by their presence testified to the great honor which the city felt in having the pleasure of entertaining such distinguished personages.

As His Excellency stepped from the automobile which had brought him from Richmond, the Guard of Honor, comprising fifty men from the Carabiniers de Sherbrooke, under the command of Captain Stephane Boileau, with Lieutenant Leonard Boisvert assisting, presented arms. His Excellency was then accorded the Royal Salute which, as His Majesty's personal representative, he is entitled to receive, and immediately proceeded to inspect the Guard of Honor. The band of the Sherbrooke Regiment played the National Anthem, during which the huge gathering stood at respectful attention.

On the last occasion when the Governor-General, at that time Lord Willingdon, now Viceroy of India, visited Sherbrooke, the Guard of Honor was made up of members of the Sherbrooke Regiment and Les Carabiniers de Sherbrooke supplied the band. This time the reverse was adopted and Les Carabiniers were given the more prominent place.

The official reception was brief but impressive. After His Excellency had inspected the soldiers gathered about him, he inspected the Boy Scouts and Girl Guides, who made a fine showing, and then proceeded to present Mr. Clarence Blake, Assistant District Commissioner of the Boy Scouts, with the Canadian Akela Badge, His Excellency acting in his capacity as Chief Scout for Canada.

A pleasing incident in connection with this portion of the day's programme was the presentation by little Miss Jacqueline Deslauriers, daughter of the City Clerk and Mrs. Deslauriers, of a beautiful basket of flowers to the Countess of Bessborough. Little Miss Deslauriers performed her part of the programme in a most capable manner, although it was not her first duty of this nature. When Lady Willingdon visited Sherbrooke in 1927, little Miss Deslauriers, then a little tot of but a few years, was selected to present flowers. The Countess of Bessborough smiled most kindly when the little lady gracefully courted and in child-like fashion, offered her the city's tribute of respect.

Speaking in French on behalf of the citizens, His Worship the Mayor read a civic address of welcome, while a similar address was presented in English by pro-Mayor M. T. Armitage.

In welcoming the Governor-General His Worship said:

"To the Right Honourable the Earl of Bessborough, P.C., G.C.M.G., Governor-General of the Dominion of Canada.

"May it please Your Excellency.

"In my official capacity as Mayor of the City of Sherbrooke, I have the agreeable duty and the signal honor to extend to you, Your Excellency, on behalf of the citizens of this city, our most cordial welcome.

"The announcement of your visit was heartily acknowledged by our population. Our pleasure is considerably enhanced by the presence of your distinguished wife, the Countess of Bessborough, whose graciousness, personal charm and interest in charitable and philanthropic works have won for her the love and admiration of the population of this Dominion. The French-Canadian citizens of this city, who form seventy-five per cent. of our population, are particularly happy and honored to welcome her in their vernacular language which is also hers.

"Your Excellencies had the opportunity on your way to Sherbrooke to admire the magnificent topography of the Eastern Townships of which Sherbrooke is the center. Situated at the juncture of two majestic rivers which turn the wheels of our industries, Sherbrooke enjoys an exceptionally good geographical position.

"Disputes between capital and labor are unknown to us and the most perfect harmony exists between the different ethnic groups of our population.

"As representative in this country of our beloved Sovereign, His Majesty King George the Fifth, we beg to offer you our complete and loyal allegiance to the British Crown, under whose protection we are privileged to live.

"We associate ourselves to the feeling of pleasure and gratification which your visit procures to our citizens and we pray that your stay in our beloved country be the happiest of your life."

Replying in French and English to these addresses His Excellency said:

"It gives me sincere pleasure, as the representative of His Majesty King George the Fifth, to receive, on behalf of His Majesty, the message of loyalty and devotion contained in your address. I appreciate no less your kind welcome to Lady Bessborough and myself, which has been so heartily endorsed by your fellow-citizens in Sherbrooke.

"In no district in Canada have the labours of the early pioneers been more abundantly justified than they have in the Eastern Townships. With a courage that to us seems marvellous, your hardy forefathers, a century and more ago, embarked upon their task of taming the wilderness; in a surprisingly short time, they had transformed it into a fruitful and productive land, which has now, for some generations, been recognized as one of the most important districts, agriculturally and industrially, in all the Dominion of Canada. Its mines, its forests, and its fertile farms have for many years made a

FOREST FIRES TAKING HEAVY DAMAGE TOLL

Blazes Continue Unchecked in Widely Scattered Sections of Dominion—Two Fire Fighters Lost Lives Yesterday.

Forest fires are proving a costly menace to Canada's wealthy timber limits as blazes continue unchecked in widely scattered sections of the Dominion. Great anxiety is felt for the timberland of the Thunder Bay area, where five outbreaks were reported yesterday.

More than seven hundred men were combating the blazes in the district yesterday, according to reports of the forestry branch at Port Arthur. An additional fifty men have been despatched to Sunday Creek, officials said, to cope with the rapid spread of fire in that district.

Joseph Maffreid, fifty-five, and Con Mahoney, twenty-two, two members of the fire fighting brigade, lost their lives late yesterday in Union Lake when a canoe in which they were riding overturned. Spruce and pine limits in the Stuart Lake district of northern British Columbia are quickly falling prey to unchecked blazes which are destroying hunting grounds in the region, reports received at the Government headquarters at Victoria yesterday.

Fires which for a time threatened to destroy sections of valuable timber near Gogama, in Northern Ontario, were under control today. One casualty was reported in combating the flames when Paul Nataka was injured and badly burned when struck by a falling tree.

CAMPAIGN ENDS THIS EVENING IN MANITOBA

Voting Will Take Place Tomorrow—No Less Than Four Groups Expect to Have Dominant Place in New Legislature.

Winnipeg, June 15.—As the last day of the Manitoba election campaign opens all parties are confident of success. No less than four groups expect to have a dominant place in the control of the affairs of the province during the next five years.

While only two parties, the Liberal-Progressives and the Conservatives, expect a majority in the next Legislature, two others, Liberals and Labor, each expect to hold the balance of power. The two major parties have each fifty candidates contesting the fifty-five seats. The Liberals are running fourteen and Labor thirteen. A deadlock between the Liberal-Progressives and Conservative would leave the balance of power in the hands of Labor or the Liberals, and that is what the small parties hope for.

After covering every part of the province in his speaking tour, Premier John Bracken will wind up his plea for a new lease of power to-night at Winnipeg. Discussion of Dominion politics continued in meeting last night. At a Conservative rally in Winnipeg, Mr. Bracken was charged with appealing, not on his record, but on the fact he was opposed to Premier R. B. Bennett. Both sides seek to gain some advantage from the introduction of Dominion issues. Conservatives argue Manitoba would be able to deal more satisfactorily with the Ottawa authorities if a government friendly to the Bennett administration were in power.

On the other hand, the government speakers lay the blame of depressed economic conditions in Western Canada on the tariff policy of the Conservative Government at Ottawa.

Tomorrow's voting will decide the results in fifty-three seats. In two northern constituencies a deferred election will be held. Except for the City of Winnipeg, which elects ten members, all constituencies are of the single-member type.

PROTECTION FOR MISSIONARIES REQUESTED

The citizens of Sherbrooke unite today in extending greetings and friendly welcome to the city's distinguished guests, His Excellency the Governor-General of Canada and the Countess of Bessborough.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING VITAL NECESSITY

Murray Bay, Que., June 15. To promote the welfare of the electrical industry, particularly during periods of depression, newspaper advertising should be well maintained. This was the chief recommendation in a committee report delivered today to the annual convention of the Canadian Electrical Association. More than 150 delegates journeyed here overnight on board the S.S. Tadoussac for the opening session.

EXTENDS CIVIC WELCOME

DENIES INTENTION OF PROVINCE TO DEMAND PERSONAL INCOME TAX

Despite Denial of Premier Taschereau that Matter Is Under Consideration, Union of Municipalities Will Study Proposals—Numerous Factors Enter into Complexity of Case—Many Realty Owners, It Is Claimed, Are Unable to Shoulder Any Further Tax Burdens.

Montreal, June 15.—Although the Quebec Union of Municipalities will undoubtedly explore the possibilities of a provincial and municipal income tax at their coming convention, the Provincial Government itself has no intention of imposing such a levy, declared the Hon. L. A. Taschereau, Premier of the Province yesterday.

The matter was flung forward last week on the occasion of the luncheon tendered Oscar Morin, deputy Minister of Municipal Affairs, the evening before last, to the members of the Union of Municipalities.

"It was not for me to speak of the matter," he said. "The matter was raised at the luncheon, but it was not me who started it. I pointed out that it was not for me to decide such a question, but that it was for the Prime Minister to make such a decision."

A little later the representatives of the Press interviewed Premier Taschereau. He said: "I read of the intention of the provincial Government to impose an income tax. We cannot understand that from the speech of Mr. Morin. I saw him this morning and he says that his words were badly reported. I can also add that it is not a matter of the Government putting on an income tax, but also that it is a matter of the Government not having the intention to impose such a tax. The citizens are sufficiently taxed by Mr. Bennett without adding that extra burden."

Incidentally yesterday's story did not state that the provincial Government had decided on an income tax, but that the prospect loomed up on the horizon, this based on the statements made at the luncheon of last week when municipal representatives made their views clear.

Two of the municipal representatives who discussed the matter in a favorable way were Ald. W. H. Biggar, of Montreal, and Mayor Walter Moisan, of Drummondville. Mr. Biggar, in speaking of the matter yesterday, said that he did not wish to pose as the father of a provincial municipal income tax, but what he had sought to say with emphasis at the luncheon was that he felt that no further burdens can be laid upon the real estate proprietors. Mayor Moisan talked in similar vein.

What makes the situation interesting from the Montreal viewpoint is the fact that the City Executive has already informed Premier Taschereau that the realty tax must be increased, and probably beyond the rate now permitted in the City Charter. At the conference in Quebec the Premier was approached with a view to ascertaining if he would hold an early session of the Legislature, and also if he would engage in legislative actions taken as regards taxation which went beyond the provisions of the City Charter. No promise was made on that point at the Quebec conference.

The Quebec Municipal Commission held a meeting in Montreal yesterday, and received representatives of some municipalities, but no statement was issued, nor is it deemed wise to tell what municipalities are approaching the commission since, generally, the municipalities who do so are financially embarrassed, and there is no desire to unduly harm their credit, the purpose of the commission being to help those in need, and step in only as a last resort. The convention of the Union of Quebec Municipalities is usually attended by a number of municipal representatives, and the occasion this year will be given to the members of the commission of hearing views from all parts of the province.

PROVINCE WILL FINANCE BATTLE COMMEMORATION

Montreal, Que., June 15.—Premier Taschereau yesterday received a delegation representing the Historical Society of Montreal, which asked for his support and some little financial aid in erecting a memorial tablet to commemorate the Battle of Ticonderoga. The event is to take place on July 10 at Fort Carillon, later known as Fort Ticonderoga, N. Y. The delegation suggested the province subscribe $200, and the Premier, surprised and delighted at the moderation of the request, said he thought that much could be found in the treasury for the purpose. The tablet will be presented as from the Province of Quebec, as representative of New France.

The delegation which waited upon the Premier consisted of Agostus Fautoux, president of the Historical Society of Montreal; Sir Montagu Allan, Victor Morin, president of the Montreal Antiquarian and Numismatic Society; E. Beupre, Col. Wilfrid Bovey and A. de Lery MacDonaid, honorary secretary of the tablet committee.

REPUBLICANS COME TO AGREEMENT ON PROHIBITION REPEAL PROBLEM

Definite Stand to Be Taken by Party Will Be Submitted at National Convention Some Time Today—Considerable Difference of Opinion Exists on Method of Submitting Repeal Proposals—Vice-Presidency Offers Some Difficulty.

Chicago, June 15.—Agreed on a tentative prohibition plank, the resolutions sub-committee entrusted with the task of drafting the Republican platform, adjourned early today. Later today the plank will be submitted to the convention.

In answer to questions, Senator Daniel Hastings, of Delaware, said the prohibition plank could be regarded as a "compromise."

Asked if it contained the word "repeal," he answered: "It is a substitute."

The Delaware Senator said the prohibition plank would be presented to some of the larger state delegations for approval after it was reported to the full committee. That procedure is unusual.

Closed since eleven o'clock last night, members of the sub-committee were obviously tired, and they quickly shook off newspaper men who sought extended questioning.

The expressions by Senator Hastings were taken to mean that administration desires had prevailed, and that some form of prohibition resubmission had been agreed upon.

Party leaders last night indicated efforts would be made to conciliate the more liberal prohibition leaders.

Some of these have insisted that a substitute for the eighteenth amendment be presented by Congress in the event that resubmission were approved, and that it should go to State Legislatures instead of state conventions.

SQUIRES READY TO HAND OVER REINS SHORTLY

Defeated Premier of Newfoundland Refuses to Comment on Vote Result on Return to St. John's

St. John's, Nfld., June 15.—Sir Richard A. Squires, Prime Minister of Newfoundland, whose administration since 1928 has been marked by troubled times and turbulent scenes, and culminated Saturday with a crushing defeat at the polls, returned to St. John's today. He refused to make any comment on the outcome but intimated that he would have completed his affairs in time to turn over the government to his successor on June 25.

Hon. W. C. Alderdice, triumphant leader of the United Newfoundland party which was returned with twenty-three members out of twenty-five in the constituency announced, would not say at present what plans he had for his cabinet, but is expected to make an announcement in a few days. Neither would he indicate the nature or policy of the delegation he would send to the Empire Economic Conference opening in Ottawa on July 21.

With the constituency of White Bay still to report, the standing of the parties was as follows:

Opposition, twenty-three; Independent, one; Government, two.

Sir Richard Squires had been in his constituency Trinity South since the election, accompanied by Hon. F. Gordon Bradley, Humber, the only member of the former government to be returned. The other government supporter elected was R. J. Starks who defeated P. M. Wells in Green Bay. Harold Mitchell, who defeated the Prime Minister in Trinity South, returned to St. John's yesterday and received a boisterous welcome, similar to that accorded Sir Richard when he was elected with an overwhelming majority of followers in 1928.

Lady Helena Squires, wife of the Prime Minister, also returned to St. John's from Twillingate where she was defeated by Norman Gray.

Saturday's polling resulted in the most pronounced expression of opinion ever recorded in Newfoundland elections, it was stated by political observers here. The opposition candidates polled seventy per cent of the entire vote. Twelve government and two independent candidates lost their deposits.

SUPREME COURT APPRAISED POSTAGE STAMP AT $7,335

Toronto New Wins Suit Against New York Express

New York, June 15.—A ten-cent postage stamp, issued in Baltimore in 1845 and signed by the postmaster, James Madison Buchanan, was valued at $7,335 yesterday in Supreme Court.

Supreme Court Justice Samuel L. Rosenman awarded that sum to Albany Royston Troughton, of 163 Germain avenue, Toronto, Ont., in Troughton's suit against J. Murray Bartels, stamp expert.

Troughton claimed the stamp was worth much more than the $200 which Bartels paid to Troughton's mother-in-law, Mrs. Jean Erskine, of Toronto, who brought the stamp in a collection of other stamps and autographs, including one of Frederick the Great, to New York for valuation.

Troughton charged that the expert induced Mrs. Erskine to part with the stamp and a few others of considerably smaller value for a total of $200, despite instructions from her son-in-law to have the collection merely appraised.

FORMER VICE-PRESIDENT REFUSES RE-NOMINATION

Washington, June 15.—Charles Gates Dawes in a formal statement today said he could not accept the Republican nomination for the vice-presidency if it were offered him.

The former vice-president, who concludes today his tenure of office as president of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, said he had given the question of the vice-presidency "considerable thought."

NAMING HOOVER'S RUNNING MATE OFFERS DIFFICULTY

Chicago, June 15.—Bringing its troubles into the open one by one, the Republican convention disposed of the last of its credentials contests today while the quarrel over prohibition continued unabated behind closed doors and the question of a running mate for President Hoover remained as far as ever from solution.

As it appeared for its second session the convention left behind in hotel conference rooms a large and weary battalion of its delegates.

Some had struggled through the night to settle long-pending controversies over local party leadership in several southern states. Little had been in conference, with little to show for it, over the vice-presidency.

The platform committee, whose most difficult task it is to report a prohibition plank, had been at work continuously since the early evening, listening at first to the militant pleas of "wets" and "drys" at a public hearing, and then to the disagreements of its own members on both the spirit and letter of the party doctrine.

Before a sub-committee retired to begin writing the platform, there was the unusual spectacle of members of the whole committee telling it what they thought should be done.

The result was blazing exchanges on prohibition. About all that was ready for the administration action was the report of the credentials committee. Its consideration, and a speech by Representative Bertrand Snell, of New York, the new permanent convention chairman, occupied the morning session of the programme.

Later in the day the leaders hoped the platform committee's report would be ready for convention action. The probability of a floor fight of spectacular proportions increased as the sub-committee controlled by the administration argued over the exact wording of the plank proposing resubmission.

The sub-committee did not appear far from agreement among themselves, but advocates of outright repeal, and some "drys," saw some reason for their being satisfied with the final product.

Talk of defections from the re-nomination candidacy of Vice-President Charles Curtis continued, but the developments were not very convincing on any score. The New York delegation, largest in the whole convention, showed indication of going over to Charles G. Dawes, and several other states

Avalon Mobilizes Her Sportsmen For Annual Battle With Swordfish

Avalon, June 15.—Residents of this little town, on picturesque Catalina Island, 22 miles off the coast of Southern California, are extra busy these days. Boats are being remodeled and painted, hotels renovated and supplies purchased—all because of a fish family.

No signs of the depression are visible as the town prepares for the army of sportsmen coming within the next month for the annual summer onslaught on the marlin and broadbill swordfish, champion warriors of the seven seas.

A small fortune will be divided among boats owners, hotel keepers and restaurant proprietors here.

Deep sea anglers will tell you that tracking the swordfish with his watery lair and light rod is the biggest thrill on earth, and that the waters of the Pacific off this semitropical island contain more swordfish than any other place in the world—771 of them were caught there last summer.

Mr. Marlin and his first cousin, the broadbill swordfish, weigh from 100 to 600 pounds and are good food, though they are valued higher for their fighting qualities, sometimes battling for five to ten hours before being landed.

The bones of the upper jaw in the marlin and broadbill are consolidated and form a long, rigid, sword-like beak, which is used with deadly effect in fighting larger fish and sometimes used in their battles with humans. Many boats at Avalon are literally studded with the broken-off swords of these fighting fish.

The Catalina Island Tuna Club has standard specifications for tackle. A line that has a breaking strain of not more than 65 pounds, and a wooden rod not weighing more than thirteen ounces are termed "heavy tackle."

Light tackle outfits are composed of lines that break at 26 pounds and rods weighing six ounces. Several kinds of reels are used, most of them holding about 1000 feet of line.

Extra equipment includes a heavy leather belt, upon which the butt of the rod is rested during the battles with the swordfish. Many outfits cost nearly $1000.

Often the swordfish slashes at the bait several times with his bill before taking it, but when he does, he makes the water churn as he leaps into the air.

The experienced fisherman waits for this strike with his feet braced for the swordfish is capable of pulling a man overboard. With the fish securely hooked, the angler, prepared for any emergency, settles down for a long battle.

The swordfish has a pack of tricks. He leaps into the air time and again in an attempt to dislodge the hook, slashing at the line with his bill as he drops back into the water.

Failing, the fish races away at express train speed, sometimes running out more than 1000 feet of line before suddenly changing his course and returning to the boat.

The angler's boatman must act quickly then, swerving the craft to avoid the furious charge.

Maneuvers often continue for hours. The fish either breaks the line, dislodges the hook, or tires himself out and is drawn to the side of the boat, where he is gaffed and pulled on board.

pared for any emergency, settles down for a long battle.

The swordfish has a pack of tricks. He leaps into the air time and again in an attempt to dislodge the hook, slashing at the line with his bill as he drops back into the water.

Failing, the fish races away at express train speed, sometimes running out more than 1000 feet of line before suddenly changing his course and returning to the boat.

The angler's boatman must act quickly then, swerving the craft to avoid the furious charge.

Maneuvers often continue for hours. The fish either breaks the line, dislodges the hook, or tires himself out and is drawn to the side of the boat, where he is gaffed and pulled on board.

A STATESMANLIKE ADDRESS.

In his address as President to the Canadian Manufacturers, William H. Miner, of Granby, derided the present depression as being caused by a scarcity of products, for ours is a world of plenty. Neither, he said, was it due to high prices, for most costs are at the lowest point of the present century. "Nor can it be laid to inefficiency," continued Mr. Miner, "because there never was a time when the factories, the farms, the mines, and all other producing agencies were as well equipped. . . . It cannot be held that there is a lack of consumers, as the population of the world is greater, and living standards are higher than ever before."

"That the world has temporarily lost the art of working the delicate and nicely-balanced mechanism of the international financial and credit systems," is Mr. Miner's polite way of intimating that the bankers and financial men have lost their courage in the orderly operation of currency and capital upon which the well-being of the world largely depends.

Mr. Miner's analysis is a statesmanlike review of the present economic conditions, upon the sanctity of international contracts, and upon the psychological influences which are disturbed by the repudiation of such contracts.

There is a note of encouragement in his address, not the least of which is Mr. Miner's comment that in Canada "the Dominion, Provincial and Municipal governments have been restricting their expenditures."

This review of Mr. Miner's should be widely circulated throughout Canada and Britain, and even in the United States.

HOW AND WHEN WERE WE DEPRIVED OF TWO SENATORS?

There are six English-speaking representatives of Quebec in the Senate of Canada.

The Fathers of Confederation allotted eight, and that number was continued until "political exigency" began its devious course, and the spineless Montreal representatives permitted the usurpation without protest.

In the days of Editor Sellar, of the old Huntingdon Gleaner, no such violation of the spirit of the British North America Act was permitted. Nor should there have been after Mr. Sellar's demise.

We should have those two back again at the first opportunity.

The Confederation Act was specific in its protection of the minorities, but the government actions have ignored it and profaned its meaning.

When and where this profanation began we shall do our best to trace it and place the blame where it belongs.

Brome was disenfranchised within easy memory, for it was done in 1925, and the perpetrator was Hon. Mackenzie King. But we do not believe that he was to blame for nibbling at our English senatorial representation except in foisting on the Eastern Townships the wrong type of man who lacked every qualification set forth in the Act.

The Bennett administration has the first opportunity to right one of the wrongs done to the Eastern Townships. It can be done, and should be done.

THE CHOICE FOR THE WHITE HOUSE.

The Republican party in the United States has usually had one Leader, one dominating force, and it has usually appeared with a united front, except in the case where the little leaders revolted against the real leader, "Teddy" Roosevelt, a president with a dominant personality but a somewhat emotional reaction.

The Democrats have always had so many leaders of the professional type that their conferences remind one of a barn gathering of the original Kilkenny cats. There is always a lack of harmony in both policies and personalities.

With the best chance they have had since Lincoln's time on a logical analysis the Democrats may fall into an error and let some nonentity out Franklin Roosevelt. They may allow prejudice to put their choice on some thirty to one shot.

President Hoover, one of the ablest men who ever occupied the White House, faces the crisis of a year of Hard Times, where another year may have saved him.

EDITOR'S NOTES.

One more newspaper in the Eastern Townships is dead—and yet lives. The Ormstown Bulletin has been merged with the Huntingdon Gleaner, and the Gleaner will each week publish an Ormstown special page. Edward Hastings, the last owner of the Ormstown weekly, bids adieu to his friends and subscribers, and the Gleaner gathers them all in. Mr. Hastings returns to his boyhood home to take over his father's newspaper, the Dunville Gazette, which is to Haldimand County what the Gleaner is to Huntingdon and Chateauguy. Our old friend, Davie Hastings, has been editor of the Gazette for a quarter century. The Gleaner is edited by Adam L. Sellar, a son of its founder, Robert Sellar, author and journalist, who made it a power in the English community. That the Gleaner is being conducted with high ideals of service will be a surety that the Ormstown community will be well served in a change which marks "the trend of the times," as Mr. Sellar says.

Prohibition may be achieved by price, even though it has failed in the United States by statute. The duty on a bottle of liquor, plus the sales tax, is now $1.91. The excise tax on a bottle of domestic whiskey is $1.16, which about makes up the difference in cost between an imported and a rye whiskey. French cognac has a preferential over the Scottish liquors, which makes it cheaper even than domestic liquors. Why, one wonders. The taxes and imports have reached the point where further advances will not increase the revenue, but will have the very opposite effect, and would probably have the untoward temptation to an illicit traffic. "Election whiskey" is all smuggled into the country during a campaign, and is both vile and poisonous. Temperance will thus come through an evolution of deterrents rather than by compulsion.

"The Country Party" is the name given to the rural representatives in Australia. There is a lot in a name. The word "Progressives" has been done to death by a lot of illiterates and poor thinkers. The U.F.A. was killed as a name by poor little Drury, of Ontario. But "The Country Party" is an all-embracing name and we commend it to the farmers who are trying to compel the choice of sincere farm-minded members in all the rural constituencies, and who feel that such a choice will make for simplicity of government and economy therein. A well-balanced farmer despises the intellect of anyone who believes in public ownership.

There are some men who know so little about the science and psychology of advertising that Rufus Wallingfords have been able to sell them smoke rings in the sky or equally evanescent radio talks from broadcasting stations. They buy what they cannot either see or count, and the advertising agencies look upon them as quite easy to sell to.

What are the efficiency experts doing these days? They were in demand when times were good, their business being to make business better, by eliminating waste motion and evolving mass production at a minimum of cost. Now, businesses has qualified for the well-known epithet: "I was well; I would be better; and here I am."

An American couple were married on the centre span of the Niagara Falls bridge. "Cantilever?" inquired the groom. "Not now, you can't," said the officiating clergyman with an arch smile.

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY.

From the Files of the Sherbrooke Record.

June 15th, 1902.

The City Council unanimously passed a resolution, introduced by Councillor C. W. Cate, to accept Andrew Carnegie's offer of $15,000 for a free library building in Sherbrooke, the city to provide a site and pay annually the sum of $1,500 for its maintenance.

Barriers paid a visit to W. H. Griffith's drug store in the Whiting block and carried off the cash register, together with its contents, leaving no clue to their identity.

An important timber limit sale was concluded in the transfer of 60,000 acres in Lotbiniere, belonging to the King Brothers, to E. W. Tobin, M.P., and F. N. McCrea for a consideration in excess of $250,000.

A. H. Brooks arrived from St. Johnsbury to begin his duties as organist of Plymouth Church, and took up residence with his cousin, Mrs. T. J. Tuck, Bellevue avenue.

Mrs. G. N. Hodge was re-elected president of the W. C. T. U., at its annual meeting. Other officers appointed were Mrs. Carol Skinner, Mrs. G. E. Hyndman, Mrs. W. A. Morehouse and Mrs. Dowlin.

John Milford and Son distributed over 300 plants to the school children of the city, to be kept by them through the summer and exhibited at the Sherbrooke Fair in September.

Among departures were Miss Carrie Hovey to spend convocation week in Stanstead; Rev. F. J. Lett and family for their new home in Ottawa; R. B. Yates to attend a meeting of the R. T. of T., at Waterville.

Mr. Justice Lemieux held a term of court at Stanstead, his place on the bench of the Superior Court here being taken by Sir Melbourne Tait, of Montreal.

Word was received of the death at Wotton of Dr. I. B. father of Dr. Ludwig Forest, of Sherbrooke, in his 86th year.

LOONBEAMS

by Ted Bullock.

Their Excellencies the Governor-General and the Countess of Bessborough are in the Eastern Townships today.

I hope they will like us. I am not a member of their Privy Council, and I cannot speak as it were vice-regally; but I think they will. We are not bad.

I can speak for these Townships, however. And I have no hesitation in saying that this is a great day for us.

The office of Governor of Canada cannot be traced back by any stretch of the imagination for more than four centuries.

But there have been makers of quips like me much longer than that. I avail myself of my ancient office to emit a few remarks about Governors-General in general and the Earl and Countess of Bessborough in particular.

The Eastern Townships of Quebec are particularly loyal to the Throne. Our English-speaking population is loyal because all its traditions have been British.

Our French-speaking population is loyal because every French Canadian is a royalist both in tradition and by inclination. Being both English and French, being North American for more than three centuries on both sides of the family, I know what I am talking about.

We are stubbornly attached to the Throne. And we have to Their Excellencies of Rideau Hall the same deep attachment we have to Their Majesties of St. James's.

The Earl of Bessborough is a Governor-General and he looks like a Governor-General.

He is tall, dignified, reserved. He carries himself like a soldier. I cannot imagine him getting excited about anything.

He speaks slowly and clearly, choosing his words carefully.

He has a quiet sense of humour, which he keeps in the background out of respect for his exalted office.

In private life he was a gallant soldier and one of the most important business men in Britain.

He sat in the House of Commons before he took his hereditary seat in the Lords.

He is a Ponsonby. The Ponsonby family has been known for generations as a hard-fighting clan, fearless and resourceful. One of them covered himself with glory in the Battle of Waterloo.

Ottawa newspaper men like the Governor-General. Members of the press gallery are critical individuals. They waste no nicknames on people they do not like. There have been Governors the gallery disliked; they always got their full titles.

Newspaper men call the Earl of Bessborough, "Bessie."

That stands for a whole lot of affection.

Their Excellencies first came to Ottawa more than a year ago.

I shall never forget their arrival in the Union Station there.

I was hanging like a monkey from one of the bronze chandeliers, having got in on the morning train from Montreal too late to procure my tickets for the reception. If it hadn't been for my press gallery card I could not even have swung from the chandelier.

I saw the Governor-General come along with Prime Minister Richard Bedford Bennett. I was much impressed. I cheered like all the rest.

Then I saw the Countess.

And I nearly fell off the chandelier.

I was too thunderstruck to cheer.

Such beautiful women have no right to be Countesses.

Her Excellency is French. Cela l'explique.

MAN APPEARS FOR OPERATING CAR UNDER INFLUENCE OF LIQUOR

Alphonse Vachon of East Clifton, appeared in the Magistrate's Court this morning charged with operating his car under the influence of liquor. When the accusation was read to him, Vachon pleaded guilty and, when asked by the Court if he had any explanation to offer, he started a long soliloquy from which it was gathered that he thought himself accused of driving his car with old license plates.

"Do you plead guilty to operating a car under the influence of liquor?" asked the Court several times.

"I am guilty of driving my car without this year's registration

The social afternoon was most enjoyable, the pretty tea tables being arranged in the dining room and on the verandah, when at the tea hour the hostess was assisted in serving by members of the Auxiliary. The proceeds were very gratifying.

CUSTOMS OFFICIALS LEVY SEIZURE ON COLLECTION

Harvard University Drawn into Dispute Between Amber Collector and Customs House Officers.

Cambridge, Mass., June 15. — A collection of amber at the Agassiz Museum, Harvard University, has been attached by trustee process by customs officials, who charged that Abraham Sussman, of Worcester, owner of the amber, has not paid $275,000 in custom duties.

Harvard authorities said the collection, which includes amber containing fossilized insect life, was the most extensive in America. The attachment of the loan exhibit at Harvard resulted from the service of a writ of attachment for $300,000 in the Worcester registry of deeds for alleged evasion of duties on amber, linen and other articles.

The collection at Agassiz Museum was placed in the institution's custody six or seven years ago and the loan has been renewed each year since. It was to expire September 1, 1932.

Louis C. Bierweiler, assistant in the museum, said the scientific collection was invaluable, but doubted that it would bring commercially a fraction of the $275,000 the government seeks to recover.

"plates" came the reply.

The case was accordingly fixed for next Wednesday, and Vachon walked from the Court, his mind still befuddled about the whole matter.

Sentences in the cases of Stanley Hearn and Joachim Bourret, of Johnville, found guilty of selling live stock from a Johnville farmer, were again adjourned for a week.

Members of the Ladies' Guild of Plymouth United Church held their closing meeting for the season last evening at the home of Mrs. Gordon Knapp, Hubbard avenue. The president, Miss Vina Brownlow, was in the chair, and the meeting was well attended. Several matters of business were cleared up prior to the holiday season, after which Rev. Dr. Read addressed the members, congratulating them upon their splendid year's programme and extending best wishes to all for an enjoyable summer's rest and trusting all would return with renewed strength and enthusiasm to the Guild's work in the autumn. The remainder of the evening was spent in social enjoyment, the hostess later serving faintly refreshments, assisted by Miss Hilda Davies.

Members of the Fourth Troop Boy Scouts Mothers' Auxiliary, met at the home of the president, Mrs. F. F. Compton, Lincoln avenue, who presided at the business meeting. Several important matters were discussed and several items of business disposed of, following which the election of officers took place, resulting as follows: President, Mrs. E. Stocks; vice-president, Mrs. Edgcombe; secretary, Mrs. H. MacIntyre; and treasurer, Mrs. W. Duncan (re-elected). A vote of thanks was extended to the retiring officers, and after the business was concluded a social time was enjoyed. Cards were played at four tables, the prizes being won by Mrs. Banks, Mrs. Phelps and Mrs. Hansford. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, who was assisted by Miss McKay and Mr. Herbert Patton.

Yesterday's meeting of the Child Welfare Clinic of Sherbrooke, which was held in their room at the Whiting Block in the afternoon, was well attended. The president, Mrs. W. S. Allen, occupied the chair, and the reports for the past month were unusually interesting. Eight clinics were held in May, with a total attendance of 91, of which 54 were English speaking and 37 French children. There were 21 new cases, 10 referred to ear, eye, nose and throat, 13 for dentist, and 5 operations. Ten children were passed for operations. The clinic expenses for May totalled $224.25. The honorary treasurer of the Child Welfare Clinic of Sherbrooke, Mrs. E. W. Jones, gratefully acknowledges the following donations: $20 from the Junior Red Cross of the East Ward School; $10 from Mrs. Worts, of Eustis; $10 from Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Page; $5 from Mrs. Andrea Robinson; $3 from the Junior Red Cross of the North Ward school; $2 from Mrs. Frederick Hovey; $2 from Mrs. S. E. Francis; $1 from Miss E. Van Vliet, Miss L. Van Vliet, Mrs. G. Bishop, Miss I. Cobleigh, Miss Marion Tomlinson and Mrs. J. H. Bell.

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors of the Young Women's Christian Association was held yesterday at the "Howard Residence" Moore street, with Mrs. J. F. S. McCaw, the newly elected president, in the chair. This being the first meeting since the annual, several new members were welcomed.

Miss Van Buskirk, who is on holidays until September, left a report showing 272 free swimming lessons given during the month of May. The total swimming attendance for the month was 700. Nine girls had entered for the tests of the Royal Life Saving Society and all had been successful in attaining the award for which they had tried.

Miss Bulmer's report for the residence showed about the same average for meals served, but a slight increase over last year's record of transient guests for the same month. Certain repairs and renovations had been completed, which were much appreciated by the girls in residence.

The general secretary reported that several outside organizations had held twelve meetings at the MacKinnon Memorial. Miss Martens also gave a very brief outline of the programme of the Fourteenth National Convention, which she recently attended in Toronto.

EXPECT REPEAL PLANK TO WIN FULL SUPPORT

Democrat Leaders to Prepare Plank on Prohibition Long Before National Convention Opens.

Washington, June 15.—Mindful of Republican prohibition worries in Chicago, a group of Democratic leaders here is shaping a repeal plank they confidentially hope will win unqualified approval at the Democratic convention two weeks hence.

In keeping with the desire to keep the entire 1932 plank under 1,000 words, this plank uses just a few more than fifty to dispose of the liquor issue.

It declares for "immediate submission to state conventions" of a repeal amendment. This amendment would be so drafted as to assure "state control of the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors."

This principle-repeal of the eighteenth amendment by an amendment restoring state control is the heart of the plank.

The saloon is frowned upon in this plank, one paragraph plank. But it leaves no doubt that return of banishment of the saloon will be up to the states.

DEATH REMOVED STUDENT FROM LOCAL COLLEGE

Jean Letendre, Son of Dr. R. G. Letendre, of Danville, Passed Away Yesterday — Student Body Honored Dead Comrade.

A sombre note entered the gay festivities associated with the annual closing exercises of St. Charles Seminary yesterday when Jean Letendre, a member of the freshman class, passed away after an illness of but a week's duration. The pall of sorrow enshrouded the students when it was learned that the illness with which the eighteen-year-old student was stricken on the eve of the reunion of the graduates last week had proved fatal. Young Letendre was removed to the Hotel Dieu last Tuesday and operated on immediately for appendicitis. The malady, however, was in such an advanced stage that complications set in and took their toll despite the efforts made to save the life of such a brilliant pupil.

Jean Letendre, who was a son of Dr. R. G. Letendre, of Danville, and a nephew of Canon O. Z. Letendre, parish priest at the Cathedral, enrolled in the local institution five years ago, following in the footsteps of his three older brothers. Last year four members of this well-known Danville family attended the Seminary, two of whom graduated and are now studying in Montreal. A younger brother is still a student here.

Beloved as a student and thought highly of by his superiors and teachers, young Letendre was a hard-working student and had completed his freshman year with distinction. He was preparing for a well-merited vacation when death intervened and cut short the beginning of what promised to be a distinguished career.

The body was transferred from the hospital to the Seminary yesterday afternoon. Preceded by the Seminary band under Rev. Father Herman Morin, the long cortege wended its way through the streets to the strains of the "Dead March." The bearers were six class mates. The faculty, headed by Father Victor Vincent, superior, Father Michael Couture, assistant superior, and Father Napoleon Codere, bursar, and the entire student body walked in front of the hearse, which was followed by members of the family.

The body was laid in state in the college parlor for an hour and a Libera was chanted by Father Vincent. Later, the remains were accompanied to the city limits by the faculty, student body and the band, and a last farewell was bade as the body was returned to Danville, where the funeral will be held Friday morning.

Jean Letendre leaves to mourn his passing his five brothers, Paul, Emile Letendre, studying medicine at Laval University, Quebec; Gerard Letendre, a student at the Seminary, Montreal; Lionel and George Aime Letendre, also studying in Montreal, and Germain Letendre, a member of the St. Charles Seminary student body, and three sisters studying at the Presentation Convent in St. Hyacinthe.

Mother Mab Says:

"Some women I know pay too much attention to balanced food values, and not enough to balanced flavours."

"Nothing tops off a heavy meal better than a nibble of cooling after-dinner mints."

"Whether you like your coffee black, or touched up with a dash of sugar and a spot of cream, it seems to take on an added zest from the sharply contrasting nip of mint."

You will find the "snappiest" mints in Sherbrooke.

TRAVELING MAN ENDORSES ALL-BRAN

Says It Brought Relief From Constipation

"I want to take this unsolicited means to tell you what ALL-BRAN has done for me. I am on the road all the time, and this has a tendency to constipate me, or any one who travels all the time. I used to suffer a great deal from constipation, until some one told me about Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Since I have been eating this cereal, I have been cured of constipation. I heartily endorse it to any one suffering as I did."

COURT CASES TAKEN UNDER CONSIDERATION

His Lordship Mr. Justice Charles D. White Took Matters of Compton vs. Mailhot and Olivier vs. Sherbrooke Under Consideration.

A petition filed by Edmond Mailhot of the Township of St-Etienne for the revision of a judgment by default rendered against him in favor of Edmond Campagna, of East Angus, on March 24, 1930, was taken under consideration by His Lordship Mr. Justice Charles D. White in the Superior Court yesterday afternoon.

Following the judgment by default, Mailhot continued, the service of writs had not been made on him despite the alleged fact that the bailiff was aware that he lived with his father in the Township of Cleveland. In conclusion, he asked that because of these irregularities he be permitted to contest the original action, that the judgment by default be annulled and that the action be dismissed.

The case of Valerie Olivier, of Magog, against the Sherbrooke Carpet Mills was taken on for deliberation by His Lordship yesterday afternoon.

Advertisement for Imperial Life Assurance Co. "This Boy Will go to College". The hand of fate selects one lad and rejects another — why? In each case the father intended to send his boy to college. Both realized the value of a college education for the lad, but in one case, something happened. Perhaps the father died before he could complete his plans. Perhaps he did not have the money when his boy (or girl) was ready for college. Other demands on his resources may have stepped in and said "no." How will your lad or daughter fare when college time comes—when the final training for a successful professional or business career should be available? It is true the prices in life go to the well trained mind. An Imperial Educational Endowment Policy would guarantee the money. You then have a definite contract with us that the funds will be available, say $1,000 a year for 4 years, whether you are here or not. LETTER GIVES EARLY ACCOUNT OF MONTREAL

Old Scrapbook Contained Letter Which Told of Visit to Canada's Metropolis in the Late Seventies.

From an old scrap-book has come the following account of a visit made to Montreal in the late seventies. It is interesting to all who know Montreal and are interested in its long history. The letter reads: To Montreal and the White Mountains, No. 2.

Brookfield, Vt., July 31, 1877. The Montrealsians are proud, and justly too, of their city, and they never tire of extolling its wonders. And for first-class brag comment me to an English resident of Montreal. One of these individuals sat opposite us at the table, and in exclaiming upon the marvellous things to be seen in Montreal, remarked that we ought to visit St. Helen's Isc. "that we should find it such a charming spot," and gave us the astonishing information that it was "entirely surrounded by water," which upon examination we found to be an actual fact. Montreal is substantially built and almost entirely of stone. The stone is a limestone and is found in inexhaustible quantities on the island just back of the mountain. The buildings as a rule are not as high as in the cities of the Union, but they have an air of solidity that is really refreshing compared with our reckless style of building. The streets with a very few exceptions are quite narrow, and the sidewalks are still worse. But as no one h... in Montreal it is just as well. Pedestrians take their time, stop into the street if necessary, and wait for others to pass. It is the most leisurely city I ever got into. Perhaps it was because business was dull, but I am inclined to think it was due to the fact that the city is so flat in Montreal. I am told it was never so dull as now. An immense amount of money has been expended on public buildings and improvements of various kinds, and taxes in consequence are excessively high and burdensome.

Millions of dollars have been spent on the wharves alone, which extend along the river front for five miles, and are the finest in the country, being built of stone in the most solid and enduring manner. In 1815, one hundred and seventy-three years after its settlement, the first provision was made for widening the streets of the city, one of the arguments in favor of such a course being that if the streets were properly lighted the ladies would be induced to visit their friends more frequently, (an argument which holds good to this day, I think). But as Atwater and I strolled along the dark streets that Friday night and saw not a lamp lighted, (there was an old moon but it was very cloudy), tears came into our eyes; it reminded us so much of home, for we remembered that in all the wide economy of the city fathers all Meriden (Conn.) was in the dark, too, and we came to the conclusion that Montreal hadn't made much advance, in this respect at least. We intended to have done the city by daylight, and the only thing that prevented us was the fact that there wasn't any gaslight to do it by. Montreal is famed, not only for its churches but for its private and public buildings as well. Among the latter may be mentioned the custom house, the new city hall, the post office, the Albert buildings, the magnificent Y.M.C.A. buildings (just a little ahead of Brother Benham's), and Bonsecours Market, a very fine building in the Grecian-Doric style of architecture, built of cut stone at a cost of nearly a million dollars. The splendid Windsor Hotel (not finished) and the many elegant bank buildings should be visited. There is one specimen of architecture, however, that is not spoken of in any guide book that no one visiting Montreal should fail to see, and that is the depot or station of the Grand Trunk Railroad. I have seen fine depots but never one that compared in grandeur to this one unless it is the one at West Meriden, Conn. Residents take peculiar pleasure in pointing the building out to strangers, and they tell you with pride that the railroad company has $200,000 laid aside for the purpose of erecting a new one and are only waiting for the city to help them out. But what they want a new one for is shed they use is large enough to sell timber in, and as long as they can stand it what business has the travelling public to complain.

But leaving the public buildings we came to the churches. A whole letter would not suffice to do justice to them so I shall only speak of a few of the more notable ones. First, the Bonsecours Church near the market, and from which the market takes its name should be visited to note the contrast between the ancient and modern; it being, so it is said, the oldest church on the continent. The new Jesuit Church with its beautiful paintings, the Canadian St. Peter's, 300 feet in length and its dome 70 feet in diameter, and its ceiling 210 feet from the spectators on the floor, modelled after St. Peter's at Rome, must not be overlooked. Then there are the French and English cathedrals, the elegant edifices and numbers of very fine Protestant churches beside. But the parish church of Notre Dame is the centre of attraction among the churches. This giant among pigmies is 225 feet long by 134 feet in breadth. On the west front it has two towers, 220 feet high. The eastern window of the altar is 64 feet high by 32 in depth. In the southwest tower is placed the largest bell in America weighing 24,780 pounds, while the other tower contains a chime of bells. Boots at the hotel, told me at the hotel that they never ring the big bell for fear that it will break all the windows in the neighborhood. The church will seat 10,000 persons. It has seven altars, and when I enquired why it had so many, Boots, the authority quoted above, and who is a devout Catholic, informed me that formerly it was required of all devout worshippers to do penance on certain days at seven different altars in seven different churches, but this got to be too much of a good thing especially in the winter. So the Pope very kindly decreed, they might do it all in one church and receive absolution all the same, which, I think, was very kind on the part of His Holiness. We climbed to the top of the tower and were amply repaid for our labor by finest view of the city we had yet obtained. Sunday morning, in company with my friend, Miss H. of Boston, I attended divine service in Notre Dame. A strapping great fellow in a uniform of scarlet and gold, who acted as beadle, politely conducted us through the dense crowd that thronged the vestibule and aisles, to a seat far up in front and where we sat for two long hours on the hard benches till we thought that we had done penance enough, surely. The music was very fine. A superb chorus of men and boys on either side of the altar, greatly adding to its effectiveness. The sermon was in French, and from what I understood of it must have been a very eloquent one. The clear ringing tones of the preacher could be distinctly heard in the remotest corner of the immense edifice, and he proved to be an equally good singer, as we heard him afterward in the male chorus at the altar. The walls and ceiling of the church are adorned with beautiful paintings, and the altar is a glittering mass of ornamental work but the floors are unadorned, as are all Catholic churches, and I could not help thinking as I did in the cathedral in Philadelphia, where I saw a poor woman, kneel on the hard marble floor and remained in the same position an hour, that their religion was not all a luxury. Just before the close of the service, the beades passed through the aisles, preceded by a boy, who carried a large plate on which was deposited the contributions, and from time to time the contents of the plates were poured in a large red bag, carried by the beadle, a proceeding that at first sight seems odd to a stranger, but when we remembered the size and weight of Canadian coins and the amount taken up in a single collection the necessity for such a course was readily seen. Monday morning we were awakened by the sweet chimes of Notre Dame, and we wondered if this was another Sunday, but soon learned that this was only a holiday. We arrived just too late to have a hand in the Orangemen's

PAYMENT OF FREE STATE LAND ANNUITIES DELAYED

Actually Due "on or Before June 30th," So that No Real Significance Is Attached to Delay Today.

London, June 15.—Although today has been mentioned as the date on which the next instalment of the Irish Free State land annuities are due to the national debt commissioners of Great Britain, the payment is actually due "on or before June 30" so that no real significance attaches to the fact the debt commissioners did not receive the payment today.

The Free State Government stands by its determination to withhold payment of the land annuities, apparently, along with its intention to abolish the parliamentary oath of allegiance, policies which led to the present differences between the Free State and Great Britain.

The payment due this month amounts to £1,500,000, half of the yearly payment of annuities which

FRUIT MARKET QUITE ACTIVE IN MONTREAL

Prices Still Relatively Low—Majority of Commodities that Did Change in Price Suffered Drop.

Montreal, June 15.—The following cars of fruits and vegetables arrived in Montreal for the week ending June 14th: apples 3, other fruit 7, bananas 14, other tropical fruit 53, potatoes 114, other vegetables 55. Total cars 246.

By boat there also arrived from British West Indies 82,497 stems of bananas and from Bermuda the following: beans 23 crates, cabbage 96 crates, carrots 485 crates, celery 1,062 crates, corn 17 crates, cukes 31 crates, onions 164 crates, squash 33 crates, tomatoes 1,616 crates and potatoes 1,112 crates and eight crates of other produce.

The weather has improved greatly this week, the last few days being decidedly warm.

The market this week has been quite active, Monday being the best day when a large volume of business was carried through. In spite of the active market, however, prices are still relatively low and the majority of those commodities that did change in price suffered a drop.

Prices on the apple market fell off slightly during the week. Michigan apples were selling at around $2.25 per hamper and Washington winesaps at $2.40 to $2.60 per box.

The potato market dropped slightly this week due to rather heavy arrivals. In the domestic stock, local whites are still offering at 30 to 35 cents per eighty pound bag, while Quebec and New Brunswick Green Mountains in fifteen pound boxes at 13 to 16 cents. Supplies of imported potatoes are very liberal and prices for the same are as follows: South Carolina barrels No. 2's $4.50; North Carolina No. 1's $5.75; Florida cwt. No. 2's $2.50; and Bermuda crates No. 1's $2.25. Just at present there are no Bermuda barrels or No. 2 crates on the market.

PRESENT GRAIN RATE REGARDED AS REASONABLE

Does Not Unjustly Discriminate Against Inland Millers of Ontario in Favor of Millers of Western Canada.

Ottawa, June 15.—The seasonal rail rates on grain and grain products, set up by the Canadian railways for the purpose of meeting water-borne competition between the heads of the lakes and lake ports to the point on the St. Lawrence and the Atlantic coast, do not unjustly discriminate against the inland millers of Ontario in favor of the millers of Western Canada, the Board of Railway Commissioners decided in a judgment delivered here.

The issue arose in an application by the Lakeside Milling Co., Ltd., of Toronto, on behalf of all other Ontario grain millers for a rate on eastbound milled products from Ontario points that would be commensurate with the "water-competitive rate" applied on similar traffic from lake ports.

The disputed rates are greatly reduced "from the normal 'out of season' schedule. From the three Rivers and Quebec they are 21 cents per 100 pounds, and to Saint John, Sydney, Halifax and Yarmouth, 36 cents per 100 pounds.

The export water-competitive rate from Fort William and Port Arthur to Montreal gives a difference of four cents per 100 pounds in favor of the western millers, and in the 36-cent group, a difference to the advantage of the westerners of seven cents to Saint John and nine cents to Halifax.

Analysis of the traffic from the head of the lakes to St. Lawrence and Maritime points over a period of four years showed that the "lake-and-rail" business had fallen from 96.6 per cent. in 1923 to 73.9 per cent. in 1931; correspondingly, the "all-water" traffic had increased from 3.4 per cent. to 26.1 per cent. It was in order to counteract this decrease in lake-and-rail business that the railways introduced the seasonal competitive rates.

SUPPORTERS OF ALFONSO GIVEN LITTLE CHANCE

Another Prominent Spaniard Arrested in Connection With Suspected Plot to Restore Monarchy.

Barcelona, Spain, June 15.—General Emilio Barrera, who was one of the most influential men in Spain during the dictatorship of Primo de Rivera, was arrested here today at his home and charged with being implicated in a plot to restore King Alfonso to the throne.

The General's son and Baron de Mora were arrested in Madrid in connection with the plot and General Barrera was to be taken there for questioning together with the other two prisoners.

For the last six days there have been rumors that a plot to restore the monarchy was afoot, but officials of the Government were reticent. General Barrera was understood to have been charged with cooperating with officers of the Barcelona garrison in the plot.

His connection was believed to have been revealed to police by a list of names found in Baron de Mora's house when it was raided in Madrid.

Among the documents uncovered, police said, was a letter from the Duke of Miranda, personal secretary to Alfonso, and railroad tickets which indicated Baron de Mora had been to Paris and to Eibar, where one of the most important of Spain's arms and ammunition factories is located.

The officers said they believed a considerable amount of arms and ammunition had been kept in the Baron's house by the alleged plotters but that it was removed before the plot was discovered.

REMOVING ALL RESTRICTIONS ON EXCHANGE

New Zealand Business Interests Fear Too Sudden Rise in Exchange Rates Following the Removal of "Pegs."

Wellington, New Zealand, June 15.—Prime Minister G. W. Forbes announces the government will lift the regulations restricting exchange at the end of the month. There will be no further interference with the exchange rate, which has become the care of the banks, he stated. The pooling of exchange was instituted by the government last winter.

The announcement has aroused grave fears in banking and commercial circles regarding the possibility of maintaining the New Zealand exchange rate at its present level. Banking circles are apprehensive that one of the leading banks in New Zealand, which is a branch of an Australian bank, may act independently with the view of raising the rate.

Any increase in the New Zealand exchange rate would be suicidal, bankers government last winter, before the Imperial Economic Conference in Ottawa has concluded. It is pointed out the situation here is entirely different to that in Australia and it is understood the interests concerned will make strong representations to the government to ensure postponement of any rise in the rate pending the Ottawa Conference.

WIDE VARIANCE IN CROP REPORT FOR PROVINCES

Conditions in Western Provinces Lock Much More Promising and Are Much Improved Over 1931—Season Backward in Quebec.

Ottawa, June 15.—Crops in the western provinces look much more promising and are much improved over 1931, although there is rather widespread variance in crop conditions throughout Canada, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported yesterday.

The report, the first of a series of six fortnightly telegraphic reports on crop conditions throughout the Dominion, says seeding and growth are backward in the Maritimes, Quebec and eastern Ontario.

In central and southern Ontario crops look much more promising. Fruit prospects range from good in the Maritimes, Quebec and Ontario to excellent in British Columbia.

In the Prairie Provinces, adds the report, recent rains have been fairly well distributed, but northern and southwestern areas of Manitoba report that drought conditions are still present. Grasshoppers and cutworms are numerous and menacing, but still fairly well under control.

Crops throughout Alberta promise particularly high yields: The general soil moisture situation is quite satisfactory at present, but June and July rains must be obtained to offset the deficiencies resulting from three years of drought.

In British Columbia, temperatures have been high and very little rain has fallen recently so that, while present prospects are good, rain will soon be needed to ripen early cherries and are now being shipped, and are excellent crops.

The spring season was very backward in the Maritimes and growth has been much slower than usual. Hay and pasture land has less than average yield because of winter-killing weeds and cold weather. Potato acreage is reduced and the area in grains is somewhat higher. The set of apple blossoms promises a crop approaching average; plums and cherries will give a fair yield; while bush fruits and strawberries have been damaged to some extent.

Over most of Quebec and in eastern and northern Ontario, the weather has been similarly cold and dry so that the season is very backward. In the southern and central counties of Ontario, there has been more rainfall and higher temperatures so that the yield outlook is more promising. Fall wheat is maintaining its higher condition.

EXTENSION OF CANADIAN TRADE AGREEMENT SOUGHT

Importers Point to Disruption of Trade Between Canada and France Unless Treaty Is Extended.

Paris, June 15.—French wheat importers are pressing the French government to act promptly in an endeavor to reach some basis of agreement for continuation of the Franco-Canadian treaty, which is due to expire at midnight tonight, failing which Canadian wheat—along with other commodities from the Dominion—will be required to pay the maximum tariff.

Jean Durand, Minister of Commerce, is known to be negotiating with the Canadian Government in an effort to reach agreement on continuation of the trade treaty pending revision.

MINISTER HAS FINAL WORD ON DEPORTATIONS

Nova Scotia Court of Appeals Unanimously Supports Judgment of Lower Courts in Case of Alleged Communists.

Halifax, N.S. June 15.—The fate of the group of alleged Communists, who have been detained in Halifax for some weeks while their efforts to evade deportation were before the courts, now rests solely in the hands of the Minister of Immigration, Hon. Wesley A. Gordon. It was stated today by L. A. Ryan, counsel for the group, that there was no further recourse to higher courts as the decision of the full bench of the Supreme Court of Nova Scotia, delivered Saturday last, had been unanimous. The full bench confirmed the earlier judgment of Mr. Justice Carroll of the Supreme Court, who dismissed habeas corpus action brought on behalf of eight of the eleven men.

Disposal of the appeals against deportation, which are dealt with by the minister in person, has been delayed pending the outcome of the court actions. It is now expected that the appeals will be passed upon without further delay, and advice from Ottawa is expected momentarily.

BRITISH STAND IN REGARD TO LUMBER TRADE

Earl Winterton Wanted Specific Assurance that British Forestry Products Would Not Be Treated Like a "Shuttlecock" at Empire Conference.

London, June 15.—Although the British preparations for the Imperial Economic Conference at Ottawa are to be fully debated on Thursday, questioners in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon heckled the Government on the attitude towards British forestry production and the carriage of intra-Empire cargoes in British ships.

After a running cross-fire between Stanley Baldwin, acting Prime Minister, and Earl Winterton, Conservative, James Maxton, who leads the Independent Labor members, raised a laugh by asking if it were not the case that an outstanding characteristic of ministers of the present government was that they were unable to see the wood for the trees.

Earl Winterton wanted to know whether the question of British forestry production at Ottawa would be dealt with according to circumstances by individual British delegates or by the delegation as a whole, and was not satisfied with Mr. Baldwin's reply. He wanted specific assurance British forestry products would not be treated like a "shuttlecock."

Mr. Baldwin refused to go into details, saying there were about six ministers going to Ottawa and there were literally hundreds of industries. It was perfectly impossible to say before they got to the conference who would deal with any given subject or industry, he added.

J. H. Thomas, Dominions' Secretary, who was asked to see that special consideration was given the policy of British ships for British cargoes, said the House would have an opportunity of fully debating conference matters on Thursday.

GOVERNOR-GENERAL AND LADY BESSBOROUGH ARE WELCOMED BY CITIZENS

"As the natural center of such a district, Sherbrooke has a special interest for anybody who is endeavoring, as I am, to acquaint himself with all parts of this great country. I am, therefore, sincerely glad to be here today to see something of the activities of your city."

Both Lady Bessborough and I. I. can assure you, are very grateful for the manner in which it has welcomed us, and for the admirable arrangements that have enabled us to spend a pleasant day in your midst."

The heat during the official reception was extremely intense and provided more than some of the younger members of the Boy Scouts could endure. In fact, during the short proceedings some seventeen of the Sherbrooke House for relief from the sun's scorching rays.

The official reception concluded, the party proceeded by motor up King street to the Soldiers' Monument, where His Excellency placed a wreath at the base of the monument in memory of those brave lads who had fallen in the great war from Sherbrooke, who were not present to take part in the celebration. Here also the Countess of Bessborough was presented with flowers, the presentation being made by little Miss Betty Keene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forest Keene.

In presenting the flowers to Her Excellency, little Miss Keene said: "On behalf of the returned men of the Eastern Townships, I assure you we are honored to have you accept them." Her Excellency smilingly accepted the token and then turning to the little lady from whom she had received them, said: "Parlez-vous Francais?" to which the little tot replied, perhaps much to the surprise of Lady Bessborough, "oui, oui, Madame."

President N. Gendron, of the Magog band, should be proud of the reception accorded to the Duke and Countess of Bessborough, and the many other distinguished guests who were not present to take part in the celebration. Here also the Countess of Bessborough was presented with flowers, the presentation being made by little Miss Betty Keene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forest Keene.

The City of Sherbrooke has long enjoyed favor with occupants of Government House at Ottawa.

Today's visit of Their Excellencies the Earl and Countess of Bessborough, the actual residents of this country, is a most interesting and similar occasion in the history of the people of this loyal British city who have greeted other of the King's representatives.

It is interesting to note that every governor-general since the time of Lord Dufferin, 1904-1911, has paid an official visit to Sherbrooke. The Earl and Countess of Grey were in Sherbrooke on September 10, 1907, and their successors, Their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of Connaught, came on June 18, 1914, a few weeks before the World War was declared.

REPUBLICANS COME TO AGREEMENT ON PROHIBITION REPEAL PROBLEM

Continued From Page 1. seemed ready to follow. Meantime a dozen other names were mentioned, including that of Col. Hiram MacNider, United States Minister to Canada.

MacNIDER'S CHANCES FOR VICE-PRESIDENCY GOOD

Chicago, June 15.—Hanford MacNider, Minister to Ottawa, refused to comment today on the prospect of his being the next vice-president of the United States.

The minister, who attends the national convention of the Republican party in his capacity as president of the Ex-Service Men's Republic League, and is a former commander of the American Legion, delivered the middle western vote and the vote of war veterans to President Hoover in 1928.

His chief disadvantage as a candidate for the vice-presidential chair lies in the fact he comes from a state which has a small electoral college vote. The party looking for voters in the difficult year of 1932 would more probably turn to such a state as Illinois.

Nevertheless if Charles Curtis should not be renominated for the vice-president and the other well-touted candidates like General Charles Gates Dawes, Pat Hurley, and Walter Edge, ambassador to Paris, should be turned down, the chances of the man who was sent to Canada to negotiate a St. Lawrence waterways treaty would be promising.

The City of Sherbrooke has long enjoyed favor with occupants of Government House at Ottawa.

Today's visit of Their Excellencies the Earl and Countess of Bessborough, the actual residents of this country, is a most interesting and similar occasion in the history of the people of this loyal British city who have greeted other of the King's representatives.

It is interesting to note that every governor-general since the time of Lord Dufferin, 1904-1911, has paid an official visit to Sherbrooke. The Earl and Countess of Grey were in Sherbrooke on September 10, 1907, and their successors, Their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of Connaught, came on June 18, 1914, a few weeks before the World War was declared.

On March 16, 1921, Sherbrooke bid welcome to the Duke and Duchess of Devonshire, and on December 12, 1923, Lord and Lady Byng honored the city. The last to visit Sherbrooke were Lord and Lady Willingdon, who were here in the month of August on August 30, 1927.

Today Sherbrooke greets Canada's fourteenth governor-general since Confederation. To the Earl and Countess of Bessborough the citizens extend greetings and place at their disposal the Sherbrooke Hotel, where the distinguished guests all winter the city has offered in the way of friendly hospitality.

The Earl of Bessborough is the worthy successor of a distinguished group who have represented the King and acted on his behalf in this country, one of the most important dominions in the British Empire. Before him have gone such great men as Viscount Willingdon, 1927-31; Lord Byng, 1921-27; Duke of Devonshire, 1916-21; Duke of Connaught, 1911-16; Earl Grey, 1904-11; Earl of Minto, 1898-1904; Earl of Aberdeen, 1893-1901; Earl of Stanley, 1888-93; Marquis of Lansdowne, 1880-83; Marquis of Lorne, 1878-83; Earl of Dufferin, 1872-78; Lord Lisgar, 1869-72; Lord Monck, 1867-69.

The ancestors of Vere Brabazon Ponsby, ninth Earl of Bessborough, and his wife, the Governor-General of Canada, originally came from Picardy, and they lived in Cumberland for quite a while before one of them, Ponsby of Hale, went to Ireland, where he was granted estates by Cromwell. Shortly after the Restoration, Charles II confirmed Ponsby in his possession, and he resolved to leave his English property to his eldest son by his first wife and the Irish property in Kildalton, in County Kilkenny, to his son by his second wife. He then changed the name of his Irish estate from Kildalton to Kildalton, after the Daltons, the former owners, and it received the name of Bessborough in honor of his second wife, Elizabeth, daughter of Lord Folliott, familiarly known as Bess, and it was his eldest son who was raised to the peerage by George I.

He took the title of Baron Bessborough and Viscount Duncannon. His son in turn was created Earl of Bessborough by King George II. This Earl of Bessborough had five daughters. The younger, John became speaker of the Irish House of Commons, and was one of the most influential men in Ireland. His son in turn was Lord Chancellor of Ireland. The eldest son of the first Earl of Bessborough, who became second earl, greatly enhanced the power of the family by marrying the daughter of the Duke of Devonshire. By this marriage he had a son and two daughters. One daughter ter, Lady Catherine, married the fifth Duke of St. Albans, while the second, Lady Charlotte married the fourth Earl of Fitz-William, a well-known viceroy of Ireland. The fourth Earl of Bessborough married Henrietta Spencer, first Earl of Spencer's daughter, a man who had more political influence than any Whig peer of the time. He was himself a grandson of the Earl of Sunderland, who through his wife inherited a large portion of the wealth of her famous father the Duke of Marlborough.

The fifth earl married twice and it is of interest to note that both his wives were daughters of Governors-General of Canada. His first wife was daughter of the famous Earl of Durham, to whom Canada owes so much, and his second wife, daughter of the Duke of Richmond. The present Earl of Bessborough's mother was a sister of Lord Wimburne.

Lord Bessborough the Governor-General succeeded his father as ninth Earl in 1920 when he was just forty years of age. Educated at Harrow and Trinity College, Cambridge, he was called to the bar in 1903, at the age of twenty-three and took up the practise of law. In 1906 he was unsuccessful in a Conservative contest and then decided to apply himself to municipal politics. From 1907 to 1910 he was a diligent member of the London County Council. In 1910 when two general elections were held, Viscount Duncannon, as he was then, was elected member for Cheltenham. In 1918, Viscount Duncannon returned to the House of Commons as Conservative member for Dover. He left in 1920, on the death of his father when he succeeded to the earldom, and entered the House of Lords.

During the war he served on the general staff in the Gallipoli campaign. For the last two years of the Great War he was on the staff in France.

He holds numerous high foreign orders including the Russian Order of St. Anne; the French Legion of Honor; the Greek Order of the Redeemer; the Italian Order of St. Maurice and St. Lazarus and the Belgian Order of Leopold II.

NET EARNINGS OF POWER COMPANY HIGHER FOR MAY

Southern Canada Reports $111,095 Profit as Compared With $110,721 in May Last Year.

Montreal, Que., June 15.—Due to a reduction in expenses more than sufficient to offset the drop in gross revenues, net earnings of Southern Canada Power Company, for the month of May, show an increase of $374 over the like period of 1931. Gross at $173,424, compared with $183,418, down $9,994, while expenses are cut by $10,368, to $62,329, leaving the month's net $111,095, against $110,721 a year ago. This is the fourth consecutive gain in monthly net.

For the eight elapsed months of the company's fiscal year, gross earnings at $1,519,922 show a reduction of $7,158 from a year ago. In the same period expenses have been reduced by $65,730, to $553,993, leaving net earnings at $965,939, against $967,397, or the comparatively small decline in eight months of $1,428.

CONDITION OF PRINCESS BEATRICE SATISFACTORY

London, June 15.—The condition of Princess Beatrice, aunt of the King, who yesterday underwent an operation for removal of a cataract from the right eye, was very satisfactory today.

Former King Alfonso of Spain, the Princess' son-in-law, paid a visit to her today.

VETERANS KEEP YANKEES ATOP PENNANT RACE

Expensive New Talent Secured by New York in Spring Gives Way to Old Timers as Season Progresses — Foxx Adds Two Home Runs to Widen Gap Over "Babe" Ruth.

New York, June 11.—The Yankees, plowing through the lead and building up an imposing lead in the American League pennant race as their victories mount, owe very little of their success to the costly lot of new talent that was turned over to Manager Joe McCarthy this spring. Except for the pitching staff, the club that today looks like an even bet to race on unchecked to the pennant is the same that finished second a year ago. It is, in fact, the first team in the league to go back definitely to its 1931 line-up.

Gone are Jack Saltzgraver and Frank Crosetti, the expensive young stars who were supposed to "make" the Yankees infield, and in their places are Joe Sewell and Tony Lazzari, veterans who have proved their worth. Crosetti still is around, but Saltzgraver has been sent to Newark. Also, Professor Earl Combs is back at his old outfield post, playing some of the greatest ball of his career. There was a time this spring when the club was trying to trade Lazzari for a pitcher—almost any pitcher—and would have parted with Sewell and Combs without much argument, but they are off the market now.

All three played steady ball yesterday to help the leaders make it three out of four from Cleveland by seven to six. Danny MacFayden received credit for his first victory in a Yankee uniform, although he was shelled from the hill in the 9th and for the second straight day Cleveland had the tying run in third base at the final out. Bill Dickey gave the Yanks a lead they never relinquished in the second inning when he hit his third home run in two days with Chapman on base, but the Indians threatened to the last. Earl Averill kept them in the running with four hits, including a home run. A triple steal gave the Yanks the winning run in the seventh frame.

The Athletics made it three out of four over Detroit by ten to five and kept pace with the leaders as Jimmy Foss propelled his twenty-fourth and twenty-fifth home runs of the year. As Washington was dropping another to St. Louis, the victory boosted the Mackmen into a tie for second place. Foss, hitting his home runs in successive times at bat, knocked in four runs and scored two. Rube Walberg went the route for the A's.

The St. Louis Browns' victory over Washington was their seventh in eight engagements this year. George Blaholder tamed the Senators most of the way, while his mates knocked young Monte Weaver form the box and treated his successors roughly. The score was seventeen to three.

Although the White Sox loaded the bases on Bob Kline in the eleventh inning, they could not put a run across and the Boston Red Sox beat Ted Lyons by five to four. Al Van Camp's double in the eleventh, followed by a pair of sacrifices, yielded the winning run.

Philadelphia and Cincinnati supplied all the action in the National League by dividing a doubleheader. The Phillies captured the first game by six to five, when they got to Owen Carroll for five hits and scored three times after two were out in the ninth, but the Reds came back behind old John Ogden's steady pitching to take the night-cap by five to two.

Three other programmes were rained out.

HINDENBURG TO REMOVE BAN ON HITLER TROOPS

However, Nazis Not to Be Allowed Complete Freedom Despite Lifting of Ban on Shock Troop Organizations.

Berlin, June 15.—President Von Hindenburg today signed an emergency decree, raising the ban which the Bruening Government placed on the National Socialist storm troops, but its text will not be published until tomorrow, and it will not become effective until Friday. It was disclosed several days ago that the President had prepared the decree and last night, as a forerunner, the Government revoked its predecessor's ruling which denied Adolf Hitler's party the use of the German broadcasting system. Gregor Strasser, one of the Nazi leaders, broadcast a speech outlining the familiar aims of Hitler's party.

Today there were indications that the Nazis will not have all the freedom they would like, even when the ban on the storm troops

NEW WORLD RECORD SET FOR 400-METRE RELAY

Kassel, Germany, June 15.—The German Olympic sprint relay team of Koernig, Borchungen, Lammers and Jonath yesterday bettered the world's record for the 400-metre relay, running the distance in 40.6 seconds.

The listed world's record for the 400-metre relay is 40.3 seconds, held by two German teams. Jonath, Corts, Houben and Koernig were clocked in that time on September 2, 1928, and Koernig, Groszer, Nathan and H. Schloske negotiated the distance on July 22, 1929, in the same time.

CHANGE IN DESIGN OF SPEED BOAT

Detroit, Mich., June 15.—Radically different from her predecessors, the hull of Miss America X, newest of Gar Wood's creations for defense of the Harmsworth Trophy, today was a finished product.

When Kaye Don, British pilot, renews his challenge in September over the new Lake St. Clair course, he will find a longer and vastly heavier craft than that which Miss England II defeated in the first heat last year.

Despite the seven and a half ton weight of the Miss America, Wood believes the hull is the fastest he has built.

LUMBERMEN TO FOSTER TRADE WITH CHINA

Chief Discussion at Convention Centered Around Development of United Kingdom and Oriental Markets.

Vancouver, June 15.—British Columbia lumbermen will send a trade delegation to China to foster trade with that country, if a suggestion put forward by Hon. Neils Loughheed, Minister of Lands, to the executive of the British Columbia Lumber Manufacturers' Association here is adopted.

The lumbermen in an all day session yesterday wrestled with the marketing problems they will have to face when the United States market is closed to them by the recent increase from $1 to $4 per thousand feet in United States duty effective June 29th.

Discussion today centered around the development of United Kingdom and Oriental markets. Loren L. Brown, the lumberman's representative in London, submitted information on British conditions and was optimistic as to the development of that market.

To develop the Oriental markets it was felt that shipping subsidies were essential if British Columbia lumbermen were to compete successfully with United States exporters. Action was however deferred.

It was decided that a delegation from the Association would be sent to the Imperial Conference at Ottawa next month to set forth the case of the British Columbia lumber industry for an increased preference in Great Britain.

They expected to have a big uniformed demonstration next Sunday at Tempelhof Aerodrome, but this afternoon the Berlin police let it be known that the general veto on all open-air political demonstrations still stands.

Likewise the Bavarian Government pointed out that long before the storm troops were dissolved it had issued a general ban on uniforms of all kinds. The government intimated that it could not guarantee order within the state if the Nazis were permitted to wear their uniforms.

QUEEN'S PARK TAKE OPENING LEAGUE MATCH

Quebec Central Railway Entry in City Soccer Circuit Met Defeat by Three Goals to One in First Scheduled Fixture of Newly Formed Group.

The opening game of the City Soccer League was staged last evening on the Parade Grounds and resulted in a three to one victory for Queen's Park over the Quebec Central Railway entry. Minus the services of some of their regular players, both teams showed remarkable form for their opening engagement and gave evidence that as the season progresses competition as keen as that served up in the Eastern Townships Football Association will be presented local fans.

At half-time last evening Queen's Park led by the sole counter chalked up during the opening session. Clint Gardiner had the coveted honor of scoring the first goal in the circuit, and Jimmy Gardiner the distinction of supplying the first pass which resulted in a goal. The Railroaders pressed hard for the equalizer, but poor shooting around the Queen's Park citadel saved Loughheed from several nasty situations.

Billie Gordon, whose name is already closely associated with hockey and lacrosse, opened his football career by notching Queen's Park second goal. He achieved the point by kicking in a rebound off Clint Stocks. Shortly afterwards the count was three goals to nothing as a younger member of the Taylor family kicked from a melee and the sphere evaded the watchful Stocks. Armstrong saved his team from a shutout by registering Quebec Central's sole counter, as the game was finishing.

Referee Jackson performed satisfactorily in his role of referee.

The line-ups were:

Queen's Park: Loughheed, Pearce, B. Grime, W. Taylor, Parsons, J. Gardiner, Chamberlain, C. Gardiner, Taylor, Gordon and Donaldson.

Quebec Central: C. Stocks, Jones, Hand, Twyman, Armstrong, Morrison, A. Stocks, McHarg, Perrin, E. Taylor and Foley.
