World News In Brief

Montreal, Feb. 7.—(CP)—An investigation by a Royal Commission or a citizens' committee into conditions at the Fullum street jail for Protestant women, was urged today by Norman R. Romer, president of the John Howard Society of Quebec.
Such an investigation would establish "once and for all" the truth about conditions in the jail, he said.
Mr. Romer was answering protests by jail authorities yesterday who denied his charges earlier that the jail was a "hell-hole."

Taipei, Formosa, Feb. 7.—(AP)—The nationalist defence ministry today said Red Gen. Chen Yi's 10th army had been sent to southern Fukien province on the mainland, most likely to mount the expected invasion attempt against Formosa.

At the same time the Chinese navy said a gunboat of unknown nationality had been sighted off the mainland port of Swatow and was being watched closely by national warships.

Tokyo, Feb. 7.—(AP)—A Peiping radio broadcast today said China's communists supported Russia's demand that Japanese Emperor Hirohito be tried as a war criminal.
The broadcast said that Hirohito and other Japanese responsible for alleged bacteriological warfare should face war crimes charges.

London, Feb. 7.—(Reuters)—The cabinet was today expected to approve Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin's proposal to accord full recognition to the Viet Nam government of Emperor Bao Dai as a member of the French union.

Middle East Is Gripped By Cold

Jerusalem, Feb. 7.—(Reuters)—Troops have been called out to help people in Homs, Syria, repel attacks by hungry wolves, according to reports reaching Jerusalem.

The temperature in this region—part of the "winter blanket" over the Middle East—is five degrees.
Reports from other centers are: Jerusalem—the city is isolated for the first time since the 1948 siege—this time by snow and no guns. Snow is piled two feet deep on the roads, blocking traffic, and all wire communications with the rest of the country have been interrupted.

Walls of holy places in the old city have collapsed with the weight of snow and killed Arab refugees, according to the Jordan radio.
Biblical Mount Carmel, where the prophet Elijah called down divine fire to thwart the idolatrous priests of Baal, was covered with two to three feet of snow. For the first time in history the mount was being used for skiing.
Hundreds of tents in Arab refugee camps are reported to have collapsed.

Cairo—temperatures have dropped to 25.6 and in Alexandria the temperature is only one degree higher.

Rate-Cutting Is Unfair To Steamships, Counsel States

Ottawa, Feb. 7.—(CP)—A "ruinous rate war" may emerge if the railways are allowed indiscriminate use of power to eliminate competition by means of low-rate offerings, a Canada Steamship Lines lawyer said today.

Hazen Hansard of Montreal in a brief presented to the Royal Commission on transportation said that steamship lines have their competitive backs to the wall because of the "unfair" rate-cutting advantage in the railways' favor.
He alleged that under the "agreed charge" method, railways can obtain a monopoly or near monopoly of a shipper's business by offering him unusually low rates—rates which may be far below the normal rates in that area.
The Canadian National Railways, he said, had suggested that this power be extended by allowing the carriers to "employ the agreed charge, indiscriminately and without control, for the purpose of capturing business from its competitors."

This would not only have the effect of "completely disrupting the established rate structure," but it also "could, and in all likelihood, would provoke a ruinous rate war between the railways themselves, with the agreed charge as a weapon."

"Moreover, it could and would place the water carriers in an impossible position." The agreed charge method was available to the water carriers in theory, but not in practice.

"Unrestricted use of the agreed charge," said Mr. Hansard, "would enable a carrier to quote entirely

Delivery Of West German Steel Stops

Bonn, Germany, Feb. 7.—(Reuters)—West German Chancellor Dr. Konrad Adenauer announced today that west German steel deliveries to the Soviet zone had been halted "in connection with a temporary limitation of interzonal freight traffic."

The chancellor emphasized the non-political character of the move.
He said the decision was taken because the Soviet zone authorities were behind with their deliveries to west Germany under the one-year interzonal trade pact which expires this summer.
He denied reports that a complete halt of all interzonal trade was imminent, according to the west German news agency, DPA.

Meanwhile, the west German news agency ADN said the ban on steel was imposed "on direct instructions" from John J. McCloy, United States high commissioner in Germany.
"By forbidding steel deliveries the Anglo-Americans want to hit the internal German exchange of food which is now getting under way, and make it illusory," the agency said.

London, Feb. 7.—(Reuters)—Diplomatic observers in London today considered west Germany's action in cutting iron and steel supplies to the Soviet zone as the first step toward a "partial counter-blockade."
They believed it reflected the allies' intention to restrict deliveries unless the soviet "stop-go" creeping blockade of western Berlin is lifted.

According to a usually well-informed source, steel imports at present accounted for nearly half

Ottawa Sources Say Communist Espionage Still Goes On In Canada Despite Revelations Of 1946 Probe.

Ottawa, Feb. 7.—(CP)—Informed sources say that Canada's sensational spy probe of 1946 didn't end communist espionage in Canada.

As a result, the R.C.M.P., co-operating closely with Britain and the United States, have continued their counter-espionage work.

There has been no indication that Klaus Fuchs, 38-year-old British scientist charged with atomic spying, was connected with the Soviet spy ring uncovered in 1946.

But informed sources say his case indicates that Soviet spying has continued, despite the disclosure in the 1946 probe that the Russian embassy here was the centre of the spy network in Canada.

Fuchs was interned in Canada early in the second world war as an enemy alien. The Canadian Press learned yesterday. He was later released and took part in the atomic research that helped produce the first atomic bombs.

The justice department now is understood to be gathering information files on him and preparing to turn them over to Britain if they are needed for Fuchs' trial.

There has been no official comment on the case, however.
Fuchs was arrested after investigation by Scotland Yard and the U. S. Federal Bureau of Investigation. The Canadian silence on what officials here may know of Fuchs indicated how close is the co-operation between the three police forces.

Fuchs is understood to be a refugee who fled to Britain from Hitlerism and interned by the British at the outbreak of war. Many of them were sent to Canada for internment and later freed to help in the war effort. He returned to Britain in 1943, and is believed to have crossed into Canada while on a visit to the U. S. in 1946.

Atomic officials said he did not visit Chalk River, site of Canada's atomic research centre.

Washington, Feb. 7.—(AP)—United States Congressmen today blamed ponderous British legal procedure for hampering pursuit by the Federal Bureau of Investigation of further atomic leaks in the Klaus Fuchs case.

They expressed fear that the delay may enable some suspects to skip the U. S.
F.B.I. director J. Edgar Hoover was reported to have told Senators that thus far he has been unable to get from the British government full details of any confession that may have been made by Fuchs.

Fuchs, 38-year-old German-born scientist accused of passing along top atomic—and some hydrogen bomb—information to the Russians, is believed to have had accomplices in the U. S.

But Congressmen said they were told that until the British government releases its records, the F.B.I. may have to wait for leads—with the result that some suspects might get out of the U. S. unmolesied.

British authorities are understood to be keeping Fuchs incommunicado.
Hoover for the third time will talk today with Senators behind closed doors—this time with the Senate appropriations sub-committee to which he first divulged some of the F.B.I.'s activities in the case last week.

Senator John Bricker (Rep. Ohio), a member of the Congressional atomic committee, told reporters the 1943 Quebec agreement which the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt entered into with Britain and Canada should be made public.

The secret pact was regarded by Bricker and others as pertinent to the case. They feel it may have opened the way for foreign scientists to come to the United States to work on the A-bomb without U. S. security checks.

Senator Bourke Hickenlooper (Rep. Iowa) sought unsuccessfully to get the text of the agreement last year during the investigation of the U. S. atomic energy commission.

Hoover was quoted by Congressmen as having told the atomic committee yesterday it was unfortunate the British government arrested Fuchs as early as they did.

It was the F.B.I. director's position, these legislators said, that others might have been drawn into the net more easily if the arrest had been delayed.

Hoover made it plain, it was said, that the British government had not refused to give additional in-

Power May Be Appointed To Senate

Ottawa, Feb. 7.—(CP)—Political circles are predicting that some of the 11 vacancies in the Senate will be filled prior to the opening of parliament Feb. 16.

Although Prime Minister St. Laurent has given no indication of when he plans to fill the vacancies, there have been rumors that a number of appointments are pending.

There are three vacancies in Newfoundland, two each in Nova Scotia and Ontario, and one each in British Columbia, New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island and Quebec.

Unofficial reports have it that Hon. C. G. Power, wartime air minister, will be offered the Quebec seat, held formerly by Edouard St. Perce of Montreal who died recently.

Mr. Power, 61, has sat as a private member of the Commons for Quebec South since 1944 when he broke with the government on the conscription issue. He was first elected to the Commons in 1917 and has been re-elected in every general election since.

There also have been unofficial reports that Premier Jones of Prince Edward Island will be named to fill the vacancy in that province. However, capital sources were inclined to doubt them.

Some believe that the three Newfoundland vacancies will be filled shortly. The new province is entitled to six Senate seats, but has never had that number since joining confederation last March 31.

State Secretary Bradley, Newfoundland's representative in the cabinet, has been mentioned as a possible choice to fill one of the vacancies.

Another cabinet minister also mentioned as slated for a Senate seat is Fisheries Minister Mayhew. But the feeling in some circles

British Peer Opposes U.S. On H-Bomb

London, Feb. 7.—(AP)—A Conservative candidate in the Feb. 23 general elections said in a campaign speech last night that President Truman should have consulted with Britain and asked her advice before going ahead with the hydrogen bomb.

Lord Hinchinbrooke, once a private secretary to the late Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin, told an audience in his South Dorset constituency that "the H-bomb has the effect of freeing the Russian neurosis that they are going to be attacked."

He said he believed Britain would have advised the United States not to go ahead with the "production of this terrifying new weapon" without making a peace overture to Russia.

Prime Minister Attlee, campaigning in his constituency of Walthamstow, East London, declined to say whether he agreed with President Truman's decision to make the H-bomb after his speech he replied to questioners:

"I am not an American and that is a question for an American to answer."
Foreign secretary Bevin, campaigning in Diss, Norfolk, also avoided mention of the H-bomb but declared the Marshall plan, coupled with British aid to Europe, had saved western Europe from the communists.

Mill Closing Order Will Be Fought

Toronto, Feb. 7.—(CP)—The danger of a forced closure of the big pulp mill at Espanola, Ont., will be given prior consideration when the Ontario legislature convenes Feb. 16.

"It would be unthinkable that this mill be permitted to close," Premier Frost of Ontario yesterday told a large delegation from Espanola which claimed that the welfare of 10,000 persons depends on continued operation of the mill.

An injunction against waste disposal polluting the Spanish river has been obtained against the Kalamazoo Vegetable Parchment Company, effective April 4. The injunction, upheld on appeal to the Privy Council in London, was obtained by a group of riverbank property owners on the Spanish river.

The K.V.P. company says that of the injunction goes into effect it will be forced to close down the mill, chief employment factor in Espanola, 25 miles west of Sudbury.

Premier Frost did not say what steps the government proposes to take. He said the government has been studying the situation for some time "with the idea of keeping the mill in operation and at the same time making sure that

Trans-Canada Highway May Be Started During Spring

Ottawa, Feb. 7.—(CP)—Resources Minister Winters is confident a start will be made this spring on construction of a Trans-Canada highway.

There are no real obstacles in the way," Mr. Winters said today in an interview.
Negotiations with the provinces are proceeding and it is expected that individual agreements with them will be signed within the next few months.

The federal government has offered to pay half of the cost of a $800,000,000 hard-surfaced highway from St. John's, Nfld., to Victoria, B.C., and taking in Prince Edward Island.

The federal government will make the contribution providing all provinces agree to construct Trans-Canada highway links within their borders. Mr. Winters said the federal government decided to contribute to the highway because of the national character of the project. Unless all provinces participate the highway would lose its national aspect and there would be no reason for a federal contribution.

Six of the provinces have decided on the route the highway will follow within their boundaries. The provinces are Newfoundland, Prince Edward Island, New Brunswick, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and British Columbia. Ontario, Quebec, Alberta and Nova Scotia have not reached a final decision.

Mr. Winters said the choice of the route was left to the provinces. The federal government simply stipulated that the road follow the shortest practical east-west route consistent with the needs of the provinces and Canada as a whole.

Besides paying half of the cost of new construction, the government will pay half the cost of existing roads that will form part of the Trans-Canada highway.

The construction program will be spread over a seven-year period. Mr. Winters said that in the 1950-51 estimates there likely will be provision for federal expenditures of $25,000,000 on the highway during the coming fiscal year. Federal payments will be made as work is completed.

Mr. Winters had some comments on statements Friday by Premier Duplessis of Quebec. Mr. Duplessis said at a press conference that the Quebec government is not prepared to sacrifice its over-all provincial roads program for the sake of the Trans-Canada highway though it wishes to co-operate in that project.

The federal government does not expect any province to sacrifice its over-all roads program in order to participate in the Trans-Canada project. However, since the Trans-Canada project was to be spread over seven years he was hopeful that all provinces would find it possible to co-operate.

The government had received a "good measure" of co-operation from Quebec in negotiations on the highway.

Ban Sought On Bergman Pictures

Hollywood, Feb. 7.—(AP) A swelling uproar against the international love affair of Ingrid Bergman and Roberto Rossellini—which an Alabama ministerial group charges "tends to glorify adultery"—today stormed at the gates of Hollywood.

Roman Catholic and Protestant churches, censorship boards—even a legislator in taxes—called on theatres to ban the film which sparked the romance, "Stromboli."

As the Swedish actress and the Italian director worked over the weakness of Ingrid's new-born son, protests rose in various parts of the United States against their conduct. Rossellini has been reported in Rome as admitting he is the child's father. Miss Bergman is still married to Dr. Peter Lindstrom.

The Birmingham, Ala., Protestant Ministers' Association voted to ask theatres to ban all films in which Miss Bergman appears or Rossellini directs.

At Memphis, Tenn., the city-county censor said all her films would be barred there if officials ruled such action was legal.

Representative R. E. Blount of Big Spring, Tex., introduced a resolution in the Texas Legislature to ban "Stromboli" in Texas. The resolution censured Hollywood for exploiting the movie and planning to release it "the same day of the illicit marriage."

Miss Bergman and Rossellini have announced they will be married as soon as she is divorced from Lindstrom. She has filed suit in Mexico and expects a decree about Feb. 15. Lindstrom has said he will ignore the Mexican action and indicated he would file his own suit in Los Angeles, where he now lives with their 11-year-old daughter, Pia.

The Albuquerque, N.M., Ministerial Alliance called on citizens to boycott "Stromboli" because of what it called "glamorizing and sensationalizing of adultery."

Stuart City, Ia., Catholics were asked to pass up the film by Bishop Joseph Muller because of what he called "conjugal infidelity."

The San Pedro, Calif., Daily Journal said it was withholding publication of an Ingrid Bergman romance serial because of reader protests.

Despite the outburst of public opinion, a spokesman for RKO studio said: "No comment. We're pretty busy getting ready to re-release the picture."

U.S. Telephone Strike Delayed

Washington, Feb. 7.—(AP)—The C.I.O. communications workers today postponed until Feb. 24 a country-wide telephone strike had called for tomorrow at 6 A. M.

Mediation director Cyrus S. Ching had asked for the postponement to permit more time for conciliators to try to settle the dispute.

Union president Joseph A. Beirne of the union said the nine-man executive board had voted to postpone the strike in the hope a settlement could be brought about in the meantime.

Along with asking a postponement of the strike call, the Cana-

Kremlin Leaders Want War But Not At Present Time

(Editor's Note: What are the calculations of the Soviet leadership on war or peace? How is the great monolithic state being geared for the eventuality of conflict? Edmund Stevens, staff correspondent of the Christian Science Monitor, recently left Moscow after more than 10 years of close observation of Russian affairs from both sides of the Iron Curtain. Fresh from a three-year assignment in the Russian capital, he has tried to answer the most anxious questions of westerners concerning the enigma that is the Soviet Union today. This is the first of a series of four articles digesting his findings, as published by the Christian Science Monitor. The editors of the Monitor made Stevens' material available to the Associated Press.)

New York, Feb. 7.—(AP)—The leaders of the Kremlin are bent on eventual war with the west, if they can get away with it, says an American reporter who recently left Moscow.

But Edmund Stevens, back from a three-year assignment as correspondent for the Christian Science Monitor in Russia, says he is convinced today more than ever that "the world's future depends on understanding between the United States and the Soviet Union."

The foremost question today is: Do the Soviet leaders, who have an atom bomb now, want war?

The answer, the correspondent says, is "no—and yes." For the immediate future, he said, the answer is no. But in the long view, with the shifting of world power in the Kremlin's favor, the answer is yes. The communist leaders always have predicted the inevitable bloody clash of capitalism and communism.

Stevens says the Kremlin leaders want to avoid war now while preparing militarily and economically and while running calculated war risks such as the Berlin blockade. But he adds that there is a margin of hope for peace in the realization by the Kremlin that it would be difficult to sell the Soviet people on a war of aggression.

To beat Soviet propaganda, Stevens writes, the west must put its own economic house in order. The west, he says, should miss no opportunity to go over the heads of the Soviet leaders, directly to the Russian people. The "Voice of America" has made "a splendid beginning" on these lines, as indicated by the frantic Russian jamming of the broadcasts, he says.

As matters stood in 1949, Stevens calculated that the eventual armed clash of the two systems would come in the long run. But the west must remember, he adds, that "despite doctrinaire aims and outlook, the Soviet leaders are fully capable of changing their minds."

Who are these leaders who hold in balance the pros and cons of world havoc? The most powerful

A Very Encouraging Meeting Was Held By St. George's Church, Georgeville

Georgeville, Feb. 7.—The annual meeting of the vestry of St. George's Church, Georgeville, was held on January 30, at the residence of George Hornby, with the Rev. W. C. Dunn presiding, and a good number present.

After the opening prayers and the reading of the minutes of meetings held in 1949, the financial reports were presented.

The church warden's report showed a gratifying increase in contributions, the total receipts for the year being $857.09, and expenditures $746.88, leaving a substantial balance on hand.

The Ladies' Guild reported receipts of $519.84 and expenditures of $506.30 during the year. The reports showed that considerable work had been done on the building, including overhaul of the church furnace and other repairs and improvements, and over $100 contributed for repairs to the parsonage. Thanks were expressed to men of the congregation who had contributed material and labor for these repairs: Charles Farrington, V. G. Rexford, G. Hornby, James Conway, Rodney Hutchins and Gilbert Woodard.

The minister expressed his thanks for the help of the church officials and organizations, and also for girls at Christmas and at other times towards fuel and travelling expenses, and for furnishings for the parsonage, in which regard special mention was made of the help of Mrs. H. G. Norman.

The minister re-appointed Victor Robinson for the minister's residence, and J. G. Cochrane was re-elected to office were as follows: Auditors, Mr. and Mrs. C. Farrington; sidesmen, Clarence Robinson, Daniel Hornby and William Heath; select vestry, Nelson Farrington, V. G. Rexford, G. Hornby, R. Hutchins; representatives on parsonage committee, Mrs. G. Hornby and Victor Robinson.

Letters from the Church Society of Quebec regarding the financial needs of the church were read and considered. It was resolved that the vestry should increase by $100 per annum its contribution to assessment towards the minister's stipend. The members of the Ladies' Guild present also held out an assurance that the Guild would add another $50. It was also decided to agree to an annual payment of $15 towards episcopal expenses, for the Bishop of the diocese.

Letters of thanks were tendered to the Ladies' Guild, the wardens, organists, sexton, and other church officers, and the people's warden voiced the appreciation of the congregation for the services of the minister.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. Hornby, adding much to what had been a very encouraging and pleasant meeting.

THE LADIES' GUILD The Ladies' Guild met at the home of Mrs. George Boynton, with Mrs. Victor Robinson for the hostess. A pleasant afternoon was spent.

WRONG SLANT She lost the suit, though. Lawyers later agreed she made the mistake of charging plagiarism when she should have claimed restraint of trade.

KINGSEY Mr. Wilbrey Taylor and Miss Donna Taylor, of Sherbrooke, were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Taylor.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Barnard and family were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Wright.

Mr. Arthur Abernombie and Mr. and Mrs. J. Cunningham, of Brownleigh, called on Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Moore.

Mrs. G. L. Brock, Mr. Charles Brock and the Misses Phyllis, Shirley and Barbara Ann Brock, of Trenholm, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Wright.

Mrs. Max Parker, of Montreal, is spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Taylor.

Rev. Mr. Beattie, of Kirkdale, held a service of morning prayer in the Consolidated School, on Sunday, January 29, after which the vestry meeting was held with Rev. Mr. Beattie presiding. The warden's account showed that all obligations had been met and a substantial balance was on hand. It was decided to accede to the Board's request to donate fifteen dollars towards the repairs to "Bishop-thorpe." The same wardens were re-elected. Mr. H. D. Lockwood, clerkman's warden, and Mr. Nelson Mastine, the people's warden. The sidesmen were re-elected. Messrs. Everett Lyster, N. G. Patrick, Herbert Taylor and Bert Lockwood. Several other matters came under discussion. Then the meeting was adjourned. Rev. Mr. Beattie will have temporary charge of this parish, and services will be held at the school every other Sunday for the winter.

Mr. Charles Lefebvre was seriously injured in a fall in his barn. As Mr. Lefebvre is an elderly man the doctor feared serious internal injuries and had him taken to hospital, but he is improving rapidly and by all appearances is making a complete recovery.

"But I did too much. When they pay you so much money they take your stomach." Helen was in the big chips from 1928 to 1938.

In 1939 she married for the third time. She had just divorced No. 1 when she hit the big time. Husband No. 3 was, and is, Dan Healy, who manages Healy's Grill at 96th and Columbus Ave. in New York. He's the same Dan Healy to whom Helen sang "I Wanna Be Loved by You" in the Broadway musical, "Good Boy," back in '29. He was an actor then.

But it took Helen 10 years and a Hollywood husband (Bill Girard) before she made up her mind that she really wanted to be loved by Dan.

A very pleasant event was held at the "Parsonage" on Friday evening, January 27, where a large card party was held. Guests from Richmond, Gallup Hill, L'Avenir and South Durham, were present. "500" was played at eleven tables. Those winning prizes for the evening were, Mrs. M. L. Brady, Mrs. Walter Coles, Mrs. L. Gunter, Messrs. Alvah Cross, M. L. Brady and A. B. Wentworth. The winners for the "500" marathon were also given out with the following scores: Mrs. Walter Coles with a total of 31 games won; Mrs. A. G. Cross 28; and Mrs. A. B. Lyster 28; Messrs. Alvah Cross 33; Fred Wintler 30; and Walter Coles 28. Several others also had good scores. Much interest has been evinced in the marathon and several requests have been made that it be continued this year. The ladies of Holy Trinity Guild, who sponsored this event have not decided on the matter as yet. The next social evening will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Woodburn, on Friday evening, February 17.

Mr. Harold Patterson was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. Campbell.

Friends and neighbors here of Mr. and Mrs. William Miles and Mr. Russell Miles, of Lennoxville, were sorry to hear of the loss of their home by fire. Mr. Russell Miles was in this vicinity for a week, and while he was here, a number of men helped him to cut lumber on his farm to build another house on his farm in Lennoxville.

Mr. Harry Campbell and Master Keith Campbell were callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Patterson. Mr. Sidney Mitchell was also a caller at the same home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivar McCrea is at present on the sick list. Mr. McCrea is just recovering from an attack of the grippe.

Mr. Bertrand Croteau has returned to his school duties, after spending the week-end at his parental home near Laurier.

Mr. Russell Miles and Mr. Albert Carroll were calling at the home of Mr. H. Campbell en route to Ste. Agathe.

There was considerable damage done in this vicinity by the strong winds in January. A number of people report a lot of trees down in the woods.

Friends of Mr. Edward Small, of Ste. Agathe, were sorry to hear of his big loss by fire on Monday, January 30. One of his barns was totally destroyed by fire and the other one badly damaged by fire and the fire-fighters trying to get at the fire to extinguish it. He also lost a number of fat cattle.

Mr. Edmond Gingras and Mr. Harry Campbell made a business trip to Ste. Agathe.

Two Defence Motions For Mistrial In Rene Rocque Case Are Rejected

Two attempts by the defence to have the jury dismissed in the conspiracy trial of Rene Rocque, labor official, failed yesterday afternoon when Mr. Justice William Mitchell turned down both motions.

At the opening of the afternoon session, with the jury still out, Alexandre Chevalier, K.C., made his first motion, asking Mr. Justice Mitchell to declare a mistrial on the grounds that the defence suffered a certain prejudice as the result of an incident involving the jury over the week-end.

Before the Court adjourned on Friday it was agreed by the Court and both counsels that the jury could be taken out to a hotel for their meals.

At yesterday morning's session a spokesman for the jurors said that they were not allowed to go out to the hotel on Friday and that they had been told permission had been refused them because someone had objected to their staying at a hotel. The spokesman asked the Court who had raised the objection. The Crown said it had not and the defence added "Neither did we."

It would appear that the objection was not concerned with the jurors eating out, but with the hotel which they intended to patronize. When it was discovered that the jurors would be taken to the Union Hotel, Carrier Fortin, one of the four defence lawyers, informed Mr. Justice Mitchell that, in order to avoid public comment, it might be better if the jurors were not taken there.

Mr. Fortin gave as his reasons that the Crown Prosecutor was registered in the Union Hotel, as well as several of the provincial police, and that the hotel itself is owned by a brother of the Crown Prosecutor for this district, Roland Dugre, K.C.

The defence made it clear that they did not wish to cast any aspersions on the Crown or the police, but that the presence of the jurors in Mr. Dugre's hotel might lead to considerable criticism.

Mr. Chevalier contended that it was apparent the jurors were irritated by the incident, and had discussed it among themselves, even to the point of appointing a spokesman. This, he held, could cause serious prejudice to the defence's case.

The Court adjourned for approximately an hour and a half and Mr. Justice Mitchell returned to dismiss the motion. At this point, Mr. Chevalier presented a second one. He stated that it had been brought to his attention that a person not sworn in as an officer to guard the jurors, had visited them in their quarters and discussed the matter of the hotel with them. This person, he said, was the sheriff, and he contended that he had no right to hold a conversation with them unless specially designated to do so.

Hertel O'Bready, Clerk of the Court, took the witness stand and swore that on Friday evening he was informed that the jurors wished to see him with the sheriff. He said that he went to their quarters accompanied by the sheriff, who did not say a word, and asked them what they wished. They brought up the question of the hotel, he said, and he told them if they had any points to discuss they must wait until Monday and present them to the judge. He said he did not commit himself in any way.

The jurors then asked the sheriff for permission to see a movie, to visit the Experimental Farm and to go to Mass at the Redemptorists. Mr. O'Bready said, Mr. Justice Mitchell dismissed this motion from the Bench.

Jean Marchand, of Quebec, general secretary of the C.C.C.L. took the stand late yesterday morning and insisted that the strikers had been told not to resort to violence, as it would only mean trouble for them.

On the 5th of May, at the barricade outside the Johns-Manville plant, he said he saw one of the strikers receive a tear gas bomb in the face. He said he believed the man's name was Landry. A boy of 12 or 13 was also partially asphyxiated and required first aid. At this point, the witness said, he could barely restrain the strikers who were furious at the tear gas attack, launched, presumably, by the police on the other side of the barricade.

Marchand said he noticed a municipal police car stationed nearby and that he appealed to its occupants to get in touch with the provincial police and ask them not to provoke the workers uselessly as the situation was becoming tense and might easily be dangerous. He said the municipal police told him they had no jurisdiction in the matter.

Witness swore that he told Rocque, Geoffroy and Girard to make sure that the strikers used no violence and did not answer any provocation, saying "This is not a civil war, it is a strike." He added that he told them to raise the picketing as soon as possible and that Rocque promised this would be done.

Cross-questioned by Noel Dorion, K.C., acting for the Crown, Marchand said that the big problem of the strikers was the men who were working in the plant. They had to convince these men not to "break the strike" or else they were finished.

A copy of an injunction signed by Mr. Justice Casaire Gervais was presented to Marchand by the Crown for identification, and the defence objected, stating that the witness might never have received the document or seen it and therefore might not be in a position to identify it. He also objected to the

L. P. Robidoux Is Speaker At Lions Club

A bibliophile is not a bookworm, nor is he a person who buys rare books with a view to selling them for a profit, Louis Philippe Robidoux, editor in chief of La Tribune, last night told members of the Sherbrooke Lions Club.

Nor, said Mr. Robidoux, author of the recently-published Feuilles Volantes, is a bibliophile a person who buys up every book as for those treasures, manuscripts or printed, which are in famous libraries or museums.

A bibliophile has taste, culture and refined intelligence that guides him irresistibly towards that which is fine and gives him admiration for not only those books for which he can pay but for those treasures, manuscripts or printed, which are in famous libraries or museums.

A wealthy bibliophile might have ambitions to possess rare works; a poor one is just as happy if he is able to leaf through some of these treasures.

Between these two groups is the bibliophile of modest means who can occasionally buy valuable books. This man, if he is prudent, will consult the critics and experts before making his purchase.

Mr. Robidoux told about some of the famous sales of rare books in Europe before the war, quoting figures which showed the enormous prices paid for masterpieces.

Fine books, like paintings and sculpture, are the artistic inheritance of many countries, Mr. Robidoux said. It was to be hoped, he said, that such an inheritance might come in time to Canada, for without it the Dominion could not consider itself among the most civilized nations.

Introduced by Dr. Rene DuBergier the speaker was thanked by Eddie Caron.

During the meeting Dr. Rene DuBergier gave a brief address on Lionism.

Two new members, Earl Coombs and Dan McCormick, were introduced. They will be inducted on February 27.

Neil Tracy, district secretary of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, told about the current blind campaign. He reported returns were favorable and that the organizers expected to reach the objective.

Those seated at the head table with the guest speaker and President Leopold Chevalier were: J. A. Begin, Julien Dery, Armand Morissette, J. E. Caron, Dr. Rene DuBergier and Andre Cloutier.

Kinsmen And Optimists Hold Joint Meeting

The local Kinsmen Club played hosts last evening to the Optimists and the two service clubs held a joint meeting at the Mt. Pleasant Club. Chris Barr, president of the Kinsmen, presided.

In order to get to know one another better the Kinsmen have a traveling plaque which is taken to the various clubs during the year by club members. Last evening Rene Trahan, president of the St. John Kinsmen Club presented the plaque to the local club.

Henry Crochetiere, gave a brief talk on the aims and objects of Optimists. He pointed out the various events they sponsored during the two years they have been operating here and stressed the fact that they were interested in the youngsters. The Optimists recently held a drawing for tickets to the Sherbrooke-Canadians Hockey game to be played at the local ice house this Thursday evening. One youngster, Bruce Cline, who plays for Windsor Mills Juniors, will be the guest of Ivan Dugre, coach of the Sherbrooke Saints.

A ticket to the Sherbrooke-Canadians game was raffled last evening and the proceeds will be turned over to the officials of the blind campaign. The ticket was donated by Mr. Dugre.

M. Trahan, president of the St. John Kinsmen Club, congratulated the local Optimist and Kinsmen clubs for the fine work which they have been doing.

Don Clowery thanked Mr. Barr and the Kinsmen for the invitation on behalf of the Optimists.

Optimists Governor Twiss and Lt. Gov. Fullerton will visit the local Optimist Club on February 13 it was announced last evening.

Policies Of Democracy Are Needed To Combat Reds, Sen. Wilson Says

"We must use the policies of democracy to triumph over the Soviets who are rising rapidly through the power of insidious propaganda," Senator Cairine Wilson told members of the Women's Canadian Club of the Eastern Townships who gathered at the New Sherbrooke Hotel for luncheon yesterday.

Senator Wilson who holds the degrees of D.C.L. and LL.D. from the universities of Acadia and of Queen's, and who is a past president of the League of Nations Society and Canada's first woman senator, was introduced by Mrs. C. R. Holt, and spoke of the experiences of a Canadian delegate at the United Nations Assembly.

Senator Wilson explained that the United Nations is composed of six committees: Political, economic and financial; social, humanitarian and cultural; trusteeship; administrative and budgetary; and the ad hoc committee which relieves other committees of too heavy agenda. Senator Wilson, who attended the last Plenary Session at Flushing Meadow, represented Canada, and was a member of the social, humanitarian and cultural committee.

The first item on the agenda was freedom of information, said Senator Wilson. No agreement could be reached and the discussion was referred to the committee on human rights. The second item was the access of news personnel to the United Nations and other agencies. It was decided that the press should be allowed to attend such meetings.

Thirdly came the Draft Convention for the suppression of traffic in persons and exploitation of prostitution, and the fourth was instances of discrimination in immigrant labor, particularly refugees.

Poland's representatives spoke of the Mexican labor problem in the United States, and mistreatment of Italians in Latin America. It was suggested that the question be referred to the international labor convention. One delegate expressed surprise that no mention had been made of the Poles who were under intolerable conditions in Siberia. The argument became quite heated when the Russian and Polish delegates accused a British representative of lies.

Canada, said Senator Wilson, received her share of condemnation from Poland. Canada was accused of taking 123 Polish children away from their homes—with Senator Wilson of course acting as "kidnapper-in-chief."

Senator Wilson explained that these children had been taken first by the Russians, and after a stay in Tanganyika, Africa, had been transferred to the International Refugee Organization. As only six of the children were known to have parents, many were growing up, and none would go home, it was decided that the best thing to do would be to send them to Canada. Poland had been approached in order to find out if they were wanted back, and no answer was received.

In closing Senator Wilson quoted from Health Minister Martyn, who summarized the achievements of the United Nations:

1—It has come safely through its formative years.

2—It has done much to sell the basic idea of peace to the world's peoples.

3—It has become the focus of the people's faith in peaceful action.

4—It has created world agencies that have made definite contributions to co-operation in many fields.

5—It has made progress in solving many complex problems. It has not stopped all wars, but who can say what wars were possible if it had not taken action?

6—In four years it has encouraged more progress toward the creation of a sense of world citizenship and realization of the interdependence of nations than has ever been witnessed in a comparable period of world history.

"The strength of our country comes from individuals. Our duty is to give our delegates support in their policy," said Senator Wilson.

The speaker was thanked by Mrs. J. A. Stewart. Mrs. H. Niles presided at the meeting.

Comedy "You Can't Take It With You" Aply Performed By B.C.S. Players

By MARGOT MITCHELL

The excellent cast of "You Can't Take It With You" (Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman), a popular play staged by the Bishop's College School Players' Club in the school auditorium last night, had difficulty in delivering their lines above the roars of a small, but very responsive audience.

"You Can't Take It With You" is the story of a (to say the least) Bohemian but happy family, who feel that life is too short to—in the words of Grampa—"spend six hours of each day doing something you don't like to do, in order to have one hour to do what you want to do." What good is too much money, anyhow?—"You Can't Take It With You!"

The results are startling: Mrs. Sycamore, the mother of this haphazard family, paints (very badly) and writes plays (very badly) because "eight years ago a type-writer was delivered to the door by mistake," Mr. Sycamore, played by E. Hickey, and Mr. de Pinna (K. Soutar), the ice man who comes to stay, make fire crackers in the cellar.

Grampa, who attends zoo and commences; Essie (T. Porteous) the married daughter takes ballet lessons; her husband Ed (D. Burland) has a pet printing press and delivers the candy his wife makes on the side; while Rhea, the colored cook, and Donald, her plump swain, who incidentally is on relief, have the full freedom of the house.

The climax comes when Grampa manages to convince Mr. Kirby, played by G. Garneau, and, we hope, indirectly Mrs. Kirby (R. Berlin), parents of Tony (M. McCulloch) the handsome fiancee of Alice Sycamore (J. Pratt), the other pretty young daughter, that this is the real way to live.

The play was directed by Lewis Evans who seems to have the faculty for drawing the best out of each player. The result is that each one comes to feel his part to such an extent that they enhance the same reaction in another, and the play is rounded off to near perfection with each having his own definite personality.

Fine acting seems thus to be contagious. It would be hard to say that one was better than another. Perhaps, however, outstanding honor goes to Grampa, (M. Evans) who kept up the slow easy-going manner of the aged right down to the final curtain call when he plodded down the stairs to receive his due. His voice was loud and clear, his movements unhurried and natural.

It seems that there are a variety of ways to interpret the part of Mrs. Sycamore, but the one J. Hugeson chose was totally convincing. His happy, tactless, jittery manner, evoked a kindred sympathy in the audience.

All players were equally unself-conscious and natural, perhaps the most important factor in dramatic production. Boris Kolenkov (H. Ryspahn) and Olga (G. Speredakos), the two Russians who enjoy Sycamore hospitality, greatly added to the flavor of the play—we would not be at all surprised, in fact, to meet Princess Olga in Child's Restaurant, Times Square, V. Rogers, as Rhea, "the long, lanky, dark skinned gal" was perfection right up to his high cackle, while tubby Donald (D. Turnbull) with his broad toothy grin and raised brows, we have all seen millions of times before.

The players made the most, even of minor parts, R. Riley, taking the part of the drunken actress, and H. Blejer, K. Stevenson, and W. Patterson the part of the three private dicks who at one point carry all the Sycamores (plus the Kibbys) off to jail.

The setting of "You Can't Take It With You," staged by R. Owen, was remarkably keeping with the mood of the play, and sound effects, managed by D. McCord, were well-timed and convincing. Make-up, supervised by Lewis Evans and Mrs. E. Pilgrim, cleverly suggested the character of each personality, a feat which was doubly difficult as all female roles were taken by boys.

The play will be repeated tonight.

Veterinarian Will Care For Stray Animals

Dogs and other small animals taken into custody by Sherbrooke Police will no longer be confined at police headquarters; they will be turned over to a representative of the Sherbrooke Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals for care, feeding and possible adoption.

J. W. Savoie, president of the local S.P.C.A., told a general meeting of the group here last night.

Dr. L. A. Gendreau, local veterinarian, "has volunteered to accept animals, such as dogs and cats, that we may have to handle and keep them in his hospital," Mr. Savoie said.

"Instead of the police taking them to the station where there is little accommodation for them, Dr. Gendreau will feed the animals, find homes where possible, return them to owners in cases of lost animals, or destroy them by means of injections when necessary."

Dr. Gendreau has been helping in this respect "for years" free of charge, Mr. Savoie pointed out, but this blanket offer will serve as a stopgap measure while the S.P.C.A. gathers financial strength to build facilities to care for sick and stray animals.

Last night's general meeting was called "to explain to the public what these four letters—S.P.C.A.—mean," the president stated.

"The aim of the S.P.C.A. is to prevent cruelty to animals, chiefly and primarily by education—of grown-ups as well as children," he said.

Part of a world-wide and recognized organization, the Sherbrooke Society is "operated benevolently, as far as the officers elected are concerned, but this does not mean that we can operate without funds. The welfare of animals in a community demands elaborate conveniences—and everything cannot be obtained free. Therefore we must secure funds," he stated.

Mr. Savoie told members that many people in Sherbrooke intend making substantial donations, but are waiting for demonstration "of our good intentions and faith in the movement in progress."

"I will at this time urge the more fortunate benefactors to give us a hand financially now, quoting the old French proverb: 'Pas d'argent, pas de suisse'—no money, no results."

He said that one dollar membership fees cannot carry the work of the S.P.C.A. "very far." Other funds are needed to develop the local group into a self-sustaining humanitarian organization.

Mr. Savoie announced that he had already contacted the city government and requested a "good share"—almost two-thirds of the $2,700 annual income from city dog licences.

"Our ultimate aim is to relieve the police completely of the responsibility of Sherbrooke's animals—to build our own kennels and hospitals," he said.

"We have taken several steps along the road, but we need funds to complete the journey."

It was also announced last night that several dogs are open for adoption at the kennels of Noble Smith in Lennoxville. Mr. Smith has been caring for unwanted animals turned over to the S.P.C.A. by private citizens.

Gray Squirrels May Get New Lease On Life

Sherbrooke's bushy-tailed gray squirrels may receive more adequate protection if the newly-founded Sherbrooke S.P.C.A. has any say in the matter, it was learned last night.

Pressure was put on the City Council last week by the humane organization to amend city by-laws protecting the nut-eaters in city-owned parks. The S.P.C.A. wants protection extended everywhere within city limits.

"You used to see lots of the little fellows around town, but they seem to be getting scarcer every year," J. W. Savoie, S.P.C.A. president, said at a general meeting of the Society here.

What good is protection inside the parks when the squirrels can be shot as soon as they step out? Mr. Savoie complained.

The city is considering the request.

Speeder Is Fined $10

One person was fined $10 and costs this morning in recorder's court for speeding and another local citizen was sentenced to pay a fine of $10 and cost or 10 days in jail for drunkenness.

Sentences were handed out by Redmond Hayes, K.C., newly-appointed recorder.

Two minor accidents occurred in this city last evening and damage was light.

Public Works Department Hopes To Have New Water Main Installed Today

Working without interruption since the break was first discovered about five o'clock yesterday morning, Public Works department employees reported great progress in their effort to restore normal water service to those parts of the city affected by the breaking of a water main on King Street West near the Canadian National Railways tracks.

Excavation at the point of the break was completed during the night and officials hoped that the task of installing the new ten-inch pipe would be concluded early this afternoon. The digging was made more difficult by the steady flow of water from the broken main which made it necessary to keep two large pumps in operation so the men could continue with the excavation.

As sewers and pumps carried off the water which flooded the cellars in the district yesterday morning following the blast, owners and occupants of properties in the vicinity began the work of assessing their damage. While the damage is expected to be great, it is difficult to determine the exact loss at present, as salvage operations may reduce the final outlay.

One of the most concerned men over the whole affair was Percy Donahue, director of the Fire Department, who justly felt himself on the spot for two reasons. First, he faced the danger of a fire breaking out in one of the most important commercial and hotel areas without an adequate supply of water to battle any incipient outbreak. Then, a considerable quantity of his large-diameter fire hose was pressed into service to act as temporary water mains, bringing water from hydrants on distant streets to those public buildings which had been regularly served by the broken main.

A supplementary problem came in the hydrants themselves, a number of valves being rendered useless by the sudden surge of the water. However, this last trouble has been remedied and early this morning Director Donahue left the scene after almost 24 hours of duty convinced that the emergency arrangements would handle any outbreak until normal facilities were restored.

One problem adding to the discomfort was the lack of heat in many buildings all day yesterday as the furnaces and boilers were put out of action by the flood of water.

MR. GARDINER'S LESSON

When a legislator and administrator runs afoul some of the laws he helps write and apply, there is hope for the ordinary citizen that something may be done to relieve a few of the evils which bureaucracy is imposing upon the nation. Thus, special interest is lent to a recent address by Agriculture Minister Gardiner before a recent farm conference in Ottawa. At this time he said — this being released from his own office: —

When I was driving through the United States I found the roads so good I could make the trip from Sault Ste. Marie to Emerson, Manitoba, in 36 hours. On the way I bought a pair of shoes.

When I arrived at Emerson the official asked, "How long have you been in the United States?" I said, "Oh, I guess about 36 hours." "Did you buy anything?" "Yes, a pair of shoes." "Have you got them on?" "No, they are in the back of the car. How much is the duty?" I asked. He answered, "There is no duty. You haven't been in the United States 48 hours. You cannot bring them in at all."

I asked, "If I go back and sleep in the U.S.A. for 12 hours can I bring them in?" "Yes," he replied, "Can I throw them out on the road here?" "No, you cannot bring them in at all inside 48 hours."

After a little more talk he said: "I am only carrying out instructions; I didn't make the law." I replied: "I helped to make the law, and if it is as foolish and ridiculous as your administration makes it I am prepared to admit it is terrible."

The upshot of the whole thing was I took the shoes back through immigration and customs into the United States, gave them to a storekeeper who did not sell shoes and asked him to see what he could do with my $9 shoes. I stated that if he gave me $5 as a result of his trading I would be highly pleased. To my surprise, a few weeks ago I got the five dollars.

What can you accomplish in removing customs duties in a world of embargoes and regulations put on to meet the whims of those who call themselves a school of economists? But in spite of it all I still believe that the final solution for all our difficulties is a removal of all these restrictions to trade.

CURBING AID TO U. S. STRIKERS

A new sidelight on the knotty foreign exchange control legislation comes out of Windsor, Ontario, where officials of the Foreign Exchange Board have vetoed any plan for Canadian strikers to send funds to the Chrysler workers now on strike in Detroit. With the decision that such transfers would be contrary to the present restrictive legislation, there can be no argument, but the decision leads W. L. Clark, columnist of the Windsor Star, to indulge in some novel discussions as to why controls are still necessary. In this connection he remarks:

If the Bank of Canada officials thought the people had more confidence than they have in the Dominion government, it is probable individuals would be allowed to go on trips to the United States with substantial sums. But, with Bank of Canada and other officials frightened that any waiving of the rules would bring a flight of capital from Canada, it is hard to see when there will be much change in the present regulations. Capital is a nervous thing and, if they could take their money out of the country, there is no telling how much money would make its escape.

All the talk by Cabinet Ministers about Canadian prosperity has a hollow sound when it is kept in mind that Canada will not allow Canadian citizens out of the country with more than $150 per person per year. That shows little confidence by the Bank of Canada in the government of Canada.

At the same time comes an order to permit entry of washing machines, radios and refrigerators into Canada, requiring a 10 or 11 per cent premium on purchase price in Canadian money. Just why that order has been issued causes a good deal of speculation.

It does not promote the buy-in-Britain campaign, it does not stimulate employment in Canada and it would seem that the finance department acts entirely on its own, without any relation to the policies of other departments.

That line of reasoning by the Windsor columnist that the Bank of Canada has little confidence in the government of Canada is rather difficult to follow.

"THEY CAN DO WHAT THEY LIKE"

Calgary Albertan
Late in November three persons held up two Winnipeg policemen and stole their revolvers. A few days later they were sentenced by a police magistrate. The ringleader, 23 years old, was given five years in penitentiary. The other two (aged 17 and 15) were sentenced to eight-year terms.

A court of appeal has now reduced the terms of the two boys. Both will serve five years. The judges didn't think that eight years was too long, but they thought the boys should not be punished more severely than the ringleader. They couldn't increase his term to eight years, so they felt they had to let the boys off with five years.

The appeal court judges said "the age of criminals is getting to be unworthy of consideration at the present time. The average age of criminals coming before our courts is under 22, and in many cases is only 17. These boys seem to have in mind they can do what they like without being subject to any restraint." The lash ought to be used more frequently, they said.

MR. RINFRET AND THE LANGUAGE ASPECTS OF THE CONSTITUTION

Kingston Whig-Standard
Postmaster-General Edouard Rinfret, in a speech made over the radio Tuesday night, urged that Canada's constitution be made flexible enough to allow a province to make French an official language without "risking a veto" from another province. Under the formula now proposed, the language could be adopted only with the unanimous consent of all provinces and the Federal Parliament. Under Mr. Rinfret's proposal, if "the province of X wishes to recognize French as an official language, it would only have to discuss the matter with the federal government and Quebec, without having to consider the objections from the provinces of A or B. If the federal government and Quebec should agree, the name of the province would be included in section 133, and French would become an official language in that province."

We can see no reason why any province should not add French as an official language, providing that a majority of its citizens were in favor of the addition. For that matter, there appears to be no reason why a province should not add any language it desired as an official language, under the same conditions. Furthermore, we do not believe any province should have the power to veto the wishes of the voters of another province in this matter.

It is obvious that the sanction of the Federal Parliament would have to be sought, since the action would be under the Federal constitution. We fail to see, however, why the agreement of the Province of Quebec should be sought. If Mr. Rinfret's suggestion were followed in this respect, it would seem to confer on Quebec the very power of veto he would withhold from other provinces. That, we submit, would be quite as unfair as the formula against which he protests.

We admit frankly that we know little about the ramifications of constitutional law. We do not think such knowledge is essential, however, to recognition of a simple right of election which should be within the jurisdiction of any province seeking to exercise it. The only stipulation we would like to see made is that no province be permitted to discard English as an official language. Canada is, in the main, an English-speaking nation and some provision should be made to see that it remains so.

U.S. IS SHOCKED

The St. Catharines Standard
For three hours J. Edgar Hoover unveiled on Friday before the United States Senate, what was described by one senator as "one of the most shocking stories I have ever listened to." It was a revelation of the disclosure of secrets of the A-bomb, and also those of the H-bomb and delivery right to Moscow. The man under arrest is Dr. Klaus Fuchs, 39, German-born British subject. He lived as a bachelor at Harlow, England, which is as inaccessible as the atomic research areas in Canada and the United States. He was very pleasant when casually met, but very reserved and avoided any intimacies. His father is a college professor in the Soviet zone in Germany. With all this background, there must surely have been enough to arouse suspicion among those responsible for secrecy and security.

Mr. Hoover told the Senate that when Fuchs visited the United States he had the green light everywhere, because he already had been passed as trustworthy by the British authorities. That would keep the inquisitive FBI off his neck. And it was for acts in the United States that Fuchs is now charged on two counts, one in 1945 and one in 1947. This man also made trips to Mexico and Canada, a travel itch alone which should have been enough to make security chiefs suspect.

The highest authorities in the United States are in a dither. It is believed that it was by information provided by Fuchs that the Russians were able to speed up by months their first explosion of the atomic bomb. They don't know how much H-bomb information has been passed along. There is another effect on the nation. Conferences of Christian women are demanding the begging of peace from Moscow, and clergymen are demanding international control of atomic energy, all to save humanity. They are right in concept, of course, but in reality their ideas might be as futile as that of the famous Ford peace ship in the First Great War.

This revelation of super-spy work by Russia within the United Kingdom—a confession has been made—comes in the midst of a general election. It could sensibly rock the nation. They are certainly well shaken up in the United States, and self-sufficiency and complacency have gone with the wind. There will also be a bestirring at Ottawa; we are not at all remote from the insidious danger, as Gouzenko once sadly proved.

When brilliant scientists burn their brains up in treachery and treason, what can be the end? The A-bomb and the H-bomb are the biggest things in history. They may determine whether the human race is to survive, whether civilization is to perish from this earth. And to think that a 39-year-old German, with diabolical cunning, has been able to make pawns of the lives of the people of this continent, of the United Kingdom and western Europe. Time alone will tell how far he got away with it.

WINTER

A day in Winter, what a beautiful sight,
The ground all covered with snow so white,
Trees all laden with inches of pearl,
And over the ice, skaters glide and whirl.
There is skiing and sliding and sleigh-bells ringing—
Joy for both old and young, much pleasure bringing.
The beauties of Nature are a wonderful thing,
And can be enjoyed by Peasant and King.
Gold cannot buy what Mother Nature possesses,
And wise men are lost in suggestions and guesses.
There could not be a more beautiful scene
Than a day in Winter now I ween.

Communists Have Entered 100 Candidates In British Election

By DON GILBERT
Canadian Press Staff Writer

London, Feb. 7. — The Labor and Conservative parties waited till the general election date was announced to launch their campaigns. Not so, the communists.

As long ago as last Oct. 10 the party newspaper, Daily Worker, announced: "The general election campaign of the communist party was launched yesterday afternoon at an impressive working-class rally in London's Trafalgar Square."

The party, in Britain a fully legal organization with headquarters in London's Covent Garden, has about 100 candidates in the field.

The general election will provide an index as to how the communist party is faring politically. In the 1945 polling it boasted its popular vote of 102,780, a four-fold rise from the 27,117 votes polled in 1935.

But the 1945 figure amounts to only a fraction of one per cent of the 25,000,000 votes cast.

Two communist members sat in the last parliament: veteran William Gallacher, who represents the Clydeside riding of West Fife, and a newcomer, Philip Piratin, elected in Mile End, London slum district.

Both were elected on a minority vote—that is, their opponents were then polled more votes than the winner—and have tough re-election battles on their hands.

Piratin's Mile End riding has been merged into the larger constituency of Stepney under the redistribution act and he is opposed by Stenney.

Gallacher, who has represented West Fife for 15 years, is opposed by both Labor and Conservative nominees. In the 1945 general election the communist won with 17,636 votes, against 15,580 for Labor and 8,597 for a Liberal National.

The British communist party has only 40,000 paid-up members, but London political writers say this does not represent its true strength.

Harry Pollitt, the party secretary, who is standing in the Welsh mining constituency of East Rhondda, consistently stresses the "quality" of the party's members, meaning they have been thoroughly vetted as to party loyalty before being admitted.

Although the communist party is waging a vigorous campaign for more votes, some London observers believe it is placing more stress on its industrial activities than in the political field.

Spearheading the industrial drive is Abe Moffat, Scottish miners' leader currently campaigning to upset the government's wage-freezing policy. Last summer's crippling London dock strike was blamed on communist influence.

The Record Short Story

New Leaf

By CONSTANCE CLARKE GREENE

Marianne and Hugh had been married two years and they had never fought, except over one thing. Marianne never seemed to be able to get any place on time. During their engagement, Hugh didn't seem to mind her tardiness. It was nothing new. She had always been late. Through boarding school, college and at home. People more or less accepted the fact. When you are as pretty as Marianne was, blonde and young, it was considered rather cute to come flying in, breathless, full of excuses. People were indulgent. But not forever. Especially people like Hugh.

She simply had to improve. He had as much as told her that the last time she was late. When he made reservations at a restaurant, he wanted her there on time. The few times they went to the theatre, he wanted dinner at home on time so they wouldn't have to crawl over thousands of protesting knees in the middle of the first act. Hugh really almost distrusted people who were chronically late. And she was no exception.

The funny thing was that he was really a very even-tempered man. His disposition was pleasant and he was a wonderful husband. He was grim seldom but when he was — Marianne didn't even like to think of it.

Tonight was her big chance. They were taking some important business acquaintance to dinner. A Mr. Ashton and his wife, from Montana. Ashton was a former senator, now president of a copper mining concern. If he liked Hugh (and how could he not?) he was going to let him handle the company's New York business. It would mean a lot—travel, prestige, more money. Marianne didn't have to have Hugh tell her how important tonight was. She was going to be on time—if it killed her.

The Ashtons had to catch a ten o'clock train but they planned to dress for dinner anyway. It seemed Mrs. Ashton spent a good deal of her husband's money on clothes when she came to New York and she took every opportunity to show them off. When she got home, she didn't get much chance to swish around. So dinner was at seven, to give the Ashtons plenty of time to change to street clothes for their trip. Hugh would change at his office.

"Seven, sharp, at the Crystal Room," Hugh said in the morning. Marianne said, confidently, "Yes, darling," and as she kissed him, she thought being on time was little enough to do for him.

When he left, she cleaned the apartment thoroughly. She was a good housekeeper anyway. She took the bus downtown to keep a two o'clock hair appointment. The girl at the desk at Antoine's looked at the clock in surprise as Marianne came in. Exactly two. She smiled smugly at the girl. She couldn't miss today.

The dryer hummed and Marianne shut her eyes. She looked pretty even with the atrocious scowl, set-trapped head. Her next stop she had planned to make to buy some earrings to wear with the black dinner dress. As things stood now, she'd have time to burn. What a wonderful feeling!

Maybe she shouldn't have asked Louise to drop in for a cup of tea. It would take up some of her time but the day had gone so well thus far, she wasn't afraid. The manicurist finished with her and then Mr. Fred ran a magnet all over her hairpins which decorated her waves and stripped her of net, cotton, ermine and paper protectors. He took a brush from the sterilizer and brushed this or that dazed calm into an apparent fury. Then he whipped out his comb, arched his palms with some scented cream and ironed her hair back into artless looking curls. She looked nice. It took time but it was worth it.

She got the earrings in no time at all. Just what she wanted and they went well with the new hair-do. Now if Louise would take herself off by five, everything would be swell.

Louise was an old friend. She had never married and she took no pains with her appearance. She was just enough envious of Hugh to lend a little filip to their friendship. Her job at the museum was evidently pretty good and she liked it. Whenever she could, she worked in a few bars about the life of an idle woman. Marianne didn't mind. She liked Louise well enough to overlook the cracks.

It was fun to see her again and they gossiped with pleasure. Marianne tried not to look at the clock. Louise left at ten minutes after five and Marianne was thankful. She felt tired and let down. Perhaps a little nap would pick her up. She couldn't afford to look drawn out and tired tonight. She had been on the go since early morning. Just forty winks would do it. She snuggled down under the comforter.

Surely she had just closed her eyes when the telephone rang. How maddening! She reached for it and dazedly said hello. "There is no one on your wire now . . . sorry. That was odd. Still holding the receiver. Marianne looked at the clock to see how much longer she could nap.

It couldn't be. She blinked her eyes and looked again. The hands stood at six-thirty. It must be wrong. She hadn't slept at all. Or anyway, not longer than fifteen minutes. But just on a chance, she called the operator.

"Six-thirty one, Mrs. Cummings. You're welcome."

She leaped out of bed and stood for a moment, completely at a loss. Her bath was brief as she could make it, but still too long. She didn't dry herself carefully enough and had a terrible time getting into her girdle. The zipper on the dress caught in her flesh and she cried aloud with the pain. Angry tears came to her eyes but she couldn't even allow herself the luxury of crying. It would spoil her makeup.

She seemed to have at least forty fingers on each hand. She dropped her hair brush at least ten times before she could get her sleep-matted coiffure into any kind of order. She hated to hurry. Her dress was new and the buttons down the front, tiny and black, which had beamed so beguiling when she bought the dress, now were instruments of the devil.

Six fifty-five. She rang the elevator bell for an eternity. Why that fool boy come? That fool in 7-C, talking baby talk to her poodle and Sam, being polite as always, instead of slamming the door in her face and speeding to get Marianne. She came out on the street. No taxi in sight. After frantic sorties back and forth, one cruised into sight. Surely it must be well after seven by now.

She pushed down hard on the floor with her foot, urging the driver to hurry. "Can't you turn that corner on red? I'm in a terrible hurry," she begged.

"Sorry, lady, I have to follow orders. Been lot of tickets around here lately."

She was tempted to take the wide steps of the hotel two at a time, but dignity prevented her. They would have gone in and she would have to go to the table alone. Then she would have to face the evening ahead, pretending to be gay and happy, while all the time she would know how angry Hugh was with her. It might literally be the beginning of the end.

Suddenly there he was. Looking pale and rather strange. She felt numb and completely defenseless. "You got here!"

They've taken Ashton to the hospital. He was hit by a bus, crossing against the light. They called me at the office and at first darling," his voice cracked at this in a way Marianne would remember for a long time to come, "I thought it was about you. I had told you to hurry."

McKENNY ON BRIDGE

By Wm. E. McKenny, America's Card Authority

TOURNAMENTS TEACH YOU TO GET POINTS

One of the reasons why tournaments are bound to improve your bridge game is that they teach you to get the maximum out of every hand. Bidding and making a slam in a suit may just give you an average on a board, while at no trump your chances may be better than average, because of the extra ten points.

Today's hand was sent to me some time ago by Paul Godin and J. J. Perreault, both of whom play an important part in tournament bridge in Montreal, Canada. They both have served as President of the Montreal Bridge League.

As soon as the dummy went down Mr. Perreault, sitting South, realized that most of the North and South players would play the hand at six spades, which they would have no trouble in making, and he knew that very few would take the spade finesse. But as his contract was no trump, he would be forced to take the spade finesse. If it worked he could then safely take the club finesse.

Mr. Perreault won the opening lead of the jack of hearts with the king. He led a small spade to the king and then cashed the ace of diamonds. Now he played a small spade and finesse the jack. When it held he led jack of clubs and when East refused to cover he let it ride. When it held the trick he cashed the balance of his spades, also the king and queen of diamonds. He now played a small heart to the ace, and cashed the ace of clubs for his 12th trick.

Thus, those who played the hand at six spades, and did not take the spade finesse, made 1430, while Mr. Perreault made a score of 1440.

The stoppage of no other single commodity obtained from western Europe would have such an important effect on the economies of the Soviet-occupied territory.

It had not been the British government's wish to develop a new general trial of strength by action which might provoke further reactions.

But it was felt that the Berlin stoppage, which has now been going on for nearly two weeks could not proceed with complete impunity.

It was thought necessary to make it clear once again to the Soviet and east German governments and to the people of western Berlin, that the western powers intended to remain in their own sectors and would if necessary, reply in strength.

He is Georgi Malenkov, whose recent rise at Stalin's right hand has been meteoric. Lacking mass appeal, he dislikes the limelight and prefers to pull wires behind scenes.

Malenkov has used this position to carry out a quiet purge of possible opponents. At home his policy meant tightening up against liberals, including renewed discrimination against Jews.

Malenkov has used this position to carry out a quiet purge of possible opponents. At home his policy meant tightening up against liberals, including renewed discrimination against Jews.

For a time Malenkov apparently ranked above even with Lavrenty P. Beria, the power behind the secret police, but Beria did not appear to Stevens to be aspiring any higher.

Stevens writes that the great Soviet blood purge of the 1930's among other things, disclosed "the utter dependence of the all-powerful Kremlin rulers on their NKVD (secret police, now the MVD) bodyguard. Stalin and his retinue no longer appeared in public unless all within gunshot had been carefully checked for security."

"The police state, however, operates and evolves according to an inner logic of its own that not even Stalin can alter. In a sense, not even he can control the Frankenstein he helped to fashion. And the police state eyes even the least hint of genuine freedom and democracy with abhorrence and dread," he writes.

formation about the Fuchs case but just hadn't got around to it yet.

Thus far, he was said to have received only a digest of the statement Fuchs made to British authorities and not the full statement itself.

F.B.I. also ran across the British scientist's trial as a result of a reference to him in a notebook kept by one of the suspects in the Canadian atomic spy ring, which was broken by several arrests and convictions four years ago.

One thing stood out clearly in the reports of the investigation here to date—the full story of how Fuchs operated so successfully in the U.S. hasn't yet begun to be unfolded.

But what has been disclosed caused the committee member, who asked anonymity, to term it "the most incredible story I've ever heard." The seriousness of the situation, he said "cannot be overemphasized."

Chairman Brien McMahon (Dem. Conn.) said flatly after the joint committee's closed door meeting with Hoover that Fuchs gave atomic information to the Russians. He would not say where, when or how.

He disclosed that "further ramifications of this matter" are being worked on by the F.B.I. and British intelligence units.

Asked if this meant other persons were involved, he replied cryptically: "Sometimes common sense dictates arrests not be made immediately."

and rail carriers be continued, said Mr. Hansard.

This competition could only be preserved "on a fair and equitable basis" if the water carriers are permitted "to live and not be driven out of business by such grossly-unfair departure from established rate-making principles as the amendment advocated by the C.N.R. would permit."

Two Defence

Crown producing a copy instead of the original.

Mr. Justice Mitchell ruled that the Crown could not question the witness on a copy of a document, so the original was produced.

As Mr. Dorion attempted to question Marchand further as to the document, Mr. Chevalier again raised an objection, and asked that the jury be withdrawn. This was done and the defence attorney said he objected to the description of the document given by the Crown, on the grounds that the whole judgment would be put before the jury and then the witness might answer that he had never seen the document. The objection was maintained.

Marchand was then asked to examine the document and answer if he had received a copy of it. He answered that he had received certain copies as secretary of the C.C.C.L. but without having them at hand, could not swear that they were copies of the document set before him.

When the hearing resumed this morning more legal argument developed as to the admissibility of the injunction by the prosecution in cross-questioning. After considerable discussion, the defence objection to the injunction was rejected by Mr. Justice Mitchell.

Cross-examination of Marchand then continued and was going on at press time.

Home And School To Show Film On Behavior Problem

Magog, February 7. - Tonight in the Magog High School, there will be an open meeting of the Magog and District Home and School Association. The Association will be privileged in having with it, the members of the Travelling Mental Institute, and the Verdun Hospital, who will show a film dealing with a behaviour problem of interest to parents, and then lead a discussion on the topic. This is an open meeting, and anyone interested is cordially invited to attend. A business meeting will precede the showing of the film.

The W. A. held their second meeting of the year at the home of Mrs. Merrill. The president, Mrs. George Smith, was in the chair. The secretary, Mrs. Frank Reed read the minutes. A short business meeting preceded the serving of refreshments. There were thirteen members and four visitors present.

Magog Hi-News

The Magog High School Duck Pin Bowling League recently finished its schedule of games for this year. The winning team was captained by Betty Webster, who also wins the cup for the girls highest average, 76. Lyle Sager, member of the same team, wins the boy's cup with the highest single string bowled in the league this year, 172, as well as the highest average, 116. Cups will be donated as usual, by the Magog and District Home and School Association, and will be presented at the last school dance of the year. The members of the winning team are, Betty Webster, Lyle Sager, Sybil Trautman, Garry Matthews, Pat Kirby, and Leigh Catchpugh. This team had a total of 2761 pins for six matches bowled, edging out by narrow margin its rivals, Team One, captained by Kenneth Whittier, who had a score of 2638, and Team Eight, captained by Norman Nicholl, who had a score of 1642 pins. Runners-up for the highest average, were Beverley Pipus and Norman Nicholl. The winning team will receive a free trip to the movies at the expense of Miss Labonte, manager of the league.

The pupils of the senior grades are taking advantage of the generous offer of some of the members of the Magog Social Assn. Curling Club, who are showing them how to curl.

There is an excuse for the pupils of Magog High School, who doesn't learn how to dance. Mr. Robinson is conducting dancing class from 4 to 4:45, every Wednesday afternoon in the grade eight classroom.

Interest in badminton has rather lagged behind lately, perhaps due to the rivalry of the other sports, curling, basketball and hockey. We are very fortunate in having the use of St. Paul's Church Hall, for badminton, as well as St. Luke's, for basketball. Let us not overlook such opportunities.

Only two hockey games have been played this season, due to bad weather. One game an exhibition match, took place in Ayer's Cliff, on January 16, when M.S.H. won by a return match was played in Magog, on the High School, ice on January 21, and Ayer's Cliff won by a score of 3-1.

On January 24, a double header basketball game was played, when Magog Junior Boys were defeated by Sherbrooke 46 to 37, and Magog Senior Girls defeated Windsor Mills, by the score of 21 to 7. Lunch was served to the players afterwards at the school. Miss Parsons and Miss Brown acted as hostesses.

General Notes

Our deepest sympathy is extended to Mrs. Molly McDermott, Mrs. Samuel Bousada, of Magog and Mr. Vivian Lewis, of Cornwall, Ont., in their recent bereavement caused by the death of their mother, Mrs. L. Mrs. Lewis died at the home of her niece, Forest House, Clifftown, on December 28th, 1949. She was laid to rest in the Clyntaff Cemetery, PONDYPRID. Bearers were the deacons of the Moriah Church, here, nephews, and son, Jack.

On the night of January 18, the Anglican Young People's Badminton Club played a tournament with Bishop's College. There were 15 games played during the evening, and the final score 13-2 in favor of the A.Y.P.S. Badminton Club. Refreshments were served and both teams joined in playing a game of Round Robin, which was organized by our games convener, Mr. Edward Henry. A return match is planned in the near future.

The Doctor Says

TREATMENT OF BIRTHMARK DEPENDS ON VARIETY, LOCATION

By Edwin P. Jordan, M.D.

There is a common superstition that birthmarks come because of an unfortunate incident occurring to the mother during pregnancy. This has no scientific basis. The claim that when a baby is born with a strawberry mark the mother had an uncontrollable desire for strawberries cannot be proved. Some birthmarks are attributed to a fright of the mother. All of these ideas are not true and do not stand up when carefully studied.

Fortunately birthmarks are usually so small, covered by hair, or placed in such an inconspicuous part of the body that they do not cause any concern. Occasionally, large ones appear on the face or some other conspicuous part of the body where they seriously mar the looks.

Some birthmarks are made up of numerous tiny blood vessels in the skin. Such a "mark" is called a hemangioma. Some are level with the surface of the skin but have a dark purplish color which gives them the common name of port wine mark.

Some birthmarks made up of blood vessels are raised above the skin level and are soft and spongy. These are called strawberry marks. This type may occur anywhere, but it is particularly common around the lips or tongue.

Another common variety of birthmark made up of blood vessels is irregularly shaped and slightly raised. It is called a spider nevus because the blood vessels at the centre look like the body while the smaller ones passing outward resemble the legs of a spider.

Some treatments are various ways of treating the wine nevus or birthmarks, all aimed at closing off the blood vessels, so that blood ceases to flow through. Carbon dioxide snow may be used for the small ones. These birthmarks require delicate handling, however, as there is some danger of leaving an abnormal skin after the port wine birthmark has been destroyed.

Radium treatment is also effective in some cases. There is also what is called the Grenz ray. The same kinds of treatment can be considered for the strawberry mark, or the spider nevus.

In addition to treatments mentioned, I should mention that there is a treatment which can be used to cover some kinds of birthmarks. This comes in different colors and can be matched to the skin of the individual and applied once a day or so. It has saved a lot of self-consciousness and distress, but of course is not claimed, not has any value, as a cure.

Drummondville

Mr. Antoine Biron, K.C., was elected by acclamation, mayor of the city of Drummondville, at a meeting which was held at the City Hall nomination ceremony, on Wednesday afternoon. His nomination by acclamation to fill the city's highest civic post as Mayor, came as no surprise to the city's taxpayers. Mr. Biron is very well qualified to fill the post recently vacated on account of falling health by his predecessor His Worship Mayor Gaston Ringuet. Mr. Biron is a native of Drummondville and studied for his degrees in law at Ste. Marie and Brebeuf Colleges, of Montreal, and at Laval University at Quebec, following his graduation from Laval he returned to his native city to practise law under the Honourable Hector Laferte, former provincial deputy for Drummond Arthabaska. The new mayor is also president of the Roman Catholic School Board, at present free of party politics, which will enable him to take a broader view in civic decisions at the city hall in all municipal affairs.

Mr. R. D. Farley, recently appointed industrial agent for Drummondville, has returned from a trip to Boston, Mass., where he had interviewed officials of two American firms planning to open branches here in Canada. Chances are that either of these concerns may decide in the very near future to set up business here in Drummondville, which would help curb the unemployment situation here at present, in any case, Mr. Farley was very well satisfied with the cordial welcome extended him during his interview with the company officials and that some definite decision may be forthcoming in the very near future. This matter has aroused considerable local interest.

Following a large slump in production, it is learned reliably here that the Dominion Textile Company has called back to work some six hundred employees, who had been laid off late last summer, which again brings the pay-roll back to the 1400 mark. The company is hopeful that full production will again be maintained throughout the ensuing months.

The new Sub-Post Office was opened officially to the public of St. Charles Village on Monday, January 23rd, 1950, under the name of St. Charles de Drummond. Mr. Lucien Cote will be in charge of the new office. The office will dispatch one delivery daily through the Drummondville Post Office Couriers, R.R. No. 3, all mail matter addressed to St. Charles de Drummond should be despatched to Drummondville P. Q.

Mr. Raul Dumaine, formerly of St. Francis and now of St. Barthelemy, County of Berthier, was seriously injured in an automobile accident near Lanoraie. He was alone in his car, when the accident occurred and was immediately rushed to the Hospital, in Joliette. According to the latest report, his condition still remains critical.

News received from New Hampton School for Boys, located at New Hampton, N.H., U.S.A. states that Master Peter E. Gall has been elected president of the senior class, and advertising manager for "The Belfry", the New Hampton year book. He is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Gall, general manager Dominion Silk Dyeing and Finishing Company, Ltd., here.

A hotel employee charged with the theft of eight pieces of tableware, a watch and other articles was sentenced to serve six months in prison by the recorder's court. The police located the stolen silver-ware in Rimouski. Another young man, found guilty of a robbery committed at the Bowling Hall, on Lindsay Street, was sentenced to two years, this was his fourth offence.

Emmanuel Church, Cowansville, Heard Good Reports

Cowansville, Feb. 4. — Reports of all Church Boards and organizations, presented to the Annual Meeting of the Emmanuel United Church which was held in Cowansville on Monday evening, January 23rd, indicated that the year 1949 had been most successful both for the congregation and the Pastoral Charge, which includes East Farnham.

The meeting, which was presided over by the minister, Rev. George G. Connolly, B.A., B.D., heard and approved reports which outlined the activities of the various groups and which gave their financial statements, from the Sunday School, for Fordyce Ladies' Aid, the Emmanuel Choir, the Women's Association, the Young People's Union, the Young Adult Club, the Emmanuel Auxiliary, and the Women's Missionary Society. The Committee of Stewards' report was presented by the Church Treasurer, Mr. L. S. Henderson, and showed that the sum of $800.00 has been forwarded to Toronto for the Missionary and Maintenance Fund, that all current obligations of the Church had been met and that a substantial balance was carried forward to the year 1950. Total net receipts for all Boards and organizations on the Pastoral Charge were slightly over $5,400.00 and the total balance carried forward in all accounts to 1950 exceeded $1,500.00.

On behalf of Mr. W. D. Smith, Treasurer of the Trustee Board, Mr. Henderson also presented the Trustees' report; This showed a total of $10,000 in the Endowment Fund; insurance on the Church and Parsonage of $41,000 and some $242,000 in the Renovation Fund.

The Board of Elders report, presented by the minister, showed a net increase in Church membership of 11 for the year. Seventeen new members were received, but three were removed by death and three by letter of transfer. Commenting on this report, Mr. Connolly spoke of the serious losses which the Church and community had suffered during the year in the passing of Mr. George E. Ford and Mr. William W. Mason, both of whom had been elders of the church and loyal in the work of the congregation for many years; also included in a resolution which recorded their passing with regret were Mr. Harold F. Vilas, Dr. Alfred C. Paintin, and Mrs. Claude Robb. The congregation observed one minute of silence in tribute to their memory.

The election of Officers to the Church Boards was held and resulted in the re-election of Mr. C. E. Buchanan and Mr. E. H. Johnson to the Session; Mr. Murray Mason was elected to this Board to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of his father, and also to the Committee of Stewards; Mr. K. Elvidge was re-elected to the trustees and elected to the Trustee Board, for which board he has been chairman of the Renovation Committee.

Mr. Connolly expressed, on behalf of himself and the congregation, sincere appreciation to Mr. Spencer Henderson for his work as treasurer of the Church, to Mrs. Gay B. Cousins for her leadership of the choir and the music at public worship, to Mrs. W. J. Craigie for her faithfulness, both as treasurer of the Choir and for her services in caring for the Communion vessels and preparing the Lord's Table for the Sacrament, and finally to Mr. Archie Dryden for his cheerful and efficient services as Church Officer.

Col. R. F. Stockwell, K.C., Chairman of the Committee of Stewards, moved a vote of thanks and appreciation to the minister for the high quality of his leadership in the congregation during the year; he felt that everyone had been helped by the thoughtful and inspiring sermons they had heard, and he complimented both Mr. and Mrs. Connolly on their ability to

DOROTHY DIX

Wants Egg In Beer
Philandering Husband Complains That
Wife Is Not Cheerful About Situation

Dear Miss Dix: I have been married for twenty years to a woman who has always been a jolly, lively, loving disposition. We have always been devoted. But now she is 47 and I am 51 and she has lost her good looks, so I have found a sweetheart on the side. Not long ago my wife found out about this.

She has never said a word to me about it, but she just looks stricken and never laughs or sings any more. When I try to kiss her she doesn't pay any attention to it. I have told her that it is all right with me for her to go out with anyone she wants to. I bought her a car and some new furniture which she has been wanting a long time, but she doesn't seem to care for them. I cannot give up my sweetheart, but I want my wife to live up a little and take an interest in things like she used to and make things pleasant around home. Don't you think she is being foolish?

H. R. T.
Answer: Indeed, I do think she is acting foolishly. H. R. T. I don't see why a woman such as your wife is should waste a single regret on losing such a miserable husband. If she had any sense, she would sweep him out of the house with a broom along with the other refuse and think it a good riddance.

But women ARE silly creatures, and when one sets her heart upon a worthless man there is no arguing with her. And I don't wonder that you are annoyed at this foolish creature who is so illogical that she won't go on making things pleasant and gay for you at home when you choose to return to it after you have been out showing your sweetheart a good time.

A ROTTEN DEAL
Think of a woman who has worked side by side with a man for twenty years. Then she finds out that this man whom she has so adored, for whom she has done so much, has forsaken her for a young girl because she has got middle-aged and is no longer young and pretty. Can you think of any man lower than the man who plays her such a trick? I can't, and I have a lively imagination in good working order.

But watch out, H. R. T. Your pretty, young sweetheart may pay you back for the way you are treating your wife. Many a bad woman avenges the wrongs of a good woman.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I am a young man in my late 20's, hopelessly in love with a married woman much older than I am. Her husband treats her shamefully, but she hesitates to bring any divorce action on account of her religious considerations. I am able to support a wife and nothing would make me happier than to marry the girl of my dreams, yet I am wondering if I am doing the right thing in meddling in a family situation of which I am not in the least the cause. I am bewildered.

EUGENE
Answer: Don't be bewildered any longer, Eugene, for the road lies straight before and it leads away from the married lady's domicile. Let her and her husband fight out their differences, and do you reflect that you are not ordained to be a consoler of wives.

Don't ever try to persuade a woman to do anything against her religious convictions. It is wrong in the first place, and in the second place she never stays persuaded or convinced. This woman may yield to your pleas to get a divorce from her husband and marry you, but if she does, the ceremony will hardly be over before her conscience will begin to reproach her and she will make not only herself but you miserable.

And, anyway, you will be making a mistake to marry a woman who is much older than yourself. Two or three years or possibly five are negligible, but beyond that the time limit expires.

Dear Miss Dix: I have been going with a young man for three years. He says he loves me and that we are going to be married, but he never sets the date. Do you think it would be right for me to ask him when I think a girl has a right to know where she stands.

DAISY
Answer: Right you are, Daisy. Have a showdown with the young man and find out just exactly where he stands on the matrimonial problem.

Getting married is just as much a woman's business as it is a man's, if not more. So I think you are quite within your rights to ask your dilatory lover when he proposes to ring the wedding bells, and if he continues to put it off, your cue is to break it all off. In matrimony a man should either put up or shut up.

MARRIAGES

LYNN—McRAE
At the Plymouth United Church, on February 4, the marriage was solemnized of Miss Patricia Anne McRae, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald C. McRae, of Sherbrooke, to Mr. James Diman Lynn, son of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Lynn, of Sherbrooke, the Rev. R. C. Tait officiating. Snapdragons and yellow carnations in huge baskets, were used to decorate the church. Mr. Gault Parker, organist of the Drummondville United Church, played the wedding marches, and awaited the arrival of the bride, rendered "Jesus Joy Of Man's Desiring." "Where'er You Walk," and softly played appropriate selections during the service and "Because" during the signing of the register.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a period gown of white chiffon velvet, fashioned with a bodice fastened up the front with tiny self covered buttons, having a narrow turnover collar and long sleeves ending in points over the hands. Her very full skirt, with bustle hipline, fell into a long train and her Juliet cap of matching velvet, held her three-quarter veil of silk net, and she carried a cascade bouquet of yellow carnations and Gloria rosebuds. She wore a rope of pearls, the gift of the bride.

Miss Martha McCabe and Miss Verian Joslin, bridesmaids, were dressed alike in American Beauty velvet, their floor-length gowns were fashioned with long tight fitting bodices, having sweetheart necklines elbow length sleeves and very full skirts shirred all around. They wore matching Juliet caps and short American Beauty veils. Their cascade bouquets were also of Gloria rosebuds and yellow carnations.

Mrs. Dallas Grayton acted as best man. The ushers were Messrs. John Mathias and Harold Drew. Mrs. McRae, the bride's mother, was gowned in a platinum satin floor-length frock with fitted back and soft drapes in the front and sides, falling into folds to the hemline, and short sleeves. She wore a large black picture hat with a wreath of shaded flowers around the open crown, and an American Beauty and carnation corsage.

Mrs. Lynn, mother of the groom, was in a black crepe beaded gown with touches of turquoise, a flowered hat and a corsage of red roses. The reception was held at "Rockcliffe," Quebec Street. The bride and groom received in front of the large window, partly banked with spring flowers, barberry and fern. The same floral arrangement of flowers was carried out in a pottery bowl over the fireplace.

The bride's table, covered with a lace cloth, and centered with a three-tier wedding cake, was decorated with rapture roses and narcissus in sterling silver bowls at either end and lighted with pale pink candles in matching silver candelabra. The toast to the bride was proposed by Rev. Mr. Tait and responded to by the bridegroom. The toast to the matron of honor and bridesmaids was given by the groom and replied to Mr. John Mathias.

The bride threw her bouquet, which was caught by Miss Verian Joslin, and later Mr. and Mrs. Lynn left for a honeymoon in the South. For travelling the bride wore a power blue wool suit under a silver muskrat coat, a Burgundy velvet hat and matching accessories.

Annual Congregational Meeting Held By East Angus United Church Members

East Angus, February 7. — The Annual Congregational meeting of the United Church was held in the Church Hall on Monday evening, January 23. In spite of many people in the congregation being ill, over forty-five members of the parish were able to attend and enjoyed supper arranged by the Women's Association.

After supper a sing-song led by Rev. M. Little and accompanied by Mrs. Roy Gillis at the piano was enjoyed. Rev. Little conducted a brief service of worship, then presided over the meeting which followed.

Mr. Barton Carr, secretary, gave the minutes of the last Annual Meeting held in January 1949 which were accepted as read. He also read the minutes of the Congregational meeting of September 1949 which were also adopted as read.

The report of the Board of Stewards was read by Mr. Gordon Sims and that of the M. and M. Fund by Mr. Roy Gillis. At this point Rev. Little stated that the Junior Ladies Aid had changed the name of their organization to that of "The Women's Association". The Women's Association's report was presented by the treasurer, Mrs. Carl Groenewald and showed a very successful year in its work. Mrs. Henry Labonte reported for the Senior Ladies Aid, stating that they had had a successful year.

The Church School report was given by the treasurer, Mr. Douglas Hall, and showed a very good year. The report of the W.M.S. was given by Mrs. Albert Bellevue St. and showed that the allocation set for the year had been fully met.

The report of the Trustees for the past two years was given by Mr. J. R. McFadden and the Cemetery Report by Mr. Gordon Sims. The report of the Session was given by the minister.

Following the reading of reports the election of officers took place. Messrs. Jack McLellan, Wesley Beattie and Clinton Vipond were elected to the Board of Stewards for three years. Mr. Roy Gillis was re-elected for the M. and M. fund. The organist and cleaning of the Church was left up to the Women's Association. Miss Audrey Hall and Mrs. Wendell Damon were elected Press Representatives for the church. Miss Elizabeth McLellan resigned as Chairman of the Equipment Committee.

The Equipment Committee is to consider plans for another entrance to the hall. It was suggested that the steps to the church be rebuilt and the church painted. It was also suggested that the entrance to the church be removed to the front of the building. The dedication of the new hall is to be left to the Women's Association. Rev. Little mentioned that perhaps we could hold regular fellowship meetings once a month and any suggestions about this should be passed on to him or to the President of the Women's Association.

Johnson To Meet Man Who Beat His Father

Philadelphia, Feb. 7.—(AP)—Harold Johnson will try tomorrow night to accomplish what his father failed to do 14 years ago—win father Joe Walcott.

Who lose or draw for the 22-year-old Johnson in the 10-round bout at the Arena, it'll be something new in boxing.

Old timers couldn't recall any time where a fighter faced the same opponent his father previously thought it was about 20 years ago.

But a check of the record books showed it was in June, 1936, in a Philadelphia ball park that Walcott met Harold's pappy—Phil Johnson.

Walcott was 22, the elder Johnson 30.

Jersey Joe knocked out Pop Johnson in the third round. The veteran Camden heavyweight recalled "I either broke his nose or gave him so bad a beating they had to stop the fight."

The elder Johnson, according to Walcott, was a "rough man in the ring, from what I can remember and weighed more than 200 pounds."

Phil Johnson now is living in Newark, N.J. His last fight was April 26, 1943, when he was beaten by Elmer Ray. For several years he was a sparring partner for Tony Galento.

It'll be the most important fight in Young Johnson's brief career. He has been in 30 fights, losing only once. One of his most important recent victories was a decision over veteran Jimmy Bivins.

Walcott is the favorite on the basis of his experience. At around 195 pounds he'll outweigh his opponent by at least 15 pounds.

Canada's Middle Distance Runners Place High In B. E. Games Final

Eden Park, Auckland, N.Z., Feb. 7.—(Reuters)—Two track and field records were toppled today at the British Empire Games but the best Canada could do in the six finals contested was a thrilling second and third in the men's 880-yard run.

For a while, the crowd of 40,000, packing the stadium in a blazing sun thought Canada would gain its first track victory of the 1950 games but British Champion Harold Parlett won the 880 in the last few strides.

Jack Hutchins, 23-year-old Vancouver star, appeared to be headed for victory until Parlett's great sprint put him two strides ahead at the finish. Bill Parnell, 21, of Vancouver, who was passed by the other two runners in the stretch, fought back to finish third only inches behind his fellow-Canadian.

Parlett's winning time was 1:53.1, well short of the B.E. Games record of 1:51.2.

The two new Empire Games marks were set by Australia in the discus throw and by Ceylon in the 440-yard hurdles final. Duncan White hurdled the 440 in 52.5 seconds, shattering record of 52.9 set by Johnny Loaring of Windsor, Ont., in the 1938 games.

There was some dispute at first about the record set by Ian Reed in winning the discus throw for BRITISH EMPIRE GAMES TUESDAY

TRACK AND FIELD
Women's 220-Yard Dash
Eleanor McKenzie, Vancouver, fourth in preliminary heat (failed to qualify).

Elaine Silburn, Montreal, fifth in preliminary heat (failed to qualify).

Peggy Moore, Vancouver, fourth in preliminary heat (failed to qualify).

Viola Myers, Toronto, fifth in preliminary heat (failed to qualify).

Men's 220-Yard Dash
Don Pettie, Calgary, first in preliminary heat, third in semi-final (qualified for final).

Three Miles
Ivan Ferguson, Toronto, withdrew before finish.

Men's 880-Yard Final
Jack Hutchins, Vancouver, second.

Bill Parnell, Vancouver, third.

Men's Discus Final
Svein Sigfusson, Winnipeg, third.

Australia. His toss of 156 feet seven inches was not allowed when inspection showed the discus being used was a half-inch out of true.

Given three more throws to try for the record, he hurled it 5½ inches farther to set a new mark of 158 feet ¾ inch. The former record was 146 feet 10½ inches, set by Eric Coy of Winnipeg in 1935.

Svein Sigfusson of Winnipeg placed third behind Mataka Tui-cakau of Fiji in the discus throw with a toss of 142 feet 8 inches.

England made the best showing in today's finals, winning three of the six. Australia won one, Ceylon one and South Africa one. Besides the 880, England took the three-mile run and the women's high jump.

Calgary's Don Pettie gave Canada a chance to pick up some points tomorrow when he qualified for the 220-yard dash final by finishing third in a semi-final. Australia's Johnny Treolar won the semi-final handsly and Pettie just caught third place by a photo.

Granby Grads Edge Out Independents 99-94 To Win E. T. Basketball Title; Windsor Girls Down Bishop's 59-36

Special to the Record
Granby, Feb. 7.—The Granby Grads, a new entry in the E.T. Basketball League, defeated Sherbrooke Independents, champions for the past four years, in a two game total points series 99-94 to cop the E.T. basketball championship.

The Grads capped both games of the series, which was the closest in the history of the circuit. The first game was won 47-43, and this was what gave the Grads the title as the second game was closer and ended 52-51, to give the Grads the crown by five points.

R. Nickerson, Granby, was the high scorer with 21 points followed by Clark, a juvenile centre man, with 17 points. For the Independents G. Geary was top man with 19, with B. Potts and B. Fuller each with ten apiece.

The Independents went down to a fighting finish, and Geary was without doubt the outstanding performer as his offensive and defensive work was shaded by none. His interception and breaking up of plays played a big part in helping to keep the score close.

At the half way mark the Grads lead 30-25, and further on held only one point advantage on the round, but they staged a late rally which netted them four more points to finish the round five points ahead.

In the ladies' play, the Windsor girls copped the title 59-36 from Bishop's College Coeds and now advance along the provincial play-downs against Quebec. The first game will be played in the Capitol City Saturday, February 11, with the return game back in Windsor and Granby the following week-end.

Visser Basketball Trophy To Be Competed For; Zone Winners Must Be Declared Before End Of Month

(Special to the Record)
Thetford Mines, Feb. 7.—The Visser Interscholastic basketball trophy, donated by the late A. H. Visser of Thetford Mines for annual competition among the Protestant Schools of the province, off the Island of Montreal, will be back in play this month.

The Province is divided into zones with from two to six schools in each. Each zone arranges its own series of games during the year and each must declare a winner before March 1st.

Players must be regular in attendance at school during the year and are not permitted to play in the finals if they have reached the age of twenty before the first of January of the year in which the competition is held.

The first year the Trophy was won by Thetford Mines High School and was held by the same school the second year due to the fact that no playoff games were held. The third year it was won by Lennoxville High School. Last year, the fourth year, the Trophy was won by Stanstead College.

The zone winners have always met in Sherbrooke for the playoffs, and the interest, competition and good sportsmanlike behavior of all teams has been excellent. Last year the competing teams were Stanstead, Granby, Richmond and Thetford Mines. These are the teams representing four of the seven Zones in the Province.

We have not, as yet, had any representative teams from Zones 1, 2 or 7 in the playoffs, but we are hoping that more will compete this year. Zone 1 consists of LaChute, Aylmer, Buckingham, Hull and Shawville. Zone 2 includes Ormstown, Huntingdon, Valleyfield and Howick. Zone 7 takes in Three Rivers, Shawinigan Falls, Grandmeac and La Tuque.

The directors of the Trophy appreciate the fact that travel is a big handicap and expense. However, they feel that if schools are not competing for this reason some arrangements can be made for inter-zone competition, or assistance could be obtained through Service Clubs such as Kiwanis or Rotary.

Should any schools require any further information please write to Mr. J. S. Visser, Thetford Mines, Que.

St. Hyacinthe Edged Out Sherbrooke 5-4 In Overtime; Meet Windsor Tonight In First Game Of Finals

St. Hyacinthe Black Hawks Juniors won their way into the E.T. Junior Hockey League playdowns when they edged out the Sherbrooke Saints 5-4 and earned the right to meet Windsor Juniors in the finals.

This evening the Black Hawks will meet Windsor Mills in the first game of three-out-of-five series. The second tilt will be played Saturday with the third on Sunday. All games will be contested in the Canada Paper Arena in Windsor.

The match was decided in the second overtime period, and then on a penalty shot, when Caron tallied for the Hawks after a Sherbrooke player had pulled down a St. Hyacinthe youngster on a breakaway. Heavy discussion followed the referee's decision, but it remained and when the local team failed to continue the game it was awarded to St. Hyacinthe.

St. Hyacinthe opened the scoring on a goal by Chapelle, but a flur came right back and knotted the count. Malouin then put the Hawks out in front again to end the scoring for the first period. In the middle frame the local team outscored the visitors 2-1. Semiaro and Perreault did the scoring for Sherbrooke while Caron got the lone Hawk tally. In the final session Bernier put the locals out in front for the first time during the tilt but Chadelaine came through with his second marker of the game to knot the count and force overtime.

In the first period nothing happened as both teams battled on an even basis. Bernatchez, of the Hawks, drew a slashing penalty, but the locals failed to do anything with the man advantage. In the second period after forty-nine seconds of play the St. Hyacinthe team was awarded the penalty shot and Caron came through with the winning goal. Following this Sherbrooke refused to go on with the game after a two minute delay it was awarded to St. Hyacinthe.

Windsor Juniors will meet the Maple Leaf track and field athletes.

Jimmy Varaleau of Ottawa Canada's lone contestant in the day's weightlifting won the lightweight title. In wrestling, Canada took two titles. Henry Hudson, 29-year-old Dominion welterweight champion from Montreal, captured the welterweight crown and Maurice Vachon, 19, of Montreal, took the middleweight title.

The St. George's Cross was unfurled on the winner's plea for the first time in the games when Len Eyre, a lanky Yorkshireman, ran away with the three-mile race. Then England repeated with victories in the 880-yard final and the women's high jump.

England's three triumphs, worth 10 points apiece in the unofficial team standing, enabled her to close some ground on the front-running Australian team. It was still touch-and-go for second place between England and New Zealand, with Canada holding fourth position among the 12 countries.

In the Sunday tilt the visitors held the better of the territorial play and drove a total of 42 shots at the Hatley goalie while the home team had 34.
